SHOUT SHARE
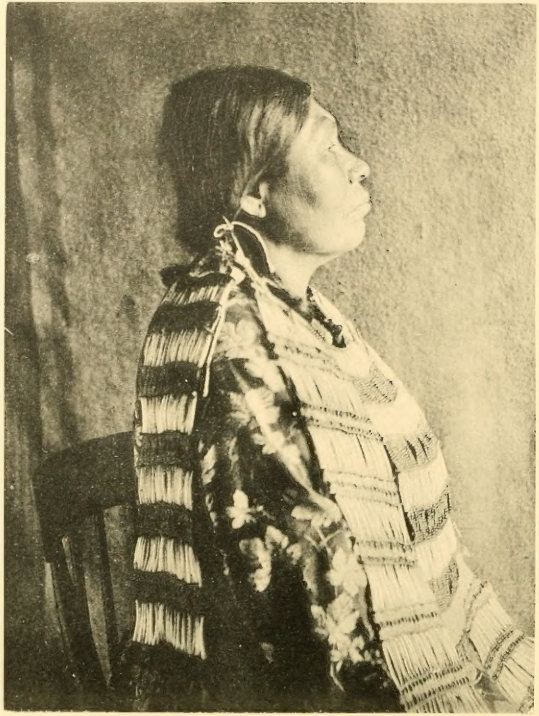
IT



MRS. WILSON, A KATHLAMET WOMAN

THE HELIOTYPE PRINTING CO., BOSTON.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION
BUREAU OF AMERICAN ETHNOLOGY: J. W. POWELL, DIRECTOR
BULLETIN 26

KATHLAMET TEXTS

BY

FRANZ BOAS

Smithsonian Institution
U. S. National Museum

WASHINGTON GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
1901

CONTENTS

	Page
Introduction	5
Myths	9
Xᵘᵉᵉᵃˢ Xē'nas Xē'na	9
Niktcamtcā'c	20
Myth of the Sun	26
Myth of the Swan	34
The Copper is speared	39
Myth of the Coyote	45
Myth of the Salmon	50
Myth of the Elk	58
Myth of the Southwest Winds	67
Rabbit and Deer	72
Coyote and Badger	79
Panther and Lynx	90
Seal and Crab	98
Myth of the Mink	103
Robin and Salmon-berry	118
Panther and Owl	129
The Raccoon	142
Tales	145
Tlā'pexoaexoac	155
Ēmēgoā'lake	166
The brothers	175
The war of the ghosts	182
The TkulXiyogoī'ke	187
Pē'qet	196
The Nisul	201
The Spirit of Hunger	207
Winter all the year round	216
The GiLā'maLX maiden who was carried away by the Thunderbird	221
The man who was transformed into a snake	225
How the Klatsop were killed by lightning	231
War against the Klatsop	236
How the Kathlamet hunt sea-lions	241
Cultee's grandfather conjures the sea-lion	245
Cultee's grandfather visits the ghosts	247
Abstracts of myths	252
Abstracts of tales	260

ILLUSTRATION

PLATE I. A Kathlamet woman ..... Frontispiece

KATHLAMET TEXTS

Told by CHARLES CULTEE

Recorded and translated by FRANZ BOAS

INTRODUCTION

The following texts were collected in the summers of 1890 and 1891 and in December, 1894. So far as I have been able to ascertain, the Kathlamet dialect is spoken by three persons only—Charles Cultee and Samson, both living at Bay Center, Washington, and Mrs Wilson, who lives at Nemah, on Shoalwater bay. Unfortunately neither Samson nor Mrs Wilson were able to give me any connected texts, so that Charles Cultee was my only informant. This is unfortunate, as he told me also Chinook texts, and is, therefore, the only source for two dialects of the Chinookan stock. In order to ascertain the accuracy of his mode of telling, I had two stories which he had told in the summer of 1891 repeated three and a half years later, in December, 1894. These stories will be found on page 54 and page 182 of the following texts. They show great similarity and corroborate the opinion which I formed from internal evidence that the language of the texts is fairly good and represents the dialect in a comparatively pure state. Cultee lived for a considerable number of years at Cathlamet, on the south side of Columbia river, a few miles above Astoria, where he acquired this dialect. His mother's mother was a Kathlamet, his mother's father a Xuilā'paX; his father's mother was a Klatsop, and his father's father a TkulXiyogoā'ike, which is the Chinook name of the Tinneh tribe on upper Willapa river. His wife is a Chehalis, and at present he speaks Chehalis almost exclusively, this being also the language of his children.

Cultee (or more properly Q!ɛltē') has proved a veritable storehouse of information. I obtained from him the texts which were published in an earlier bulletin of the Bureau of American Ethnology,[1] as well as the material embodied in the present paper. The work of translating and explaining the texts was greatly facilitated by Cultee's remarkable intelligence. After he had once grasped what was wanted, he explained to me the grammatical structure of sentences by means of examples, and elucidated the sense of difficult periods. This work was the more difficult as we conversed only by means of the Chinook jargon. It will be noticed that the periods of the later dictations are much more complex than those of his earlier dictations.

[1] Chinook Texts; Washington, 1894.

The following pages contain nothing but the texts and translations. These collections of texts will, it is expected, be followed by a grammar and dictionary of the language, which will contain a comparison of all the known dialects of the Chinookan stock.

The Kathlamet is that dialect of the Upper Chinook which was spoken farthest down the river. Its territory extended from Astoria on the south side and Grey's Harbor on the north side of the river to Rainier. Cultee stated that above Kalama the pronunciation was slightly different. He mentioned the following tribes as speaking the Kathlamet dialect: The Wā′qa-iqam of Grey's Harbor; the LĀ′cgEnEmaxîx· about opposite Cathlamet (on the north side); the KLĀ′ecaLxîx·, at the present town of Cathlamet; the LĀ′qaLala, about three miles above Oak point on the north side of the river; the Lctā′mēctîx·, half a mile below the mouth of Cowlitz river; the LĀ′k¡alama, at Kalama; the Tē′iaq¡ōtcoē, three miles above Oak point, on the south side of the river; the KLĀ′gulaq, two miles below Rainier; and the KLĀ′mōîx·, at Rainier

Alphabet

a, e, i, o, u	have their continental sounds (short).
ā, ē, ī, ō, ū	long vowels.
ᵃ, ᵉ, ᶦ, ᵒ, ᵘ	vowels not articulated, but indicated by position of the mouth.
A, E, I, O, U	obscure vowels.
ä	in German Bär.
â	aw in law.
ô	o in German voll.
ê	e in bell.
î	i in hill.
-	separates vowels which do not form diphthongs.
ai	i in island.
au	ow in how.
l	as in English.
ll	very long, slightly palatized by allowing a greater portion of the back of the tongue to touch the palate.
ɪ	posterior palatal l; the tip of the tongue touches the alveoli of the lower jaw, the back of the tongue is pressed against the hard palate; sonant.

t.	the same, short and exploded, surd (Lepsius's t̤).
t;	the same with very great stress of explosion.
q	velar k.
k	English k.
k·	palatized k (Lepsius's k′), almost ky.
kX	a posterior palatal k, between k and k·.
x	ch in German Bach.
X	x pronounced at posterior border of hard palate.
x·	palatal x as German ich.
s, ·	are evidently the same sound, and might be written s· or c·, both being palatized; c (English sh) is pronounced with open teeth, the tongue almost touching the palate immediately behind the alveoli; s is modified in the same manner.
l, t b, p g, k	as in English, but surd and sonant are difficult to distinguish.
h	as in English.
y	as in year.
w	as in English.
m	is pronounced with semiclosure of the nose and with very slight compression of the lips; it partakes, therefore, of the character of b and w.
n	is pronounced with semiclosure of the nose; it partakes, therefore, of the character of d.
;	designates increased stress of articulation.
2, 4	designate excessive length of vowels, representing approximately the double and fourfold mora.
·	indicates a pause.

Words ending with a short vowel are contracted with the first vowel of the next word. The last consonant of a word is united with the first vowel of the next word to one syllable.

New York, November, 1895.

MYTHS

Myth of Aq!asXē'nasXēna (told 1890)

There was [a woman and] her husband. She had a small child. Now she was angry and left her husband. She made a small house and there she stayed. After some time he began to sing his shaman's song. After a while the people went to see him. Now the people danced. She went out of her house. She went out in the evening and listened. Now she thought: "I will go. No, I had better not go, else my child might cry." Now it was night again. She washed her child and put it in the cradle. The child fell asleep; then she went to look. She remained standing at the door and tried to look through a hole. But she did not see her husband. She entered the house and danced among [the people]. When it was nearly daylight she remembered her child. "Oh, my child! perhaps it is crying. I

TK!ANĀ'MÎKC

Aq!asXē'nasXēna Itcā'k!anē

Aq!asXē'nasXena Her Myth

Cxēlā'itîX	itcā'kikala.	Aqa	lstā'xan	iLō'koantsX.	Aqa				1
There was	her husband.	Then	her child	small.	Then kalā'lkuilē	igā'xôx.	Aqa	igigE'ltaqL	itcā'kika.	Aqa	igE'tôx			2
angry	she became.	Then	she left him	her husband.	Then	she made it itō'koa-îts	tqu'Lē.	Aqa	kopā	igō'La-it.	Lā'lê,	aqa	igē'ktexam;	lā'lê	3
small	house.	Then	there	she stayed.	Long,	then,	he sang shaman's songs;	long
aqa	igoxōilō'texam	tê'lXam.	Aqa	igoXuiwē'yutck	tê'lXam.	Aqa			4
then	they went to see	the people.	Then	they danced	the people.	Then igō'pa.	Xā'pîX	aqa	igō'pa.	Aqa	igaxamē'laq.	Aqa	igaXLō'xoa-it:		5
she went out.	In the evening	then	she went out.	Then	she listened.	Then	she thought:
"Qōi	nō'ya!	Qā'txō	nîct	anō'ya,	yā'okîX	qaLktcā'xamx	LgE'Xan."		6
"Must	I go?	Better	not	I go,	else	it will cry	my child."
Aqa	wit'ax	agon	ā'pōl.	Aqa	ikLō'qoat	Lgā'Xan.	Lā	ikLacî'lutk	7
Then	again	one	night.	Then	she washed it	her child.	Long	she put it into the cradle
Lgā'xan.	Aqa	iLoqō'ptit	Lgā'xan.	Aqa	igō'ya.	Igaxelō'texam.	Aqa		8
her child.	Then	it slept	her child.	Then	she went.	She went to see.	Then igō'La-it	icî'qe.	Kē'nuwa	igagō'qamîtck	nLxoā'pîXpa.	Nāct				9
she stayed	doorway.	Try	she looked	hole at.	Not igē'qalkEl	itcā'kika.	Aqa	igā'ekupcq.	Aqa	gikatē'x·	igō'wîtck.	Lā2.		10
she saw him	her husband.	Then	she entered.	Then	among them	she danced.	Long.
aqa q!oa'p	alitcū'ktiya.	Aqa	iLā'lqaL	Lgā'xan.	"Ō	LgE'xan.	LXuan		11
then nearly	it was going to become day.	Then	its remembrance	her child.	"O	my child.	Perhaps will go home." Then she went home. When she approached her house her child was crying. She entered and took it. She took it [in her arms] and, behold, it was a stick! "Oh, my poor child! Perhaps Aq!asXē'nasXēna carried it away."

Now Aq!asXē'nasXēna carried that child. She took it home to the house [which she herself] and the Crane [inhabited]. Now they stayed there. The child grew up. Then she always carried the boy on her back. After some time she grew tired and one day she left him at home. Then the Crane said to him: "Come here. I will give you food." He gave him trout to eat. Now he told him and said to him: "Do you think she is your mother? She is another [woman]; she is not at all your mother. She carried you away. Her name is Aq!asXē'nasXēna." After some time she came home. Now her boy was angry. "What did you say to your nephew, Crane?" "I said to him: 'She is your mother.' You made him sick." "Oh, younger brother, thus shall you speak to your nephew." On the next day she went again and carried him. In the evening she came home. On the cries my child. Good I go home." Then she went, she went home.

---

1 LŌ'qulqt LgE'xan. Tgt!ō'kti nXk!uā'ya." Aqa igō'ya, igā'Xk!oa.

2 Q!oā'p iktō'xam tqu'LĒ, aqa LŌ'qulqt Lgā'xan. Aqa igō'pqam. Aqa Near she came house, then cried her child. Then she entered. Then

3 igE'LgElga Lgā'xan. Aqa ā'wa igE'LÔX. Aqa ē'mEqō: "Ō LgE'xan she took it her child. Then thus she did it. Then a stick: "O my child

4 Lgoā'Li. LXuan Aq!asXē'nasXēna ikLōtā'mit." Aqa igE'LukL poor. Perhaps Aq!asXē'nasXēna carried it away." Then she carried it

5 Aq!asXē'nasXēna LaXi Lk'ā'skas. Aqa ikLō'kLam tE'ctaqL k!a Aq!asXē'nasXēna that child. Then she carried it to their house and

6 iq!oā'cqoac. Ā'2qa icxē'la-îtX kō'pa. Aqa iLā'qa-iL igîLxE'lôx the crane's. Then they two stayed there. Then large became

7 LaXi Lk'ā'skas. Aqa igE'LōkL ikLō'ctxoax. Lē'lē aqa tEl igā'xôx.
that child. Then she carried him she carried him on her back. Long then tired she became.

8 Aqa ēXt wē'koa iqLqE'!oqLq. Aqa itciō'lXam iq!oā'qoac: "Mā'tē, Then one day he was left. Then he said to him the crane: "Come,

9 mā'tē! iamî'lqoîm." Itcayî'lqoîm ā'q!ēx'Enē. Aqa igixēlgu'Lîtek.
come! I will give you food." He gave him food trout. Then he told.

10 Itciō'lXam: "MxLō'Xuama wā'maq ā'Xau? AXElō'ita. Nîcqē'
He said to him: "Do you think your mother that one? She is another one. Not at all

11 wā'maq. IgEmutā'mit. Itcā'XElēu Aq!asXē'nasXēna." Lā aqa your mother. She carried you away. Her name is Aq!asXē'nasXēna." Long then 12 igaxatgoā'mama. Aqa iXE'LXaôkt itcā'Xan. "Qā mioxō'la she came home. Then he was angry her son. "How did you speak to him 13 imē'LatXEn, iq!oā'cqoac." "Qā2 niuxō'la? Niuxō'la wā'maq ā'xauē.

your nephew, crane!" "How did I speak to him? I spoke to your mother him that.

14 Itcā'tequm qamiā'îtx." "Ā4, ā, ā, ā'owē! k!oaLqā'4 amioxō'laLema sick she always makes you." "Ah, ah, ah, younger brother! thus speak to him to 15 imē'LatXEn." Aqa wi igē'tcuktiX. Aqa wi igō'ya. Aqa wi your nephew." Then again it became day. Then again she went. Then again

16 igē'yuctx. Tsō'yustîX ickoā'mam. Aqa wi igē'tcuktîX. Aqa
she carried him. In the evening she came home. Then again it got day. Then following day she left him again. The Crane said again: "Come here." Then he gave him food. Now he gave him a knife, and said: "If you want to kill her, take her inland. When you find white pines, then kill her. If you want to kill her, cut her neck. Then something round will jump out. Catch it. She will say to you: 'Kill me.' But you must catch that round thing. She will die when you break it." On the following day she carried him again. He said: "We will go inland." Then they went inland and arrived on a mountain. There were many white pines. Now he took hold of a tree. Then she bent her neck and he cut it. Now a round thing jumped [out and ran about]. She said: "Kill me." Then he took it and squeezed it. She was dead. Now spruce trees and hemlock trees fell down. He climbed up that white pine. He ascended it and went up. There he was near the sky. Then he took his arrows and shot at the sky. Now he shot his arrow. He shot more. Now his arrows formed a wi iqiqɛ'ltaqɬ. Aqa wi itciō'lXam iq¡oā'sqoas: "Mā'tē." Aqa 1 again he was left. Then again he said to him the crane: "Come." Then wit'ax itcē'lqoēm. Aqa itcā'ilōta aqewē'qē. "Ma'nîx amuwā'qoa, 2 again he gave him food. Then he gave it to him a knife. "When you kill her, aqa lxē'leuX amō'kɬa. Ma'nîx amiusgā'ma iqā'mɛn, aqa kōpā' 3 then inland carry her. When you find it white pines, then there amuwā'qoa. Ma'nîx amuwā'qoa, ɬ¡q¡ōp amiō'xoa itcā'tuk. Aqa 4 kill her. When you kill her, cut do it her neck. Then at-upnā'ya lō'ɛlō. Aqa ya'xka amix'ɛluwā'lalɛm. Ke'muwa 5 it will jump out a round thing. Then it catch it. Try agɛmulx'ā'ma: 'Nai'ka ntō'waq.' Amix'ɛluwā'lalɛma yaxi lō'ɛlō. 6 she will say to you: 'Me kill.' Catch it that round thing.

---

Ma'nîx lk¡ōp amiō'xoa, aqa alō'mɛqta." Aqa wit'ax igē'teuktē. 7
When squeeze you do it, then she will die." Then again it got day.

Aqa wit'ax igē'yuctx. Aqa itcō'lXam: "Atxō'ya lxē'leuX." 8
Then again she carried him. Then he said to her: "We will go inland."

Aqa îctō'ya lxē'leuX. Aqa îcgiō'skam cā'xalîX ē'lX ipā'kalpa. 9
Then they went inland. Then they found up country mountain on.

Aqa ē'xowē iqa'mɛn ixēnXā't. Aqa itcē'kɛlka ē'mɛqō. Aqa ē'wa 10
Then many white pines stood there. Then he took it a stick. Then thus (bent) igī'yux itcā'tuk. Aqa ɬq¡ōp itcī'axôx itcā'tuk. Aqa itcî'sōpɛna 11 she made it her neck. Then cut he did it her neck. Then it jumped lō'ɛlō. Aqa itcix'ɛluwā'lalɛmtck. Aqa igiō'lXam: "Ō, nai'ka 12 the round thing. Then he caught it. Then she said to him: "Oh, me ntō'waq!" Aqa itcē'kɛlka k¡a lk¡ōp itcī'yuX. Aqa igō'maqt. Aqa 13 kill me!" Then he took it and squeeze he did it. Then she was dead. Then iō'îtcō ē'maktc. Aqa iō'îtcō iqā'ētɛma. Aqa iōquē'wulXt iqā'mɛn- 14 fell down the spruce trees. Then fell down the hemlock firs. Then he ascended a white pine oqpā'tîx'. Aqa iō'ya cā'xalîX, ioquē'wulXt. Q¡oā'p igō'cax aqa 15 there. Then he went up, he ascended. Near the sky then itcō'kuika tiā'qamatcX. Iā'maq itcē'lax igō'cax. Aqa itcā'maq 16 he took them his arrows. Shooting it he did it the sky. Then shooting it itciā'lôx ayā'qamatcX. Wē't'ax itcā'maq atciā'lôx. Āqa ē'2taɬqt 17 he did it with it his arrow. Again shooting it he did it with it. Then long long line. He had used all his arrows. Then he tied his bow [onto them] and went up. He arrived in the sky. Now he made a hole in the sky and found another country. Now he went and met an old woman. "What do you carry on your back, old woman? I am hungry; give me to eat." "I am the darkness; I am the darkness." "You must give me to eat." "I am the darkness, O, chief, I am the darkness." Now he jumped [at her] and took away her load. Then he pulled out the stopper. Now it became dark. "Close it! close it, O, chief, close it!" Then he closed her load and it became light again.

He went on and again he met people. They were black. "Where are you going?" "We are going down. We go into the hair of the people." [They were the lice.]

He went on. He met more people. He said to them: "Where are you going?" "We are going down. We are going to live on the bodies of the people." [They were the itch.]

He went on and again he met people. They were pretty people.

---

1 tiā′qamatcx. Aqa itixā′tqoam tiā′qamatcx. Aqa kꞌau itcō′xoa his arrows. Then he finished them his arrows. Then tie he did it

2 ayā′pLꞌikē. Aqa iuquē′wulXt.
his bow. Then he ascended.

3 Aqa iō′yam igō′caxpatîX. Aqa Lxoā′p itcī′yax igō′cax. Aqa
Then he arrived sky at there. Then hole he made it the sky. Then 4 iō′yam igō′caxpa. Aqa itciū′skam ēlX. Ixalō′ita ēlX. Aqa iō′ya.

he arrived sky in. Then he found it a coun- Another coun- Then he went.
try. try.

5 Aqa itcLō′skam Lqꞌeyō′qt Lqagē′lak. "Tān imē′ctxula, aqꞌeyō′qt?
Then he found it an old one a woman. "What your load, old woman?

6 Wa′lō gE′nuxt; nē′tqoîm." "Anpꞌōnmā′x, anpꞌōnmā′x." "Qā′txō Hungry I am; give me to eat." "I am the darkness, I am the darkness." "Must

7 amnElqoē′ma." "Anpꞌōnmā′x, qē′ctāmX, anpꞌōnmā′x." Aqa you give me to eat." "I am the darkness, O, chief, I am the darkness." Then 8 itcî′sōpEna; itcē′gElka itcā′ctxula. Aqa lāq itcā′yôx ayā′kꞌektcōtē.

he jumped; he took it her load. Then out he took it its stopper.

9 Aqa igō′pōnEm. "Ē′xpō, ē′xpō, ē′xpō, qē′ctamX, ē′xpō." Aqa
Then it got dark. "Close it, close it, close it, O, chief, close it." Then 10 itcē′xpō itcā′stxula. Aqa tuwā′x igē′xauxîx.

he closed it her load. Then light it got.

11 Aqa wit'ax iō′ya. Aqa wit'ax Lꞌap itcî′tôx tê′lXam; tLlE′XumaX
Then again he went. Then again find he did them people; black 12 tê′lXam. "Qāmta amcō′yaꞌ?" "Ā, antcō′ya gē′gualîX. Antcō′ya people. "Where are you going?" "Ah, we go down. We go to 13 tê′lXam LE′gaqcō."

the people their hair."

14 Aqa wit'ax iō′ya. Aqa wit'ax itctō′skam tê′lXam tgatē′t. Aqa
Then again he went. Then again he found them people coming. Then 15 itctō′lXam: "Qā′mta amcō′yaꞌ?" "Ā, antcō′ya gē′gualîX. Antcō′ya he said to them: "Where are you going?" "Ah, we go down. We go to 16 tê′lXam ī′taLq."

the people their bodies."

17 Aqa wî iō′ya. Aqa wit'ax itctō′skam tê′lXam tgatē′t;
Then again he went. Then again he found them people coming;

18 tgtꞌō′ktēmax tê′lXam. "Qā′mta amcō′yaꞌ?" "Ā4, gē′gualîX pretty people. "Where are you going?" "Ah, down

19 antcō′ya. LE′gaqcō Natē′tanuēpa antcō′ya."
we go. Their hair the Indians to we go."

"Where are you going?" "Oh, we are going down to live in the hair of the people."

Then he went on again. He heard people singing. He came up to them. "Where are you going?" "We are going down. We are going to eat the blood of the people." [They were the fleas.]

Again he went on. He heard people whispering. He met them. "Oh, where are you going?" "We are going down; we shall drink the blood of the people."

Then he went a long way. He met a man. Two arrows were sticking in his body. After a little while he met another man. He said: "O, my son-in-law, did you see my game?" "I did not see anything. I only met a person in whose body two arrows were sticking." "What [kind of animals] do you hunt? [I am hunting men.] When you go on, take our road; do not go the other way." Now he went a short distance. Then he met a mountain goat. Two arrows stuck in it. Then he saw another person. He said to him: "Did you see my game, son-in-law?" "Yes, I saw it." "Take our road there."

Aqa wi iō'ya. Itcauitcî'maq tê'lXam ōkualā'lam: "Ā4!" Aqa 1
Then again he went. He heard them people singing: "Ah!" Then ioquā'quam tê'lXam: "Qā'mta amcō'ya?" "Antcō'ya gē'gualîX. 2 he met them people: "Where are you going?" "We go down.

NtckLxELEmō'xoma tê'lXam Lgā'qawulqt." 3
We go to eat the people their blood."

Aqa wi iō'ya. Aqa wit'ax itcauitcî'maq tê'lXam: 4
Then again he went. Then again he heard them people:

"Ā, ä, ä, ä, ä, ä, ä." Lq¡āp itcî'tôx. "Ā, qā'mta amcō'ya?" "Ā, 5
"Ā, ä, ä, a, ä, ä!" Meet he did them. "Ah, where are you going?" "Ah, (whispered.)

antcō'ya gē'gualîX. Tê'lXam Lgā'qawulqt antckLōqu'mcta." 6 we go down. The people their blood we shall drink."

Aqa wi iō'ya kELā'îX. Itcî'LqElkEl LēXā't LgoaLē'lX. Ā, môket 7
Then again he went far. He saw him one person. Ah, two tqā'mateX tElgā't. Koala' aqa wi Lgōn LgoaLē'lX itcî'LqElkEl. 8 arrows were in him. A little while, then again another person he saw him.

"Ō, ē'qsîX. Imē'qElkEl tci itcî'naqan?" "K!ā'ya nîct imē'qElkEl. 9
"Oh, son-in-law! You saw [int. part.] my game?" "Nothing not I saw it.

Lā'ema LgoaLē'lX, môket tqā'mateX tElgā't." "Tāntxō ma'yax 10
Only a person, two arrows were in him." "What then you imē'naqan? Ma'nîx amō'ya tayaX intcā'yixatk, a'qa ta'yax ē'Xatk 11 your game? When you go that our road, then that road amilō'ya. Nîct amō'ya ē'wata ixalō'ita ē'Xatk." Aqa iō'ya. Mank 12 go on it. Not go there the other road." Then he went. A little kELā'îX iō'ya; itciū'skam ē'cîXq. Môket tqā'mateX tElgā't. Aqa 13 far he went; he found it a mountain goat. Two arrows were in it. Then wi Lgōn LgoaLē'lX itcî'LqElkEl. Aqa wit'ax iLgiō'lXam: 14 again another person he saw him. Then again he said to him:

"Imē'qElkEl itcî'naqan, ē'qcîX?" "Ā, imē'qalkEl." "Ēwatā'x 15
"Did you see my game, son-in-law?" "Ah, I saw it." There antcā'iXatk, ēwatā' amalō'ya." 16

our road, there go on it."

He went on and came to a parting of the roads. Then he walked the road to the left. He went and went. Then he found human bones. He went a short distance and [the road] was stinking. He walked on and saw a house. He entered and searched for urine. He found it and washed himself. After he had finished washing he searched for a comb, but he could not find one. He saw a large basket, and thought: "Perhaps there is a comb in that basket." He untied the basket and took it down. He took out a mountain-goat blanket. Then he took out another one. He took out five in all. Then he found a woman,—oh, a pretty woman! Bones of children were tied to her hair. She gave him a comb which was made of human bones. Now he combed himself, and he put back the mountain-goat blankets. Then he hung her up there. He stayed there. Soon the noise of falling objects [was heard] five times. A person was thrown into the house. Another one was thrown into the house. Still another one was thrown into the house. Five [dead] people were

---

1 Aqa īō′ya wē′t'ax. Aqa itcō′skam cī′îXatk. Aqa iā′loya ē′wa
Then he went again. Then he found them two roads. Then he went on it there

2 qi̯ēqi̯ê′tektan ē′Xatk. Aqa īō′ya. Īō′ya, aqa itctō′skam tɛ′gaqi̯ōtcō the left the road. Then he went. He went, then he found them bones

3 mɛmalō′ctîke. Mank kɛlā′îX īō′ya, aqa ka′nauwē ī′taketi. Lā4 īō′ya.
of dead ones. A little far he went, then all stinking. Long he went.

4 Aqa itcō′quikɛl tqu′lē. Īō′pqam. Itcl̥ō′naxl̥ l̥ō′ɛnō. Aqa itcl̥ō′ckam
Then he saw it a house. He entered. He searched for urine. Then he found it

5 l̥ō′ɛnō. Aqa igɛxɛ′qoat. Lā2, ilɛ′Xōlq igɛxɛ′qoat. Aqa itcl̥ō′nɛXl̥ urine. Then he washed. Long, he finished he washed. Then he searched for 6 lktcā′ma. Nāct itcl̥ō′skam lktcā′ma. Aqa itcē′qɛlkɛl iqā′giltk. Aqa a comb. Not he found it a comb. Then he saw it a basket. Then 7 igîXl̥o′xoa-ît: "lXuan kōpā′ lktcā′ma." Aqa stuX" itcī′yuX iqā′giltk.

he thought: "Perhaps there a comb." Then untie he did it the basket.

8 Aqa itciō′tXɛm gē′gualîX. lāq° itcî′l̥ôx l̥ēXt l̥qoa′k. Aqa wi
Then he placed it down. Out he did it one mountain-goat blanket. Then again

9 lgōn lāq° itcî′l̥ôx. Quî′numa lāq° itcî′tôx. Aqa itcl̥ō′skam one more out he did it. Five out he did them. Then he found her 10 l̥qagē′lak. Ō, lti̯ô′kti l̥qagē′lak. Ō4, k!au′k!au tɛ′l̥guXt tɛ′qi̯ōtcō.

a woman. Oh, pretty a woman. Oh, tied were on her bones.

11 Pāl̥ ilā′qi̯aketaq tɛ′qi̯ōtcō, tqā′tōtēnîke tɛ′gaqi̯ōtcō. Aqa ilktlē′lōt Full her head bones, children their bones. Then she gave it to him

12 lktcā′ma. Lmē′mɛlōs tɛ′laqi̯ōtcō. Aqa ilēxalgɛ′tcam. Aqa wi a comb. Dead people their bones. Then he combed himself. Then again

13 itcawē′kitk taXi tqoā′kɛmax. Aqa wi itcupi̯ō′nit kōpā′. Aqa he put back those blankets. Then again he hung her up there. Then 14 iō′la-ît. Koala aqa qul. Aqa wi qul, aqa wi qul, aqa

he stayed. Soon then noise of falling objects. Then again noise of falling objects, then again noise of falling objects, then again noise of falling objects. Five times noise of falling objects. It was thrown down a person house in.

15 wit'ax qul. Quā′nɛmîX qul. Iqlxā′ma lgoalē′lX tqu′lēpa.

16 Aqa wi lgōn iqlxā′ma. Aqa wi lgō′nax iqlxā′ma. Aquî′nɛmîke
Then again another was thrown down. Then again another was thrown down. Five persons were thrown down the house in. They stayed his sons the evening star's.

17 tê′lXam iqoxoā′ima tqu′lēpa. Ilxā′la-it iā′qoq itco′yuct.

thrown into the house. Then the Evening Star's children stayed there. The basket began to swing. Then the old man said: "Ah!" Again [the basket] began to swing. Then he said again: "Ah! O my children! Quick; take your sister down. Something evil has been done to her." Now they took her down and placed her near [the visitor]. Now they gave him a basket filled with human eyes. He thought: "I will leave them." The next morning all his brothers-in-law went out.

Then he went out. He went back. He found a road and went along. There was a good smell there. He went a long distance. Then he found the bones of mountain goats. He went a little while and found a house. He entered. Now he desired to wash himself. He searched for urine and he found it in a basket. Then he washed himself and entered again. He searched for a comb, but he did not find it. Again he untied a large basket and took out one blanket. He took out another one. He took out five in all. Now he saw a

---

IgēxElā'lalEmtek iqā'giltk. Aqa igē'kîm iq!exō'qt: "Ā4!" Wī't'ax 1
It swung the basket. Then he said the old man: "Ah!" Again igēxElā'lalEmtek. Aqa wi igē'kîm: "Ā4, ō ā'qoamax! Ai'aq 2 it swung. Then again he said: "Ah, o children! Quick gē'gualîX amcî'kôX amcā'mtXîX. Aqa itcā'mEl itcīā'lôx." Aqa 3 down make your sister. Then her badness he made it on her Then gē'gualîX iLE'kôx. Aqa iLgāigEmLā'ētEmit. Aqa iqtē'lEqoîm aēXt 4 down they did her. Then they placed her near him. Then they gave him to eat one at!ā'ks tê'lXam sgā'xôst. Ā4qa igîXLō'xo-ît: "'Tgt!ō'kti 5 Cowlitz basket people their eyes. Then he thought: "Good anLgElō'qLqa." Aqa igē'tcuktîX. Aqa wi iLō'ya Lkanauwē'tîke 6

I leave them." Then it got day. Then again they went all LîlA'xqēXināna. 7

his brothers-in-law.

Aqa iō'pa. Aqa iō'ya, igiXE'takoa. Aqa Lap itcō'xôx ā'eXatk. 8
Then he went out. Then he went, he turned back. Then find he did it a road.

Aqa iō'ya, iā'loya. Aqa ka'nauwē q!Es wuX! ā'eXatk. KElā'îX 9
Then he went, he went on it. Then all good smell that road. Far iō'ya, aqa ictō'skam tE'q!ōtcō. Aqa ē'cîXk tē'iaq!ōtcō. Aqa iō'yam 10 he went, then he found them bones. Then mountain goats their bones. Then he arrived mank kElā'îX. Aqa itco'quikEl tqu'LE. Aqa iō'pqam. Aqa wit'ax 11 a little far. Then he saw it a house. Then he entered. Then again tq!ēx itcî'tôx aliXqoā'tē. Aqa wi itcLō'naxL LŌ'EnŌ. Aqa wi 12 wish he did them he would wash. Then again he searched for it urine. Then again itcLō'skam at!ā'kspa LĀ'luXt. Aqa wit'ax igēxō'qoat. Aqa wi 13 he found it a Cowlitz basket in it was in it. Then again he washed himself. Then again iō'pqam. Aqa wi itcLō'naxL Lktcā'ma. Näct itcLō'skam Lktcā'ma. 14 he entered. Then again he searched for it a comb. Not he found it a comb.

Aqa wi stuX^{u} itcî'yuX iqā'giltk. LāqE itcî'Lux LēXt Lqoā'k. Aqa 15
Then again untie he did it the basket. Out he did it one mountain-goat blanket. Then wi LgŌ'nax LāqE itcî'Lux. Quā'nEma tqoā'k LāqE itcî'tux. Aqa 16

again another out he did it. Five mountain-goat blankets out he did them. Then woman—a pretty woman. Her hair was full of dentalia. She gave him a comb and he combed himself. When he had finished, he put back all the blankets and hung her up there. Then he remained there. Now the noise of falling objects was heard. It was heard five times. Then five men came in, [the sons of the Morning Star. They had caught mountain goats.] They stayed there a long time. Then the basket began to swing. The old man said: "Ah!" Again it began to swing. Then he said again: "Ah!" He spoke to his children: "Take your sister down. Something bad has been done to her." Then they took out their sister and took her to [the visitor]. Now he took her and they stayed there for a long time. [She was the Sun.]

Now one night the Evening Star's sons made war upon them. They shot arrows. [His daughter,] the Moon, was ashamed. Now they went home. [The Sun] said to her: "When people go to defecate, you shall light them. You are not as good as I am. I shine when chiefs exchange presents." Now the Moon went home.

---

1 itcLō'skam Lqagĕ'lak. Ō, Lt¡ō'kti Lqagĕ'lak. Ō4, La'ktēmax
he found it a woman. Oh, pretty a woman. Oh, dentalia

2 pāL LE'Laqcōpa. ILkLĕ'lōt Lktcā'ma. ILēxElga'tcam. ILē'XuLq full her hair at. She gave it to him a comb. He combed himself. He finished

3 iLēxalga'tcam. Aqa wi itcauwē'kitk ka'nauwē tqoā'kEmax. Aqa wi combing himself. Then again he put them back all mountain-goat blankets. Then again

4 itcup¡ō'nit kōpā' wit'ax. Aqa iō'La-it. Lä'lê; aqa qul igē'xōXîX. he put her up there again. Then he stayed. Long; then noise of falling objects it became.

5 Aqa wi qul igē'xōXîX. Qoä'nEmîX qul igēxōXîX.
Then again noise of falling objects it became. Five times noise of falling objects it became.

6 ILa'skatpq Lkanamquî'numîke. ILxē'la–ît. Lä'lê iLxē'la-it. Aqa
They entered all five. They stayed. Long they stayed. Then

7 igēxElā'laLEmtck iqā'giltk. Aqa igē'kîm iq¡eyō'qt: "Ä4." Wē't'ax
it swung the basket. Then he said the old man: "Ah." Again

8 igēxElā'laLEmtck. Aqa wi igē'kîm: "Ä4." ItcLō'lXam iā'qôq:
it swung. Then again he said: "Ah." He said to them his children:

9 "Ai'aq Lāq° meî'kôx amtcā'mEtXîX." Aqa itcā'mEl itciā'lôx. Aqa
"Quick off make her your younger sister." Then her badness he made it on her. Then

10 Lāq° iLE'kôx aLā'mEtXîX. LgāigEmLā'etamēt. Ā'qa itcō'ckam. Ā'qa off they did her their younger sister. They put her near him. Then he took her. Then 11 icxē'la-ît. Lä'lä. lä'lä îcxē'la-ît.

they two stayed. Long, long they two stayed.

12 Aqa Xā'pîX aqa sāq° iqE'LôX. Aqa iLxE'maqt. IgaXEmā'sa-ît
Then evening then war was made on them. Then they were shot. She was ashamed

13 akLE'mēn, aqa iLE'Xk¡oa. Iqō'lXam: "Qiā'x k¡a LkLōtsā'tsamx, tcXua the moon, then she went home. She was told: "If they defecate, then

14 waX qamLgElō'xoax. Nîct xE'lgateX. Nai'ka, qiā'x tkanā'xîmc shine you do. Not like me. I, if chiefs

15 tkilē'ma gEnoxoā'xax, tcXua wāX qanLukuē'xa." Aqa iLî'Xk¡oa exchange they do, then shine I do for them." Then she went home

16 akLE'mēn. Aqa icxē'la-ît kōpa'.
the moon. Then they two stayed there.

They stayed there a long time. Then she gave birth to two boys who were grown together at their abdomens. Now they began to grow. [One day she said to her husband:] "Come: I will louse you." Now she loused him outside. He sat bending down and dug the ground with his hands. Then he made a hole in the ground and looked down. Now he saw houses, and he thought: "Oh, that is my father's town." He said to his wife: "Let me alone." He entered the house and lay down for a long time. It grew night. [Then the Morning Star said to his daughter:] "Did you scold your husband?" "No, I did not scold him. He is homesick." "Heigh, my son-in-law! Why does he not say so? Quick; take some willow bark to that old woman." Now they brought willow bark and she made a large basket. They brought her more willow bark and she made ropes. After she had finished the ropes they put blankets into the basket and filled it. Then they put them on top of the blankets. Then they let them down and they arrived on the ground.

Now a child was shooting at a target. Then he took his arrow

Lā. aqa igakxɛ'tōm. Cmôket ikcoxu'tōm. Gipā' cXq¡oā'ɬqōX Long, then she gave birth. Two she gave birth to. Here grown together 1 ictā'wanpa. Aqa mank stā'qa-îɬ stā'xan igicxɛ'lôx. "Ai'aq their belly at. Then a little big the two children became. "quick 2 aɬamgē'qeta!" Aqa ikɬige'kiqet lā'XanîX. Aqa lɛ'klɛk itcī'yuX I will louse you!" Then she loused him outside. Then dig he did it 3

ēlX. Aqa lxoa'p itcī'yuX ēlX. Aqa igē'kîket ē'wa gē'gualîX.
the ground. Then hole he made it the ground. Then he looked there down. 4

Aqa itcō'quikɛl tqlō'max. Aqa igîXlō'xoa-ît: "Ō, aka'xti itcɛmā'm Then he saw them houses. Then he thought: "Oh, then my father 5 jā'lXam." Aqa itcō'lXam ayākika: "Iāc nɛ'xa!" Aqa iō'pqam. his town." Then he said to her his wife: "Let alone do me." Then he entered. 6

Aqa igexō'kcit. Lā2. igō'pōnɛm. "Ēmiō'mɛlatci imē'kikal?"
Then he lay down. Long. it got dark. "You scold [int. part.] your husband?" 7

"K¡ā'ya nîct iniō'mɛl. Ikā'k¡ᵘɬ¡ tcī'yuxt." "Hē, itcî'qcîX! qātsqē
"No not I scold. Homesickness makes him. "Heigh, my son-in-law! why 8

nîct igē'kîm? Ai'aq, ā'lukl amō'tan tau aq¡eyō'qt." Iqā'lukl not he speaks? Quick, bring her willow bark that old woman." It was brought to her 9 aqa amō'tan aq¡eyō'qt. Aqa igī'yux iā'qa-iɬ iqō'mxōm. Aqa wi then willow bark the old woman. Then she made it a large basket. Then again 10 iqā'lukl amō'tan. Aqa atā'xtax igɛ'tôx tɛ'pa-it. Aqa ka'nauwē it was brought to her willow bark. Then next she made them ropes. Then all 11

ikɬō'koaɬq tɛ'pa-ît. Aqa iqau'wēkitk tqoā'kɛmax. Pāl igē'xôx she finished them ropes. Then they were put into it mountain-goat blankets. Full became 12

iqō'mxōm. Aqa iqlxēlā'itɛmē, caxala' iqlxēlā'itɛmē. Aqa the basket. Then they were put into it, on top they were put into it. Then 13

iqlō'xo-iktcō. Aqa iɬō'yam gē'gualîX ē'lXpadîX. 14 they were let down. Then they arrived below country on that.

Aqa lk'ā'skas wā'q¡pas lkēx. Aqa itcā'kîlka atā'qamatcX. Aqa 15
Then a boy target he made. Then he took it his arrow. Then itcaɬxa'pcōt. "Ā'nēt agɛ'qamatcX, iqē'sqēs, tgɛ'kiūtgoax. Ā'nēt 16 he rid it from him. "Give me my arrow, blue-jay, I am poor. Give me and hid it. "Give me my arrow, Blue-jay; I am poor. Give me my arrow, Blue-jay; I am poor." "Come here! Who are you?" "Oh, I was not yet born when AqᶩasXē'nasXēna took away my elder brother." "Oh, [I am your elder brother.] It is I." "I think it is you, Blue-jay." Now his sister-in-law took him and blew upon his eyes. Then his eyesight was restored. Now she gave him a small mountain-goat blanket. "Quick; go home and bring your father and your mother." The boy went home. When he arrived at the house he said: "Oh, my elder brother came home." His mother began to cry: "I think Blue-jay is deceiving you." "Well, feel of my blanket." Then she felt of his blanket. It was soft. "Perhaps he came back, indeed." "Indeed, it is true. I came to fetch you. My sister-in-law sent me." Now he took his mother and father to them. She washed their faces and their eyesight was restored. "Quick; go and sweep our house and make a fire." They swept the house. After they had finished they went to fetch those who had just arrived. Now they carried all the property [into the house]. They stayed there. Now Blue-jay opened the door and defecated in the doorway. [He was told:] "Take a

1 agɛ'qamateX iqē'sqēs, tgɛ'kiutgoax." "Nî'Xua mɛ'tē! lān mā'yax?" my arrow, blue-jay, I am poor." "Well! come! who you?"

2 "Ō, nai'ka akoa nîct qā ngoaLē'lX igiutā'mit AqᶩasXē'nasXēna
"Oh, I, thus not when person, she took him away AqᶩasXē'nasXēna

3 ī'tcîlX." "Ō4, nai'ka, nai'ka!" "Kᶩā mai'ka iqē'sqēs." Aqa my elder brother." "Oh, I, I!" "And you blue-jay." Then 4 igē'kɛlka ayā'potcxan. Pō'pō igī'yuX siā'xôst. Tuwā'x, igē'kîket.

she took him his sister-in-law. Blow she did him his face. Light, he saw.

5 Aqa iqLē'lōt iLō'koa-îts Lqoā'k. "Aî'aq, mu'Xkoa, cgā'lɛmam
Then he was given a small mountain-goat blanket. "Quick! go home! fetch them

6 amē'qō kᶩa wē'mam. Aqa igē'Xkᶩoa ikᶩā'skas. Iō'yam tqu'Lēpa.
your mother and your father. Then he went home the boy. He came home the house to.

7 "Ō, igitē'mam ē'tcîlX." "Ō2," agɛ'tcax wā'yaq. "Kᶩā iqē'sqēs lā'xlax
"Oh, he came my elder brother" "Oh," she cried his mother. "And blue-jay deceive

8 tcî'mōxt." "Nî'Xua aLɛ'gɛlga Lgɛ'pasiskoa." Aqa igɛ'LgElga he did you." "Well, feel of my blanket." Then she felt of his blanket. Then soft his blanket. "Ah, perhaps indeed he came."

9 Lîā'kᶩētē. Aqa LmEn Lîā'kᶩētē. "Â4, LXuan ā'qanuwē igitē'mam."

10 "Ō, ā'qanuwē, ā'qanuwē. Iamtgā'lɛmam. IgɛntŌ'koatck
"Oh, indeed, indeed. I came to fetch you. She sent me 11 agɛ'pōtcxan." Aqa itcî'cukL wā'yaq kᶩa wī'yam. Itcō'kLam.

my sister-in-law." Then he took them his mother and his father. He brought them.

12 Aqa ikcōmē'nakᶩua, aqa icɛ'kîket. "Aî'aq amtktōqᶩoē'la tɛ'îxaôqL.
Then she washed their faces, then they saw. "Quick sweep it our house.

13 Amtktōqᶩoē'la, aqa alamtXîlgē'Lxa." Aqa îcktō'qᶩoēla tɛ'ctaqL. Aqa Sweep it, then make fire." Then they swept it their house. Then

14 iLkcō'koaL tɛ'ctaqL. Aqa iLkcōguā'lɛmam ctaXi ctē'mam. Aqa they finished it their house. Then they went to fetch them those who came. Then

15 iLkɛ'tokwē ka'nauwē taXi lā'kLElā'lɛmax. Aqa iLxelā'itX. Aqa they carried it all that their property. Then they stayed. The 16 itca-ixɛ'lEqL iqē'sqēs. Aqa itcLō'tsatsa icî'qēpa. "Ā'kElka wuX he opened the door blue-jay. Then he defecated on the door. "Take it that firebrand." [He took it and] struck it against his backside. "Ananā! I am burnt. Maybe his elder brother came back, and he burnt me." He looked back and there he saw chiefs sitting there. "Oh, our chief has come back." Now he went to all the houses and told the people.

They stayed there for a long time and the two boys grew up. Now they called the people. They saw the children. They arose together and sat down together. "What do you think, Robin? I will cut them apart. Then we shall have two chiefs." "Ha, do you alone see that? Why don't you be quiet?" Three times Blue-jay said he would cut them, but Robin did not like it. One day Blue-jay cut them. Then one went to one side and one to the other. They fell down and their intestines were pulled out. Then the woman looked at him and Blue-jay caught fire. His hair was all burned. "Eh, Blue-jay, now I must go home upward;" and she said: "Itc¡xiā'nē shall be your name. You shall go into the water. Now I will go up. When a chief is about to die, one of my children shall be seen. When two chiefs are going to die, both will be seen [together]." [The Twins are the Sundogs.]

ā'tōL." Itca-igE'qoaLq iā'pōtcpa. "Anananānā'! inE'xLEl. Aqa LX 1 fire." He pushed it his anus at. "Anananānā'h! I am burnt. Then maybe igigā'tkoam ē'yalXt. Aqa itcinXLE'lama." Ē'wa igē'xôx, igiXE'nakoa. 2 he arrived his elder brother. Then I am burnt." Thus he did, he looked back.

Aqa itcō'quikEl tkanā'xîmct oxoēlā'itX. "Ō, ilxā'xak¡Emana 3
Then he saw them chiefs were there. "Oh, our chief igitē'mam." Aqa iō'ya ka'nauwē tqLē'max. Aqa igiXgu'Lîtck 4 returned." Then he went all houses. Then he told iqē'sqēs. Lā'ɔlā aqa iLxē'la-it. Ctā'qa-iL igicxE'lôx. Aqa iqō'xoaktck 5 blue-jay. Long then they stayed. Large they became. Then they called them tô'lXam. Ā4qa iqcō'qomitck sk¡ā'skas. Aqa istō'tXuîtx skanasmô'kst. 6 the people. Then they were seen the two boys. Then they arose two together, aqa istōLā'itx skanasmô'kst. "Wuska qā'da imēXata'koax skā'sait? 7 then they sat down two together. "Ha, how your mind, robin?

Lq¡ōp antcō'xoa. ALqi smôkst skak¡Ema'na acxō'xa." "Wā'ska 8 Cut I will do them. Later on two chiefs they will be." "Ha, mai'ma na mcō'qomē? Qa'nsîx qān mxōx?" Lō'nîX igē'kîm 9 you only [int. part.] do you see them? When quiet you are?" Three times he spoke iqē'sqēs, Lq¡ōp atcō'xoa. Kā'sait nîct tq¡ēx itcî'tôx. Ā'eXt aqaLā'x 10 blue-jay, cut he will them. Robin not like he did it. One day aqa Lq¡ōp itcî'cux iqē'sqēs. Iō'ya ē'wata ēXā't, igiXē'maxit. 11 then cut he did them blue-jay. He went there one, he fell down.

Tîā'q¡amcukc LāX igō'xôx. Ē'wata eXā't igiXē'maxit. Tîā'q¡amcukc 12
His intestines out came. Then one fell down. His intestines

LāX igō'xôx. Egī'uket wuX aqagē'lak. Aqa igē'XumLXa. Liā'qcō 13 out came. She looked at him that woman. Then he caught fire. His hair ka'nauwē LE'XumLXa. "Ē, iqē'sqēs, aqa nîXkuā'ya sā'xalîX." Aqa 14 all burnt. "Eh, blue-jay, then I return upward." Then igiō'lXam: "Itc¡Xiā'nē imē'xaleu mai'ka. Ltcu'qoapa mō'ya. Aqa 15 she said to him: "Itc¡Xiā'nē your name you, Water in you go. Then mai'ka nō'ya sā'xalîX. Manē'x aLō'mEqta Lgak¡amā'na, aqa LēXā't 16

I I go upward. When he will die a chief, then one

LgE'xan aqLqElkELā'ya. Manē'x amô'ketîkc ckanā'xîmct aluxuaLā'ita, 17 my child will be seen. When two chiefs will die, aqa skanasmô'kst aqsqElkELā'ya." 18

then both will be seen."

Myth of Nikciamtcā'c (told 1890)

There was a maiden. The Panther was the chief of one town. Now Blue-jay said to the maiden: "Go and look for the Panther; he is an elk hunter." One day she went. She went a long distance and came to a house. She entered. Now the house was all painted. She stayed at the bed of the Beaver. She stayed there. In the evening the Mink came home and carried trout. Then the Otter came; he carried steel-head salmon. Then the Raccoon came; he carried crawfish. Then the Muskrat came; he carried flags. The Lynx came; he carried ducks. The Mouse came home; she carried camass-roots. All came home. Only their eldest brother was not there. "Maybe our elder brother fell down." The woman thought: "Oh, maybe he is a canoe builder." In the evening a man came groaning. He came home. His belly was that large [indicating]. After some time he went near

Nikciamtcā'c Itcā'k¡anē

Nikciamtcā'c Her Myth

1 ɬxelā'etîX aēXā't aɬā'hat¡au, awā'wa. Ik¡oa'yawa iɬā'Xak¡ɛmana
There was one maiden, it is said. The panther their chief

2 ɬa îtci cXt giɬā'lXam. Aqa itco'lXam iqē'sqēs aɬā'hat¡au, ina'xɬam those one people of a town. Then he said to her blue-jay the maiden: "Search for 3 ik¡oa'yawa, imō'lɛkumax îā'k¡etēnax. Igō'n ē'kua aqa igō'ya.

the panther, elks hunter." One day then she went.

4 Igō'ya, kɛlā'îX igō'ya. Igogoā'qoam tqu'ɬē. Igā'ckupq. Aqa
She went, far she went. She arrived at a house. She entered. Then 5 ka'nauwē itā'kēmatck taXi tqu'ɬē. Aqa iqā'nuq îā'lXemitk igō'ɬa-it.

all painted that house. Then beaver his bed she stayed.

6 Igō'ɬa-it. Tsō'yustîX igiXatk¡oā'mam kō'sa-it. Itcā'ɬam ā'q¡ɛXɛnē.
She stayed. In the evening he came home the mink. He brought a trout.

7 Igitē'mam ē'nanaks. Itcî'ɬam iq¡oanē'X. IgiXatk¡oā'mam iɬatā't.
He came the otter. He brought a steel-head salmon. He came home the raccoon.

8 Itcɬî'tam ɬqaɬxā'la. IgiXatk¡oā'mam its¡ɛnē'sts¡ɛnēs. Itctɛ'ɬam
He brought crabs. He came home the muskrat. He brought 9 tɛlkoā'tē. IgiXatk¡oā'mam ipu'koa. Itctɛ'ɬam tguēXguē'Xukc.

flags. He came home the lynx. He brought ducks.

10 IgaXatk¡oā'mam ā'cō. Iktɛ'ɬam tɛ'laIX. Ka'nauwē iguXoatk¡oā'mam.
She came home the mouse. She brought camass. All came home.

11 Aqa k¡ā'ya ē'ɬalXt. "ɬXuan igēXgē'itcomē ē'lxalXt." Igaxlō'Xa-ît
Then none their elder brother. "Perhaps he fell upon his own body, our elder brother." She thought

12 aqagē'lak: "Ikɛnī'm ɬqa ɬaxōtck¡ē'na." Xā'pîX aɬXilqā'yax ɬgoaɬē'lX the woman: "Canoe I think a builder." At dark he groaned a person

13 ɬtēt. Aqa iɬî'tpqam ɬgoaɬē'lX. Ē'ɬwa iā'qa–iɬ iɬā'wan. Lā'ā, aqa coming. Then he entered the person. Thus large his belly. Long, then her. "Go and take my trout, woman," he said. Now she went down to the beach. All the canoes were lying there. She searched for trout, but she could not find any. Then she found a bundle of willow branches. She went to the house and entered. "Did you bring trout?" "I did not see any; I found only this bundle of willow branches." "What kind of salmon do you take? [Willows are my salmon.]" After some time night came, and they went to sleep. Now her husband slept. She put her hand on his stomach. Now it was full of sticks. Then he awoke, and his stomach felt sick. He sang: "Trout, trout broke my bones, they broke my ribs!" Then the woman arose. Now she went to the end of the town. There she found a small house. There she lay down. Now it grew day.

The Beaver said to the Mink: "Go and bring your sister-in-law. Say to her: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" Now the Mink went. "I came to fetch you, Nikciamtcā'c! Your husband iɬagɛ'mɬa-ît. "'Tgā'lɛmam tɛ'q!ēxɛnē, aqagē'lak!" Aqa igō'lxa he approached her. Fetch the trouts, woman!" Then she went to the beach	1 aqagē'lak. Aqa ka'nauwē akɛ'nim ōlā'kaôX. Aqa iktō'naxL the woman. Then all canoes were there. Then she searched for them.	2

tɛ'q!ēxɛnē. K!ā'ya, nîct iktō'cgam. Aqa igiō'ckam ēlā'îtk. K!au the trouts. Nothing, not she found them. Then she found them willows. Tied	3 igē'xôx. Aqa igā'xk!oa tqu'lōpa. Igō'pqam. "Tsō'Xoa, tɛ'q!ēXɛnē they were. Then she went home house to. She came in. "Well, trouts	4 imtɛ'lam tci?" "K!ā nîct inō'quikɛl. Iā'ema elā'îtk k!au ikē'x you brought them [int. part.]?" "Nothing not I saw them. Only willows tied were	5
iniū'ckam." "Tāntxō mā'yax tɛ'mēq!ɛXɛnē?" Lā!, aqa igō'ponɛm. I found them." "What your trouts?" Long, then it got dark.	6
Iɬkɬqā'yoXuit aqa ioqō'ptit itcā'kikal. A'qa ē'wa igī'yux iā'wan. They went to sleep then slept her husband. Then thus she did it his belly.	7
Ikɬikxā'ema lɛ'gakci. Aqa tɛ'mqō pāL iā'wan. Aqa kōpa' She put on to it her hand. Then sticks full his belly. Then there	8
igiXî'qo-îtq. Aqa iā'teqɛm iā'wan. Aqa igɛ'ktexɛm: he awoke. Then sick his belly. Then he sang his conjurer's song:	9
"K!ēXana, k!ēXana, k!ēXana āiqtē'nɛlXala, taXi tgē'kɛmtōmax."
𝄆 ♪♪ | ♪𝄾 ♪♪ | ♪𝄾♪♪ | ♪𝄾 𝄇 ♪♪ | ♪ ♪♪ | ♪𝄾♪♪ | ♩ ♪ ♪ | ♪𝄾 𝄆	10
"Trout, trout, trout broke my bones those my ribs."
Aqa igaxa'latek wuX aqagē'lak. Aqa igō'ya yaXi kɛ'mukitîX. Then she arose that woman. Then she went that end of town.	11
Aqa iktō'cgam itō'qoa-îts tqu'lō. Aqa kōpā' igaxaō'kcit. Aqa Then she found it a small house. Then there she lay down. Then	12
igē'tcuktîX: "Anetā'2m amē'pōtexan, kō'sa-it! AmulXā'mam: it got day: "Fetch her your sister-in-law, mink! Go and say to her:	13
'Mai'ka tci namxā'lx, naī'ka tci qamanā'lx?'" Aqa iō'ya 'You [int. part.] do you take me for yourself, I [int. part.] do you take me to him?'" Then he went	14
kō'sa-it. "Ayamtgā'lɛmā'm, Nikciamtcā'c! ItɛnōlXā'm ōmē'kikal: mink. "I came to fetch you, Nikciamtcā'c! He said to me your husband:	15
'Mai'ka tci namxā'lx, naī'ka tci qamanā'lx?'" "Ō, nîct tq!ēx 'You [int. part.] do you take me for yourself, I [int. part.] do you take me to him?'" "Oh, not like	16 said to me: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" "Oh, I don't like you. You are stingy." Mink went home. "She is lazy."

"Quick, Otter, fetch her. Say to her: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" Then the Otter went. "Oh, I came to fetch you. Your husband has sent me. He said to me: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" She did not speak. Then he said again: "I came to fetch you; I came to fetch you." "Oh, I don't like you. You are stingy." The Otter went home. "Oh, she is lazy."

Then he said to the Black-bear: "Go and fetch your sister-in-law." The Black-bear went. "Oh, I came to fetch you. Your husband said to me: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" "Oh, I don't like you. You are stingy."

He said to the Raccoon: "Go, Raccoon, and fetch your sister-in-law." Raccoon went. "Oh, I came to fetch you. Your husband said to me: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" "Oh," she said to him, "I don't like you. You are stingy. You do not give me any crawfish."

"Oh, Muskrat, go and fetch your sister-in-law. Go and say to her: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" The Muskrat went. "Oh, I came to fetch you. Your husband said to me: 'Will

---

1 iā'môxt, tɛmē'onîm." Igē'xkɟoa kō'sa-it. "Ā, qɟam īgā'xôx."
I do you, you are stingy." He went home mink. "Oh, lazy she is."

2 "Aî'aq agā'lɛmam, ē'nanake! AmulXā'mam: 'Maî'ka tci namxā'lx, "Quick fetch her, otter! Go and say to her: 'You [int. part.] do you take me for yourself,

3 maî'ka tci qamanā'lx?'" Aqa iō'ya ē'nanake. "Ayamtga'lɛmā'm,
I [int. part.] do you take me to him?'" Then he went the otter. "I came to fetch you,

4 Nikciamtcā'c. Itcintō'koatck imē'kikal. Itcɛnō'lXam: 'Maî'ka tci Nikciamtcā'c. He has sent me your husband. He said to me: 'You [int. part.]

5 namxā'lx, maî'ka tci qamanā'lx?'" Nāctqa igā'kim. Aqa wē't'ax do you take me for yourself, I [int. part.] do you take me to him?'" Not at all she spoke. Then again

6 itcō'lXam: "Iamtgā'lɛmam, iamtgā'lɛmam." Aqa igiō'lXam: "Ō.
he said to her: "I came to fetch you, I came to fetch you." Then she said to him: "Oh,

7 nēct tɋēx iā'mɛtxt, tɛmē'onim." Igē'Xkɟoa ē'nanake. "Ā, qɟam not like I do you, you are stingy." He went home the otter. "Ah, lazy 8 igā'xôx."

she is."

9 Itciō'lXam iskē'ntXoa: "Agā'lɛmam amē'pōteXan, iskē'ntXoa!
He said to him the bear: "Go and fetch her your sister-in-law, bear!

10 AmulXā'mam: 'Maî'ka tci,'" etc., etc.
Go and say to her: 'You [int. part.],'" etc., etc.

11 Itciō'lXam iLatā't: "Agā'lɛmam amē'pōteXan, iLatā't!
He said to him the raccoon: "Go and fetch her your sister-in-law, raccoon!

12 AmulXā'mam: 'Maî'ka tci,'" etc., etc. . . . "Nîct tɋēx iā'môxt, Go and say to her: 'You [int. part.],'" etc., etc. . . . "Not like I do you,

13 tɛmē'onim. Niet imɛnɛ'lqo-im lmē'xaLxēla."
you are stingy. Not you give me to eat your crabs."

14 Itciō'lXam itsɟɛnē'stsɟɛnēs: "Agā'lɛmam amē'pōteXan,
He said to him the muskrat: "Go and fetch her your sister-in-law, you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" "I don't like you. You are too stingy. You don't give me any flags."

He said to the Mouse: "Go and fetch your sister-in-law. Say to her: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" The Mouse went. "Oh, Nikciamtcā'c! I came to fetch you. Your husband said to me: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" "I don't like you. You are stingy. You don't give me any camass."

Then he said to the Panther: "Go and fetch your sister-in-law. Go and say to her: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" Then the Panther went. "Oh, Nikciamtcā'c! I came to fetch you. Your husband said to me: 'Will you keep me, or shall I take you to him?'" She did not speak to him. He said so again. "I came to fetch you." He said so twice. "Oh, be quiet; come in!" The Panther entered. They lay down on the bed.

He remained away a long time. "Quick, go to look after them. Mink!" The Mink went. And there they were lying down. The Mink returned and said: "They are lying down in bed."

Now the Beaver cried and cried for five days. Now all the land its¡ᴇnē'sts¡ᴇnēs! AmulXā'mam: 'Mai'ka tci, etc., etc. . . . muskrat! Go and say to her: 'You [int. part.] etc., etc.	1

"Ō, nîct tq¡ēx iā'môxt. Txāla tᴇmē'onim. Nîct imᴇnᴇ'lqo-im "Oh, not like I do you. Too you are stingy. Not you gave me to eat	2
tᴇme'lkoati." your flags."	3
Itcō'lXam ā'cō: "Agā'lᴇmam amē'tōm, ā'cō! AmulXā'mam: He said to her the mouse: "Go and fetch her your sister-in-law, mouse! Go and say to her:	4
'Mai'ka tci,'" etc., etc. . . . "Ō, nîct tq¡ēx iā'môxt. Nîcqē 'You [int. part.],'" etc., etc. . . . "Oh, not like I do you. Not at all	5
imᴇnᴇ'lqo-îm tᴇ'lalX." you gave me to eat camass."	6
Aqa itcīō'lXam ik¡oaya'wa: "Agā'lᴇmam amē'pōtcxan, ik¡oaya'wa! Then he said to him the panther: "Go and fetch her your sister-in-law, panther!	7
AmulXā'mam: 'Mai'ka tci namxā'lx, nai'ka tci qamanā'lx?'" Go and say to her: 'You [int. part.] do you take me for yourself, I [int. part.] do you take me to him?'"	8
Nāeqa igā'kim. Wē't'ax itcō'lXam: "Ō, iamtgā'lᴇmam." Mô'ketîX Not at all she spoke. Again he said to her: "Oh, I came to fetch you." Twice	9
itcō'lXam. "Ō, qān mᴇ'xôx. Ā'ckatpq!" Iā'ckupq ik¡oaya'wa. he said to her. "Oh, silent be. Come in!" He entered the panther.	10
Aqa icxō'keit ilxᴇ'm'ēpa. Then they two lay down the bed on	11
Lē'lē k¡ā'ya igē'xôx. "Ai'aq ci'ketam kō'sa-it!" Iō'ya kō'sa-it. Long nothing he was. "Quick go and look at them mink!" He went mink.	12
aqa ickᴇ'lqayū. IgîXk¡oā'mam kō'sa-it. Igixgu'litck kō'sa-it: then they were lying down. He came home mink. He told mink	13
"Icgā'lqayu ilxᴇ'm'ēpa." Aqa igigᴇ'tcax iqā'nuq. Igigᴇ'tcax, "They are lying down bed on." Then he cried the beaver. He cried.	14
igigᴇ'tcax qui'num lkā'etax. Aqa ilē'kta-îX ka'nauwē ēlX. Koala' he cried five days. Then it was flooded all land. Soon	15 was flooded. After a little while the houses were covered. Then the Beaver dived. Then they went aboard their canoes, and all the country was covered by water. It reached nearly to the sky. One year the water was high. "Now dive, Blue-jay!" Blue-jay dived, but his tail remained above the water. He floated. Then all the animals tried to dive. "Now, Mink! you dive next." He dived. After a little while he came up again. "Now, Otter! you dive next." The Otter dived. After a long time he came up again. He did not find the ground. "Now you dive, Muskrat!" Then the Muskrat said: "Tie the canoes together!" Now they tied the canoes together. They laid planks across them. Then the Muskrat threw off his blanket. "I shall lift the world. My belly is just like that of Beaver; my belly is just like that of Beaver. My belly is large." Five times he sang his song. Then he dived. He remained under water for a long time. After a little while flags came up. Then it became summer, and the

1 aqa ɬ̨lāp itgī′ya tqu′lē. Aqa igiktē′mɛnq iqā′nuq. Aqa then under water went the house. Then he dived the beaver. Then

2 iɬagɛ′la-it aɬā′Xanim. Aqa ɬ̨lāp igē′xôx ē′lX ka′nauwē.
they went aboard their canoes. Then under water became country all.

3 K!oā′pa igō′caxpa iɬō′yam. ĒXt iqē′tak iɬɛ′xôx cā′xalîX.
Nearly sky to they arrived. One year it was up.

4 "Nîxua amktē′mɛnq, iqē′sqēs!" Igiktē′mɛnq iqē′sqēs. ɬāx
"Well, dive, blue-jay!" He dived blue-jay. Out

5 iā′pōts aqa wi iuXu′nitck. Aqa iɬktē′mɛnq; ɬkanauwē′tîkc his back-side then again he floated. Then they dived; all

6 kē′nuwa iɬktē′mɛnq. "Tca amktē′mɛnq kō′sa-it amā′et!ax."
try they dived. "Now dive mink you next."

7 Igiktē′mɛnq. Lē′lē mank igiktē′mɛnq. ɬāx igē′xôx. "Amai′t!ax
He dived. Long a little he dived. Out he became. "You next

8 o′namakc amktē′mɛnq!" Igiktē′mɛnq o′namakc. Lē′2lc igiktē′mɛnq.
otter dive!" He dived the otter. Long he dived.

9 ɬāx igē′xôx. Nä2et iō′yam ē′lXpa. Aqa: "Tca! amai′t!ax Out he became. Not he arrived the ground at. Then: "Now! you next 10 its!enē′sts!enēs amktē′mɛnq!" Aqa igē′kim its'enē′sts'enēs: "K!au muskrat you dive!" Then he spoke the muskrat: "Tie

11 mcî′kôx akɛ′nim." Aqa k!au iɬî′kôx akɛ′nim. Aqa iɬgakxā′ema do them the canoes." Then tie they did them the canoes. Then they put them across 12 aqē′nXak. Aqa iɬcxē′ma ɬiā′k!ētē its!ɛnē′sts!ɛnēs:

planks. Then he took it off his blanket the muskrat:

"Qanutā′mitatskoa walayō′, itsu′wan aqa iqā′nuq, itsu′wan aqa iqa′nuq,

13
"I begin to lift it the day, my belly like the beaver, my belly like the beaver, itsu′wan aqa ɬɛngɛ′sgɛs, itsu′wan aqa ɬɛngɛ′sgɛs."

14
my belly large belly my belly large belly."

15 Qui′nunnîX itctō′ckam tiā′qewam. Aqa igiktē′mɛnq. Lā4, Five times he took them his songs. Then he dived. Long,

16 k!ā′ya igē′xôx. Koalā′4 itgatXuni′tckoam tɛlkoā′tē. Ō qōct ā′qa nothing he was. Soon they came up floating flags. Oh, behold then canoes went down with the waters. It became dry. The canoes landed on the ground.

Then the Grizzly-bear jumped out of the canoe. "You lost your tail." "I shall buy another one." The Black-bear jumped out. "You lost your tail." "I shall buy another one." The Otter jumped out. "You lost your tail." He returned, took his tail, and put it on. Now the Mink jumped out. "You lost your tail." He returned, took his tail, and put it on. The Muskrat jumped out. "You lost your tail." He returned, took his tail, and put it on. The Panther jumped out. "You lost your tail." He returned, took his tail and put it on. They went ashore.

tcā'qoa-îX. Aqa igō'ya gē'gualîX akɛ'nim.' ɬlō'ya gē'gualîX 1 summer. Then they went downward the canoes. It went down ɬtcu'qoa. Cpāq igē'xoXîX. Igōlā'kɛXuit akɛ'nim. 2

the water. Dry it became. They grounded the canoes.

Itsî'sōpɛna icā'yîm. "Ā amē'ite imakɛ'lōqɪ." "Ā'ɬqa 3
He jumped the grizzly bear. "Oh, your tail you lost it." "Later on agō'nax anōmɛlā'lɛma." Itcî'sōpɛna iskē'ntxoa. "Ā amē'ite 4 another one I shall buy it." He jumped the black bear. "Oh, your tail imakɪ.'loqɪ." "Ā'ɬqa agō'nax anōmɛka'lɛma." Itcî'sopɛna 5 you lost it." "Later on another one I shall buy it." He jumped ē'manake. "Ā amē'ite imakɛ'lōqɪ." IgiXɛ'takoa. itcā'kɛlka 6 the otter. "Oh, your tail you lost it." He returned, he took it ayā'ite. Iga-ixɛlgā'mit. Itcî'sōpɛna kō'sa-it. "Ā amē'ite 7 his tail. He put it on. He jumped mink. "Oh, your tail imakɛ'lōqɪ." IgiXɛ'takoa. itcā'kɛlka ayā'ite. Iga-ixɛlgā'mit. 8 you lost it." He returned. he took it his tail. He put it on.

Itcî'sōpɛna its¡ɛnē'sts¡enēs. "Ā amē'ite imakɛ'loqɪ." IgiXɛ'takoa. 9
He jumped the muskrat. "Oh, your tail you lost it." He returned, itcā'kɛlka ayā'ite. Iga-ixɛlgā'mit. Itcî'sōpɛna ikoayawa'. "Ā 10 he took it his tail. He put it on. He jumped the panther. "Oh, amē'ite imakɛ'lōqɪ." IgiXɛ'takoa. itcā'kɛlka ayā'ite. Iga-ixɛlgā'mit. 11 your tail you lost it." He returned he took it his tail. He put it on.

Ka'nauwē aLɛkɛ'lōLx. 12
All they went inland.

Sun Myth (told 1891)

There was a chief of a town. His relatives lived in five towns. In the morning he used to go outside and stay out to look at the Sun. The Sun was about to rise. He said to his wife: "What would you think if I went to see the Sun?" His wife said to him: "Do you think he is near that you want to go there?" On the following day he went out again. Again he saw the Sun. It was nearly sunrise. He said to his wife: "Make me ten pairs of shoes. Make me ten pairs of leggings." The woman made ten pairs of shoes and ten pairs of leggings. The next morning he went. He went far away. He used up his shoes and his leggings. Then he put on another

Aqalā'x itcā'k!anē

The Sun His Myth

1 Oxoēlā'etîX taîtci gitā'lXam. Qoä'nema tgā'lXamēmax tiā'cuXtîkc
There were those people of a town. Five his towns his relatives

2 yaXi ictā'mex. Kawē'X aqa iopā'X k!a lā'xanîX aqa iulā'îtX that chief. Early then he used to go out and outside then he stayed

3 aqa itcō'qumîtx wuXi aqalā'x. Q!oā'pîX lāx^a naxō'xoax wuXi then he saw him that sun. Nearly visible became that 4 aqalā'x. Aqa itcō'lXam ayā'kikal: "Qa'da imē'x'atakoax, pēno sun. Then he said to her his wife: "How your mind, if

5 inō'xlam wuXi aqalā'x." Igiō'lXam ayā'kikala: "Mxlō'Xuan tci
I go to seek that sun." She said to him his wife: "Do you think [int. part.]

6 q!oā'pîX k!a amxtō'kuala amō'ya wuXi aqalā'xpa?" near and you wish to go you go that sun to?"

7 Igō'n ē'ka-it, wit'ax kawē'X iō'pa. Aqa wit'ax itcō'qumitck Another day, again early he went out. Then again he saw him

8 wuXi aqalā'x. Q!oā'pîx· yaXī lāx igā'xatx wuXi that sun. Nearly here visible becomes that 9 aqalā'x. Itcō'lXam ayā'kikala: "Amtenlō'xoa tqē'lpa

sun. He said to her his wife: "Make them for me moccasins

10 ita'lēlXam. Amtenlō'xoa tq!ila't!awulXtîX: itā'lēlXam tō'lXam
ten. Make them for me leggings; ten people

11 tgā'xēlat!awulXtîX." Aqa iktē'lôx ayā'kikala itā'lēlXam their leggings." Then she made them for him his wife ten 12 te'gaqēlpa tō'lXam, kopä'2t tgā'xēlat!awulXtîX. Wē't'ax their moccasins people, as many their leggings. Again

13 igē'tcuktîX, aqa iō'ya. Kelā'îX iō'ya. Igoxoa'lXōm it got day, then he went. Far he went. He finished them

14 tiā'qēlpa. Igoxoa'lXōm tiā'xēlat!awulXtîX. Tgō'nax qul his moccasins. He finished them his leggings. Other ones put on pair of shoes and leggings. He went for five months. Then he had used five pairs of shoes and five pairs of leggings. He went for ten months. Then he was near the place where the Sun was rising and he had used all his shoes. Then he found a large house. He opened the door. There was a girl. He entered and stayed there. He saw arrows hanging on one side of the house. Quivers full of arrows were hanging there. There were hanging shirts of elk skin, wooden armor, shields, stone axes, bone clubs, and head ornaments. Implements used by men were hanging on the one side of the house. On the other side were mountain-goat blankets, dressed elkskin blankets, buffalo skins, dressed buckskins, long dentalia, shell beads, and short dentalia. Near the doorway some large thing was hanging. He did not know it. He asked the girl: "Whose are these quivers?" [She said:] "They are my father's mother's property. When I am grown itixɛ′lux tiā′qēɬpa ka tiā′xēɬat¡awulXtîX. Qoā′nɛma 1

he did them his moccasins and his leggings. Five ɬkaemu′kc iō′ya. Qoā′nɛma tiā′qēɬpa igoxoā′ɬXōm. Qoā′nɛma 2 months he went. Five his moccasins he finished them. Five tia′xɛɬat¡awulXtîX igoxoā′ɬXōm. Ila′Ɂɬɛ̄lXam ɬkaemu′kc io′ya. 3 his leggings he finished them. Ten months he went.

Aqa q¡oā′pîX nopā′x wuXi aqaɬā′x. Igoxoā′ɬXōm tiā′qēɬpa. aqa 4
Then near he came out that sun. He finished them his moccasins. then iogoā′qxoam tqu′ɬē; itā′qa-iɬ tqu′ɬē. Itcixɛ′laqɬqîX, aqa lōxt 5 he reached it a house; a large house. He opened the door, then there was ɬqɬā′pɬxîX. lā′ckōpq, iō′ɬa-it. Aqa itctō′qōmitck ē′wa tɛ′nat 6 a girl. He entered, he stayed. Then he saw them there one side taXi tqu′ɬē qu′ɬquɬ tā′wixt tqā′matcx, qu′ɬquɬ lā′wîxt ɬq¡ē′tsxō 7 that house hanging there were arrows, hanging there were quivers pā′ɬɛmax tqā′matcx. Qu′ɬquɬ lā′wîxt ɬgē′luqtē. Qu′ɬquɬ tā′wîxt 8 full of arrows. Hanging there were elkskin armors. Hanging there were tɛ′qɬkX; qu′ɬquɬ tā′wîxt tɛ′gēla; qu′ɬquɬ tā′wîxt txewā′exewāē; 9 wooden armors; hanging there were shields; hanging there were stone axes;

qu′ɬquɬ. ɬā′wîxt ɬtamq¡ā′ɬkc; qu′ɬquɬ. tā′wîxt tk¡ē′gɛɬka. 10 hanging there were bone war clubs; hanging there were head ornaments.

Ka′nauwē tkalā′ktē ē′wa tɛ′nat taXi tqu′ɬē. Ē′wa tɛ′nat taXi 11
All man's property thus one side that house. There the other side that tqu′ɬe qu′ɬquɬ. tā′wîxt tɬoā′kɛmax; qu′ɬquɬ. ta′wîxt tɬaē′xʷkc; 12 house hanging there were mountain-goat blankets; hanging there were painted blankets made of two elk skins;

qu′ɬquɬ iā′wîxt itō-ihē′max; qu′ɬquɬ tā′wîxt tsɛqsɛ′quks; qu′ɬquɬ 13 hanging there were buffalo skins; hanging there were curried buckskins; hanging iā′wîxt iqauwik¡ē′lē; qu′ɬquɬ iā′wîxt ē′q¡ōtcō; qu′ɬquɬ iā′wîxt 14 there were long dentalia; hanging there were shell beads; hanging there were ikupku′p. Aqa icî′qē q¡oā′p quɬ iā′wîxt yaXi ē′wa giā′qa-iɬ tā′nki. 15 short dentalia. Then the door near hanging there was that thus large something.

Itcixɛ′ɬɛluXt. A′qa iteuqu′mtexogoa wuXi aqɬā′pɬxîx̣: "ɬān lā′kti 16
He did not know it. Then he asked her that girl: "Whose things ɬaXi lq¡ē′tsxō?" "Agɛ′k¡ēc tgā′kti. ɬgɛ′q¡ēlawulXɛm kɬgɛ′lōtkt." 17 those quivers?" "My grandmother's things. When I get mature she will give them away."

up, she will give them away." "Whose are these elkskin armors?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these arrows?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these wooden armors?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away?" "Whose are these shields and war clubs?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these stone axes?" "They belong to my father's mother." Then also he asked about the things on the other side of the house: "Whose are these buffalo skins?" "They belong to my father's mother and to me. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these mountain-goat blankets?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these dressed buckskins?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these deerskin blankets?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these shell beads?"

1 "Whose things those elkskin armors?" "My grandmother's our things. When I get mature

2 she will give them away." "Whose things those arrows?" "My grandmother's our things.

3 When I get mature she will give them away." "Whose things those wooden armors?"

4 "My grandmother's our things. When I get mature she will give them away." "Whose things

5 those shields and those war clubs?" "My grandmother's our things." "Whose

6 things those stone axes?" "My grandmother's our things." Then again the other

7 one side that house: "Whose things those buffalo skins?" "My grandmother's

8 our buffalo skins. When I get mature she will give them away "Whose things

9 those mountain-goat blankets?" "My grandmother's our things. When I get mature

10 she will give them away." "Whose things those buckskins?" "My grandmother's

11 our things. When I get mature she will give them away." "Whose things those 12 deer-skin blankets?" "My grandmother's our things. When I get mature she will give them away."

13 "Whose things those shell beads?" "My grandmother's our things.

"They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these long dentalia?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away." "Whose are these short dentalia?" "They belong to my father's mother. When I am grown up, she will give them away."

He asked about all those things, and thought: "I will take them." When it was evening, the old woman came home. She hung up something that pleased him. It was shining. He stayed there a long time and took that girl. They remained there. Every morning the old woman disappeared. At night she came back. She brought home all kinds of things. She brought home arrows. Sometimes she brought mountain-goat blankets and elkskin shirts. She did so every day. He stayed there a long time; then he grew homesick. For two days he did not rise. She asked her granddaughter: "Did you scold him and is he angry?" "No, I did not scold him; he is homesick." Then she asked her son-in-law: "What do you wish to have when you go home? Do you want these buffalo skins?" He said: "No." "Do you want these mountain-goat blankets?" He ɬgɛ'q¡ēlawulXɛm gilgɛ'lōtkt." "lā'n ilā'ktē yaXi ēqauwik¡ē'lē? 1

When I get mature she will give them away." "Whose things those long dentalia?

ɬān ilā'ktē yaXi ikupku'p?" "Āgɛ'k¡ēe itcā'ktē. 2
Whose things those short dentalia?" "My grandmother's her things.

ɬgɪ'q¡ēlawulXɪɛm gilgɪ'lotkt." 3
When I get mature she will give them away."

Ka'nauwē taXi tā'nɛmax itctaxqa'mɛtcxōgoa. Igixlō'xoa-ît: 4
All those things he asked about them. He thought:

"Anuegā'ma." Xā'pîX aqa igaxk¡oā'mam wuXi aq¡eyō'qt. Aqa 5
"I will take it." In the evening then she came home that old woman. Then wi ēXt quL igiā'wîX yaXi q¡āt ktcī'yuxt Liā'k"tgoamax yaXi 6 again one hang up she did it that like he did it shining that tā'nki. lâ'zɪa-ît kōpa'. Ē'yaLqtîX iō'La-it kōpa'. Aqa itcō'ekam 7 something. He stayed there. Long time he stayed there. Then he took her wuXi ak'iā'pLxîx'. Ilxō'la-it kōpa'. Kawī'X, ā'nqa k¡ɛm wuXi 8 that girl. They stayed there. Early, already nothing that aq¡eyō'qt. Tsō'yustîX naXk¡oā'mamx. Aktō'kɪamx tktō'max. 9 old woman. In the evening she came home. She brought them things.

Aktō'kɪamx tqā'matex; anā' tqoā'kɛmax aktō'kɪamx. Anā' 10
She brought them arrows; sometimes mountain-goat blankets she brought them. Sometimes igō'luqtē agiō'kɪamx. Ka'nauwē ɪkā'etax ā'kua. Ē'yaLqtîX 11 elkskin armors she brought them. All days thus. Long time iō'la-it, aqa ikā'k"L itcī'yôx. Mô'ketîX iō'qoya nîct igixɛ'latck. 12 he stayed, then homesickness acted on him. Twice his sleeps not he arose.

Igō'lXam wuXi agā'gian wuXi aq¡eyō'qt: "Emiō'mēlatci k¡a 13
She said to her that her grandchild that old woman: "You scolded him [int. part.] and ēx'ɛ'lXaqt?" "K¡ā'ya, nîct ēniō'mela; ikā'k"L tcī'yôxt. Aqa 14 he is angry?" "No, not I scolded him; homesickness acts on him. Then igiō'lXam itcā'qcîX: "Tān amiō'k'ɪa namXk¡oā'ya? YaXi tci 15 she said to him her son-in-law: "What will you carry when you go home? That [int. part.]

ito-ihē'max amiō'k'ɪa?" Itcō'lXam k¡ā'ya. "TaXi tci tqoā'kɛmax 16 buffalo skins you carry them?" He said to her, "No." "Those [int. part.] mountain-goat blankets said: "No." "Do you want these elkskin shirts?" He said: "No." She showed him all that was on the one side of the house. Next she showed him the ornaments. She showed him everything. He liked that great thing that was hanging there. When that thing turned around it was shining so that one had to close one's eyes. That he wanted. He said to his wife: "The old woman shall give me only her blanket." His wife said to him: "She will not give it to you. The people tried to buy it, but she will not give it away." Then he became angry. After some days she asked him again: "Will you take this?" She showed him everything. She showed him all the implements used by men. When she came to that thing that was hanging there, she was silent. Then she became tired and said: "Take it, but look out if you carry it. You wanted it. I wished to love you and I do love you." Then she hung it onto him and she

1 amtō′kɪa?" Itcō′lXam kḷā′ya. "YaXi tci igē′luqtē ka′nauwē will you carry them?" He said to her, "No." "Those [int. part.] elkskin armors all

2 amiō′kɪa?" Itcō′lXam kḷā′ya. Ka′nauwē taXi tɛ′nat tqu′lē will you carry them?" He said to her, "No." All those one side the house

3 kē′nuwa iktɛxɛ′nēma. Atā′xtḷax taXi tktē′max. Ka′nauwē-ɬ kē′nuwa try she showed them to him. Next those things. All try

4 iktēxɛ′nēma. Yā′Xka qḷāt tcī′yuxt yaXi tā′nki giā′qa-ɪL, yaXi she showed them to him. That like he did it that something large, that

5 qiuptō′nētîX. Ma′nix lā′xo nixō′xoax yaXi tā′nki qiuptō′nētîX hanging up. When turn it did that something hanging up

6 niktē′qoXuitqiX, nau′i tsXɛp qacxō′xoax sia′xōst. Lia′ktɟoma yaXi it turned round, at once closed eyes did his eyes. Shining that

7 tā′nki. Aqa ya′Xka yaXi qḷāt tcī′yuxt. Itcō′lXam aya′kikal:
something. Then that that like he did it. He said to her his wife:

8 "Aginlō′ta ēXt yaXi itcā′kḷetē wuXi aqḷeyō′qt." Igiō′lXam
"She shall give me one that her blanket that old woman." She said to him

9 aya′kikala: "Nîct qantsî′x agimɛlō′ta. Kē′Ɂnuwa qiamɛlā′lɛmx, his wife: "Never she will give it to you. Try it is bought,

10 nîct qantsî′X agiō′tx." Aqa wit′ax nîx·Lx·ā′qoax. Tcā′xiX never she gives it away." Then again he became angry. Several 11 qayoqoē′XiX, aqa wit′ax agioqu′mtcxōguax: "YaXi' tci his sleeps, then again she asked him: "That [int. part.]

12 amiō′kɪa?" agiōlXā′mx. Ka′nauwē kē′nuwa aktixɛnē′max tax·i will you carry it?" she said to him. All try she showed them to him those 13 tgā′ktemax. Aktixɛnē′max kē′nuwa tax·i tkalā′kte. Ka′nauwē their things. She showed them try those man's things. All

14 kē′nuwa aktixɛnē′max. Naikō′quamx yaXi qiuptō′nētix·. Aqa try she showed them to him. She arrived at that hanging up. Then 15 qān naxō′xoax, ma′nîx naikō′quamx yaXi qiuptō′nētix·. Aqa silent she became, when she arrived that hanging up. Then 16 tɛll igē′xôx ē′tcamxtc. Aqa igiō′lXam: "Qā′txa amiō′kɪa!

tired it became her heart. Then she said to him: "Shall you carry it!

17 Qā′tɟōcXɛm! qēn amiō′kɪa. Mai′ka imē′Xaqamit. Kē′nuwa tqḷēx Take care! if you carry it. Your your mind. Try like 18 iā′mōxt, teqē tqḷēx iā′mxōxt." QuL igē′lôx. Ka′nauwē quL I do you, then like I do you." Hang she did it on him. All hang gave him a stone ax. She said: "Now go home." Now he went home.

He did not see a town until he came near his uncle's town. Now the thing which he carried in his hands shook, and said: "We shall strike your town." Then he lost his senses, and he broke his uncle's town and killed all the people. Now he recovered. He had broken all the houses. His hands were full of blood. Then he thought: "Oh, what a fool I was! The thing I wanted is bad." He tried to throw it away, but it stuck to his flesh. Then he went. He went a short distance and again he lost his senses. He came to the town of another one of his uncles. Again the thing said: "We shall strike your town." He tried to keep quiet, but he could not do it. He tried to throw it away, but his hands closed. Then he lost his senses, and broke all the houses. He recovered and the town of his uncle was destroyed. The people lay there dead. Then he cried and tried to strip it off in the fork of a tree, but it did not come off at all. It igē'lôx. Aqa igē'lōt iqewā'exēwaē. Igiō'lXam: "Mɛ'Xk!oa ā'qa!" 1

she did it on him. Then she gave him a stone ax. She said to him: "Go home now!"

Iō'pa, aqa iō'ya, igē'Xk!oa. Nēct itciō'qumitck ēlX. Q!oā'p itciō'xam 2
He went out, then he went, he went home. Not he saw it a country, Near he arrived iā'mōt iā'lXam. Aqa igē'Xɛlta yaXi qtcigɛlgā't. Aqa igē'kîm 3 his uncle his town. Then it shook that what he had on. Then it spoke yaXi qtcigɛlgā't: "Atxîlgā'mita imē'lXam, atxîlgā'mita imē'lXam," 4 that what he had on: "We shall strike it your town, we shall strike it your town," yaXi qtcigɛlgā't igē'kîm. K!ɛm igō'xax tiā'xatakoax. Itcī'yux 5 that what he had on spoke. Nothing became his reason. He did it iā'lXam iā'mōt. L!mān, L!mān, L!mān itcī'yux. Ka'nauwē tē'lXam 6

his town his uncle's. Break, break, break he did it. All people itctō'tēna. L!pāq igē'xôx. Ka'nauwē taXi tqlē'max L!mɛ'nL!mɛn 7 he killed them. Recover he did. All those houses broken ōguakē'x. Pāl lqā'wulqt tē'iakei. Igixlō'xoa-ît: "Ō, nai'ka nɛ'L!ala. 8 were. Full blood his hands. He thought: "Oh, I fool!

Koalqē'L! iā'lko-ilē gi tā'nki qa gi tq!ēx iqē'nxôx." Kē'nuwa 9 Thus behold bad that something and that like I did it." Try lāq igēxō'lalɛmtck ka ē'yalq nixk!ā'Xitx. Aqa wi iō'ya, as 10 take off he took it off and his flesh it pulled. Then again he went, and nōL!îX iō'ya, aqa wi k!ɛm igō'xoax tiā'xatakoax. Q!oā'p 11 a little while he went, then again nothing became his reason. Near itciō'xam igō'nax iā'mot iā'lXam. Aqa wit'ax igē'kîm: "Atxîlgā'mita 12 he arrived another his uncle his town. Then again it spoke: "We shall strike it imē'lXam. atxîlgā'mita imē'lXam." Kē'nuwa pɛt qatciō'xax. 13 your town, we shall strike it your town." Try quiet he did it.

Nāct qa'ntcîx pɛt nixō'xoax. Kē'nuwa qatcixē'max, gwā'nîsum 14 Never quiet it was. Try he threw it away, always taXi tē'iakei noxo-ilxē'yux. Aqa wi k!ɛm igō'xax tiā'xatakoax. 15 those his fingers bent. Then again nothing became his reason.

Aqa wi itcī'yux iā'mōt iā'lXam. Ka'nauwē L!mɛ'nL!mɛn itcī'yux. 16
Then again he did it his uncle his town. All break he did it.

L!pāq igē'xôx. K!ɛm iā'lXam iā'mot. Ka'nauwē ō'xoaxt ōXoā'la-it 17 Recover he did. Nothing his town his uncle. All there were they were dead tē'lXam. Aqa igigɛ'tcax. Kē'nuwa keigɛnL!ē'q!kiXpa ē'mɛqō, 18

the people. Then he cried. Try branch in tree, stuck to his body. He tried to strike what he wore on a stone, but he could not break it. Then he went on. He came near the town of another one of his uncles, and again the thing which he carried shook. "We shall strike your town," it said. Then he lost his senses. He broke the houses of his uncle's town. He destroyed his uncle's town. Then he recovered. He cried, because he made his relatives unhappy. He tried to dive in order to take it off, but it stuck to his body. He rolled himself in a thicket, and he tried to break on a stone what he wore. Then he gave it up. He cried. He went on and came to the town of another uncle. Again the thing which he carried shook: "We shall strike your town." He lost his senses. He broke all the houses and killed all the people. Then he recovered. All the people were killed, and the town was destroyed. His arms and his hands were covered with blood. He cried: "Kā! kā! kā! kā!" and tried to break what he

1 kōpa′ kē′nuwa qāyaxauiqjā′yakoax, kē′nuwa ʟāq nixō′ʟalɛmx. Nēctqē there try he squeezed himself through it, try come off it did. Not at all

2 ʟāq nixō′xoax, ka ē′yaʟq nîxkjā′Xîtx. Kē′nuwa qatciuguicē′mɛX come off it did, and his flesh it pulled it. Try he struck it

3 ʟqɛ′nakcpa yaXi ktcigɛʟgā′t. Nēct qa′nsîx ʟ¡mɛ′nʟ¡mɛn nîxō′xoax.
a stone on that what he had on. Never break it did.

4 Wi′ax qayō′îx. Qoā′p qatciyo′xoamx igō′nax ia′mōt ia′lXam.
Again he went. Near he arrived another his uncle his town.

5 Aqa wi nîxɛlā′lalɛmx yaXi qtcigɛlgā′t. "Atxîlgā′mita imē′lXam, Then again it shook that what he had on. "We shall strike it your town,

6 atxîlgā′mita imē′lXam." K¡ɛm noxoā′xax tiā′Xatakoax. Qatcīō′xax we shall strike it your town." Nothing became his reason. He did it

7 iā′lXam iā′mōt. ʟ¡mān, ʟ¡mān, ʟ¡mān, ʟ¡mān, kanauwē′2 qatciuʟXō′mx his town his uncle. Break, break, break, break, all he finished it

8 iā′lXam iā′mōt ka tē′lXam qatctuʟXō′mx. ʟ¡pāq nîxō′xoax.
his town his uncle and the people he finished them. Recover he did.

9 Niktcā′xamx qateuxāwalōtā′-îtx tiā′cuXtikc. Kē′nuwa nîktē′mɛnqɛmx
He cried all the time he made them unhappy his relatives. Try he dived always water in. Try come off it did and his flesh it pulled it.

10 ʟteu′qoapa. Kē′nuwa lāq nîxō′lalɛmx ka ē′yaʟq nîxkjā′Xîtx.

11 Kē′nuwa niā′mɛla-îx·pa nîxcgē′lalɛmx. Kē′nuwa qatciuguicē′mx
Try a thicket in he rolled about. Try he struck it

12 yaXi ktcigɛlgā′t ʟqɛ′nakcpa. Tā′menua nîxō′xoax. Aqa nîktcā′xamx.
that what he had on a stone on. Give up he did. Then he cried all the time.

13 Wit′ax qayō′îx. Aqa wi igō′nax qatcigō′qoamx ē′lXam, iā′mōt Again he went. Then again another he arrived at a town, his uncle

14 iā′lXam. Aqa wi nixɛlā′lalɛmx yaXi qtcigɛlgā′t. "Atxîlgā′mita his town. Then again it shook that what he had on. "We shall strike it 15 imē′lXam, atxîlgā′mita imē′lXam." K¡ɛm noxoā′xax tiā′Xatakux.

your town, we shall strike it your town." Nothing became his reason.

16 Qatcīō′xax ē′lXam, ʟ¡mān, ʟ¡mān, ʟ¡mān, ʟ¡mān, ka tē′lXam.
He did it the town, break, break, break, break, and the people.

17 ʟ¡pāq nîxō′xoax. Tɛmɛ′mm ka′nauwē tē′lXam ka ē′lXam.
Recover he did. None all the people and the town.

18 Lā′ema ʟqā′wulqt tē′yaqō k¡a tē′yakcē. Nîxō′xoax qā! qā! qā! qā!
Only blood his arms and his hands. He did qā! qā! qā! qā!

19 nîktcā′xomx. Kē′2nuwa qatciuguicē′ʟx tqɛ′nake. Nēct ʟ¡mɛ′nʟ¡mɛn he cried. Try he struck them stones. Not break wore on a stone, but it did not break. He tried to throw it away, but his hands closed. He went on, and he came near his own town. He tried to remain standing, but it was as if his feet were pulled toward it. Then he lost his senses and destroyed the whole town and killed his relatives. Then he recovered. The whole town was destroyed, and the ground was full of bodies. Then he cried again: "Kā! kā! kā! kā!" He bathed and tried to take off what he wore, but it stuck to his body. Sometimes he struck it against stones and thought it might get broken. Then he gave it up. He cried.

Now he looked back, and there the old woman was standing. She said to him: "I tried to love you; I tried to be kind to your people; why do you cry? You wished for it and wanted to wear my blanket." Now she took it off and left him. She went home. He stayed there; he went a short distance and built a small house.

---

nîxō′xoax yaXi qteigᴇlgā′t. Kē′nuwa qateixē′max yaXi 1 it did that what he had on. Try he threw it away that qteigᴇlgā′t. Koā′nesum tikᵠ¡oā′ʟkux tē′yakei. Wē′t!ax qayō′îx. 2 what he had on. Always became bent his hands. Again he went.

Aqa iā′xt¡ax iā′lXam. Q¡oā′p qateiyō′xax iā′lXam, kē′nuwa 3
Then his own next his town. Near he did it his town, try qayō′tXuîtx ya′Xka ʟ¡a aqoxoak¡ā′x tiā′qo-it. K¡ᴇm noxoā′xax 4 he stood he behold it pulled them his feet. Nothing became

tiā′xatakoax, qateiō′xax iā′lXam, L¡mān, L¡mān, L¡mān, L¡mān. 5
his reason, he did it his town, break, break, break, break.

Ka′nauwē qateiuʟXō′mx iā′lXam ka tiā′cuXtîke qatctuʟXō′mx. 6
All he finished it his town and his relatives he finished them.

L¡pāq nîxō′xoax; k¡ᴇm iā′lXam. Pāʟ ēlX ō′xoaxt tmēmᴇlō′ctîke. 7 Recover he did; nothing his town. Full the ground were corpses.

Nîxō′xoax qā! qā! qā! qā! nîktcā′xamx. Kē′nuwa nîxqoā′tx. Kē′nuwa 8
He did qā! qā! qā! qā! he cried. Try he bathed. Try Lāqᵒ nîxō′lalᴇmx yaXi iqᴇ′ltit, ka ē′yaʟq nîxk¡ā′Xîtx. Anā′ 9 come off he did that what he wore, and his flesh it pulled. Sometimes Lqᴇ′nakᴇpa nîxᴇgē′lalᴇmx. NîxʟuXoā′îtx. k¡ō′ma cā′ca alîxō′xoa. 10 stone on he struck it. He thought, perhaps break it will.

Tā′menua nîxō′xoax. Aqa wi nîktcā′xamx ka iō′qulqt. 11
Give up he did. Then again he cried and he wept.

Nix·ᴇnā′qoax, aqa-igᴇmtXuē′la wuXi aq¡eyō′qt. "Mai′ka," 12
He looked back, then she stood there that old woman. "You," agiō′lXam, "mai′ka. Kē′nuwa tq¡ēx iā′mxôx, kē′nuwa tq¡ēx 13 she said to him, "you. Try like I did you, try like ntôx tᴇmē′cuXtîke. Qā′tcqē mō′qulqt? Mai′ka imē′Xaqamit, aqa 14

I did your relatives. Why you weep? You your mind, then them

imē′ʟuk yaXi itcî′k¡etē." Aqa igē′kᴇlka. Lāqᵒ igē′xôx yaXi 15 you carried it that my blanket." Then she took it. Take off she did it that qteigᴇlgā′t. Aqa iga-iqᴇ′ltaqɪ; igā′Xk¡oa. Iō′ʟa-it kōpa′. Iō′ya 16 what he had on. Then she left him; she went home. He stayed there. He went mank kᴇlā′îX. Kōpa′ tqu′lē itcî′tôx, itō′qoa-îts tqu′lē. 17 a little far. There a house he made it, a small house.

Myth of the Swan (told 1894)

The people tried to buy a maiden, but her father did not give her away. Then the chief of the Swans bought her. They gave her to him. It became winter. Now the people had eaten all their provisions, and they became hungry. The Swan had a double dish. His mother gave him food. Dry broken salmon was in one dish, and pounded salmon bones were in the other. Then the Swan ate the dry salmon, and his wife ate the salmon bones. Every evening they received food in this way. His wife did not know what her husband was eating. She thought all the food might be salmon bones. For a whole year they ate in this manner. When she chewed, there was a noise of breaking bones. When he ate, there was a noise of meat being munched. Then she began to notice it. After some nights she took her husband's

---

Iqēlō'q Ia'k¡anē

Swan His Myth

1 Ēwa' kē'nuwa qomɛlā'lɛmx wuXi ahā't¡au. Näct qaqō'tx. Ā'qa Thus intending she was bought that virgin. Not she was given away. Then

2 Lqelō'q ilā'Xak¡ɛmana qatcumɛlā'lɛmx. Aqa qa-ilō'tx. Aqa the swans their chief bought her. Then she was given to him. Then 3 tcā'xɛ:lqîX nino'xoaxîx. Qatktūɪ.xō'mx tgā'ɪ.xalɛmaēmax tō'lXam; winter it became. They finished their food the people;

4 aqa walō' aktō'xax. Aqa sx'umt¡ē't sq¡u'nam, sī'aq¡unam iqelō'q.
then hunger acted on them. Then two fastened together wooden dishes, his wooden dishes the swan.

5 Aqa agē'lqoēmx ayā'qō iqelō'q. Tk¡ē'lak aē'Xt aq¡u'nam, tk¡anā'ɪ.kîX
Then she gave him food his mother the swan. Dried salmon one dish, dried and broken salmon bones

6 aē'Xt aq¡u'nam. QatiXɛlɛmō'xumx taXi tk¡ē'lak iqelō'q. Wu'Xi one dish. He ate it that dried salmon the swan. That

7 ayā'kikala tk¡anā'ɪ.kîX qataxalɛmō'xumx. Ka'nauwē tsō'yustîX his wife dried and broken salmon bones she ate them. Every evening

8 k¡oaɪ.qē' aqeîlquē'muX. Nîct alō'XuîX wuXi ayā'kikala. Axlō'Xuan thus they two were given food. Not she knew it that his wife. She thought

9 ka'nauwē tk¡anā'ɪ.kîX taXi aqeîlquē'muX. Ēɪ.Xt iqe'taq, all dried and broken salmon bones that they two were given food. One year,

10 ataxalɛmō'xumx, sxōp, sxōp, sxōp, sxōp yaXi itcā'kcXapa. YaXi they ate it, noise of eating hard food that her mouth in. That 11 iqelō'q nîxlxɛ'lɛmux, tc¡kuā'k, tc¡kuā'k. iā'kcXa. Aqa xā'xa swan he ate noise of eating soft food his mouth. Then notice

12 igīō'xoax yaXi itcā'kikala. Qantcī'xlx qanā'pōl aqa agigɛlgā'x she did him that her husband. Several nights then she took it dish, and she saw that he was eating dry salmon. "Oh," she thought, "he has treated me ill. He gave me bones to eat, and, behold, my husband is eating dried salmon! I will go home to my people."

Early the next morning she made herself ready and went home. She arrived at her father's and her mother's house. She said: "Oh, they treated me ill. They gave me pounded salmon bones to eat, while my husband was eating dried salmon." Then she lay down; she was ashamed. For five nights she lay on one side. After five nights she turned over and laid her head on the other side. Then she arose. She was quite white, and no hair was on either side of her head. Then she sang her conjurer's song. Now snow began to fall. It fell for five days. Then she said to the young men of the village: "Take that dip-net down to the water and move it five times up and down there at sea." Then she sang a song conjuring the smelt, and the young men went. Five times they went up and down in their canoe; then it was full of smelt. They went ashore, and the people gathered the smelt. Their houses were full. Now the water began to freeze, and the yaXi ā'yaq!unampa itcā'kikal tān yaXi ixelā'x. Agtuk!omā'nanemx. 1 that his dish in her husband what that he ate. She looked at it, aqa tk!ē'lak. "Ō, qenxguā'mit." naxluXuā'itx. "Te'q!ōtcō 2 then dried salmon. "Oh! I am made unhappy," she thought. "Bones aqtnelqoē'muX. Qōct, tk!ē'lak tîxelā'x itcî'kikal. Tgt!ō'kti 3

---

I was given to eat. Behold, dried salmon he ate it my husband. Good anXk!oā'ya itcî'lXampa." Wāx igē'teuktē, igaXa'ltXuîtck, 4

I go home my town to." Next day it got day, she made herself ready, aqa igā'Xk!oa. Igō'yam wī'tcampa k!a agā'qopa. "Ō, 5 then she went home. She arrived her father at and her mother at. "Oh, qanXguā'mit, tk!anā'lklîX iqtnelquē'menîltck. Itcî'kikal 6

I was made unhappy, dried and broken salmon bones I was always given to eat. My husband aqa tk!ē'lak aqtîlquē'muX." Aqa igaxō'kcît igaxemā'sa-it. 7 then dried salmon he was given to eat." Then she slept she was ashamed.

Quī'nemîX igō'qoya, aqa igaxā'iktqo-îX, wi quī'nemîX igō'qoya 8
Five her sleeps, then she turned over, again five her sleeps ē'wa ē'natîX lgā'qaketaq. Aqa igaxe'latck. Nō'ē tk!ōp, nect 9 thus on the other side her head. Then she arose. At once white, not le'gaqcō ē'wa ē'nata itcā'q!aqcta. Kanā'mtemaX nō'i k!ā le'gaqcō. 10 her hair thus one side her head. Both sides at once no her hair.

Aqa igā'ktcxem. Aqa ltga ile'xôx. Ilō'la-it ltga. Qoā'nem 11
Then she sang. Then snow it became. It was snow. Five lkā'etax ilō'la-it ltga. Iktō'lXam tq!ulîpXunā'yu: "Ai'aq 12 days was snow. She said to them youths: "Quick amsgitē'mam mā'lnîX yaXi itcō'itk. Qoā'nemîX lāq amexō'xoa 13 take to the water that dip net. Five times to and fro do gipā' mā'lnîX." Aqa igā'ktcxam. Iqamiā'îtx igī'yux. Aqa itgī'ga 14 there seaward." Then she sang her conjurer's song. Iqamiā'îtx she made. Then they went ta-îtci tq!ulîpXunā'yu. Qoā'nemîX lāq itgī'yux itā'xenim. Aqa 15 those youths. Five times to and fro they did it their canoe. Then pāl igē'xôx ilxe'na. Itxō'gela-îx. Aqa itgiup!ē'yalx ilxe'na 16 full it became smelts. They landed. Then they gathered smelts gilā'lXam. Pā'lemax igō'xoax tgā'qlēmax. Aqa itcē'lpo-îx. Aqa 17 the people of the town. Full became their houses. Then frozen. Then canoes could not go out, because the water was all frozen. Then the Swans died of hunger. Now their chief heard: "Oh, your wife conjured the smelts." Thus he was told: "Their houses are full of smelts." Then the Swan said: "We will go and I will take my wife back." Thus he spoke to his relatives.

Early in the morning the Swans made themselves ready. They had two canoes. They went. The people said: "Canoes are coming." Then the Swans landed. The woman was told: "Maybe your husband comes to fetch you." She said: "Lock the house. Do not let them enter." Then indeed they locked it, and the Swans were standing outside. The woman said: "Quick! Roast five smelts; I want to eat them." Five smelts were roasted. Then the woman said: "The heads of my smelts are roasted." The Swan replied: "The heads of our smelts are roasted." "The bellies of my smelts are turned over." The Swan said: "The bellies of our smelts are turned over." "The backs of my smelts are turned over." The Swan said: "The backs of our

1 xā′oqxaLx ikɛ′nim qā′xpa qa iō′yîx. Ka′nauwē itcē′lpo-îx. Aqa wa′lō can not canoe anywhere went. All frozen. Then hunger

2 iLxɛ′la-it Lqelō′q. Ā4, aqa igēxeltcî′maq Lqelō′q iLā′Xakɬɛmana.
they died the swans. Ah, then he heard the swans their chief.

3 "Ā2, amē′kikal Iqamiā′itx igī′yux," iqiō′lXam. "PāL Lā′qLēmax
"Ah, your wife Iqamiā′itx she made," he was told. "Full their houses

4 iLxɛ′na." Igē′kîm iqēlō′q: "Alxō′ya, anuguā′lɛmama agɛ′kikal," smelts." He said the swan: "We will go, I will fetch her my wife,"

5 itctō′lXam tiā′cuXtîkc.
he told them his relatives.

6 Wāx igē′tcuktîX, aqa iLxɛ′ltcXuîtck Lqēlō′q. Môket aLā′Xanim.
Early it got day, then they made themselves ready Two their canoes.

7 ILōyā′4. "Ā2, akɛnī′m atō′t," igugoā′kîm tē′lXam. ILxē′gila-îX.
They went. "Ah, canoes are coming." they said the people. They landed.

8 "Ā2, Lqelō′q iLxē′gela-îX. Imē′kikal LXuan itcîmtgā′lɛmam," "Ah, the swans landed. Your husband perhaps he came to fetch you,"

9 iqō′lXam. "Amegaɬxpō′ya," igā′kîm. "Nîct aLacgā′tpqa."
she was told. "Shut the door," she spoke. "Not they will enter."

10 A′qa ā′qanuwē iqā′ɬxpō. Aqa kopā′ Lā′xanîX iLxē′la-it. Aqa
Then indeed it was shut. Then there outside they stayed. Then 11 igā′kîm wuXi aqagē′lak: "Ai′aq aqō′lktca qui′nɛm aLxɛ′na.

she spoke that woman: "Quick roast five smelts.

12 Anɛlguā′x." Aqa aqō′lktca qui′nɛm aLxɛ′na. "Ēwā′
I want to eat." Then they were roasted five smelts. "Thus 13 tgā′q¡aqstakuks aqō′lɛktca wuX agɛ′Lxana." Aqa igē′kîm yaXi their heads are roasted those my smelts." Then he spoke that 14 iqelō′q: "Ēwā′ tgā′q¡aqstakuks aqō′lɛktca agɛ′kikal antā′Lxana."

swan: "Thus their heads are roasted my wife our smelts."

15 "Ēwā′ tgā′unake aqa-iqtqwā′yayaXtîX agɛ′Lxana." "Ēwā′
"Thus their bellies are turned my smelts." "Thus 16 tgā′unake aqa-iqtqwā′yayaXtîX agɛ′kikal antā′Lxana," igē′kîm their bellies are turned my wife our smelts," said

17 iqelō′q. "Ēwā tga′gōtcXîkc aqa-iqtqwā′yayaXtîX agɛ′Lxana."
the swan. "Thus their backs are turned my smelts."

18 "Ēwā′ tgā′gōtcXîkc aqa-iqtqwā′yayaXtîX agɛ′kikal antā′Lxana."
"Thus their backs are turned my wife our smelts."

smelts are turned over." "The tails of my smelts are turned over." The Swan said: "The tails of our smelts are turned over."

Then the Swans who were staying outside became cold. They were shut out. Now the smelts were done. Then the woman ate. She said: "Now roast a smelt on five single spits." A smelt was roasted on five single spits. She said: "Make fire of pitch wood when you roast the smelt." Now the smelt was roasted on five spits. They burned pitch wood. Then the smelt became black with soot. It was done. Then she said: "Now open the door that they may enter." Then the door was opened for the Swans, and they entered. They entered, and they were given the smelt, but it smelled of pitch. While they were eating, wings began to grow on them. Then they began to fly. The woman said: "Swan shall be your name; you shall not eat dry salmon. When you smell smelts, you shall fly away. You shall eat only roots and rushes; never shall you eat dry salmon;

"Ēwā' tgā'lictîkc aqa-iqtqwā'yayaXtîX agɛ'lxana." "Ēwā' 1
"Thus their tails are turned my smelts." "Thus tgā'lictîkc aqa-iqtqwā'yayaXtîX agɛ'kikal antā'lxana," igē'kîm 2 their tails are turned my wife our smelts," said iqelō'q. Aqa tsɛs lgē'xôx lqēlō'q. lxelā'etîX lā'XanîX alxpō't. 3 the swan. Then cold became the swans. They stayed outside they were shut out.

Igō'2kst wuXi alxɛ'na. Aqa igaxɛ'lɛmuX wuXi aqagē'lak 4
They were done those smelts. Then she ate that woman ayā'kikal iqēlō'q. "Ai'aq aqa amcgē'lɛktca ilxɛ'na, quî'nɛm 5 his wife the swan's. "Quick then roast a smelt, five lq!oatsā'ma." Aqa iqē'yōlɛktc quî'nɛm lq!oatsā'ma. "Lq!axō'cgan 6 single spits." Then it was roasted five single spits. "Pitch wood amckligɛmgē'lxa, manîx namcgiō'lɛktca yaXi ilxɛ'na." Aqa 7 burn, when you roast it that smelt." Then ā'qanuwē iqē'yolɛktc, quî'nɛm liā'q!oatsɛma yaXi ilxɛ'na. Aqa 8 indeed it was roasted, five its single spits that smelt. Then iqligɛ'mugilx lq!axō'cgan. Aqa iga-ik!ɛmlā'mxît yaXi ilxɛ'na. 9 it was burnt pitch wood. Then it was blackened that smelt.

Iō'kst yaXi ilxɛ'na. Aqa igā'kîm: "A'yaq aqa qalxɛ'laql, 10
It was done that smelt. Then she said: "Quick then open the door, alacgā'tpqa." Aqa iqalxɛ'laql lqēlō'q. Ilā'ckōpq lqēlō'q. Aqa 11 they may come in." Then it was opened for the swans. They entered the swans. Then iqilɛ'lqo-îm yaXi ilxɛ'na. Lā'ema lq!axō'cgan ē'yaqtcke. Kē'nuwa 12 they were given food that smelt. Only pitch its smell. Try igitxɛ'lɛmux. Ā4, lā'k!ēntq itxalɛ'lux. Aqa ilō'koa Lkanawē'tîkc 13 they ate it. Ah, wings came to be on them. Then they flew all laXi lqēlō'q. Igā'kîm wuXi aqagē'lak: "Lqēlō'q îmcā'xalēu. 14 those swans. She said that woman: "Swans your name.

Nîct qa'ntsîX tk!ē'lak atɛmcxɛlɛmō'xum. Manē'x alēmcilā'ya 15 Never dry salmon you shall eat. When you will smell ilxɛ'na, kanauwē'4 amcîxuwā'xita. Ā'ema atsqɛmē'mîX 16 smelt, all you will fly away. Only Indian potatoes alamcɛlɛmō'Xuma; ā'ema ā'qɛmxɛm tgā'kciu atɛmcxɛlɛmō'Xuma. 17 you will eat; only water plants their roots you will eat them.

Nāct qa'ntsîx tk!ē'lak atɛmcxɛlɛmō'xuma. Nāct qa'ntsîx 18 Never dry salmon you will eat them. Never you shall not make people unhappy. When smelts are caught in the evening, you shall fly away on the following morning. You shall go inland."

1 amcguXuakuā′mita tê′lXam. Manē′x Xā′pîX aqiup¡iā′Lxa ILXE′na, you will make poor people. When in the evening it is gathered a smelt,

2 ka wuXa′ ka′nauwē amcîXuwā′Xita. Amcō′ya cā′xala tagı ēlX."
then in the morning all you shall fly away. You shall go up this country."

The Copper is Speared (told 1894)

There were many people. Their chief had two children—two girls. All the year round they went hunting a thing that was on the water. That thing was far out at sea. It shone like the sun. The people came together and tried to shoot it, but they could not hit it. They did so all the year round. Their best marksmen tried to hit it, but they could not hit it. Then the people gave it up.

One day these girls said: "Let us take our father's arrows secretly." Thus said the younger one. The elder one did not reply. She spoke to her five times. All day long they were digging potentilla roots. The people came together and always tried to shoot that something. The girls took secretly the bow and arrows and the harpoon shaft. They tied their hair here on the forehead.

Ēwaxo'mit Aqle'itqeq

Copper is speared

Oxoelā'etíX ta-îtci tê'lXam. Cmôket ciā'Xan yaXi iɬā'Xak¡Emana 1
There were those people. Two his children that their chief sqagē'lak. Ka'nauwē ʟqētā'kEmaX aqiXEluwā'lalEma-îtx yaXi 2 girls. All years they always went to hunt that tā'nki ʟteu'qoapa. Mā'ʟnîX ē'maʟpa, ʟā'xanîX ō'xoax yaXi tā'nki. 3 something water on. At sea sea on, outside it was that something.

ʟiā'k^{u}t¡ōmax ʟ'a aqaʟā'xti. Kē'nuwa nuXuā'qoaxt tê'lXam, kē'nuwa 4 Shining like the sun. Try they assembled the people, try tiā'maq aqtilō'xoax, nîet qantsî'x iā'maq aqelō'xoax. Ka'nauwē 5 shooting it it was done, never hit it was. All ʟqētā'kEmaX kē'nuwa nuxoā'qoax gā'taxaʟ¡ē, kē'nuwa tiā'maq 6 years try they assembled the best archers, try hit aqtelō'xoax. Nē2et qantsî'x iā'maq aqelō'xoax. Tē'menua nuxoā'xax 7 they did it. Never hit it was. Give up they did tê'lXam. Qāqʟqanē'gua aqa qacgē'mx sta'Xi sqagē'lak staXi 8 the people. One day then they spoke those women those shā't¡au: "Qoē qatxktutā'mitx tiā'qamatex ē'txam," nagē'mx wuX 9 virgins: "Must we take away his arrows our father's," she said that axgE'sqax. Nā2et aktaxuwā'tekuax wuX ā'galXt. Qoā'nEmîX 10 younger one. Not she answered that elder sister. Five times agōlXā'mx. Ka'nauwē ʟkā'etax qaʟcolā'lEpʟa-îtx ik¡Enā'tan. Aqa 11 she spoke. All days they always gathered potentilla roots. Then wi nōXuā'qoax tê'lXam. Aqa wi aqiXEluwā'lalEmX yaXi tā'nki. 12 again assembled the people. Then again they went to hunt that something.

Qaʟkcōtā'mitx ʟpʟ¡ikē' k¡a tqā'matex k¡a itcō'ʟq qacgiutā'mîtx. 13
They took away the bow and the arrows and the harpoon they took them away from him.

K¡au'k¡au qaʟkcō'xoax lî'etaqcō gipā'tîX actā'tcpuXpa. 14
Tie they did it their hair here their foreheads on.

The people tried to hit that thing, but they missed it by a long way. The two girls were seen. The elder one shot and hit quite near. Next the younger one shot and nearly hit it. Now all the people went home. They arrived at their houses. "Who are these youths who almost hit it?" said the people. "We do not know them. Maybe they have just come." In the evening the girls came home. Then Blue-jay said: "Maybe our girls hit that strange thing. They have been away [all day]." Thus said Blue-jay to the girls.

On the next day they went again to hunt that thing. They tried to hit it. After some time a canoe was seen and those two youths were in it. The people said: "Those are the youths who nearly hit it." The elder one shot first. Ah, he nearly hit it! Next the younger one shot. He nearly hit its back. The people went home. It became evening. The people came home. Then again

---

1 Kē′nuwa tiā′maq atqtilō′xoax yaXi tā′nki. Kɛlā′îX aqiyukʟpā′x.
Try hit they did it that something. Far it was missed.

2 AqɛqʀlgE′lx. Iā′maq agilō′xoax wuX axgE′kunq. Qɬoā′p iā′maq
They were seen. Shoot she did that elder one. Nearly hit

3 agēlō′xoax. Alā′xta wuX axgE′sqax iā′maq agelō′xoax. Qɬoā′4p she did it. Next that younger one shoot she did it. Nearly 4 iā′maq agelō′xoax. NuXuakɬuā′x ka′nauwē ta-îtci tê′lXam.

hit she did it. They went home all those people.

5 NuXuitcō′x ta-îtci tê′lXam. "Qa′wa-îtc ta-u tqɬulipXunā′yu,
They talked together those people. "Who these youths

6 ta-u ā′koapō iā′maq itgē′lôx?" igugoā′kim ta-îtci tê′lXam.
who nearly hit did it?" said those people.

7 "NtcgōXuē′ʟɛluXt, koalē′wi ʟXuan itgatē′mam." Xā′pîX aqa
"We do not know them, just perhaps they arrived." In the evening then 8 qackɬuā′mamx staXi shā′tɬau. Nigē′m iqē′sqēs: "Stā′xka ʟXuan came home those virgins. He said blue-jay: "They may be 9 sgi sga′hatɬau iā′maq asgilō′xoa yaxi tā′nki itkɬēnuwā′i. Koalē′wi these my virgins hit did it that something strange. Just 10 kɬā′ya icgē′xax," itcēō′lXam ctaXi chā′tɬau iqē′sqēs.

nothing they were," said to them those virgins blue-jay.

11 Wāx igē′tcuktîX, aqa wi qiXɛluwā′laʟɛmtck yaXi tā′nki. Kē′nuwa Next it got day then again they went to hunt it that something. Try 12 tiā′maq iqtē′lôx. Lā′2lē, aqa wi iqē′qalkɛl ikɛ′nīm. Aqa wi shoot it it was done. Long, then again it was seen a canoe. Then again

13 ctā′xka staxi sqɬu′lipX ctēt. Igugoā′kim ta-îtci tê′lXam: "CtaXē′ those two youths came. They said those people: "They 14 ctaXi cqɬu′lîpX ta-u ā′koapō iā′maq icgē′lôx." Iā′maq igē′lôx they the youths who nearly hit did it." Shoot she did it

15 wuX axgE′kunq ā′newa. Ā′2koapō iā′maq igē′lôx. Alā′xtɬax wuX that elder one first. Nearly hit she did it. Afterward that 16 axgE′sqax iā′maq igē′lôx. Qɬoā′4p iā′kalitas iā′maq igē′lôx wuX younger one shoot she did it. Near its back hit she did it that 17 axgE′sqax. Igō′Xoakɬoa ta-îtci tê′lXam. Tsō′yustîX igē′xoxoîx; younger one. They went home those people. Evening it became;

18 aqa igō′Xoakɬoa ta-îtci tê′lXam. IgōXoakɬoā′mam ka′nauwē. Aqa then they went home those people. They came home all. Then

19 wi igō′Xo-îtcō tê′lXam: "Ō ta-u sqɬu′lîpX ctā′xka aʟqē iā′maq again they spoke together the people: "Oh, these two youths they later on hit they talked together. "Oh, these youths will hit it in course of time. Whence did they come? These youths are pretty. They have much hair." In the evening the two girls came home. Blue-jay said: "LE! These girls always disappear. I think they will shoot that strange thing."

For four days these young men were seen and they almost hit it. On the fifth day the people talked together again: "Where may these youths come from who always come near hitting it?" In the evening the two girls came home. They carried only few potentilla roots. Then the people said: "To-morrow we will go to hunt. We shall recognize these youths." In the morning the people made themselves ready. They prepared their arrows. Then they went down to the water to hunt that something. They grew tired. All the time they were trying to hit it. Then the two youths were seen. A person said: "The two youths who nearly hit it are coming." It came in sight and acgelō'xoa yaXi tā'nki. Qā'mtēwa qîctē'mam? T¡ō'kti tq¡ulîpXunā'yu. 1 will do it that something. Whence they come? Good youths.

LGā'pELa LE'qaqcō." Xā'pîX aqa wi icgoā'mam etaXi chā't¡au. 2 Much their hair." In the evening then again came home these virgins.

Igē'kim iqē'sqēs: "LE! Qulî'tc k¡ā'ya ckēx cgi cgā'hat¡au. Ctā'xka 3 He said blue-jay: "LE! Always nothing are these my virgins. They aLqi iā'maq acgELō'xoa yaXi tā'nki itk¡ē'nuwa-i." 4 later on hit they will do it that something strange."

Lakt Lguā'max iqE'cqElkEl etaXi cq¡u'lîpX. Ā'koapō iā'maq 5
Four days they were seen those youths. Nearly hit acgilō'xoax etaXi cq¡u'lîpX. Ē'LaquinEmîX iō'qoya aqa wit'ax 6 they did it those youths. The fifth sleep then again igō'Xuitcu ta-îtci tê'lXam: "Ō, qā'mtaLq ictē'mam ta-u cq¡u'lîpX? 7 they talked together these people: "Oh, whence come these youths."

Gwā'nEsum ctā'xka ā'koapō iā'maq icgē'lôx." Xā'pîX qack¡oā'mamx 8 Always they nearly hit they do it." In the evening they came home etaXi chā't¡au. Nō'L¡Emax ictā'k¡ewula yaXi ik¡Enā'tan. Igugoā'kim 9 these virgins. Little their load those potentilla roots. They said ta-îtci tê'lXam: "Ō'la aqexEluwā'lalEm aqcugulā'qLka qā'xLqa qa 10 those people: "To-morrow they go to hunt they will be recognized whence tq¡ulîpXunā'yu." 11

the youths."

Kawī'X oguXualā'yutck ta-îtci tê'lXam. T¡ayā'ta itgE'tux 12 Early they made themselves ready those people. Good they made them tgā'qamatcX. Aqa wi itgE'LXa ta-îtci tê'lXam. Aqa wi 13 their arrows. Then again they went down those people. Then again aqixEluwā'lalEmtck yaXi tā'nki. Tā'ẓl igō'xoax ta-îtci tê'lXam. 14 they went to hunt that something. Tired became those people.

Kē'nuwa tiā'maq iqtilxō'lalEmtck. Aqa wi iqE'cqElkEl etaXi 15 Try hitting it they always did. Then again they were seen those cq¡u'lîpX. Aqa iLE'kîm LgoaLē'lX: "Aqa wi etēt etaXi cq¡u'lîpX. 16 youths. Then he said a person: "Then again come those youths.

Ctā'xka ctaXī'yax q¡oā'p iā'maq acgilō'xoax etaXi cq¡u'lîpX." LāX 17
They these nearly hit they do it those youths." Visible

the elder one shot. She nearly hit it. Then it came in sight again and the younger one shot. Tep! there stood her arrow. She had hit it. She said to her elder sister: "Paddle!" and she paddled. They reached that thing; they speared it and put it into their canoe. The people tried to pursue them, but they left them all behind. They came down the river.

Now all the people were sorry because the two youths got the better of them. Blue-jay said to his chief: "Search for those two youths. Give them your children." He replied to Blue-jay: "Your advice is good." Now all the people came home. They were all sorry because they were conquered. "Where may those youths have come from who hit that strange thing?" When it turned one way, it looked red; then it looked green, then white. The girls had disappeared. In the evening they came home. They went to bed right away. In the morning Blue-jay went in. "Le! These girls," said Blue-jay. "See it became; shoot she did it that elder one. Nearly hit it. she did it.

1 igē′xôx; iā′maq igē′lôx wuX axgE′qunq. Q¡oā′4p iā′maq igē′lôx.

2 Wē′t¡ax lāx igē′xôx; alā′xt¡ax wuX axgE′cqax iā′maq igē′lôx.
Again visible it became; afterward that younger one hit she did it.

3 Tep iga-igō′tXuit wuX agā′qamatcX wuX axgE′cqax. Igō′lXam Noise of hitting it stood that her arrow that younger one. She said to 4 wuX ā′galXt: "MkLē′watck," igō′lXam. Aqa ikLē′watck.

that her elder sister: "Paddle," she said to her. Then she paddled.

5 Ictigō′qoam; aqa icgē′lkēqēq. Icgiaqxā′ema ictā′xanimpa. Kē′nuwē
They reached it; then they speared it. They put it into the canoe their canoe into. Try

6 iqE′cuwa; ictō′qo-iqLq ka′nauwē ta-îtci tê′lXam. Ewā qā′eqamîX they were pursued; they left them behind all those people. Then down the river

7 ictō′ya.
they went.

8 Ō ka′nauwē ta-îtci tê′lXam nîct it¡ō′kti igē′xôx ē′tamxtc.
Oh all those people not good was their heart.

9 IqE′tōLq. Itciō′lXam iqē′sqēs iā′Xak¡Emana: "Ō amcōnā′xLa ctaXi
They were conquered. He said to him blue-jay to his chief: "Oh search for them those

10 cq¡u′lîpX. Amclō′ta cmē′Xan." Iqiō′lXam iqē′sqēs: "Q¡oā′L yaXi youths. Give them your daughters." He was told blue-jay: "All right that 11 imE′kîm." IguXuak¡oā′mam ka′nauwē ta-îtci tê′lXam. LE′gaxax you say." They came home all those people. Sorry

12 ka′nauwē. LE′gaxax iqE′tōLq. sxt′lk¡atcX iqE′tōLq. "Qā′mîa′LqA all. Sorry they were conquered, just as though they were conquered. "Whence

13 itgatē′mam ta-u tq¡ulîpXunā′yuke ta-u iā′maq itgē′lôx ta-u tā′nki came those youths who hit they did it that something

14 itk¡ēnuwā′-i?" Anā′ niktE′qoXwitXix, anā′ Lpîl nîxō′xoax, anā′ ptcîx strange?" Sometimes it turned, sometimes red it was, sometimes green

15 nîxō′xoax, anā′ tk¡ōp nîxō′xoax yaXi tā′nki. K¡ayā′ ckē′xax ctaXi it was, sometimes white it was that something. Nothing were those

16 chā′t¡au. Xā′pîX aqa ick¡oā′mam. Xā′wi ickLkā′yuXuit ctaXi virgins. In the evening then they came home. At once they went to bed those 17 chā′t¡au. Kawī′X iō′pqam iqē′sqēs: "Le, egi cga′hat¡au," igē′kîm virgins. Early he entered blue-jay: "Le, these our virgins!" he said how long they are sleeping. Certainly two men have been with them." Thus he spoke to the chief's daughters. The people talked together. They searched for those youths, but they did not find them. It grew dark. Then the girls brought to the house what they had caught. They placed it under their bed. They arose early. Their father was lying down. He was ashamed. He was wondering who might have hit that thing. His daughters went up to him. They had bathed and warmed themselves. The elder one said to her father: "Arise!" Their father arose. They said to him: "Go and bathe!" Then he went down to the water to bathe. He came back again. They said to their mother: "Give us a large good mat." They put the mat in the middle of the house. Then they took what they had caught and put it down in the middle of the house. There it was just like the sun. Blue-jay came in. He closed his eyes right away. That thing was shining. "I thought so," said Blue-jay; "our chief's daughters hit it." He went out. "Ah, don't you notice, our chief's daughters

---

iqē′sqēs. "Qē qɛ′egulqulē tantxo ļē′lē icqē′wîtXit," itccō′lXam 1 blue-jay. "If two women to whom two men went secretly therefore long they sleep," he said to them iɬā′Xakʲɛmana ciā′xan. Igō′Xuitcu ta-îtci tê′lXam. Qcō′naXʟ 2 their chief his daughters. They talked together those people. They were searched for ctaXi cqʲu′lîpX. Nēst qiqcō′cgam. Igō′ponɛm. Aqa îcgiukoā′lɛmam 3 those youths. Not they were found. It got dark. Then they brought to the house yaXi îctā′kʲētēnax ctaXi chā′tʲau. Icgī′yutk gē′kuala ēlXɛ′mē. 4 that what they had shot those virgins. They placed it under the bed.

Kawī′X aqa icxɛlā′yutck. Yōkʷ′tk yaXi wē′ctam; ēxɛ′m'as. 5
Early then they arose. He was lying down that their father; he was ashamed.

Tkadā′koax itctuxō′la, qa′wa-itc iā′maq itgē′lôx yaXi tā′nki. 6
Thoughts he made, who hit they did it that something.

Icî′tptckam ciā′Xan. Ctoqoā′tîx· icxcqoā′mit. Igiō′lXam yaXi 7
They went inland his daughters. They bathed, they warmed themselves. She said to him that wē′tcam wux axgɛ′qunq: "Mxɛ′latck." Igixɛ′latck yaXi wē′ctam. 8 her father that elder one: "Arise." He arose that their father.

Icgiō′lXam: "MXkʲoā′tam." Aqa iyō′ʟxa, igîxkʲoā′tam. 9
They said to him: "Go and bathe." Then he went to the water, he went to bathe.

Igō′tptegam. Icgō′lXam wā′ctaq: "Ē′ʟuk iqʲā′pɛnX, iā′qa-îʟ 10
He came up. They said to her their mother: "Give a mat, a large iqʲā′pɛnX, qē it¡ō′kti iqʲā′pɛnX." Iqioʟā′maq kā′tcɛk tqu′lē yaXi 11 mat, if good a mat." It was put middle house that iqʲā′pɛnX, aqa lāqᵒ icgī′yux yaXi ictā′kʲētēnax. Iqexē′ma kā′tcɛk 12 mat, then out they took that what they had caught. They placed it middle tqu′lē. Iā′4xka l'a aqaɬā′x iā′lkuilē yaXi tā′nki. Ia′skupq yaXi 13 house. That as sun like that something. He entered that iqē′sqēs. Ō, na′wi igîsxpō′Xuît sī′axôst. Liā′ktōmaX yaXi tā′nki. 14 blue-jay. Oh, at once he closed his eyes. It was shining that something.

"Kʲoaʟqē′ nxlō′Xua-ît," igē′kîm iqē′sqēs. "Stā′xka ilxā′Xakʲɛmana 15
"Thus I thought," said blue-jay. "They our chief sī′aXan iā′maq icgē′lôx." Iō′pa iqē′sqēs: "Ā nîst tci imsū′xaxomît? 16 his children shoot they did it." He went out blue-jay: "Ah not [int. part.] do you notice?

have hit that strange thing?" Then the people were called together. All of them were called. They cut that thing and distributed it. Its blood was distributed among the birds, and they all received a little red to put on their heads. They all received something. Some were painted green, others white, and others black. Only Blue-jay was given the best. Then he danced. He was glad, and said: "I am better than you; I have received the best." He showed it to the Clam, who took it and jumped out into the water. Blue-jay took a long stick. He struck downward with it and said: "Now that Clam is dead." The Clam made the water boil, and Blue-jay said: "He is dead." But Robin said: "Do you think he is dead? He is laughing at you." Then they took the excrements of that thing out of its belly and put them on Blue-jay. First he had received the best, but the Clam took it away from him.

---

1 cɛlxā'Xak¡ɛmana iā'maq îcgē'lōx gi tā'nki itk¡ē'nuwayu." Aqa our two chiefs shoot they two did it this something strange." Then

2 iqō'Xoaqtck tê'lXam. Ka'nauwē4 iqō'Xoaqtck. Aqa iqē'yuxc yaXi they were called together the people. All were called together. Then it was cut that

3 tā'nki. Aqa iqiawē'mak ka'nauwē4 gi qtkgā'la; iqiawē'mak lAXi something. Then it was distributed among all these fliers; it was distributed that

4 LiA'qawulqt. NōL¡ pɛl aqLō'xoax. NōL¡ pɛl aqLō'xoax ka'nauwē its blood. A little red they were made. A little red they were made all

5 tp¡ɛsp¡ɛ'suks. IguXoā'lXum ka'nauwē. Anā' ptcîX aqLō'xoax birds. They finished all. Sometimes green it was made

6 Lp¡ɛ'sp¡ɛs, anā' tk¡ōp aqLō'xoax Lp¡ɛ'sp¡ɛs, anā' Lɛl aqLō'xoax.
a bird, sometimes white it was made a bird, sometimes black it was made.

7 Ya'ema iqē'sqēs it¡ō'ktē iqēlɛmā'q¡ɛuL. Igē'wîtck iqē'sqēs.
Only blue-jay good it was given to him as a present. He danced blue-jay.

8 K¡wa'nk¡wan igē'xôx. Igē'kîm: "QāL mɛ'saika. It¡ō'kti Glad he was. He said: "How behold you! Good

9 iqēnɛlɛmā'q¡ɛuL." Itcick¡ɛ'lukti cɛ'qawawa. Icgixɛ'cgam.
I am given as a present." He showed it the large round clam. He took it from him.

10 Isgî'sōpɛna cɛ'qawawa Lteu'qoapa. Itcē'kɛlka ē'mɛqō iqē'sqēs;
He jumped the clam water into. He took it a stick blue-jay;

11 ē'yaLqt yaXi ē'mɛqō. Itcîlgē'qcqalalɛmtck gē'gualîX. Itciō'lXam:
long that stick. He speared it down. He said to him:

12 "Aqa ictō'maqt ctaXi cɛ'qawawa." Lɛp icɛ'xôx cɛ'qawawa
"Now is dead that clam." Boil it did the clam 13 Lteu'qoapa. Igē'kim iqē'sqēs: "Aqa ictō'maqt." Igē'kim skā'sa-ît: water in. He said blue-jay: "Now he is dead." He said robin:

14 "AmxLō'Xuan tci ictō'maqt? Ckɛmōquā'nēmx yā'Xauē." Ā'qa
"You think [int. part.] he is dead? He is laughing at you he " Then 15 iq̄ē'kɛlka iā'wanpa iā'qēxɛlē yaXi tā'nki. Aqa yāq iqē'lôx iqē'sqēs.

it was taken its belly in its excrements that something. Then put on it was done (on) blue-jay.

16 Iā'nēwa it¡ō'kti yaXi itk¡ē'nuwaî iqē'lōt, k¡a iqēxɛ'cgam. Cɛ'qawawa
First good that strange thing he was given, and it was taken away from him. The clam 17 icgixɛ'cgam.

took it away from him.

Myth of the Coyote (told 1891)[1]

When he had finished on this side of the river, he went up the river. He arrived up there. Then he and his younger brother, the Snake, went fishing salmon with their nets. They fished with their net, but did not catch anything. They went home. Coyote was angry; he defecated. "Why did those salmon disappear?" "Oh, that bandy-legged one. Do you think the custom is the same here? It is another country. These people speak another language. Untie your net, take out two meshes, and turn around the buoys." Coyote said: "You have told me enough." Thus he spoke to his excrements. He said to his brother, the Snake: "Quick! Let us untie it!" They untied the net and took out two meshes. Then they tied it again to the buoys. Then they finished. The following day they went to catch salmon.

Itɟa'tapas Ia'kɟaxe

Coyote His Myth

Ilā'cXōlq kata ē'nat ē'mal. Aqa wi ictō'suwulX. Ictō'yam 1
They two finished it there one side the river. Then again they went up the river. They arrived sā'xalîX. Aqa wi icxēnauwā'itgēmam. Kē'nuwē icî'xēnauwāîtgē. 2 up. Then again they went fishing with their net. Try they fished with the net.

Nā2et tān îcgē'waq. Icā'Xkɟoa. IgiXe'lXa itɟā'lapas. Itcīō'tsɟatsɟa: 3
Not anything they killed. They went home. He was angry coyote. He defecated:

"Qāteqi kɟā gi tgu'nat?" "Ä taya'x tiā'qo-îtqux itkɟī'yuktax. 4
"Why nothing these salmon?" "Ah that down the river? his legs crooked.

Amxlō'Xuana kɟoalqā' yaXi qā'eqamîX? Ixelō'ita gi ēlX 5
Do you think [int. part.] the same as that down the river? Another this country qē'wa axelō'ita atā'wawa tatā'-îtci tê'lXam. Stu'XstuX te'xa 6 therefore another their language those people. Untie do them tatā'X temē'nauwa-îtk. Môket lcklā'kux lāq° amlō'xoa. 7 those your nets. Two meshes out take them.

Amlîktqoā'yayaXtiX lmē'kōlaq." Igē'kîm itɟā'lapas: "Kope't 8 Turn them round your buoys." He said coyote: "Enough

aqa imxanelgu'lîtck," itcīō'lXam iā'qexalē. Itcīō'lXam iā'mXîX, 9 then you told me," he said to them his excrements. He said to him his younger brother, aqīō'lXam itcī'yau: "Aî'aq stu'XstuX atxkto'xoa." Stu'XstuX 10 he was told the Snake: "Quick untie we will do it." Untie icge'tôx etā'nauwa-îtk; môket lkalā'qux lāqo icgî'lôx. Aqa 11 they did it their net; two meshes out they did them. Then wi icklawe'xetq etā'nauwa-îtk. Icklo'koalq etā'nauwa-îtk. 12 again they tied it to the buoys their net. They finished their net.

Igōnē'gua îcxēnauwā'itgēmam. Lgā'pela îcktō'tēna. ÎcXkɟoā'mam. 13
Another day they went fishing with their net. Many they killed them. They came home.

---

[1] Continuation of the Coyote myth told in "Chinook Texts" (bulletin of the Bureau of Ethnology), Washington, 1894, pp. 92–106.

They killed many. They came home. The Newt carried them up to the house on her back. Then they put them down, and cut them in the afternoon. They were roasted. Then they put the roasted salmon aside. On the following day they went fishing. They tried to fish, but they were unsuccessful. They went home. Coyote was angry. He defecated, and asked his excrements: "Why did those salmon disappear?" "Ah, you lean fellow. Do you think it is the same as down the river? This is a different country; these people speak another language. When you have killed salmon, and you come ashore, you must carry them to your house on your back yourself. Women are not allowed to carry them. You must carry all you have caught. Then you must cut them while you still have your belt on. Do not press the salmon's face. When you put them into the canoe, you must lay them on their backs." Coyote said: "You have told me enough."

On the following day they went to catch salmon and killed many. They went home and Coyote did in this manner: When he had killed a salmon, he put it into the canoe belly upward. They came ashore. As soon as they landed he went to take a large basket and carried the

---

1 Iktō'ctxoniɪtck aq¡asɛ'na. Aqa iɪgō'xoatk, yaXī'pa aqaɪā'x, aqa
She carried them much on her back the newt. Then they put them down on the ground, there the sun, then they cut them. They were done all. They put them up those done salmon.

2 iɪgɛ'tôxc. Itgā'kst ka'nauwē. Icîɪgā'tōtk taXi qtgɛkst tgu'nat.

3 Wāx igē'tcuktē. ɪxēnauwā'itgēmam. Kē'nuwa iɪlî'xēnauwa-îtk;
Next day it got day. They went fishing with their net. Try they fished with the net;

4 acuwā'tka. Iɪî'Xk¡oa. Kalā'lkuilē igē'xôx it¡ā'lapas. Itcɪō'ts¡ats¡a.
they were unsuccessful. They went home. Angry he was coyote. He defecated.

5 Itciuqu'mtsxōgoa iā'qēxalē: "Qāteqī k¡ā igō'xoax gi tgu'nat?"
He asked them his excrements: "Why nothing became those salmon?"

6 "Yā, tayax qîō'L¡lɛx. AmxLō'Xuana k¡oaɪqā' qā'eqamîX? Ixɛlō'ita
"Yā, that lean one. Do you think [int. part.] the same as down the river? Another

7 tayaX ēlX, axalō'ita atā'wawa tatā'-itci tē'lXam. Manîx amtotē'na this country, another their language those people. When you kill them

8 tgu'nat, ac amxigēlā'yayaXtîX, aqa amtō'ctXuniɪa ɪxɛ'leuX.
salmon, and you just come up, then you carry them on your back inland.

9 Ka'nauwē amtō'ctXua. Nau'i a'yaq amtō'xca akuamuguā'lɛkuX.
All you carry them on your back At once quick cut them while your belt is on.

10 Nāct iā'xōt mîxate¡ē'naqoax igu'nat. Amiakxaemā'ya, ē'caxala iā'wan."
Not his face press it the salmon. You put it into the canoe, upward its belly."

11 Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: "Kopɛ't aqa îmxanɛlgu'lîtck." Igē'tcuktîX.
He said coyote: "Enough then you told me." It got day.

12 Iɪxēnauwā'itgēmam. ɪgā'pɛla iɪktō'tēna tgu'nat. Iɪî'Xk¡oa.
They went fishing with their net. Many they killed them salmon. They went home.

13 K¡oaɪqā' igē'xôx it¡ā'lapas qaɪgiwā'qoax igu'nat, ēwā' ē'caxala iā'wan
The same did coyote they killed it a salmon, thus upward its belly

14 qatciekxaē'max. IɪXk¡oā'mam, as iɪxē'gela-îX. Itcuguā'lɛmam he put it into the canoe. They came home, and they landed. He went to take it salmon up. He carried up all he had caught. Then he took his knife and cut them all. They roasted them. Now they were done. Then they finished eating. They invited the people. They came to eat salmon and put aside what they had left over.

On the following day they went again to catch salmon. They tried to fish. The flood tide came and they had been unsuccessful. They went home. Coyote scolded. He defecated. "Why do those salmon disappear?" "I told you, you lean fellow. Do you think it is the same as down the river? These people speak another language. When you have killed salmon, and you come home and you distribute them among the people, you must give each one a stick of roasted salmon. When there are many people in a family, you must give them two sticks. If any are left over, you must dry them right away. Do not dry them at ebb tide, but at low water. Extinguish your fire at once." Coyote said: "You have told me enough."

Early the next morning they went again to catch salmon. They laid their net. There were many in it. They put their whole net

ctc¡ēct.	Itctō′ctxunēLtck	taXi	tgu′nat.	Kanauwā′	itcî′tōctx		1
a large basket.	He carried them much on his back	those	salmon.	All	he carried them on his back
LXL′leuX.	Itcā′gi.lga	ayā′qewiqē.	igixE′lk¡ExE.	Ka′nauwe			2
inland.	He took it	his knife.	it was cut.	All itcî tuxc	taXi	tgu′nat.	ILL′xelLktc.	ILxik¡ē′kst.	Ilā′LXoL¢		3
he cut them	those	salmon.	They were roasted.	They were done.	They were finished
iLa′LxalLm.	Ilgogue xe′mam	tē′lXam	iguXuctxE′llmtck.	Ilgi.′totk			4
they ate.	They invited them	the people	they came to eat.	They put them up taXi	Lxk¡ā′ētix·it.	Wāx	igē′teuktîX.	ILxēnauwā′itgemam.			5
those	what was left over.	The next day	it got day.	They went fishing with their net.
Kē′nuwa	iLE′xēnauwāitgē.	ae	iLtuwē′tckoam.	Acuwā′tka.			6
Try	they fished with the net,	and	it got flood tide.	They were unsuccessful.
ILî′Xk¡oa.	iLîXk¡oā′mam.	Kalā′lkuilē	igē′x	it¡ā′lapas.			7
They went home.	they came home.	Angry	was	coyote.
ItcLō′ts¡ats¡a:	"Qāteqi	k¡ā	igō′xoax	gi	tgu′nat?"	"Iamō′lXam.	8
He defecated:	"Why	nothing	become	those	salmon?"	"I told you, gi	qiō′L¡lExt.	AmxLō′Xuan	tei	k¡oaLqā′	qā′eqamîX?	AxElō′ita	9
this	lean one.	Do you think	[int. part.]	the same as	down the river?	Another
atā′wawa	tatā′-itei	tē′lXam.	Ma′nîx	amtōtē′na	tgu′nat.		10
their language	those	people.	When	you kill them	salmon.
amXatk¡oā′mama,	ma′nîx	amtawēmā′kua	tē′lXam,	tē′XtEma			11
you get home,	when	you distribute them among	people,	one to each
tgā′xēt¡ēlalEma:	ma′nîx	tgā′pelatîke	aē′Xt	gatā′xayamē,	aqa	mōket	12
Their roasting spits;	when	many	one	family,	then	two tgā′xēt¡ēlalEma	amtawiqoē′ma.	Ma′nîx	atumxk¡ā′etix·ita,	nau′i			13
their roasting spits	you give them to eat.	When	they are left over,	at once a′yaq	ak¡ē′lak	amō′xoa.	Nāct	aLxElta′kua.	aqa	alaxcā′ya	ak¡ē′lak.	14
quick	dry salmon	do them.	Not	ebb tide,	then	low water	dry salmon.
Nā′wi	teXup	amō′xoa	amē′tōL."	Igē′kîm	it¡ā′lapas:	"Kope′t	15
At once	extinguish	do it	your fire."	He said	coyote:	"Enough
aqa	imxamElgu′lîtck."	Kawu′X	iLxēnauwā′itgēmam.	ILî′xanx·a.			16
then	you told me."	Early	they went fishing with their net.	They laid their net.

into the canoe. Then they put the salmon into the canoe. They tried to lay the net again, but they did not catch anything. They went home. They came home. They roasted them at once and dried them at once. Then he defecated, and said: "Why did those salmon disappear?" His excrements scolded him. "I told you," they said to Coyote. "When you kill salmon, and you have laid your net for the first time and you put it back into your canoe, you must take it at the part where the two nets are tied together. That part you must put first into the canoe. You must lay all your salmon belly upward. When you lay your net, then you must stay in the canoe for a long time. Then you may lay your net again." Coyote said: "You have told me enough."

On the following morning they went to catch salmon. Their canoe was full of salmon. They went home. Coyote had his belt on. Then they were cut. He roasted all the salmon and gave much to the people up the river. When there were many in a family, he gave them three spits. When there were few, he gave them two spits. He fed

1	ɪ.gā′pɛla Many	ɪ.ɛ̄′la-it. were in it.	ɪ.ɛktā′kXatk They put it into the canoe	ɛ.ā′nauwa-îtk. their net.		Ka′nauwē All
2	ɪ.ɛktā′kXatk they put it into their canoe	ɛ.ā′nauwa-itk. their net.	Atā′xt!ax Next them	ɛ.ā′gunat their salmon	ɪ.ɛktā′kXatk. they put them into their canoe.
3	Kē′nuwa Try	ɪ.ɛ̂′xēnauwa-îtgē. they fished with the net.	K!ā Nothing	nîct not	tān anything	ɪ.ɛgē′waq. they killed it.	ɪ.ɛ′Xk!oa. They went home.
4	ɪ.ɛXk!oā′mam. They came home.	Nā′wi At once	a′yaq quick	ɪ.ɛ̂′xēlukte. they roasted it.	Nā′wi At once	ak!ē′lak dry salmon	ɪ.ɛ′kôx. they made.
5	Ite!ō′ts!ats!a, He defecated,	igē′kîm: he said:	"Qātsqī "Why	k!ā nothing	igō′xoax became	taXi those	tgu′nat?" salmon?"
6	Ite!o′melē They scolded him	ā′q!exalē. his excrements.	"Iamō′lXam," "I told you,"	q!ō′lXam he was told	it!ā′lapas: coyote:	"Ma′nîx "When
7	amtōtē′na you kill them	tgu′nat, salmon,	t!ō′tsnîX for the first time	amxɛnxā′ya, you lay your net	amtakXatqoā′ya you put it into the canoe
8	tɛmē′nauwa-îtk your net	qayawip!ō′tpa, at the place where it is tied,	aqa then	amtakXatqoā′ya you put them into the canoe	tɛmē′gunat, your salmon,
9	ka′nauwē all	tga′unakc their bellies	ti′caxala upward	amtō′xoa. do them.	Ma′nîx When	amxɛnxā′ya, you lay your net,	aqa then
10	lē′lē long	amxgā′mitaqoa, you stay in the canoe,	tcXua then	wi you	qamxɛnxā′x." lay your net."	Igē′kîm He said	it!ā′lapas: coyote:
11	"Kopɛ′t "Enough	imxanɛlgu′lîtck." you told me."		Igē′tcuktîX. It got day.		Ixēnauwā′itgēmam. They went fishing with their net.
12	Pāl Full	ɪ.ā′Xanim their canoe	tgu′nat. salmon.	ɪ.ɛ̂′Xk!oa. They went home.	Iuguā′lqux His belt was on	it!ā′lapas. coyote.	Aqa Then
13	igixɛ′lk!îxe. they were cut.	Itgɛ′kst They were done	ka′nauwē all	taXi those	tgu′nat. salmon.	Itctō′mak He gave much	ka′nauwē all
14	ē′wa there	cā′xalîX up	ē′lXam. town.	Manē′x When	K!ā′pɛlatîke many	aēXt one	gatā′xayamē, family,
15	Lōn three	tgā′xēt!ēlalɛma. their roasting spits.		Qatctawiqoē′mx. He gave them to eat.	Manēx When	anō′L!katîke, few,	aqa then
16	môket two	tgā′xēt!ēlalɛma. their roasting spits.		Ka′nauwē All	qatctōmā′kuax he distributed them	ē′wa there	cā′xala up all the people of the upper part of the river. A little was left over and he dried it all. Now he knew all the tabus. Coyote said: "Thus shall be the tabus for all the generations of Indians. Even I got tired. No murderer shall eat salmon, no girl, no menstruating woman, no widower, nobody who prepares corpses for burial, and no woman who has just given birth to a child. It is forbidden. Even I got tired. When men work on their net and make a small mistake, they shall not catch anything. When a louse is on a net, the owner shall not catch anything."

ē'lXam. NōL¡ka qatiXk¡ā'etix'itx. Ka'nauwē ak¡ē'lak qatctō'xoax.
town. A little only they left over. All dry salmon he made them.

Ka'nauwē qatēlō'Xuix'itx tk¡ē'Lau. Nigē'mx it¡ā'lapas:
All they were known tabus. He said coyote:

"AluXumapā'ya Natē'tanuē k¡oaLqē' Lgā'k¡ēLau. Ā'la naĭ'ka, "Generations Indians thus their tabus. Even I, ā'la tɛll inɛ'xôx. Näct aliLxɛlɛmō'xoma gaLā'k¡auk¡au igu'nat.

even tired I became. Not he shall eat it a murderer salmon.

Nä'ct aliLxɛlɛmō'xoma Lq¡elā'wulX, näct aliLxɛlɛmō'xoma LqLā'Xit.
Not she shall eat it a girl who is just mature, not she shall eat it a menstruating woman.

Näct aliLxɛlɛmō'xoma Lɛ'pLqau. Näct aliLxɛlɛmō'xoma Lmē'mɛlōct
Not they shall eat it widowers and widows. Not he shall eat it corpses

Lē'XLēX Lgɛ'Loxt. Näct aliLxɛlɛmō'xoma t¡ō'tsnîX qaLqtō'mɛx.
prepare who does it. Not she shall eat it just who gave birth to a child.

Tgā'k¡ēLau. Ā'la naĭ'ka, ā'la tɛll inɛ'xôx. Manîx Their taboo. Even I, even tired I became. When nauwā'itk aLktuxō'lalɛma, nōL¡ aLgō'k¡umamɛkua, näct tān

a net they make it, little they make a mistake, not anything

Lgēwā'qoamɛniLa-îtx. Ma'nîx ōguaLā'lētɛma-îtx āqtē'xa nauwā'itk, they always catch. When they are on it shirt lice a net, näct tān Lgēwā'qoamɛniLx qLā'nauwa-îtk."

not anything they always catch those having the net."

Myth of the Salmon. I (told 1891)

The people of mythical times were dying of hunger. They had only sagittaria-roots to eat. They had only small sagittaria-roots and skunk-cabbage and —— roots and rush roots to eat. In the spring of the year the Salmon went up the river. They had first arrived with many companions. They went some distance. Then the Skunk-cabbage said: "At last my brother's son has arrived. If it had not been for me, your people would have been dead long ago." Then the Salmon said: "Who is that who is talking there?" "Oh, that is the Skunk-cabbage who is talking." "Let us go ashore." They went ashore and gave him one elkskin armor. They gave him five elk skins and put war clubs under his blanket, one on each side. They put two clubs under the blankets. Then they carried him inland and placed him among willows.

Igu'nat Ia'k!anē. I

Salmon His Myth

1	IguXuā'ɬa-it They died of	wa'lō hunger	ts!ak!ā'nɛX. the people of the myths.	Tā'ema Only	tsq!ēmē'mix· sagittaria-roots
2	qatoxoēmō'xɛmx they ate them	k!a and	ɬɛmq!ā'emax small sagittaria-roots	k!a and	lɛ'qalpō skunk-cabbage	k!a and	tqanā'pcupcū (a root)
3	qatoxoēmō'xumx they ate it	k!a and	lp!ɛ'nxaLX. rush-roots.	Tcā'goa-îX The spring of the year	igē'xoxîX, it became,	aqa and
4	iō'suwulX he went up the river	igu'nat. the salmon.	T!ō'tsnîX First	qayō'yamx he arrived	igu'nat the salmon	ɬgā'pɛlatîkc many
5	iɬā'cgēwal. his companions.	Qā'xpaL When	qiō'yam, he arrived,	aqa then	igē'kîm said	ē'qalpō: the skunk-cabbage:	"Koala "At last	ctcā'qa
6	qayō'yamx he arrived	itcɛ'wulX. my nephew.	Qē If	nîc not	naī'ka I	inɛ'xôx I had been,	pān (then)	qigōXoā'ɬa-it had died
7	tmē'lXam." your people."	Igē'kîm He said	igu'nat: the salmon:	"lān "Who	laXi that	ā'koa thus	lxō'la?" talking?"	"Ā, "Ah,
8	yaXi this one	ā'kua thus	iXō'la." talking."	"Alxē'gela-îX, "Let us go ashore,	alxē'gela-îX!" let us go ashore!"		ē'qalpō skunk-cabbage
9	Iqē'lōt He was given	ēXt one	igē'luqtē. elkskin armor.	Qoā'nɛm Five	tgē'luqtē elkskin armors	iqtē'lōt. they were given to him.	Iqa-igɛ'mōlX It was put under his blanket	ilxē'gela-îX. They went ashore.
10	aē'Xt one	atā'mq!aL club	kat and	aē'Xt one	iqa-igɛ'mōlX was put under his blanket	igōn other	ē'nat one side	ē'yaLq. his body.	Môkct Two
11	ɬtā'mq!aL clubs	iqLigɛ'mōlX. were put under his blanket.	Iqē'yukɪ He was carried	lxɛ'lēuX. inland.	Iqēyō'tXamit He was put	kā'tcak middle
12	ēlā'itkpa. willows in.

The Salmon and his people went on ascending the river. Then another person said: "At last my brother's son arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, your people would be dead." "Who is talking there?" said the Salmon. "Oh, your aunt, the Sagittaria-root." He put some small dentalia on her buttocks and gave her three woodchuck blankets. Then they left her. They went some distance.

Then another person said: "Oh, at last my brother's son has arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, all your people would be dead." The Salmon said: "Who is talking there?" "Oh, your aunt, the large Sagittaria-root." "Let us go ashore." He put large dentalia on her buttocks and gave her five woodchuck blankets. He placed her in the mud.

Then they continued going up the river. They had gone some distance. Another person spoke: "Oh, at last my brother's son has arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, all your people would be dead." "Who is talking there?" "Oh, your uncle, the Rush-root." "Let us go ashore," said the Salmon. They

---

Aqa wit'ax iLō'suwulX igu'nat kɟa tiā'xelawēmax. Aqa wi Lgō'nax 1
Then again he went up the salmon and his people. Then again another iLE'xalEtcō LgoaLē'lX: "Koala etcā'qa qayō'yamx itcî'tkēu iā'pōte 2 spoke person: "At last he arrived my nephew his anus gā'yamoa. Qē nîc nai'ka inE'xôx ngoaLē'lX pān oguXoā'La-it 3 having maggots. If not I had been I person, (then) had died tmē'lXam." "Lān LaXi ā'kua Lxō'la?" igē'kîm. "Ā, amē'Lak 4 your people." "Who that thus talking?" he said. "Ah, your aunt aLEmɟa'emax." Itcalgā'mit akupku'p itcā'potcpa. Itcî'caltē cɟu'la. 5 small sagittaria-root." He put on to her small dentalia at her anus. He put on- to her a woodchuck blanket.

Lōn itcî'caltē Lqɟola'. ILEqa'luqLq. KELā'îX mank iLō'ya. 6
Three he put on to her woodchuck blankets. They left her. Far a little they went.

Aqa wi Lgō'nax iLî'xElatcō LgoaLē'lX: "Koala etcā'qa qayō'yamx 7
Then again another spoke person: "At last he arrived itcî'tkeu, iā'pōte gā'yamoa. Qē nēketx nai'ka inE'xôx ngoaLē'lX, 8 my nephew, his anus having maggots. If not I I had been I person, pān qigoXuā'La-it tmē'lXam." Igē'kîm igu'nat: "Lān LaXi ā'kua 9 (then) had died your people." He said the salmon: "Who that thus Lxō'la?" "Ā, amē'Lak atsqɟemē'mîx· wuXi ā'koa axō'la." 10 talking?" "Ah, your aunt, sagittaria-root she thus talks."

"Alxē'gela-îX!" Itcîlgā'mit iqawikɟē'LE itcā'pōtcpa. Qoā'nEma 11
"Let us go ashore!" He put on to her long dentalia her anus at. Five tqɟulā'max itcî'taEltē. Itcō'kT ē'LɟuwElkLɟuwElkpa. ItcuLā'etamit. 12 woodchuck blankets he put on to her. He carried her mud to. He put her down.

Aqa wit'ax iLō'suwulX. KELā'îX iLō'yam. Aqa wi iLE'xElteu 13
Then again he went up the river. Far he arrived. Then again he spoke LgoaLē'lX: "Koala etcāqa qayō'yamx itcō'wulX iā'pōte gā'yamoa. 14

a person: "At last he arrived my nephew his anus having maggots.

Qē nēketx nai'ka inE'xôx ngoaLē'lX, pān qigoXuā'La-it tmē'lXam." 15
If not I I had been I person, (then) had died your people."

Igē'kîm: "Lān LaXi ā'kua Lxō'la?" "Ā, emē'mot ipɟE'nxaLX." 16
He said: "Who that thus talking?" "Ah, your uncle rush-root."

gave him an elkskin shirt and put feather ornaments on his head. He put him into a swamp. Then they continued going up the river.

They went some distance, and another person spoke: "Oh, at last my brother's son arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, all your people would be dead." "Who is talking there? Let us go ashore." "Oh, your uncle, the ——, is talking." They gave him five raccoon blankets and placed him on the bank of the river.

Then they met a canoe. The Salmon said: "Ask the people in that canoe." There were three people in the canoe. A man was in the stern, a woman in the middle of the canoe. She said: "——." The Salmon replied: "What does that woman say?" And the man in the stern of the canoe answered: "Oh, she said: 'They went up with the flood tide and arrived at the Cascades; they came down again with the ebb tide.'" "Stop the canoe. Why does she lie? How do the people who go up to the rapids come back?" They stopped them. The

1 "Alxē'gela-îX," igē'kîm igu'nat. Iqē'ltē ēXt igē'luqtē. Tiā'kɨēkeLa
"Let us go ashore," said the salmon. It was put on to him one elkskin shirt. A feather head ornament

2 iqtō'lôx. Iqiū'tXemitam L!mE'nL!mEn ē'lXpa. was put on to him. He was placed soft ground in.

3 Aqa wi iLō'suwulX. Qā'xpa iLō'yam aqa wit'ax iLE'xaltcu
Then again they went up the river. When they arrived then again he spoke 4 Lgoale'lX: "Koala ctcāqa qayō'yamx itcō'wulX iā'pōtc gā'yamoa.

a person: "At last he arrived my nephew his anus having maggots.

5 Qa nāketx naī'ka inE'xôx ngoaLē'lX, pān qigoXuā'La-it tmē'lXam."
If not I I had been I person, (then) had died your people."

6 "Alxē'gela-îX. Lā'n LaXi ā'kua LXō'la?" "Ā, tqanā'pcupcū imē'mōt
"Let us go ashore. Who that thus talking?" "Ah, (a root) your uncle

7 yaXi ā'kua ixō'la." Qû'nEm iqE'tēltē tqanō'qoakc. QiuLā'etEmitam that thus talking." Five were put on to him raccoon blankets. They went to place him

8 tkmā'epa.
shore line at.

9 Aqa iLō'suwulX cā'xalîX. Lq!āp iLgī'yôx ikE'nim. Igē'kîm
Then they went up the river. up. Meet they did it a canoe. He said

10 igu'nat: "Amegiqe'mtcxōgua yaXi ikE'nim." Tā'k!aLōnîkc ta-îtci the salmon: "Ask them that canoe." Three in the canoe those

11 tê'lXam. LE'kala LE'qēyamit. ILE'xaltcō LaXi kā'tcak q!ā'guxt: people. A man in the stern. He spoke that middle being in the canoe:

12 "Laq!ā'lakīawā', Laq!amō'cq!amōc, Laq!apā'wapawa." Igē'kîm
"——" —— "——." He said

13 igu'nat: "Qā igElxoxō'la wuXi aqagē'lak?" ILE'kîm LaXi the salmon: "What does she say that woman?" He said that 14 LE'qēyamit: "Ā, axō'lal, iLtō'wîtek, aqa iLō'sowulX, iLō'yam the one in the stern: "Ah, she says, it got flood tide, then they went up, they arrived at 15 ikē'catck, aqa igiLxē'takua, aqa wi-iLE'stsō." "Lq!up îmegē'LxoxîX.

Cascades, then the waters returned, then again they went down the river." "Stop do them.

16 Qā'tcqē iL!mē'nXut tcōxtx? Qantsī'X pō nuXuatā'kam ta-îtci Why? lies she makes? How many If they return those Flounder was in the bow of the canoe. They took him by his head and twisted it so that his face was turned around and his mouth stood crosswise. They took hold of the Crow and pulled her head; her face was turned around. They took Blue-jay; they pulled him and twisted his neck; his face was turned around. They said to them: "How do people return who go to the Cascades?"

They left them. "Future generations shall always need five days to get to the Cascades."

---

ikᵒ'catck qtgēX?" ɬqɨup iqē'ɬxoxîX. Iqɬgŏ'qoam. Ā'kɨamitX Cascades going?" Stop it was done. They came to them. In the bow of the canoe apkē'eX. Iqē'gɛlga itcā'qɨaketak. Iqayî'lōtk. Ē'wa ictiktɛ'qoXuitîX the flounder. It was taken her head. She was twisted. Thus they turned it round sgā'xōst. Ē'wa intcɨē'qɬko-ît itcā'kᵘeXat. Iqā'gɛlga atjā'ntsa.

her face. Thus it became crosswise her mouth. She was taken the crow.

IqɬĀ'nXuktē, ictiktɛ'qoxuitîX sgā'xōst. Iqē'gɛlga iqe'sqes.
She was pulled at her head, they turned it round her face. He was taken blue-jay.

Iqɬē'nXuktē, iqayî'lōtk iā'tuk. IctiktɛqoXuitîX sī'axôst.
He was pulled at his head, it was twisted his neck. They turned it round his face.

IqɬŌ'lXam: "Qantcā'x pō nuXuatā'koam ikē'catck qtgē'îx."
They were told: "How many if they return Cascades going."

Iqɬgē'lōqɬq. "AluXumapā'ya tê'lXam qoā'nɛmîX atîlqō'ya yaXtîX,
They were left. "Generations of people five times they shall go there, tcXua atgē'yama ikē'catck."

then they shall arrive at Cascades."

Myth of the Salmon. II (told 1894)

The Spring Salmon went up the river for the first time. A person was standing there. When he came past, he said: "Oh, at last my nephew has arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, all your people would be dead." "Who is that who is talking there?" "Your uncle, the Skunk-cabbage, is talking there." "Quick, go ashore!" The Salmon went ashore and put an elkskin armor on him. He put five elkskin armors onto the Skunk-cabbage and one club under each side of the blanket. He carried him up from the water and placed him among willows.

He continued going up the river. A woman was standing there. "Oh, at last my nephew has arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, all your people would be dead." "Who is

---

Igu'nat Iā'k!anē. II

The Spring Salmon His Myth

1 Iō'suwulXt igu'nat. T!ō'tsnîX igitē'mam ka iō'suwulXt. Aqa
He went up the spring salmon. A little he arrived and he went up. Then

2 ʟōtXuē'la ʟgoaʟē'lX. "Koala ctca'qa qayō'yamx itcō'wîlX iā'putc there stood a person. "At last he arrived my nephew his anus

3 goā'yamoa. Qē nēkctx nai'ka inᴇ'xôx ngoaʟē'lX, pān qigōXuā'ʟa-it having maggots. If not I I had been I person, (then) had died

4 tmē'lXam." Igē'kîm: "ʟān ʟaXi ā'koa ʟxō'la?" "A, imē'mut your relatives." He said: "Who that thus talking?" "Ah, your uncle

5 iā'Xauē ē'qalpō yaXi ixō'la." "A'yaq amexē'gela-îX." IyaqE'lōlx this skunk-cabbage that talks." "Quick go ashore!" He landed

6 igu'nat. Iqē'ltē igē'luqtē, qoî'nᴇm igē'luqtē iqē'ltē ē'qalpō.
the salmon. It was put onto him ăn elkskin armor, five elkskin armors were put onto him the skunk-cabbage.

7 Iqa-igᴇ'mōlX atā'muq!aʟ, ō'nata ē'yaxō kada ē'nata ē'yaxō agōn
It was put under his blanket a club, one side here and other side here more

8 ā'ēXt atā'muq!aʟ. Iqē'yukʟ ʟxᴇ'lēuX. Iqeyō'tXamit kā'tcak one club. He was carried inland. He was put in middle 9 ēlā'-itkpa.

willows in.

10 Aqa wi iʟō'suwulXt. Aqa wi iqᴇ'ʟqᴇlkᴇl ʟqagē'lak lōtXuē'la.
Then again he went up. Then again she was seen a woman stood there.

11 "Koala ctcā'qa qayō'yamx itcî'tkēu iā'pōte goā'yamoa. Qē nēkctx "At last he arrived my nephew his anus having maggots. If not 12 nai'ka inî'xôx ngoaʟē'lX, pān qigōXuā'ʟa-it tmē'lXam." Igē'kîm:

I I had been I person, (then) had died your relatives." He said:

it who is talking there?" "Oh, your aunt, the small Sagittaria-root." "Quick, let us go ashore!" They put onto her a deerskin blanket and put small dentalia onto her buttocks. "Later on they will buy you for small dentalia." He carried her inland and put her in the mud.

Then they continued going up the river. Again he saw a person. "Oh, at last my nephew has arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, all your people would be dead." "Quick, go ashore!" The Salmon continued: "Who is it who is talking there?" "Your uncle the Rush-root is talking." He put buckskins onto him.

They went up again. Then another person was seen. "Oh, at last my nephew has arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, all your people would be dead." The Salmon said: "Who is talking there?" "Ah, the Indian potato is talking." "Quick, let us go up!" They landed and put a woodchuck blanket onto her. They gave her three woodchuck blankets and put long dentalia onto

---

"Lān "Who	laXi that	ā'koa thus	lxō'la?" talking?"	"Ā "Ah,	ā'xka she	amē'lak your aunt	alemq!ā'emax." small sagittaria-root."	1
Aqa: Then:	"A'yaq "Quick	lxē'gela-iX." we will go ashore."	Iqe'celti It was put onto her	cpā'iX, a double deer- skin blanket,	mâket two	iqe'talti were put onto her					2
tpā'îX. deerskin blankets.	Iqalgā'mita It was put on her	akupku'p small dentalia	itcā'pōtspa. her anus at.	"Ā'lqi "Later on	aqemōmelā'lema, you will be bought,						3
ikupku'p small dentalia	amtXlā'ita will be put up for you	aqemtXumk!ē'muapa." you will be exchanged for them."		Iqō'kla she was car- ried	lxe'leuX inland						4
ē'l!uwalkl!uwalkpa. mud to.		Iqōlā'etamit. She was put down.									5
Aqa Then	wi again	ilō'suwulXt. he went up.	Aqa Then	wi again	iqe'lqelkel he was seen	lgoalē'lX: a person:					6
"Koala "At last	ctcā'qa he arrived	qayō'yamx my nephew	itcō'wîlX his anus	iā'putc having maggots.	goā'yamoa. If	Qē not	nēketx				7
nai'ka I	inē'xôx I had been	ngoalē'lX, I person,	pān (then)	qigoXuā'la-it had died	tmē'lXam." your relatives."	Igē'kîm He said					8
igu'nat: the salmon:	"Lān "Who	laXi that	ā'kua thus	lxō'la?" talking?"	"Ā "Ah	yā'xka he	imē'mut your uncle	ipi!e'nxal rush-root			9
yaXi that	ākua thus	ixō'la." talking."	Iqē'ltē It was put onto him	ase'qseq. a buckskin.	Mâket Two	iqe'teltē were put on him	tseqse'quks. buckskins.				10
Aqa Then	wit'ax again	ilō'suwulXt. he went up.	Aqa Then	wi again	lgō'nax one more	iqe'lqelkel he was seen	lgoalē'lX: a person:				11
"Koala "At last	ctcā'qa he came	qayō'yamx my nephew,	itcî'tkēu, his anus	iā'putc having maggots.	goā'yamō. If	Qē not	nēketx				12
nai'ka I	inē'xôx I had been	ngoalē'lX, I person,	pān (then)	qigōXuā'la-it had died	tmē'lXam." your relatives."	Igē'kîm He said:					13
igu'nat: the salmon:	"Lān "Who	laXi that	ā'kua thus	lxō'la?" talking?"	"Ā—y—ā'xka "Ah, she	amē'lak your aunt					14
atsq!emē'mîX Indian potato	ā'kua thus	axō'la." talks."	"Ai'aq "Quick	alxgiā'kela." let us land."	Aqa Then						15
ilxē'gela-îX. they landed.	Iqe'celtē It was put onto her	cq!ula'. woodchuck blanket.	Lōn Three	tq!ulā'max woodchuck blankets	iqe'telte. were put onto her.						16
Iqalgā'mita It was put onto her	iqawik!ē'lē. long dentalia.	Itcā'potcpa Her anus at	iqalgā'mit. they were put.	"Manē'x "When							17

her buttocks. "You will be bought for long dentalia and for woodchuck blankets." Then she was placed in the mud.

They went on again. They went a long distance and found a person. "Oh, at last my nephew has arrived, whose buttocks are full of maggots. If it had not been for me, all your peoplē would be dead." "Who is talking there?" said the Salmon. They gave him five raccoon blankets and placed him near the water.

Then they went up again. They went far up the river. They came to St Helens. There they saw a canoe coming down the river. The canoe came near. Ah, Blue-jay and the Crow were in it, and the Flounder in the bow of the canoe. They were asked: "Where do you come from?" They did not reply. They were asked a second time. Then the Crow answered and said: "———." The Salmon said: "What does she say?" One person said: "She said they went up with the flood tide and they came to Cascades. Then with the ebb tide they went down the river." "Ha! the Crow is lying! No canoe

1 aqɪ:mɔmɛkā'ɬɛma iqawik¡ē'lē amtXɪā'eta. tq¡ulā'max aqamtXɛmō'ta."
you will be bought long dentalia will be put up for you, woodchuck blankets will be put up for you."

2 Iqō'kɬa ē'L¡uwɛlkL¡uwɛlkpa. IqoIā'etamit.
She was carried mud to. She was put down.

3 Aqa wi iLō'suwulXt. KɛIā'îX iLō'ya. Aqa wi iLaLgō'qoam
Then again he went up. Far he went. Then again they met him

4 LgoaLē'lX lōXt. "Koala etcā'qa qayō'yamx itcō'wîlX iā'potc a person there was. "At last he arrived my nephew his anus

5 goā'yamoa. Qē nēketx nai'ka inɛ'xôx nguaLē'lX, pān having maggots. If not I I had been I person, (then)

6 qigoXuā'ɪa-it tmē'lXam." "Lān lāXi ā'koa Lxō'la?" igē'kîm had died your relatives." "Who that thus talking?" said

7 igu'nat. Ā tq¡anā'pcupcū yaXi ā'kua ixō'la." "A'yaq alxē'gēla-îx."
the salmon. Ah (a root) that thus talking." "Quick let us land."

8 Iqā'teltē quî'nɛm tqanō'qoake. IqēguLā'etamit q¡oā'p Ltcu'qoapa.
They were put onto her five raccoon blankets. He was put near water at.

9 ILō'suwulXt, aqa cā'xalîX iLō'ya. ILō'yam Nā'yagōgo-îXpa.
They went up, then up they went. They arrived St Helens at.

10 IqiLgē'qɛlkɛl ikɛ'nim ēstsX. Q¡oā'p igī'yôx yaXi ikɛ'nim.
It was seen a canoe going down the river. Near it came that canoe.

11 Ā iqē'sqēs ɪaLā'itc lēstsX k¡a at¡ā'ntsa, k¡a apkē'cX ā'k¡amîtX.
Ah, blue-jay these come down the river and the crow, and the flounder in the bow of the canoe.

12 "Ā qa'mtewa amete'mam?" iqLoqu'mtexōkua. Nāct iLɛ'xɛltco.
"Ah whence you came?" they were asked. Not they told.

13 Wē'tax iqLōqu'mtexōkua. Mô'ketîX iqLōqu'mtexōkua. Aqa
Again they were asked. Twice they were asked. Then

14 igā'xaltco at¡ā'ntsa. Igā'kîm: "Laq¡ā'lakiawā', Laq¡amō'cq¡amōc she told the crow. She said: " —

15 Laq¡apā'wapawa." Igē'kîm igu'nat: "Qa'yax igā'kîm?" ILɛ'kîm
" He said the salmon: "What does she say?" He spoke 16 LeXā't LgoaLē'lX: "ILɛ'witek kawu'X aqa iLo'suwulXt. ILō'yam one person: "At flood tide early then they went up. They came to 17 ikō'catck, aqa igiLxō'takoa aqa wi iLɛ'stsō." "Itcā'L¡mōnXut Cascades, then they returned (the waters) then again they went down the river." "She is telling lies ever came back from Cascades (in one day). It takes five to go and come back from Cascades. Let us put our canoe alongside of theirs." Then they went alongside their canoe. They took Blue-jay, pulled his head, and twisted his face. They took the Crow, pulled her head, and twisted her face backward. They took the Flounder, who was in the bow of the canoe. They put her mouth crosswise. "Later generations shall never come back from Cascades in one day." Blue-jay was thrown inland and the Crow was thrown inland. "Crow shall be your name; you shall not talk the Wasko language." The Flounder was thrown into the water and was told: "Go down the river to the beach, and lie down flat. Your name shall be Flounder."

at¡ā′ntsa. Nîct qa′ntsîX nîXtā′kuax ikɛ′nim ikē′catekpa. 1 the crow. Never returns a canoe Cascades from.

Quî′nɛmîX qayoqō′ix ikɛ′nim qayō′suwulXɛmX, tcXua qiyō′yam 2 Five sleeps a canoe goes up, then it arrives at ikē′catek. A′yaq. alxgē′lqamɛla." Aqa iLgē′LqamɛLa iqē′sqēs. 3 Cascades. Quick let us go alongside their canoe." Then they went alongside the canoe blue-jay.

IqLē′nxuktē iqē′sqēs. Ē′wa ictiktɛ′qoXuitîX sī′axôst. Iqā′gɛlga 4
He was taken at his head blue-jay. Thus they twisted his face. She was taken at¡ā′ntsa. iqLā′nxuktē. Ictiktɛ′qoXuitiX sgā′xost. IqLā′nxuktē 5 the crow. she was taken at her head. They twisted her face. She was taken at her head apkē′cX ā′k¡amitx. Ēwā′ iuk¡ulā′tx·it itcā′k^{u}cXat. "Alōxoā′xa 6 the flounder in the bow of the canoe. Thus he put it crossways her mouth. "Generations of tê′lXam nāct qa′ntsîx aluXoatā′koa ēXt wē′koa ikē′catekpa. 7 people never they shall return one day Cascades from.

Iqēxē′ma iqē′sqēs LxE′lēuX. Lō′koa iqaxē′ma at¡ā′ntsa LxE′lēuX. 8
He was thrown blue-jay inland. There she was thrown the crow inland.

"At¡ā′ntsa imē′xalēu. nēct qa′ntsîX Luxolē′mɛt amxɛlteuwā′ya." 9
"Crow your name, never Wasko language you shall speak it."

Iqalē′maLx apkē′cX. iqō′lXam apkē′cX: "Mē′ya qā′ēqamîX 10
She was thrown into the water the flounder, she was told the flounder: "Go" down the river

Lkamilā′lEqpa. Amsînq¡oyā′yayaxtîx·. Apkē′cX imē′xalēu." 11 beach to. You shall lie down flat. Flounder your name."

Myth of the Elk (told 1894)

There were five brothers. One day the eldest one said: "I shall go out to-morrow and look for people." "Do as you like," said the younger brothers. He arose early, took his arrows and went. He went far. Then he saw a house. He reached it and opened the door. There was an old man on his bed. "O, grandson," he said; "you have come at last. I am starving. There are many elks here; [kill some] and leave me some food [before you go on]." "All right; I shall leave some food for you," said he. Then he went. [The old man] said to him: "Stand here." He stood there. Then a person shouted: "It is coming!" He saw an elk. He shot at it and shot at it again. Then the elk jumped at him and devoured him. The elk took off its skin. It was that old man who had become an elk. It grew dark, and [the eldest brother] did not come home.

Imō'lak Iā'k¡anē

The Elk His Myth

1 Lxelā'itîX Lquî'numîkc. Aqa igē'k·îm yaXi ixgE'qunq: "Ō'la
There were five men. Then he said that the eldest one: "To-

2 aqa nō'ya ewata'. Antō'naxLama tê'lx·am." "Mai'ka ē'mEmxte," morrow then I shall go there. I shall go to look for them people." "You your mind,"

3 itgiō'lXam tiā'muXîkc. Kawī'x· aqa igixE'latck. Itcō'kuiga they said to him his younger brothers. Early then he arose. He took them

4 tiā'qamatcx. Aqa īō'ya; iō'4ya. KElā'îx· iō'ya. Aqa itcō'quikEl his arrows. Then he went; he went. Far he went. Then he saw it

5 tqu'LĒ. Itcuguā'qum ta'Xi tqu'LĒ. Itca-ixE'laqLqîx·. Aqa LŌxt a house. He reached it that house. He opened the door. Then there was

6 Lq¡eyō'qt iLā'lXamepa. "Ō, qā'cō, imtē'mamL. Aqa wa'lō an old man his bed on. "O, grandson, you came indeed. Then hunger

7 imō'maqt. Liā'pEla imō'lakEmaX gipā'tîx·. AmEnElgē'tatkca."
I die. Many elks here. You shall leave food for me."

8 "Q¡oā'L ayamElgē'tatkca," itcLō'lXam. Aqa iō'ya. ILgiō'lXam:
"All right I shall leave food for you," he said to him. Then he went. He said to him:

9 "Gipā'tîx· amō'tXuita." Aqa iō'tXuit gōpa'. IgaLxE'lqamX
"Here stand." Then he stood there. He shouted

10 LgualĒ'lîX: "Ā2, yaXi iōittā'2!" Itcē'qalkEl imō'lak itē't.
a person: "Ah, that is coming!" He saw it an elk came.

11 Iā'maq itcē'lax. Wē't¡ax iā'maq itcē'lax. Itcē'kEnpEma yaXi Shooting it he did it. Again shooting it he did it. It jumped at him that 12 imō'lak. Ā4, aqa iqē'wulq yaXi iguaLē'lX. Aqa itcixē'ma elk. Ah, then he was devoured that person. Then it took it off

13 iā'k¡itē yaXi imō'lak. Qōct iā'Xka yaXi iq¡eyō'qt yaXi imō'lak its clothing that elk. Behold! he that old man that elk became. It got dark. Not he came home.

14 igē'xôx. Igō'ponEm. Nä2et igiXk¡uā'mam.

Then said the [next] younger brother: "I will go to-morrow and look for our elder brother." It became day. Then he took his arrows and went. He went far. He saw a house and reached it. There was an old man. [He said:] "O, grandson; you have come at last. Your elder brother was here. Look at the elk skin which he left here for me. He slept here. Many women went picking berries, and he went to look for them. I wish you would also leave some food for me before you go away. There are many elks near by here." [The young man] said: "I shall leave some food for you." Then they two went inland. [The old man] said: "Stand here." He stood there. After a little while a person shouted: "Ah, an elk is coming there!" He saw an elk coming. He shot at it and shot at it again. Twice he shot at it. Then the elk jumped at him and devoured him. The old man took off the [elk] skin and went home. He carried his skin on his back.

Now three brothers remained. The next one said: "To-morrow I

Igē'k·îm	yaXi	igo'n	iXā't	iā'muXîX:	"Ō'la	niolā'xɪama				1
He said	that	other	one	his younger brother:	"To-morrow	I shall go to look for him
ē'lxalXt."	Igē'tcuktē;	itcō'guiga	tiā'qamatcx.	Aqa	wi	iō'ya.				2
our elder brother."	It became day;	he took them	his arrows.	Then	again	he went.
Iōyā'4;	kɛlā'2îx·	iō'ya.	Itcō'quikɛl	tqu'lē.	Iugoā'qoam	ta'Xi				3
He went;	far	he went.	He saw it	a house.	He reached it	that tqu'lē.	Aqa	lōXt	la'Xi	lq¡eyō'qt.	"Ō2,	qā'cō,	imtē'mamL.			4
house.	Then	there was	that	old man.	"O,	grandson,	you came indeed!
Igitē'mam	ē'mîlXt.	Ē'kcta	iā'p¡askwal	imō'lak,	itcinɛ'ltatkc.					5
He came	your elder brother.	Look at it	its skin	the elk,	he left it as food for me.
Tē'ka	iō'qoya.	lgā'pɛlatîkc	tɛ'nɛmcke	ōxuik¡ē'wula,	ē'watka					6
Here	he slept.	Many	women	they always pick berries,	there only wi	iō'ya	itctōnā'xlam	tɛ'nɛmcke,	k¡a	wi	amnɛlgē'tatkca,	tcXua			7
also	he went	he went to look for them	the women,	and	also	you shall leave food for me,	then qamɛnqɛlō'qlqax.	Gipā'	q¡oā'pîx·	gimō'lɛkɛmaX."	Itciō'lXam:						8
you leave me.	There	near	having elks."	He said to him:
"Ayamɛlgē'tatkca,"	Aqa	ictō'ptcka.	Itciō'lXam:	"Gipā'						9
"I shall leave food for you."	Then	they two went inland.	He said to him:	"Here
mō'tXuita."	Ayō'tXuit.	Koala'	aqa	iLgē'loma	lgoalē'lX:	"Ā4,				10
stand."	He stood.	A little while	then	shouted	a person:	"Ah,
aqa	yaXi	iō'itt	imō'lak."	Itcē'qɛlkɛl	imō'lak	itē't.	Iā'maq			11
then	that	it comes	the elk."	He saw it	an elk	came.	Shooting it
itcē'lax.	Wē't¡ax	iā'maq	itcē'lax;	mô'kctîX	iā'maq	itcē'lax.				12
he did it.	Again	shooting it	he did it;	twice	shooting it	he did it.
Itcē'knpɛna	yaXi	imō'lak.	Gōpā'	aqa	iqē'wulq	yaXi	igualē'lX.			13
It jumped at him	that	elk.	There	then	he was devoured	that	person.
Itcixē'ma	iā'p¡askwal	yaXi	iq¡eyō'qt.	Aqa	igē'Xk¡oa	yaXi				14
He took it off	his skin	that	old man.	Then	he went home	that iq¡eyō'qt.	Itsī'yustx	yaXi	iā'p¡askwal.							15
old man.	He carried it on his back	that	his skin.
Aqa	lō'nikc	iLuk¡oā'itîXt	lā'-itci	Ltctā'muXîkc.	Igē'kîm					16
Then	three	remained	those	their younger brothers.	He said shall look for our two elder brothers." "Do as you like," said his younger brothers. He arose early and made himself ready. He took his arrows and went far away. He saw a house. He thought: "Oh, my brothers are probably at this house." He went [on] and arrived at that house. He opened the door. There was an old man. He entered. Then the old man said: "O, grandson; you have come at last. [Your brothers] left this elk skin for me. They went to the place where the women are picking berries. You also shall leave food for me. I always try to shoot elks, but I can not kill them." "All right" [said the young man], "I shall leave food for you here." Then they went inland. [The old man] said: "Stand here." He stood there. Then a person shouted: "Ah, an elk is coming!" He looked; an elk was coming. He shot at it; he shot at it again. Then it jumped at him. Then it devoured him right there. [The old man] took off his [elk] skin and carried it back home, where he dried his skin.

1	yaXi	igō′n	iXā′t:	"Ō′la	aqa	antconā′XɪA	cî′lxalXt."
	that	other	one:	"To-morrow	then	I shall look for	our two elder brothers."
2	"Mai′ka	ē′memXte,"	icgiō′lXam	ciā′muXîX.	Kawī′X	igixɛ′latck.
	"You	your mind,"	they two said to him	his two younger brothers.	Early	he arose.
3	Igixɛ′ltXuîtek.	Itcō′kuiga	tiā′qamateX.	Iō′ya,	kɛlā′2îx·	iō′ya.
	He made himself ready.	He took them	his arrows.	He went,	far	he went.
4	Itcō′quikɛl	tqu′lē.	Igîxlō′xoa-it:	"Ō,	gōpa′	cî′kɛlXt	ckē′xax	ta′Xi
	He saw it	a house.	He thought:	"Oh,	there	my two elder brothers	are	that
5	tqu′lēpa."	Iōyā′4;	iō′yam	ta′Xi	tqu′lēpa.	Itca-ixɛ′laqlqîx·.	Aqa house at."	He went;	he arrived	that	house at.	He opened the door.	Then
6	lōXt	lq¡eyō′qt.	Iā′ckuɒq.	"Ō,	qā′cō,	imtē′mamL,"	iLgiō′lXam
	there was	an old man.	He entered.	"O,	grandson,	you came indeed,"	he said to him
7	laXi	lq¡eyō′qt.	"YaXi	imō′lak	iā′p¡askwal	iegimɛ′ltatkc.
	that	old man.	"That	elk	its skin	they two left for me.
8	Lgā′pɛlatîkc	tɛ′nɛmcke	oxwik¡ē′wula	gōpa′	ictō′ya;	k¡a	wi
	Many	women	always pick berries	there	they two went;	and	also
9	mai′ka	amɛnɛlgē′tatkca.	Liā′pɛla	imō′lɛkɛmaX	kē′nuwe	iā′maq
	you	leave food for me.	Many	elks	try	shooting them
10	qanilō′XoaX,	nāct	qa	iō′mɛqtx."	Itciō′lXam:	"Q¡oā′L;
	I always do,	not	anyhow	dead."	He said to him:	"All right;
11	ayamɛlgē′tatkca."	Aqa	ictō′ptega.	Itciō′lXam:	"Gipā′	mō′tXuita,"
	I shall leave food for you."	Then	they two went inland.	He said to him:	"Here	stand
12	Iō′tXuit	gōpa′.	Aqa	iLgē′loma	Lgoalō′lX:	"Ā,	aqa	yaXi
	He stood	there.	Then	shouted	a person:	"Ah,	then	that 13	iō′itt	imō′lak,"	Igē′kîket,	imō′lak	itē′t.	Iā′maq	itcē′lax.	Wē′t¡ax comes	elk."	He looked,	an elk	came.	Shooting it	he did it.	Again
14	iā′maq	itcē′lax.	Aqa	itcē′kɛmpɛn.	Gopā′2	aqa	iqē′wulq	yaXi shooting it	he did it.	Then	it jumped at him.	There	then	he was devoured	that 15	igoaLē′lX.	Lāq°	itcī′vux	yaXi	iā′p¡aekwal.	Itcī′yustx;	igē′Xk¡ua.
	person.	Take off	he did it	that	his skin.	He carried it on his back;	he went home.
16	Itcîx·cā′mît	iā′p¡askwal.
	He dried it	his skin.

Now two [brothers] remained; three were killed. Then one of them said again: "To-morrow I shall go. I shall look for our elder brothers." He arose early. Then he took his arrows and went. He went far and saw a house. He thought: "Oh, here are my elder brothers." He went [on] and arrived at that house. He opened the door. There was an old man. He entered. [The old man] said: "O, grandson; you have come at last. Your elder brothers are near by. They left me this elk skin. You must also leave some food for me." [The young man] said: "All right; I shall leave food for you." Then they went inland. [The old man] said: "Stand here." And after a little while a person shouted: "Ah, an elk is coming!" He looked; an elk was coming. He shot at it; he shot at it again. Then it jumped at him and devoured him right there. Then the old man took off that skin and carried it home.

Now one only remained. Only the youngest brother remained. Then he made arrows and arrowpoints. The boy's grandmother was

Aqa smôkst ictukᵚoā'ētîx·t; aqa Lō'nîke aqLō'tēna. Aqa wi Then two remained; then three were killed. Then again

igē'k·îm yaXi iXā't: "Ō'la aqa nai'tᵚax anō'ya. AnLōnā'xLama he said that one: "To-morrow then I also I shall go. I shall go and look for them Lî'txalXtkc." Kawī'x· aqa igixE'latck. Itcō'kuiga tiā'qamatcX. our two selves' elder brothers." Early then he arose. He took them his arrows.

Aqa iō'ya. Iō'ya; kElā'îx· iō'ya. Itcō'quikEl tqu'Lē. IgîxLō'Xoā-ît:
Then he went. He went; far he went. He saw it a house. He thought:

Ō, kōpā' LkēX LE'kElXtkc. Iō'ya. Iō'yam ta'Xi tqu'Lōpa.
Oh, there are my elder brothers. He went. He arrived that house at.

Itca-ixE'laqLqîx·. LōXt Lqᵚeyō'qt. Iā'ckupq. "Ō, imtē'mamL,
He opened the door. There was old man. He entered. "Oh, you came indeed, qā'cō. Gipā' Lkē'xax qᵚoā'pîx· LE'mēlXtkc. YaXi' iLginE'ltatkc grandson. Here are near your elder brothers. This they left for me imō'lak iā'pᵚackwal, kᵚa wi mai'ka amEnElgē'tatkca," itciō'lXam.

elk its skin, and also you you shall leave for me," he said to him.

Itciō'lXam: "Qᵚoā'L ayamElgē'tatkca." Aqa ictō'ptega. Itciō'lXam:
He said to him: "All right I shall leave food for you." Then they two went inland. He said to him:

"Gipā' mE'tXuit." As nō'LᵚîX·, aqa iLgē'lōma LgoaLē'lX: "Ā4,
"Here stand." And a little while, then shouted a person: "Ah, yaXi iō'itt imō'lak." Igē'kiket, aqa itē't yaXi imō'lak. Iā'maq that comes the elk." He looked, then came that elk. Shooting it itcē'lax, witᵚax iā'maq itcē'lax. Aqa itcē'kEnpEn. Gōpa' iqē'wulq he did it, again shooting it he did it. Then it jumped at him. There he was devoured yaXi igoaLē'lX. Lāqᵐ igē'xuX yaXi iā'pᵚaskwal yaXi iqᵚeyō'qt.

that person. Take off he did it that his skin that old man.

Itcî'yuctx, igē'Xkᵚua.
He carried it on his back, he went home.

Aqa iXā'tka iukᵚuā'itîXt. Iā'ima iLā'muXîX iukᵚuā'itîXt. Aqa
Then one only remained. He alone their younger brother remained. Then itcî'tux tqā'matcX. Itcī'yux ikᵚē'lXtcu, tqā'matcX itā'kᵚēlXtcu.

he made them arrows. He made them arrowpoints, arrows their arrowpoints.

there [also]. Then he broke the arrowpoints to pieces and threw them into the fire. He said to his grandmother: "Stand there." The old woman stood there and shook herself [standing] over the fire. Then the arrowpoints which were thrown into the fire were transformed into a dog. Then the boy said to his grandmother: "Turn into a crow and help me." At night he dreamed that a person spoke to him: "Your brothers were killed by a monster. Do you think it is an elk? It is a monster. When you go there, scratch the fat of the dried elk skin." Early in the morning he made himself ready. He cried. He went with his dog. He saw a house and thought: "That is the monster's house." He went [on] and arrived at that house. He opened the door. There was an old man who said: "O, grandson; you have come at last! My grandson has a dog made of flint." Then [the boy] became afraid. [The old man] said: "Your brothers have gone to where the women are singing. They left me this elk." Then [the boy] scratched the fat

1 ŌXt ayā'kˌîc yaXi ikˌā'skas. Lˌɛmɛ'nLˌɛmɛn itcī'yuX yaXi
There was his grandmother that boy. Broken he made them those

2 ikˌē'lXteu. Aqa itcixɛ'lgiLx ā'tōLˌpa. Itcō'lXam ayā'kˌîc:
arrowpoints. Then he threw them into the fire fire in. He said to her his grandmother

3 "Mɛ'tXuit gipā'," Igō'tXuît; aqa tō'tō igā'xux ā'tōLpa aqˌeyō'qt.
"Stand there." She stood; then shake she did (herself) fire over the old woman.

4 Aqa Lkˌō'tkˌōt iLɛ'xôx yaXi igixɛ'lgiLx igē'lXteu. Aqa itcō'lXam
Then a dog became that thrown into fire arrowpoints. Then he said to her

5 wuX ayā'kˌîc: "Ō, mtˌā'ntsa amxō'xoa. Amɛngɛlgē'cgam." Aqa that his grandmother: "Oh, you crow you will be. You help me." Then

6 igiXgē'qawaqa Xā'pîX. Ilgiō'lXam lgoaLē'lX: "Iqlō'2tena he dreamed at night. It said to him a person: "They were killed

7 lɛ'mēlXtkc. Iqcxē'lau itcLō'tena. Amcxlō'Xuan tci imō'lak?
your elder brothers. A monster killed them. You think [int. part.] an elk?

8 Iqcxē'lau. Yā'xka iā'pˌaskwal yaXi iXcā'mit, maˌnîx amō'ya,
A monster. That its skin that dried, when you go,

9 aqa tcˌu'X amiō'Xoa yaXi iā'pXaleu." Kawī'X, aqa igixɛ'ltXuîtck.
then scratch do it that its fat." Early, then he made himself ready.

10 Iō'qulqt. Aqa iō'ya. Kˌa liā'kˌutkˌut ictō'ya. Ictō'ya.
He cried. Then he went. And his dog they two went. They two went.

11 Itcō'quikɛl tqu'lē. Aqa igiXlō'xoa-ît: TaXī'yaX tē'yaqL yaXi
He saw it a house. Then he thought: That his house that 12 iqcxē'lau. Iō'ya; iō'yam taˌXi tqu'lē. Itca-ixɛ'laqlē. lōXt monster. He went; he arrived that house. He opened the door. There was 13 Lqˌeyō'qt. "Ō, qā'cō, imtē'maml," iLgiō'lXam. "Ō, liā'kˌutkˌut an old man. "O, grandson, you came indeed," he said to him. "Oh, he has a dog 14 ē'tcqcɛn. Ikˌē'lɛXteutk liā'kˌutkˌut ē'tcqcɛn." Aqa kˌwac igē'xôx my grandson. Flint his dog my grandson." Then afraid he became 15 ē'yamxtcpa. "Ō," itciō'lXam, "gipā' ōkualā'lam tɛ'nɛmckc, [ac his mind in. "Oh," he said to him, "here sing the women, [and

16 wāx igē'tcuktē], gopā' Lkēx lɛ'mēlXtkc." Itciō'lXam: "Ō, yaˌXau early it gets day], there are your elder brothers." He said to him: "Oh, this 17 imō'lak iLginɛ'ltatkc." YaˌXi iā'pXɛle-u yaXi imō'lak iā'pˌaskwal elk they left for me." That its fat that elk its skin of that elk skin. The old man gave a sudden start [because it pained him]. Once more he scratched the fat. The old man gave again a sudden start. He said: "The elk and myself have one skin in common." He said: "You shall leave me some elk before you leave." [The boy] said: "All right; I shall leave [some food] for you. I will go out first." Then he went out with his dog. Then the youth made five lakes. He said to his dog: "Beware! Keep up your courage! The monster will devour us!" He had five quivers full of arrows. He placed one quiver near each lake. Then he re-entered the house. The old man said: "Come! Let us go inland and hunt elks!" They went inland. [The old man] said: "Stand here." The youth stood there. Then the old man shouted: "Ah, here it is coming!" The youth looked, and, indeed, an elk came. He shot, shot, shot, and shot at it all day long. Then he finished his arrows. He went to one lake and took one of his quivers. Then he shot, shot, shot, and shot at it, tc!uX itcī'yôx. Lēk!^{u} igē'xôx yaXi iq!eyō'qt. Wī't!ax tc!uX scratch he did it. Start with pain he did that old man. Again scratch	1

itcī'yôx yaXi ·iā'pXɛleu. Wi k!waLqē' Lēk!^{u} igē'xôx yaXi he did it that its fat. Again thus start with pain he did that	2
iq!eyō'qt. Igē'k·îm yaXi iq!eyō'qt: "AntxɛluwāⁿT itcî'p!askwal old man. He said that old man: "Our two selves' common property my skin	3
imō'lak iā'p!askwal." Itciō'lXam: "Amɛnɛlgāⁿtatkca imō'lak, the elk its skin." He said to him: "You shall leave it for me elk,	4
tcXu qamɛnqɛlō'qLqax." Itciō'lXam: "Q!oā'L ayamɛlgāⁿtatkca. then you leave me." He said to him: "All right I shall leave it for you.	5
Anupāⁿ'yatcXua." Aqa ictō'pa k!a iā'k!utk!ut. Aqa itcî'Lux I will go out first." Then they two went out and his dog. Then he made them	6
quî'nɛm Lkak!ōLē'tXɛmaX yaXi iq!u'lîpX. Itciō'lXam iā'k!utk!ut: five lakes that youth. He said to him his dog:	7
"Ō, qā't!ucXɛm! ē'mēmxtc q!ɛ'lq!ɛl ē'xa ē'mēmxtc. Atctxuwɛ'lqam "Oh, beware! your heart strong make it your heart. He goes to devour us	8
iqcxē'Lau." Quî'nɛm Lgāⁿq!ētsxō tiāⁿqamatcX. ĒXt ikak!ō'lîtX the monster." Five their quivers his arrows. One lake	9
ēXt itāⁿq!ētsxō tiāⁿqamatcX qatctō'tXemîtx. Aqa wi iā'ckupq one their quiver his arrows he placed near it. Then again he entered	10
taXi tqu'lēpa. Aqa igē'k·îm yaXi iq!eyō'qt: "Tca! txō'ptega, that house in. Then he said that old man: "Come! let us go inland,	11
atxigɛlō'ya imō'lak." Aqa ictō'ptega. Itciō'lXam: "Gipāⁿ' we will go hunting elk." Then they two went inland. He said to him: "Here	12
mɛ'tXuit!" Iō'tXuit yaXi iq!u'lipX. Aqa igigē'loma yaXi stand!" He stood that youth. Then he shouted that	13
iq!eyō'qt: "Ā2, ya'Xauē aqa iō'itt." Igē'kikct yaXi iq!u'lipX. old man: "Ah, this then comes." He looked that youth.	14
Itcē'qalkɛl āⁿ'qanuwē imō'lak itē't. Tiāⁿmaq itctē'lux, tiāⁿmaq He saw it indeed an elk came. Shooting it with them he did it with them, shooting it with them	15
itctē'lux, tiāⁿmaq itctē'lux, tiāⁿmaq itctē'lux, ka'nauwē wē'koa. he did it with them, shooting it with them he did it with them, shooting it with them he did it with them, all day.	16
Iguxoā'LXum tiāⁿqamatcX. Iō'ya ikak!ō'lîtXpa. Itcō'kuiga He finished them his arrows. He went lake into. He took them	17 until he finished his arrows. He jumped into the lake. Then the monster drank all the water in the lake. [The youth] ran to another lake. He took the next quiverful of arrows. Again he shot, shot, shot, and shot at it, until he finished his arrows. His dog helped him. Then the youth jumped again into a lake. Again the monster drank all the water in that lake. Again the youth ran to another lake. He took the next quiverful of arrows. Then he shot at it again. He finished his arrows, and again he jumped into a lake. Again the monster drank all the water in the lake. The youth ran to the next lake. He took the next quiverful of arrows and shot at it. When he had finished his arrows, he jumped into the lake and dived with his dog. Again the monster drank all the water in the lake. There, in the 1 tia′qamateX ēXt ita′q¡ētsxō. Aqa wi′t¡ax tiā′maq itctē′lux.

his arrows one their quiver. Then again shooting it with them he did it with them,

2 tiā′maq itctē′lux, tiā′maq itctē′lux, tiā′maq itctē′lux. Iguxoā′ʟXum shooting it with them he did it with them, shooting it with them he did it with them, shooting it with them he did it with them. He finished them

3 tiā′qamateX. Itcî′sōpena ikak¡ō′lîtXpa. Itcʟō′qumct yaXi his arrows. He jumped lake into. It drank it that 4 iqcxē′ʟau ʟaXi Ltcu′qoa ikak¡ō′lîtX lē′iacq. Itcʟō′ʟXum ka′nauwē.

monster that water lake being in it. He finished it all.

5 Igē′kta wi′t¡ax igō′n ikak¡ō′lîtX. Aqa wi itcō′kuiga tiā′qamateX
He ran again other lake. Then again he took them his arrows

6 ēXt itā′q¡ētsxō. Aqa wi tiā′maq itctē′lux, tiā′maq itctē′lux, one their quiver. Then again shooting it with them he did it with them, shooting it with them he did it with them,

7 tiā′maq itctē′lux, tiā′maq itctē′lux. Iguxoā′ʟXum tiā′qamateX.
shooting it with them he did it with them, shooting it with them he did it with them. He finished them his arrows.

8 ʟgekîlkē′ggElit. ʟiā′k¡utk¡ut. Aqa wi itcî′sōpena ikak¡ō′litXpa
It helped him his dog. Then again he jumped lake into

9 yaXi iq¡u′lîpX. Aqa wi itcʟō′qumct yaXi iqcxē′ʟau ikak¡ō′lîtX that youth. Then again he drank it that monster the lake

10 lē′iacq. Kanauwē itcʟō′ʟXum. Aqa wi igē′kta yaXi iq¡u′lîpX (water) being in it. All he finished it. Then again he ran that youth

11 igō′n ikak¡ō′lîtX. Aqa wi itcō′kuiga ēXt itā′q¡ētsxō tiā′qamateX.
another lake. Then again he took them one their quiver his arrows.

12 Aqa wi tiā′maq itctē′lux. Kanauwē′ iguXoā′ʟXum tiā′qamateX.
Then again shooting it with them he did it with them. All he finished them his arrows.

13 Aqa wi itcî′sōpena ikak¡ō′lîtXpa. Aqa wi itcʟō′qume iqcxē′ʟau
Then again he jumped lake into. Then again it drank the monster

14 ka′nauwē ʟa′Xi Ltcu′qoa ikak¡ō′lîtX lē′iasq. Aqa wi igē′kta all that water lake being in it. Then again he ran

15 yaXi iq¡u′lîpX, igō′nax ikak¡ō′lîtX. Aqa wi itcō′kuiga ēXt that youth, one more lake. Then again he took it one

16 itā′q¡ētcXō tiā′qamateX. Aqa wi tiā′maq itctē′lux. Kanauwē′2 their quiver his arrows. Then again shooting it with them he did it with them. All 17 iguxoā′ʟXum tiā′qamateX. Aqa wi itcî′sōpena ikak¡ō′lîtXpa.

he finished his arrows. Then again he jumped lake into.

18 ʟ¡lap iō′ya k¡a iā′k¡utk¡ut. Aqa wi itcʟō′qume iqcxē′ʟau
Under water he went and his dog. Then again drank it the monster

19 ikak¡ō′lîtX lē′iasq. Gōpa′ lā′ktîx· aqa iqē′wulq iā′k¡utk¡ut. Aqa
the lake (the water) being in it. There the fourth then it was devoured his dog. Then fourth lake, the monster devoured the dog. Then he ran into another lake. He took his arrows and shot at it. "Ieh!" the monster said; "you can not conquer me. I shall devour both of you." The youth shot all his arrows; then he jumped into the water. He had a small knife. Then the monster devoured him, saying. "I told you that you could not conquer me."

[Meanwhile] the Crow was sitting on top of a spruce tree [and sang]:

"Make light, light, light, light!
Grandchild light, grandchild light!
Grandchild light, grandchild light!"[1]

Then the monster said to the Crow: "I wish you were down here, that I might devour you." Then the youth cut the monster below its heart. Before long it felt sick. The dog helped, and they killed the monster. The Crow helped them. When the monster was dead, the youth and the dog went out. They took off the skin of the monster. They cut it up and threw the pieces of skin away. They igē'kta igō'n ikak¡ō'LîtX. Itcō'kuiga tiā'qamatcX. Aqa wi 1 he ran another lake. He took them his arrows. Then again tiā'maq itctē'lux. "Iē'4!" Igē'k·îm yaXi iqcxē'Lau: "Ō, xā'oqxaLx 2 shooting it with them he did it with them. "Iē!" He said that monster: "Oh, can not amtgEnō'Lxoa. Ayamtowu'lq¡ama ā'Lqē." Iguxoā'LXum 3 you two win over me. I shall devour both of you later on." He finished them tiā'qamatcX, aqa itcî'sōpEna Ltcu'qoapa. Itsō'koa-its ayā'q¡ewiqē. 4 his arrows, then he jumped water into. Small his knife.

Aqa itcē'wulq¡. "Ō, ayamtō'lXam xā'oqxaLx amtgEnō'Lxoa." 5
Then he devoured him. "Oh, I told you can not you two win over me."

Aqa igō'La-it at¡ā'ntsa ē'maktcpa sā'xalîX iā'qap ē'maktc: 6
Then it stayed the crow spruce tree on up its top spruce tree:

"Tuwā'X, tuwā'X, tuwā'X, tuwā'X. 7
"Light, light, light, light.

Kā'yu tuwā'X, kā'yu tuwā'X; 8
Grandchild light, grandchild light;

Kā'yu tuwā'X, kā'yu tuwā'X." 9
Grandchild light, grandchild light."

Aqa itcō'lXam iqcxē'Lau: "Ō, qō'i gē'gualîX mkēX! pō 10 Then said to her the monster: "Oh, I wish (you were) below you were! if iamō'lEq¡." Aqa Lq¡ō'pLq¡ōp itcī'yux gē'gualîXpa ē'yamxtcpa yaXi 11 I should swallow you." Then cut he did it below at his heart at that iq¡u'lîpX. Ō2, nēct lē'lē, aqa iā'tcqEm igixE'lôx. Itcigelgē'cgeLîL 12 youth. Oh, not long, then its sickness was on it. It helped him iā'k¡utk¡ut. Ā, aqa icgē'waq yaXi iqcxē'Lau. Ikcgelgē'cgeLîL 13 his dog. Ah, then they two killed it that monster. She helped them two at¡ā'ntsa. Aqa iō'maqt yaXi iqcxē'Lau. Ictō'pa. Aqa Lāq° 14 the crow. Then it died that monster. They two went out. Then take off icgī'yux yaXi iā'p¡askwal yaXi iqcxē'Lau. Ō4, aqa Lq¡u'pL¡qup 15 they did it that its skin that monster. Oh, then cut

[1] This means: "Cut the elk's stomach, so that it will become light inside."

cut it in pieces, some large and some small. The pieces of skin were transformed into prairies; the large pieces became large prairies, the small pieces became small prairies.

---

1 icgī′yuɪx. Ka′mauwē qāx icgiXu′qo-iq yaXi ia′p¡askwal yaXi they did it. Every where they two threw it away that its skin that

2 iqcxē′ʟau. ʟq¡u′pʟq¡up icgī′yux, anā′ iā′qa-iʟ, anā′ iō′k¡oa-its.
monster. Cut they two did it, sometimes large, sometimes small.

3 Ka′mauwe qaːx gi ē′lX qa tɛmqā′emaX igɛ′xux yaXi iā′p¡askwal
Every where this country where prairies became this its skin

4 yaXi iqcxē′ʟau. Manē′x iā′qa-iʟ ʟq¡ōp qasgiō′xoax, aqa itā′qa-iʟ that monster. When large cut they two did it, then large

5 tɛmqa′emaX. Manē′x iō′k¡oa-its ʟq¡ōp qasgiō′xoax, aqa itō′k¡oa-its prairie. When small cut they two did it, then small 6 tɛmqā′emaX.

prairie.

Myth of the Southwest Wind (told 1894)

There were five Southwest winds. The people were poor all the year round. Their canoes and their houses were broken. The houses were blown down. Then Blue-jay said: "What do you think? We will sing to bring the sky down." He continued to say so for five years. Then their chief said: "Quick! call the people." All the people were called. Then they sang, sang, and sang, but the sky did not move. They all sang, but the sky did not move. Last of all the Snow-bird(?) sang. Then the sky began to tilt. [Finally] it tilted so [that it touched] the earth. Then it was fastened to the earth and all the people went up. They arrived in the sky. Blue-jay said: "Skate, you had better go home. You are too wide. They will hit you and you will be killed. Quick! go home."

Ikā'qamtk Iā'k!anē

Southwest Wind Its Myth

Quî'num yaXi ikXā'la ikā'qamtq. Ka'nauwē4 lqētā'qemaX 1 Five those winds southwest winds. All years tgā'kiutqoax ta-itci tê'lXam. Atā'xanim l!me'nl!men naxō'xoax. 2 poor those people. Their canoes broken got.

Tgā'qlēmax l!me'nl!men naxoā'xax, qatctupē'xoaXîX. Ā2qa 3
Their houses broken got, they were blown down. Then igē'k'îm yaXi iqē'sqēs: "Wu'ska, qā'lqa temsā'Xadakoax, pō 4 he said that blue-jay: "Well, how your minds, if ilxe'ktcxam, aqa pō gē'gualîX igē'tē igō'cax." Quā'nem 5 we sing, then if down comes the sky." Five lqētā'qemaX guā'nesum k!oalqē' nigē'mx iq!ē'sqēs. Aqa igē'k'îm 6 years always thus said blue-jay. Then said ilā'Xak!emana: "Ō2, a'yaq aqōXuā'qtcga tê'lXam." Aqa 7 their chief: "Oh, quick call them the people." Then iqō'Xoaktck tê'lXam. Ka'nauwē2 tê'lXam iqō'Xoaqtck. Aqa 8 they were called the people. All the people were called. Then igō'goatcxem, igō'goatcxem, igō'goatcxem. Nēct igē'xela igō'cax. 9 they sang, they sang. they sang. Not it moved the sky.

Ka'nauwē2 igō'goatcxem. Nâct igē'xela igō'cax. Alā'xt!ax 10
All they sang. Not moved the sky. Last lgō'goatsmēnqan ilî'ktcxam. Aqa lāX igē'xax igō'cax. LāX 11 the snow-bird(?) sang. Then tilt did the sky. Tilt ilgi'yax lgō'goatsmēnqan. Ā'qa ēlX pät laX igē'xôx igō'cax. 12

he made it the snow-bird(?). Then ground real(?) tilt did the sky.

Aqa k!au iqē'yux gē'gualix'. Aqa ituquē'wulXt tê'lXam 13
Then tied it was below. Then they went up the people ka'nauwē. Aqa itgī'yam cā'xalîX igō'caxpa. Igē'k'îm iqi!ē'sqēs: 14

all. Then they arrived up sky in. He said blue-jay:

"Ō, tgt!ō'kti amxk!oā'ya ēaiai'yu! txal ē'mēxalxt, a'lqē kelā'-îx' 15
"Oh, good go home skate! too you wide, later on far acxamgēlēmā'ya, aî'aq ēmē'maq aqēmelō'xoa. Ai'aq mu'Xk!oa!" 16 they will hit you, quick shooting you you will be. Quick go home!"

The Skate said: "Shoot at me; afterward I will shoot at you." The Skate stood up. Blue-jay took his bow and shot at him. But the Skate turned sideways and Blue-jay missed him. Then he told Blue-jay: "Now I shall shoot at you." Blue-jay stood up. The Skate said: "Raise your foot before your body; if I should hit your body, you would die." Blue-jay held up his foot. Then the Skate shot him right in the middle of his foot. He fell down crying. Now the people had arrived in the sky. It was cold. When it got dark, they said to the Beaver: "Quick! go and fetch the fire." The Beaver went up to the town. Then he swam about in the water. [Soon] he was seen, and one person said: "A Beaver is swimming about." Then a man ran down to the water, struck the Beaver, and killed him at once. He hauled him to the house, and said: "What shall we do with that Beaver?" "We will singe him." They placed him over the fire and the sparks caught in his fur. Then he arose

1	Igē'k·îm	ēaiai'yū:	"Nî'Xua	ētcî'maq	ē'nitX,	kē'qamt	ēmē'maq
	He said	the skate:	"Well	shooting me	be able to do,	afterward	shooting you
2	ayamELō'Xoa."	Iō'tXuit	ēaiai'yu.	Itcā'kELga	ayā'pL¡ikē	iq¡ē'sqēs.
	I shall do you."	He stood	the skate.	He took it	his bow	blue-jay.
3	Iā'maq	itcē'lax;	igixk¡Elatā'mit	ēaiai'yū.	Iqē'yukLp	ēaiai'yū.
	Shooting him	he did him;	he turned round	the skate.	He was missed	the skate.
4	Iqiō'lXam	iq¡ē'sqēs:	"Tca	maî't¡ax	ēmē'maq	ayamELō'Xua."
	He was told	blue-jay:	"Well,	you also	shooting you	I shall do you."
5	Iō'tXuit	iqē'sqēs.	Igē'k·îm	ēaiai'yu:	"LE'mēpe	ē'wi	LE'xa,
	He stood	blue-jay.	He said	the skate:	"Your foot	thus	do it,
6	cā'xalîX	LE'xa,	yā'wukîX	qamō'mqtx,	ma'nîx	ē'miLq	ēmē'maq
	up	do it,	else	you die,	when	your body	shooting you
7	ayamELō'Xua."	Ē'wi	cā'xalîX	itcî'lôx	Lē'yapc	iqē'sqēs.	Iā'maq
	I do you."	Thus	up	he did it	his foot	blue-jay.	Shooting him
8	iqē'lux	LE'iapcpa.	Lē	katsEkpā'	iā'maq	iqē'lôx.	Kōpā'	iqē'sqēs
	he was done	his foot in.	Just	middle in	shooting him	he was done.	Then	blue-jay
9	ēyuLuwā'iqoxo-it,	igigE'tcax.	Ā4,	itgī'am	cā'xalîX	ta-îtci
	he slipped down,	he cried.	Ah,	they arrived	above	those
10	tê'lXam.	Itsō'mit	igē'xax.	Igō'ponEm.	Iqiō'lXam	iqoa-inē'nē:
	people.	Cold	it was.	It became dark.	He was told	the beaver:
11	"Aî'aq	ā'tōL	agā'lEmam."	Iō'ya	cā'xalîX	iqoa-inē'nē	yaXi
	"Quick	fire	go and take."	He went	up	the beaver	that 12	ē'lXampa.	Aqa	iō'k¡uiXa	Lteu'qoapa.	Iqē'qELkEl	iqoa-inē'nē.
	town to.	Then	he swam	water in.	He was seen	the beaver.
13	ILE'k·îm	LgoaLē'lX:	"Iqoa-inē'nē	yaXi	iuk¡uē'Xala."	ILE'kXta
	He said	a person:	"A beaver	that	swims about."	He ran
14	mā'LnîX	LgoaLē'lX.	Iqiō'qwîlX	iqoa-inē'nē.	Gōpā'	iō'maqt, toward the water	a person.	He was hit	the beaver.	There	he was dead,
15	nau'i	iō'maqt.	Iqiō'Lata	LXE'le-u.	ILE'k·îm	La'Xi	LgoaLē'lX:
	at once	he was dead.	He was hauled	inland.	He said	that	person:
16	"Qā	aqiō'Xoa	iqoa-inē'nē?"	"Ā,	aqiaLk¡tsx·imā'ya."	IqiaLqxā'ema
	"How	shall be done	the beaver?"	"Ah,	he shall be singed."	He was put 17	ā'tōLpa.	Ē'ka	ikq¡oā'yuLqoXuit	ā'tōL	ē'yaqcō.	Igixe'latck
	fire on.	Thus	it struck him	the fire	his hair.	He arose
18	iqoa-inē'nē.	Igē'kta	Lā'xanē.	Iō'k¡uiXa	mā'LnîX.	Itcō'k^{u}La	wuX
	the beaver.	He ran	outside.	He swam	toward the water.	He carried it	that and ran outside. He swam away from the shore, carrying the fire. [Soon] he arrived at [the place where] his relatives [were staying] and brought them the fire. The people made a fire. Then they said to the Skunk: "Go and examine the house, and try to find a hole where we can enter in the night." The Skunk went and laughed, running about under the houses. Then an old man said: "Behold! there is a Skunk. Never before has a Skunk been here, and now we hear it. Search for it. Kill it." They looked for the Skunk. Then it ran home [because] it became afraid. They told Robin: "Quick! go and look at the house. See if there is a hole where we can enter at night." Robin went and entered a small house. There were two old women. He warmed himself and remained there. Then they said to the Mouse and to the Rat: "Quick! go and look for Robin." The Mouse and the Rat went. They entered the last house. Then they cut the bowstrings and the strings of the coats of the women. They did so in all the houses. They cut all the bowstrings. Then they went home.

ā′tōL.	Iō′yam	tiā′euXtîkepa.	Itcō′kʷLam	wuX	ā′tōL.	Igōxuē′kiLx	1
fire.	He arrived	his relatives at.	He brought it	that	fire.	They made a fire ta-itci	tê′lXam.	Iqō′lXam	ap¡ē′exac:	"Ai′aq	amē′ya	atE′ktctam	2
those	people.	She was told	the skunk:	"Quick	go	go and look for tqu′Lē,	manē′x	qā′xpa	alxacgō′pqa	Xā′pîX,	ma′nix	amtuegā′ma	3
the house,	when	where	we go in	at night,	when	you find it
qā′xpa	Lxoa′p	ōguakē′x	tqu′Lē."	Igō′ya	ap¡ē′exac:	"Hā′2,	hê, hê, hê,"	4
where	hole	is	the house."	She went	the skunk:	"Ha,	he, he, he," ka′nauwē	qāx	gē′gualîX	tqLē′maX	kaxq¡ayā′wulalEmtek.			ILE′k!îm	5
every	where	below	the houses	she laughed.			He said
Lq¡eyō′qt:	"Ō,	nîct	qa′nsîx	ap¡ē′exac	nō′yamx	dē′ka.	Tate¡a	dē′ka	6 an old man:	"Oh,	never	a skunk	arrived	here.	Behold!	here iqaltcî′mElē.	Mcgā′naxL	mcgā′waq!"	Iqō′naxL	wuX	ap¡ē′exac.	7
she is heard.	Search for her	kill her!"	She was searched for	that	skunk.
Aqa	igā′Xk¡oa:	k¡wac	igā′xôx.	"Ai′aq,"	iqiō′lXam	skā′sa-it.	"ai′aq	8
Then	she went home;	afraid	she got.	"Quick,"	he was told	robin,	"quick mē′ya	tE′kctam	tqu′Lē	qā′xpa	Lxoa′p	ōguakē′x.	gōpa′	Xā′pîX	9
go	go and look at	the house	where	hole	is,	there	at night
alxō′pqa."	Iō′ya	skā′sa-it.	Iō′pqa	itō′k¡oa-its	tqu′Lē.	Gōpa′	10
we will go in."	He went	robin.	He entered	a small	house.	There
mô′kctîkc	tq¡eyō′qtîke	oxoēlā′etîX.	Gōpa′	igixckoā′mit	skā′sa-it.	11
two	old ones	were.	Then	he warmed himself	robin.
Guā′nEsum	iō′ya	skā′sa-it.	"Ai′aq	mE′tēya,"	iqcō′lXam	ā′cō	k¡a	12
Always	he was gone	robin.	"Quick	you two go,"	they two were told	mouse	and iqā′lEpas.	"Amtgenā′xLam	skā′sa-it."	Ictō′ya	ā′cō	k¡a	iqā′lapas.	13
rat.	"Go and look for	robin."	They two went	mouse	and	rat.
Ictō′pqa	kE′mkitîX	tqu′Lē;	ictō′pqa.	Aqa	Lq¡ō′pLq¡ōp	icgE′Lux	14
They two entered	the last	house;	they two entered.	Then	cut	they did them
Lpl¡î′kc	Lgā′LanEmax.	Lq¡ō′pLq¡ōp	icgE′tux	tE′nEmcke	tgā′LanEmax	15
the bows	their strings.	Cut	they two did them	the women	their strings
tgā′q¡ēLxap.	Ā4,	ka′nauwē	ta′Xi	tqLē′maX	ā′kua	icgE′tôx.	16
their coats.	Ah,	all	those	houses	thus	they did them.
Icktō′LXum	Lgā′LanEmax	Lpl¡î′kē.	Aqa	icE′Xk¡oa.	"Ā,	aqa	17
They finished them	their strings	the bows.	Then	they two went home.	"Ah,	then

[They said:] "We cut all their bowstrings." Robin had disappeared, and they said: "Perhaps they have killed him." Then they attacked the town. After a while Robin went home. His belly was burnt red by the fire. Then these people were killed. They tried to span their bows, but they had no strings. The women intended to put on their coats and to run away, but the strings were cut. They stayed there and they were killed. The Eagle took the eldest Southwest wind by its head; the Owl took another one, the Golden Eagle a third one, the Turkey the fourth one, and the Chicken-hawk took the youngest one by its head. After a little while the four [elder ones] were killed. Then the youngest one escaped from the Chicken-hawk. The one which the Turkey [held] would have escaped, if they had not helped him. Only the youngest Southwest wind escaped from them. Then the people went home. Blue-jay went down first. His foot was sore.

1 ka'nauwē ʟqi̯ō'pʟqi̯ōp intgᴇ'ʟux ʟgā'ʟanᴇmax ʟpʟi̯î'kē." Kj̇ayā' all cut we did them their strings the bows." Nothing

2 ikē'x skā'sa-it. "Ō," igugoā'kim, "ʟXuan iqē'waq skā'sa-it." became robin. "Oh," they said, "perhaps he is killed robin."

3 Aqa sāqi̯ itgī'yux yaXi ē'lXam. Koalē' wi skā'sa-it igē'Xk̡oa.
Then war they made on that town. Then after a while again robin went home.

4 Ka'nauwē ia'wan ʟpîl igē'xôx. Ā'tōʟ ʟpîl igī'yux. Aqa iqtōtē'na
All his belly red became. The fire red made it. Then they were killed

5 ta-itci tê'lXam. Kē'nuwa qaʟgāgᴇlgā'x aʟā'pʟi̯ikē, k̡a nîct those people. Intending they spanned their bow, and not

6 itcā'ʟana. Kē'nuwa ʟqagē'l aʟuwā'Xita; qaʟgagᴇlgā'x aʟā'qi̯îʟxap, its string. Intending women ran away; they took them their coats,

7 ka'nauwē k̡u'tk̡ut itcā'ʟan. Gōpā' qaʟōʟā'-itx, gopā' qʟuwā'qoax.
all cut their strings. There they stayed, there they died.

8 ItcʟE'nxuktē yaXi ixgᴇ'kXun iqā'qamtk, atei̯îqtei̯ē'q ikʟE'nxuktē.
He took him at his head that oldest one southwest wind, the eagle took him at his head.

9 ItcʟE'nxuktē ikā'uXau yaXi igō'n ikā'qamtk. ItcʟE'nXuktē itei̯ē'nu
He took him at his head the owl that one southwest wind. He took him at his head the golden eagle

10 yaXi igō'n iXā't ikā'qamtk. ItcʟE'nXuktē iqi̯elē'qi̯elē yaXi igō'n that other one southwest wind. He took him at his head the turkey that other 11 iXā't ikā'qamtk. IkʟE'nXuktē apᴇ'ntcaqʟ yaXi ixgᴇ'sqax. As one southwest wind. He took him at his head the chicken-hawk that youngest one. And 12 nō'ʟi̯îX aqa iqto'tēna ka'nauwē lakt. Āqa apᴇ'ntcaqʟ igā'xoya a little while then they were killed all four. Then the chicken-hawk it escaped from her

13 yaXi ixgᴇ'sqax ikā'qamtk. Iqi̯elē'qi̯elē ā'kua pō igē'xoya qē nîket that youngest one southwest wind. The turkey thus if he escaped from him if not

14 qigᴇlgē'cgam ĒXtka ikā'qamtk igē'ʟxoya. Yā'ima ixgᴇ'sqax he was helped. One only southwest wind escaped from them. Only he the youngest one 15 ikā'qamtk igē'ʟxoye. Aqa igō'Xoak̡oa ta-îtci tê'lXam. Iā'newa southwest wind escaped from them. Then they went home those people. He first 16 iqi̯e'sqēs iō'qo-itco. Lē'iapc iʟā'tcqem iʟE'lôx. Aqa itqE'qētcu blue-jay he went down. His foot its sickness was on it. Then they went down

Then the people descended. The Skate was still above. Then [Blue-jay] cut the rope and the sky sprang back. Part of the people were still above. They became stars. [Therefore] all kinds of things are [in the sky]—the Woodpecker, the Fisher, the Skate, the Elk, and the Deer. Many things are there. Only the youngest Southwest wind is alive nowadays.

ta-îtci	tê'lXam.	Gōpā'	ikē'x	ēaiai'yu	cā'xalîX.	Aqa	ʟqi̯up	1
those	people.	There	was	the skate	above.	Then	cut itcī'yuX	yaXi	iā'ʟan	igō'cax.	Ēyuʟā'taXit	sā'xalîX	igō'cax.		2
he did it	that	its rope	the sky.	It sprang	up	the sky.
Gōpā'	aqā'watîkc	tê'lXam	cā'xalîX.	Gōpā'	tqi̯ēXā'nap	igō'xoax		3
There	part of them	the people	above.	There	stars	they became cā'xalîX.	Gopa'	ka'nauwe	tā'nki:	înʟawî'et	ca'xalîX;	gōpā'		4
above.	There	all	things:	the woodpecker	above;	there ēqatē'tîX	cā'xalîX;	ēaiai'yū	gōpā'	cā'xalîX;	îmō'lak	gōpā'	cā'xalîX;	5
the fisher	above;	the skate	there	above;	the elk	there	above;
ēmā'cɛn	gōpā'	cā'xalîX.	ʟgā'pɛla	tā'nɛmax	cā'xalîX.	Gōpā'	aqa	6
the deer	there	above.	Many	things	above.	There	then iXā'tka	ikā'qamtk	tē'kōtcîX;	iā'ema	ixgɛ'sqax.				7
one only	southwest wind	nowadays;	he only	the youngest one.

Rabbit and Deer (told 1894)

The mother of the Rabbit was the Deer. They used to gather wood and berries every day. The Rabbit was playing about in the woods. He was eating roots all the time. Then he found short rotten branches. He took those rotten branches and broke off Polypodium leaves. The Rabbit thought: "Oh, I wish those branches would be transformed into people." Then he tied the branches and made them look just like men. Then he pulled the branches out and carried them to the water. He hid them near the house. He came home. There was his mother. She said to him: "Where have you been? You have been away a long time." He said: "I have been in the woods. I have been gathering roots." The next morning his mother rose.

Ikanaxme'nē kĵa Imā'cen Ictā'kĵanē

The Rabbit and the Deer Their Myth

1 Wā'yaq ikanaXmɛ'nē kĵa imā'cɛn. Ka'nauwē lkā'ētax
His mother the rabbit and the deer. Every day

2 nɛxɛlkĵē'wulalɛma-îtx. Aqa ikanaXmɛ'nē nîxkĵayā'wulalɛma-îtx.
she gathered roots and berries. Then the rabbit always played about.

3 Yîxē' lxɛ'lēu qayō'yîx qadîxɛlɛmō'xuma-îtx tkanatskuē'. Ā2qa
There inland he went and always ate roots (sp.?). Then

4 qatɛlucgā'mx lɛ'puke ltɛxoā'lap. lɛgɛnxā't wuXi ā'lɛmlɛm he took them branches rotten sticks. He placed them on that rotten wood

5 laXi lɛ'puke. Aqa lɛ'xlɛx atcō'xoax ā'qɛlqɛl. NîXloXoā'it those branches. Then break he did them polypodium leaves. He thought

6 ikanaXmɛ'nē: Ō tcXua tê'lXam ōguakē'x gi lɛ'puke. Aqa
the rabbit: O, if people became these branches. Then

7 kĵau'kĵau qatclō'xoax laXi lɛ'puke. L̥ĵa tê'lXam qalxō'xoax laXi tie he did them those branches. Just as people he made them those

8 lɛ'puke. Aqa lu'xlux qatclō'xoax ka'nauwē laXi lɛ'puke. Aqa branches. Then pull out he did them all those branches. Then

9 qatclō'k^{u}lx mā'lnîX. Q̣oā'p tɛ'ctaqL. aqa qatɛlupcū'tx laXi he carried them to the water. Near their town, then he hid them those 10 lɛ'puke. NîXkĵoā'mamx. Ōxt wā'yaq. Igiō'lXam: "Qā'mta imō'ya? branches. He came home. There was his mother. She said to him: "Where did you go?

11 Lē'lē kĵaya imɛ'xôx." Igē'k·im: "lxē'2leu inō'ya. Tkanatskuē'
Long nothing you were." He spoke: "inland I went. Roots (sp.?)

12 intonā'xlam." Wāx igē'tcuktîX. Kawī'X aqa igaxɛ'latck wā'yaq.
I searched for them." Next morning it became day. Early then arose his mother.

She went to gather roots. They had one large canoe. The Rabbit launched it and went down the river. There was a town down the river. There were many houses, and the people had dried salmon. The people were silent. Now they heard war-cries. They said: "Oh, maybe somebody is making war on us." All the people ran away. The Rabbit landed and went up to the houses. There were no people there; they had all run away. Then he stole. He stole their winter salmon. His canoe was full. He stole their roe; he stole all kinds of things. He went home and came to his house. He carried up the different kinds of food. In the evening his mother came home. "Oh, where did you take that food?" she said to him. "I made war on those people down the river." "Oh, then you will be killed," said his mother. "Oh, I am not going to die. When they strike me, I shall rise again." Then they ate, and they had much food in their house.

They stayed there five days. Then he went down the river again. He put those branches into his canoe. Then he went down to

Igaxᴇlk!ē'wulalᴇmam. ĒXt ictā'Xanīm, iā'qa-iʟ ictā'Xanīm. Aqa 1
She went to gather roots and berries. One their canoe, large their canoe. Then itcīō'cgiʟx yaXi ictā'Xanīm. Aqa iō'stsX qā'eqamîX ikanaXmᴇ'nē. 2 he launched it that their canoe. Then he went down the river down the river the rabbit.

Ē'lXam qā'eqamîX igē'xax, ʟgā'pᴇla tqʟē'max. Ōxuēk"cᴇ'mal 3
A town down the river was, many houses. They were drying salmon ta-îtci tê'lXam. Kā4 oxoēlā'itîx· ta-îtci tê'lXam; aqa ē'ʟutk igē'xox. 4 those people. Where were those people; then war-cries became.

Igogoā'kim: "Ō ʟqōct sāq" iqᴇ'lxôx." Itgwā'Xit kanauwē' ta-îtci 5
They said: "Oh behold! war is made on us." They ran away all those tê'lXam. Igixē'gela-îx· ikanaXmᴇ'nē. Iō'ptcka ʟxᴇ'leuX taXi 6 people. He landed the rabbit. He went up inland those tqʟē'mapa. K!ôm tê'lXam. Ka'nauwē itgwā'Xit. Aqa 7 houses to. No noise people. All had run away. Then igē'kuXtk ikanaXmᴇ'nē. Itcî'tuXtk tᴇ'q!awan. Pā2ʟ iā'xanim 8 he stole the rabbit. He stole them winter salmon. Full his canoe itcî'tux. Akibō't itcō'Xtka. Kā'nauwē tā'nki itcî'yuXtk. 9 he made them. Salmon roe in skins he stole it. All things he stole them.

Igē'Xk!oa. Iō'yam tᴇ'ctaqʟpa. Iō'ptega. Itctō'kuîptck taXi 10
He went home. He arrived that town at. He went up. He carried them up those ʟxᴇlᴇmā'emax. Tsō'yustîX igaXk!oā'mam wā'yaq: "Ō, qā'xpa 11 kinds of food. In the morning she came home his mother: "O, where at imō'guiga gi ʟxᴇlᴇmā'emax?" igiō'lXam. "Ā, sāq" inᴇ'tôx 12 did you take them these kinds of food?" she said to him. "Ah, war I made on them ta-îtci qā'eqamîX tê'lXam." "Hē, aqamuwā'qoa," igiō'lXam 13 those down river people." "Heh, you will be struck," she said to him wā'yaq. "Ō, nîct qantsî'x anō'mᴇqta manîx aqᴇnuwā'qoa." Aqa 14 his mother. "Oh, never I shall be dead when I am struck." Then icʟxʟxᴇ'lᴇmᴇtck. Aqa ʟgā'pᴇla tetā'ʟxᴇlᴇmaēmax tᴇ'ctaqʟpa. 15 they two ate. Then many their kinds of food their house in.

Qoā'nᴇmîX iō'qoya-îX aqa wi iō'ya, iō'stsō. Aqa wit 16
Five times he slept then again he went, he went down the river. Then again the place where those people were staying. Now they heard war-cries. One person said: "Do you see many people?" A youth looked out, and said: "Oh, there are many people. There is a canoe full of people;" and all those people ran away. The Rabbit landed and went up. There were no people. He stole all kinds of food. His canoe was full. He stole salmon backs; he stole dried salmon; he stole all kinds of things. Then he went home. He came to their house. Then he carried up that food. In the evening his mother came home. She said to him: "Where did you take that food?" "Oh, I made war on those people down the river?" "Oh, they will kill you." "Be quiet; I am not going to die when they strike me."

After five days he went down the river again. Those people said: "When these people come again we will fight them." The people were quiet and war-cries were heard. Then they said: "The people are coming." A person looked out. "Oh, many people are coming;

1 itcLakElā'etamit LaXi LE'pukc. Aqa wi iō'stsō, kā oxoēlā'etîx· he put them into the canoe those branches. Then again he went down the river. where were

2 ta-îtci tê'lXam. Aqa wi ē'Lutk igē'xôx. ILE'k·îm LēXā't LgoaLē'lX:
those people. Then again war-cry became. He said one person:

3 "Amcgē'qamitck Lgā'pElatîkc tci tê'lXam?" ILE'kik·ct LeXā't
"Do you see many [int. part.] people?" He looked one

4 Lq¦u'lîpX Lā'Xanē. ILE'k·îm: "Ō, Lgā'pElatîkc ac pāL yaXi youth outside. He said: "Oh, many people and full that 5 ikE'nim tê'lXam." Itgwā'Xit ta-îtci tê'lXam ka'nauwē. Igixē'gela-i canoe people." They ran away those people all. He landed

6 ikanaXmE'nē. Iō'ptcga. K·¦ôm tê'lXam ka'nauwē. Aqa igē'kuXtk.
the rabbit. He went up. No noise people all. Then he stole.

7 Itcî'tuXtk txElemā'emax. Pā'L iā'Xanim itcî'tuXt. Lxōikō'tcX
He stole them kinds of food. Full his canoe he stole it. Salmon backs

8 itcî'LuXtk. AlXgu'la itcō'Xtga. Ka'nauwē tā'nki itcî'yuXtk.
he stole them. Dried salmon split along back he stole them. All things he stole them.

9 Igē'Xk¦oa. IgîXk¦oā'mam tE'ctaqLpa. Itctō'kuîptck taXi
He went home. He came home their house to. He carried them up those 10 txalemā'emax. Tsō'yustîX igaXk¦oā'mam wā'yaq. Igiō'lXam:

kinds of food. In the evening she came home his mother. She said to him:

11 "Qā'xpa imō'guiga gi LxElemā'emax?" "Ā, sāq° inE'tux ta-îtci
"Where at did you take these kinds of food?" "Ah, wait I made on them those

12 qā'eqamîX tê'lXam." "Ō, aqamuwā'qoa." "Ac pEt mE'xôx. Ā, down river people." "Oh, you will be struck." "And quiet be. Ah, 13 manîx aqEnuwā'qoa, nîct qantsî'x anō'mEqt."

if I am struck, never I die."

14 Qoā'nEmîX iō'qoya-îX aqa wit'ax iō'stsō. Igōguā'kîm ta-îtci Five times he slept then again he went down river. They said those 15 tê'lXam: "Manîx wit'ax atgatē'mam ta-îtci tê'lXam, aqa people: "When again they arrive those people, then

16 lXktomā'qta." Kā oxoēlā'etîx· ta-îtci tê'lXam; aqa wi ē'Lutk we will fight with them." Where were those people; then again war-cry

17 igē'xôx. Igōguā'kîm: "Aqa tgatē't tê'lXam." ILE'kikct LeXā't became. They said: "Then they are coming the people." He looked one they are paddling. Let us run away." All the people ran away. The Rabbit landed and went up. There were no people. Then he stole much food. He went home; and when he came home he carried up that food. In the evening his mother came home. "Oh, don't fight those people any more; they will kill you." "I am not going to die. When they strike me, I shall recover."

After five days he went down the river again. He twisted spruce limbs and tied those branches. He pulled out many branches, and they were all moving when he was paddling.[1] He came near the town. Then war-cries were heard. Now those people took their arrows and went out. They said: "There are many people coming; let us run away," and all the people ran away. The Rabbit landed and began to steal. He stole all kinds of food. Then his canoe was full. Then he went home. He came home and carried all the food

Lgoaʟē′lX	Lā′xanîX:	"Ā,	Lgā′pɛlatîkc	tê′lXam	tgatē′t;	1
person	outside:	"Ah,	many	people	are coming;
ōguakʟē′wala.	A′yaq	lXwā′Xita."	Itgwā′Xit	ka′nauwē	ta-îtci	2
they are paddling.	Quick	let us run away."	They ran away	all	those tê′lXam.	Igixē′gela-iX	ikanaXmɛ′nē.	Iō′ptega.	K!ôm	ka′nauwē	3 people.	He landed	the rabbit.	He went up.	No noise	all tê′lXam.	Aqa wi	igē′kuXtk.	Itcî′ʟuXtk	Lgā′pɛla	lxɛlɛmā′emax.	4
people.	Then again	he stole.	He stole them	many	kinds of food.
Igē′Xk!oa.	IgîXk!oā′mam.	Itctō′kuîptck	taXi	lxɛlɛmā′emax.	5
He went home.	~~ came home.	He carried them up	those	kinds of food.
Tsō′yustîX	igaXk!oā′mam	wā′yaq.	"Ō,	kopɛ′t	aqa	sāq°	mtō′xoam	6
In the evening	she came home	his mother.	"Oh,	enough	now	war	make on them
tê′lXam.	Aqamuwā′qoa."	"Aqamuwā′qoa,	ma′nîx	anō′mɛqta	aʟaqē	7
the people.	You will be struck."	"I am struck,	when	I am dead	by and by atcînalXatā′kua."	8
I shall recover."
Wi	qoā′nɛmîX	iō′qoya-îX	aqa	wi	iō′stsō.	Xā′Xa	9
Again	five times	he slept	then	again	he went down the river.	Twist
itcî′tôx	tpē′naLX,	aqa	k!au′k!au	itcî′lôx	laXi	lɛ′puke.	10
he did them	spruce limbs,	then	tie	he did them	those	branches.
Qatcixk!a′goatckoax	aqa	qaʟxɛlā′yuwalalɛmx	laXi	lɛ′puke.	11
He pulled them out much	then	they moved much	those	branches.
Q!oā′p	itciō′Xoam	yaXi	ē′lXam.	Aqa	wi	ē′lutk	itcî′yux.	12
Near	he came it	that	town.	Then	again	war-cry	he made it.
Itgō′guiga	tgā′qamateX	ta-îtci	tê′lXam.	Itgɛ′pa.	Igōgoā′kîm:	13
They took them	their arrows	those	people.	They went out.	They said:
"Ō	tgā′pɛlatîkc	ta-îtci	tê′lXam.	Tgt!ō′kti	lxwā′Xita!"	14
"Oh	many	those	people.	Good	we run away!"
Itguwā′Xit	ka′nauwē	ta-îtci	tê′lXam.	Igixē′gela-i	ikanaXmɛ′nē.	15
They ran away	all	those	people.	He landed	the rabbit.
Aqa	wi	igē′kuXtk.	Itcî′tuXtk	kanauwē′	lxɛlɛmā′emax.	Pāʟ	16
Then	again	he stole.	He stole them	all	kinds of food.	Full
iā′xanim,	aqa	wi	igē′Xk!oa.	IgîXk!oā′mam.	Itctō′kuîptck	taXi	17
his canoe,	then	again	he went home.	He came home.	He carried them up	those lxɛlɛmā′emax.	Tsō′yustîX	igaXk!oā′mam	wā′yaq.	Igiō′lXam	18
kinds of food.	In the evening	she came home	his mother.	She said to him

[1] They were tied to his paddles so that they all moved up and down with his motions, looking like so many people.

up to his house. In the evening his mother came. She said to him: "You went again." He said to her: "Yes, I went. All those people ran away." "Oh, stop going," said his mother.

After five days he went again. The people were quiet and they heard war-cries. They took their arrows and all went out. They saw the canoe. "Oh, many people are coming. They are uttering war-cries." Then the people ran away. But one old man hid under the bed. The Rabbit landed and entered the house. The old man saw him. He looked secretly. Behold, the Rabbit was stealing. He threw down one salmon roe. He ate it. His teeth were full. Then he rolled about and shut his eyes. The old man took a stick. He hit him here in his face, just across his eyes, and there the Rabbit lay dead. The old man hauled him out of the house and shouted. "Come down!" said the old man. "Behold, the Rabbit has been stealing from us." Now the people came down. They said: "Behold the

1 wī't'ax: "L¡a imō'ya." Itcō'lXam: "Ā2, inō'ya. Ka'nauwē ta-îtci again: "Behold you went." He said to her: "Ah, I went. All those

2 tê'lXam qatɛnXuwā'xitx." "Ō aqa kopɛ't imō'ya," igiō'lXam people always run away." "Oh now enough you go," she said to him

3 wā'yaq.
his mother.

4 Wi qoā'nɛmîX iō'qoya-îX aqa wi iō'ya. Kā2 oxoēlā'ētîx· Again five times he slept then again he went. Silent were

5 ta-îtci tê'lXam. Aqa wi ē'Lutk igē'xôx. Itgō'guiga tgā'qamatcX those people. Then again war-cry became. They took them their arrows

6 ta-îtci tê'lXam. ItgE'pa ka'nauwē. Iqē'qɛlkɛl yaXi ikɛ'nim.
those people. They went out all. It was seen that canoe.

7 "Ō Lgā'pɛlatîkc tê'lXam tgatē't. Ē'Lutk tgioxō'la." Ā'qa
"Oh many people are coming. War-cry they say much." Then

8 itguwā'Xit ta-îtci tê'lXam ka'nauwē. LeXā't Lq¡eyō'qt lxɛ'pcut they ran away those people all. One old man hid

9 gē'gualîX ilXɛ'mē. Igixē'gela-îx ikanaXmɛ'nē. Ia'ckupq taXi under the bed. He landed the rabbit. He entered that

10 tqu'Lɛpa. ALgiō'qumit LaXi Lq¡eyō'qt. lxē'k¡Elpsōt. Ō, Lqōct house in. He looked that old man, he looked secretly. Oh, behold!

11 ikanaXmɛ'nē igigō'XtgEla. Itcaxē'ma aēXt ak·ebō't gē'gualîX.
the rabbit was stealing much. He threw down one salmon roe put up in a skin down.

12 Aqa iLexɛ'lɛmuX laXi lɛ'qāpt. Pā'lɛmax iLɛ'xôx Lia'qatcX.
Then he ate that salmon roe. Full got his teeth.

13 Aqa igixcgē'lalɛmtck isînp¡ō'Xuit. ILgē'gElga ē'mɛqō laXi
Then he rolled about he shut his eyes. He took it a stick that 14 Lq¡ēyō'qt, iLgigɛ'ltcîm gipā'tîx· siā'Xôstpa, siā'xôst qasxɛnɛmō't.

old man, he hit him right here his face on, his eyes across.

15 Kōpā' iō'maqt ikanaXmɛ'nē. ILgiō'Lata lā'xanîX laXi Lq¡eyō'qt
There he was dead the rabbit. He hauled him outside that old man

16 ka lxɛ'lqamx. "Amcā'Lx, amcî'Lxa!" iLɛ'k·îm Laxi Lqēyō'qt.
and shouted. "Come down to the water, come down to the water!" said that old man.

17 "Lqōct ikanaXmɛ'nē gitcɛlxō'XtgEla." Aqa itgɛ'Lxa ta-îtci
"Behold the rabbit he stole from us." Then they went toward the water those

18 tê'lXam. "Ō," igugōā'kim, "Lqōct ikanaXmɛ'nē." Iqiō'kctam people. "Oh," they said, "behold the rabbit." They went to see it Rabbit!" They went to look at the canoe and saw that it was full of branches. Polypodium leaves were tied to them. Then they skinned the Rabbit and took off his hide. In the evening his mother came home. Her son was not there. "Oh, my son is killed," she thought. The Rabbit was thrown into the water near the beach. He had no skin. Early in the morning his mother went down the river to search for him. She cried while she was going. She went down the river and came to the water in front of the town. There she saw something white lying on the ground. She went to look at it. Behold, her child was lying there! She carried him to her canoe and put him into it. Then she went up the river crying. She went a long distance. Then she said to her child: "Rise! Are you dead, indeed? Rise!" She said this often. When she was near her house the Rabbit rose. "Oh," he said, "I slept a long time and I got cold. I have no blanket. His mother said to him: "Did you sleep? You were dead. You were killed. You were skinned, and your skin was taken away from you." "Let us return to get my skin." "Oh, maybe we shall iā′xanim mā′ʟnîX, aqa ʟE′puke pāL yaXi ikE′nīm. K¡au′k¡au 1 his canoe at the water, then branches full that canoe. Tied ā′qElqEl aʟE′lôxt. Aqa sEX^{u} iqī′yux. Lāq iqē′xux iā′p¡askwal. 2 polypodium leaves were. Then skinned he was. Off was made his skin.

Tsō′yustîX igaXk¡oā′mam wā′yaq. K¡ā itcā′xan. "Ō, 3
In the evening she came home his mother. None her son. "Oh, aqa iqē′waq itcî′xan," igaXʟō′xoa-ît. Aqa iqēxē′ma ʟteu′qoa 4 then he is killed my son," she thought. Then he was thrown water qaʟXumwē′la ikanaXmE′nē. Aqa k¡ā iā′p¡askwal. Kawē′x aqa 5 shore line the rabbit. Then none his skin. Early then igō′stsō wā′yaq igiunā′xLam. Ō′qulqt igō′ya. Igō′stsō. Igō′yam 6

She went down the river his mother she searched for him. She wailed she went. She went down the river. She arrived at yaXi ē′lXam ayā′maʟnîX. Igē′qElkEl tā′nki tk¡ōp ixē′mat. Igō′ya, 7 that town toward the water from it. She saw it something white lay there. she went.

igiō′ketam. ʟqōct itcā′xan yaXi ixē′mat. Igē′yukʟ mā′ʟnîX 8 she went to look at it. Behold! her son that lay there. She carried him seaward igiō′kʟa ictā′Xanimpa. Igiakxā′yîm, aqa igō′suwulX. Ō′qulqt. 9 she hauled him her canoe into. She put him into the canoe. then she went up the river. She cried.

KElā′îX igō′ya. Igiō′lXam itcā′xan: "MxE′latck! Ā′qanuwē tci 10 Far she went. She said to him her son: "Rise! Indeed [int. part.]

imō′maqt? MxE′latck!" Ē′xawitiX igiō′lXam. Q¡oā′p tE′etaqʟpa 11 you dead? Rise!" Often she said to him. Near their house at aqa igixE′latck ikanaXmE′nē. "Ō," igē′kim, "ē′yaʟqtîX inoqō′ptē. 12 then he rose the rabbit. "Oh," he said, "long I slept.

Aqa tsEs inE′xôx. Qāx itcî′k¡ētē?" Igiō′lXam wā′yaq: 13
Then cold I got. Where my blanket?" She said to him his mother.

"ImEqō′pti tci? Imō′maqt, iqamō′waq. Ts¡Ex^{u} iqē′yôx imē′k¡etē, 14
"You slept [int. part.]? You were dead, you were killed. Skinned was done your blanket, iqEmxE′egam." "Tgt¡ō′kti atxtā′koa, aniogoā′lEmam itcî′k¡ētē." 15 it was taken from you." "Good we return, I will go and take my blanket."

be killed," said his mother. Then they returned. They went down the river. They arrived at the beach in front of that town. Then the Rabbit took his arrows. He spoke: "Give me my skin, or I shall kill you." One person said: "Maybe he will kill us, indeed. Behold, he arose although he has no skin." They tried to give him a raccoon skin, but he said: "It is bad. I do not want it." They tried to give him a beaver skin. He said: "It is bad." They tried to give him a lynx skin. He tried to put it on, but he said: "It is bad; it hurts me." They tried to give him an otter skin. It was bad, he did not want it. They gave him one-half of his skin. Then he pulled it on one side so that it became thin. Then it fitted him. He put it on. Now he and his mother went home. They came to their house. She said to him: "Do not go any more; you will be killed for good." Then he did not go any more, because he had been troubled; he was afraid. That is the story; to-morrow we shall have good weather.

1	"Ō "Oh,	ɬXuan perhaps	aqtxōtē′na," we shall be killed,"	igā′kim she said	wā′yaq. his mother.	Aqa Then	wi again	icXᴇ′takua they returned
2	ictō′stsō. they went down the river.	Ictō′yam They arrived at	yaXi that	ē′lXam town	ayā′maɬna. toward the water from it.			Itcō′guiga He took them
3	tiā′qamatcX his arrows	ikanaXmᴇ′nē. the rabbit.	"Ō2, "Oh,	mcgē′nōt give me	itcî′kᵢetē," my blanket,"			igē′kîm. he said.
4	"Ayamcotē′na." "I shall kill you."	"Ō," "Oh,"	iLî′kîm said	ʟᴇXā′t one	ʟgoaʟē′lX, person,			"ʟXuan "Perhaps
5	ā′qanuwē indeed	atcîlxotē′na. he will kill us.	Nest Not	iā′pᵢaskwal, his skin,	tatcᵢa behold!	itcîlXā′takua." he recovered."
6	Iqē′lot He was given	kē′nuwa try	iʟatā′t raccoon	iāpᵢaskwal. his skin.	Igē′kîm: He said:	"Iā′mᴇla, "It is bad,	nîct not	tqᵢēx like
7	inī′yôx." I do it."	Iqē′lot He was given	kē′nuwa try	iqoa-inē′nē beaver	iā′pᵢaskwal. his skin.			"Iā′mᴇla," "It is bad,"
8	igē′kîm. he said.	Iqē′lōt He was given	kē′nuwa try	ipu′koa lynx	iā′pᵢaskwal. his skin.	Kē′nuwa Try		igē′xaltē. he put it on.
9	"Iā′mᴇla," "It is bad,"	igē′kîm, he said,	ā′yatcEqtcEq." "it is prickly."	Iqē′lōt He was given	kē′nuwa try	ē′nanakᵘc otter
10	iā′pᵢaskwal. his skin.	Iā′mᴇla. It was bad.	Ka′nauwē2 All	itcuqᵢoē′yupa. he refused them.	Iqē′lot He was given	ē′citᵢîXka, one-half only,
11	ē′natka. one side only.	Kᵢā Nothing	ē′nat. the other side.	Aqa Then	itcē′xka, he stretched it,	itcē′xka, he stretched it,	itcē′xka. he stretched it.	Pᵢē′Xoat Thin
12	igē′xôx, it got,	tcXu then	igēxᴇ′kᵢak; it fitted;	yaxi that	igē′xalte. he put it on.	Aqa Then	icᴇ′Xkᵢua they went home
13	wā′yaq. his mother.	IcXkᵢoā′mam They came home	tᴇ′ctaqʟ. their house.	Igiō′lXam: She said to him:	"Kapā′t "Enough	aqa then	imō′ya you went
14	qā′cqamîX. down the river.	Aqamō′ʟᴇm You will be killed	ātcuwa." for good."	Aqa Then	iʟē′XoʟQ he finished	ikanaXmᴇ′nē. the rabbit.
15	Icē′xangᴇna. He went no more because he feared trouble.	Kᵢwac Afraid	igē′xôx. he was.	Kᵢwanē′kᵢwanē; The story,	ō′la to-morrow	sa-igā′p. good weather.

Coyote and Badger (told 1891)

There were Badger and Coyote. They were catching birds all the time. Coyote caught two, while Badger always caught many. Now Coyote said: "What do you think, shall we send word to the Sturgeon?" Badger replied: "I think so." Then they tied a rope of cedar bark around Coyote's waist, and he went to the water. A canoe passed. He shouted: "Tell the Sturgeon to come and see our younger brother!" The people said: "We will tell him." They stayed there some time. Then Coyote saw a canoe. He went to tell his younger brother: "A canoe is coming." Now the Sturgeon went ashore. He stayed a little while, and Badger was groaning all the time and said: "I want to go out! I want to go out!" Then Coyote spoke: "He always tells me to haul him and carry him

Itq̣ā'lapas Ictā'kq̣anē kq̣a Ipq̣ē'cxac

Coyote Their Myth and Badger

Cxēlā'etîX	ipq̣ē'cxac	kq̣a	itā'lapas.	Ka'nauwē	Lkā'etax	1
There were	badger	and	coyote.	All	days
tpq̣Ecpq̣E'cukc	qictōpq̣iā'Lxa-îtx.		Môket	iā'kq̣ētēnax	itq̣ā'lapas.	2
birds	they gathered.		Two	his game	coyote.
Guā'nsum	Lgā'pEla	iā'kq̣etēnax	ipq̣ē'cxac.	Aqa	nigē'mx	itq̣ā'lapas:	3
Always	many	his game	badger.	Then	he said	coyote:
"Wu'ska	qa	imē'Xaqamit	pō	itxgiō'qōimL	inā'qōn?"	Igē'kîm	4
"Come!	how	your mind	if	we send word to	the sturgeon?"	He said
ipq̣ē'cxac:	"Kq̣oaLqā'	nXLō'Xuan."		Kq̣au	iLixE'lux	LqĒ'cō	5
badger:	"Thus	I think."		Tie	he did it	cedar bark cī'yaqtcqIkpa.	Aqa	iō'La-it	mā'LnîX	itq̣ā'lapas.	Igē'xkoa	ikE'nim.	6
his waist to.	Then	he stood	at the water	coyote.	It passed him	a canoe.
Itcigē'loma	itq̣ā'lapas.	Igē'kîm	itq̣ā'lapas:	"Amsxîlkiā'2tcgō			7
He called it	coyote.	He said	coyote:	"Tell him inā'qōn.	atcī'tketama	întā'mXîX."	Igogoā'kim	ta-îtci	tê'lXam:		8
the sturgeon.	he shall come and see	our younger brother."	They said	those	people:
"Antcxîlkiā'tcgoa."	Lā'2lē	iō'La-it	itq̣ā'lapas;	iā'LqtîX	iō'La-it.		9
"We shall tell him."	Long	stayed	coyote;	long	he stayed.
Atcē'qElkEl	ikE'nim.	Igēxîlkiē'tcgoam		iā'mXîX:	"Ā,	ikE'nim	10
He saw it	a canoe.	He told him		his younger brother:	"Ah,	a canoe
itē't,"	itciō'lXam	iā'mXîX.	Igixā'gela-îX	inā'qōn.	Iō'ptcgam		11 is coming,"	he said to him	his younger brother.	He landed	the sturgeon.	He came up inā'qōn.	Nō'LiîX	iō'La-it.	Iga-iXilqā'yalalEmtck		ipq̣ē'cxac.	Igē'kîm	12
the sturgeon.	A little	he stayed.	He groaned		the badger.	He said
ipq̣ē'cxac:	"Pq̣ayā'	pq̣ayā'."	Igē'kîm	itq̣ā'lapas:	"Kq̣oaLqā'	gi	13
badger:	"Pq̣ayā'	pq̣ayā'."	He said	coyote:	"Thus	this qatsnō'xoayatx	as qaniuLā'tax	qaniuktcpā'x.	Tsō'xoa	mangElgē'sgama!			14
he always does to me	and I haul him	I carry him out.	Come!	help me!

out. Oh, help me! Let us carry him out. Take hold of his legs." The Sturgeon rose. He took the feet; Coyote took the head. They carried him out. When his legs came out Badger broke wind and the Sturgeon fell down dead. Badger rose. They cut the Sturgeon; his roe was white.

After several days they got hungry again, and Coyote said: "What do you think? We will send word to the Beaver." Then Badger said: "I think so." Then Coyote stood by the water and saw a canoe passing. He shouted: "Tell the Beaver to come and see our younger brother!" The people said: "We will tell him." Coyote stayed there some time, till he saw a canoe with one man in it. Now the Beaver landed. He stayed a little while; then Badger groaned and said: "I want to go out! I want to go out!" Then Coyote spoke: "He always tells me to haul him and carry him out. Oh, help me! Let us carry him out. Take hold of his legs." The Beaver rose. He took hold of the feet; Coyote took the head. They carried him out. When his legs came out Badger broke wind and

1	Atxgiuktepā′ya.	E′wa	tiā′qo-ît	amigɛlgā′ya."	Iō′tXu-ît	inā′qōn.
	We will carry him out.	Thus	his legs	you take them."	He stood	the sturgeon.
2	Itcē′gɛlga	ē′wa	tiā′qo-ît.	It¡ā′lapas	ē′wa	ʟiā′q¡aketaq	itcē′gɛlga.
	He took him	thus	his feet.	Coyote	thus	his head	he took it.
3	Aqa	iegī′uktepa.	lāx	igō′xoax	tiā′qo-ît	ē′wa	lā′xanîX;
	Then	they carried him out.	Out	became	his feet	thus	outside;
4	iga-ixɛ′lqo-îceqo-îc	ip¡ē′cxac,	ac	kōpā′	igexē′maxit,	iō′maqt
	he farted	badger,	and	there	he fell down,	he was dead
5	inā′qōn.	Igixɛ′latck	ip¡ē′cxac.	Icgē′yuxc	inā′qōn.	Tk¡ɛp	ia′qapt.
	the sturgeon.	He arose	badger.	They cut it	the sturgeon.	White	its roe.
6	Qā′watîX	iō′qoya-îX,	aqa	wi	wa′lō	igî′cux.	"Wu′ska,	qada
	Several	his sleeps,	then	again	hunger	acted on them.	"Come!	how
7	imē′Xatakoax,	ā′oē.	Atxgiuqoē′mʟa	iqā′nuk."	Igē′kim	ip¡ē′cxac:
	your mind,	younger brother.	We will send word to	the beaver."	He said	badger:
8	"K¡oaʟqā′	nXʟō′Xuan."	lōɪa′eta	ma′ʟmîX	it¡ā′lapas.	Itcē′qɛlkɛl
	"Thus	I think."	He stayed	at the water	coyote.	He saw it
9	ikɛ′nim.	Igē′exgoa.	Iteigē′loma.	"Amcgiulxā′m	iqā′nuk
	a canoe.	It passed them.	He called it.	"Tell him	the beaver
10	atcē′ketama	intā′mXîX."	Igugoā′kim	ta-îtci	tê′lXam:
	he shall come and see	our younger brother."	They said	those	people:
11	"Antcxilkʟā′2tcgoa."	Lā′2le	iō′ʟa-it	it¡ā′lapas.	Itcē′qɛlkɛl
	"We will tell him."	Long	he stayed	coyote.	He saw it
12	ikɛ′nim.	lākɨā′ex·at.	Igixā′gela-îX	aqa	iqā′nuk.	Nō′ʟ¡îX
	a canoe.	One person in a canoe.	He landed	then	the beaver.	A little 13	iō′ʟa-ît	iqā′nuk.	Iga-ix·îlqā′yayalemtck	ip¡ē′cxac.	"P¡ayā′2	p¡ayā′," he stayed	the beaver.	He groaned	badger.	"I¡ayā′,	p¡ayā′,"
14	igē′kîm	ip¡ē′cxac.	Igē′kîm	it¡ā′lapas:	"K¡oaʟqā′	qatsnō′xoayatx, he said	badger.	He said	coyote:	"Thus	he always does to me,
15	as	qaniuʟā′tax	qaniuktepā′x.	Amengɛlgē′cgama	atxgiuktepā′ya.
	and	I haul him	I carry him out.	Help me	we will carry him out.
16	Ē′wa	tiā′qo-it	amigɛlgā′ya!"	Iō′tXuit	iqā′nuk,	aqa	iegī′yuktepa.
	Thus	his feet	take!"	He stood up	the beaver,	then	they carried him out.
17	lāx	igō′xoax	tiā′qo-it	yaXi	ip¡ē′cxac	ē′wa	lā′xanē.
	Out	became	his feet	that	badger	thus	outside.

the Beaver fell down dead. Badger rose and laughed. They skinned the Beaver. After two days they had finished it, and they became hungry again.

Then he said to his younger brother: "What do you think? We will send word to the Seal." Badger said: "I think so." Coyote went to the water. He stayed a little while and saw a canoe. He shouted: "Tell the Seal to come and see our younger brother!" Coyote stayed there some time, when he saw a canoe. He told his younger brother: "A canoe is coming, with one man in it. I think that is the Seal. Look out!" Now the Seal got up to the house. He stayed a little while in Coyote's house. Then Badger groaned: "I want to go out! I want to go out!" "Thus he always tells me, and he makes me tired. He asks me to haul him and carry him out. Help me. Let us carry him out." Then the Seal rose. Coyote told him: "You take his feet." Then they carried him out. When his feet came outside he broke wind and the Seal fell down dead. Badger

Iga-ixɛ′lqo-îcqo-îc. Kopä′4 igixē′maXit iqä′nuk. Igixɛ′latek 1
He farted. There he fell down the beaver. He arose ip¡ē′cxac. Igixk¡ayä′wulaʟɛmtek yaXi ip¡ē′cxac. Icxɛ′lk¡ēxc. 2 badger. He laughed much that badger. They cut.

icgī′yuxc yaXi iqä′nuk. Mâ′ketîX ictō′qoya, aqa icgiō′ʟXōm. 3 they cut him that beaver. Two their sleeps, then they finished it.

Aqa wi wä′lō icXɛ′ʟa-it. Aqa wi itciō′lXam iā′mXîX: "Qa′da 4 Then again hunger they died. Then again he said to him his younger brother: "How inne′Xatakoax? Atxgōqoc ɪnɪ.a aqē′sgoax." Igō′kîm ip¡ē′cxac: 5 your mind? We will send word to the Seal." He said badger:

"K¡oaʟqä′ nXlō′Xuam." Aqa wi iō′ʟa-it mä′ʟnîX it¡ä′lapas. 6
"Thus I think." Then again he stayed at the water coyote.

Nâ′t¡îX iō ʟa-it. Atcē′qɛlkɛl ikɛ′nim. Itcigē′loma ikɛ′nim 7
A little he stayed. He saw it a canoe. He called it the canoe it¡ä′lapas. "Amcgul Xä′ma aqē′sgoax agē′tkctama intä′mXîX." 8 coyote. "Tell him the Seal she shall come and see our younger brother."

Lä′2lē iō′ʟa-it; ē′aʟqtîX iō′ʟa-it. Itcē′qɛlkɛl ikɛ′nim. 9 Long he stayed; long he stayed. He saw it a canoe.

QiXilɛklē′tegam iä′mXîX: "Lāk¡ä′eXat ʟtēt. ʟXuan aqē′sgoax. 10
He was told his younger brother: "One person in a canoe is coming. Perhaps the Seal.

Qä′t¡ōcXɛm." Igä′tptckam aqē′sgoax. Nâ′ʟ¡îX igō′ʟa-ît tɛ′ctaqʟpa 11 Take care." She came up the seal. A little she stayed their house in it¡ä′lapas. Iga-iXɛlqä′yalaʟɛmtek ip¡ē′cxac. "P¡ayä′, p¡ayä′," 12 coyote. He groaned the badger. "P¡ayä′, p¡ayä′," igē′kîm. "K¡oaʟqä′ gi qatsnó′xoa-itx, aqa tɛll qatsnō′xoa-itx, 13 he said. "Thus this he always does to me, then tired he makes me, qē as qaniuʟā′tax qaniuktspä′x. AmɛngElgē′sgama. 14

if and I haul him I carry him out. Help me,

Atxgiuktspā′ya." Igō′tXuit aqē′sgoax. Itcō′lXam it¡ä′lapas: 15
We will carry him out." He stood up the seal. He said to her coyote:

"Ē′wa tiä′qo-it amigɛlgä′ya." Aqa icgī′yuktcpa. ʟāx igō′xoax 16
"Thus his feet take them!" Then they carried him out. Out became tiä′qo-ît ʟā′xanîX. Iga-ixɛ′lqo-îcqo-îc, ac kopä′2 igaxē′maXit 17 his feet outside. He farted, and there she fell down rose and laughed. Then Coyote spoke: "We will always do so when we get hungry; we shall catch everything." They singed the Seal. After several days they finished it. They got hungry again.

"What do you think, younger brother? We will send word to the Porpoise." Badger said: "I think so." Coyote went again to the water. He stayed a little while. A canoe passed. He shouted: "Tell the Porpoise to come and see our younger brother!" The people said: "We will tell him." Coyote stayed a long while, then he saw a canoe. He told his younger brother: "A canoe is coming. I think it is the Porpoise." Now the Porpoise landed and went up. A little while he stayed. Then Badger groaned. He said: "I want to go out! I want to go out!" Then Coyote said: "He always tells me so and makes me tired. He asks me to haul him and carry him out. Help me. Let us carry him out." Then the Porpoise arose. Coyote told him: "You take his feet." Then they carried him out. When his feet came outside he broke wind and the

---

1 aqē'sgoax. Igixɛ'latck ip¡ē'cxac. Igixk¡ayā'wulalɛmtck. Igē'kîm the seal. He arose badger. He laughed much. He said

2 it¡ā'lapas: "Ksta k¡oaʟqā' atxō'xoa, manē'x wa'lō aktxō'xoa.
coyote: "Then thus we shall do, when hunger acts on us.

3 Ka'nauwē tā'nɛmax atktōqoē'mʟa." Icgaʟk¡ɛ'tsXēma wuXi
All things we shall send for." They singed her that 4 aqē'sgoax. Qā'watîX ʟq iō'qoya-îX aqa icgō'ʟXum.

seal. Several maybe his sleeps, then they finished her.

5 Aqa wi wā'lō igī'cux. "Wu'ska qa imē'Xaqamit, ā'oē?
Then again hunger acted on them. "Come, how your mind, younger brother?

6 Atxgoqoē'mʟa akō'tckōtc." Igē'kîm ip¡ē'cxac: "K¡oaʟqā'
We will send word to the porpoise." He said badger: "Thus

7 nXʟō'Xuan." Aqa wi iuʟā'eta mā'ʟnîX it¡ā'lapas. Nâ'ʟ¡îX
I think." Then again he stayed at the water coyote. A little 8 iō'ʟa-it; igē'xkoa ikɛ'nim. Itcigē'loma. "AmcgulXā'ma akō'tckōtc.

he stayed; it passed him a canoe. He called it. "Tell her the porpoise.

9 Agē'tkstama intā'mXîX." Lā'lē iō'ʟa-it. Itcē'qɛlkɛl ikɛ'nim.
She shall come and see our younger brother." Long he stayed. He saw it a canoe.

10 Igixɛlkʟē'tckoam iā'mXîX. "Ikɛ'nīm itō't," itciō'lXam iā'mXîX.
He told him his younger brother. "A canoe is coming." he said to him his younger brother.

11 "ʟXuan akō'tckōtc." Igaxā'igela-îX akō'tckōtc. Igā'tptckam.
"Perhaps the porpoise." She landed the porpoise. She went up.

12 Nâ'ʟ¡îX igō'ʟa-ît. Iga-iXɛlqa'yalalɛmtck ip¡ē'cxac. "P¡ayā', p¡ayā',"
A little she stayed. He groaned badger. "P¡ayā', p¡ayā'," 13 igē'kîm ip¡ē'cxac. Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: "K¡oaʟqā' gi qatsɛnō'xoa-îtx.

he said badger. He said coyote: "Thus this he always does to me.

14 Aqa tɛll qatcɛnō'xoa-îtx, as qaniuʟā'tax qaniuktcpā'x.
Then tired he makes me, and I haul him I carry him out.

15 Amengɛlgē'cgama. Atxgiuktcpā'ya." Igō'tXuit akō'tckōtc. Igē'kîm Help me. We will carry him out." She stood up the porpoise. He said

16 it¡ā'lapas: "Ēwa' tēiā'qo-itāt amigɛlgā'ya." Aqa icgī'uktcpa. ʟāx coyote: "Thus his feet take them." Then they carried him out. Out

17 tgō'xoax tiā'qo-it ē'wa ʟā'xanîX. Iga-ixɛ'lqo-îcqo-îc, ac kopā' came his feet thus outside. He farted, and there

Porpoise fell down dead. Coyote said: "Thus we will do when we get hungry." They cut up the Porpoise, and after several days they had finished it.

They got hungry again, and Coyote said: "What do you think? We will send word to the Sea-lion." Badger replied: "I think so." Then Badger tied a rope around his waist, and Coyote went seaward, where he stood by the water. He stayed a long time. He saw a canoe passing. He shouted: "Tell the Sea Lion to come and see our younger brother!" They said to Coyote: "We will tell him." Coyote went up to the house and said to his younger brother: "Take care!" He stood there a long time, then he saw a canoe with one man in it. The Sea-lion landed and went up. He tried to enter Coyote's house, but he stuck in the doorway. They took out two vertical planks; then he was able to go in. The Sea-lion stayed a long time. Then Badger began to groan and said: "I want to go out! I want to go out!" Coyote said: "He always tells me so and makes me tired. He asks me to haul him and carry him out. Help igaxē'maXit wuXi akō'tekōtc. Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: "K¡oaLqā' 1 she fell down that porpoise. He said coyote: "Thus atxō'xoa ma'nîx wa'lō aktxō'xa." Ieî'kôxc wuXi akō'tekōtc. 2 we shall do when hunger acts on us." They cut that porpoise.

Qā'watîX Lq ictō'qoya, aqa wi icgō'LXum. 3
Several maybe they slept, then again they finished it.

Aqa wi wā'lō igî'cux. Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: "Qa'da 4 Then again hunger acted on them. He said coyote: "How imē'Xatakoax? Atxgioqoē'mLa igē'pîXLX." Igē'kîm ip¡ē'exac: 5 your mind? We will send word to the sea-lion." He said badger:

"K¡oaLqā' nxLō'Xuan." Igixe'kilq ip¡ē'exac. Iō'Lxa it¡ā'lapas. 6
"Thus I think." He tied a rope around his waist badger. He went down to the water coyote.

IoLā'ita mā'LnîX. Lē'lē iō'La-it. Itcē'qelkel ike'nīm. Igē'Xkoa. 7
He stood at the water. Long he stayed. He saw it a canoe. It passed him.

Itcigc'loma: "Amexelkle'tek igē'pîXLX atcē'tketama intā'mXîX." 8
He called it: "Tell him the sea-lion he shall come to see our younger brother."

Iqiō'lXam it¡ā'lapas: "Antcxelukia'tekoa." Iō'ptcka it¡a'lapas. 9
He was told coyote: "We shall tell him." He went up coyote.

IgiXelkLē'tckoam iā'mXîX. Itciō'lXam iā'mXîX: "Qā'tjōcXem." 10
He went to tell him his younger brother. He said to him his younger brother: "Take care."

Lā'lē iō'La-it. Atcē'qelkel ike'nim. Lākja'cXat. Igixē'geka-îX 11 Long he stayed. He saw it a canoe, one person in a canoe. He landed aqa igē'pîXLX. Iō'ptegam. Kē'nuwa iā'ckupq te'ctaqL 12 then the sea-lion. He came up to the house. Try he entered their house it¡ā'lapas. Iginq¡u'stix·itē yaXi ī'ctacq. Lāq[u] icgî'tôX môket 13 coyote's. He stuck in that door. Out they made them two tq¡ekoacî'maX. Aqa kōpa iā'ckupq. Lā'lē iō'La-ît yaXi igē'pîXL. 14 vertical wall planks. Then there he entered. Long he stayed that sea-lion.

Iga-iXelqā'yayaLemtck yaXi ip¡ē'exac. Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: 15
He groaned that badger. He said coyote:

"K¡oaLqā' gi qatsnō'xoa-îtx, aqa tell qatsenō'xoa-îtx, as 16
"Thus this he does to me, then tired he makes me, and me. Let us carry him out." Then the Sea-lion rose. Coyote told him: "You take his feet." Then they carried him out. When his feet came outside he broke wind and the Sea-lion fell down dead. Then Badger rose. They cut the Sea-lion up. Their house was full of meat and fat. Coyote spoke: "Thus we shall always do when we get hungry." They ate a long time and finished it.

Then they became hungry again. Now the people began to know it: "Behold! Coyote and Badger are killing people." Coyote went to the water. A canoe passed. He tried to send word, but they did not speak to him. Still he stood near the water, but he did not see anyone. Then he gave it up and went up to the house. For two days he tried to send word. Then he gave it up and went up to the house. He did not see anything.

Now they were hungry. Coyote mended his arrows. They went to shoot birds. Early in the morning they went. At night they came home. Badger had killed many, Coyote had killed one duck.

1 qaniuʟā′tax qaniuktcpā′x. AmEngEIgē′egama. Atxgiuktcpā′ya."
I haul him I carry him out. Help me. We will carry him out.'

2 Iō′tXuit igē′pîXʟX. Icgē′yuktcpa. Lāx igō′xoax tiā′qo-ît ē′wa
He stood up the sea-lion. They carried him out. Out came his feet thus

3 Lā′xanîX. Iga-ixE′lqo-îcqo-îc ip¡ē′exac. Kōpā′4 igixē′maXit yaXi outside. He farted Badger. Then he fell down that

4 igē′pîXʟX. IgixE′latck ip¡ē′exac. IcxE′lk¡ēxc. Pāʟ igō′xax sea-lion. He arose badger. They cut. Full became

5 tE′etaqʟ Lqulē′max. Pāʟ apxE′lēu tE′etaqʟ. Igē′kîm it¡ā′lapas:
their house meat. Full grease their house. He said coyote:

6 "K¡oaLqā′ atxō′xoa ma′nîx walō′ aktxō′xoa." Iō′Lqtî X
"Thus we will do when hunger acts on us." Long

7 icgixE′lEmuX, aqa icgiō′ʟXum.
they ate, then they finished it.

8 Aqa wi wā′lō igî′cux. Āqa ikeilō′Xuix·ît. "Lqōct! icktōtē′niʟ
Then again hunger acted on them. Then they knew it. "Behold! they killed them

9 tê′lXam it¡ā′lapas k¡a ip¡ē′exac." Kē′nuwa iuLā′itam it¡ā′lapas the people coyote and badger." Try he stayed coyote

10 mā′ʟmîX. Igē′xkō ikE′nim. Kē′nuwa iteigElgē′kim. Nā2et wā′wa at the water. It passed a canoe. Try he spoke to them. Not spoken

11 iqē′yux it¡ā′lapas. Kē′nuwa iō′ʟa-it mā′ʟmîX. Nā2et tān he was to coyote. Try he stayed at the water. Not anything

12 itcē′qElkEl. Tā′mēnua igē′xôx, aqa iō′ptega. Mâket Lkā′etax he saw it. Give up he did, then he went up. Two days

13 kē′nuwa igiXElgē′kim. Tā′mēnua nixō′xoax, qa-iō′ptckax. K¡ā try he spoke. Give up he did, he went up. Nothing 14 nîct tā′n qateiqElkE′lx.

not anything he saw it.

15 Ā′qa wā′lō igE′cux. T¡ayā′ itcî′tux tiā′qamateX it¡ā′lapas, aqa
Then hunger acted on them. Good he made them his arrows coyote, then

16 tp¡Ecp¡E′cuke acktup¡iā′Lxa. Kawī′X qactō′îX. Tsō′yustîX birds they gathered. Early they went. Evening

17 qacXk¡oa′maMX. Lgā′pEla qatctotō′max ip¡ē′exac, aō′Xt it¡a′lapas they came home. Many he killed them badger, one coyote

Next morning they went again to shoot birds. At night they came home. Coyote had killed two, Badger had killed many. On the following day they went again and came back at night. Coyote had nothing, Badger had shot many. Thus it was every day. One night Coyote thought: "Let us exchange our buttocks," and he said: "What do you think? Let us exchange our buttocks." Badger replied: "I like my own buttocks. I know them; you do not know them." The next day they went again and came back in the evening. Badger had caught many, and Coyote had two. Badger had no arrows. He just broke wind at those birds. Coyote had arrows, and behold, he got nothing. On the following morning it was just the same. Badger got many. He merely broke wind, and they were dead. Coyote sometimes got one, sometimes none. At night he said again: "Let us exchange our buttocks." Badger said: "No." Every evening Coyote said the same thing and made his brother tired.

---

iā'k!etēnax aqo-î'xqo-îx. Wāx wit'ax qactō'îx. Qactoguē'x 1 his game duck. Next day again they went. They went to hunt tp!Ecp!E'cuke. Tsō'yustîX qacXk!oā'mamx. Mâket iā'k!etēnax 2 birds. Evening they came home. Two his game it!ā'lapas. Lgā'pEla iā'k!etēnax ip!ē'cxac. Wāx wi qactō'îx. 3 coyote. Many his game badger. Next day again they went.

Tsō'yustiX qacXk!oā'mamx. Acuwā'tka it!ā'lapas nîXk!uā'mamx. 4
Evening they came home. Unsuccessful coyote he came home.

Lgā'pela iā'k!etēnax ip!ē'cxac. Ka'nauwē Lkā'etax ā'kua. 5
Many his game badger. All days thus.

QaXtkamā'pol igixLō'xa it it!a'lapas: "Qō intgi'cx'Emk!ē'nuwapa 6
One night he thought coyote: "Wish we will exchange them cîntā'pōte." "Qā ē'mēmxte, ā'oē? AtxgE'cXEmk!ē'nuwapa etxā'pōte" 7 our buttocks." "How your mind younger brother? We will exchange them our buttocks" Igē'kîm ip!ē'cxac: "Tq!ēx nE'LōXt LgE'pōte." Igē'kîm: "NE'LōkuII 8

He said badger: "Like I do them my buttocks." He said: "I know them LgE'pōte, nE'cqē mai'ka mE'Lukull." Wi igē'tcuktîX, wi't'ax ictō'ya. 9 my buttocks, not at all you you know them." Again it got day, again they went.

Ietō'guiga tp!Ecp!E'cuke. Tsō'yustîX icXatk!oā'mam. Lgā'pEla 10
They went to catch them birds. Evening they came home. Many iā'k!etēnax ip!ē'cxac, mâket it!ā'lapas iā'k!etēnax. K!ā nîct ayā'pL!ikē 11 his game badger, two coyote his game. Nothing not his bow ip!ē'cxac, ac qatcawiqoē'cqo-îcx taXi tp!Ecp!E'cuks. Tiā'qamateX 12 badger, and he farted at them those birds. His arrows

it!ā'lapas; yaXi qayō'îx, tateja qacē'x'EmgEmā'x. Wāx qactō'îx, 13 coyote; that one he went, behold he did not get anything. Next day they went, wī k!oaLqā'. Lgā'pEla iā'k!etēnax ip!ē'cxac ac qatcawiqoē'cqo-îcX. 14 again thus. Many his game badger and he farted at them, aqa nuXuaLā'îtx. Ā'ēXt iā'k!etēnax it!ā'lapas, anā' acuwā'tka. 15 then they died. One his game coyote, sometimes he was unsuccessful.

Nupō'nEmx aqa wi qatciōlXā'mx: "AtxgE'cxEmk!ēnuwapa 16
It got dark, then again he said to him: "Let us exchange them etxa'pōte." Nigē'mx ip!ē'cxac: "K!ā'ya." Ka'nauwē Lpōlake'lEmax tEll 17 our buttocks." He said badger: "No." All nights tired qatciō'xoax. YaXi iā'mXîX tEll aqiō'xoax ip!ē'cxac. Aqa nigē'mx 18 he made him. That his younger brother tired he was made badger. Then he said

Then Badger said: "You make me tired. Let us exchange them." Then they exchanged their buttocks. Now Coyote was glad. He was awake, and thought: "Now I have fooled you, Badger. Now I shall get many." He rose early and quickly. Then he broke wind. He arose and went out. He went with long strides and broke wind: pō, pō, pō, pō. He made slow steps and broke wind: pu, pu, pu, pu. When he stepped with long strides, he broke wind loudly; when he went slowly, he broke wind slowly. Now they went to hunt birds. They came home in the evening. Coyote had nothing, but Badger had caught many. Coyote tried to go up to the birds with long steps, but every time he stepped he broke wind: pō, pō, pō. On the following day they went again and came back in the evening. Coyote had nothing, and Badger had killed many. Then Coyote thought: "I made a mistake; I will return his buttocks to him." He said: "What do you think? I will return your buttocks to you." Badger did not say anything. Coyote tried to badger: "Then tired you make me. Let us we will exchange them."

1 ip¡ē′cxac: "Aqa tɛll ēmɛ′nôx. Qā′txa txgɛ′cXɛmk¡ē′nuwapa."

2 Aqa icgɛ′cXɛmk¡ē′nuwapa ctā′pōtc. Igixɛ′gɛlɛmtck it¡ā′lapas.
Then they exchanged them their buttocks. He awoke coyote.

3 K¡wa′nk¡wan igē′xôx it¡ā′lapas. Igîxlō′xoa-ît: "Aqa lā′xlax iā′mux, Glad became coyote. He thought: "Now deceive I do you,

4 ip¡ē′cxac. Aqa naī′ka lgā′pɛla antup¡iā′lxa tp¡ɛcp¡ɛ′cukc."
badger. Then I many I shall gather them birds."

5 Igixɛ′latck kawu′X; aī′aq igîxɛ′latck. Pō2, iga-ixɛ′lqō-îcqō-îc.
He arose early; quick he arose. Blow, he farted.

6 Iō′tXuît, iō′pa. Tc¡pāq itcXō′tkalukʟtck: Pō, pō, pō, pō. ʟa′wa
He stood up, he went out. Strongly he stepped: Blow, blow, blow, blow. Slowly

7 itcXō′tkakoax: Pu, pu, pu, pu; ʟā′wa itcXō′tkalukʟtck. Tc¡pāq he stepped: Blow, blow, blow, blow; slowly he stepped. Strongly

8 qatcXō′tkakoax, pō, pō, nēxɛlqoē′cqo-îc. ʟawā′ qatcXō′tkakoax, pō, pō, he stepped, blow- ing, he farted. Slowly he stepped, blow- ing, blow- ing, 9 nēxɛlqoē′cqo-îc; ʟawā′ nēxɛlqoē′cqo-îc. Aqa ictō′guiga tp¡ɛcp¡ɛ′cukc.

he farted; slowly he farted. Then they went to hunt birds.

10 Igō′pōnɛm, isXatk¡oā′mam. Acuwā′tka it¡ā′lapas. Iā′ēma ip¡ē′cxac
It got dark, they came home. Unsuccessful coyote. Only badger

11 iā′k¡etēnax, ʟgā′pɛla iā′k¡etēnax. Kē′nuwa nîxk¡ʰʟuwā′x it¡ā′lapas;
his game, many his game. Try he crept near coyote;

12 tc¡pāq qatcXō′tkalukʟx, pō, pō, pō, nēxɛlqoē′cqo-îc. Kopā′2tîX strongly he stepped, blow, blow, blow, he farted. As often as 13 qatcXō′tkakoax, kopā′tîX naēxɛlqoē′cqo-îcx. Igō′n ē′ka-ît wi he stepped, as often he farted. Another day again

14 qactō′îx; tsō′yustîX qacXk¡oā′mamx. Acuwā′tka it¡ā′lapas they went; evening they came home. Unsuccessful coyote

15 qaciXumgɛnā′x. Iā′ema ip¡ē′cxac ʟgā′pɛla iā′k¡etēnax. Igixtō′xa-ît he had not got anything. Only badger many his game. He thought

16 it¡ā′lapas: "Pō′Xuēc¡k inɛ′xôx. AnʟēlXakteguā′ya gi Liā′pōtc."
coyote: "Mistake I made. I will return to him these his buttocks."

17 "Qā imē′Xaqamit, ā′oē? Alamîlxakteguā′ya gi lemē′pōtc."
"How your mind, younger brother? I will return it to you these your buttocks."

keep his buttocks closed, but he could not do it. He almost reached the ducks; then they smelled him and flew away. Again they came home, and he said: "I will return your buttocks to you." But Badger was angry. "You make me tired," he said. "I gave them to you. Now you are making me tired again. Take out yours first." Coyote took out the buttocks of Badger. Then Badger took out those of Coyote and threw them into the water, while he put his own buttocks into himself. Now Coyote's buttocks drifted down the rapid creek. Coyote pursued them. Badger went away.

Coyote pursued his buttocks. He came to one place; there he lay down to sleep. He rose early. He came to a town. He asked: "Did my buttocks pass here?" The people said: "Yesterday there was something which the boys tried to hit with spears."

Coyote went on. His buttocks called: "Pähêhê, pähêhê, pä!" He went a long way and slept again. He rose early and went on.

Nā²ɛt aqa igē′kîm ip¡ē′exac. Kē′nuwa qatcigɛlgā′x iā′pōtc. 1
Not then he spoke badger. Try he held his buttocks, nîxk¡ʷLuwā′x; q¡oā′p qatctō′xamx taXi tqoēqoē′xukc, qatgēiLā′x. 2 he crept near; near he reached them those ducks, they smelled him.

Ka′nauwē nuxuawā′xitx. Wit′ax îcXk¡oā′mam, wī′t′ax itciō′lXam: 3
All escaped. Again they came home, again he said to him:

"ALamî′lXaktckuā′ya gi LEmē′pōtc." IgiXE′LXaq ip¡ē′exac. 4
"I will return to you these your buttocks." He became angry badger.

"Mai′ka tɛll ēmE′nôx," itciō′lXam. "Aqa iLā′mclōt, aqa wi tɛll 5
"You tired you make me," he said to him. "Then I gave them to you, then again tired amEnō′xoax." Iqiō′lXam it¡ā′lapas: "Mā′nēwa lāq LE′mxôx." 6 you make me." He was told coyote: "You first out make them."

Lāq° iLē′xôx it¡ā′lapas LaXi ip¡ē′exac Liā′pōtc. Lāq° iLē′xôx 7
Out he made them coyote that badger his buttocks. Out he made them kē′qamtq ip¡ē′exac LaXi it¡ā′lapas Liā′pōtc. ItcLalē′maLx. 8 afterward badger that coyote his buttocks. He threw them into the water.

IqLalē′maLx it¡ā′lapas Liā′pōtc. ILix·E′q¡oaLk ip¡ē′exac Liā′pōtc. 9
They were thrown into the water coyote his buttocks. He put them himself onto badger his buttocks.

IlōʼXunē it¡ā′lapas Liā′pōtc. LēiāʼsEla yaXi ē′qaL. Itcî′Luwa 10
They drifted coyote his buttocks. Rapid that creek. He pursued them

Liā′pōtc it¡ā′lapas. Aqa iō′ya kELā′îX ip¡ē′exac. Aqa itcē′²Luwa 11 his buttocks coyote. Then he went far badger. Then he pursued them

Liā′pōtc it¡ā′lapas. Qā′xpa Lq iō′yam iō′qoya. KawI′X igixE′latck, 12 his buttocks coyote. Somewhere he arrived he slept. Early he rose, igigō′qoam ēXt ē′lXam. "Tcō′Xu iLE′mexgoa LgE′pōtc?" 13

he reached one town. "Well, did they pass you my buttocks?"

itctuqu′mtcxōkoa ta-îtci tê′lXam. "Ā taqE′L," aqiō′lXam. 14 he asked them those people. "Ah, yesterday," was said to him.

"Tā′nki tkLilâqsqalalEmtck tqā′totinîkc." 15
"Something they threw it often with spears the boys."

Iō′ya wit′ax it¡a′lapas. ItcLgilo′mtcmiLtck Liā′pōtc: "P¡ā′hêhê, 16
He went again coyote. They spoke his buttocks: "P¡ā′hêhê, p¡ā′hêhê, p¡ā," igē′xôx it¡ā′lapas. KELā′iX iō′ya, aqa iō′qoya. 17 P¡ahêhê, pā!" did coyote. Far he went, then he slept.

Again he came to a town, and asked: "Did my buttocks pass you?" "A short time ago something drifted down, and the boys tried to hit it with spears."

Coyote went on. "Pähêhê, pähêhê, pä," said his buttocks. "Pähêhê, pähêhê, pä," said they slowly. After he had gone some distance, he slept again. Early he rose and went on. He went some distance and reached another town. "Did my buttocks pass here?" "Yes; at noon yesterday something drifted down, and the boys tried to hit it with spears."

Again Coyote went. "Pähêhê, pähêhê, pä," said his buttocks. He went a long distance and slept a fourth time. The next morning he went on. He had not gone far, when he came to a town. He saw the boys throwing spears at something. He came to that town and asked: "Did not my buttocks pass here?" "Something just drifted down."

Again he went. "Pähêhê, pähêhê, pä," said his buttocks. He

---

1 Kawī'X igixɛ'latek. Aqa wi iō'ya. Itcigō'qoam ēXt ē'lXam.
Early he rose. Then again he went. He reached it one town.

2 "TcōX^{u} ēlɛ'mcxgoa lgɛ'pōte?" "Ā koalē'wē yaXi tā'nki
"Well, did they pass you my buttocks?" "Ah, just that something

3 iō'goatcō. Tklēlō'qsqalaɛmtek tqā'totinîke."
went down the river. They threw it often with spears the boys."

4 Wit'ax iō'ya itja'lapas. "P!āhêhê, p!āhêhê, p!ā," itelgilō'mɛnîltek
Again he went coyote. "P!āhêhê, p!āhêhê, p!ā," spoke

5 Lā'pōte. P!āhêhê, p!āhêhê, lawā' itelgilō'mɛnîltek. Qā'xpa lq his buttocks. P!āhêhê, p!āhêhê, slowly they spoke. Somewhere

6 wit'ax iō'qoyō. Kɛlā'îX iō'qoyō. Kawī'X igixɛ'latek. Iō'ya; again he slept. Far he slept. Early he rose. He went;

7 kɛlā'iX mank iō'ya. Itcigō'qoam igō'n ē'lXam: "TcuX^{u} ilɛ'mcxgoa Far a little he went. He reached it another town: "Well! did they pass you

8 lgɛ'pōte?" "Ā, taqɛ'l pā wē'koa tā'nki tklēlō'qcqalaɛmtek my buttocks?" "Ah, yesterday noon something they threw it often with spears

9 tqā'tōtēnîke gipā' mā'lnîX."
the boys there in the water."

10 Aqa wi iō'ya itja'lapas. "P!āhêhê, p!āhêhê, p!ā," itelgilō'mɛnîltek
Then again went coyote. "P!āhêhê, p!āhêhê, p!ā," spoke 11 Lā'pōte. Kɛlā'îX iō'ya, aqa wi iō'qoya ī'lalaktîX. Kawī'X iō'ya.

his buttocks. Far he went, then again he slept the fourth time. Early he went.

12 Mank kɛlā'îX iō'ya. Q!oā'p itcī'yux ēXt ē'lXam. Itklilō'qcqala
A little far he went. Near he came it one town. They were throwing it with spears

13 yaXi tā'nki itcō'qo-ikɛla ta-îtci tqā'tōtēnîke. Igigō'qoam igō'n ēXt that something he saw them those boys. He reached another one

14 ē'lXam. "TcuXua lgɛ'pōte ilɛ'mcxgoa?" "Ā yaXi koalē'wē town. "Well! my buttocks did they pass you?" "Ah, that just 15 tā'nki iō'goatcō."

something went down the river."

16 Wī'tax io'ya itja'lapas. "P!āhêhê, p!āhêhê, p!ā," itelgilō'mɛnîltek
Again he went coyote. "P!āhêhê, p!āhêhê, p!ā," spoke

17 Lā'pōte. Kɛlā'îX iō'ya; iō'qoya. Kawī'X aqa wi iō'ya, as his buttocks. Far he went; he slept. Early then again he went, and went a long way and slept. He went on early. He went a short distance and came to a town. He came near to boys who were throwing spears at something. Now the people saw him, and they all went up. Coyote asked them: "Did not my buttocks pass you?" "Just now something passed down here. The boys threw spears at it."

Coyote went on. "Pähêhê, pähêhê, pä," said his buttocks. He reached them. Now his buttocks were small, and all torn by the thrusts of spears and sticks. He put them on, and at last they fitted. "Badger shall be your name—you who fooled me. Future generations of men shall fear your winds only. You shall not kill birds." Then Coyote went on. He kept on going.

nō'ɬ¡îX iō'ya, aqa wi iteiō'cgam ē'lXam. Q¡oā'p itcî'tôx taXi 1 a little he went, then again he found it a town. Near he came those
them

tqā'tōtēnîke, aqa tā'nki itkɬilō'qeqala. Q¡oā'p itetō'xoam. Aqa 2 boys, then some- they were throwing Near he reached Then thing it with spears. them.

itgē'qɛlkɛl. Itgɛ'ptega ka'nauwē ta-îtei tqā'tōtēnîke. Iō'yam 3 they saw him. They went up all those boys. He arrived it¡ā'lapas, itetuqu'nɪtexōkoa: "'TcuXoa ɬgɛ'pōte iɬɛ'mexgoa?" 4 coyote, he asked them: "Well! my buttocks did they pass you?"

"A, yaXi koalē'wē tā'nki iō'koatcō, tqō'tātēnîke ktqɬilō'qeqala." 5
"Ah, that just some- went down boys threw at it with thing the river, spears."

Iō'ya it¡ā'lapas: "P¡ähêhê, p¡ähêhê," itcitɛlqɛ'muXlōtek ɬiā'pōte, 6
He went coyote: "P¡ähêhê, p¡ähêhê," spoke his buttocks.

Itcɬtā'qoam ɬiā'pōte. Aqa iɬō'k¡oa-îts laXi Liā'pōte. Ka'nauwē 7
He reached it his anus. Then small that his anus. All

L¡ɪɪɛ ɪɪɛ¡ɪɪɪ'ɪɪ iq¡ɪ'ɪôx ¸yaXi ɪqɬɔ'qeqalaɬɛɪɪɪtek. ɪɬâx'i'q¡oaɬk 8 soft it was made that thrown with spears. He put it onto ɬiā'pōte. Qalā'tcXua iɬXɛ'q¡ak. "Ip¡ā'2exac imō'xalēu tau 9 his anus. At last it fitted him. "Badger your name who itcinɛxɛnɛmō'tXɛmtek. AluXumapā'ya tê'lXam ā'ema 10 fooled me. Generations people only amē'qo-îcqo-îc k¡wac aexaxō'xoa. Nāct amtp¡ā'ɬxax 11 your farts afraid make them. Not you will gather them

tp¡ɛcp¡ɛ'cuke." Aqa iō'ya kɛlā'îX it¡ā'lapas. Guā'nɛsum iō'ya. 12 birds." Then he went far coyote. Always he went.

Panther and Lynx (told 1891)

There were the Panther and his younger brother, the Lynx. Every morning the Panther went hunting elk. In the evening he came home. He told his younger brother: "Don't leave our fire." He left him often; then the Lynx went to play, and played a long time. When he came home, the fire had gone out. Then he thought: "I will swim across to get some fire." He swam across and opened the door of the house. There was an old blind woman. She could not see anything. She tended the fire of the Grizzly Bears. Lynx took a firebrand and put it down at some little distance. The old woman looked after the firebrands. Now she had lost one. Then she spread her legs and struck her vulva often, crying: "You, you, you have eaten it, you have eaten it, the fire, the fire, vulva, vulva!" Then Lynx looked at the

---

Ik!oayawa' Ictā'k!anē k!a Ipu'koa

The Panther Their Myth and the Lynx

1 Iexelā'-itîX ik!oayā'wa k!a ipu'koa, iā'mXîX ik!oayā'wa. Wāx
There were the panther and the lynx, his younger brother the panther's. The next morning

2 qayō'îx; imō'lEkEmax nigElō'îx. Tsō'yustîX niXk!oā'mamx.
he went: elks he went to hunt. In the evening he came home.

3 Itciō'lXam iā'mXîX: "Näct amaqElō'qLqa atxā'tōL." Qā'watîX
He said to him his younger brother: "Not leave it our fire." Several times

4 Lx igiqE'lōqLq. Aqa iō'ya igixk!ayā'wōlalEmam. Ē'yaLqtîX maybe he left him. Then he went he went to play. Long time

5 igixk!ayā'wōlalEmtck. Igē'Xk!oa. IgîXk!oā'mam. Ā'nqa he played. He went home. He came home. Already

6 tcXup igā'xôx actā'tōL. IgîxLō'xoa-ît ipu'koa: "Anuk!oē'x·ia extinguished was their fire. He thought the lynx: "I will swim

7 ē'wa k!anatē'tōL. Anugoā'lEmam ā'tōL." Iō'k!uiXa ipu'koa.
thus across. I will fetch it fire." He swam the lynx.

8 Igigâ'ptckamîX. ItcixE'laqLkîX. Ā, lōxt Lq!ēyō'qt
He came up to the house. He opened the door. Ah, there was an old woman

9 aLā'p!onE'nkau. Nî'cqē iLā'gēqamē. Ā, cEk!EnX·ā't wuXi aLā'tōL a blind one. Not at all she saw. Ah, tied together lengthwise that their fire

10 Lcayî'muke. Itcā'gElga ā'ēXt wuXi aqā'lEptckîX. Itcaxē'ma mank the grizzly bears. He took it one that firebrand. He placed it a little 11 kElā'îX. Iktuk!umā'nanEmtck wuXi aq!eyō'qt taXi tqā'lEptckîX.

far. She looked at them that old woman those firebrands.

12 Igonā'xLatck a'ēXt. L!āk igE'tôx tga'qo-ît. HLaxElqē'lîXLtck
She had lost one. Spread she did them her legs. She slapped herself

13 LE'gakci: "Mai'ka maikā' mō'wElq! mōwā'lq!, wa'tuL watū'L, her hands: "You you you ate it you ate it, the fire the fire, old woman. He took that firebrand and put it back. Now the old woman looked after the fire, and the firebrands were all there. Then the Lynx took again one firebrand. Then the old woman looked again after the firebrands and found that she had lost one. She spread her legs and struck her vulva, crying: "You, you, you have eaten it, you have eaten it, the fire, the fire, vulva, vulva!" Now Lynx went out and took away that firebrand. He swam across. He came home to the house of his elder brother and made a fire. In the evening his elder brother came home. When he came near the house, he smelled the smoke. It smelled different, and the Panther thought: "Maybe our fire went out; maybe he stole fire." Then he came home. There was his younger brother. He spoke to him: "Why does our smoke smell different?" Lynx replied: "You are a liar, it is the same fire!" They slept. Early in the morning the Panther arose and went to wash himself. He put grease on his hair and stayed a little while.

wi'qēctq, wiqä'ctq." Itkɨē'nuwa itcō'xoa yaXi ipu'koa wuXi 1 vulva, vulva." Sitting and looking he did at her that the lynx that aqɨeyō'qt. Aqa wit'ax itcaxē'ma wuXi aqä'lɛptckîX kōpä' yaXi 2 old woman. Then again he put it down that firebrand there that ä'nqa naxē'mat. Aqa wit'ax iktukɨumä'nanɛmtck wuXi aqɨeyō'qt. 3 before it lay. Then again she looked at them that old woman.

Ka'nauwē taXi tgä'qalɛptckîX. Aqa wit'ax itcä'gɛlga wuXi ä'ēXt 4
All those firebrands. Then again he took it that one aqä'lɛptckîX ipu'koa. Aqa wi iktukɨumä'nanɛmtck wuXi aqɨeyō'qt. 5 firebrand the lynx. Then again she looked at it that old woman.

Igonä'xʟtck ä'ēXt. ʟɨäk igɛ'tôx tgä'qo-ît. Ilɛxɛ'lqilX lɛ'gakci: 6
She had lost it one. Spread she did them her legs. She slapped herself her hands:

"Mai'ka maikä' mō'wɛlqɨ mōwä'lqɨ wa'tuʟ watū'ʟ, wi'qēctq, 7
"You you you ate it, you ate it the fire the fire, vulva, wiqä'ctq." lō'pa ipu'koa, itcutä'mit wuXi ä'ēXt aqä'lɛptckîX. 8 vulva." He went out the lynx, he took away that one firebrand.

Lō'kɨoîX lō'ya. lō'yam tɨ'ctaqʟpa ē'yalXt. Iga-iXɨ'lgiʟx. 9
He swam he went. He arrived their house at his elder brother's. He made a fire.

Tsō'yustîX igē'Xkɨoa ē'yalXt. Qɨoä'p itctō'xoam tɛ'ctaqʟ, aqa 10
In the evening he went home his elder brother. Near he reached it their house, then itē'iʟa taXi tXtɛ'lē, etä'Xtɛlē. Aqa ixalâ'ita ē'taqtcke. 11 he smelled it that smoke, their smoke. Then different its smell.

Igixʟō'xoa-ît ikɨoayä'wa: "ʟXuan tcXup igä'x antä'tōʟ. ʟXuan 12
He thought the panther: "Perhaps extinguished was our fire. Perhaps itcō'Xtkam ä'tōʟ. IgîXkɨoä'mam tɛ'ctaqʟpa. lō'xt iä'mXîX. 13 he stole it fire." He came home their house to. There was his younger brother.

Itciō'lXam: "Qä'tsqē ōxoalō'ita ē'taqtcke gi txa'Xtɛlē?" Igē'kîm 14
He said to him: "Why different its smell this our smoke?" He said ipu'koa: "Qanä'qa imē'ʟɨmēnXut, ä'2xka atxä'tōʟ." Ictō'qo-ē. 15 the lynx: "To no purpose you lie, that our fire." They slept.

Kawī'X igixɛ'latck ikɨoayä'wa. Igîxqɨoä'tam. Ilixɛ'lôx ʟɨä'tcao 16
Early he arose the panther. He went to bathe. He put onto it grease Swans were flying there. Then he spoke to the Lynx: "Go and see why these swans are flying away." Lynx went to see and entered again. His elder brother asked him: "What did you see?" "I did not see anything but swans flying away because a snag drifted down the river." Then the elder brother looked. He saw that the Grizzly Bear had come nearly up to the house. The Panther came in and said: "Put that kettle over yourself, the monster is almost here." Then the Lynx covered himself with a kettle. The Grizzly Bear opened the door and stood in the doorway. "Who took our grandmother's fire? I will eat him." The Lynx became afraid and trembled. The Grizzly Bear said: "Give me your little brother; I will eat him." The Panther replied: "You are talking all the time. Come in." They began to fight. Then the Panther said: "Where are you? The monster will kill me." Then the Lynx threw off the kettle. He took an adz and danced around. "Elder brother, the

1 Lɛʼyaqcōpa as nōʼLi̯îX icxēʼla-it. IguxoawāʼXit tqelōʼq. IqiōʼlXam his hair on and a little they stayed. They flew away swans. He was told

2 ipuʼkoa: "Amgēʼketam tāʼnki tcuXoāʼwula tqelōʼq." Igigēʼketam the lynx: "Go and look something make fly away swans." He went to look

3 ipuʼkoa. Igēʼtpqam ipuʼkoa. "Tcuʼ Xoa tān imēʼqɛlkɛl?"
the lynx. He came in the lynx. "Well what did you see?"

4 itciōquʼmtcxōkoa cʼyalXt. "Ki̯āʼya nîct tān inēʼqɛlkɛl. Tāʼema he asked him his elder brother. "Nothing not anything I saw it. Only 5 tqēlōʼq īʼtaxul, Lāʼema gi Lɛʼtcin Lāʼtgatcx." Igēʼkîket cʼyalXt. swans their cries, only that snag drifts down." He looked his elder brother.

6 Qi̯oāʼp aligōʼptcgama yaʼXtîX icāʼyim. Iōʼpqa ik!oayāʼwa.
Near he came up there the grizzly bear. He entered the panther.

7 "ĀʼmXoalak!oa wuXi aq!uʼtan. Qi̯oāʼp iLgɛʼtxôx Lqcxēʼlau."
"Cover yourself with that kettle. Near comes the monster."

8 IgāʼiXoalak!oa wuXi aq!uʼtān yaXi ipuʼkoa. Itcixɛʼlaqlq yaXi
He covered himself with that kettle that lynx. He opened the door that 9 icāʼyim. IōʼLa-it icîʼqēpa. "Lān iLgāʼxaL wunteāʼk!ēc wōgāʼtōL? grizzly bear. He stayed door in. "Who took from her our grandmother her fire?

10 ALɛnxɛlgāʼewapqoēʼcx." Aqa kǃwāc igēʼxôx ipuʼkoa. Igēʼxallta.
(?) " Then afraid became the lynx. He trembled.

11 "Lɛnēʼt, Lɛnēʼt," igēʼkîm icāʼyîm, "wēLɛmēmXēʼX
"Give him to me, give him to me." said the grizzly bear, "your younger brother

12 aLɛnxēlāʼewapqoēʼcx." "Wāʼkoa amxɛltcuwāʼya," igēʼkîm
(?) " "All day you will talk," said

13 ik!oayāʼwa. "Āʼckatpq." Iāʼckupq icāʼyim. Aqa icxɛʼlgayu.
the panther. "Come in." He entered the grizzly bear. Then they fought.

14 ItciōʼlXam iāʼmXîX: "Ā, qāʼxpa mkēʼxax? ALgɛnuwāʼqoa
He said to him his younger brother: "Ah, where are you? He will kill me 15 Lqcxēʼlau." Itcaxēʼma āʼyaq!tan ipuʼkoa. Itcēʼgɛlga ēʼqa-îtk.

the monster." He threw off his kettle the lynx. He took it an adz.

16 Igicqlāʼnuk1.tck:
He danced about much:

17 "Ēʼk!ilxoāʼq wuiLāʼqo-it wuLqcxēʼlau āʼpxô, čk!ilxoāʼq."
"Water lilies his legs the monster, elder brother, water lilies!"

monster's legs are like water lilies," he sang. He struck the Bear's legs with the adz and then they threw him down. Then they cut his neck and hauled him out of the house.

The next morning the Panther went hunting again. He went to hunt elks, and told his brother: "Do not go away, else our fire will go out." He went out and the Lynx went to play. Then he thought of the fire. He went home and the fire was low. He tended it and went out again to play. Then he forgot his fire. A long time he played, then he remembered it. He went into the house, but the fire was already out. Again he swam across. He went ashore and opened the door of the house of the Grizzly Bears. He entered. Now the old woman had four fires. He took one firebrand and put it aside. Then she looked after the fires. She spread her legs, struck her vulva, and said: "You, you, you have eaten it, you have eaten it, the fire, the fire, vulva, vulva!" Then he put that firebrand back again. The old

---

Itcîlgā'mit yaXi ē'qa-îtk iā'qo-îtpa. Kopä' icgigɛ'ɬa-ît. Iā'tuk 1
He struck it that adz his legs at. Then they threw him down. His neck ɬq̓up îcgē'xôx. Icgiō'ɬata ɬā'xanîX. 2 cut they did it. They hauled him outside.

Wāx igē'tcuktîX. Aqa wit'ax iō'ya ik̓oayā'wa. Imō'lak 3
The next morning day came. Then again he went the panther. Elk igigɛ'loē. Itciō'lXam iā'mXîX: "Näct qā'nta mō'ya, iā'okîX 4

He went to hunt. He said to him his younger brother: "No where go, else tcXup naxō'xoax atxā'tōL." Iō'pa ipu'koa igîxk̓ayā'wōlalɛmtek. 5 extinguished will be our fire." He went out the lynx he always went to play.

Igayî'lkaLx ayā'tōL. Igē'Xk̓oa, aqa itsō'koa-îts ayā'tōL akē'x. 6
He thought of his fire. He went home, then small his fire was.

Iga-iXɛ'lgîLx. Aqa wi iō'ya igixk̓ayā'wōlalɛmam. Igā'-ilalakuit 7
He made a fire. Then again he went he went to play. He forgot it ayā'tōL. Lē'2lē igîxk̓ayā'wōlalɛmtek. Igayî'lkaLx ayā'tōL. 8 his fire. Long he played. He thought of his fire.

Iō'pqam tɛ'claqL. Ā'nqa tcXup wuXi actā'tōL igā'xôx. Aqa wit'ax 9
He came in their house. Already extinguished that their fire was. Then again iō'k̓uix'a ē'wa k̓anatē'tōL. Igigō'ptckamîX itcixɛ'lakɬqîX 10 he swam thus across. He came up to the house he opened the door

Lcayî'mukc tɛ'laqL. Iā'ckupɒ̄q. Aqa la'ktka tgā'qalɛptckîX wuXi 11 the grizzly bears their house. He entered. Then four only her firebrands that aq̓eyō'qt. Itcā'gɛlga ā'ēXt wuXi aqā'lɛptckîX. Kɛlā'îX 12 old woman. He took it one that firebrand. Far itcaxē'ma. Iktuk̓umā'nanɛmtek taXi tgā'qalɛptckîX. L̓āk igɛ'tôx 13 he put it down. She looked at them those her firebrands. Spread she did them tgā'qo-ît. Iɬaxɛ'lqilX lɛ'gakei: "Mai'ka maikā', mō'wɛlq̓ 14 her legs. She slapped herself her hands: "You you, you ate it mōwā'lq̓ wa'tuL watū'L, wi'qēctq wiqā'ctq." Aqa wit'ax itcaxē'ma 15 you ate it the fire the fire, vulva vulva." Then again he put it down woman looked at the firebrands and there were as many as before. Thus the Lynx fooled the old woman. He looked often when she struck her vulva. Then he took that firebrand. He went home and swam across. He came into the house and made a fire. In the evening his elder brother came home. There was the Lynx. They slept, and the elder brother rose early. He went to wash himself. After a little while he came in. Swans were flying away. He said to the Lynx: "Go and look." The Lynx went. He came in. He was asked: "What did you see?" "I did not see anything but swans flying away because a snag is drifting down." "Do you think that is a snag? That is the Grizzly Bear. Quick, hide yourself under that kettle!" Lynx hid and put the kettle over himself. Then the Grizzly Bear opened the door. "Who took our grandmother's fire? I will eat him. Give me, give me your younger brother; I will eat him." The Lynx became afraid. He trembled under his kettle.

1 wuXi ā'tōL. Aqa wit'ax iktuk¡umā'nanEmtek wuXi aq¡eyō'qt.
that fire. Then again she looked at them often that old woman.

2 Kapä't taXi tgā'qalEptckîX. Aqa ala-ix·ēnēmō'tXEma wuXi
As many those her firebrands. Then he made fun of her that

3 aq¡eyō'qt yaXi ipu'koa. Ä'2qoētîx· itcaxē'lōtcx, iLaxElqē'lEXLtck old woman that lynx. Often he looked at her, she slapped herself

4 LE'gakci. Itcā'gElga wuXi ā'ēXt aqā'lEptckîX. Iō'ya, igē'Xk¡oa, her hands. He took it that one firebrand. He went, he went home,

5 igikE'k¡ē'x·a-îX. Iō'yam tE'ctaqLpa, iga-ix·E'lgiLx. Tsō'yustē he swam across. He arrived their house at, he made a fire. In the evening

6 igē'Xk¡oa ēyalXt. IgîXk¡oā'mam ik¡oayā'wa. Iōxt ipu'koa.
he went home his elder brother. He came home the panther. There was the lynx.

7 TcXāp ictō'qoya, kawī'X igixE'latck ē'yalXt. Igixqoā'tam.
One night they slept, early he arose his elder brother. He went to bathe.

8 Igē'tpqam. Nō'L¡îX igē'tpqam. IguXoawā'Xit tqēlō'q.
He came in. A little while he came in. They flew away swans.

9 "ME'k·îkct," iqiō'lXam ipu'koa. Igē'k·îkct ipu'koa. Igē'tpqam.
"Look," he was told the lynx. He looked the lynx. He came in.

10 Iqiōqu'mtcxōgoa: "TcuXoa tān imē'qElkEl?" "K¡ā'ya nîct tān
He was asked: "Well! what did you see?" "Nothing not anything

11 inē'qElkEl. Tā'ema tqēlō'q ī'taxul ō'xuîtcX. LĀ'ema LE'tcin
I saw it. Only swans their cries come down. Only a snag

12 LĀ2'tgatcX." "LE'tcin amXLō'Xuan? yā'Xka icā'yim yaXi itē't. is drifting down." "A snag do you think? He the grizzly bear that comes.

13 Ai'aq amIXE'pcut! Ā'mXoalak¡oa wu'Xi aq¡u'tan." IgixE'pcut Quick hide yourself! Cover yourself with that kettle." He hid himself

14 ipu'koa. Igā'iXoalak¡oa wuXi aq¡u'tan. Itca-ixE'laqLqîX icā'yim.
the lynx. He covered himself with that kettle. He opened the door the grizzly bear.

15 "LĀn iLgā'xaL wuntcā'k¡ēc wogatō'L? ALEnxElaēwapqoē'cx."
"Who took from her our grandmother her fire? (?) "

16 K¡wac igē'xôx ipu'koa. Igē'xallta kā ā'yaq¡tan. Lā'2lē iō'La-it Afraid became the lynx. He trembled where his kettle. Long he stayed

17 icī'qē. "LEnē't, LEnē't wuLmēmXē'X. ALEnxElaēwapqoē'cx."
door. "Give him to me, give him to me your younger brother. (?) "

He stayed in the door for a long time. Then the Panther said: "You are talking all day. Come in; we will fight." The Grizzly Bear entered, and they fought. They fought a long time. Then the Panther said to the Lynx: "Oh, where are you? The monster is making me tired." The Lynx threw off his kettle and danced about. "Elder brother, the monster's legs are like water lilies," he sang. He hit the Bear's leg with the adz. Then they threw him down. They cut his neck and hauled him out of the house. The Lynx was told: "Stop leaving our fire. The monsters will kill us." For two days the Panther did not leave him. Then he went again.

. [The same a third and a fourth time.]

Now only the strongest Bear was left. They stayed there five nights. Then the Panther left and said: "Don't forget our fire. He will kill us. The one who is left is really strong." The Lynx said: "I shall not go away." After a little while the Lynx went out, but right away he looked again after the fire. He went out often, then he forgot it. He played about a long time, then he remembered his fire. He went

---

Igē'kîm ik¡oayā'wa: "Wā'2goa amɛ'xaltcō. Ā'ckatpq, txɛlgā'yux." 1
He said the panther: "All day you will talk. Come in, we will fight."

Iā'ckuɬpɬ icā'yîm. Icxɛ'lgayū. Iō'ɬqtîX icXɛ'lgayū. Iqiō'lXam 2
He entered the grizzly bear. They fought. Long they fought. He was told ipu'koa: "Ā qā'xpa mkē'xax?" Aqa tɛll iLgɛ'nux ɬqcxē'ɬau. 3 the lynx: "Ah where are you?" Now tired makes me the monster.

Itcaxē'ma ā'yaq¡tan. Itcē'gɛlga ē'qa-itk: 4
He threw off his kettle. He took it an adz:

"Ē'k¡ilxoā'q wuiLā'qo-it wuLqcxē'ɬau, ā'pxō, ēk¡ilxoā'q!" 5
"Water lilies his legs the monster, elder brother, water lilies!"

Igîcxɬā'nukɬtck. Itcilgā'mit iā'qo-itpa yaXi ē'qa-îtk. Kopā' 6
He danced about much. He struck it his leg at that adz. There icgigɛ'ɬa-it, iā'tuk ɬq¡up icgē'xox. Icgiō'ɬata ɬā'XanîX. Iqiō'lXam 7 they threw him down. his neck cut they did it. They hauled him outside. He was told ipu'koa: "Kapɛ't amqɛlō'qLqa atxā'tōL. Atktxotē'na tqcxeLā'ukc." 8 the lynx: "Enough leave our fire. They will kill us the monsters."

Mô'kctîX iō'qoya nîcqē igiqɛ'loqLq, aqa wi iō'ya ik¡oayā'wa. 9
Twice he slept not at all he left him, then again he went the panther.

[The same a third and a fourth time.]

ĒXā'tka igicxk¡ā'etix'it yaXi ktiā'ɬxēwulX. Aqa îcxē'la-it 10
One only was left by them two that the strongest one. Then they stayed quî'nɛmîX ictō'qoya. Aqa wi igiqɛ'luqLq. Itciō'lXam: "Nēct 11 five they slept. Then again he left him. He said to him: "Not amaqō'qLqa atxā'tōL. Atctxōtē'na. Yā'Xka wuk¡ ktiā'ɬxēwulX 12 leave it our fire. He will kill us. He really the strongest one yaXi iuk¡uā'etix'it." Igē'kîm ipu'koa: "Näct qā'mta nō'ya." 13 that he is left." He said the lynx: "Not anywhere I shall go."

Nō'ɬîX qayupā'x ipu'koa. Ā'nqa wi qatcō'ketamx ayā'tōL. 14
A little he went out the lynx. Already again he looked at it his fire.

Qā'watîX ɬXuan iō'pa. Aqa igā'yelalakuit ayā'tōL. 15
Several times perhaps he went out. Then he forgot it his fire.

IgîXk¡ayā'wōlalɛmtck; lē'lē igîXk¡ayā'wōlalɛmtck. Igayî'lkaLx 16
He played; long he played. He thought of home, but it was out. Then he swam across to the house of the Grizzly Bear. The old woman held the fire. For a short time she threw it down and took it up again right away. He did not dare to take it. The old woman threw it down again. Then he jumped at it and took it. He ran out and swam across. He went ashore and came to their house. He had just made a fire when his elder brother came home. "Where did you go? Just now you are making a fire? When the Grizzly Bear comes I shall throw you before him and he will eat you." Lynx did not say anything. "Take care," said the Panther, "he will kill us." Early the Panther arose. He washed himself and tied his hair. Then swans were flying away. He told the Lynx: "See if the monster is coming." The Lynx went and said: "I do not see anything; only a snag is drifting down." "Do you think that is a snag? That is the Grizzly Bear who is coming. Hide yourself, put the kettle over you." Then the Lynx put the kettle over himself. The Grizzly Bear opened the door and said: "Who took my grandmother's fire?

1 ayā′tōL. Igē′Xk¡oa. Ā′nqa teXup igā′xôx ayā′tōL. Iō′k¡uiXa his fire. He went home. Already extinguished was his fire. He swam

2 ē′wa k¡anatē′tōL. Iō′yam icā′yim tē′iaqLpa. IgagELgā′t wuXi thus across. He arrived the grizzly bear his house at. She held it that old woman that fire. A little she layed it down, already again she took it.

3 aq¡eyō′qt wuXi ā′tōL. Nō′L¡îX agaxē′max, ā′nqa wi agagELgā′x.

4 TexEp igē′xôx ipu′koa. Igaxē′ma wit′ax wuXi aq¡eyō′qt wuXi Not daring became the lynx. She laid it down again that old woman that 5 aqā′lEptekîX. Itcî′sōpena ipu′koa. Itcā′gElga wuXi aqā′lEptekîX.

firebrand. He jumped at it the lynx. He took it that firebrand.

6 Igē′kta LĀ′xanîX. Igē′Xk¡oa. Iō′k¡uix·a. Igigō′ptekamîX.
He ran outside. He went home. He swam. He came up to the house.

7 Igî′Xk¡oā′mam tE′etaqLpa. Koalē′wa iXElgē′Lxal aqa igî′Xk¡oā′mam
He came home their house to. Just he made a fire then he came home

8 ē′yalXt. "Qā′mta imō′ya? Teqī koalē′wa amxElgē′Lxal. Ma′nîx his elder brother. "Where did you go? Then just you made a fire. When 9 alōtē′mama icā′yîm ayamxemā′ya. Atcîmxalemō′xuma." Nāct qa he will come the grizzly bear I shall throw you to him. He will eat you." Nothing

10 igē′kîm ipu′koa. "Qā′t¡ōcXem!" aqiō′lXam ipu′koa, "atctxōtē′na."
said the lynx. "Look out!" he was told the lynx, "he will kill us."

11 Kawî′X igixE′latck ik¡oayā′wa. IgixE′qoat, iLix·E′mEkaptek.
Early he arose the panther. He bathed, he tied his hair in a knot over his forehead.

12 IgoXuawā′Xit tqēlō′q. Iqiō′lXam ipu′koa: "AmE′kēket aqa
They flew away swans. He was told the lynx: "Look there 13 itē′t iqcxē′Lau." Igē′kîket ipu′koa. "K¡ā nîct tān inē′qElkel.

he is coming the monster." He looked the lynx. "Nothing not anything I see it.

14 LĀ′ema LE′tcin LĀ′2tgatcX." "LE′tcinma," atciō′lXam, "ya′Xkā
Only a snag is drifting down." "A snag [int. part.]," he said to him, "he 15 icā′yim yaXi itē′t. AmxE′pcōt!" Igā′-iXoalak¡oa aq¡u′tan ipu′koa.

the grizzly bear that is coming. Hide yourself!" He covered himself with the kettle the lynx.

16 IteixE′laqLq yaXi icā′yim. "LĀn iLgā′xaL wuntcā′k¡ēc wagatō′L?
He opened the door that grizzly bear. "Who took it from her our grandmother her fire?

Give me your little brother; I will eat him." The Panther was silent for a little while. He was afraid. The Grizzly spoke often and asked for the younger brother. Then the Panther spoke: "Do you think a person will give up his own younger brother? Come in; we will fight." Then the Grizzly Bear went in. They fought, and he almost threw the Panther, who got tired. Then he spoke to the Lynx: "Where are you? The monster makes me tired." Then the Lynx threw off the kettle, took an adz, and danced about. "Elder brother, his legs are like water lilies," he sang. "You are dancing when I am tired," said the Panther. Then the Lynx hit his leg. They killed the last one. Then the Lynx swam across and burned the old woman's house. On the following morning the Panther said: "I shall leave you. You shall live on these creeks. You shall catch silver-side salmon. You are bad; therefore I shall leave you. When I kill an elk, then you will eat it." Then the Panther went away and left the Lynx.

LEnē't LEnē't wuLEmē'mXîX. ALEnxelā'ewapqoē'cX." Iō'LqtîX Give him to me, give him to me your younger brother. (?) " Long 1 qan igē'xôx ikɟoayā'wa. Kɟwac igē'xôx. Ä'ɬxuētîX igē'kîm silent he was the panther. Afraid he was. Often he spoke 2 icā'yim. Iqēxuwā'koatck iā'mXîX ikɟoayā'wa. Lē'lē aqa the grizzly bear. He was asked for his younger brother the panther. Long then 3 iteiō'lXam: "Qantcē'x Lqa LgoaLē'lX kɟa igaLgE'Lt LĀ'mXîX?

he said to him: "How often maybe a person and he gave him up his younger brother? 4 Ā'ckatpq, atxElgā'yux!" Iā'ckupq icā'yîm. Aqa icxE'lgayū.

Come in, we will fight!" He entered the grizzly bear. Then they fought. 5

Guē'tax iqē'yux ikɟoayā'wa. Ä'koapō aqikLā'ētx ikɟoayā'wa. TEll Almost dead made he was the panther. Almost he was thrown the panther. Tired 6 igē'xôx ikɟoayā'wa. Iqiō'lXam ipu'koa: "Ā qā'xpa mkēx? aqa tEll became the panther. He was told the lynx: "Ah where are you? then tired 7 iLgE'nux Lqexē'Lau." Itcaxē'ma ā'yaqɟtan ipu'koa. Itcē'gElga he makes me the monster." He threw it off his kettle the lynx. He took it 8 ē'qa-îtk. Ayuwē'lalalEmtck:

an adz. He danced about much: 9

"E'kɟilxoā'q wuiLā'qo-it wuLqexē'Lau, ā'pxō, ē'kɟilxoā'q!"
"Water lilies his legs the monster, elder brother, water lilies!" 10

"Wā'2ka-it mō'-îtck aqa tEll ēnE'xôx." Itcîlgā'mit iā'qo-itpa. 11
"All day you dance then tired I am." He struck it his leg at.

Iegigɛ'La-ît, igē'waq; iegiā'kɟLEmatsk. Iō'kɟuiXē ipu'koa. 12
They threw him down, him; they killed they killed the last one. He swam across the lynx.

ItcuXuē'giLx tE'gaqL wuXi aqɟeyō'qt. Igē'tcuktîX. Igē'kîm 13
He burnt her house that old woman's. It got day. He said ikɟoayā'wa: "Aqa ayamqElō'qLqa. Tē'2ka mai'ka amxōxoa gi 14 the panther: "Then I shall leave you. Here you be these tqā'Lmaxpa. Amtupɟiā'Lxa tE'qɟawan. Mai'ka imē'mala, tā'ntxo 15 creeks at. You shall catch silver-side salmon. You are bad, therefore ayamqElō'qLqa. Ma'nîx amiuegā'ma anēwā'qoa imō'lak, koā'lewa 16

I shall leave you. When you find it I have killed it an elk, just then alEmxElEmō'xuma." Iō'ya aqa ikɟoayā'wa. AqiqE'luqLq ipu'koa. 17 you shall eat it." He went then the panther. He was left the lynx.

Seal and Crab (told 1891)

One day the Crab and her elder sister, the Seal, were hungry. The Crab cried, and her elder sister said: "Sister, let us go and wash ourselves." They went down to the water and bathed. The Crab felt cold and went up again to the house. The Seal dived several times and killed two salmon—large salmon. Then she went up. The Crab was sitting there. The Seal said: "Go and bring that small salmon." The Crab went down and found those salmon. She took them and hung them onto the point of her finger. "How small are these salmon," said she, but they broke her finger. She hung them onto the next finger. It broke also. She broke all her fingers. Then she went up to the house and cried. She opened the door and spoke to her elder sister: "What are you doing? I broke all my fingers."

Aqē'cgoax Ictā'k!anē k!a Aqalxē'la

The Seal Her Myth and the Crab

1	Qā'xlkanē'ka-it One day	aqa then	walō' hunger	igō'xoa acted on her	aqaLxē'la the crab	ā'galXt her elder sister	aqē'sgoax. the seal.
2	Axgɛ'qunk The elder one	aqē'sgoax the seal	Lxgɛ'cqax the younger one	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	Igagɛ'tcax, She cried,	walō' hunger	igō'xoa acted on her
3	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	Igō'lXam She said to her	ā'galXt: to her elder sister:	"Tɛ'xōya "Let us go	atxqoā'ta." let us bathe."	Ictō'lxa They went to the water
4	mā'lnîX. to the water.	Icgɛ'kXoat. They bathed.	Ts!ɛs Cold	ilɛ'xôx became	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	Ilō'ptcga. She went up.
5	Qā'watîX Several times	igaktē'mɛnq she dived	aqē'sgoax. the seal.	Iktō'tena She killed them	môkct two	tgu'nat, salmon,
6	itā'qa-ilax large ones	tgu'nat. salmon.	Igō'ptcga She went up	aqē'sgoax. the seal.	Â lâxt Oh, there was	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	"A'yaq "Quick!
7	tgā'lɛmam go and fetch	taXi those	tk!unā'tɛmax." small fish."	Ilō'lxa She went to the beach	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	Iluguā'qoam She reached them
8	taXi tgunā'tɛmax. those salmon.	Qul iktā'wîx Hang she did them on	tɛ'gaksi. her fingers.	"Ksɛmm taXi "Small those	tk!unā'tɛmax small fish
9	ō'xoaxt." are."	IguXoalā'Xît They broke	tɛ'gakci. her fingers.	Tgō'nuē Other ones	qul hang	iktā'wax she did them	taXi those
10	tk!unā'tɛmax. small fish.	IguXoalā'Xit They broke	tɛ'gakci. her fingers.	Kā'nauwā2 All	iguXoalā'Xit broke
11	tɛ'gakci. her fingers.	Igō'ptcga She went up	igagɛ'tcax. she cried.	Â'qulqt She wept	igixɛ'laqLqîX. she opened the door.	Igō'lXam She said to
12	ā'galXt: her elder sister	"Qā "How	ēmɛ'xôx? are you?	Ā Ah,	igugoalā'Xit they broke	tɛ'gakci." my fingers."	Ictō'lxa They went to the beach

Then the Seal and her younger sister went down to the water. The Crab's fingers were lying there. The Seal took them up and put them on again. Then the Seal carried the salmon up. They cut them up and roasted them. The Crab said: "I will eat their heads. I will eat their tails. I will eat their roe. I will eat their stomachs. I will eat their hearts. I will eat their livers." Now the salmon were done. The Crab ate two hearts and one liver, then she had enough. Her elder sister, the Seal, said to her: "Eat, eat, else you will be hungry." The Seal ate all the salmon. Now the sister closed her house. She closed even the smallest holes. The Seal spoke to her younger sister: "Do not go outside for two days." Now the Seal forgot to look after her sister. She heard her shouting and looked for her. She had disappeared. She had gone out. Then the Seal went out and listened. She heard her sister shouting somewhere down the river, where aqē'sgoax kɟa agā'mtX. Ictō'ʟxam; ō'xoaxt tɛ'ʟakci ʟqaʟxē'la. 1 the seal and her younger sister. They came down; there were her fingers the crab.

---

Igō'guiga aqē'sgoax. Iktā'lox tɛ'gakci. Iqʟɛ'lôx ʟaXi ʟqaʟxē'la. 2
She took them the seal. She put them on her her fingers. They were put on her that crab.

Iktōʟā'taptck aqē'sgoax taXi tgu'nat. Icgɛ'tôxc taXi tgu'nat. 3
She carried them up the seal those salmon. They cut them those salmon.

Icî'xēlukte. Iʟɛ'kîm ʟqaʟxē'la: "Nai'ka akɟɛlā'tcēn 4
They roasted them. She said the crab: "I the heads ananxɛlɛmō'xuma. Nai'ka tɛlē'ct atɛnɛnxɛlɛmō'xuma. Nai'ka 5

I will eat them I the tails I will eat them. I ʟgā'qapt aʟhɛhxɛlɛmō'xuma. Nai'ka ā'nux anamxɛlɛmō'xuma. 6 their roe I will eat it. I the stomach I will eat it.

Nai'ka tgā'Xenuwakcke atɛnxɛlɛmō'xuma. Nai'ka tgā'pɟanaqcke 7
I their hearts I will eat them. I their livers atɛnxɛlɛmō'xuma." Isxkɟē'kst ka'nauwē. Môket tkɛnuwā'kcke 8 I will eat them." They were done all. Two hearts iʟxɛ'lɛmux ʟaXi ʟqaʟxē'la, kɟa ēXt ipɟā'naqc, aqa iʟō'qctē. 9 she ate them that crab, and one liver, then she was satiated.

Kē'nuwa igō'lXam agā'mtXîX aqē'sgoax: "Amxʟxɛ'lɛmɛtck, ā'ōʟɛl 10 Try she said to her her younger sister the seal: "Eat much, else walō'." Igaxʟxɛ'lɛmîtck wuXi aqē'sgoax. Ka'nauwē iktō'lXum 11 hunger." She ate that seal. All she finished them taXi tgu'nat wuXi aqē'sgoax. Igiō'xoapō tɛ'ctaqʟ. Ka'nauwē 12 those salmon that seal. She closed it their house. All igiō'xoapō tɛ'ctaqʟ. Kōpā' nōɫ ʟxoā'pîX. kopā' igîxpō'xoîX. 13 she closed it their house. There a little hole, there she closed it.

Igō'lXam agā'mtXîX aqē'sgoax: "Nēct amōpā'ya. Mô'kctîX 14
She said to her her younger sister the seal: "Not go out. Twice ayoqo'ya yaxtîX nict amopa'ya." Iga'ilakakuit agā'mtXîX aqē'sgoax. 15 her sleeps then not go out." She forgot her her younger sister the seal.

Igîltcɛ'maq ilō'mɛniʟ aqē'sgoax. Igō'kcta agā'mtXîX. Ā'nqa 16
She heard her shouting the seal. She looked for her her younger sister. Already kɟɛm, igō'pa. Igō'pa aqē'sgoax igaxamē'laq. Qā'eqamîX 17 nothing, she had gone out. She went out the seal she listened. Down the river

Blue-jay defecated, at the place where his town was situated. Now the Crab sang: "My sister and I eat what is swimming in the sea."

The people were hungry. It was winter. They made themselves ready and went aboard one canoe. The Seal went and met her younger sister. She was on top of a tree. "Come down," she said. Then the Crab came down. The Seal struck her and they went home. When they came home the Seal said to her younger sister: "Hide yourself." The Seal hid in a cache. The Crab hid, but her face was visible behind the plank which stood near the fire. Now the people landed and went up to the house. They looked for the Seal, but they found only the Crab. They struck her in the nape. Then a salmon heart fell out of her mouth. They struck her again; then another salmon heart fell out of her mouth. They struck her again and a salmon liver fell out of her mouth. They struck her again and again, but she vomited only two hearts and one liver. They tried to

---

1	agelō'mɛniL she shouted	agā'mtXîX. her younger sister.	Kā Where	itcLō'ts!ats!a he defecated	iqē'sqēs blue-jay	yaXi that	qā'eqamîX down river
2	nē'lXam, where the town	iLā'lXam his town	iqē'sqēs. blue-jay.	Λqa Then	LxŌ'la she spoke much	L!aLxē'la. the crab.	LxŌ'la: She said much:
3	"Ă'maL "Bay	ia'xtk!ēlaXtk!ēla swimming	intgē'wulq! we eat it	wā'gɛlXt." my elder sister."
4	Wā'lō Hunger	igɛ'tôx acted on them	ta-îtci those	tê'lXam. people.	Tcā'xɛlqLîX. It was winter.	Igoxoē'tXuîtck They made themselves ready
5	ta-îtci those	tê'lXam. people.	Itigɛ'la-ît They were in	ēXt one	ikɛ'nim. canoe.	Igō'ya She went	aqē'sgoax. the seal.
6	Igō'egam She found her	agā'mtXîX. her younger sister.	YaXī' That	cā'xalîX up	ō'guaxt. she was.	"Ō'qoētcō!" "Come down!"
7	igō'lXam. she said to her.	Ilō'qo-ētcō She came down	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	Igō'waq She struck her	agā'mtXîX her younger sister	aqē'sgoax. the seal.
8	Icî'Xk!oa. They went home.	Icto'pqam They came in	tɛ'ctaqLpa. their house in.	"Amxɛ'pcut," "Hide yourself,"	igō'lXam she said to her
9	agā'mtXîX. her younger sister.	"Amxɛ'pcut." "Hide yourself."	Igaxɛ'pcut She hid herself	aqē'sgoax the seal	ik!oā'yapa. the cache in.
10	ILxɛ'pcut She hid herself	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	Lāx Out	stā'xōst her eyes	gēguala' below	Lt!ō'tɛlatckan. the plank at the side of the fire.
11	Itxē'gela-îX They landed	tê'lXam. the people.	Itgɛ'ptega. They went up to the house.	Iqcō'naxL She was searched for	aqē'sgoax. the seal.
12	IqLō'egam She was found	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	P!āq Slapped	iqɛ'lôx she was	lā'p!aqa. her nape in.	L!uX Falling out	iguLā'taXit fell out
13	akɛ'nuwaks. a heart.	Wit'ax Again	p!āq slapped	iqɛ'lôx. she was.	Agō'n Another	ā'ēXt one	akɛ'nuwaks heart
14	iguLā'taXit. fell out.	Lō'nîX Three times	p!āq slapped	iqɛ'lôx. she was.	Kē'qamtqîX Afterward	ip!ā'naqs a liver
15	iuLā'taXit. fell out.	Kc'nuwa Try	p!ā'qp!āq slapped	iqɛ'lôx she was	Lqalxē'la. the crab.	P!āq p!āq p!āq Slapped and slapped
16	p!āq iqɛ'lôx. she was.	Môkctka Two only	tkɛ'nuwaks hearts	k!a and	ēXt one	ip!ā'naqs liver	iLktō'mɛq!ōk. she vomited them.

find the Seal. Then Blue-jay became tired, and went to defecate. Then they dug up the cache. They found the Seal, took her at her head and bent it down. Then she vomited the salmon. The people took them and tied them into bundles. They left only that which was too soft. Blue-jay came home. He became angry and said: "I heard the Crab and you left me only refuse." He tied up the soft parts which they had left. Then the people went home. They approached their town and slept. They made a fire some distance from the water. They said to Blue-jay: "Come and warm yourself." But he replied: "No; I want to stay here in the canoe. I am warm enough here." Then he ate all the meat. Blue-jay finished all the meat that he had taken and tied up rotten wood [in its place]. Early the next morning they went homeward. After some time they reached their home. Then the boys came down to the beach. These people's children and Blue-jay's children came down together. They gave them all those bundles, and Blue-jay gave his children his bundle. The boys went

Kē′nuwa	iqō′naxʟ	aqē′sgoax.	Tā′menua	igē′x	iqē′sqēs.	1
Try	she was searched for	the seal.	Give up	he did	blue-jay.
Itcʟōts¡ā′ts¡am.	ʟE′kʟEk	iqē′yôx	ik¡oā′yat.	Iqō′egam	aqē′sgoax.	2
He went to defecate.	Dug	it was	the cache.	She was found	the seal.
IqʟĀ′nEXoktē,	ac	ē′wa	iqē′yôx	itcā′q¡aqctak.	IgagE′mqôq.	3
She was taken at her head,	and	thus	was done	her head.	She vomited.
Iktō′mqôq	taXi	tgu′nat.	Itgō′xoaqtek	ta-îtci	tê′lXam.	4
She vomited them	those	salmon.	They gathered them	those	people.
Itguxoak¡ē′nianukʟtek.	Aqa	tā′ema	taXi	manaq¡ē′	ʟ¡mE′nʟ¡mEn.	5
They tied them in bundles.	Then	only	that	too	soft.
Aqa	iō′pqam	iqē′sqēs.	Kalā′lkuilē	igē′x	iqē′sqēs.	"Ē′wa	nai′ka	6
Then	he came in	blue-jay.	Angry	became	blue-jay.	"Thus	I inXEtcE′maq;	tatc¡a	tq¡ē′ipX	iqtEnE′lōt."	Itsōxoak¡ē′niakoa	taXi	7
I heard;	behold!	refuse	is given to me."	He tied it in a bundle	that manaq¡ē′	ʟ¡mE′nʟ¡mEn	iqē′sqēs.	Aqa	igō′Xoak¡oa	ta-îtci	tê′lXam.	8
too	soft	blue-jay.	Then	they went home	those	people.
Q¡oā′p	itgiō′xoam	ē′lXam,	aqa	itgî′qoya.	IgoXuē′gilx	lXE′lēu	9
Near	they reached it	town,	then	they slept.	They made a fire	inland ta-îtci	tê′lXam.	Kē′nuwa	iqiō′lXam	iqē′sqēs:	"ME′tptega	iqē′sqēs.	10
those	people.	Try	he was told	blue-jay:	"Come up!	blue-jay.
Mxatck¡oā′mitam."	Igē′kîm	iqē′sqēs:	"K¡ā′ya	qatxō	tā′ka	11
Warm yourself."	He said	blue-jay:	"No,	must	here
gEnā′kuXt.	Nusk¡oā′it,	nō′sk¡oa-it	gi	ikE′nimpa	qa	nā′kuXt."	12
I stay in the canoe.	I am warm,	I am warm	this	canoe in	where	I am in the canoe."
ItixE′lEmux	ka′nauwē	taXi	tqlē′lXam.	TaXi	itetō′mitck¡ē	13
He ate	all	that	meat.	That	he took it up
tqlē′lXam,	itctâ′lXōm,	itcaxk¡ē′niakoa	ā′lEmlEm.	Kawī′X	aqa	14
meat,	he finished it,	he made a bundle	rotten wood.	Early	then wi	itgī′ya	igō′Xoak¡oa.	Nō′l¡îX	itgī′ya,	aqa	iguXoak¡oā′mam.	15
again	they went	they went home.	A little	they went,	then	they came home.
Itgā′lXa	tqā′tōtēnîkc	itā′qôq	ta-îtci	tê′lXam,	iā′qôq	iqē′sqēs.	16
They went to the beach	the boys	their children	those	people,	his children	blue-jay.
Kātē′x·	itgā′lXa.	Itktā′owit	ka′nauwē	taXi	ōxoak¡ē′niayuktax	17
Together	they went to the beach.	They gave them	all	those	bundles up. Then the women and the children ate the meat. Blue-jay's children untied their bundle. Then they saw that it was rotten wood. Blue-jay became angry: "They ate all the food and tied up rotten wood. They fooled me." That is the story; to-morrow we shall have good weather.

---

1 ta-îtci tā'qôq. Itciā'owit iā'qôq iqē'sqēs yaXi qîXk¡ē'niak.
these children. He gave it to his children blue-jay that bundle.

2 ItgE'ptcgam ta-îtci tqā'tōtēnîkc. Itoxoē'mux aqa taXi tqLē'lXam
They came up those boys. They ate now that meat

3 ka tE'nEmcke ka tqā'tōtēnîkc. StuX^{u} itgī'yux iqē'sqēs iā'qôq and women and boys. Untie they did it blue-jay his children

4 yaXi qixk¡ē'niak^{u}t. Aqa ā'lEmlEm. Kalā'lkuilē igē'xôx iqē'sqēs:
that bundle. Then rotten wood. Angry became blue-jay:

5 "IqtEnxā'owîlq¡ gi tqLē'lXam aqa Lq` iqak¡ē'niakoa ā'lEmlEm.
"It was eaten from me this meat then maybe it was tied up rotten wood.

6 IqînXEnEmō'tXEmtck." K¡anē'k¡anē'; o'la asa-igā'p.
I have been fooled." The story; to-mor-row good weather.

Myth of the Mink (told 1891)

There was Mink and his elder brother. Every day Mink played itlukum. He lost, but did not want to give up his stakes, and then the children struck him and almost killed him. He went home crying. His elder brother said to him: "Why do you cry?" "Oh, they struck me." Now Mink was hungry. He said to his elder brother: "Brother, I am hungry." His brother replied: "Go to that lake, stretch out your arms, and sit down." Mink went. He sat down and stretched out his arms. Then an arm became visible. Suddenly a horn dish stood on the ground near him. There was one blackberry and one huckleberry, one salmon-berry and one nut in it, one of all kinds of fruits. It was just one handful. Mink went home;

Ikō'sa-ît Itca'kjanē

Mink His Myth

Cxēlā'itîX ikō'sa-ît kja ē'yalXt. Qāā'xLkanē'gua aqa ē'Lukuma 1
There were mink and his elder brother. One day then itlukum qixE'ggam ikō'sa-ît. Iqē'yuLq: itcto'xoaxāmē'lakoa. Iqe'wâq. 2 he played mink. They won over him; he refused to give up his stakes. He was struck.

ā'koapō itgiō'mEqtamit ta-îtci tqā'tōtēnîkc. Igē'Xkjoa. Iâ'qulqt. 3 nearly they killed him those boys. He went home. He wept.

igîXkjoā'mam. Itciō'lXam ē'yalXt: "Qā'tcqē mō'qulqt?" "Ă. 4 he came home. He said to him his elder brother: "Why do you cry?" "Oh, qE'nuwaq." Aqa walō' igī'yux ikō'sa-ît. Itciō'lXam ē'yalXt: 5

I was struck." Then hunger acted on him mink. He said to him his elder brother:

"Walō' gE'nuxt, ā'pXō!" Igē'kîm ē'yalXt: "Mē'ya yaXi iLā'lapa. 6
"Hunger acts on me, elder brother!" He said his elder brother: "Go that lake to.

Ē'wa mtō'xa tE'm'ēxō. Amōlā'ita." Iō'ya ikō'sa-ît. Iō'La-ît; ē'wa 7 Thus do your arms. Stay there." He went mink. He stayed; thus iteî'tôx tī'axō, qā'xpa Lq Lāx aLxō'xoa LgoaLē'lx LE'Lakei. Ē'wa 8 he did them his arms, somewhere visible became a person his hands. Thus igē'xux, ā'nqa Lxe'leuX iuk¡ō'LîtX îcq¡ō'. Ā'ēXt agō'ē aXî'caqt; 9

he did, already ashore stood a dish. One blackberry was in it;

ā'ēXt ā'qEmuke aXî'caqt; ā'ēXt anuwā'yax aXî'caqt; ā'ēXt 10
one blackberry was in it; one huckleberry was in it; one ā'lalX aXî'caqt; ā'ēXt ā'qula agā'mala. Ka'nauwē tqoxoē'max 11 gamass root was in it; one nut its kernel. All fruits tē'XtEmax. Aqa pāL ē'yakei. Igē'Xkjoa ikō'sa-ît. IgiXE'LXaq. 12

one of each. Then full his hand. He went home mink. He was angry.

he was angry. He came to his brother's house and said: "I wanted to get food. It is not enough for me, what they gave me." His elder brother replied: "Quick, eat it. When you have enough, take the dish to your sisters-in-law. Anyone who eats that will have enough." Mink took it and poured the berries into his hands. He ate them and threw the dish away. He looked at the dish. The berries were still in it. He took it again and again ate all. He threw the dish away. He looked at it. Again the berries were in it. Now his elder brother observed him. Now he put the dish down carefully and he ate all those berries. He became satiated. He had enough. He did not finish all. "Quick! Take that dish and put it on the water for your sisters-in-law. Then come home." Mink went and came to that lake. He took that dish and said: "If a woman should come to take that dish, I will haul her ashore; I will lie down with her all day." Now that lake began to boil. He held the dish, but it disappeared and he

1	Iō′yam	tɛ′ctaqʟ	ē′yalXt.	Igē′kîm	ikō′sa-ît:	"Ā′oʟɛl	inuwā′ʟqam,
	He came home	their house	his elder brother.	He said	mink:	"Else	I go to get food,
2	anuqctē′iaʟqa	gēqɛnɛ′lqo-îm."		Igē′kîm	ē′yalXt.	Iqiō′lXam	ikō′sa-ît:
	it is not enough for me	what she gave me to eat."		He said	his elder brother.	He was told	mink:
3	"A′yaq	tɛmxɛ′lɛmuX,		ma′nîx	amuqctē′ya	aqa	amtɛlō′kʟa
	"Quick	eat it,		when	you have enough	then	bring it to them
4	ʟmē′potɛxɛnāna.		Yā′Xka	kɬoaʟqē′	ʟgā′pɛla	qatēxɛlɛmō′Xumx,
	your sisters-in-law.		That	just as	much	they eat,
5	aqa	qā′yuketē′x."		Itcō′guiga	ikō′sa-ît,	wax	itcʟɛ′lôx	lɛ′iakci.
	then	he is satiated."		He took them	mink,	pour out	he did it	his handful.
6	Itixɛ′lɛmux.		Itcixē′ma		ya′Xi	icqɬō′.	Itcī′yuket	yaXi
	He ate it.		He threw it down		that	dish.	He looked at it	that
7	icqɬō′.	Tē′luxt	taXi	tqoxoē′max.		Wit′ax	itcē′gɛlga.	Wit′ax dish.	There were in it	those	fruits.		Again	he took it.	Again
8	itcuXuē′muX		ka′nauwē.	Itcixē′ma	yaXi	icqɬō′;	itcī′yuket	yaXi
	he ate		all.	He threw it down	that	dish;	he looked at it	that 9	icqɬō′,	wi	tē′luxt	taXi	tqoxoē′max.	Itciō′qumit	yaXi	ē′yalXt.
	dish,	again	they were in it	those	fruits.	He saw him	that	his elder brother.
10	Iqiō′qumit	ikō′sa-ît.		Aqa	tɬayā′	itciōkɬō′Lit	yaXi	icqɬō′.
	He saw him	mink.		Then	well	he put it down	that	dish.
11	Itixɛ′lɛmux,	itixɛ′lɛmux	taXi	tqoxoē′max.		Pā2ʟ	igē′x	iā′wan.
	He ate,	he ate	those	fruits.		Full	became	his belly.
12	Iō′qctē.	Nāct	itctō′ʟXōm.		"Ai′aq	iʟɛ′lukɪ	yaXi	ē′Lacqɬō,
	He was satiated.	Not	he finished them.		"Quick	carry it	that	her dish,
13	amiaʟkɬō′lēta		ʟtcu′qoapa		ē′Lacqɬō	ʟɛmē′pōtɛxnāna.		Aqa
	put it down		water in		her dish	your sisters-in-law.		Then 14	mXatkɬoā′ya."		Io′ya	ikō′sa-ît.		Iō′yam	yaXi	ikakɬō′ʟitîXpa.
	come home."		He went	mink.		He arrived	that	lake at.
15	Itcē′gɛlga	yaXi	icqɬō′.	Igē′kîm	ikō′sa-ît:	"Ma′nîx	lān	aʟgigɛlgā′ya
	He took it	that	dish.	He said	mink:	"When	somebody	takes 16	gi	icqɬō′,	anʟxkɬā′ya		ʟxɛ′leu.	Wā′2gua	anlō′ctga,"	igē′kîm
	this	dish,	I shall haul her		ashore.	All day	I lie down with her."	said
17	ikō′sa-ît.	Lɛp,	lɛp,	lɛp, lɛp	igē′x	yaXi	iʟā′la.	Kā mink.	Boil,		boil	did	that	lake.	Where itcigɛlgā′t he held

lost it. He did not see anyone. He went home. His elder brother spoke to him: "Why did you insult your sister-in-law?" And Mink thought: "He knows already what I said."

After a few days, Mink's elder brother spoke: "Let us go and see your sister-in-law. We are hungry." On the following morning they went. After they had gone some time they met a person. He bathed to secure good luck in gambling. A tree lay over the water and he was sitting on its end. Mink said to his brother, the Panther: "What do you think? I will push him and see if he will drown." "Oh, let him alone, he will kill us." His elder brother looked and Mink was already swimming toward that man. He carried his quiver under his arm. Now he reached him and pushed him three times. Then the man took him and threw him away. He fell down far away from that place. His elder brother searched for him and found him. He was dead. Then he took some water and blew on him. Mink yaXi icq¡ō', k¡ɛm itcionā'xLatck. Nāct itcî'LqɛlkɛI LgoaLē'lX. 1 that dish, nothing he lost it. Not he saw a person.

Igē'Xk¡oa. Itciō'lXam ē'yalXt: "Qā'tsqē aqa mLɛlgē'xkLalɛtcL 2
He went home. He said to him his elder brother: "Why then you insulted them

Lɛmɛ'pōtcxɛnāna?" Igixlō'xoa-it ikō'sa-ît: "Ā'nqa l¡ itēlō'xo-ix·it 3 your sisters-in-law?" He thought mink: "Already, behold he knows it tauqā'tk inɛ'kîm." 4

what I said."

Aqā'watîX ictō'qoya, igē'kîm ē'yalXt ikō'sa-ît: "Atxō'ya. 5
Several times they slept, he said his elder brother mink: "Let us go, Atxgō'kctam amē'pōtcxan. Ō'la atxō'ya." Wāx igē'tcuktîX, 6

We will go and see your sister-in-law. To-morrow we will go." Next day it became day, kawī'X aqa ictō'ya. Qā'xpa lq îctō'yam, iLkcō'ckam LgoaLē'lX, 7 early then they went. Somewhere they arrived, they met him a person, iLxqoā'tōL. Ē'Lukuma iLxɛgɛlqoā'tōL. Iā'gîlx·ɛLqîX yaXi ē'mqō; 8 he washed himself to obtain a supernatural helper. Itlukum he washed to obtain a supernatural helper for it. It lay with one end over the water that tree;

kē'mkitîX lē'guxt. ILqLxLā'takᵘt: "Qā imē'Xaqamit ā'pXō, 9 at the end he was sitting. He moved his arms playing itlukum. "How your mind elder brother, pō inLō'sɛmit pō l¡lap iLō'ya?" "Ō, iā'c lɛ'xa, LgoaLē'lX 10

if I push him if under water he goes?" "Oh, let alone do him, the person aLktxōtē'na." Igē'kikct ē'yalXt; ā'nqa yuk¡uē'Xat ikō'sa-ît. 11 he will kill us." He looked his elder brother; already swam mink.

Igimɛlā't iā'q¡ētsxō. ItcLgō'qoam LaXi LgoaLē'lX. ItcLō'sɛmit. 12
He carried under his arm his quiver. He reached that person. He pushed him.

Lō'nîX itcLō'sɛmit. ILgē'gɛlga, iLgēxē'ma. L¡uX ēyuLā'taXit. 13
Three times he pushed him. He took him, he threw him away. Falling down he fell down.

KɛLā'îX igixē'maXitam. Itcionā'xLam ē'yalXt. Iqionā'xLam 14 Far he came falling down. He searched for him his elder brother. He was searched for ikō'sa-ît. Iqio'cgam ikō'sa-ît. Io'mɛqt. Itcî'LgɛLga Lcā'qoa 15 mink. He was found mink. He was dead. He took it water recovered and said: "I have slept; behold, that fellow waked me. Take care; I will shoot him." "Did you sleep? You were dead. That person killed you and threw you away."

They went a long distance. Now the elder brother heard a person. He did not tell his younger brother. Now Mink also heard that person. He was singing: "I sharpen my nails for Mink and his elder brother." Mink said: "What does that person sing about us?" His elder brother replied: "That person is singing: 'I sharpen my nails for Mink and his elder brother.' Be quiet; he will kill us." Now they saw that person sitting on a bluff. He was sharpening his nails. "What do you think?" said Mink, "I will push him. He will be drowned." "Let him alone; he will kill us." Now his elder brother looked back and there was Mink swimming. He pushed that person twice. The person took hold of him right here and threw him away. His arm broke off. His arm fell down at one place, and his body at

1	ēyalXt his elder brother	ikō'sa-ît. mink's.	Pō, pō, pō, pō Blow, blow, blow, blow	aqē'yux he was done	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	ʟ!pāq Recover
2	igē'xôx he did	ikō'sa-ît: mink:	"Nō'qxoyō; "I slept;	tate!a behold	itcinō'qxotcq he waked me	taya'x. that one.	Iā'maq Shoot
3	atc! surely	anilō'xoa." I shall do him."	"Mō'qxoyo "You slept	na?" [int. part.]?"	Iqiō'lXam He was told	ikō'sa-ît: mink:
4	"Imō'maqt. "You were dead.	ILgE'muwaq He killed you	LgoaLē'lX, the person,	iLgEmxē'ma." he threw you away."
5	Aqa Then	wi again	ictō'ya. they went.	KeLā'iX Far	ictō'yam. they arrived.	IgixEltcE'maq He heard something	yaXi that
6	ē'yalXt. his elder brother.	ItcLtcE'maq He heard him	LgoaLē'lX. a person.	Nä2ct Not	igixElgu'lîtck he told	iā'mXîX. his younger brother.
7	IgixEltcE'maq He heard something	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	ItcLtcE'maq He heard him	LaXi that	LgoaLē'lX. person.	Lxō'la He said much	LaXi that
8	LgoaLē'lX: person:	"Ikō'sa-îta "Mink	wē'yalXt and his elder brother	qa where	nāck!itEla I sharpen for them	wagE'Lxoatē." my nails."
9	Igē'kîm He said	ikō'sa-ît: mink:	"Qā "How	Lktxoxō'la does he talk	LgoaLē'lX?" the person?"	Itciō'lXam He said to him	ē'yalXt: his elder brother:
10	"Lxō'la "He says much	LgoaLē'lX: the person:	'Ikō'sa-îta 'Mink	wē'yalXt and his elder brother	nāck!itEla I sharpen for them	wagE'Lxoatē.' my nails.'
11	Qā'txōa Must	ac and	qān quiet	mxā'Lxôx; be;	aLktxotē'na." he will kill us."	IcgE'LqElkEl They saw him	LaXi that
12	LgoaLē'lX person	itcā'lampa bluff on	lōxt. he was.	ILgō'k!oala He sharpened them	aLā'Lxoatē. his nails.	"Qā "How
13	imē'Xaqamē?" your mind?"	igē'kîm said	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	"AnLō'sEmita. "I will push him.	L!lap Under water	aLō'ya." he will go."
14	"Iā'e "Let alone	LE'xa; do him;	aLktxōtē'na." he will kill us."	Ē'wa Thus	igē'xôx did	ē'yalXt, his elder brother,	ka and	yaXī' there
15	iuk!uē'Xat swam	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	ItcLō'sEmit He pushed him	LaXi that	LgoaLē'lX. person.	Mô'kctîX Twice
16	itcLō'sEmit. he pushed him.	ILgē'gElga He took him	gipā'tîX, here,	iLgexē'ma. he threw him away.	Nau'i At once	k!ut break	igē'xox did another place. His elder brother searched for him and found him. He had only one arm. Then he shot a squirrel and put its arm onto Mink. He blew water on him and he recovered. "I have slept," said Mink. "Behold, you waked me!" "Did you sleep? You were dead." "I will shoot him who waked me."

Now they went again and came to a lake. A swan was swimming there. It had two heads. Mink said to his elder brother: "Shoot that swan." "No, that swan is a monster; you see it has two heads." "Oh, shoot it!" He made his brother tired, and he shot the swan; then it turned over. Mink said: "I will swim and get it." But his elder brother said: "No, they will drown you; you will be drowned in that lake." He looked away and already Mink was swimming in the lake. He reached the swan and took it. Then both of them went down. His elder brother cried: "Oh, poor brother! Now they have

ē′yaxō.	Kɛlā′ĭX	iyoɬā′taXit	ē′yaxō,	kɛlā′ĭX	yā′xka	iqexē′ma.	1
his arm.	Far	it fell down	his arm,	far	he	fell down.
Itcio′maxɬ.	ē′yalXt.	Iqio′maxɬ.	ikō′sa-ît.	Iqio′ckam	ikō′sa-ît;	aqa	2
He searched for him	his elder brother.	He was searched for	mink.	He was found	mink;	then
ē′nat kɟā	ē′yaxō.	Iā′maq	itcē′lôx	ikɟā′ōtɛn	ē′yalXt	ikō′sa-ît.	3
one side none	his arm.	Shoot	he did it	a squirrel	his elder brother	mink.
Iqigɛ′qɟoaɬk	ikɟā′otɛn	ē′yaxō.	Iqē′yôx	pō, pō, pō, pō,	ɬcu′qoa		4
It was put on him	the squirrel	its arm.	It was done	blow, blow, blow, blow,	water
pō′po	iqɬē′lôx.	Ɬ¡pāq	igē′xôx:	"Nâ′qxoyō,"	igē′kîm	ikō′sa-ît.	5
blown	was on him.	Recover	he did:	"I slept,"	he said	mink.
"Tatc¡a	iqenō′qōteq."	"Mō′qoyō	na?	Imō′maqt."	"Ē,	iā′maq	6
"Behold	I was waked."	"You slept	[int. part.]?	You were dead."	"Eh,	shoot atc¡	anēlō′xoa,"	itciō′lXam	ē′yalXt.				7
surely	I shall do him,"	he said to him	his elder brother.
Aqa	wi	ictō′ya.	Qā′xpa	qicgiū′ckam	iɬā′la.	Iuk¡uē′x·ala	8
Then	again	they went.	Somewhere	they found it	a lake.	It swam iqelō′q.	Cmôket	ciā′q¡aqetaq	yaXi	iqelō′q.	Itciō′lXam	ikō′sa-ît	9
a swan.	Two	its heads	that	swan.	He said to him	mink
ē′yalXt:	"Iā′maq	ē′lôx	yaXi	iqelō′q!"	"K¡ā′ya,	iqexē′ɬau	yaXi	10
his elder brother:	"Shoot	do it	that	swan!"	"No,	a monster	that iqelō′q.	Amiō′qumē	môket	ciā′q¡aqetaq."	"Qā′txoa	iā′maq	ē′lôx!"	11
swan.	You see it	two	its heads."	"Must	shoot	do it!"
Tä4ll	itcī′yux	ē′yalXt,	aqa	iā′maq	itcē′lôx.	Kopā′	igicɛltegē′x·it	12
Tired	he made him	his elder brother,	then	shoot	he did him.	Then	it turned over
yaXi	iqelō′q.	Igē′kîm	ikō′sa-ît:	"Anuk¡uē′x·iya;	aniuguā′lɛmam."	13
that	swan.	He said	mink:	"I will swim;	I will go and take it."
Igē′kîm	yaXi	ē′yalXt:	"K¡ā′ya,	aqimō′ɬat¡amɛnqɛma	14
He said	that	his elder brother:	"No,	you will be drowned
ē′yagi′ɬat¡ā′mɛnqîX."	Igē′kiket	ē′yalXt,	ā′nqa	yaXi	iuk¡uē′Xat	15
his means of drowning."	He looked	his elder brother,	already	that	water	swam ikō′sa-ît.	Itcigō′qoam	yaXi	iqelō′q.	Itcē′gɛlga.	Ɬ¡lap	ictō′ya	16
mink.	He reached it	that	swan.	He took it.	Under water	they went ckanacmô′ket.	Igigɛ′tcax	ē′yalXt:	"Ō,	igoā′ɬēlX	itcā′mXîX.	17
both.	He cried	his elder brother:	"Oh,	poor	my younger brother.

eaten him." He made five fires and heated stones in all of them. When the stones were hot, he threw them into the lake and made the water boil. Now the lake was boiling. He had used all his stones. The lake became dry and all the monsters were lying on the dry bottom. Their mouths were about a fathom long. He cut the bellies of the large monsters. He finished them all, but he did not find his brother. Then he cut the bellies of the smaller monsters. He cut them all, but he did not find his brother. Then the Panther cried again. Finally he cut the bellies of the small monsters. He cut them all. Now there was only one large newt left. He had skipped it. He cried again. He gave up the hope of finding his brother. Now only that newt was left. He stopped crying. Now he cut its belly. There was Mink holding the swan. He carried him to the water; he blew on him and he recovered. He said: "I have slept; behold, he waked me.

1 Aqa iqē'wulq!." IgaēXE'lgiLX; qui'nEm tqā'lEptckîX itcî'tôx.
Then he is eaten." He made a fire; five fires he made them.

2 ILē'xEltq; kanamtqoā'nEm taXi tE'tōL iLē'XEltEq. ILō'tcqa-it
He heated stones; all five those fires he heated stones. They were hot

3 LaXi LqE'nakc. Aqa itcī'yutcXEm yaXi ikak!ō'LîtX. Aqa lEp those stones. Then he made boil that lake. Then boil

4 igē'x ya'Xi ikak!ō'LitX. Ka'nauwē LaXi LqE'nakc iLXE'LXōm.
did that lake. All those stones he used them all.

5 Aqa q!E'cq!Ec igē'x yaXi iLā'la. Aqa itcō'k!umaxXacā'îX
Then dry became that lake. Then he hauled on dry land

6 tqcxēLā'wukc. LXuan itā'nXamax tgā'k"cXatkc. L!E'XL!EX the monsters. Perhaps each one fathom their mouths. Cut

7 itcî'tôx tgā'unakc, ka'nauwē taXi gitā'qa-iLax tqcxēLā'wukc.
he did them their bellies, all those large monsters.

8 Itctō'LXum. Näct itciō'cgam iā'mXiX. Aqa taXi mank ksE'max
He finished them. Not he found him his younger brother. Then those a little small

9 tqcxēLā'wukc ka'nauwē L!E'XL!EX itcî'tôx tgā'unakc. Itctâ'LXum monsters all cut he did them their bellies. He finished them

10 ka'nauwē. Näct itciō'cgam iā'mXîX. Aqa wi igigE'tcax yaXi all. Not he found him his younger brother. Then again he cried that

11 ik!oayawa'. Aqa atā'xt!ax taXi ksE'max L!E'XL!EX itcî'tôx panther. Then next again those small ones cut he did them

12 tgā'unakc. Ka'nauwē L!E'XL!EX itcî'tôx. AēXt wuXi aq!asE'na; their bellies. All cut he did them. One that newt:

13 itcā'qa-iL wuXi aq!asE'na. Tcaq!E'l'ēyîpX ac qayaxkuā'x. Aqa large that newt. Refuse (left over) and it was skipped. Then 14 wi igigE'tcax, igigE'tcax. TE'mēnua igē'xôx ateiucgā'm iā'mXîX.

again he cried, he cried. Give up he did he finds him his younger brother.

15 Aqa ā'ema iguk!oā'etiXît wuXi aq!asE'na. Qān igē'xôx; igigE'tcax, Then only is lying there that newt. Silent he became; he cried,

16 tcXua L!EX itcî'vôx itcā'wan. Kōpā' igē'xôx ikō'sa-ît. Itcigelgā't then cut he did it its belly. There he was mink. He held it

17 yaXi iqēlō'q. Itcī'yukI Ltcu'qoapa. Itcī'yux pō, pō, pō, pō, that swan. He carried him water to. He did him blow, blow, blow, blow, 18 āc tXu itcilXā'takua. ItcîlXā'takua ikō'sa-ît: "Nō'qxoyō, tate!a and he recovered. He recovered mink: "I slept, behold!

I will shoot him." But his elder brother said: "Did you sleep? You were dead."

Now they went again. They went a long distance. In the afternoon they landed. The Panther said: "We will sleep here," and made a fire. Mink was hungry. He said to his elder brother: "I am hungry." The Panther said: "Strike those spruce trees. A deer will come out. It has long ears." Mink went and struck the spruce trees. Then a mouse ran out of the woods. "Oh, elder brother," he said, "there it runs!" His elder brother arose and looked. Only a mouse passed by. "Did you see it?" said Mink. "Only your grandmother, the mouse, passed me." "They are his grandmothers when I am not hungry."

"Quick, go and strike the spruce trees, a deer will come. If it is a buck it has antlers." Mink went and struck the spruce trees. He shouted to his elder brother: "Oh, elder brother! It is just what you told me, it has antlers." The Panther looked. A snail was crawling

.

itcinō′qotcq. Iā′maq atc¡ anilō′xoa." Igē′kîm ē′yalXt ikō′sa-ît:	1 he waked me. Shoot surely I shall do him." He said his elder brother mink:
"Mō′qxoyō na? Imō′maqt."	2
"You slept [int. part.]? You were dead."
Aqa wi ictō′ya. Kɛlā′iX ictō′ya. YaXī′ aqaʟā′x aqa icxē′gela-îX.	3
Then again they went. Far they went. There the sun then they landed.
Igē′kîm ik¡oayawa′: "Tē′ka gi atxōqō′ya." Iga-ixä′2lgiʟx. Walō′	4
He said the panther: "Here this we will sleep." He made a fire. Hunger igī′yux ikō′sa-ît. "Walō′ gɛ′nuxt," itcīō′lXam ē′yalXt. "Ai′aq	5 acted on him. mink. "Hunger acts on me," he said to him his elder brother. "Quick amī′ya!" iqiō′lXam ikō′sa-ît. "L¡ā′q¡āq amtō′xoa taXi	6 go!" he was told mink. "Strike do them those tɛmā′ktcXɛmax. Ma′nîx ēmā′cɛn alētī′ya itā′ʟqtax tiā′utcakc."	7 spruce trees. When a deer will come long its ears."
Iō′ya ikō′sa-ît. L¡ā′q¡āq itcî′tôx taXi tɛmā′ktcXɛmax. Iguā′Xit	8
He went mink. strike he did them those spruce trees. It ran out
ā′cō. "Ā, āpXoyā′!" itcīō′lXam ē′yalXt, "yaXi aqa iōittā′."	9 a mouse. "Ah, elder brother!" he said to him his elder brother, "that then coming."
Iō′tXuit ē′yalXt; igē′kiket. Ā′ema ā′cō igā′eXkoa. "Tcō′Xua,"	10
He stood there his elder brother; he looked. Only a mouse passed him. "Well," igē′kîm ikō′sa-ît, "a′ēma wuXi amē′ckîX ā′cō igā′nɛXkoa."	11
i.e said mink, "only that your grandmother the mouse passed me."
"Tiā′ckēXɛnana taya′x kā nîct walō′ gɛ′nutx."	12
"His grandmothers those when not hunger acts on me."
"Ai′aq amī′ya, ai′aq amī′ya. L¡ā′q¡aq amtō′xoa tɛmā′ktcXɛmax.	13
"Quick go, quick go. Strike do them the spruce trees.
Ma′nîx emā′cɛn, aqa Liā′qtcam ma′nîx ē′kala." Iō′ya ikō′sa-ît.	14
When a deer, then its antlers when a male." He went mink.
L¡ā′q¡aq itcî′tôx taXi tɛmā′ktcXɛmax. Itcigē′lōma ē′yalXt: "Ā,	15 strike he did them those spruce trees. He shouted to him his elder brother: "Ah, āpXoyā′! L¡a tau imɛnō′lXamtē Liā′qtcam yaXi iō′itɛt."	16 elder brother! Look what you said to me, his antlers that is coming."

there. Mink came and said: "Did you see it?" The Panther replied: "I did not see anything. Only your grandmother, the snail, came there." "Those are his grandmothers," replied Mink. His elder brother said: "The deer jumps in long leaps." Mink went and struck the spruce trees. Then the bullfrog came out of the woods. "Oh, elder brother," said Mink, "there it jumps, just as you told me." The Panther took his bow and arrows, but he saw only a bullfrog. Mink came to his elder brother. "Did it pass you?" "Ah, only your great-grandfather, the bullfrog, passed me jumping." "Those are my great-grandfathers when I am not hungry."

"Quick, quick! Go and strike the spruce trees!" Mink went and struck the spruce trees. Now the rabbit ran out. He shouted to his elder brother: "There he is running!" The Panther arose and looked. Only a rabbit jumped past. Mink said: "Did you see it?" "I did

---

1 Igē'kiket ik¡oayawa'; ā'ema ats¡ɛmē'nqan ak¡lxē't. Igitē'mam
He looked the panther; only a snail came crawling. He arrived coming

2 ikō'sa-ît. "Tcu'xoa imē'qɛlkɛl?" itciō'lXam ē'yalXt. "K¡ā'ya mink. "Well did you see it?" he said to him his elder brother. "Nothing

3 nîct tān inē'qɛlkɛl. Ā'ema ats¡mō'ēqan amē'ckiX wuXi ak¡lxē't." not anything I saw it. Only the snail your grandmother that came crawling."

4 "Tiā'ckiXɛnana taya'x," itciō'lXam ē'yalXt. "Ma'nîx ya'Xka
"His grandmothers those," he said to him his elder brother. "When he 5 emā'cɛn aqa lā'ulāu atsōpɛnā'nanɛma." Iō'ya ikō'sa-ît.

the deer then in leaps he will jump." He went mink.

6 L¡ā'qL¡aq itcî'tôx taXi tɛmā'ktcXɛmax. Iō'ya iq¡oatɛ'nxēxē, Strike he did them those spruce trees. It went the bullfrog,

7 itsōpɛnā'nanɛmtck. "Ā, āpXoyā'!" igē'kîm ikō'sa-ît. "L¡a tau it jumped much. "Ah, elder brother!" he said mink. "Look what 8 imɛnō'lXam atsōpɛnā'na yaXi iō'itɛt." Itcā'gɛlga ayā'pL¡ikē you said to me it jumps that is coming." He took it his bow

9 yaXi ē'yalXt. Iō'tXuit. Iā'ema iq¡oatɛ'nxēxē itcē'qɛlkɛl.
that his elder brother. He stood there. Only the bullfrog he saw it.

10 Igitē'mam ikō'sa-ît ē'yalXtpa. "Tcu'xoa igē'mɛXkoa?" "Iā'ema
He arrived coming mink his elder brother at. "Well did it pass you?" "Only 11 emē'tc¡ɛmax iq¡oatɛ'nxēxē yaXi igē'nɛXkoa sōpɛnā'na." your great-grandfather the bullfrog that passed me jumping."

12 "Tiā'tc¡ɛmaxnāna taya'x kā nîct walō' gɛ'nuxt."
"His great-grandfathers those when not hunger acts on me."

13 "Ai'aq, ai'aq amī'ya! L¡ā'qL¡āq amtō'xoa taXi tɛmā'ktcXɛmax."
Quick, quick go! Strike do them those spruce trees."

14 Iō'ya ikō'sa-ît. L¡ā'qL¡āq itcî'tôx taXi tɛmā'ktcXɛmax. Igēwā'Xit
He went mink. Strike he did them those spruce trees. It ran away

15 ikanaXmɛ'nē. Itcigē'loma ē'yalXt: "Ā, yaXawē aqa iō'itta."
the rabbit. He shouted at him his elder brother: "Ah, here now it is coming."

16 Iō'tXuit ē'yalXt. Igē'kiket. Iā'ema ikanaxmɛ'nē tsōpɛnā'na, He stood there his elder brother. He looked. Only the rabbit it jumped,

17 igē'xkoa. Igē'kîm ikō'sa-ît: "Tcu'xoa imē'qɛlkɛl?" "K¡ā'ya it passed. He said mink: "Well did you see it?" "No not see anything, only your great-grandfather, the rabbit." "Those are my great-grandfathers," said Mink to his elder brother.

"Quick, quick, go!" said the Panther. Mink was angry. He was lazy, and he was told several times to go. Then he went. He struck the spruce trees. Now a buck came out. Then Mink shouted: "There it goes! it has antlers, it jumps." His elder brother looked, and, indeed, a male deer was coming. He shot it and it fell down. They cut it and its stomach was very fat. They cut it and Mink received some fat. Now he ate much. They roasted the deer antlers over the fire and the Panther ate them. Mink looked at his elder brother. His hands were full of grease. He thought: "He is eating all the grease." He said: "He gave me all the dry parts to eat." Then the Panther gave him the antlers. He tried to eat them, but he could not do it, and threw them away. He said: "He gave me something very tough to eat."

It got night, and it was very clear weather. Mink had eaten enough.

nîct tān inē′qɛlkɛl. Iā′ema imē′tc¡ɛmax ikanaXmɛ′nē." 1 not anything I saw it. Only your great-grand-father the rabbit."

"Tiā′tc¡ɛmaxnāma tayaʻx," itciō′lXam ē′yalXt ikō′sa-ît. 2
"His great-grandfathers those," he said to him his elder brother mink.

"Aiʻaq, aiʻaq amī′ya!" iqiō′lXam ikō′sa-ît. IgiXɛ′ʟXaq ikō′sa-ît. 3
"Quick, quick go!" he was told mink. He became angry mink.

Iʟēx q¡am. Qā′watîX iqiō′lXam, koalē′we iō′ya. L¡ā′qL¡āq itcî′tôx 4
He was lazy. Several times he was told, only then he went. Strike he did them taXi tɛmā′ktcXɛmax. Aqa iō′ya ē′kala emā′cɛn. Aqa ixɛ′lqamx 5 those spruce trees. Then he went the male deer. Then he shouted ikō′sa-ît: "Āqa yaXi iōittā′! Liā′qtcam; itsōpɛnā′na." Igē′kîket 6 mink: "Now that one is coming! It has antlers; it jumps." He looked ē′yalXt. Ā′qanuwē ē′kala emā′cɛn itē′t. Iā′maq itcē′lôx ac kopā′ 7 his elder brother. Indeed a male deer came. Shoot he did it and there igixē′maXit. Icgē′yuxc, ac qɬɛ′cqɬɛc ayā′pXɛleu ē′yamxtcpa. 8 it lay. They cut it and dry its fat its stomach at.

Aqa icgī′yuxc; iqa-ilqoē′mniɬtck apXɛ′leu ikō′sa ît. Aqa 9
Then they cut it; he was given food grease mink. Then igixʟxɛ′lɛmitck ikō′sa-ît. L¡ā′L¡a itcî′lôx ʟaXi Liā′qtcam emā′cɛn. 10 he ate mink. Roasted over the fire he made them those its antlers the deer.

Iʟixɛ′lɛmux yaXi ik¡oayawa′. Itcī′yuket yaXi ē′yalXt ikō′sa-ît. 11
He ate it that panther. He saw it that his elder brother mink.

Pāʟ ʟqā′tcau taXi tē′yakci. Iā′ema ʟgā′qatcau tixelā′x. Igē′kîm 12 Full fat that his hands. Only its fat he ate it. He said

ikō′sa-ît: "Naiʻka itcimɛ′lqoēm acatēq¡ɛ′cq¡ɛc." lqʟō′lōt iko′sa-ît 13 mink: "Me he gave me to eat too dry." He was given mink ʟaXi ʟqɛ′tcam. Kē′nuwa iʟxɛ′lɛmux. Lāx îtcklā′koa-it. 14 those antlers. Try he ate it. He could not do it.

Itcʟxɛ′nma. "Tā′nki itcimɛ′lqoîm aca-iq¡ɛ′lq¡ɛl." 15
He threw it away. "Something he gave me to eat too hard."

Igō′ponɛm. Iuq¡oā′lak; tɛmɛ′m iuq¡oā′lak. Lō′qcti aqa ikō′sa-ît. 16
It got dark. It was clear weather; clean it was clear weather. He was satiated then mink.

He asked his elder brother: "What is the name of the place where we sleep?" "It is forbidden to mention the name; it begins to rain when the name is uttered." "Oh, tell me!" "No, the name must not be mentioned in winter. It is forbidden to mention the name, else a long spell of rainy weather will come on." Mink said: "Oh, whisper the name into my ear." "I will tell you the name when we arrive at our next camp." Mink said again: "Oh, whisper that name into my ear." Then his elder brother told him in a low voice: "The name of this lake is Tā'îx,"[1] and Mink said: "That is good; now I know the name of this lake." Now the Panther did not know where Mink had gone. Mink shouted: "Tā'îx is the name of the lake, on the shores of which I and my brother are going to sleep; Tā'îx is its name." He shouted as loud as he could. Then Mink's brother was angry. "Oh, that bad fellow! Quick, gather sticks, that we may sit on top of them!" He gathered sticks. He gathered many. He sat down on top of

1	Itciuqu'nitcxōgoa He asked him	c'yalXt: his elder brother:	"Qā "How	ia'xɛlēwîx· its name	qā where	atxoqō'ya?" we sleep?"
2	"Nāct "Not	aqiupqɛnā'xîX. it is named.	Tgā'kɨēɬau. It is forbidden.	Imɛlā'lkuilē A rainy spell	alixō'xoa." it will be."
3	"Qā'txōa "Must	amxanɛlkɪē'tcgoa." you tell me."	"Kɨā'ya "No"	nîct not	aqiupqɛnā'xiX it is named	ma'nîx when
4	tcā'xɛlqlîX winter	kɨa what	qa its name	iā'xɛleu that	tayax lake.	ikakɨō'ɬitîX. It is forbidden
5	aqiupqɛnā'x. It is named.	Imɛlā'lkuilē A rainy spell	nîxō'xoax," it gets,"	iqiō'lXam he was told	ikō'sa-ît. mink.
6	"Qā'txoa "Must	ɬawā' low voice	amiupqɛnā'ya." you call it."	"Ā'ɬqi "Later on	anxkɪē'tcgoa; I shall tell you;	angē'ma I shall say
7	yiXā'pa there	intō'qoya, we sleep,	kɨoaɬqā' thus	iā'xɛlēwiX." its name."	"Ā "Ah	sā'osao low voice
8	amiupqɛnā'ya." name it."	Aqa Then	itciō'lXam he said to him	ē'yalXt: his elder brother:	"Kɨa "And	nîct not	tcɨpāq loud
9	amiupqɛnā'ya. you name it.	Tā'îx Tā'îx	iā'xɛleu its name	tayax that	ikakɨō'ɬitîX." lake."	Igē'kîm He said
10	ikō'sa-ît: "Qoā'ɬɨ mink: "All right	iginlō'Xuix·it I know it	iā'xɛleu its name	tayax that	ikakɨō'ɬitîX." lake."	Aqa Then
11	igiunā'xɬatck he was lost	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	Itciunā'xɬatck He lost him	ē'yalXt. his elder brother.	Iga-ixɛ'lqɛmx He shouted
12	ikō'sa-ît: "Tā'2îx mink: "Tā'îx	iā'xɛleu its name	ikakɨō'ɬitîX the lake	antîxqō'ya we sleep	wē'tcîlXt. my elder brother.	Tā'îx Tā'îx
13	iā'xɛleu, its name,	Tā'îx Tā'îx	iā'xɛleu." its name."	Tcɨpāk Loud	iga-ixɛ'lqamx. he shouted.	IgiXɛ'ɬXaq He grew angry
14	ē'yalXt his elder brother	ikō'sa-ît: mink's:	"Nā "Oh,	yaXī'yaX this	tā'nki thing	giā'mɛla! bad!	Ai'aq Quick
15	tpɨē'yaɬx, gather them,	ɬgā'pɛla many	tɛ'mqō sticks	tpɨē'yāɬx." gather them."	Itctōpɨē'yaɬx He gathered them	yaXi that	ē'yalXt his elder brother
16	ikō'sa-ît; mink;	ɬgā'pɛla many	itctōpɨē'yaɬx. he gathered them.	C'ā'xalîX High	tgē'lkuîɬq that to sit on	itixɛ'lux. became.

[1] A lake in the mountains near the head of Cowlitz river.

them. Mink gathered only a few and lay down. Now the noise of rain was heard and a freshet came. In the morning Mink had disappeared. He drifted away with the water. Now Mink's elder brother went down the river and cried. He went a long distance and came to a jam. He searched for his younger brother at that jam. There he saw him between the logs. His stomach was full of water. He blew on him and he recovered. "I slept and that fellow waked me. I will shoot him." "Did you sleep? You were dead. You drifted down the river."

Then they came to the Panther's wife and there they stayed. There was an old man, one of the woman's relatives. Mink was teasing him all the time. Now the Panther's wife gave birth to a child. The woman's relative said to Mink: "Let us go to get wood." Mink said: "All right, we will go." Early the following morning they went across the water. There they made a fire at the foot of a fir tree.

Nōɬ¡ ka îtctōp¡ē'yaLx ikō'sa-îx. aqa kōpa' igixō'kcit. Ictō'ko-iLtē, 1
A little only he gathered it mink, then there he lay down. It rained.

tc¡āc, tc¡āc, tc¡āc, Luwā' iLē'xôx. Igē'tcuktîX aqa k¡ā'ya ikō'sa-îx. 2 noise of rain, a freshet it became. Day came then nothing mink.

Iō'Xunē. Iyagᴇ'La-it ē'yalXt, aqa iō'stsō ē'yalXt ikō'sa-îx. 3
He drifted. He was there his elder brother, then he went down the river his elder brother mink.

Iō'qulqt, iō'stsō ik¡oayawa'. Kᴇlā'îX iō'ya. ItcLō'egam Ltcā'unē. 4
He cried, he went down the river the panther. Far he went. He found it a jam.

Itciō'naxL iā'mXîX kōpa', LaXi Ltcā'unēpa. Kōpā' itciō'egam 5
He searched for him his younger brother there, that jam at. There he found him iauiq¡ā'yaqt LaXi Ltcā'unēpa. Pāᴌ iā'wan Ltcu'qoa. Pō, pō, pō, 6 he was between them that jam at. Full his belly water. Blow, blow, blow, pō itcī'yux. ItcîlXā'takoa ikō'sa-ît. "Nâ'qxoyō, itcinō'qxoɪcq 7 blow he did him. He recovered mink. "I slept, he waked me taya'x, iā'maq anēlō'xoa." "Mō'qxoyō na? Imō'maqt; imō'Xunē." 8 that one, shoot I shall do him." "You slept [int. part.]? You were dead; you drifted."

Aqa wi ictō'ya qā'eqamîX. 9
Then again they went down the river.

Ictō'yam wuXi ayā'kikalpa ik¡oayawa'. Aqa kōpa' icxē'la-it. 10
They arrived that his wife at the panther. Then there they stayed.

Iq¡eyō'qt yaXi iā'qôqcîn ikō'sa-ît. Ka'nauwē qā'tgemax qatcē'xax 11
An old man that his sister-in-law's relative mink. All kinds of ways he did to him yaXi iā'qôqcîn. Qa-itcix·inᴇmō'tx·ᴇma-îtx. Lä4, aqa igakXᴇ'tōm 12 that his sister-in-law's relative. He always made fun of him. Some time. then she gave birth ayā'kikal ik¡oayawa'. Itciō'lXam iā'qôqcîn: "Ō'la aqa tᴇ'mᴇqō 13 his wife the panther. He said to him his relative's brother-in-law: "To-morrow then wood atxō'ya." Igē'kîm ikō'sa-ît: "Qoä'L¡ atxō'ya." Kawî'X aqa 14 we will go for." He said mink: "All right! we will go." Early then ictē'gōsîx·. Ictigō'samîx·. Aqa icgiā'lᴇgiLx amqcî'ckan. Lxuan 15 they went across. They came across. Then they burnt it a fir. Perhaps

The tree was that thick. After a little while it fell. It fell toward the water. The old man said to Mink: "Run toward the water." Mink ran and the dry fir fell just in that line. It broke to pieces and all the bark came off. The old man thought: "Thus I killed him." Thus he said to Mink. The old man put the dry wood in piles and took off all the bark. Then he went down and came to his canoe. It was almost filled with dry wood. Mink had piled the wood up in the canoe. Then the old man said to him: "Little rascal!" But Mink said: "You are an old man and you are strong, not I." They put the dry wood into the canoe. It was full. Mink thought: "Where shall I stay? The canoe is full." The old man said: "I will put you into the basket with our wedges." He put stones into the bottom of the basket and placed him on top. He put the wedge [basket] on top of the wood. Now they went across. When they came to the middle of the

1	ä'wa thus	itcā'pɛlatax thick	agā'qalɛmq, its bark,	as and	nō'ɬi̯îX a little while	aqa then	igō'itcō. it fell.	Igō'-itcō It fell
2	ē'wa thus	maɬnata'. toward the water.	Aqa Then	iqiō'lXam he was told	ikō'sa-ît: mink:	"Mɛ'kta "Run	ē'wa thus	maɬnata'." toward the water."
3	Igō'kta He ran	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	Pā There	iga-ēlō'yumXit just in that line	wuXi that	aqɛ'lɛmq its bark	igō'itcō. fell.
4	ɬi̯mā'nɬi̯mān Broken to pieces	igā'x was	wuXi that	amqcî'ckan. fir.	Ka'nauwē All	lāq come off	igaxā'x did
5	agā'qalɛmq. its bark.	IgixLō'Xoa-it He thought	yaXi that	iqi̯eyō'qt: old man:	"Qoā'ɬi̯ "All right,	aqa now
6	iyamō'waq." I killed him."	Iqiō'lXam He was told	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	Itcaxtqoā'laɬɛmtck He piled it up	wuXi that
7	aqɛ'lɛmq bark	yaXi that	iqi̯eyō'qt. old man.	Sāqi̯ All	tci̯u'xtci̯ux strip off	itcō'xoa he did it	wuXi that
8	aqɛ'lɛmq. bark.	Aqa Then	iō'ɬxa. he went down to the water.	Iō'yam He arrived at	ictā'Xanim. their canoe.	Qi̯oā'p Nearly	pāL full	alixō'xa it was going to be
9	aqā'lɛmq. bark.	ItcakXatqoā'la He had piled it up	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	Itciō'lXam He said to him	iā'qôqcîn: his sister-in-law's relative:	"Iqa "Maybe
10	tānki something	mxēlâ'l you do	ɬaXi that	Lqoē'tgaitgai." little rascal."	Igɛ'kîm He said	ikō'sa-ît: mink:	"Mqi̯eyō'qt "You are an old man
11	mā'yax you	alamxelō'l." you do it."	Icgā'kXatk They put into the canoe	wuXi that	aqɛ'lɛmq. bark.	PāL Full	ictā'xanim. their canoe.
12	IgixLō'Xoa-it He thought	ikō'sa-ît: mink:	"Qā'xpa "Where	Lq maybe	anakɬā'eta?" I shall stay?"	PāL Full	igō'xôx was
13	ictā'xanim. their canoe.	Itciō'lXam He said to him	iā'qôqcîn: his relative's brother-in-law:	"Gipā' "Here	gi these	txā'qcqɛmapa our wedges to
14	ayamɛlgō'tga." I shall put you."	Iqō'mxōm A basket	tē'loxt they were in	taXi those	tctā'qcqɛma. their wedges.	ItcɬE'lgitk He put them into it
15	Lqɛ'nakc. stones.	Lɛ'gigoala Below them	itcɬɛ'lgītk. he put them into it.	Aqa Then	itcē'lgītk he put him into it	iā'qôqcîn. his relative' brother-in-law
16	Iqē'lgītk He was put into it	ikō'sa-ît. mink.	Caxala' On top	tɛ'ctamqōpa their wood	itciakxa'ema. he put him into the canoe.	Aqa Then bay, the old man made the canoe shake. Mink fell into the water and went down. Then the old man thought: "Now I have killed him." The old man came home. A person was walking up and down. He looked just like Mink. The old man landed. Then Mink came down and said: "You stayed a long time and I brought our wedges and hammers home already." "Ha, this little rascal," said the old man. Mink replied: "You are an old man and you are strong. I am only a boy. I can not do as much as you." Now they carried up all the wood. Then they stayed.

Then again he teased the old man. Sometimes he threw water on him when he was asleep; sometimes he burned him. One night the old man said: "Let us try who will stay awake longest." Mink said: "All right." He went and searched for some rotten wood. When it got dark, he put the rotten wood over his eyes. The old man

.

ictē′gosîx·.	Kā′tɛkɬa	ē′maʟ	ictō′yam.	Lāx"	itcī′yux	ictā′Xanim.	1
they went across.	Middle	in the bay	they arrived.	Rock	he did it	their canoe.
Lɨ̣ōX	ioʟā′tax·it	ikō′sa-ît	Lteu′qoapa.	Lɨ̣lap	iō′ya	ikō′sa-ît.	2
Fall down	he fell down	mink	the water into.	Under water	he went	mink.
IgixʟŌ′Xoa-it	yaXi	iq!eyō′qt:	"Qɨ̣oā′Lɨ̣,	aqa	inī′waq."	Qɨ̣oā′p	3
He thought	that	old man:	"All right,	now	I killed him."	Nearly iō′yam	yaXi	iq!eyō′qt.	Aqa	Lktā′la	Lgoaʟē′lX.	Ya′Xka	Lɨ̣a	4
he arrived	that	old man.	Then	he walked about	a person.	He	be-hold!
ikō′sa-ît	iʟa′lkuilō.	Igixɛ′gɛka-îX	yaXi	iq!eyō′qt.	Igɛ′ʟxam	5
mink	he resembles him.	He landed	that	old man.	He came down to the beach
ikō′sa-ît:	"Lē′lē	kɨ̣ā′ya	imɛ′xôx,	ā′nqa	întɛ′ʟam	txā′qeqama	kɨ̣a	6 mink:	"Long	nothing	you were,	long ago	I brought them	our wedges	and txā′ʟxalōʟa."	"Lqa	tā′nki	mxelâ′l	ʟaXi	Lqoē′tgaitgai."	7
our hammers."	"Maybe	something	you do	that	little rascal."
"Mq!eyō′qt	mā′yax	alamxelō′l.	Naí′ka	nkɨ̣ā′skas	Lqa	pō	nîɛt	8
"You are an old man	you	you do it.	I	I a boy	maybe	if	not nxelō′l."	Icktō′kuiptɛk	ka′nauwē	ta′Xi	tɛ′ctamqō.	Aqa	wi	9
I do it."	They carried it up	all	that	their wood.	Then	again
Lxē′la-it.	10
they stayed.
Ka′nauwē	qā′tgemax	qatciō′xoa-itx	yaXi	iā′qôqcîn.	Anā′	11
All	kinds of ways	he did to him	that	his sister-in-law's relative.	Some-times
Lteu′qoa	wax	qateʟigō′xoax.	Kā	iō′qxoyō	yaXi	iq!eyō′qt,	aqa	12
water	pour out	he did on him.	When	he slept	that	old man,	then
Lteu′qoa	wāx	aqʟigō′xoax.	Anā′	qatcixtɛlā′max	iā′qôqcîn	ikō′sa-ît.	13
water	pour	it was done on him.	Some-times	he burned him	his sister-in-law's relative	mink.
Agōna′pol	itcio′lXam	ia′qôqcîn:	"AtXumgē′tga.	atxɛ′gɛlɛma."	14
One night	he said to him	his relative's brother-in-law:	"Let us go,	we will be awake."
Igo′kîm	ikō′sa-ît:	"Qoa′Lɨ̣."	Itcoma′xʟam	ikō′sa-it	apʟx·ā′îmq.	15
He said	mink:	"All right."	He went to search for it	mink	rotten wood.
Igō′ponɛm,	iga-ixɛ′lôx	siā′xostpa	wuXi	apʟx·ā′îmq.	Nigē′ketx	16
It got dark,	he put it on	his eyes on	that	rotten wood.	He looked looked and he saw Mink's eyes open all the time. Then it got daylight. "Ha, you little rascal," said the old man. [Mink replied:] "You are an old man and you are strong. I am only a boy. I can not do as much as you." Then the old man gave it up.

He thought: "I will tell him to bring me a wolf; he shall devour him." On the following morning the old man told him: "Quick, go and bring me two wolves. They were my playmates when I was a boy." Mink went and came to the wolf's house. He said: "I come to fetch you. My sister-in-law's relative told me to bring you." They said: "Well." He brought them and threw them down before the old man. They bit him. "Quick, take them away; they do not like me." Mink took them away and carried them back.

Another day, the old man said: "Quick, bring me two bears." Mink went and arrived at the house of the bears. "I came to fetch you." He carried them home and threw them down before the old man. They slapped him with their paws. "Ah, what is he doing, that little rascal?" "You are an old man and you are strong. I am that old man. He saw (had his eyes open) mink he saw him. He saw (had his eyes open) mink.

1 yaXi iq¡eyō'qt. Igē'qamit ikō'sa-ît qatciō'ketx. Igē'qamit ikō'sa-ît.

2 Wāx nitcō'ktxîX: "ʟqa tā'nki mxelâ'l ʟaXi ʟqoē'tgaitgai."
Next morning it got day: "Maybe something you do that little rascal."

3 "Mq¡eyō'qt mai'ka tatc¡a mxelō'l; ʟqa pō nai'ka nk¡ā'skas nîct
"You are an old man you behold! you do; maybe if I I am a boy not 4 nxēlō'l." Aqa tā'menua igē'x yaXi iq¡eyō'qt.

I do." Then give up he did that old man.

5 Igîxlō'Xoa-it yaXi iq¡eyō'qt: "Llē'q¡amō aniʟgelō'goatcgoa.
He thought that old man: "Wolves I shall send for them.

6 K¡ō'ma aqēwu'lq¡ama." Qāxʟkanē'goa itciō'lXam iā'qôqcîn: "Ai'aq Perhaps he will be killed." One day he said to him his relative's brother-in-law: "Quick

7 ʟgā'lemam Lle'q¡amō kaqa nk¡ā'skas igE'xēmōtxEmX." Iō'ya fetch the wolves, when I was a boy I played with them." He went 8 ikō'sa-ît. Iō'yam Llē'q¡amō tE'ʟaqʟ. Itcō'lXam: "Iamtgā'lemam. mink. He arrived the wolves their house. He said to two of them: "I came to fetch you two.

9 Itcî'qôqcîn itcîntō'koatck." Acgiō'lXam: "Tgt¡ō'kti." Itcō'k'ıam.
My sister-in-law's relative sent me." They two said to him: "Well." He brought them.

10 ItccilXā'kuēq iā'qôqcîn. Icgē'x'tca yaXi iq¡eyō'qt. "Ai'aq cE'k'ıa;
He threw them down to his sister-in-law's relative. They two bit him that old man. "Quick carry them;

11 cgEnexE'lEluxt." Itcî'cuk'ı ikō'sa-ît. Itcō'k'ıam tE'ctaqʟpa.
they do not like me." He carried them mink. He brought them two their house to.

12 Igonō'gua: "Ai'aq sgā'lemam skō'ntXoa." Iō'ya ikō'sa-ît.
Another day: "Quick fetch them two two black bears." He went mink.

13 Itcgō'qoam skē'ntXoa tE'ctaqʟpa. "Iamtgā'lemam." Itcî'cuk'ı,
He arrived at the two bears their home at. "I came to fetch you two." He carried them two.

14 igē'Xk¡oa. Itcō'k'ıam. Itccîlxā'kuēq iā'qôqcîn. P¡a'qp¡aq he went home. He brought them two. He threw them down to his sister-in-law's relative. Slap 15 icgī'yux. "ʟqa tā'nki mxēlâ'l ʟaXi ʟqoē'tgaitgai!" "Mq¡eyō'qt, they two did him. "Maybe something you do that little rascal!" "You are an old man, only a boy. I can not do as much as you." "Quick, take them away." Mink took them away and carried them home to their house.

After a few days he told him to bring two raccoons. Mink went and brought the raccoons. He brought them to the house and threw them down before the old man. They scratched him all over. "Take them away. They do not know me. When I was young they used to know me." He took them away and carried them home. On the following day the woman's relative told him: "Bring me two grizzly bears from that mountain. Long ago I used to play with them." Mink went and came to the mountain. He told the grizzly bears: "I came to fetch you. My sister-in-law's relative wants you." They said: "All right, take us." He carried them home and threw them down before the old man. They scratched and tore his whole body. Then the old man cried much. Mink's elder brother told him to take them away. He took them away and carried them back.

That is the story; to-morrow it will be good weather.

---

ma′yax	ālamxēlō′l;	ʟqa	pō	nai′ka	nk!ā′skas	pō	nîct	nxēlō′l."		1
you	you do it;	maybe	if	I	I am a boy	if	not	I do it."
"Ai′aq	cî′kɪa!"	Itccî′cukɪ	ikō′sa-îţ.		Itccō′kɪam	tɛ′ctaqʟpa.				2
"Quick	carry them!"	He carried them	mink.		He brought them	their house to.
Qā′watîX	ʟq	iō′qoya-îX	ac	tā′xt	cʟatā′t	itecigɛlō′koatck.		Iō′ya		3
Several times	perhaps	they slept	and	next	two raccoons	he sent him for them.		He went ikō′sa-îţ.	Itcî′cukɪ	cʟatā′t.		Itccō′kɪam	tɛ′ʟaqʟpa.		Itccîlxā′kuēq			4
mink.	He carried them	two raccoons.		He brought them	their house to.		He threw them down to iā′qôqcîn.	Icgiō′pēqʟa	ka′nauwē.		"Cɛ′kɪa!	aqa	cgēnxɛ′ʟɛluX.				5
his sister-in-law's relative.	They scratched him	all.		"Carry them two!	now	they do not like me.
Akoanitsik!aē′ts	aqa	cgɛ′nokul."		Itcî′cukɪ	cʟatā′t.		Itccō′kɪam			6
When I was young	then	they knew me."		He carried them two	the two raccoons.		He brought them
tɛ′ctaqʟpa.										7
their house to.
WāX	igē′tcuktîX,	itcō′lXam	iā′qôqcîn:		"Cgā′lɛmam	cā′yim	yaXi			8
Early	it got day,	he said to him	his sister-in-law's relative:		"Fetch them two	two grizzly bears	that ipā′kalpa.	Cgɛ′xēmōtXɛmX		ā′nqa."		Iō′ya	ikō′sa-îţ.		Iō′yam	yaXi	9 mountain on.	I played with them		long ago."		He went	mink.		He arrived	that ipā′kalpa.	Itccō′lXam		cā′yim:		"Iamtgā′lɛmam.			Itcî′qôqcîn		10 mountain on.	He said to the two		two grizzly bears:		"I came to fetch you.			My sister-in-law's relative itcîntō′koatck."	Icgiō′lXam:		"Qoā′ʟ!		imɛntgā′lɛmam."			Itcî′cukɪ.		11
he sent me."	They two said to him:		"All right,		fetch us."			He carried them two.
IgiXk!oā′mam.	Itccîlxā′kuēq		iā′qôqcîn.		Icgiō′pēqʟa;		ka′nauwē			12
He came home.	He threw them down to		his sister-in-law's relative.		They two scratched him;		all
ē′yaʟq	ʟ!mɛ′nʟ!mɛn		icgī′yux.		Icixɛlqē′ʟxalɛmtck		yaXi	iq!eyō′qt.		13
his body	torn		they made it.		He cried with pain		that	old man.
Itciō′lXam	ē′yalXt	ikō′sa-îţ:		"Cɛ′kɪa."		Itcî′cukɪ		ikō′sa-îţ.		14
He said to him	his elder brother	mink:		"Carry them two."		He carried them		mink.
Itccaqɛlō′kctxam.		K!anē′k!anē,		ō′la	asa-igā′p.					15
He carried them back on his back.		The story,		to-morrow	it will be good weather.

Robin and Salmon-berry (told 1891)

Robin and Salmon-berry were sisters. They lived on opposite sides of one house. Every day they went picking berries. In the evening they came home. Robin's berries were all unripe, Salmon-berry's were all ripe. Robin used to eat right away all the ripe ones that she found. They went out often. One day Robin said: "Louse me." Then Salmon-berry loused her. When she had finished, Salmon-berry said: "Now you louse me." Robin loused her and said: "Oh, your louse is sweet." In the evening they went home. On the next day they did the same thing again. First Robin was loused, and afterward she loused Salmon-berry. They went out often and Robin said: "Oh, younger sister, your louse is sweet.

Amē'sgaga ictā'k!anē k!a Ā'lele

Robin Their Myth and Salmon-berry

1 Agā'mtXiX tēXt tɛ'ctaqL cî'xak!anatētōL. Ka'nauwē lkā'etax
Her younger sister one their house they two on opposite sides. All days

2 qacxElō'kca-îtx. QacXk!oā'mamx. Tsō'yustîX qacXk!oā'mamx.
they picked berries. They came home. In the evening they came home.

3 Lā'ema kɪuwā'qē itcā'k!ēwula amē'sgaga. Ka'nauwē lōkst
Only unripe what she gathered robin. All ripe

4 itcā'k!ēwula ā'lele. Manē'x aguegā'mx ōkst amē'sgaga, ā'nqa what she gathered salmon berry. When she found it a ripe one robin, already

5 aguwu'lq!amx. Ē'2laqawatîX ictō'ya. Igā'kîm amē'sgaga:
she ate it. Several times they two went. She said robin:

6 "Qâi imLengɛ'qikct!" Aqa Lagɛ'qikct amē'sgaga. Iklā'qōLq
"Must you louse me!" Then she loused her robin. She finished

7 Lagɛ'qikct. Iqō'lXam ā'lele: "Amaî't!ax aLamgē'qcta!"
she loused her. She was told salmon berry: "You next I louse you."

8 Iqlagiqē'kct ā'lele. Igā'kîm amē'sgaga: "Ā its!ā'ts!emôm
She was loused salmon berry. She said robin: "Ah, sweet

9 gi ā'mēqct." Tsō'yustîX icî'Xk!oa. Igonē'gua k!oaLqā' wi this your louse." In the evening home. they two went One day thus again

10 icî'xôx. Ā'newa amē'sgaga iqlagɛ'qēkct, kē'qamtqîX ā'lele they did. First robin was loused, afterward salmon berry

11 iqlagɛ'qēkct. Tcā'xēXL qictō'ya. Aqa igō'lXam: "Ō, ā'tcē! was loused. Several times they went. Then she said to her: "Oh, younger sister!

12 Its!ā'ts!emôm gi ā'mēqct. Qa imē'Xaqamē pō iamō'wulq!.
Sweet this your louse. How you mind if I eat you.

What do you think, I will eat you. Then I shall wail for you all the time." Salmon-berry replied: "No; your nephews would be poor." They came home and Salmon-berry told her children: "That monster said she would eat me. If she really should eat me, don't stay here any longer. Go away at once, else she will eat you also. If she tries to deceive you, do not believe her." Robin's children were all girls. Salmon-berry's children were all boys.

Robin and her younger sister went out often. One night Robin came home alone. Behold, she had cut the neck of her younger sister. Then Salmon-berry's sons thought: "She has killed her." The name of Salmon-berry's eldest son was Wā'ckōk¡umai'hē. Robin said: "Your mother lost her way." One of Salmon-berry's sons was small. He was still an infant. It was night, but Salmon-berry's eldest son remained awake. He thought that Robin might try to eat them when they were asleep. While he was awake, she arose and went out slowly. She threw Salmon-berry's breasts into the fire. Then

Ka'nauwe ʟqetā'kemax ¡amgɛ'mtcax." ¡gō'lXam: "K¡a'ya 1
All years I cry for you." She said to her: "No," ʟā'gēyutkoax ʟmē'wulXnāna." IcXk¡oā'mam. Igaxa-îlgu'ʟîtck 2 poor your nephews." They came home. She told him itcā'xan ā'lele: "IgEnuxō'la wuXi aqcxē'ʟau aganuwu'lq¡ama. 3 her son salmon berry: "She said to me that much monster she will eat me.

Ma'nîx qēnagEnwu'lq¡ama, nau'i kElā'îX amcō'ya. Näct 4
When she eats me, at once far go. Not tē'ka amcxelā'-ita, yā'okîX agamcEwu'lq¡amx. Ma'nîx lā'xlax 5 here stay, else she will eat you. When deceive agEmcō'xoa, nēct ā'qanuē amxʟuXuā'ita." Ka'nauwe tE'nEmckc 6 she does you, not indeed you think." All females itcā'qôq amē'sgaga. Ā'lele ka'nauwē tkā'lukc itcā'qôq. 7 her children robin. Salmon berry all males her children.

Qā'watîX ictō'ya amē'sgaga k¡a agā'mtX. Xā'pîX aqa 8
Several times they went robin and his sister. At dark then igaXatk¡oā'mam amē'sgaga ā'ema. Qōct, ʟq¡up igiā'xôx itcā'tuk 9 she came home robin alone. Behold, cut she did it her neck wuXi agā'mtXîX. Igixʟō'xoa-it yaXi itcā'xan ā'lele: "Ā'qa 10 that her younger sister. He thought that her son salmon berry: "Now igō'waq." Wā'ckōk¡umai'hē iā'xaleu yaXi itcā'xan ā'lele yaXi 11 she killed her." Wā'ckōk¡umai'hē his name that her son salmon berry that ixgE'qunq. Ikʟō'lXam: "Igomā'tako-it wā'mcaq." Iū'k¡oa-îts yaXi 12 the eldest one. She said to him: "She lost her way your mother." Small that ēXā't itcā'xan ā'lele ixgē'sqax ka igE'tukc. Igō'ponEm: 13 one her son salmon berry the youngest one and he sucked. It got dark:

igixi:'gElEmtck yaXi ixgE'qunq itcā'xan ā'lele. Igixʟō'Xoa it 14 he was awake that eldest one her son salmon berry. He thought akʟuwE'lq¡ama ma'nîx aʟqē'witx'ita. Qā ē'xkEl aqa igaxE'latck: 15 she would eat them when they would sleep. Where he awake then she arose:

ʟāwā' igō'pa. Iktā'ʟkXatq taXi t¡ō'max. Igē'kîm yaXi 16 slowly she went out. She threw them into the fire those breasts. He said that Salmon-berry's son said: "Oh, my breasts, my breasts!" Robin took the breasts out of the fire and said: "He dreams of his mother's breast. To-morrow I will search for your mother." Five times she tried to throw the breasts into the fire, but that boy saw it every time. He recognized his mother's breasts.

On the following morning she made herself ready and went. Then Salmon-berry's [eldest] son made a fire. He told Robin's children: "Let us play. We will steam each other. You steam us first, then we will steam you. When we say, 'Now we are done,' you must take us out of the hole." Robin's children said: "Well, all right." Salmon-berry's children were put into the hole first. After a little they were hot, and then the eldest brother said: "Now we are done." They were taken out of the hole. They were dug out of the hole. Then they made a fire. When the stones were hot, Robin's children were put into the hole. Then they put dirt on top of them, and put large sticks over them. They said: "We are done," but Salmon-berry's son did not take them out. For a little while they cried. Then they itcā'xan ā'lele: "Sɛ'gɛtɟō, sɛgɛtɟō'." Igō'guiga taXi tɟō'max her son salmon berry: "My breasts, my breasts." She took them those breasts iguXuā'kuiq lxɛ'leuX. Igā'kîm amē'sgaga: "Ā cē'yatɟō she threw them away from the fire. She said robin: "Ah, his breasts, icîXquwā'luqL. Ō'la anōnā'xLama wā'mcaq." Qoā'nɛmîX kē'nuwa he is dreaming of them. To-morrow I will go and search for her your mother." Five times try itaxɛ'lgīLx taXi tɟō'max. Ā'nqa qatcuquigɛ'lX yaXi ikɟā'skas.

she threw them into the fire those breasts. Already he saw it that boy.

Qatctukulā'xqLkax wā'yaq tgā'tɟōmax.
He recognized them his mother her breasts.

Igē'tcuktîX. Aqa wi igaxɛ'ltXuîtck. Aqa wi igō'ya.
It became day. Then again she made herself ready. Then again she went.

Iga-ixɛ'lgīLx yaXi itcā'xan ā'lele. ItcLō'lXam itcā'qôq amē'sgaga:
He made a fire that her son salmon-berry. He said to them her children robin:

"Tca! alxkɟayā'wulalɛma. Alxelō'tɛlgɛmāyaXtîX; ntcanē'watîkc
"Come! we will play. We will steam each other; us first amɛntcēlō'tgayaXtîX. Kē'qamtqîX mɛ'caika. Ma'nîx antcgē'ma, you steam us. Afterward you. When we say,

'Aqa întsō'kst,' aqa lāq° amɛntcō'xoa." Ile'kîm itsā'qôq
'Now we are done,' then take out you do us," They said her children amē'cgaga: "Qoā'lɟ." IqLō'lōtgîX la'newatîkc ā'lele itca'qôq, as robin: "All right." They were put into the hole first salmon berry her children, and nō'lɟîX iLō'skoa-ît. "Ā'qa întsō'kst," igē'kîm ya'Xi ē'LalXt. lāq° a little while they became hot. "Now we are done," he said that their elder brother. Take out iqɛ'lôx. Aqa wi lɛ'kLɛk itcī'yoxo-îX. Wē't'ax iga-ixɛ'lgiLx.

they were done. Then again dig he did it. Again he made a fire.

ILō'teqa-it laXi Lqɛ'nake. Aqa aLā'etɟike amē'sgaga itcā'qôq
They were hot those stones. Then next robin her children iqLē'lōtgîX. IqLgɛ'tkîq ya'Xi ēlX. Itctɛ'LkXatq taXi tɛ'mqō were put into the hole. It was put on top that dirt. They were put on those sticks gitā'qaēLax. Kē'nuwa iLɛ'kîm: "A'qa întsō'kst." Näct lāq° large ones. Try they said: "Now we are done." Not take out became silent. They were dead. All of Robin's five children were dead.

Wā'ckōk¡umai'he left them in there until they were all done. Then he took them out. He put the one near the water. He twisted its mouth. The youngest one was put into the water; one he put on top of the house, another one he placed upright near the door. He put one on the ground and placed it as if it were playing with shells. Then he dug a hole and they escaped through the hole and came out again. They left their bitch at the entrance of the hole. Now they ran away. At noon Robin came home. She thought: "I will eat him when I come home." When she approached her house she saw something floating on the water. She went to her house. There she saw her daughter. She pushed her. "Where is your sister?" she said. Her finger went right into her child's flesh. She looked up. Ther was one of her daughters on the roof. "Where is your sister?" She took her arm and pulled it; it came out at once. She looked to the beach where one of her daughters was playing with shells. She

---

itcî'ʟôx;	nâ'¡îX	iʟxē'nimtck,	aqa	qān	iʟE'xôx.	IʟXE'La-it	1
he did them;	a little while	they cried,	then	silent	they were.	They were dead
Lkanamqoā'nEmîkc	itcā'qôq	amē'sgaga.					2
all five	her children	robin.
Lē'lē	LE'xôx,	ka'nauwē	iʟō'kst.	A'qa	Lāq°	itcî'ʟôx.	3
Long	they were.	all	they were done.	Then	take out	he did them.
ItcʟōLā'etamit	LaXi	LēXā't	Lteu'qoapa	q¡oā'p.	Ē'wa	itcî'yôx	4
He placed it	that	one	water at	near.	Thus	he made it iLā'kcXat.	La'Xi	LēXā't	itcLalē'maLx	La'Xi	giLō'k¡oa-îts.	5
its mouth.	That	one	he put it into the water	that	small one.
ItcʟuLā'etamit	LōXā't	sā'xalîX	tqu'Lēpa.	ItcʟElk¡ē'ktuwulX	LēXā't	6
He placed it	one	up	house on.	He placed upright	one q¡oa'p	icî'qē.	Itcō'kʟa	acXā't	La'XamɪElk¡oēla	itcuLa'etamit.	7
near	the door.	He carried her	one	she played with shells	he placed her.
Lxoa'p	itcī'yux	ēlX.	YaXī'pa	tcXoa	Lāx	iLxō'xoam.	8
Hole	he made	the ground.	There	then	come out	they arrived.
Lgaqe'huqLk	aLā'k¡otk¡ot	ya'Xi	naLxoa'pîXpa.	ILî'xawa	a'qa.	9
They left her	their bitch	that	hole at.	They ran away	then.
Pawē'goa	igā'xk¡oa	amē'sgaga.	IgaxLō'Xoa-it:	"AnLuwu'lq¡ama	10
Noon	she home came	robin.	She thought:	"I will eat them
ma'nîx	nanXk¡oā'mam."	Q¡oā'p	igaXk¡oā'mam	igā'kiket	mā'LnîX,	11
when	I come home."	Near	she came home	she looked	at the water,
a'qa	tā'nki	yuXunē'na.	Igō'ya	ēwā'tkēwa	tE'LaqLpa.	ŌtXuā'la	12
then	something	drifted.	She went	there	their house to.	There was agā'xan	icî'qēpa.	Igō'sEmit.	"Qāx	amē'mtX?"	igō'lXam	agā'xan.	13
her daughter	door at.	She pushed her.	"Where	your younger sister?"	she said to her	her daughter.
Nau'i	L¡mā'n	LE'gakci	yaXi	ē'tcaLqpa	agā'xan.	Igā'kiket	cā'xalîX.	14
At once	soft	her fingers	that	her body in	her daughter.	She looked	up.
Ō'guaxt	tqu'Lē	agā'xan:	"Qāx	amē'mtX?"	Igē'gElga	ē'tcaxō.	15
There was on	the house	her daughter:	"Where	your younger sister?"	She took it	her arm.
igā'Xatk¡a.	Nau'i	k¡ut	igē'x	ē'tcaxō.	Igō'Lxa	qā	16
she pulled it.	At once	torn out	was	her arm.	She went down	where Lā'Xamîlk¡uēla	agā'xan.	Igiō'sEmit	itcā'q¡aqetaq.	"Qāx	17 played with shells	her daughter.	She pushed it	her head.	"Where pushed her head. "Where is your sister?" she said. Her head broke off at once. She was dead. Then she ran to the water. She saw her daughter. She was drowned. Then she saw the one girl, whose mouth was pulled to both sides, and thought she was laughing. She said: "You are laughing and your sister is drowned." She pulled her hair. It came out at once. She pulled her youngest daughter. Her legs came out at once. Then she tried to pull her ashore. "Oh, Wā'ckōk¡umai'he has killed my children."

She went up to the house and searched for them. "Where did they go?" She did not find their tracks. After some time she found that bitch. "Where did your masters go?" "Wu!" said the bitch, pointing with her mouth in one direction. She ran that way. She tried to smell them, but she did not smell anything. Again she asked the bitch: "Where did your masters go?" "Wu!" said the bitch, pointing another way. Robin ran that way and tried the same thing. Five times the bitch deceived her. Then Robin threw her away and found that hole in the ground. She went into it and found the tracks

---

1 amē'mtX?" igō'lXam. Nau'i igiXɛlā'kuit itcā'tuk. Qōct ō'mɛqt.
your younger sister?" she said to her. At once broke her neck. Behold she was dead.

2 Igā'kta mā'ɪnîx. Igā'qɛlkɛl wuXi agā'xan, axaɪnɛmō'q¡oyaqt.
She ran seaward. She saw her that her daughter, she was drowned.

3 Igō'kcta wuXi aēXā't agā'xan axk¡ayā'wula. Igō'lXam:
She saw that one her daughter laughing. She said to her:

4 "Axk¡ayā'wula tawā'x. Amē'mtX wuXi qaxatɛlɛmō'q¡oyakwa."
"Laughing that one. Your younger sister that is drowned."

5 IkLā'nxoktē. Nau'i k¡ut igiā'x itcā'q¡aqctaq. Igā'xk¡a wu'Xi
She pulled her hair. At once pull out she did her hair. She pulled her that 6 axgē'sqax agā'xan; nau'i k¡ut igē'x itcā'qo-it. Kē'nuwa youngest one her daughter; at once torn out was her leg. Try

7 igā'xk¡a LxE'leuX. "Ō, ya'Xka L¡ Wa'ckōk¡umai'hē itcLō'tēna she pulled her ashore. "Oh, he behold Wa'ckōk¡umai'hē he killed them

8 itcE'qôq."
my children."

9 Igō'ptcga. Kē'nuwa ikLō'naxL qāmta iLō'ya. Nāct igō'cgam
She went up. Try she searched for them where they went. Not she found it

10 aLā'eXatk. Lā'lē, aqa igō'cgam wuXi aLā'k¡ōtk¡ōt. "Qā'mta their trail. Long, then she found it that their bitch. "Where 11 iLō'ya Lmō'Xanax·îmct?" "Wu," igā'x wuXi ak¡ō'tk¡ōt. Kē'nuwa went your masters?" "Wu," did that bitch. Try

12 igā'kta ēwā'tgēwa. ⊣ igā'xôx. Nāct igE'LēLa. Wit'ax she ran there. Scent she did. Not she smelled them. Again

13 igoqu'mtcxogoa wu'Xi ak¡ō'tk¡ōt: "Qā'mta iLō'ya Lmō'Xanax·îmct?"
she asked her that bitch: "Where went your masters?"

14 "Wu," igā'xôx ē'wa ā'nak"cîX. Igā'kta wuXi amē'sgaga.
"Wu," she did thus to the other side. She ran that robin.

15 Kē'nuwa igā'xôx ⊣. Qoā'nɛmîX lā'xlax igō'xoa wuXi Try she did scent. Five times deceive she did her that 16 ak¡ō'tk¡ōt. Igaxē'ma. Aqa igiō'cgam yaXi Lxoa'p igē'xôx yaXi bitch. She threw her away. Then she found it that hole was that of the boys and pursued them. She shouted much while she was going: "Wā'ckōk¡umai'hē! I brought your mother," but they ran on ahead of her.

They ran a long distance, then they all defecated on a log. When one was tired, another one carried their youngest brother. Then they found the skins of two elk bucks. The eldest son of Salmon-berry cut them both and broke the antlers. He boiled the skins in one kettle, the antlers in another one. Then he said to the boiling kettles: "When she reaches you, you must boil violently. Don't cool off too quickly." Then they left the boiling kettles. Robin went and went and went, and pursued them. She came to those excrements. She was hungry and ate them all. Then she went on pursuing them. She came to the kettles. Both of them were boiling. First she scolded the kettles containing the skins: "I will take revenge on your grandmother, wu'ɬɛɬɛɬɛɬɛ, your mother, wu'ɬɛɬɛɬɛɬɛ, and all your

ēlX. Iga-i'ʟxēpq¡ēX. Aqa iktō'cgam tɬā'Xatk, aqa igɛ'ʟuwa. 1 ground. She went into it. Then she found them their tracks, then she pursued them.

Axɛlqā'mXʟōl igō'ya: "Wā'ckōk¡umai'hē, wā'mcaq iamcē'ɬam.' 2
She shouted she went: "Wā'ckōk¡umai'hē, your mother I bring her to you.'

Iʟɛ'xaua lā'newatîke; iʟō'ya. 3
They ran first; they went.

Kɛlā'îX iʟō'ya. Iʟkʟō'ts¡atsˌa ē'mqōpa ʟkanauwē'tîke. ʟeXā't 4 Far they went. They defecated a tree on all. One tɛll qaʟxō'xoax aqa wi ʟgō'nax qaʟgiō'ctxoax yaXi iʟā'mXîX. 5 tired he became then again another carried him on his back that their younger brother.

Qā'xpa ʟx iʟō'yam, iʟgiō'cgam imō'lɛkɛmax ē'yaqcō mâket; 6
Where maybe they arrived, they found it elks their skins two; ikā'luke imō'lɛkɛmax. Tc¡ɛ'xtc¡ɛx itcī'yux yaXi iqcō'max yaXi 7 male elks. Cut he did them those elk skins that ē'ɬalXt a'lele itca'qôq. Kanamô'ket tc¡ɛ'xtc¡ɛx itcī'yôx. 8 their elder brother salmon berry her children. Both cut he did them.

ʟ¡mɛ'nʟ¡mɛn itcî'lôx ʟaXi ʟqɛ'tcam. Ā'eXt aq¡u'tan itcî'lōteXɛm, 9 Soft he made them those antlers. One kettle he boiled them, ā'ēXt aq¡u'tan itcī'yōteXɛm yaXi iqcō'max. Itciō'lXam ya'Xi 10 one kettle he boiled them those skins. He said to it that iā'tcXɛmal: "Ma'nēx alamgā'tqoama, aqa tc¡pāk lɛp amxō'xoa. 11 boiling (kettle): "When she reaches you, then strongly boil do.

Nāct a'yaq tsɛs amxō'xoa." Aqa wi iʟiqɛ'lōqʟk yaXi 12 Not quick cold become." Then again they left it that iʟā'tcXɛmal. Igō'ya, igō'ya. igō'ya, igɛ'ʟuwa wu'Xi amē'sgaga. 13 their boiling (kettles). She went, she went. she went, she pursued them that robin.

Igiō'cgam ya'Xi iʟā'qēxɛlē. Walō' gōxt. Iaxɛ'ɬɛmuX ka'nauwē 14
She found those their excrements. Hunger acted on her. She ate them all ya'Xi iʟā'qēxɛlē. Igō'ya igɛ'ʟuwa. Igiō'egam ya'Xi iʟā'tcXɛmal 15 those their excrements. She went she pursued them. She found it that their boiling (kettle)

aqa cigɛ'pɛlɛpt. Igiō'mēla iā'newîX iqcō'max: "Amē'k¡ēc 16 and it boiled. She scolded them first the skins: "Your grandmother wu'ɬɛɬɛɬɛɬɛ, wā'maq wu'ɬɛɬɛɬɛɬɛ, ka'nauwē tiā'cuXtîke 17 wu'ɬɛɬɛɬɛɬɛ, your mother wu'ɬɛɬɛɬɛɬɛ, all his relatives

relatives." Then it cooled off, and she ate and ate and ate. She ate it all. Then she scolded the kettle containing the antlers. She said the same again: "I will take revenge on your father, wu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ, your uncle, your mother, and all your relatives." Then it cooled off, and she ate the antlers. The food was soft. She finished it all and continued to pursue them.

Now Salmon-berry's children came to a creek. The Crane stood near the water. He carried them across. He told them: "Don't be afraid, grandchildren, go to my house and eat there. Fish have been boiled for you." And they went to the Crane's house. Robin went on for a long time. Then her stomach ached; she was constrained to defecate. Then she defecated and the skin rope came out of her anus. She tried to pull it. There she saw a rope and she tied it to a tree and went around it often. Then she always said: "Wā'lōtɛp hē'latɛp, wā'lōtɛp hē'latɛp." Now she had pulked out the one skin and she iktē'kɛmoa." Tsäs igɛ'yux. Iaxɛ'lɛmux, iaxɛ'lɛmux, iaxɛ'lɛmux.

she takes revenge on them." Cold she made it. She ate it, she ate it, she ate it.

Igiō'lXum. Aqa wi igō'n igiō'mela: Alā'xt!ax laXi lqɛ'tcam.
She finished it. Then again another one she scolded it. Next those antlers.

K!oalqā' wīt'ax igioxō'lalɛmtck: "Wē'maɯ wu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ, wēmē'mōt
Just so again she said much: "Your father wu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ, your uncle wu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ, wā'maq wu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ ka'nauwē tiā'cuXtîkc wu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ, your mother wu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ all his relatives iktē'kɛmoa." Tsäs igī'yux. IlaXɛ'lɛmuX laXi lqɛ'tcam, asa she takes revenge on them." Cold she made it. She ate them those antlers, and il!mɛ'nl!mɛn yaXi ilaXɛ'lɛmuX. Ikclō'lXum, aqa wi soft that what she ate. She finished them, then again igɛ'luwa.

she pursued them.

Ilo'yaɯ ē'qa·!pa ā'lele itcā'qoq. laxtXuē'la iqoa'cqoac.
They arrived a creek at salmon berry her children. He was standing near the water the crane.

Itcā'lukɪ ē'wa k!anatē'tōl. Itclō'lXam: "Näct k!wac
He carried them thus to the other side. He said to them: "Not afraid ogoatkē'xax, qā'comax. Amcxlxɛ'lɛma ma'nîx namcō'pqama.

be, grandsons. You will eat when you enter my house.

lgā'pɛla tgɛkst tk!ataqē'." Ilō'ya ē'wa tē'yaq!pa iqoā'cqoac.
Many are done fish." They went thus his house to the crane.

Lē'lē igō'ya, igō'ya. Itcā'wan iā'tcqɛm igixɛ'lôx. lɛ'ts!ats!a Long she went, she went. Her belly sickness came to be on it. Desire to defecate ilɛ'kux. Aqa ikclō'ts!ats!a wu'Xi amē'sgaga. A'qa lāx igē'x was on her. Then she defecated that robin. Then come out did it!ā'lɛqama itcā'pōtcpa. Kē'nuwa igē'xk!a. Iyuklē'x'it. K!au a thong her anus at. Try she pulled it. (A rope) lay there. Tie igiō'koax tɛ'mqōpa. Aqa iguXualā'nuklɪc tē'Xi tɛ'mqō. Aqa she did it a tree to. Then she went around it often that tree. Then igaxō'lalɛmtck: "Wa lōtɛp, hē'latɛp; wa'lōtɛp, hē'latɛp."

she always said: "Wā'lōtɛp, hē'latɛp; wā'lōtɛp, hē'latɛp."

Igixā'lXōm ya'Xi ēXt iqɛ'cō nɛtc!ɛ'xtc!ɛx. Aqa wi igō'ya.
She finished it that one skin the cut one. Then again she went.

went on. After she had gone some distance, her stomach ached again and she was compelled to defecate. She defecated and there lay another skin rope. Again she tied it to a tree and went around it. She said again: "Wā'lōtɛp hē'latɛp, wā'lōtɛp hē'latɛp." She was tired. Behold, she had pulled out the whole rope. Then she went on pursuing them. She went a long distance, and her stomach ached again. Something very hard came out and pierced her body. She defecated and out came the antlers. They came out with great difficulty. She went some distance, and her stomach ached again. She was compelled to defecate and the other antlers came out. She was almost dead before the second pair of antlers came out. Then she pursued the children and came to a creek. There the crane was standing near the water. "Younger brother, take me across," she said to the crane. She said thus often. Then the crane stretched his legs across the water. At one point his leg was narrow. He said to her: "Don't be afraid, else you might fall into the water." Now she came across

Kɛlā'îX	igō'yam.	Aqa	wit'ax	iteā'tcqɛm	iyaxɛ'lux.	lɛts!ā'ts!a	1
Far	she arrived.	Then	again	her sickness	came to be on her.	Desiring to defecate
iLɛ'kuX.	Wit'ax	ikLō'ts!ats!a.	Aqa	wi	iyukLē'x·it	yaXi	2
was on her.	Again	she defecated.	Then	again	(a rope) lay there	that it!ā'laqɛma.	Wi	k!au	igiō'koax	tɛ'mqōpa.	Aqa	wit'ax	3
thong.	Again	tie	she did it	a tree to.	Then	again
igoxoaLā'nukLtek	taXi	tɛ'mqō.	Wī't'ax	igā'xôx:	"Wā'lōtɛp,	4
she went around it often	that	tree.	Again	she made:	"Wā'lōtɛp, hē'latɛp;	wā'lōtɛp,	hē'latɛp."	Tä2ll	igā'xôx	aqa	wi	igixɛ'Lxōm.	5
hē'latɛp;	wā'lōtɛp,	hē'latɛp."	Tired	she became	and	again	she finished it.
Aqa	wi	igō'ya,	igɛ'Luwa.	Kɛlā'îX	igō'ya.	Aqa	iā'tcqɛm	6
Then	again	she went,	she pursued them.	Far	she went.	Then	its sickness
igixɛ'lôx	iteā'wan.	Ā'koapō	Lā'xLāx	nîxō'xoax	ya'Xi	tā'nki	7
came to be on it	her belly.	Nearly	come out	did	that	something qca-ēq!ɛ'lq!ɛl.	IkLō'ts!ats!a;	Lāx	iLî'xôx	aqa	Lqɛ'tcam.	Qalā'	8
very hard.	She defecated;	come out	did	then	antlers.	Hardly tcXua	Lāq"	iLā'xôx.	Nō'L!îX	nō'îx,	aqa	wi	iā'tcqɛm	9
then	come out	they did.	A little	she went,	then	again	its sickness
nîxɛlō'xoax	iteā'wan.	Aqa	wi	ikLō'ts!ats!ax,	aqa	wi	Lgōn	10
came to be on it	her belly.	Then	again	she defecated,	then	again	other
Lqɛ'tcam	Lāx	qaLxō'xoax.	Ā'koapō	igō'maqt,	tcXua	iLxɛ'LXōm	11
antlers	come out	they did.	Nearly	she died,	then	they were finished
LaXi	Lqɛ'tcam.	Aqa	wi	igɛ'Luwa.	Igō'yam	ya'Xi	ē'qaL.	12
those	antlers.	Then	again	She pursued them.	She arrived at	that	creek.
IaXtXuā'la	iqoā'cqoac:	"Ā'owē,	wāx	amɛnō'xua	ē'wa	13
He was standing near the water	the crane:	"Younger brother,	take across	do me	thus
k!anatē'tōL,"	igiō'lXam	iqoā'cqoac.	Ā'Xuēî'X	igiō'lXam.	14
other side,"	she said to him	the crane.	Often	she said to him.
Aqa	itsɛ'suktō	ē'nat	ia'qo-it.	YaXā'pa	qasixts!ō'LxakuitX.	15
Then	he stretched out	this side	his leg.	Here	it grew narrow.
Itcō'lXam:	"Nîct	Lî'cxaLqt	amxalē'maLxa."	Igā'ekatē	yaXi	16
He said to her:	"Not	afraid to fall	you fall into the water."	She crossed on	that walking on the leg. When she came walking to the middle of the creek, she became afraid and he began to shake his leg. He turned his leg and she fell into the water. She drifted down the river. "Robin shall be your name; you shall not eat people." She drifted down. The crane said to her: "Robin shall be your name."

Far away she drifted ashore. A crow found her and began to eat her private parts. Then she recovered. She arose and painted her belly with her blood. It became all red. Then she went inland and came to a willow. She asked the willow: "Is my painting becoming?" "Oh, how bad looks the blood of her private parts," cried the willow. "Oh, you bad thing!" she said, "when your wood is burned it shall crackle." She came to the alder. "Is my painting becoming?" The alder said: "It is becoming." "Ah, sister," she said, "when people make anything they shall dye it red in your bark. When you are dry, you will burn well." She went on and came to the cottonwood. She asked it: "Is my painting becoming?" The

---

1 îā′qo-it. Qēqꝉāyakpā′ yaXi ē′qaL icā′xōLq. A′qa itcixEltā′mit leg. Middle on that creek she was afraid to fall. Then he shook it

2 yaXi iā′qo-it. Aqa icā′xōLq. Lāx° itci′yôx yaXi iā′qo-it.
that his leg. Then she was afraid to fall. Roll he did it that his leg.

3 Igalē′maLxēx′it. Igō′Xunē aqa qā′eqamîX. "Amä′sgaga imē′xaleu.
She fell into the water. She drifted then down the river. "Robin your name.

4 Näct tê′lXam amtuwu′lqꝉLx." Igō′Xunē ā′qa. Itcō′lXam Not people you shall eat them." She drifted now. He said to her

5 iqoā′cqoac: "Amä′sgaga imē′xaleu."
the crane: "Robin your name."

6 KELā′îX igō′Xunē. IgōXu′nîptck. Igō′cgam atꝉā′ntsa. IcgixE′lEmux Far she drifted. She drifted ashore. She found her the crow. She ate it

7 yaXi (naqagē′lak) itcā′qo-itXa. Kāqa ixelā′x aqa itcilXā′takōa.
that (vulva) her vulva. When she ate then she recovered.

8 IgaXE′latck. ILaxElgē′matck LaXi Lgā′qawulqt ka′nauwē
She arose. She painted herself that her blood all

9 itcā′wanpa, ac Lpāl igē′x itcā′wan. Igō′ya, igō′ptcga. Iga-igō′qoam her belly at, and red became her belly. She went, she went inland. She reached it

10 ēlā′itk. "Lā′nkucq tci LgE′qawulqt?" igiō′lXam elā′itk. "Qantcî′x the willow. "Becoming to me [int. part.] my blood?" she said to it the willow. "When 11 iqoē′tXa Liā′qawulqt pō qaLcgā′tcqoa-it." "Nā yaXī′yax," igiō′lXam.

a vulva its blood if ugly on a person." "Oh, that one," she said to it.

12 "Ma′nîx aqamxElgē′Lxa aqa Lꝉā′qLꝉāq amxō′xoa." Igagō′qoam
"When you will be burnt then crackle you do." She reached

13 aqaxE′miuLx. "Tcu′xoa Lā′nkucq tci LgE′qawulqt?" Igā′kîm the alder. "Well becoming to me [int. part.] my blood?" It said

14 aqaxE′miuLx: "LE′nkucq Lmē′qawulqt." "Ā a a ā′tcē," igō′lXam, the alder: "Becoming to you you blood." "Ah, younger sister," she said to it,

15 "ma′nîx tā′nki aqiō′xoax aqa Lpāl qioxō′lalEmx amē′qalEmx. Ma′nîx "when something is made then red it is made (with) your bark. When 16 amXcā′qoa aqa imē′x·EmaLXat." Igō′ya wī′t′ax. Igaēgō′qoam you are dry then you will burn." She went again. She reached it cottonwood said: "Oh, how bad looks the blood of her private parts." "Oh, you bad thing! When you are put into the fire, you shall not burn." She came to the spruce tree: "Is my painting becoming?" "Oh, how bad looks the blood of her private parts." "Oh, you bad thing! When you are put into the fire, you shall not burn well, you shall crackle." She left it and came to the cedar. She asked it: "Is my painting becoming?" "It is becoming." "Oh, you speak well to me, younger brother. When people make canoes, they shall exchange them for slaves. They shall use you for making houses, and exchange them for dentalia. They shall use your bark for making coats for women." She left it and came to the fir. She asked it: "Is my painting becoming?" "Ah, it is becoming." "Oh, younger sister," she said, "when a person sings his conjurer's song, you shall be burned. You shall burn well." She came to the maple. "Is my painting becoming?" "It is becoming." "Ah, younger brother, they shall use your bark for making baskets." She left it and came ē'koma. Igiōqu'mtcxōkoa: "Lā'nkucq tci LgE'qawulqt?" Itcō'lXam: 1 the cotton-wood. She asked it: "Becoming to me [int. part.] my blood?" It said to her:

"Qantcē'X Lqa ēqoē'tXat pō qaLcgā'tcqoa-it Lā'qawulqt." 2
"When maybe a vulva if it is ugly on a person its blood."

"Nā gi tā'nki giā'mEla! Ma'nîx qamxElgē'LxalEmx nāct 3
"Oh, this something bad! When you are burnt not amXEmLXā'ya." Igigō'qoam ē'makte: "Lānkucq tci LgE'qawulqt?" 4 you shall burn." She reached it the spruce tree: "Becoming to me [int. part.] my blood?"

"Qantcī'X Lqa ēqoē'tXat Lā'qawulqt qaLcgā'tcqoa-it." "Nā 5
"When maybe a vulva its blood is ugly on a person." "Oh, gi tā'nki giā'mEla! Ma'nîx aqamxElgē'Lxa, ā'mēLaqLaq. 6

this something bad! When you are burnt, you crackle.

Nāct tja'ya 'mXEmLXā'ya." Iga-iqE'luqL. Igiū'cgam c'ckan. 7
Not good you shall burn." She left it. She found it the cedar.

Igiuqu'mtcxōgua: "Lā'nkucq tci LgE'qawulqt?" "Ō, LE'mkucq," 8
She asked it: "Becoming to me [int. part.] my blood?" "Oh, becoming to you," itcō'lXam. "Qoā'2L; immō'lXam a'oē! Ma'nîx ikE'nim aqamō'xoa 9 it said to her. "Right you speak to me younger brother! When a canoe you are made aqa tElā'etîX aqamtXEmō'ta. Tqoē'lē aqamuxō'lalEma, iqjatō'k 10 then slaves are exchanged for you. House you are made, longest dentalia aqamtXEmō'ta. Aqjoē'lōLx aqō'xoa amē'qēco." Ia-iqE'luqLk. 11 are exchanged for you. Coat for women is made your bark." She left it.

Igō'cgam amqcî'ckan. Igoqu'mtcxōkua: "Lā'nkucq tci LgE'qawulqt?" 12
She found it the fir. She asked it: "Becoming to me [int. part.] my blood?"

"Ā LE'mkucq Lmē'qawulqt." "Ā, a a ā'tcē," igō'lXam "ma'nîx 13
"Ah becoming to you your blood." "Ah, younger sister," she said to it, "when aLktcxEmā'ya LgoaLc'lX koalē'wa aLgumXulgē'Lxa. Imē'XEmaLXat." 14 he sings his conjurer's song a person then they will burn you. You will burn well."

Igiū'cgam itcunā'q. "TcuXoa Lā'nkucq tci LgE'qawulqt?" "Ā, 15
She found it the maple. "Well becoming to me [int. part.] my blood?" "Ah,

Lā'mkucq Lmē'qawulqt." "Ā, a a ā'owē, iqō'mxōm aqiuxō'laLema 16 becoming to you your blood." "Ah, younger brother, basket will be made to the vine maple. "Is my painting becoming?" "Ah, it is becoming." "Oh, younger brother, they shall use you for making small dishes and spoons." Then she came to the hemlock tree. "Is my painting becoming?" The hemlock replied: "How bad looks the blood of her private parts." Thus she asked all the trees. That is the story. To-morrow we shall have fine weather.

1 amē′qꞌɛlō.” Iga-iqɛ′luqɬk. Igiū′egam iqꞌē′ntcik. “Tcu′Xoa ɬā′nkucq your bark.” She left it. She found it the vine maple. “Well becoming to me

2 ɬgɛ′qawulqt?” “Ā, ɬā′nkucq ɬmē′qawulqt.” “Ā, a a ā′oē, ma′nîx my blood?” “Ah, becoming to you your blood.” “Ah, younger brother, when

3 ɬqꞌtā′nɛmax aqamuxō′lalɛma, ɬqꞌa′mctɛmax aqamuxō′lalɛma.” small dishes you will be made, spoons you will be made.”

4 Igō′egam aqalō′lɛmtk. “Tcu′Xoa ɬā′nkucq ɬgɛ′qawulqt?” “Qantcē′X
She found it the hemlock tree. “Well becoming to me my blood?” When 5 ɬqa iqoē′tXat ɬiā′qawulqt pō qaɬegā′tcqoa-ît.” Ka′nauwē gi may-be a vulva its blood if ugly on a person.” All these 6 tɛ′mqō aktōqu′mtcxōguax. Kꞌanēkꞌanē′; ō′la asa-igā′p.

trees she asked them. The story; to-morrow fine weather.

Panther and Owl (told 1891)

There was the Owl and his chief. The Owl's chief was hunting elks every day. The people heard that he was always killing elks. Then Blue-jay told his chief's daughter: "Go to see the Owl's chief." In the morning she made herself ready and went. She went a long distance. She crossed five prairies. Then she saw a person. She approached him secretly. Now she reached him. He was dancing, and she hid herself. She looked at the person and thought: "Maybe that is the Owl's chief." The dancer had a flat head. She looked secretly. Now that person jumped, and she saw that he had caught a mouse. He had a mat on his back and put the mice into it. When he saw a tideland mouse he killed it and put it into his mat. That person was dancing all the time. Then a stick hit his nose, and blood

Ik¡oayawa' Ictā'k¡anē k¡a Ikā'oXaō

Panther their Myth and Owl

Cxēlā'etiX ikā'oXaō giā'Xak¡Emana. Ka'nauwē Lkā'etax 1
There were the owl having a chief. All days imō'lEkEmax qatciuɒ¡iā'Lxa-îtX iā'Xak¡Emana ikā'oXaō. Guā'nEsum 2 elks always he went to get his chief the owl's. Always icxElteî'mElit iā'k¡ētēnax imō'lEkEmax. Aqa igē'kîm iqē'sqēs, 3 they heard about him hunter elks. Then he said blue-jay, itcō'lXam ILā'Xak¡Emana ayā'Xan: "Ō, amionā'xLama ikā'oXaō 4 he said to her their chief his daughter: "Oh, you go and search for him the owl iā'Xak¡Emana." Igē'tcuktîX igaXE'ltXuîtck. Aqa igō'ya. Igō'ya, 5 his chief." It became day she made herself ready. Then she went. she went, kElā'îX igō'ya. Qoā'nEm igō'qoēpa tEmqā'emax. Aqa 6 far she went. Five she crossed them prairies. Then igE'LɢElkEl Lgoalē'lX. Q¡oā'p igE'LÒX igaxā'Lk¡Emukluwa. 7

she saw him a person. Near she came she approached secretly.

Q¡oā'p ikLō'xoam. ILwē'la, igaxaLxE'pcut. IkLō'quuîtck LaXi 8
Near she arrived. He danced, she hid herself. She looked at that Lgoalē'lX. IgaXLō'xoa-ît: "LXuan iā'Xka ikā'oXaō iā'Xak¡Emana 9 person. She thought: "Perhaps he the owl his chief tayax iuwē'la." ILā'p¡aqa LaXi Lgoalē'lX. Igaxa'Lk¡alEpsut. 10 that danced." Flathead that person. She looked secretly.

Aqa ikksupEnā'x LaXi Lgoalē'lX. Ā'nqa qaLgagElgā'x wuXi 11
Then it jumped that person. Already he had taken that ā'cō. Lq¡ā'pEnX LE'ltē. Kō'pa qaLgawigē'tElgEmx taXi tcō'yîke. 12 mouse. A mat he had it on. There he put them into it those mice.

Manîx gitcā'k¡ēwulal qaLguwā'qaôx, qaLgalgē'tgax Lq¡ā'pEnXpa. 13
When a tideland mouse he killed it, he put it into it the mat in.

QaLuwē'la LaXi Lgoalē'lX. E'mqō nitELgā'xitx cî'LaLpXpa. 14
He danced much that person. A stick hit it his nose at.

came out of it. The person searched and found the woman. He said: "Oh, my wife. Let us go home." So the Owl found her first. She did not know him. Then he brought her to the house. The house was full of meat and grease. The grease on the one side of the house was all white. There at the end of the house the Owl was staying. The grease there was all green. It was the grease taken from the intestines. The Owl went to the end of the house and said: "I will take the grease of the man who is working for me," and gave it to the woman. She ate it, and after she had finished he hid her. In the evening his chief came. The Owl had been there for a long time. The Panther carried one elk and said to the Owl: "Carry our elk into the house." The Owl brought it, and then they cut it. The Panther was going to give him grease, but he did not take it all. He only took some dung and a little fat. It became night. In the morning the Owl's chief made himself ready and went to hunt elks.

---

1 Naui wax lā'qauwîlqt; qaLk¡ē'naxLx LaXi LgoaLē'lX. Aqa
At once flowed out blood; he searched that person. Then

2 qaLgucgā'mx: "Ō, agɛ'kikal L¡ tawā'x. A'yaq atXk¡oā'ya."
he found her: "Oh, my wife behold that. Quick let us go home."

3 Lqōst, ikā'oXaō yaXi igiucgā'mX iā'nēwa. Igixɛ'tɛluxt, nîcqē Behold, the owl that she found him first. She did not know him, not at all

4 ē'iukul. Aqa itcō'kLa tɛ'ctaqLpa. Pā2L Lqolē'max taXi tɛ'ctaqL, he was known to her. Then he took her their house to. Full meat that their house,

5 pāL apXɛ'lēu. Ē'wa taXi tɛ'nat tqu'lē tk¡ōp wuXi apXɛ'lēu, full grease. Thus that one side the house white that grease,

6 ēwa guguā'olîx', ē'wa yaXi ikā'oXaō qa iō'Xt, qa ptcäiX
thus at the end of the house, thus that owl where he was, there green

7 ka'nauwē wuXi apXɛ'lēu. Ka'nauwē tq¡ɛ'mcukc atā'pXɛlēu.
all that grease. All intestines their grease.

8 Iō'ya ē'wa guguā'olîX yaXi ikā'oXaō. Igē'kîm: "Anaēxgā'lɛmama
He went there end of the house that owl. He said: "I will go to take it

9 itcî'xeyal ayā'pxɛlēu. Itcangē'waLqamit wuXi aqagē'lak. Ila'XoLq my working-man grease. He fed her that woman. She finished 10 igaxLxɛ'lɛmîtck aqa itcō'pcut. Tsō'yustîX igiXk¡oā'mam eating then he hid her. In the evening he came home

11 iā'Xak¡ɛmana. Ā'nqa iō'Xt ikā'oXaō. ĒXt imō'lak itciō'kLam his chief. Already he was there the owl. One elk he brought it 12 ik¡oayawa'. Iqiō'lXam ikā'oXaō: "Ē'ckatq"tck itxā'mōlak."

the panther. He was told the owl: "Carry into the house our elk."

13 Itciā'ckoq"tck ikā'oXaō. Lā2, iegī'yuxe. Kē'nuwa iqā'elōt wuXi
He carried it into the house the owl. Some time, they cut it. Try he was given that 14 apXɛ'lēu. Nā2et ka'nauwē itcā'xoqtck. Ā'ema wuXi nōL¡ gi grease. Not all he took it. Only that little this 15 itcā'qexɛlē, ā'ema itcā'xoqtck wuXi apxɛ'lēu. Igō'ponɛm.

its excrements, only he took that grease. It got dark.

16 Kawī'X igixɛ'ltXuîtck iā'xak¡ɛmana ikā'oXaō. Iō'ya, imō'lak
Early he made himself ready his chief the owl. He went, elk

Then the Owl went to steal at the end of the house from his chief. He stole the good grease and gave it to his wife. Then he went out and caught mice. He danced and sang all the time. He sang: "——" At noon the Owl went home and stole some of his chief's grease and meat, and gave it to his wife. In the evening the Panther came home.

The woman made a hole in her mat and saw him. Oh, he was a pretty person. His hair was braided and reached below his buttocks. His face was painted with red stripes. Then the woman thought: "Oh, I made a mistake; I think he is the Owl's chief." Then the Panther said to the Owl: "Bring our elk and lick off its dung." Then the Owl scolded. "Q¡p, q¡p, q¡p," went his lips. The Panther spoke to him twice. Then the Owl rose and brought the elk into the house. They cut it, but the Owl was angry all the time. He received only igigɛ'loya. Igigō'xtkam ikā'oXaō ē'wa guguā'olîX. Itcixō'xtkam 1 he went to hunt. He went to steal the owl thus at the end of the house. He went to steal from him iā'Xak¡ɛmana. Itca-ixō'xtkam aqa at¡ō'kti apXɛ'lēu. Itcā'lɛqo-îm 2 his chief. He went to steal it then good grease. He gave it to her to eat ayā'kikal ikā'oXaō. Aqa iō'ya. Itcō'kuya tcō'yîke. Aqa wi 3 his wife the owl. Then he went. He went to catch mice. Then again igiwō'lalɛmtck. Tiā'qēwam yaXi qayuwō'lalɛmX. "Hā'yō, 4 he danced much. His songs that he always danced. "Hā'yō, hayō' Lawa ctɛtcxɛntcxē'n, Lawa ctɛtcxɛntcxē'n." Aqa cā'xalîX 5 hayō' Lawa ctɛtcxɛntcxē'n, Lawa ctɛtcxɛntcxē'n." Then high aqaLā'x nîXk¡oā'x ikā'oXaō. NîXk¡oā'mam ikā'oXaō. 6

the sun he went home the owl. He came home the owl.

Atcixō'xtkax iā'xak¡ɛmana apXɛ'lēu k¡a Lqolō'max. Qatcɛlqoē'mx 7
He stole it from him his chief grease and meat. He gave her to eat ayā'kikal. Tsō'yustîX nîXk¡oā'mamx ik¡oayawa'. 8 his wife. In the evening he came home the panther.

Lxoa'p igiō'xax yaXi icō'lɛtc. Agiō'ketx wuXi aqagō'lak. Ō, 9
Hole she made it that mat. She saw him that woman. Oh,

Lt¡ō'kti LgoaLē'lX LōXt. LXp¡ō'ctɛmtîX Lɛ'Laqcō gipɛ'tɛmaX 10 pretty person was there. Braided his hair to here

gēguala' iLā'pōte Lɛ'Laqcō; Luguē'matckuîX anuā'lɛma LaXi 11 below his buttocks his hair; painted red paint that

LgoaLē'lX. Ts¡ɛ'xts¡ɛx tɛ'Lguxt stā'xōstpa. IgaxLō'Xoa-it wu'Xi 12 person. Stripes were on it his face on. She thought that aqagē'lak: "Ō, pō'xo-îc gēnɛ'xôx: iā'Xka LŌ'Xoan iā'Xak¡ɛmana 13 woman: "Oh, a mistake I made; he perhaps his chief ikā'oXaō." Iqiō'lXam ikā'oXaō: "Ē'ctatq"tck itxā'molak. 14 the owl's." He was told the owl: "Carry it into the house our elk.

Iā'qēxɛlē qamēnɛmē'qLx." Kalā'lkuilē igē'x ikā'oXaō. Q¡p, q¡p. 15
Its dung lick it off." Scold he did the owl: Q¡p. q¡p.

q¡p, ciā'mîct. Mō'ketîX itciō'lXam. Koalē'wa iō'tXuit ikā'oXaō. 16
q¡p, his mouth. Twice he said to him. Just then he stood there the owl.

Itciā'cqoq"tck ictā'mōlak. Iegī'yuxe ictā'mōlak. Guā'nɛsum 17
He carried it into the house their elk. They cut it their elk. Always iXɛ'lXaqt ikā'oXaō. Ā'ema wuXi mank qat¡ō'kti apXɛ'leu 18 he was angry the owl. Only that a little good fat

the poor kind of grease. Then the chief said: "What do you think? Why are you angry all the time, you old Owl?" The Owl did not reply.

The next morning the Panther made himself ready again. Then the woman made a hole in her mat, and she saw him again. Then she was very much pleased with him. He always ate before he went hunting. Something was left over which he put up on the loft, and the woman saw it. In the morning the Owl arose and stole fat at the end of the house. He gave it to his wife. Then he hid her again. He went out. The Panther thought: "What is the matter with the Owl? He is always angry. He was not that way formerly." Thus thought the Panther. "I think I will go home when the sun is still up in the sky." He went home at that time and noticed that the Owl was there already. He said to the Owl: "Behold, you are here already!" "Yes; I am here already. Yes; I gave up hunting because I did not catch anything. Therefore I came home quickly." Then the Panther spoke to the Owl: "Oh, you old Owl; bring our

1	itcā′xoqtek.	Itciō′lXam	iā′Xak¡Emana:	"Qā	gi	mgēx, he took it.	He said to him	his chief:	"How	this	you are,
2	cā′naXauXau,	guā′nEsum	amXE′LXaqt?"	Nē′et	qa	igē′kîm
	old owl,	always	you are angry?"	Not	anyhow	spoke
3	ikā′oXau.
	the owl.
4	Kawī′X	igixE′ltXuîtek	ik¡oa′yawa.	Aqa	wi	Lxoa′p	igī′yux	yaXi
	Early	he made himself ready	the panther.	Then	again	hole	she made	that
5	icō′lEte.	Aqa	wi	igiō′qomîtck.	Q¡at	igī′yuxt	ē′tcamxtcpa.
	mat.	Then	again	she saw him.	Like	she did him	her heart in.
6	IgixLxā′lEmitck,	igixk¡ē′tcinktamē.	Igîxk¡ā′etîX	ya′Xi	tā′nki.
	He ate,	he ate before going out.	He left it over	that	something.
7	Aqa	yaXī′pa	itciugak¡ō′Lit	cā′xalîXpa.	Igiō′qumē	wuXi	aqagē′lak.
	Then	there	he put it up	up at.	She saw it	that	woman.
8	Igē′tcuktē.	Igixe′latck	ikā′oXaō.	Igigō′xtkam	ē′wa	guguā′ōlîX.
	It got day.	He arose	the owl.	He stole	there	at the end of the house.
9	Itcā′lqo-îm	wuXi	ayā′kikal.	Aqa	wi	itcō′pcōt.	Iō′ya.
	He gave to her to eat	that	woman.	Then	again	he hid her.	He went.
10	IgîXLō′xoa-it	ik¡oayawa′:	"Qā	ā′Lqi	igē′xax	ikā′oXaō,	tcqi
	He thought	the panther:	"How	later on	will be	the owl,	then
11	guā′nsum	iXE′LXaqt.	Nîct	k¡oaLqā′	ā′nqa."	IgixLō′xoa-ît always	he is angry.	Not	thus	before."	He thought
12	ik¡oayawa′:	"Nî′Xua	ka	cā′xalîX	aqaLā′x,	aqa	anXk¡uā′ya."
	the panther:	"Well	when	up	the sun,	then	I will go home."
13	Ka	cā′xalîX	aqaLā′X	aqa	igē′Xk¡oa.	Xāx	itcī′yuxt	ē′yamxtcpa.
	When	up	the sun	then	he went home.	Notice	he did him	his heart in.
14	IgîXk¡oā′mam;	a′nqa	iō′Xt	ika′oXaō.	Iqiō′lXam	ika′oXaō:	"Ā′nqa
	He came home;	already	there was	the owl.	He was told	the owl:	"Already
15	L¡	imXatk¡oā′mam."	"Ā′nqa	inXatk¡oā′mam,	ka	tE′menua	inE′xôx, behold!	you came home."	"Already	I came home,	when	give up	I did,
16	aqa	k¡ā	taXi	qEntōp¡iā′Lxa-îtx,	tāntxo	ayā′q	inî′Xatk¡oa."
	then	nothing	those	I caught them,	therefore	quick	I went home."
71	Iqiō′lXam	ikā′oXaō:	"Cā′naXauXau,	iā′ckatq"tek	itxā′molak."
	He was told	the owl:	"Old owl,	bring into the house	our elk."

elk into the house." "His ancestors called me that way." Then his lips went: "Q¡p, q¡p, q¡p." "Don't scold, old Owl." A long time he was angry; then he arose and brought in the elk. They cut it. The Panther gave him only the poor kind of fat, and the Owl took it.

Now the Panther really took notice. The two went to bed, but the Panther remained awake. He listened, and he heard the Owl talking in a low voice. All the time he was laughing in a low voice. Now he really took notice.

Early the Panther arose. He ate before he left. Now the woman again made a hole in her mat, and she looked at him when he had finished eating. He put on the loft what he had left. Then the Panther went, and the Owl arose. He said: "I am going to steal from my workman." He stole fat and meat, and gave it to his wife. Then he went. A little while he danced, and he came home again. He had caught only a little. About noon the Panther came back. The

"Tiā'yaq¡eyōqtîkc ctē'yinkxal gō'yogōl." Aqa wi igē'xôx q¡p, q¡p, 1
"His ancestors named me at end of house." Then again it did q¡p, q¡p, q¡p, iā'mîct. "Hō'ntcîn! nîct kalā'lkuilē ixā'tx, cā'naXauXau. 2

q¡p, his mouth. "Don't! not scold do, old owl, cā'naqo îpqo îp." "Tiā'yaq¡eyōqtîkc ctē'yînkxal gō'yōgōl." 3 old owl." "His ancestors named me at end of house."

Lē'lē kalā'lkuilē igē'x; koalē'wa iō'tXuît. Itcē'ckatq"tck ictā'mōlak, 4 Long scold he did; just then he stood up. He carried it into the house their elk, icge'yuxc. Ā'ema wu'Xi mank qat¡ō'ktēmax apXᴇ'leu itcā'xoqtck 5 they cut it. Only that little good fat he took it

ikā'oXaō. 6
the owl.

Ā'qa pāt xāx igē'xôx ik¡oa'yawa. IckLqā'yoXuit. IgixE'gᴇlᴇmtck 7
Then really notice he did the panther. They went to bed. He was awake ik¡oa'yawa. A'qa itciltcî'mᴇlētᴇmtck. Cāu, cāu, cāu, cāu 8 the panther. Then he listened to them. Speaking in a low voice igē'xôx ikā'oXaō. Cāu, cāu, cāu, cāu nîxō'xoax. Aqa wi 9 he did the owl. Speaking in a low voice there was. Then again

nîxk¡ayā'wulalᴇmx. Ā'qa wuk¡ xāx itcī'yôx. 10
there was (sound of) laughing. Then really notice he did it.

Kawī'X igixE'latck ik¡oayawa'. Igîxk¡ē'tcEnktamit. Aqa wi 11
Early he arose the panther. He ate before going out. Then again

Lxoā'p igī'yôx wuXi aqagē'l yaXi icō'lᴇtc. Igiō'qumîtck. 12 hole she made it that woman that mat. He saw him.

Lā'2XōLq igîxLxE'lᴇmîtck. Kōpā' itciūgoak¡ō'Lit ya'Xi 13
He finished he ate. There he put it up that igîxk¡ā'etix·it tā'nki. Iō'ya ik¡oayawa'. IgixE'latck ikā'oXaō. 14 he left it over something. He went the panther. He arose the owl.

Igē'kîm: "Anixō'xtkama itcî'xēyal." Igigō'xtkam apXᴇ'leu k¡a 15
He said: "I am going to steal from my workman." He went to steal grease and Lqolē'max. Itcā'lqo-îm ayā'kikal. Aqa wi iō'ya ikā'oXaō. Nō'L¡îX 16 meat. He gave her to eat his wife. Then again he went the owl. A little igē'wîtck, igē'Xk¡oa. NōL¡ giā'k¡ēwula tcō'yîkc. Ka cā'xalîX 17 he danced, he went home. A little what he had caught mice. When up

Owl was there already. He said: "Why do you always come home first?" Thus spoke the Panther. The Owl replied: "I caught all the mice; therefore I came back." "What do you always whisper in the evening? You keep me awake." The Owl replied: "I was dreaming that mice climb over me. I was dreaming." The Panther said: "Bring our elk, old Owl." The Owl got angry and said: "His ancestors called me by that name." "Quick, old Owl; bring our elk and eat its dung." The Owl scolded for a long time. He did not want to go. Then he went out and carried the elk into the house. The Owl took only the poor kind of grease. "Why do you always scold?" said the Panther to the Owl. The Owl replied: "You always give me all kinds of names." The Panther replied: "For a long time we two have been living all alone; don't scold. You have changed altogether; you are scolding all the time."

1	aqaLā′x,	aqa	igē′Xk¡oa	ik¡oayawa′.	Ā′nqa	iō′Xt	ikā′oXaō.
	the sun,	then	he went home	the panther.	Already	there was	the owl.
2	IgiXk¡oā′mam.		Itciō′lXam:	"Qā	gîmgakē′xax?		Mā′newa
	He came home.		He said to him:	"How	are you?		You first
3	qamXk¡oā′mamx."		iqiō′lXam	ikā′oXaō.	Itciō′lXam		ik¡oayawa′.
	you come home,"		he was told	the owl.	He said to him		the panther.
4	Igē′kîm	ikā′oXaō:	"A′qa	intō′ʟXōm	ta′Xi	teō′yîke,	tāntxo ayā′q
	He spoke	the owl:	"Then	I finished them	those	mice,	therefore quick
5	qanXk¡oā′x."		"Tān, tān, tānki		cā′ucāu	qatcEmō′xoax	Xā′pîX;
	I come home."		"What, what, something		low voice	he makes	in the evening;
6	qamEnuqō′teqEmx."		Igē′kîm	ikā′oXaō:		"Qanîx·gē′quwalukLx
	you keep me awake."		He spoke	the owl:		"I dream
7	tcō′yîke	qatxEnguwā′wulElXLemx;		qatEnx·quwā′lEqLx."		Itciō′lXam:
	mice	are crawling up my body;		I dream about them."		He said to him:
8	"Iā′ckatq^{u}tck	itxā′mōlak,	cā′naXauXau."		IgiXE′lXaq	ikā′oXaō:
	"Bring into the house	our elk,	old owl."		He was angry	the owl:
9	"Tiā′q¡eyōqtîke	ctē′yinkxal	goyogō′l."		"Ayā′q	cā′naqo îpqo îp,
	"His ancestors	named me	at end of house."		"Quick	old owl,
10	ē′ckatq^{u}tck	itxā′molak;	iā′qexElē	qamiomē′qLx."		Ikalā′lkuilē
	bring into the house	our elk;	its dung	lick it off."		Scold
11	nixō′xoax	ikā′oXaō.	Lā′2lē	q¡ām	nixō′xoax	ikā′oXaō,	koalē′wa wi
	he did	the owl.	Long	lazy	he was	the owl,	just then again
12	qayupā′x.	Qatciacgō′q^{u}tckax		ictā′molak.	Qacgiō′xex.		Ā′ema mank
	he went out.	He carried it into the house		their elk.	They cut it.		Only a little 13	qat¡ō′kti	apXE′leu	qatcaxō′qtckax		ikā′oXaō.	"Qā′2qa	gi guā′nsum good	fat	he kept it		the owl.	"Why	this always 14	kalā′lkuilē	îmkē′x?"	aqiō′lXam	ikā′oXaō.	Igē′kîm	ikā′oXaō:
	scold	you do?"	he was told	the owl.	He said	the owl:
15	"Mai′ka	ka′nauwē	qa′dEmax	qamEnuqEnā′nanEmx."		Iō′ʟqtîX
	"You	all	ways	you name me."		Long 16	igē′kîm	ik¡oayawa′:	"Txē′la-it	txā′ema.	Nāct	kalā′lkuilē	imE′xôx,
	he spoke	the panther:	"We are	we alone.	Not	scold	do,
17	k¡a	iamxE′tɛluXt	guā′nsum	kalā′lkuilē	îmkē′xax,"		iqiō′lXam
	and	you change toward me,	always	scold	you do,"		he was told 18	ikā′oXaō.
	the owl.

It grew dark. Then the Panther lay down at the end of the house and the Owl at the other end. The Panther was awake. The Owl asked that woman: "What is that?" "My hair." "Oh, our hair, my wife." "What is that?" he said to her. "My ears." "Oh, our ears, my wife." "What is that?" he said. "My face." "Oh, our face, my wife." "What is that?" "Oh, my eyebrows." "Oh, our eyebrows, my wife." "What is that?" "My forehead." "Oh, our forehead, my wife." "What is that?" "My mouth." "Oh, our mouth, my wife." "What is that?" he said to her. "My nose." "Oh, our nose, my wife." "What is that?" "My throat." "Oh, our throat, my wife." "What is that?" "My arm." "Oh, our arm, my wife." "What is that?" "My hand." "Oh, our hand, my wife." "What is that?" "My belly." "Oh, our belly, my wife." "What is that?" She was silent. Twice he said: "What is that?" He became angry. "What is that, woman?" She said: "My navel." "Oh, our navel, my wife." "What is that?" She did not speak to him. He said to her: "What is that? I shall scratch you." She was Igō'pōnɛm. Aqa wi îckʟkā'yoXuit ē'wa gōguā'olîX ikɟoa'yawa. 1

It grew dark. Then again they went to bed thus at end of house the panther, ē'wa goguā'olîX ikā'oXaō. Igixɛ'gɛlîmtck ikɟoa'yawa. 2

thus at end of house the owl. He was awake the panther.

Itcuqu'mtcxōgoa wuXi ·aqāgē'lak ikā'oXaō: "Tān taya'x?" 3
He asked her that woman the owl: "What this?"

qatculXā'mx. "Lgɛ'qcō." "Ohō', lɛ'ntaqcō, agā'yakikal. "Tān 4 he said to her. "My hair." "Ohō', our hair, my wife. "What taya'x?" AgiulXā'mx: "Tgē'ucakc." "Ohō', tɛntā'ucakc, agā'yakikal. 5 this?" She said to him: "My ears." "Ohō', our ears, my wife.

Tān taya'x?" qatculXā'mx. "Sgē'xôst," agiulXā'mx. "Ohō', 6
What this?" he said to her. "My eyes," she said to him. "Ohō', sɛntā'yaxôst, agā'yakikal. Tān tayā'x?" "Tgē'lktsalɛmax." "Ohō'. 7 our eyes, my wife. What this?" "My eyebrows." "Ohō', tɛntā'yalktsalɛmax, agā'yakikal. Tān taya'x?" "Agē'tcpuX." 8 our eyebrows, my wife. What this?" "My forehead."

"Ohō', antā'yatcpuX, agā'yakikal. Tā'n taya'x?" "Itcā'kcXat." 9
"Ohō', our forehead, my wife. What this?" "My mouth."

"Ohō', intā'kcXat, agā'yakikal. Tā'n taya'x?" qatcōlXā'mx. 10
"Ohō', our mouth, my wife. What this?" he said to her.

"Ētektc." "Ohō', yî'ntaktc, agā'yakikal. Tān taya'x?" 11
"My nose." "Ohō', our nose, my wife. What this?"

"Ā'gɛmōkuē." "Ohō', ā'ntamokuē, agā'yakikal. Tān taya'x?" 12
"My throat." "Ohō', our throat, my wife. What this?"

"Ē'tcxō," "Ohō', ē'ntaxō, agā'yakikal. Tān taya'x?" "Lē'gakei." 13
"My arm," "Ohō', our arm, my wife. What this?" "My hand."

"Ohō', lɛ'ntakci, agā'yakikal. Tān taya'x?" "Itcē'wan." "Ohō'. 14
"Ohō', our hand, my wife. What this?" "My belly." "Ohō', intā'wan, agā'yakikal. Tān taya'x?" Qān igā'xôx. Mō'ketîX 15 our belly, my wife. What this?" Silent she was. Twice igē'kîm. Itcō'lXam: "Tān taya'x?" Kalā'lkuilē igē'xôx. "Tān 16 he spoke. He said to her: "What this?" Scold he did. "What taya'x, aqagē'lak?" "Agā'qɟamcō," igiō'lXam. "Ohō', antā'qɟamcō. 17 this, woman?" "My navel," she said to him. "Ohō', our navel, agā'yakikal. Tān taya'x?" Kɟā nîctqa igiō'lXam. "Tān taya'x?" 18 my wife. What this?" Silent, not at all she said to him. "What this?"

silent for a long time. Then she said to him: "My private parts." "Oh, our private parts, my wife." The Panther heard it.

Early he arose, and ate before going. He went. Then the Owl arose. He stole some grease and gave it to his wife. Then he went out for the fifth time. He danced a short time and came home. They left the woman alone. Then she arose and went to the end of the house. She looked at the food which the Panther had put aside. It was elk-marrow. Now she pulled out two of her hairs and tied one around one piece of marrow. She took the other hair and tied it around another piece of marrow. Then she put the food back there and hid in the Owl's bed. The Owl danced for a short while and came home. He stole some grease at the end of the house. At noon the Panther came back, but the Owl was there already. He did not say anything. Now he really took notice. The Panther stayed there some time. Then he took that marrow. He wanted to eat it. He broke it and the hair became loose. He stretched it out. He saw it was one

1 itcō'lXam. "TamEnpē'yaqLawuna." Lē'lē qān igā'xôx. Aqa he said to her. "I shall scratch you." Long silent she was. Then

2 igiō'lXam: "Itcā'eqo-itxa." "Hohohoho" igē'xôx, "intā'yaqo-itxa she said to him: "My vulva." "Hohohoho" he did, "our vulva

3 agā'yakikal." Itcîxtc'mElē ikɻoayawa'.
my wife." He heard it the panther.

4 Kawī'X igixE'latck ikɻoayawa'. Igîxk!ē'tcinktamit. Iō'ya.
Early he arose the panther. He ate before going out. He went.

5 Igixe'latck ikā'oXaō. Igē'kuXtk, itcā'lqoîm ayā'kikal. Aqa wi
He arose the owl. He stole, he gave to her to eat his wife. Then again

6 iō'ya ikā'oXaō ē'LaquinEmîX. Nō'LîX igē'wîtck. Igē'Xkɻoa.
he went the owl the fifth time. A little he danced. He went home.

7 Ictaqe'loqLk wuXi aqagē'lak. Aqa igaxE'latck. Igō'ya ē'wa
They had left her that woman. Then she arose. She went there

8 goguā'oliX. Igiukɻuma'nanEmtck ya'Xi tā'nki qiukɻō'LētîX. A'qa end of house. She looked at it that something that he had put up. Then

9 imō'lak ayā'mala. Kɻut igE'Lôx môkct LE'gaqcō. IkLā'kɻEnEXta elk its marrow. Tear out she did them two her hair. She rolled it around 10 aē'Xt wuXi ā'mala LēXt LqE'cō. Agō'n igā'gElga ikLā'kɻEnEXta one that marrow one hair. The other one she took it she rolled it around it

11 LaXi LqE'cō. Aqa wi igukɻō'Lit kōpā'. Aqa wi igaxE'pcut that hair. Then again she put it up there. Then again she hid 12 iā'lXEmepa ikā'oXaō. Nō'LîX igē'wîtck ikā'oXaō. Igē'Xkɻoa.

his bed at the owl. A little while he danced the owl. He went home.

13 IgîXkɻoā'mam. Igigō'xtkam ē'wa goguā'oliX apXE'leu. Pā wē'gua
He came home. He went to steal there at the end of the house fat. At noon

14 igē'Xkɻoā ikɻoayawa'. IgîXkɻoā'mam. Ā'nqa iō'Xt ikā'oXaō.
he went home the panther. He came home. Long ago he was there the owl.

15 Nāctqa itciō'lXam, qē'wa qa pāt xāx itcī'yuxt. Iō'LqtîX iō'La-ît Not at all he spoke to him, because really notice he did him. Long he stayed 16 ikɻoayawa'. A'qa itcā'gElga wuXi ā'mala. Ala-ixElEmō'xoma.

the panther. Then it took it that marrow. He was going to eat it.

17 ItcaxE'lakua. StuXu iLE'x LaXi LqE'cō. ItcLgē'nXam, ē'LanXa
He broke it. Untied became that hair. He stretched it, one fathom long fathom long. Then the Panther thought: "Oh, the Owl is hiding a woman." He broke another piece of marrow, and found another hair. After he had eaten, they cut the elk. He did not say anything. The night came on and they lay down. Then he heard the Owl laughing.

The Panther arose early and said: "Why did you laugh, Owl?" The Owl replied: "I dreamt the mice were climbing over me." The Panther went out. He stayed in the woods a little inland from the house. Then the Owl looked secretly and rose. He went out and went around. The Panther saw him. Then the Owl entered again. He spoke much in the house. The Panther heard the two speaking together. After some time the Owl went out again and went to catch mice. The Panther saw the Owl going. When he had gone a little while the Panther entered and searched in the Owl's bed. There he found a woman. He said to her: "Rise!" She rose, and he carried her to his bed. He said to her: "Did you hear about the famous

LaXi LqE'cō. IgîxLō'xoa-ît ik¡oayawa': "Ō, itcLō'pcu' L¡ Lqagē'lak 1 that hair. He thought the panther: "Oh, he hid her behold a woman ikā'oXaō. Agō'n wit'ax itcaxE'lakua wuXi ā'mala. Wi lEXt LqE'cō 2 the owl. The other again he took it that marrow. Again one hair itcLō'cgam. ILā'2XōLq iā'LxalEm ik¡oayawa'. Aqa icxE'!'x¡îxc. 3 he took it. He finished it he ate the panther. Then they cut (the elk).

Nä2ct qa itciō'lXam. Igō'pōnEm. A'qa îckLqā'yōXuit. Aqa wit'ax 4
Not at all he spoke to him. It grew dark. Then they went to bed. Then again igixigELEmē'laq; igîxk¡ayā'wulalEmtck ikā'oXaō. 5

he listened; he laughed much the owl.

Kawī'X igixE'latck ik¡oayawa'. Igē'kîm ik¡oayawa': "Qanā'x 6 Early he arose the panther. He said the panther: "How much igîxk¡ayā'wulalEmtck ikā'oXaō?" Igē'kîm ikā'oXaō: "Tā'xka 7 did he laugh the owl?" He said the owl: "Those tcō'yîke qatxEnguwā'wulExLEmx qatnîXquwā'luk"LX." Ayō'pa 8 mice crawled up my body I dreamt about them." He went out ik¡oayawa'. Iō'La-it LxE'leuX tqu'Lepa, ata'mLxELeu tqu'LE. 9 the panther. He stayed inland house at, inland from it the house.

Igixē'k¡Elopsōt ikā'oXaō. Igā'2tcuktîX. Iō'pa ikā'oXao. 10
He looked secretly the owl. Day came. He went out the owl.

Ioxoā'Lakoa tE'ctaqL. Itciō'qumit ik¡oayawa'. Iā'ckupq ikā'oXaō. 11
He went around it their house. He saw him the panther. He entered the owl.

IgēxE'ltcō tqu'LēpA. IcixE'ltcō aqa cmôket ixEmē'laqt ik¡oayawa'. 12
He spoke much the house in. They spoke much then two he heard it the panther.

Lē'lē aqa wi iō'pa ikā'oXaō. Iō'ya aqa ikā'oXaō, tcō'yîke 13 Long then again he went out the owl. He went then the owl, mice iō'kuya. Igē'qamit ik¡oayawa', itciō'qumit ikā'oXaō. Nō'L¡îX 14 he went to catch them. He looked the panther, he saw him the owl. A little while iō'ya ikā'oXaō. Iā'ckō¡q ik¡oayawa'. Igik¡ē'naxL ikā'oXaō 15 he went the owl. He entered the panther. He searched the owl iā'lXEmitkpa. Itcō'cgam wuXi aqagē'lak. Itcō'lXam: 16 his bed at. He found her that woman. He said to her:

"AxE'latck!" IgaxE'latck. Itcō'k¡a ō'wa iā'lXEmitk. Itcō'lXam: 17
"Rise!" She rose. He carried her thus his bed. He said to her:

Owl? You went to him." Now the Owl was dancing. A stick struck his nose and it began to bleed. Then he went home. The woman was already at the end of the house. She was lying down with the Panther. Then the Owl was angry. "I bought that woman for him and I went out in the canoe singing to buy the woman for him there at the end of the house." The Owl scolded for a long time.

Then the Panther said to that woman: "Look out! We shall fight. When we fly up higher and higher fighting, we shall kill each other. When green flesh falls down, you must burn it; when red flesh falls down, keep it, and do the same with the bones. When green bones fall down, burn them; when white bones fall down, keep them." The Owl scolded for a long time. Then the Panther said: "You are talking all the time. Come! we will rise to the sky and fight." The Owl made himself ready. He put on five raccoon blankets. The Panther made himself ready. He put on five elkskin blankets. Now

---

1 "Imxaltcä'mELiLqa tiä'xagElaxElē ikä'oXaō; aqa imigä'tqoam."
"You heard about him his fame the owl; then you came to him."

2 Ka iwē'la ikä'oXaō, igilgä'Xit ē'mqō cï'aLpXpa. Nau'i Lqä'wulqt
Where he danced the owl, it hit him a stick his nose at. At once blood

3 wāx cï'aLpX. Igē'Xk!oa ikä'oXaō. Ig!îxk!oā'nam ikä'oXaō.
pour out his nose. He went home the owl. He came home the owl.

4 Ā'nqa ayā'kikal qoaqē' akē'x. IcgE'Lqayū gi ik!oayawa'.
Already his wife at the end of the house was. They lay on bed this panther.

5 Kalā'lkuilē igē'xôx ikä'oXaō: "Ya'Xka inä'yilxewakoa wuXi Scold he did the owl: "He I bought her for him that

6 aqagē'lak. AnLä'gitgulamalit yaXi goguä'olîX." Lä'2lē kalä'lkuilē woman. I went out in a canoe singing to buy her for him that one at the end of the house." Long scold

7 igē'x ikä'oXaō.
he did the owl.

8 Ltcō'lXam wu'Xi actä'kikal ik!oayawa': "Qä'tj!ōcXEm! Ma'nîx
He said to her that their wife the panther: "Look out! When

9 nantxuwä'qoa, ma'nîx antxēlukcqoā'wulXEma igō'cax, ma'nîx we shall kill one another, when we fly up fighting the sky, when 10 ptcîx iLqu'l, ayulk"tcuwä'ya iLqu'l, aqa alîmxElgä'Lxa. Ma'nîx green flesh, it falls down flesh, then burn it. When 11 Lpäl iLqu'l ayulk"tcuwä'ya, aqa amiō'tga. K!oaLqä' ē'q!ōtcō.

red flesh falls down, then keep it. Thus bones.

12 Ma'nîx ptcäx ē'q!ōtcō ayulk"tcuwä'ya, aqa alîmxElgä'Lxa.
When green bones fall down, then burn them.

13 Ma'nîx tk!ōp ē'q!ōtcō aqa amiō'tka." Lē'lē kalä'lkuilē
When white bones then keep them." Long scold

14 igē'x ikä'oXaō. A'qa igē'kîm ik!oayawa': "Wä'koa amxEltcuwä'ya.
he did the owl. Then he said the panther: "All day you talk.

15 ME'tē! atxEluqcqoä'wulXEma igō'cax." IgixE'ltXuîtck ikä'oXaō.
Come! we will fly up fighting the sky." He made himself ready the owl.

16 Igä'exaltē ayä'qanuq. Qoä'nEmi tē'xaltē tiä'qanoqoakc ikä'oXaō.
He put it on his raccoon blanket. Five were on him his raccoon blankets the owl.

17 IgixE'ltXuitck ik!oayawa'. Qoä'nEma tgē'luqtē itē'xaltē. KopE't
He made himself ready the panther. Five elkskin blankets were on him. Enough they began to fight. First they tore their blankets. When they had torn the blankets, they tore their bodies, and they began to rise upward. They flew up to the sky, and the flesh began to fall down. Sometimes green flesh fell down. This the woman burned. When red flesh fell down, she kept it. Now they had torn all the flesh. Finally they tore their bones. When green bones fell down, the woman burned them. When white bones fell down, she kept them and put them into the basket. Then the intestines fell down. They looked just alike; some she burned, some she kept. Now she heard a noise of something falling down. The heads came down biting each other. Then she put a stick between them and tore them apart. She burned the Owl's head. Now she went down to the water and threw the flesh and that head into the water. She went up again. She waited a little while, then she saw her husband, the Panther. He came up to her and said: "Behold, you burned my intestines! These are the Owl's intestines. Go to your brother-in-law, the Bear, and tell him to give you one-half of his intestines." He gave them to her

.

aqa icxɛ'lkaiū. Tā'newa tetā'kʲetē lɛ'xlex icgî'tôx. Ickō'lXum 1 then they fought. First their blankets tear they did them. They finished them ctā'kʲetē. A'qa ya'Xi ē'ctalq. A'qa ictolā'tekuiXit cā'xalîX. 2 their blankets. Then those their bodies. Then they flew up high.

Icxē'lukcqoā'wulX igō'cax. A'qa itktXuī'yutcō tɛ'ctalqul. Anā' 3
They flew up fighting the sky. Then fell down their flesh. Sometimes ptcîX iLqu'l qayuluktcō'x. agixElgā'lxax wu'Xi actā'kikal. Ma'nix 4 green flesh fell down, she burned it that their wife. When lpel iLqu'l, agiō'tgax. IguXuā'lXum tɛ'ctaLqul. Aqa tāxtʲax 5 red flesh, she kept it. It was finished their flesh. Then next tɛ'ctaqʲōtcō qayalukteō'x. PtcîX ē'qʲotcō qayaxElgē'lxax; ma'nîx 6 their bones fell down. Green bone she burned it; when tkʲōp ē'qʲotcō, agiō'tkax wu'Xi agā'tʲakᵘspa. ItgɛLukteu 7 white bone, she kept it that her basket in. They fell down ctā'qʲamcukc. Acuxuē'kʲatcX ctāqʲamcukc. TēXt itaxɛ'lgiLx, 8 their intestines. Looking alike their intestines. One she burnt it.

tēXt igɛ'tōtk. Kā ōXt gem itgā'lkᵘtcuwā'mam ctā'qʲaqctaquke. 9 one she kept it. When was noise they come falling down their heads.

Ō'xoaqet ta'Xi tqʲā'qctaquke. Ē'mqō igîcxɛ'tʲēqLkua, aqa tcʲuXᵘ 10
They bit each other those their heads. A stick she stemmed between them. then broken apart igō'xoax ta'Xi tqʲā'qctaquke. IaXɛ'lgiLx ikā'oXaō iā'qʲaqctaq. 11 they were those heads. She burned it the owl his head.

Igō'lxa mā'lnîX. Wāx igɛ'tôx lteu'qoapa ta'Xi tLqul ka ya'Xi 12
She went down to the water. Pour out she did them water in that flesh and that iqʲā'qctaq. Igō'ptega. Nō'lʲîX igō'la-it, igē'qɛlkɛl itcā'kikal 13 head. She went up. A little while she stayed, she saw him her husband ikʲoayawa' ētptckt. Iagā'tqoam. Itcō'lXam: "Itɛmxɛ'lgiLx 14 the panther he came up. He reached her. He said to her: "You burnt them lgɛ'qʲamcukc, lqōct! Ikā'oXaō tatā'X tiā'qʲamcukc. Ni'Xua 15 my intestines, behold! The owl those his intestines. Well amē'ya iskē'ntXoapa ēmē'potexan. AmiulXā'ma atetɛnlō'ta 16 go the bear to your brother-in-law. Tell him he shall give them to me and she carried them home. He tried them, but they were not good. They made him feel sick. She carried them back and returned them to the Bear. She said to the Raccoon: "Oh, your elder brother sends word to you to give him your intestines." He gave her one-half. She took them and he tried them, but they were not good. They made him feel sick. He told her: "Carry them back. Tell the Wolf to give you one-half of his intestines." The Wolf gave them to her. She took them home and he tried them, but they were not good. They made him feel sick. He told her: "Go to the Beaver; he shall give me one-half of his intestines. He gave them to her, and the Panther tried the Beaver's intestines, but they were not good. They made him feel sick. He said to her: "Go to the Otter, your brother-in-law. He shall give you his intestines." She told him: "Your elder brother tells you to give him your intestines." He gave her one-half, and she took them home. He tried them, but they were not good. They made him feel sick. He tried all the quadru-

1	tɛ′cit¡îX one-half	tiā′q¡amcukc.” his intestines.”	Igō′ya She went	ayā′kikal. his wife.	Igiō′lXam She said to him	iskē′ntXoa: the bear:
2	“Amtilō′ta “Give them to him	tɛ′cit¡îX one-half	tɛmē′q¡amcukc.” your intestines.”	Itctā′lōt, He gave them to her,	igɛ′tukɪ. she took them.	Kē′nuwa Try
3	itixɛ′lôx; they were on him;	näct not	t¡aya′; good;	iā′tcqɛm his sickness	itgē′lôx. they made on him.	Igɛ′tōkɪ She carried them	wī′t’ax. again.
4	Iktē′lɛXaktcgua She returned them to him	iskē′ntXoa. the bear.	Igiō′lXam She said to him	iLatā′t: the raccoon:	“Ā, “Oh,	ē′mɛlXt your elder brother
5	tcumXō′la he tells you	amtelō′ta you shall give them to him	timē′q¡amcukc.” your intestines.”	Itctā′lōt He gave them to her	tɛ′cit¡îX. one-half.	Igɛ′tukɪ. She carried them.
6	Kē′nuwa Try	itixɛ′lôx. they were on him.	Näct Not	t¡ā′ya; good;	iā′tcqɛm his sickness	itgē′lôx. they made on him.	Itcō′lXam: He said to her:
7	“Tō′lōkɪ. “Carry them.	AmiulXā′ma Tell him	ilē′q¡amō, the wolf,	atctɛnlō′ta he shall give them to you	tɛ′cit¡îX one-half
8	tiā′q¡amcukc.” his intestines.”	Itctā′lōt He gave them to her	ilē′q¡amō the wolf	tiā′q¡amcukc. his intestines.	Igɛ′tōkɪ. She carried them.
9	Kē′nuwa Try	itixɛ′lôx. they were on him.	Näct Not	t¡ā′ya; good;	iā′tcqɛm his sickness	itgē′lôx. they made on him.	Itcō′lXam: He said to her:
10	“Ni′Xua “Well	ik¡oa-inē′nēpa the beaver to	amē′ya. go.’	AtctɛnlŌ′ta He shall give them to me	tiā′q¡amcukc his intestines
11	tɛ′cit¡îX.” one-half.”	Itctā′lōt He gave them to her	kē′nuwa. try	ik¡oa-inē′ne the beaver	tiā′q¡amcukc. his intestines.	Kē′nuwa Try
12	itixɛ′lox. they were on him.	Näct Not	t¡ā′ya. good.	Iā′tcqɛm His sickness	itgē′lôx. they made on him.	Itcō′lXam: He said to her:	“Amē′ya “Go
13	ē′nanakcpa otter to	imē′pōtcxan. your brother-in-law.	AtctɛnlŌ′ta He shall give them to you	tiā′q¡amcukc.” his intestines.”	Igō′ya. She went.
14	Igiō′lXam: She said to him:	“Ā, “Ah,	ē′mɛlXt your elder brother	tcmōxō′lam he tells you	amtēlō′ta you shall give them to him	tɛmē′q¡amcukc.” your intestines.”
15	Itctā′lōt He gave them to her	tɛ′cit¡îX. one-half.	Iktō′kɪam. She brought them.	Kē′nuwa Try	itixɛ′lôx. they were on him.	Näct Not	t¡ā′ya; good;

peds and asked for their intestines. Last of all he asked the Lynx. She went to take his intestines. She got them and took them home. They were right. They did not make him feel sick.

They stayed there a long time. Then the woman was about to give birth to a child. She became sick, and she gave birth to two children. First she gave birth to an Owl, then to a Panther. The Panther said: "I will kill your owl-child." But the woman said: "No; the poor one. Let them grow up together!" They played together, and the Panther washed his son. The woman washed her son, the Owl. They grew up. The Owl's child killed shrews; the Panther's son killed chipmunks. Now they were really grown up. The Owl's son killed young mice and the Panther's son killed fawns. They did what their fathers had done. That is the story. To-morrow we shall have fine weather.

iā′tcqɛm itgē′lôx. Ka′nauwē quxauwā′yuwala kē′nuwa his sickness they made on him. All quadrupeds try itctō′xauwā′koatck tgā′q!amcukc. Kē′qamtqîX aqa ipu′koa he asked them their intestines. Afterward then the lynx ayā′xt!ax. Iktēxgā′lɛmam tiā′q!amcukc. Iktō′k!am, itixɛ′lox.

last. She went to take them his intestines. She brought them, they were on him.

Q!oā′l!, aqa ya′Xkapa. Nîcqē iā′tcqɛm itgē′lôx.
All right, then him on. Not at all his sickness they made on him.

Lā′lē icxē′la-it. Aqa iLAgɛmLî′lkoatck. Itcā′tcqɛm iaxɛ′lôx Long they stayed. Then she was about to give birth. Her sickness was on her wuXi aqagē′lak. Igaxā′ƨtōm. Iā′newa ikā′oXaō ia′Xan that woman. She gave birth. First the owl his son igioXu′tōm, kē′qamtqîX ik!oayawa′ iā′Xan igioXu′tōm. Igē′kîm she gave birth to him. afterward the panther his son she gave birth to him. He said ik!oayawa′: "Anewā′qoa ya′Xi ikā′oXaō iā′Xan." Igā′kîm wu′Xi the panther: "I will kill him that the owl his son." She said that aqagē′lak· "K!ā′ya, tiā′kiutkoax. A′Lqē ē′Xtkatî X actō′mta.

woman: "No, the poor one. Later on together they will grow up.

acxk!ayā′wulalɛma." A′qa itciuqoā′tuLtck iā′Xan ik!oayawa′.
they will play together." Then he washed him his son the panther.

A′qa igiuqoā′tuLtck wuXi aqagē′lak iā′Xan ikā′oXaō. Ā′qa
Then she washed him that the woman his son the owl. Then ictā′qa-iLax igixacɛ′lux. Iq!anō′mēqL qateiwā′qoax ya′Xi ikā′oXaō large they became. Shrews he killed them that owl iā′Xan. Aguskuā′s qatcuwā′qoax ya′Xi ik!oa′yawa iā′Xan. Āqa his son. Chipmunks he killed them that panther his son. Then pāt ictā′qa-iLax. Ā′cō agā′xan qatcuwā′qoax ya′Xi ikā′oXaō really large. Mouse its young he killed them that owl iā′Xan. Aq!ā′xcap qatcuwā′qoax ya′Xi ik!oa′yawa iā′Xan.

his son. Fawns he killed them that panther his son.

K!oaLqā′ cta′xi cî′ctam, k!oaLqā′ wi ctā′xka icî′xôx. K!anēk!anē′:
Thus as those fathers, thus also they did. The story:

ō′la acɑ-igā′p.
to-morrow good weather.

The Raccoon (told 1891)

There was the Raccoon and his grandmother. Once upon a time they were hungry. The Crow lived in their house. He said to his grandmother: "Grandmother, I am hungry." She said: "What do you want? Do you want dried salmon?" "It is bad," said the Raccoon. Again he said to his grandmother: "Grandmother, I am hungry." "Do you want paper salmon?"[1] He said to his grandmother: "It is bad." Again he said to her: "Grandmother, I am hungry." "Do you want pounded salmon?" "It is bad." He said again: "Grandmother, I am hungry." "Do you want dried roasted salmon?" She offered him all kinds of food. Afterward she offered him fruits. He said again: "Grandmother, I am hungry." "Do you want gamass?" "It is bad. Grandmother, I am hungry." "Do you want dried blackberries?" "They are bad. Grandmother, I

Ilatā't Iā'kɨanē

The Raccoon His Myth

1	Cxelā'etîX There were	ayā'kɨec his grandmother	ictakuī'n. raccoon.	Qā'xlqanē'kua One day	aqa then	walō' hunger	igī'yux. acted on him.
2	TēXt One	tɛ'gaqL her house	atɟā'ntsa. the crow.	Itcō'lXam He said to her	ayā'kɨec: his grandmother:	"Ā'kɨec "Grandmother	walō'." hunger."
3	Igiō'lXam: She said to him:	"Tān "What	imɛlgoā'x? do you want?	Tcu'xoa Well	ēqɨeLē'lx?" dried summer salmon?"	"Tēia'ckɨ^{u}L," "It is bad,"
4	igē'kîm he said	ilatā't. raccoon.	Wī't'ax Again	itcō'lXam he said to her	ayā'kɨec: his grandmother:	"Ā'kɨec "Grandmother	walō'." hunger."
5	"Tān "What	imɛlgoā'x? do you want?	Tcu'xoa Well	emē'nɛqan?" paper salmon?"	Itcō'lXam He said to her	ayā'kɨec: his grandmother:
6	"Tē'iackɨ^{u}L." "It is bad."	Wī't'ax Again	itcō'lXam: he said to her:	"Ā'kɨec "Grandmother	walō'." hunger."	"Tcu'xoa "Well
7	lkē'lōl?" pounded dry salmon?"	"Tɛ'lackɨ^{u}L." "It is bad."	Wī't'ax Again	igē'kîm: he said:	"Ā'kɨec "Grandmother	walō'." hunger."
8	"Tcu'xoa "Well	akɨē'lak?" dried salmon?"	"Tɛ'gackɨ^{u}L." "It is bad."	Ka'nauwē All	ta'Xi those
9	tctā'lxalɛmā'emax. their kinds of food.	Aqa Then	tā'xtɟax finally	tqoxoē'max. fruits.	"Ā'kɨec "Grandmother	walō'," hunger,"
10	itcō'lXam he said to her	ayā'kɨec. his grandmother.	"Tcu'xoa "Well	tɛ'lalX?" gamass?"	"Tɛ'gackɨ^{u}L. "It is bad.	Ā'kɨec Grandmother
11	walō'." hunger."	Igiō'lXam She said to him	ayā'kɨec: his grandmother:	"Tcu'xoa "Well	ā'kɛmukc, blackberries,	aXî'caqt dry

---

[1] Paper salmon is salmon cut in very thin slices and dried.

am hungry." "Do you want dewberries?" "They are bad." She offered him all kinds of berries. Then his grandmother said: "What do you want? Do you want nuts?" "They are bad." Now she had offered him all the food they had in their house. "Do you want acorns?" she said. Then the Raccoon said: "All right." She gave him his small canoe: "Quick, go down, fill your small canoe and then come up, but close the cache well." She had five caches of acorns. The Raccoon went down and opened one of the caches. Then he ate all the contents of the cache. He opened another one and ate its contents. He emptied two caches. He opened one more and emptied it. He ate all that was in it. He opened the fourth one. He had emptied half of it when the Crow came down to the water. She saw him. "Raccoon is stealing!" Then Raccoon said: "Come, come, I will give you some of it." Thus he spoke to the Crow. She went and he gave her food.

ā'kEmuke." "TE'gack¡^{u}L. Ā'k¡ec walō'." "Tcu'xoa agō'wē. blackberries." "They are bad. Grand-mother hunger." "Well dewber-ries(?).

aXî'caqt agō'wē?" "TE'gack¡^{u}L." Ka'nauwē ta'Xi tctā'qoxoēmax.
dry dewberries?" "They are bad." All those their fruits.

Agiō'lXam ayā'k¡ec: "Tā'ntx imElgoā'x? Tcu'xoa tE'qxola?"
She said to him his grand-mother: "What maybe do you want? Well nuts?"

"TE'gack¡L." Iguxoā'LXum tctā'LxElEmā'emax tcēqu'LiX.
"They are bad." She finished it their food in the house.

"Tcō'xoa ak¡a'nauwē imelgoā'x?" Igē'kîm iLatā't: "Ā, ya'Xka,
"Well acorns do you want?" He said raccoon: "Ah, that, ya'Xka." Iksē'lōt ayā'k¡ec siā'xanīm: "Ai'aq amE'LXa.

that." She gave it to him His grand-mother his toy canoe: "Quick go down to the water.

AmasElō'tga pāL sta'Xi smē'Xanīm. A'qa amE'tptcga. T¡ayā' Put them into it full that your toy canoe. Then come up. Good amxpuā'ya ya'Xi ik¡uā'yatk." Qui'nEma tgā'k¡uayatgEmax close it that cache." Five her caches tk¡a'nauwē. Iō'Lxa iLatā't. ItcixE'laqLq ēXt ictā'k¡uayatk. acorns. He went down raccoon. He opened it one their cache.

Itcî'tôx Lkoā'p, Lkoā'p, Lkoā'p, Lkoā'p. ItixE'lEmuX. Itciō'LXōm
He did (noise of chewing acorns). He ate them. He finished it ēXt ik¡oā'yatk. Igō'n ēXt itcixE'laqLq. Itcî'tôx one cache. Another one he opened it. He did

Lkoā'p, Lkoā'p, Lkoā'p. Môket tk¡uayā'tgEmax (noise of chewing acorns). Two caches itctō'LXom. Igō'n ēXt itcixE'laqLq ik¡uā'yātk iLā'lōn. Itcî'tôx he finished them. Another one he opened it a cache the third one. He did

Lkoā'p, Lkoā'p, Lkoā'p, Lkoā'p. Itciō'LXōm iLā'lōn. Ilā'lakt (noise of chewing acorns). He finished it the third one. The fourth one itcixE'laqLq. KE'tcak igē'xôx ya'Xi ik¡uā'yatk. A'qa igō'ya he opened it. Half became that cache. Then she went Lteu'qoa at¡ā'ntsa. Igē'qElkEl: "Aligō'Xtga wiLatā't," igiō'lXam.

the water the crow. She saw him: "He is stealing raccoon," she said to him.

Igē'kîm iLatā't: "ME'tē, mE'tē, ayamElqoē'ma, ayamElqoē'ma."
He said raccoon: "Come, come, I will give you to eat, I will give you to eat."

Itcō'lXam wu'Xi at¡ā'ntsa. Igō'ya at¡ā'ntsa. Itcā'lqo-îm; tā'ema
He said to her that crow. She went the crow. He gave her to eat; only but he gave her only worms. She left him and stayed at some distance. Again she said: "Raccoon is stealing!" He said to her: "Come, come, I will give you some food." The Crow went. He gave her some food, partly good food and partly worms. Five times the Crow came back. Then she went up and said: "Your grandson is eating all your acorns." "The rascal," said his grandmother, "I forgot him." She went down and took a stick. He saw her coming down. Then he crawled up and hid in one end of their firewood. His grandmother searched for him near the water, then she gave it up. She went up and searched outside around the house. She did not find him. She entered and searched under the beds, but she did not find him. Then she gave it up. Then she thought she would make a great fire. She blew up the fire, and then she saw the Raccoon right there. He squatted on his knees and elbows. Then she took a firebrand, and struck his face and his nose and his neck. Then he ran out and she her worms he gave them to her to eat. She left him, far she stood.

1 tgā′qɛxēʟawukɛ itɛtā′lqo-îm. Iga-iqɛ′luqʟ, kɛlā′îX igō′tXuit.

2 A′qa wit′ax igā′kîm at¡ā′ntsa: "Aligō′Xtka wiʟatā′t." Itɛō′lXam:
Then again she said the crow: "He is stealing raccoon." He said to her:

3 "Mɛ′tē, mɛ′tē, ayamɛlqoē′ma. ayamɛlqoē′ma." Igō′ya at¡ā′ntsa.
"Come, come, I will give you to eat, I will give you to eat." She went the crow.

4 Itcā′lqo-îm. Qā′wat tgt¡ō′kti itɛtā′lɛqo-îm qā′wat tgā′qɛxēʟawukɛ.
He gave her to eat. Part good he gave it to her to eat part her worms.

5 Qoï′nɛmîX igaXɛ′takua at¡ā′ntsa. Aqa igō′ptega. Igaxgu′lîtɛk Five times she returned the crow. Then she went up. She told 6 at¡ā′ntsa: "Ā4qa itɛtō′ʟXōm tɛmtā′k¡anauwē imē′kian." "Nā, the crow: "Then he finished it your acorns your grandson." "Ah,

7 guiā′xatɛk! igē′nilalākuit." Igō′ʟx ayā′k¡ɛc, igē′gɛlga ē′mqō.
rascal! I forgot him." She went down his grandmother she took it a stick.

8 Itcā′qɛlkɛl ayā′k¡ɛc ā̄ʟxt. Iō′ptɛk igē′k¡ʟxē. Iō′ptegam
He saw her his grandmother she went down to the water. He went up he crawled. He came up

9 iʟatā′t, igēxɛ′pcut tɛtā′XaʟɛptɛqîX nɛXumā′kit. Kē′nuwa raccoon, he hid their firebrands at the end. Try

10 igak¡ē′naxʟ ayā′k¡ɛc mā′ʟnîX. Tā′2mēnua igā′xôx aqa igō′ptega.
she searched for him his grandmother near the water. Give up she did then she went up.

11 Igak¡ē′naxʟ lā′xanîX, tɛ′ɛtaqʟ ʟgā′kaʟaxana. Nä2ɛt igiō′egam.
She searched outside, their house its outside. Not she found him.

12 Igā′ckupq. Igiō′naxʟ gē′gualîX ʟXɛ′mitk. K¡ā nîɛt igiō′egam.
She entered. She searched for him below bed. Nothing not she found him.

13 Tā′2mēnua igā′xôx. Aqa igō′ʟa-it. T¡ā′ya igō′xoa agā′tōʟ;
Give up she did. Then she stayed. Good she made it her fire;

14 pō′pō igō′xoa. Igē′qɛlkɛl iʟatā′t kōpā′2. Itsinq¡oyā′tiX q¡oa′p blow she did it. She saw him raccoon there. He squatted on knees and elbows near

15 actā′tōʟ. Igā′gɛlga wu′Xi ā′ēXt actā′qaʟɛptɛkîX. Igiō′quîlX their fire. She took it that one their firebrand. She struck him

16 gipā′tîX sī′axêstpa; igiō′quîlX gipā′tîX Liā′p¡aqapa. Igiō′quîlX here his face on; she struck him here his nape on. She struck it

17 iā′kōtɛX. Iopā′mam, aqa iā′pōtɛpa igiō′quîlX. Aqa iō′ya his back. He arrived outside, then his buttocks at she struck him. Then he went struck his backside. He went and cried: "Oh, my grandmother struck me and broke my backbone."

He went a long way and met some boys. The Raccoon was crying. "Oh, Raccoon, come! We are playing ball." Those boys were playing at ball. Raccoon said: "Logs, logs, logs, strike you ——" "Qō'q, Raccoon. You thief. Why do you cry?" Raccoon went on. Again he came to some boys. He cried. Again they shouted: "Oh, Raccoon, come, come! We are playing ball. He replied the same: "Logs, logs, logs, strike you ——"

Then Raccoon went on. He went some distance and looked up. There he saw a hawthorn. He climbed it. Then his grandmother followed him. She said: "Grandchild, my grandchild is going to take a young deer for me." Then a stick broke: "Is that you, grandchild?" she said. Raccoon was climbing about in the tree. Then he saw his grandmother. Then she came to him and looked up. There iLatā't. Iō'qulqt iō'ya: "Agak¡ä'2e ignē'2wax LE'2kLEk raccoon. He cried he went: "My grandmother she struck me broken	1

---

itcē'2gal itä'2c." my back-bone is."	2
KELā'îX iō'ya. Aqa iogoā'qoam tqā'totenîke. Iō'qulqt iLatā't. Far he went. Then he reached them boys. He cried raccoon.	3
"Ā wiLatā't! ME'tē. Wā'layō alxegā'ma." Wā'k¡alkal oxoaegE'liL "Ah, raccoon! Come. Ball we play." Ball they were playing	4
ta-îtci tqā'totenîke. Igē'kîm iLatā't: "TEnux te¡a mē'cam those boys. He said raccoon: "These then you	5
LEmuqcEmā'emax LEmcXā'ltcīL te¡E nā'mcxēlayu'te¡koax." "Qō2q logs you often strike yourselves (?) " "Qōq	6
wiLatā't! Mai'ka imē'qalpas, k¡a mixE'qalqt." Aqa wi iō'ya raccoon! You you thief and you cry." Then again he went	7
iLatā't. Wī't'ax iugoā'qoam tqā'tōtenîke. Iō'qulqt iLatā't. Wī't'ax raccoon. Again he reached them boys. He cried raccoon. Again	8 iqigē'loma: "Ā wiLatā't wā'layō alxegā'ma." K¡oaLqā' wī't'ax he was called: "Ah, raccoon ball we play." Just so again	9
igē'kîm. "TEnux te¡a mē'cam LEmuqcEmā'emax LEmcXā'ltcīL he said. "These then you logs you often strike yourselves	10
te¡E nā'mcxēlayu'te¡koax." (?) "	11
Aqa wi iō'ya iLatā't. Qā'xpaLq iō'yam, igē'kiket cā'xalîX, a'qa Then again he went raccoon. Somewhere he arrived, he looked up, then	12
pāL wu'Xi asELā'wa cā'xalîX. Ioqoē'wulXt iLatā't. A'qa igē'wa full those haws above. He climbed up raccoon. Then she pursued him	13
ayā'k¡ec. Igō'ya ayā'k¡ec, igē'wa. "Gā'yō witcE'kian, aq¡ē'xcap his grandmother. she went his grandmother, she pursued him. "Grandson, my grandson, fawn	14
itcanē'tan witcE'kian." LāQ nîxō'xoax ē'mqō. "Mai'ka tci he catches it for me my grandson." Break did a stick. "You (int. part.)	15
gā'yo?" nagē'mx. Igayuk¡oaLxē'goax iLatā't. Aqa itcā'qElkEL grandson?" she said. He climbed about raccoon. Then he saw her	16
ayā'k¡ec. Aqa igō'qoam ayā'k¡ec. Igā'kiket ē'wa cā'xalîX, his grandmother. Then she reached him his grandmother. She looked there up,	17

he was high up on the tree. His grandmother said: "Throw something down into my mouth, grandchild." He did not look. She spoke five times. Then he looked. He said: "Lie down on your back; close your eyes; open your mouth." Then he made a ball of haws and put thorns into them, and threw the ball down into her mouth. It stuck in her throat. Then she cried: "Water, grandchild; water, grandchild!" Often she said so. Then wings began to grow on her. Now he climbed down and searched for water. He did not find it. Then she began to fly, and he said to her: "Partridge(?) shall be your name. You shall not eat acorns."

Then Raccoon went on. He went a long distance. He came to a house and entered. Then he saw the Grizzly Bear in there. Then he thought: "He will eat me. Behold! I came into the house of a monster." The Grizzly Bear said: "Where do you come from, brother? Your face is painted prettily." The Raccoon said: "I was painted a little while before I came." "Oh, paint me also, brother."

---

1 aqa yaxī′ cā′xalîX iō′goaxt iLatā′t. Igiō′lXam ayā′k¡ec:
then there up he was on it raccoon. She said to him his grandmother:

2 "Nē2tk¡îxā′ematsō gā′yo!" Nēct itcō′kcta. Qoā′nEmîX igiō′lXam, "Throw down into my mouth grandson!" Not he looked. Five times she said to him,

3 koalē′wa itcō′kcta. "Mxā′ciltckē," itcō′lXam, "as amEnp¡ō′Xuita.
just then he looked. "Lie down on your back." he said to her, "and close your eyes.

4 L¡āq amiō′X imē′kcXat." A′qa lō′Elō itcō′xoa wu′Xi asElā′wa.
Spread do your mouth." Then round he made them those haws.

5 Aqa itca-ilā′mit wu′Xi agā′qatc. ItcElxā′ema itcā′kcXapa. Qu′LquL
Then he put into them those its thorns. He threw it down her mouth into. Stick

6 nau′i a′gamiguēpa. Igiō′lXam: "Ltcu′qoa, gā′yō; Ltcu′qoa, gā′yo!"
at once her throat in. She said to him: "Water, grandson; water, grandson!"

7 Ē′xauitîX igiō′lXam. Ā′qa tE′gak¡ēntq itaxE′lux. Aqa iō′qo-îtcō.
Often she said to him. Then her wings were on her. Then he went down.

8 Kē′nuwa itcLō′naxL Ltcu′qoa. Nä2ct itcLō′cgam. Ā′2qa igō′koa Try he searched for it water. Not he found it. Then she flew

9 ayā′k¡ec. Itcō′lXam: "AXutXuē′t imē′xaleu. Nä2ct ā′Lqē his grandmother. He said to her: "Partridge (?) your name. Not later on 10 tEmē′k¡anauwē."

your acorns."

11 A′qa wi iō′ya iLatā′t. KElā′îX iō′ya. Itcuguā′qoam tqu′Lē.
Then again he went raccoon. Far he went. He reached it a house.

12 Iā′ckupq. Itcē′qElkEl aqa icā′yîm iō′Xt. Igîxlō′xa-ît iLatā′t:
He entered. He saw him then the grizzly bear he was there. He thought raccoon:

13 "Ā′qa aqanuwE′lq¡ama. iqcxē′Lau Lqōct gi inigE′lōpq." Igē′kîm
"Then I shall be eaten, a monster behold that I entered." He said

14 icā′yîm: "Qā′mta ē′wa imtē′mam, ā′oē? Masā′tciL Lqa the grizzly bear: "Whence then you came, younger brother? Pretty maybe 15 ēmē′gēmatck." Igē′kîm iLatā′t: "Koalā′2wa iqanoguē′matck. Aqa the painting on your face." He said raccoon: "Just I was painted. Then

"Yes, as you like," said the Raccoon. "Have you any pitch? They hit me here with a chisel, and then they poured pitch over me." Now he boiled some pitch. He asked the Bear: "Have you a chisel?" The Bear replied: "I have one." Now the pitch was boiling. Then the Bear was told: "Lie down on your back." He lay down. He said: "Oh brother, you will kill me!" The Raccoon replied: "As you like; if you don't wish it, I shall not paint you. You do not need to be painted." But the Bear said: "You must paint me, younger brother." Then he struck him with the chisel here at the forehead. He poured the pitch down over his face. He told him: "Jump into the water." The Bear jumped into the water. There he rolled about.

Then the Raccoon ran away. He went a long distance and met a person. He was dancing. He sang "——" gi inɛ′tē." "Â tgt¡ō′kti amnoguē′matcgoa, ā′oē." "Mai′ka 1 here I came." "Ah, good you paint me, younger brother." "Your imē′Xakamit," iqiō′lXam icā′yîm. "K¡ā ɛmā′q¡axōcgan tcī?" 2 your mind," he was told the grizzly bear. "Nothing your pitch [int. part.]" igē′kîm iɬatā′t. "Ē′qa-îtk gipā′tîX iqēnɛlgā′mit, aqa wāx 3 he said raccoon. "A chisel here I was struck, then poured ēqɬɛ′nkux Lq¡axō′cgan; lɛp Lq¡axō′cgan. ɬūtcXɛ′m′ɛt. 4 was on me pitch; boiling pitch. They boiled it.

Lqā′lXatcX cxē′lak Laxi Lq¡axō′cgan." Aqa lɛp iqɛ′lôx Laxi 5 Coal mixed that pitch." Then boiled it was that Lq¡axō′cgan. Lɛp itcî′lôx iɬatā′t. Iqiō′lXam icā′yîm: "Ē′mɛqa-itk 6 pitch. Boil he did it raccoon. He was told the grizzly bear: "Your chisel tcī?" Igē′kîm icā′yim: "Ē′tcqa-itk." Lɛp iɬɛ′x Laxi Lq¡axō′cgan. 7 [int. part.]" He said the grizzly bear: "My chisel." Boil it did that pitch.

Iqiō′lXam icā′yim: "Amxā′ciltckī." Yixā′ciltcki icā′yim: 8
He was told the grizzly bear: "Lie down on your back." He lay down on his back the grizzly bear:

"Ō, ā′oē! amɛnuwā′qoa." Igē′kim iɬatā′t: "Mai′ka imē′Xaqamē. 9
"Oh, younger brother! you will kill me." He said raccoon: "You your mind.

Ma′nîx nîct tq¡ēx mɛ′tox ayamoguē′matckua, qā′txō nēct 10
If not like you do it I paint you, must not ayamoguē′matckoa," igē′kim iɬatā′t. Igē′kim icā′yim: "Qā′txō 11

I paint you," he said raccoon. He said the grizzly bear: "Must amɛnoguē′matckua, ā′oē!" Itcilgā′mit ya′Xi ē′qa-itk, gipapā′ 12 you paint me, younger brother!" He hit him that chisel, here itcilgā′mit. Wāx itcɬē′kuX Laxi Lq¡axō′cgan siā′xôstpa. 13 he hit him. Pour out he did it on him that pitch his face on.

Iteiō′lXam: "Sɛ′pɛna Ltcu′qoapa." Itsî′sōpɛna icā′yîm Ltcu′qoapa. 14
He said to him: "Jump water into." He jumped the grizzly bear the water into.

Kōpā′ igixcgē′laɬɛmtck icā′yîm. 15
There he rolled about the grizzly bear.

Igē′kta iɬatā′t. Kɛlā′îX iō′ya; aqa itcɬgō′qoam Lgoaɬē′lX 16
He ran raccoon. Far he went; then he reached it a person

Luwē′la: "Ā′na tsak¡oa′ix′ɛn, tsak¡oā′ix′ɛn, ā′na tsamō′iXun 17
he danced: "Sometimes (?) , (?) , sometimes (?)

Then he recognized the Coyote. The Raccoon said: "Step aside, brother, a monster pursues me." The Coyote replied: "I shall eat you, I shall swallow you." "Oh, elder brother, step aside, a monster pursues me. I shall gather crab apples for you; I shall gather crawfish for you; I shall gather fresh-water clams for you; I shall gather haws for you; I shall gather all kinds of berries for you." Thus he spoke to Coyote. When a Grasshopper jumped up, Coyote snapped at it at once. He said: "Go to my house, put ten stones into the fire—five stones on the one side, and five stones on the other side—and heat them. Then cover yourself with a kettle." Raccoon went and came to Coyote's house. Then he heated the stones, all ten, just as Coyote had told him. Then Coyote danced. Now the Grizzly Bear saw him. "Did that little rascal pass you? He hit me." Then Coyote answered as before: "I shall eat you, I shall swallow you." Coyote sang: "——".

1 tsamō'iXun." Itciugu'laqLq aqa it¡ā'lapas. Igē'kîm iLatā't: "A,
(?) ," He recognized him then coyote. He said raccoon: "Ah,

2 LāLq mxā'naxôx, ā'pxō. Iqcxē'Lau itcîntuwā't." Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas:
step aside do for me elder brother. A monster he pursues me." He said coyote:

3 "KeLā'îX LE'kala k¡oā'ix·eN ayamō'xoa. LEq¡° ayamō'xoa."
"Far man (?) I do you. Swallow I do you."

4 "Ā, ā'pxō! LāLq mxā'nexala. Iqcxē'Lau itcîntuwā't. Nai'ka
"Ah, elder brother! step aside do for me. A monster he pursues me. I

5 amō'înx ayamELp¡iā'Lxa. Nai'ka aqaLxē'la ayamELp¡iā'Lxa. Nai'ka crab apples I will gather them for you. I crabs I will gather them for you. I

6 LtE'kē aLamELp¡iā'Lxa. Nai'ka asELā'wa ayamELp¡iā'Lxa.
fresh-water clams I will gather them for you. I haws I will gather them for you.

7 Ka'nauwē tqoxoē'ma atamELp¡iā'Lxa," iqiō'lXam it¡ā'lapas,
All fruits I will gather them for you," he was told coyote,

8 itciō'lXam iLatā't. Qatssopenā'x ē'ts¡ēlaq, ā'nqa qatciō'qcx ya'Xi he said to him the raccoon. When jumped a grasshopper, already he bit it that

9 it¡ā'lapas. Aqa igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: "Amē'ya tE'kqLpa. ILā'lēlXam coyote. Then he said coyote: "Go my house to. Ten

10 LqE'nake aLEmxElgē'Lxa, ē'natîX ā'tōL qoā'nEma aLEmxElgē'Lxa, stones heat them, on one side the fire five heat them.

11 ē'wa ē'natîX ā'tōL qoā'nEma aLEmxElgē'Lxa. Ala'mxoalak¡oa then on the other side the fire five heat them. Cover yourself with 12 aq¡u'tan." A'qa iō'ya iLatā't. Iō'yam it¡ā'lapas tē'yaqL iLatā't.

a kettle." Then he went raccoon. He reached coyote his house raccoon.

13 ItcLxE'lgiLx La'Xi LqE'nake. Ka'nauwē iLā'lēlXam k¡oaLq̣ā ya'Xi
He heated them those stones. All ten just as that 14 itciō'lXam it¡ā'lapas. Kā ēwē'la it¡ā'lapas a'qa itcē'qelkel icā'yim.

he told him coyote. Where he danced coyote then he saw him the grizzly bear.

15 "Qā'mta iLE'mXkoa, ā'oē, Lqoē'tgaētgaē? ILgenū'waq."
"Where did he pass, younger brother, the little rascal? He killed me."

16 Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: "KeLā'îX LE'kala. K¡oā'iXen ayamō'xoa.
He said coyote: "Far man. ? I do you.

17 LEq¡° ayamō'xoa," igā'xax it¡ā'lapas: "Ā'na tsak¡oā'iXen, Swallow I do you," he did coyote: "Sometimes (?)

Coyote said: "I ate him, I devoured him." Now the Bear spoke: "Well, show him to me." Then Coyote spit and the saliva on his hand looked just like Raccoon. The Grizzly Bear spoke: "It is good that you have eaten that little rascal." Then Coyote said: "Let us go into my house." They entered and came in. Then Coyote said: "Now let us bet. You shall swallow these five stones. I shall swallow the other five." Coyote went out and put a reed into his mouth. It came out again at his buttocks. Then he entered again. He swallowed one stone and the Grizzly Bear swallowed one stone. Grizzly Bear's face became red. Coyote swallowed another stone and the Grizzly Bear swallowed another one. Then Grizzly Bear's face became contorted. Coyote swallowed the third stone and the Grizzly Bear swallowed the third one. Then tears ran down Grizzly Bear's cheeks. Coyote swallowed another stone and the Grizzly Bear swallowed the fourth one. Then Coyote swallowed the fifth one. He blew, and steam came out tsak¡oā'iXEn, ā'na tsamō'iXun tsamō'iXun." Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: 1 (?) sometimes (?) (?) ." He said coyote:

"K¡oā'iXEn inE'LôX, lEq¡° inE'LôX." Igē'kîm icā'yim: "Nî'Xua 2
" (?) I did it, swallow I did it." He said the grizzly bear: "Well LEnxatE'n'ema." "X" igē'xôx it¡ā'lapas, tō igē'xôx, 3 show it to me." "X" he did coyote, spit he did, itcLō'meqo-ît. Yā'Xka iLatā't igixē'maXit Lē'yakcipa. Igē'kîm 4 he spat it. That raccoon lay his hand on. He said icā'yîm: "Q¡oā'L mLō'wîlq¡ Lqoē'tgaētgaē." "Tca! txō'ya 5 the grizzly bear: "All right you ate him the little rascal." "Come! let us go tE'kqLpa," igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas. Ictō'ya tē'iaqLpa, tē'iaqL it¡ā'lapas. 6 my house to," he said coyote. They two went his house to, his house coyote.

Ictō'pqam. "AtxEmgē'tga!" igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas. "Qoā'nEma 7
They two came in. "Let us bet!" he said coyote. "Five amLuwu'lq¡ama LA'Xi LqE'nake, qoā'nEma nai'ka nLuwu'lq¡ama." 8 you will swallow them those stones, five I I will swallow them."

Lō'pa it¡ā'lapas, iga-ixE'luktcō ā'pak. Ē'wa iā'potcpa LāX igā'xôx 9
He went out coyote, he put it into (his mouth) a reed. There his anus at come out it did wu'Xi ā'pak. Wī't'ax iā'ekupq. Itcē'wulq¡ ēXt ya'Xi iqE'nake 10 that reed. Again he entered. He swallowed it one that stone it¡ā'lapas. Itcē'wulq¡ icā'yîm ēXt ya'Xi iqE'nake. Nauē' LpEll 11 coyote. He swallowed it the grizzly bear one that stone. At once red icî'xôx cî'axôst. Igō'n itcē'wulq¡ it¡ā'lapas, iLā'môkst. Igō'nax 12 became his face. Another one he swallowed it coyote, the second one. Another one itcē'wulq¡ icā'yim iLā'môkst. Nauī' icikte¡ē'wunX ya'Xi icā'yim. 13 he swallowed it the grizzly bear the second one. At once his face became contorted that grizzly bear.

ILā'lōn itcē'wulq¡ it¡ā'lapas. iLā'lōn itcē'wulq¡ icā'yim. Nau'i 14
The third one he swallowed it coyote, the third one. he swallowed it the grizzly bear. At once tiā'laq°tk itktXuī'yoteo. Igō'n itcē'wulq¡ it¡ā'lapas iLā'lakt. 15 his tears they ran down. Another one he swallowed it coyote the fourth one.

ILā'lakt itcē'wulq¡ icā'yim ya'Xi iqE'nake. Ē'LaquinEm itcē'wulq¡ 16
The fourth one he swallowed it the grizzly bear that stone. The fifth one he swallowed it of his mouth. Now the Grizzly Bear swallowed the fifth stone. Coyote told him: "Now drink water." He drank water. It began to boil and he fell down dead. Then Raccoon threw off the kettle. They cut him and ate him.

Now they were hungry again. Every day Raccoon brought crab apples. Every day he brought fresh-water clams. Every day he brought haws. He brought crawfish and potentilla roots. He brought all kinds of berries. Then the two, Coyote and Raccoon, ate all the time. Now it came to be winter and Raccoon was very fat.

Then the two became hungry, and several times Raccoon went out. He found a cache in which provisions were hidden—paper salmon, dried summer salmon, pounded salmon, dried salmon, salmon backs and dried gamass, dried blackberries, and dried dewberries, and all kinds of fruit. All kinds of fruit were hidden. Now he carried home five salmon backs. He went home. He hid them near the house and

1 it¡ā'lapas. "X" igē'xôx it¡ā'lapas; Xōp iā'k^{u}cXat. Iqō'xoan coyote. "X" he did coyote; it steamed his mouth. Steam

2 igē'qɛlpa. Ē'ʟaquinɛm itcē'wulq¡ icā'yim ya'Xi iqɛ'nakc. Igē'kîm went out of his mouth. The fifth one he swallowed it the grizzly bear that stone. He said

3 it¡ā'lapas: "ʟtcu'qoa ʟɛ'qamct!" Itcʟō'qumct ʟtcu'qoa ya'Xi coyote: "Water drink!" He drank it water that

4 icā'yîm. Lɛp igē'xôx ē'yamxtc. Kopā' igē'k¡elapx·itîX. Iō'maqt.
grizzly bear. Boil it did his stomach. There he fell over. He was dead.

5 Itcaxē'ma ā'yaq¡tan iʟatā't. A'qa icgī'yuxc. Icgiō'ʟXum
He threw it off his kettle raccoon. Then they cut him. They finished him 6 igîcxɛ'lɛmux.

they ate him.

7 A'qa wā'lō icXɛ'ʟa-it. Ka'nauwē ʟkā'etax qatcugū'ya-îtx
Then hunger they died. All days he gathered them

8 amō'înx, qatcʟugū'ya-îtx ʟtɛ'kē ya'Xi iʟatā't. Qatcugū'ya-îtx crab apples, he gathered them fresh-water clams that raccoon. He gathered them

9 asɛlā'wa, qatcūgū'ya-îtx aqaʟxē'la, qatciugū'ya-îtx ik¡enā'tan, haws, he gathered them all crabs, he gathered them potentilla roots,

10 qatctugū'ya-îtx ka'nauwē tqoxoē'max. QatsxɛlɛmŌ'xuma-îtx he gathered them all fruits. They ate all the time

11 it¡ā'lapas k¡a iʟatā't. A'qa tcā'xɛlklîX igē'xoxo-îX. A'qa coyote and raccoon. Then winter it got. Then 12 ayā'pXɛleu iga-ixɛ'lôx iʟatā't.

his fat was on him raccoon.

13 Ā'2qa walō' icXɛ'ʟa-it. Ā'2ʟatcixēX ʟqa iō'ya iʟatā't. Aqa
Then hunger they died. Several times maybe he went raccoon. Then 14 itctō'cgam tk¡ē'pcolē, ʟxɛlɛmā'emax tkpcō'tîX, ʟmē'nqan ʟupcō'tîX, he found it a cache, food was hidden, paper salmon was hidden,

15 ʟq¡ēlō'ʟx ʟupcō'tîX, aqē'lō upcō'tîX, ak¡ē'lak upcō'tîX, tgu'nat dried summer salmon was hidden, pounded Cascade salmon was hidden, dried salmon was hidden, salmon

16 ʟgā'kōtcX ʟupcō'tîX, tɛ'lalX uXoā'caqt tgapcō'tîX. ʟɛ'kɛmuke their backs were hidden, gamass dry was hidden, blackberries

17 ʟɛkcɛ'mɛt, ʟgō'uē ʟɛkcɛ'mɛt ʟupcō'tîX, ka'nauwē tqoxoē'max dry; dewberries dry were hidden, all fruits

18 tgapcō'tîX. Itcî'ʟukʟ qui'nɛma ʟɛ'kōtcX. Igē'Xk¡oa. Q¡oā'p were hidden. He carried them five backs. He went home. Near then he came home. They had only potentilla roots to eat. It grew dark, and they lay down. Coyote had his bed on one side of the house, Raccoon on the other side. Raccoon said: "Oh, if my pillow would be full of five salmon backs to-morrow morning!" Coyote replied: "Yes, if that were so, younger brother! If my pillow would be full of ten salmon backs!" Day came, and then Raccoon searched under his pillow. There were five salmon backs under his pillow. Coyote looked under his pillow, but there was nothing. Now they two ate. Raccoon went again to the cache and ate there all day. Then he went home. He carried five dried summer salmon. Near the house he hid them, and his elder brother had only potentilla roots to eat. Again it grew dark, and Raccoon said: "Oh, if I could find five dried summer salmon under my pillow!" Coyote said: "Indeed, my brother, if that were true! If I could find ten summer salmon under my pillow!" Now Raccoon was awake and Coyote slept.

tɛ́'ctaqɬ. a'qa itɛlō'pɛut. IgiXkᵢoā'mam. Iā'ema ikᵢɛmā'tan 1 their house, then he hid them. He came home. Only potentilla roots iā'kᵢewula. Igō'ponɛm. IckLqā'yuXuit, ē'wa kᵢanatē'tuL 2 what he had gathered. It grew dark. They lay down, there on one side tqu'lē iā'lXɛmitk itᵢā'lapas, gata tɛ'nat tqu'lō iā'lXɛmitk iLatā't. 3 the house his bed coyote, and on the other side the house his bed raccoon.

Igē'kîm iLatā't: "Ēgatcō'ktîX taya'x aqa qui'nɛma lɛ'kōteX 4
He said raccoon: "Early to-morrow oh if then five backs tgɛ'XɛmaxateX pāL Lkēx." "Ō, ā'qamuē, tayā'x itsō'XuîX, 5

my pillow full were." "Oh, indeed, if my younger brother, naī'ka taya'x iLā'lēlXam," igē'kîm itᵢā'lapas. Wāx igē'tcuktē. 6

I oh if ten," said coyote. Early day came.

Itcukᵢɛmā'nanɛmtck tiā'XɛmaxateX iLatā't. Qui'nɛm lɛ'kōteX 7
He looked at it his pillow raccoon. Five backs gē'guala tiā'XɛmaxateX iLatā't. Kē'nuwa itctukᵢumē'nanɛmtck 8 under his pillow raccoon. Try he looked at it tiā'XɛmaxateX itᵢā'lapas. Kᵢā nɛct tān itcō'cgam. A'qa 9 his pillow coyote. Nothing not anything he found it. Then icxLxɛ'lemîtck. A'qa wit'ax ō'ya iLatā't pā taXi tkᵢē'pcolē. 10 they two ate. Then again he went raccoon there that cache.

Wē'ᵓgoa nixLxɛ'lɛmux kōpa' taXi tkᵢē'pcolēpa. NîXkᵢoā'x. 11
All day he ate then that cache at. He went home.

Qoī'nɛma LqᵢɛLē'LX qatɛLō'kɪx. Qᵢoā'p tqu'lēpa qatɛlōpcō'tx. 12
Five dried summer salmon he carried them. Near the house at he hid them.

Iā'ema ikᵢenā'tan qatcilō'kɪx ya'Xi ē'yalXt. Nō'pōuɛm wit'ax. 13
Only potentilla roots he carried them to him that his elder brother. It grew dark again.

A'qa wī't'ax nigē'mx iLatā't: "TeXua tkᵢumā'nanɛmx 14
Then again he said raccoon: "Well looking at it tgɛ'XɛmaxateX, a'qa qui'nɛma LqᵢɛLē'LX gēguala' tgɛ'XɛmaxateX 15

my pillow, then five dried summer salmon under my pillow

Lkē'xax." "Ā'qamuē, tā'yax itsō'XuîX, teXua naī'ka iLā'lēlXam 16 were." "Indeed, if my younger brother, well I ten

LqᵢēLē'LX gē'guala tgɛ'XɛmaxateX." Igixɛ'gɛlɛmtck iLatā't, 17 dried summer salmon under my pillow." He was awake raccoon,

He went out slowly and brought those salmon. He lifted his pillow and put them under it. In the morning, when day came, he looked under his pillow and there were five dried summer salmon under it. Coyote looked too, but he did not find anything. Sometimes they wished for gamass, and only Raccoon found it under his pillow. When Coyote looked for it, he did not find anything. Every day he went to the cache and ate. When he went home, he carried their food; sometimes paper salmon, which he hid near the house. In two months they finished all the food. Now Raccoon was fat. Coyote thought: "I will kill him and eat him."

On the next evening Coyote said: "Do not go there, else you will meet warriors. Their name is Wā'ʟaXʟaX. They look just as I do, and they will kill you." After several nights, Raccoon went again

1 iuqō'pti it¡ā'lapas. ʟawā' ī'ō'pa iʟatā't. Itcʟguā'lɛmam ʟaXi he slept coyote. Slowly he went out raccoon. He fetched them those

2 Lɬ¡ō'lō'lx. Itctō¡'latck tiā'XɛmaxatcX. itcɛ'lXtk gē'guala.
dried summer salmon. He lifted it his pillow, he put it on the ground underneath.

3 Wāx igē'tcuktē. Itctuk¡ɛmā'nanɛmtck tiā'XɛmaxatcX iʟatā't.
Next morning it grew day. He looked at it his pillow raccoon.

4 Quî'nɛma Lɋɛʟē'lx itcʟō'cgam, tiā'XɛmaxatcX pāL Lkēx.
Five dried summer salmon he found them, his pillow full was.

5 Kē'nuwa itctuk¡ɛmā'nanɛmtck tiā'XɛmaxatcX it¡ā'lapas; k¡ā'ya
Try he looked at it his pillow coyote; nothing

6 nîct tānki itcīō'cgam. Anā' tɛ'lalX qackcūkɛmaʟɛmā'x, iā'ema not anything he found it. Sometimes gamass they wished for it, only 7 iʟatā't qatctucgā'mx tiā'XɛmaxatcXpa. Kē'nuwa it¡ā'lapas raccoon he found it his pillow at. Try coyote

8 qatctuk¡ɛmā'nanɛmx tiā'XɛmaxatcX, k¡ā nîct tān qatciucgā'mx.
he looked at it his pillow, nothing not anything he found it.

9 Ka'nauwē Lkā'etax qayō'îx ta'Xi tk¡ē'pcōlēpa. Nîxʟxɛ'lɛmamx.
All days he went that cache to. He went to eat.

10 Qiā'x nîXk¡oā'x tcXua qatctō'kɪx ta'Xi txɛlɛmā'emax. Anā'
If he returned then he brought it that food. Sometimes 11 Lmē'nɋan qatcʟō'kɪx; q¡oā'p tɛ'ctaqʟpa qatcʟɩpcō'tx. Mâket paper salmon he brought it; near their house at he hid it. Two 12 LkʟɛmɛEna'kc qacktuʟXō'mx ta'Xi txɛlɛmā'emax, aqa months they finished it that food, then

13 ayā'pXɛlēu ya'Xi iʟatā't. NîxʟoXuā'itx it¡ā'lapas: "Anēwā'qoa; his fat that raccoon. He thought coyote: "I will kill him;

14 anînxɛlɛmō'xuma."
I will eat him."

15 Agōnā'pōl aqa qatciolXā'mx: "Nāct ēwata' ʟtē'yîm.
One night then he said to him: "Not there go.

16 Amōgoā'qoama t¡uxulā'yowimax, Wā'ʟaXʟaX itā'xaleu. Kɬoaʟqē'
You will meet them warriors, Wā'ʟaXʟaX their name. Just as

17 Lɬa naī'ka itā'lkuilē. AtgɛmuA'qoa." Tcā'xēX Lqa ī'ō'qoya-îX, behold I they are similar. They will kill you." several times maybe he slept,

18 a'qa ī'ō'ya iʟatā't ēwā'tkēwa ya'Xi iqēkɛ'lxēwa-îX. Aqa then he went raccoon there that it was forbidden. Then to the place which had been forbidden to him. He climbed about in the trees and gathered fruits. Now he heard the war-cries of many people, and a person appeared holding a lance. His face was painted red and black. His legs were also painted. When that person came nearer, he recognized Coyote, and Raccoon said: "You want to fool me, Coyote. These are your legs; that is your nose." But Coyote said: "We are Wā'ɬaXɬaX; we look like Coyote." He went around him often. Then he struck Raccoon's belly with his lance and ran home. Now Coyote came home. He washed his face and his legs and lay down near the fire. He blew into the fire and was covered with ashes. In the evening he heard his younger brother groaning. Raccoon entered. Then Coyote arose and said: "My younger brother, I told you not to go there; the Wā'ɬaXɬaX would meet you. They look just like me." Now it got dark and Coyote tried to cure him. The peritoneum protruded from his skin. Then he sucked at it and pulled

iuk!oaLxe'koax	iɬatā't.	Itetō'ɬa	tptsɛ'nō.	Aqa	itcîltcî'maq				1
he climbed about in trees	raccoon.	He gathered them	(a fruit).	Then	he heard it ē'nxiaXul	ikē'x.	Ya'xka	L!aq	Lgā'pElatike	tê'lXam	ē'nxiaXul			2
war-cries	were.	That	just as	many	people	war-cries
tgiuxō'ɬa.	lāx	iLE'xôx	LgoaLē'lX.	Icqoē'L!Em	LgīgElgā't.				3
they made.	Visible	became	a person.	A lance	he held it.
Lqā'ɬXatex	LE'lux	Lstā'xôst,	Lgē'matekuēX	qā'wa	anuā'ɬEma,	qā'wa			4
Coal	was on it	his face,	painted	partly	red paint,	partly Lqā'ɬXatex	ka	lā'qo-ît	Lgē'matekuēX.	Q!oā'p	iLigā'tqoam	laXi			5
coal	and	his legs	were painted.	Nearly	he reached him	that LgoaLē'lX,	iteiugu'laqɪ	it!ā'lapas.	Igē'kîm	iɬatā't:	"Maī'ka				6
person,	he recognized him	coyote.	He said	raccoon:	"You it!ā'lapas,	lā'xlax	mɛ'nôxt.	Maī'ka	tEmē'qo-it,	maī'ka	ē'mikte."			7 coyote,	deceive	you do me.	You	your legs,	you	your nose."
Igē'kîm	it!ā'lapas:	"Nɛ'saika	Wā'ɬaxɬax	ntsxElk!ā'yutsxax					8
He said	coyote:	"We	Wā'ɬaxɬax	we resemble each other
it!ā'lapas."	Qā'watîX	igiXɛ'Lakoa.	Iteilgā'mit	ya'Xi	icqoē'L!Em				9 coyote."	several times	he went around him.	He struck it	that	lance iā'wanpa.	Igē'kta.	Igē'Xk!oa	it!ā'lapas.	IgēXk!oā'mam	it!ā'lapas.				10
his belly in.	He ran.	He went home	coyote.	He came home	coyote.
IgixEmē'nak!oa.	Itcî'tutekte	tiā'qo-it.	Igēxō'kee	q!oā'p	ā'tōL.	Pō			11
He washed his face.	He washed them	his legs.	He lay down	near	the fire.	Blow
itco'xoa	wu'Xi	aetā'tōL.	Pa21.	tE'kEmixEm	igē'xôx.	Tsō'yustîX			12
he did it	that	their fire.	Full	ashes	he became.	In the evening
aqa	itcîltcî'maq	iā'mXîX.	Aēx'Elqā'yax.	Igē'tpqam	iɬatā't.				13
then	he heard him	his younger brother.	He was groaning.	He came in	raccoon.
Igixɛ'latek	it!ā'lapas:	"Ā'oē,	itsō'XuîX	iamō'lXam,	nā'sqē	ē'wata			14
He arose	coyote:	"Younger brother,	my younger brother	I told you,	never	there
amō'yîma.	Lq!āp	amLō'xoa	Wā'ɬaxɬax.	Ntsxelk!ā'yutsXax."					15
go.	Meet	you would do them	Wā'ɬaxɬax;	We resemble each other."
Igō'pōnEm.	Ayukuilā'eta	it!ā'lapas.	Iqigelā'ita	iɬatā't.	lāx				16
It got dark.	He tried to cure him	coyote.	They tried to cure him	raccoon.	Visible
ōguakē'x	tiā'nawa-îtk	ya'Xi	iɬatā't.	IteikXā'naq.	IqikXā'naq				17
was	his peritoneum	that	raccoon.	He sucked at it.	It was sucked

it out. Then Raccoon was really dead. Coyote had killed his brother. Coyote said: "Do I know my brother? I am almost starved to death." Now he cut his brother, and after two days he had finished eating him. Then he became hungry again. For five days he was hungry, then he cried: "Oh, what a fool I was to kill him! He used to bring me all kinds of food and I had much to eat." He cried: "Oh, my younger brother ——" He cried. A deer and its young passed him and said: "Coyote, you killed him and now you cry." "The fawn shall be pursued." They had named his dead brother's name.

That is the story. To-morrow we shall have good weather.

---

1 ɪʟatā'ɬ. Iqō'xoakɬa tiā'ɴawa-îtk ɪʟatā'ɬ. PāX iō'maqt ɪʟatā'ɬ. Ā'qa raccoon. It was pulled out his peritoneum raccoon's. Really he was dead raccoon. Then

2 itcē'waq iā'mXîX it¡ā'lapas. Igē'kîm it¡ā'lapas: "Tɛnlō'xo-iXɛna he killed him his younger brother coyote. He said coyote: "I know them [int. part.]

3 tgɛ'mXîkc, aqa walō' inō'maqt." Itcī'yuxc aqa iā'mXîX. Mākct my younger brothers, then hunger I die." He cut him then his younger brother. Two 4 ʟkā'etax igixɛ'ɬɛmux. A'qa itciō'ʟXōm. Aqa wi walō' igī'yux.

days he ate. Then he finished him. Then again hunger acted on him.

5 Qoā'nɛma ʟkā'etax walō' igī'yux. A'qa igigɛ'tcax: "Ā'qanuē qa Five days hunger acted on him. Then he cried: "Indeed now

6 nɛ'ʟ¡ala, qā'ts¡kē inē'waq, pō k¡a tā'ɴɛmax itcnitkuē'ɬ.
I fool, why I killed him, if and things he brought me.

7 Tɛnxɛlā'x." Aqa igigɛ'tcax:
I ate much." Then he cried:

8 Awi yaui-tsō'-Xu-îX, awi yaui-tsō-XuîX, ā-ʟɛ qalu-wa-ya ā-ʟe-qa k¡ō yū k¡o yū.
My younger brother, my younger brother, (?) (?) k¡o-yū k¡oyū.

9 Kā iō'qulqt iʟō'xkoa ilā'lax k¡a iā'qxôq. "Kō'k¡u, it¡ā'lapas.
When he cried it went past the deer and its young. "Kō'k¡u, coyote.

10 Maï'ka imē'waq, k¡a imigɛ'mɛqɛlqt." "Ān iqɛ'ʟuwaya wut¡ē'lqan
You you killed him, and you cry." "Ah he will be pursued the fawn 11 wutsā'qôq." Lāxi igik¡ē'mxanuʟ. K¡anē'k¡anē; ō'la asa-igā'p.

his young one." Those he named his dead relatives. The story; to-morrow good weather.

TALES

Tiā'pexoacxoac (told 1890)

There was a maiden. Now a chief bought a wife and he took her. She did not like him. She had a bitch which always slept with her. Wherever she went she carried that dog. She always gave her good food. Her dog was fat. One day she forgot her. Then her husband said: "Quick, kill that bitch." Now her husband's brothers killed the bitch. They singed her and boiled her. Her fat was two fingers thick. Now the dog was put aside. Now she came home. In the evening when she came home her sister-in-law said: "Your brother-in-law killed that seal. They saved this for you." Then she cut the fat and ate it. She ate another piece. She ate five pieces. Now she became qualmish. She threw it aside. "Oh, maybe they gave me my dog to eat."

A'qa ēXā't aṅā'tˌau. A'qa itcō'mela ictā'muX; a'qa itcō'egam. 1
Then one maiden. Then he bought her a chief; then he took her.

Nîct tqˌäx igi'yux. A'qa guā'nesum agā'kˌōtkōt qacqLqō'yōXuîtx. 2
Not like she did him. Then always her bitch they two slept together.

Qā'mta nō'îx guā'nesum agō'kix agā'kˌōtkōt. Guā'nesum itˌō'kti 3
Where she went always she carried her her bitch. Always good ilxe'lem agialqō'emuX agā'kˌōtkōt. A'qa agā'pXeleu agā'kˌōtkōt. 4 food she gave it to eat to her her bitch. Then her fat her bitch.

Ā'qa igā'elalakuit. A'qa igē'kîm itcā'kikal: "Ai'aq amegō'waq 5 Then she forgot her. Then he said her husband: "Quick kill her agā'kˌōtkōt." A'qa iLgō'waq Liā'wuXikc itcā'kikal. A'qa 6 her bitch." Then they killed her his brothers her husband. Then itgaxle'lam. Lä4 aqa ile'kōtcXem. Môket tkei agā'pXeleu. 7 they singed her. Long then they boiled her. Two fingers her fat.

A'qa iqage'lōtk agā'kˌōtkōt. A'qa igaXatkˌoā'mam. Tsō'yustîX 8
Then it was put aside her bitch. Then she came home. In the evening igaXatkˌoā'mam. A'qa igō'lXam agā'tōm: "Aqē'sgoax itcō'waq; 9 she came home. Then she said to her her sister-in-law: "A seal he killed it; imē'pōtcxan itcō'waq. Tau'wax iqamge'lōtk." Lqˌōp igī'yuX 10 your brother-in-law he killed it. This was put aside for you." Cut she did it itcā'pXeleu. Igē'wîlqˌ. Igō'n wi ēXt igē'wîlqˌ. Qoā'nema Lqˌōp 11 its fat. She ate it. Another also one she ate it. Five cuts igē'wîlqˌ. A'qa ē'mqōlkt itcō'xoa. A'qa iā'e igī'yux. "Ō, 12 she ate them. Then qualmishness did her. Then let alone she did it. "Oh, lXuan ta'u age'kˌōtkōt iqane'lqoēm." 13

maybe this my bitch was given to me to eat."

After some time she was with child. Then her husband was ashamed. "Maybe somebody else made her pregnant. I will leave her." Now she went to pick berries. Then they left her. They took their houses away. They smashed and broke their old canoes. In the evening she came home. There were no people. "Oh, they left me." Now she made a small house, and there she stayed. After some time she gave birth. She brought forth a dog. She kicked it. She brought forth another dog. She brought forth five male dogs and one female. Now she suckled them. They grew up. She always left them at the house.

One day she found the tracks of children at the beach in front of her house. "Where may these children have come from?" She entered, and there were her children. She went again. In the evening she came home. Now there were many tracks of children. Now an arrow was there. She found it and she found a shell lying there. She thought: "There must be one girl among them. Maybe they will kill

1 Lät, aqa agā′wan igaxɛ′lôx. A′qa igiXɛmā′sa-it itcā′kikal.
Long, then her pregnancy was on her. Then he was ashamed her husband.

2 "ʟXuan ʟxalō′ita agā′wan iʟgā′lôx. Nîcqē naí′ka. Tgtcō′kti
"Perhaps another one her pregnancy he made it on her. Not at all I. Good

3 alxagɛlō′qʟqa." A′qa wi igō′ya igaxalō′kcam. A′qa we leave her." Then again she went she picked berries. Then

4 iʟagɛ′loqʟq. Ka′nauwē iʟgɛ′tuk'ı lā′qʟēmax. Ka′nauwē ca′ca they left her. All they carried them houses. All break

5 iʟɛ′kôx gitcā′mɛlamaX akɛ′nim. Tsō′yustîX igaxkcoā′mam. A′qa they did bad canoes. In the evening she came home. Then

6 kcɛmm tê′lXam. "Ō, ā′qa ʟqōct iqangɛ′lōqʟq." A′qa igɛ′tôx no people. "Oh, now behold I am deserted." Then she made it

7 itō′koa-îts tqu′lē. A′qa kōpa′ igō′ʟa-it. Lā′2lē, aqa igakXa′tōm.
its smallness house. Then there she stayed. Long, then she gave birth.

8 Igioxô′tōm ikcō′tkōt. A′qa igigɛ′ʟteq. A′qa igō′n igioXô′tōm
She gave birth to it a dog. Then she kicked it. Then another one she gave birth to it

9 wī ikcō′tkcōt. Quā′nɛmîkc tkā′lukc tkcōtkcō′tkc, aēXā′t again a dog. Five male dogs, one

10 aqagē′lak iktoxô′tōm. Aqa itaxɛltcō′kcamit. Ā′2qa itā′qa-iʟax female she gave birth to them. Then she suckled them. Then large 11 iō′xo-îx. A′qa guā′nɛsum nuguē′qʟqax tqu′lēpa.

they became. Then always she left them the house in.

12 A′qa ēXt ē′kua aqa iktō′ckam tqā′tōtenîkc tgā′Xatk agā′maʟna-
Now one day then she found them boys their tracks toward the water from her 13 pa. "Qā′mta ʟqa itgatē′mam tkci tqā′tōtenîkc?" Igō′pqam;

at. "Where maybe they came these boys?" She came in;

14 ō′2xoaxt itcā′qôq. Igō′n ē′kua igō′ya. Tsō′yustîX there were her children. Another day she went. In the evening

15 igaXatkcoā′mam. A′qa ʟgā′pɛlatîkc tqā′totenîkc tgā′Xatk. A′qa she came home. Then many boys their tracks. Then 16 axē′mat aqā′mateX. Igō′cgam. A′qa axē′mat ā′mɛlkcē, igō′cgam.

there lay an arrow. She took it. Then there lay a shell, she took it.

17 IgaxʟO′Xa-it: "Ləage′lak lcgi lkca′skcas lō′Xa′t." IgaxʟO′Xoa-it:
She thought: "A girl behold this child one." She thought:

my dogs." She entered, but there her dogs were lying. On the following day she went again to pick berries. In the evening she came home. There were many tracks of children. There were many arrows and shells. "Where did these children come from?" She entered and her dogs were there. The following morning she went again to pick berries. She did not go far, and there she picked berries. Now she heard children. When the sun was still high up in the sky she returned. She thought: "I will go home. They might kill my dogs." Then she returned. Then she arrived at home. There were no children, but the beach was all covered with tracks of children. She entered, and there her dogs were lying. She thought: "I will hide to-morrow." In the morning she made herself ready. She went out and remained in the grass. After a little while she heard children in the house. Soon a girl came out, went around the house, and entered again. "Did you see our mother?" "Oh, she went a long time ago. There is nobody outside." Soon a child came out;

"ʟXuan	aqtōtē′na	tgᴇ′kᵢ̈ōtkᵢ̈ōtke."	Igō′pqam;	ō′xoaxt	1
"Maybe	they will be killed	my dogs."	She came in;	there were tgā′kᵢ̈ōtkᵢ̈ōtke.	Ā′qa	igē′tcuktîX	wī′t′ax.	A′qa	wi	igō′ya	2
her dogs.	Then	day came	again.	Then	again	she went igaxalō′kca.	Tsō′yustîX	a′qa	wi	igaXatkᵢ̈oā′mam.	Ō2,	a′qa	3
she picked berries.	In the evening	then	again	she came home.	Oh,	then ʟgā′pᴇlatîke	tgā′Xatk	tqā′tōtēnîke.	Oxoā′xtax	tqā′matcx	4
many	their tracks	boys.	There were	arrows
ʟgā′pᴇla.	A′qa	lī′XuXt	lᴇ′mᴇlkᵢ̈ē.	ʟgā′pᴇla	lī′XuXt.	"Qāmta	5
many.	Then	there lay	shells.	Many	lay there.	"Where ʟqa	itgatē′mam	tkci	tqā′tōtenîke?"	Igō′pqam;	ō′2xoaxt	6
maybe	came	these	boys?"	She came in;	there were tgā′kᵢ̈ōtkᵢ̈ōtke.	Wāx	igō′ya	wī′t′ax	igaxalō′kcam.	Qᵢ̈oā′pîX	7
her dogs.	Next day	she went	again	she went picking berries.	Near igō′ya.	A′qa	kōpā′	igaxᴇ′luke.	A′qa	igauitcᴇ′mlētᴇmtck	8
she went.	Then	there	she picked berries.	Then	she heard them
tqā′tōtenîke.	Kā	cā′xalîX	aqaʟā′x,	a′qa	igā′Xkᵢ̈oa.	"Ō,	aī′aq	9
boys.	When	up	the sun,	then	she went home.	"Oh,	quick
anXkᵢ̈oā′ya.	ʟXuan	aqtōtē′na	tgᴇ′kᵢ̈ōtkᵢ̈ōtke."	A′qa	igā′Xkᵢ̈oa.	10
I will go home.	Perhaps	they will be killed	my dogs."	Then	she went home.
A′qa	igaXkᵢ̈oā′mam.	Kᵢ̈ᴇmm	tqā′tōtenîke.	Aqa	Lᵢ̈mēn	mā′lnîX	11
Then	she came home.	No	boys.	Then	soft	at sea
tgā′Xatk	tqā′tōtenîke.	Igō′pqam:	ō′2xoaxt	tgā′kᵢ̈ōtkᵢ̈ōtke.	12
their tracks	boys.	She came in:	there were	her dogs.
Igaxʟō′Xoa-ît:	"Ō′la	aqa	anxpcō′ta."	Igē′tcuktîX.	13
She thought:	"To-morrow	then	I will hide."	Day came.
igaXᴇ′ltXuîtck.	Igō′pa.	Igō′ʟa-it	tᴇ′pcōpa.	Koala′	aqa	14
she made herself ready.	She went out.	She stayed	the grass in.	Soon	then igauitcᴇ′maq	tqa′tōtenîke	tqu′Lipa.	Koala′	a′qa	iLpa′mam	15
she heard them	boys	the house in.	Soon	then	she came out
Lqagē′l	Lkᵢ̈ā′skᵢ̈as.	ILuXoā′Lakoa	tqu′lē.	A′qa	wi	iLō′pqa.	16
a female	child.	She went around it	the house.	Then	again	she entered.
"Tcu′Xoa	imā′qᴇlkᴇl	wā′lxaq?"	"Ā′nqa	igō′ya,	kᵢ̈ā	lā′xanîX."	17
Well	you saw her	our mother?"	"Long ago	she went,	nobody	outside."
Koala′	a′qa	iLō′pa	Lkᵢ̈ā′skas.	Lgōn	iLō′pa.	Lgō′naX	iLō′pa.	18
Soon	then	he went out	a boy.	Another one	went out.	Another again	went out.

another one came out; still another one came out; five boys and one girl came out. They went straight down to the beach. Then the woman entered. Now she saw the dog blankets. She took them and burnt them. Then she went down to the beach. "Oh, my children. Why did you disguise yourselves before me? Let us go up to the house." Now they all hid their faces. She spoke to them twice. Then five of the children went up. One had a sick leg. He did not go up for a long time, but in the evening he also came. Now her children stayed there; they grew up. Then she and her daughter always went picking berries, and the boys all became hunters. One was a deer hunter, one an elk hunter, one a seal hunter, one a sturgeon hunter, and one a sea lion hunter.

After some time, Tiā'pexoacxoac heard that there was a girl at QaLa'la. He went to buy her, and they gave him that girl. Tiā'pexoacxoac was a bad man. He used to eat blood. If he had not enough, then he ate his wives. When his wife had a male child, he

---

1 Quā'nEmîke tkā'luke itgE'pa, LēXā't Lqagē'lak. Nä'2wi
Five boys went out, one girl. At once

2 itgE'Lxa mā'LnîX. Igō'pqa wu'Xi aqagē'lak. A'qa igō'quikEl they went down seaward. She entered that woman. Then she saw them

3 tgā'k¡etē. Tk¡ō'tk¡ōtke tgā'k¡ētē. Igō'guiga itaxE'lgiLx. A'qa their blankets. Dogs their blankets. She took them she burnt them. Then 4 igō'Lxa mā'LnîX. "Ō2, itcî'qôq, qātsqē mcxanxq¡ā'la? Ai'aq she went down seaward. "Oh, my children, why you disguised yourselves before me? Quick

5 alxō'ptega," A'qa itksē'nq¡oya-îX ka'nauwē. Mô'kctîX iktō'lXam let us go up." Then they hid their faces all. Twice she spoke to them

6 itcā'qôq. A'qa iLō'ptega LquI'nEmîke. YaXī' ēXā't iā'tcqEm her children. Then they went up five. That one sick

7 iā'qo-it, lē'lē nect iō'ptega. Tsō'yustîX tcXua wī iō'ptega. A'qa his leg, long not he went up. In the evening then also he went up. Then

8 iLxē'2la-it itcā'qôq. A'qa iLā'qa-iLax igiLxE'lôx itcā'qôq. A'qa they stayed her children. Then large they became her children. Then 9 guā'nEsum qasxalō'kcaîtx agā'xan. Lä4 a'qa Lka'nauwētîke always they two picked berries her daughter. Long then all

10 Lā'xiqLax, ēXā't imacE'nuke iā'k¡ēwula, ēXā't imō'lEkEmaX hunters, one deer his game, one elks

11 iā'k¡ēwula, ēXā't aqēsgoā'max iā'k¡ēwula, ēXā't LnāLqōn iā'k¡ēwula, his game, one seals his game, one sturgeon his game,

12 ēXā't Lgipē'XLuke iā'k¡ēwula.
one sea-lions his game.

13 Lä4, igixaltcî'maq Tiā'pexoacxoac aLā'hat¡au Lā'qaLala. Ō2, Long, he heard about her Tiā'pexoacxoac their maiden the QaLa'la. Oh.

14 a'qa iō'ya itcumElā'lEmam. A'qa iLgā'elōt aLā'hat¡au. Iā'mEla then he went he went to buy her. Then they gave her to him their maiden. He was bad

15 Tiā'pexoacxoac. Lqā'owulqt iā'LxalEm. Ma'nîx nect qayu'qctēx, Tiā'pexoacxoac. Blood his food. When not he was satiated,

16 a'qa Liā'kikal qaLiXalEmō'XumX. Ma'nîx LE'kala Liā'xan then his wife he ate her. When a male his child threw it into the water. When she had a girl, he allowed it to live. His house was full of women.

After some time his wife's brothers brought him five sea lions. He drank their blood, but he had not enough. They gave him five seals. He drank their blood, but he had not enough. They gave him five sturgeons. He drank their blood, but he had not enough They gave him five elks. He drank their blood, but he had not enough. Then the middle one of the brothers said: "Oh, I will kill Ē'nōL.[1] My supernatural helper tells me so. To-morrow I will kill Ē'nōL." The following morning he saw Ē'nōL [on a snag]. He took his harpoon and went down to the water. Then he speared Ē'nōL and killed him. Now they pounded his body so that it was full of blood. They made five holes in the skin and closed them with plugs. Then the one who had killed Ē'nōL said to his brothers: "Now we shall conquer Tiā'pexoacxoac." They tied five canoes together and put planks across. They put the qatcLalē'maLxax;	mā'nîx	Lqagē'lak,	aqa	tc!ō'nEk^{u}	qatcLō'xoax.		1

he threw it into the water;	when	a woman,	then	good save	he did her.
Pāl	tē'iaqL	tiā'nEmekc.					2
Full	his house	his women.
Lä4,	aqa	iLkLi'kapōna	quī'nEm	Lgipē'XLukc.		ItcLō'qumst	3
Long time,	then	they carried food to him	five	sea lions.		He drank it
Lā'qauwulqt.	Nä2ct	iō'qctē.	ILga'ekapōna	quī'nEm		aqēsgoā'max.	4
their blood.	Not	he was satiated.	They carried food to him	five		seals.
ItcLō'qumst	aqēsgoā'max	Lā'qauwulqt.	Nä2ct	iō'qctē.		ILkLi'kapōna	5
He drank it	the seals	their blood.	Not	he was satiated.		They carried food to him
quī'nEm	Lnā'qōn.	ILō'qumst	Lā'qauwulqt,		nä2ct	iō'qctē.	6
five	sturgeons.	He drank it	their blood,		not	he was satiated.
ILgi'kapōna	quī'nEm	imō'lEkEmax.	Näct	iō'qctē.		ItcLō'qumct	7
They carried food to him	five	elks.	Not	he was satiated.		He drank it
Lia'qauwulqt	imō'lEkEmax.	A'qa	igē'kîm	ēXā't		ē'LaXatcak:	8
their blood	the elks.	Then	he said	one		their middle one:
"Ä4,	anEwā'qoa	ē'nōL.	ItcI'uLEmax	itcInō'lXam.	Ō'la	anewā'qa	9
"Ah,	I shall kill it	ē'nōL.	My supernatural helper	told me.	To-morrow	I shall kill it
ē'nōL."	Igē'tcuktîX.	A'qa	igē'qElkEl	ē'nōL.	A'qa	itcē'gElga	10
ē'nōL."	Day came.	Then	he saw it	ē'nōL.	Then	he took it
iā'tcuLq.	A'qa	iō'yam	mā'LniX.	A'qa	itcLē'loqex	ē'nōL.	A'qa	11
his harpoon.	Then	he arrived	near the water.	Then	he harpooned it	ē'nōL.	Then itcē'waq	ē'nōL.	A'qa	iLgī'yôx	Lāq,	Lāq,	Lāq,	Lāq.	PāL	iLgē'xôx	12
he killed it	ē'nōL.	Then	they made it	strike,	strike,	strike,	strike.	Full	it became Lqau'wulqt	ka'nauwe.	Qui'numîX	Lxoa'p	itcī'yôx,		qui'nEm	13
blood	all.	Five	holes	he made them,		five itctîlgā'mit	tE'mqō.	A'qa	itcLō'lXam	LI'alXtkc:	"A'qa	ilxgī'yuLq	14
he put into it	sticks.	Then	he told them	his brothers:	"Now	we shall conquer him
Tiā'pexoacxoac."	K!au	iLî'kôx	quī'nEm	akE'nim.	Aqē'nXa		15
Tiā'pexoacxoac."	Tie	they did	five	canoes.	Boards

[1] A sea monster.

carcass on top of them. Then they carried it to Tiā'pexoacxoac. Now they were seen. "Ah, Tiā'pexoacxoac, your brothers-in-law are coming." Tiā'pexoacxoac went out. He remained standing in the doorway. His brothers-in-law landed. He said to his people: "Quick, haul up [what they bring]." They hauled it up and placed it before Tiā'pexoacxoac. He pulled out one plug and drank the blood. He drank it all. He pulled out the next one and he drank again. He pulled the third one and drank. After a while he got tired. Then he rested a little while. Then he drank again. He rested twice. Then he drank it all. He pulled out the fourth plug and drank. Now his stomach became full. He said: "Only the people of Qaʟa'la give me enough." Then it thundered. "What did you say? Do not come any more! I have had enough."

Now Tiā'pexoacxoac remained there, and his wife was with child. Soon she became sick and gave birth to a child. "Go and see what she

1 iʟgakxā'ema. A'qa iʟgiakxā'ema caxala'. A'qa iʟgī'yukɪ. Ā'2qa they laid over them. Then they laid it on it on top. Then they carried it. Then

2 iqE'ʟqElkEl. "Ā4, Tiā'pexoacxoac. ʟmē'qēXenāna ʟtē'it." A'qa iō'pa they were seen. "Ah, Tiā'pexoacxoac. Your brothers-in-law are coming." Then he went out

3 Tiā'pexoacxoac. Iō'ʟa-it icî'qepa. A'qa iʟxē'gela-îX ʟiā'qeXenana.
Tiā'pexoacxoac. He stayed the doorway in. Then they landed his brothers-in-law.

4 A'qa itctō'lXam tiā'lXam: "Ai'aq amcgiʟā'taptck." A'qa
Then he told them his people: "Quick haul it up." Then

5 iʟgiuʟā'taptck. A'qa igilxā'ema Tiā'pexoacxoac. ʟuX itcî'xôx they hauled it up. Then it lay before Tiā'pexoacxoac. Pull out he did it

6 ēXt ē'mqō. ItcʟŌ'qumct ʟiā'qauwulqt. ItcʟŌ'ʟXōm ʟiā'qauwulqt.
one stick. He drank it its blood. He finished it its blood.

7 Aqa wi igō'n ʟuX itcî'xôx. Aqa wi itcʟō'qumct. Iʟā'lōn
Then again another one pull out he did it. Then again he drank it. The third one 8 ʟuX itcī'yux. ItcʟŌ'qumct. Lā2, a'qa tEll igē'xôx.

pull out he did it. He drank it. Long, then tired he became.

9 IgixʟĀ'ematck, teXoa aqa wi't'ax itcʟō'qumct. MŌ'ketîX
He rested, then now again he drank. Twice

10 igixʟā'ematck. Aqa itcʟō'ʟXōm. Igō'nax ʟuX itcî'xôx iʟā'lakt.
he rested. Then he finished it. Another pull out he did it the fourth one.

11 Aqa wi itcʟō'qumct. A'qa iā'wan iutā'wulX. "Qā'2naqē Then again he drank it. Then his belly thick. "Only 12 ʟā'qaʟalē' teXua iʟgEnuqctEmē'2." Ai'aq tū4, tumm exelā'koatck the Qaʟa'la then they gave me enough to eat." Quick tū, tumm it thundered 13 igō'cax. "Qā qamxatxōlā'4? Aqa kopä'4t amctī'ya. A'qa the sky. "How you say? Now enough you came. Now 14 inō'qctē."

I am satiated."

15 A'qa iō'ʟa-it Tiā'pexoacxoac. A'qa agā'wan igaxā'lôx ayā'kikala.
Then he stayed Tiā'pexoacxoac. Then her pregnancy came to be on her his wife.

16 Ai'aq a'qa itcā'tcqEm iaxE'lôx. A'qa igakXE'tōm. "Amcgā'ketam Quick then her sickness was on her. Then she gave birth. "Go and see 17 tān igioxô'tōm. ʟqagē'lak ʟXuan, ʟE'kala ʟXuan." A'qa what she gave birth to it. a female perhaps, a male perhaps." Then brought forth; see if it is a boy or a girl." They went to see. They said: "She brought forth a girl." She had put an apron onto her child. When it had grown a little she carried it away. She ran away right down the river. They searched for her up the river. They did not find her. They searched for her two months, but they did not find her. Then she turned back, and went up the river. Now they searched for her downward. For two months they searched for her everywhere down the river. They did not find her. Then Tiā'pexoacxoac gave it up and remained where he was.

Now the woman washed her son. He became a warrior. He was stronger than his father. One day he said to his mother: "Which of his wives does he like best?" His mother replied: "Two of them he likes best." "Where are their beds?" "Their beds are in the middle of the house. When you go there you must lie down thus [the heel of one foot resting on the toes of the other]." Now he went. He arrived and opened the house. He went and lay down at one side of the house. The woman accepted him. She thought her husband had returned. She believed that he was her husband. Now she lay down iqō'ketam. "Ā, ʟqagē'lak ikʟoxô'tōm." Lät, a'qa aʟā'q¡iʟxap she was looked at. "Ah, a girl she gave birth to it." Long then a coat 1 igaʟE'lox. A'qa ma'nki iʟā'xa-iʟ iʟE'x. A'qa ikʟōtā'mit ʟgā'xan.

she made it for it. Then a little large it became. Then she carried it away her child. 2

Ikʟōtā'mit nau'i qā'eqamîX. Kē'nuwa iqō'naxʟ cā'xalîX. K¡ā'ya
She carried it away at once down the river. Try she was searched for above. Nothing 3 nîct iqō'egam. Môket ʟkʟEmena'kc iqō'naxʟ, näcqē iqō'egam.

not she was found. Two months she was searched for, not at all she was found. 4

A'qa wi igā'xkoa cā'xalîX. A'qa qā'eqamîX iqō'naxʟ. Môket Then again she turned back above. Then down the river she was searched for. Two 5 ʟkʟEmē'nakc iqō'naxʟ qā'eqamîX ka'nauwē qā'xpa. Näct iqō'egam.

months she was searched for down the river every where. Not she was found. 6

A'qa tā'menua igē'x Tiā'pexoacxoac. A'qa iō'ʟa-it Tiā'pexoacxoac.
Then give up he did Tiā'pexoacxoac. Then he stayed Tiā'pexoacxoac. 7

A'qa igigE'qoat itcā'xan aqagē'lak. Aqa it¡ō'xoyal igē'xôx.
Then she washed him her son the woman. Then a warrior he became. 8

Itcē'yuʟq wī'yam. ·ĒXt wē'kua aqa itcō'lXam wā'yaq: "ʟān
He was superior to his father. One day then he said to her his mother: "Whom 9 tq¡ēx itcî'ʟôx ʟiā'kēkal?" A'qa igiō'lXam wa'yaq: "Cmôket tq¡ēx like he does her his wife?" Then she said to him his mother: "Two like 10

itcî'côx ciā'kekal." "Qā'xpa ictā'lXEmē?" "Ā, ē'wa kjawicE'qē he does them his wives." "Where their beds?" "Ah, there in the middle of the house 11 ictā'lXEmē. Ma'nîx amō'ya amxō'kcita, aqa ē'wa mtō'xa tE'mipc."

their beds. When you go you lie down, then thus do your feet." 12

A'qa iō'ya. Iō'yam. Itcioxoā'laqʟ tqu'ʟē. A'qa igēxō'kcit tE'nat
Then he went. He arrived. He opened it the house. Then he lay down on one side 13 tqu'ʟē. Igē'gElga aqagē'lak. Igaxʟō'xoa-it: "IgiXatk¡oā'mam the house. She took him the woman. She thought: "He came home 14 with him. Then he arose and went to the other side of the house. Again he lay down with the other woman. He stopped some time. Then he arose and went out. He went right home. In the morning the woman, his father's wife, arose. She looked across the house. Her husband was not there. The other one awoke also. She looked. Her husband was not there. She said to her: "Where did he go? He came home. I thought he was lying down with you. He rose." Now a person went out. He watched the house. He saw footprints. He took a stick and broke it the length of the footprints.

After three days Tiā'pexoacxoac returned. "Oh, we found the footprints of a person. They were that long and that broad." Then he took the stick and compared it with his foot. It was just as long as his foot. He compared the width, and it was a little wider than his foot. Then Tiā'pexoacxoac lay down. He lay down for two days. Then he

---

1 itcî'kikal." Igīuku'laqL ya'Xka itcā'kikala. A'qa' îcxō'kcit my husband." She recognized him her husband. Then they lay down

2 itcā'kikal. A'qa igixE'latck. Iō'ya tE'nat tqu'LĒ. A'qa wī't'ax her husband. Then he arose. He went to the other side the house. Then again

3 igixō'kcit. Agō'n aēXā't aqagē'lak. Aqa wi icxō'kcit.
he lay down. Another one woman. Then again they lay down.

4 ItcLā'kōLX. Igixe'latck, iō'pa. Nā'wi igē'Xk¡oa. Igē'tcuktîX.
He left her. He arose, he went out. At once he went home. It grew day.

5 IgaxE'latck aqagē'lak wī'yam ayā'kikal. Igā'kîkct k¡anatē'tōL.
She arose the woman his father his wife. She looked to the other side.

6 K¡ā itcā'kikala. IgaxE'latck agō'n aēXā't. Igā'kikct: K¡ā'ya Nothing her husband. She arose the other one. She looked: Nothing

7 itcā'kikala. Igō'lXam: "Qā'mta iō'ya tau igîXatk¡oā'mam?
her husband. She said to her: "Where he went who came home?

8 NxLō'xuan mai'kapa iō'ktikt. IgixE'latck." A'qa iLō'pa LeXā't
I thought you at he slept. He rose." Then he went out one

9 LgoaLē'lX iLgiugoā'nXôqtîX tqu'LĒ. Aqa iLgō'quikEl tiā'Xatk. person he watched the house. Then he saw them his tracks.

10 A'qa iLgē'gElga ē'mqō. A'qa iLgiXE'lakoa qansî'X ē'taLqt
Then he took it a stick. Then he broke it how long 11 tiā'Xatk.

his tracks.

12 A'qa LōN Lkā'ētax, a'qa igiXatk¡oā'mam Tiā'pexoacxoac. "Ō2, Then three days, then he came home Tiā'pexoacxoac. "Oh,

13 LgoaLō'lX întcktō'cgam tLā'Xatk. Ē'wa ē'taLqt, ē'wa ē'taxalXt."
a person we found them his tracks. Thus long, thus wide."

14 A'qa itcē'gElga ē'mqō, a'qa itciū'kumak¡ā'metaq tē'iapc. Kopē'2t
Then he took it a stick, then he compared them his feet. Enough

15 ī'taLqt tē'iapc. Itciukumak¡ā'mētaq ē'taXalXt. Nō'L¡ itā'qa-iLax. their length his feet. He compared them their widths. A little large.

16 Itgē'iōLq. Lā2, aqa igixō'kcit Tiā'pexoacxoac. Igixō'kcit môkct
He was superior to him. Long, then he lay down Tiā'pexoacxoac. He lay down two

17 Lkā'ētax. A'qa igixE'latck. "Ō2, LXuan LE'kala ikLotā'mit days. Then he rose. "Oh, perhaps a male she carried him away rose. "Oh, I think that woman carried away a male child. Go and search for her." He sent five men down the river. Five he sent up the river. He sent four to go and look near by. Now these four men went up to Qawî'ltk. They saw smoke. When they came there they discovered a house. They went up to it and entered. There was Tiā'pexoacxoac's son. He looked just like Tiā'pexoacxoac. Now they returned. They came home. "Oh, Tiā'pexoacxoac, we found your son. He looks just like you." "That is just what I thought. Go and fetch him." Thus he spoke to his slaves. Five of them went. His son kept four of them, and one only returned. "What did he say to you?" "Oh, he took four men away from you." "Go to-morrow and fetch him." On the following day six men went. He kept five and one returned. "What did he say to you?" "He kept five." Four times they tried to take him; and then he had kept twenty of his slaves. Tiā'pexoacxoac became angry. He called his people: "Let us make war upon your nephew." Now they went in two tau aqagē'lak. Ō2, tgt!ō'kti amekunā'xLama." Itctōtō'koatck 1 this woman. Oh, good you search for her." He sent them aqui'nEmîkc qā'eqamîX. Itctōtō'koatck aqui'nEmîkc ē'wa cā'xalîX. 2 five men down the river. He sent them five men then upward.

Itctotō'koatck alā'ktîkc q!oā'pîX alukuak!ē'naxLa. A'qa itgī'ya 3
He sent them four men near they shall search. Then they went ala'ktîkc. Itgī'ya cā'xalîX Qawî'ltkpa. Itgō'quikEl tXtE'llē. 4 the four men. They went upward Qawî'ltk to. They saw it smoke.

ILō'yam, aqa tqu'Lē itktXuē'la. A'qa iLō'ptcka. ILā'ckōpq. 5
They arrived, then a house they discovered it. Then they went up. They entered.

A'qa iō'Xt Tiā'pexoacxoac iā'Xan. Ya'Xka Tiā'pexoacxoac, 6
Then he was there Tiā'pexoacxoac his son. He Tiā'pexoacxoac, cXE'lk!atcX. A'qa iLE'Xk!oa. ILXk!oā'mam tE'LaqL!a. "Ō4, 7 they resembled one another. Then they went home. They came home their house to. "Oh, Tiā'pexoacxoac, imē'Xan întegiō'egam. Maniq!ē' imtxE'lk!atcX." 8 Tiā'pexoacxoac, your son we found him. Exactly you resemble one another."

"Ō, k!oaLqē' nXLō'Xuan. Ō, ai'aq amegigā'lEmam," itcLō'lXam 9
"Oh, just so I thought. Oh, quick go and fetch him," he said to them

LIā'qiXEltgeukc. ILō'ya Lqui'nEmîkc. Ā, itci'LgElga Lla'ktîkc. 10 his slaves. They went five men. Ah, he kept them four.

ĒXā'tka igē'Xk!oa. "Ō, qā itcîmcō'lXam?" "Ā4, itcLumxE'cgam 11
One only went home. "Oh, how did he say to you?" "Ah, he took from you Lla'ktîkc." "Ō, tgt!ō'kti ō'la 'mcō'ya. Amegiukoā'lEmam." 12 four men." "Oh, good to-morrow you go. You go and fetch him."

A'qa wi igē'tcuktîX; a'qa wi iLō'ya LtxE'mîkc. A'qa wi 13
Then again day came; then again they went six men. Then again itcLExE'cgam Lqui'nEmîkc. ĒXā'tka igē'Xk!oa. "Ā, qā 14 he took from them five men. One only he went home. "Ah, how itcîmcō'lXam?" "Ā, itcLumxE'cgam Lqui'nEmîkc." Lā'ktîX 15 he said to you?" "Ah, he took them from you five men." Four times kē'nuwa iqiukoā'lEmam. A'qa itctixE'cgam tiā'qiXEltgeukc 16 try he is fetched. Then he took them from him his slaves môketLā'lîkc. Ā'2qa kalā'lkuilē igē'X Tiā'pexoacxoac. A'qa 17 twenty. Then scold he did Tiā'pexoacxoac. Then hundred canoes. His son was eating. Then one of his slaves went out. "Oh, we are going to be attacked." But he continued to eat quietly. Then he said to his mother: "Quick! go inland." And he said to his slaves: "Quick! go inland." Then his slaves and his mother went inland. He went down, took his arrows, and shot the people. He hit a canoe and it burst. He hit another one. It burst. All the people were drowned. He killed Tiā'pexoacxoac's people. Now there were only a few of his people left. Tiā'pexoacxoac said: "Let us go home; your nephew has conquered me." Then he went home. He said: "Bring your nephew. I will give him some of my wives." Now three men went and said to Tiā'pexoacxoac's son: "Your father sent us. We come to fetch you. He will give you some of his wives." "Oh, I like those two of his wives." Then the three

1 itcō'xoaktck tê'lXam. "Ai'aq, aqa sāq¡ alxgiō'xa imcā'ɪatXᴇn."
he sent for them the people. "Quick, then war we will make on him your nephew."

2 Aqa igō'ya môket itcā¡k¡amunaq akᴇ'nim. Ixɪxᴇ'ɪᴇmux iā'xan.
Then they went two hundred canoes. He ate his son.

3 Iɪō'pa Liā'la-etîX ɪᴇXā't. "Ā4, sāq¡ ilxᴇ'xôx." P!ā'la ixɪxᴇ'ɪᴇmux.
He went out his slave one. "Ah, war is made on us." Quietly he ate.

4 A'qa itcō'lXam wā'yaq: "Ai'aq, mē'ya ɪxᴇ'ɪeuX." Itcɪō'lXam
Then he said to her his mother: "Quick, go inland." He said to them

5 Liā'qēXᴇltgeukc: "Ai'aq, mcī'ya ɪxᴇ'ɪeuX." A'qa iɪō'ptcka his slaves: "Quick, go inland." Then they went inland

6 Liā'qēXᴇltgeukc k¡a wā'yaq. A'qa iō'ɪxa. Itcō'guiga tiā'qamatcX.
his slaves and his mother. Then he went down. He took them his arrows.

7 A'qa itctō'maqt tê'lXam. Iā'maq itcē'lôx ikᴇ'nim, ts¡ᴇ'xts¡ᴇx
Then he shot them the people. Shoot he did it with them a canoe, break

8 igē'xôx. Igō'n iā'maq itcē'lôx ikᴇ'nim, ts¡ᴇ'xts¡ᴇx igē'xôx. L¡lap it did. Another shoot he did it a canoe, break it did. Under water

9 itgī'ya ka'nauwē tê'lXam. Iqtō'tena tiā'lXam Tiā'pexoacxoac. Aqa went all people. They were killed his people Tiā'pexoacxoac. Then 10 nō'ɪka tiā'lXam Tiā'pexoacxoac. A'qa igē'kîm: "Ō, alxk¡uā'ya. few only his people Tiā'pexoacxoac. Then he said: "Oh, we will go home.

11 A'qa itcî'nōɪq imcā'ɪatXᴇn." A'qa igō'Xuak¡ua. A'qa igîXk¡oā'mam Then he vanquished me your nephew." Then they went home. Then he came home 12 Tiā'pexoacxoac. A'qa igē'kîm Tiā'pexoacxoac: "Ō2, imcgigā'ɪᴇmam Tiā'pexoacxoac. Then he said Tiā'pexoacxoac: "Oh, go and fetch him 13 imcā'ɪatXᴇn. Antelō'ta tgᴇ'nᴇmckc aqā'watîkc." A'qa itgī'ya your nephew. I will give them to him my women several." Then they went 14 alō'nîkc tê'lXam. Iqiō'lXam iā'Xan Tiā'pexoacxoac: "Wē'mam three people. He was told his son Tiā'pexoacxoac: "Your father 15 itcinctō'koatck. Iqamtgā'ɪᴇmam. Itctᴇmî'lōt tiā'nᴇmckc aqā'watîkc." he sent us. You are fetched. He gives them to you his women several."

16 "Ō4, ctā'xka cmôket ciā'kikala tq¡ēx inᴇ'côxt." Ō, iɪî'Xk¡oa
"Oh, these two his wives like I do them." Oh, they went home

17 ɪa-itci lō'nîkc. "Qā itcimcō'lXam imcā'ɪatXᴇn?" "Ō, those three. "How he said to you your nephew?" "Oh, men went home. "What does your nephew say to you?" "He said to us that he likes those two of your wives." "Go to-morrow. When the day breaks, go and tell him that I will give them to him, if he will come." Now they went again. They arrived there and entered. "Oh, your father will give you his two wives." "Ah, well then I will go home," said he. "Tell him, he shall leave his house." They went home. When they came home, they said: "Your son will arrive to-morrow. He tells you to go outside and take those two old women, your wives." On the next morning, Tiā'pexoacxoac went out. He took those two old women, his wives. After some time, his son arrived and entered his father's house. Then his wife gave birth to two sons. Now Tiā'pexoacxoac fell sick. He made arrows for his grandsons. They shot their grandfather, and after some time he was dead. Now Tiā'pexoacxoac son had many sons.

itcintcō'lXam	ctā'xka	ctā'Xi	cmôkct	cmē'kikala	tq¡ēx	itcî'côx."	1
he said to us	them	those	two	your wives	like	he does them."
"Ō,	tgt¡ō'kti	ō'la	mcō'ya.	Igē'tcuktîX	amcgiolXā'mam	ā'ɬqi	2
"Oh,	good	to-morrow	you go.	Day comes	you go and tell him;	later on ancilō'ta	ma'nîx	alitē'ya."	A'qa	wi	iɬō'ya	wi't'ax.	A'qa	wi	3
I will give them two to him	when	he will come."	Then	again	they went	again.	Then	again
iɬō'yam.	Iɬā'ckupq.	"Ā4,	itccî'mɛlōt	ciā'kikal	wē'mam."	"Ā,	4
they arrived.	They entered.	"Ah,	he gives them to you	his two wives	your father."	"Ah, tgt¡ō'kti	aqa	anXk¡oā'ya,"	igē'kîm.	"A'qa	ayuXoapā'ya	tē'iaqɬ	5
good	then	I go home,"	he said.	"Then	he shall go out	his house
amcgiolXā'ma."	A'qa	iɬî'Xk¡oa.	Iɬîxk¡oā'mam.	"Ā,	ō'la	alitē'ya	6
you tell him."	Then	they went home.	They came home.	"Ah,	to-morrow	he will come imē'xan.	Itcmō'lXam	amupā'ya	ɬā'xanîX	k¡a	ctā'Xi	cq¡eyō'qt	7
your son.	He told you	you shall go out	outside	and	those two	two old women
amcō'kɪa	cmē'kikala."	A'qa	igē'tcuktîX,	a'qa	iō'pa	Tiā'pexoacxoac.	8
you take them	your two wives."	Then	day came,	then	he went out	Tiā'pexoacxoac.
Itcî'cukɪ	ciā'kikala	cta'Xi	cq¡eyō'qt.	Lā4	aqa	iō'yam	iā'xan.	A'qa	9
He took them	his two wives	those two	two old women.	Long	then	he arrived	his son.	Then iō'pqam	wī'am	tē'iaqɬ.	A'qa	icoXô'tōm	ayā'kikala	cmôkct	cɛ'kala	10
he came in	his father	his house.	Then	she gave birth to two	his wife	two	male
sk¡ā'skas.	Ā2qa	iā'tsqɛm	igixɛ'lôx	Tiā'pexoacxoac.	A'qa	11
children.	Then	his sickness	came onto him	Tiā'pexoacxoac.	Then tqā'matcX	itctcî'lôx.	A'qa	iā'maq	îcgē'lôx	ictā'q¡acuc.	Lā2,	aqa	12
arrows	he made them for them.	Then	shoot	they did him	their grandfather.	Long,	then iō'maqt	iq¡eyō'qt.	A'qa	iō'maqt.	A'qa	ɬgā'pɛlatîkc	iā'qôq	tkā'lukc	13 dead	the old man.	Then	he was dead.	Then	many	his children	males
itixɛ'lôx.	14
they were on him.

Ēmōgoā'lekc (told 1891)

There were the people of a town. There were two friends among them, one the son of a chief, the other a common man. There was a girl, the daughter of a chief of another town. She had a girl slave. Then one of the young men said to his friend: "Come! let us go to that town to look for girls." In the morning they went. That slave girl was pretty. The young men came to that town. The slave girl pleased the chief's son. The common man was also pretty and that girl liked him, while the slave girl liked the chief's son. The two went often to see them. Now the youth's father heard about it. The chief heard that his son went after a slave girl. He was ashamed. Every morning he scolded his son. Both he and the young man's mother

---

1 Oxoēlā'etîX ta-îtci ēXt gitā'lXam. EXā't iLā'Xak¡Emana
There were those one people of a town. One their chief

2 iā'Xan. C'xā'cîkc k¡a eXā't iq¡u'lîpX. Ixē'yal ya'Xi ēXā't his son. Two friends and one youth. A common man that one

3 iq¡u'lîpX. Kanasmô'kst cq¡u'lîpX. A'qa ēXt gitā'lXam youth. Both youths. Then one people of a town

4 aqagē'lak ayā'Xan ya'Xi iLā'Xak¡Emana ahā't¡au k¡a agā'laitîX woman his daughter that their chief a maiden and her slave girl

5 wī't'ax ahā't¡au. A'qa itciō'lXam iā'cîkc: "Qōi qatxō'eX ya'Xi also a maiden. Then he said to him his friend: "Must we go that

6 ēXt ē'lXampa. Atxktonā'xLama tE'nEmckc." Igē'tcuktîX, a'qa one town to. We search for them women." Day came, then

7 ictō'ya. At¡ō'kti wu'Xi agā'laitîX wu'Xi ahā't¡au. Ictō'yam they two went. Good that her slave girl that maiden. They arrived

8 kō'pa ya'Xi ēXt ē'lXam cta'Xi cq¡u'lîpX. Q¡āt itcō'xoa wu'Xi there that one town those youths. Love he did her that

9 alā'etîX ya'Xi iLā'Xak¡Emana iā'Xan. It¡ō'kti ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX slave girl that their chief his son. Good that youth

10 ya'Xi ixē'yal. Tq¡ēx igī'yôx wu'Xi ahā't¡au ya'Xi ixē'yal.
that common man. Like she did him that maiden that common man.

11 Tq¡ēx itcō'xoa wu'Xi alā'etîX ya'Xi iLā'xak¡Emana iā'Xan.
Like he did her that slave girl that their chief his son.

12 Iō'LqtîX ickcXEluwā'lalEmtck. A'qa itilō'Xuix·it ya'Xi wī'yam Long they two went often to see them. Then he heard about them that his father

13 ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX. Itilō'Xuix·it ya'Xi iLā'Xak¡Emana. alā'etîX that youth. He heard about them that their chief. a slave girl

14 itcaXEluwā'la ya'Xi iā'Xan. Igixemā'sa-it ya'Xi ikak¡Emā'na.
he went to see her that his son. He was ashamed that chief.

15 Wāx itciō'mEla ya'Xi iā'Xan. Ka'nauwē Lkā'etax icgiō'mela Next day he scolded him that his son. All days they two scolded him scolded him. Then he and his friend went out. He said: "My heart is tired, friend. I am scolded every day; I shall go away." "Oh," said his friend, "I love you and I shall be unhappy if you go." In the evening they came home. He lay down and did not eat. He rose early and the two went into the woods. They shot at targets. He said again: "Oh, my heart is tired; if you like me you may see me always"; thus he said to his friend. "No, friend, don't leave me; I shall be unhappy." For five days they played shooting at targets. Then they bathed. The young man dived five times. Then he came up far away from the shore. His ears had become very long. He was lying on a snag. Then his friend went ashore and cried and cried a long time. He looked, and his friend was standing there. He smiled at him. "Why do you cry so much, friend? We shall do this way. If you like me, you shall see me. Come to this place and we shall play here; but do not tell them. If you do not like me, then you ċkanasmô'ket kɟa wā'yaq ya'Xi iqɟu'lîɬpX. Qactō'îX qā'mta ya'Xi both and his mother that youth. They two went somewhere that 1 iā'cîke. "Ā'qa tɛll igē'x ē'tcamxtc, cîke. Ka'nauwē Lkā'etax his friend. "Now tired gets my heart, friend. All days 2 qanō'mela. Qɟoā'ɟp a'qa qā'mta nō'ya." "Ō," itciō'lXam iā'cîke, I am scolded. Nearly then somewhere I go." "Oh," he said to him his friend, 3

"Ō, tqɟēx iā'môx, cîke, iā'okîX tgɛ'giōtkoaX qatxanlō'xoax."
"Oh, like I do you, friend, else my unhappiness will be on me." 4

Xā'pîX qacXkɟoā'mamx. Nā'2wē nîxō'kcitx. Nāct nixLxɛ'lɛmuX.
In the evening they two came home. At once he lay down. Not he ate. 5

Kawî'X nîxLkā'tegoax, qactō'îx golx·ē'yokuîX. Wā'qɟpac Early he arose, they went into the woods. Target 6 qaexegā'mx. Wī't'ax qatciolXā'mx: "Ō, a'qa tɛll igē'xôx they played. Again be said to him: "Oh, now tired gets 7 ē'tcamxtc. Ma'nîx tqɟēx mnxō'lalɛmx, aqa wi amɛnqɛlkɛlā'ya," my heart. When like you do me, then again you will see me," 8 qatciolXā'mx ya'Xi iā'cîke. "Kɟā'ya, cîke, nîcqē amɛnkɛlō'qLqa, he said to him that his friend. "No, friend, not at all leave me. 9 tgɛ'giotkoax." Qoā'nɛma Lkā'etax wa'qɟpac icɛ'xôx. A'qa my unhappiness." Five days target they did. Then 10

icxgoā'yōt. Igiktē'mɛnq ya'Xi iqɟu'lîɬpX. Qoā'nɛmîX they bathed. He dived that youth. Five times 11

igiktē'mɛnq. Lāx igē'x yaXî' mā'LnîX. Gipä'tɛma itā'Lqtax he dived. Visible he became there seaward. Thus long 12 tiā'utcakc. Iaxakxā'ema wu'Xi akū'yax. Iō'ptck iā'cîke.

his ears. He lay on that snag. He went up his friend. 13

Igigɛ'tcax, igigɛ'tcax, igigɛ'tcax. Ka iō'qulqt igē'kiket
He cried, he cried, he cried. Where he cried he saw 14

iutXuē'la iā'cîke. Ixkɟayā'wula. "Tān migɛ'mqElqt, cîke?
he stood his friend. He smiled at him. "What you cry, friend? 15

Kɟoaɬqā' atxō'xoa. Manîx tqɟēx amtō'xoa amɛnqɛlkɛlā'ya.
Thus we will do. When like you do them you will see me. 16

A'qa amtā'ya tē'ka. A'qa tē'ka atxkɟayā'wulalɛma. Nēct
Then come here. Then here we will play. Not 17

amxkLē'tegoa. Ma'nîx nîct tqɟēx mɛ'nôx tcXua qamxkLē'tegoax.
tell. When not like you do me then tell. 18 may tell them. Come here to-morrow." In the evening the youth went home. The chief's son went into the water and dived.

Then that youth cried and went home. He came home and lay down at once. He rose early and took his arrows. He went to the place where they had shot at targets. He cried. He looked, and there his friend was standing. He said: "Why are you crying all the time? If you like me, come here and we shall play." In the evening he went home again. The chief's son went into the water and dived.

After two days they searched for him. On the third day, when the youth came home, they asked him: "Where is your friend?" He said: "I have not seen him for two days." They searched for him and said: "Somebody must have killed him." They went into the neighboring towns and searched for him, but they did not find him. Early the youth went out again. He stayed on the shore for some time; then he saw his friend standing there. His friend said to him: "Do not tell them; if you do you will see me no more." In the 1 Ō'la mtē'ya tē'kaki." Xā'pîX a'qa igē'Xk!oa ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX.

---

To-morrow come here." In the evening then he went home that youth.

2 Iō'ʟxa ya'Xi iʟā'Xak!emana iā'Xan. Igiktē'mEnq.
He went to the water that their chief his son. He dived.

3 Igigā'tcax ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX. A'qa igē'Xk!oa. IgiXk!oā'mam.
He cried that youth. Then he went home. He came home.

4 Nā'2wi igixō'kcit. Kawī'X igixE'latck. Itcō'guiga tiā'qamatcX.
At once he lay down. Early he arose. He took them his arrows.

5 Iō'ya kopā' ya'Xi wā'q!pas icxE'cgam. Iō'qulqt. Igē'kikct,
He went there that target they played. He cried. He looked,

6 iutXuē'la iā'cîkc. A'qa itciō'lXam: "Qā'tcxē guā'nsum there stood his friend. Then he said to him: "Why always

7 mō'qulqt? Ma'nîx tq!ēx amEnō'xoa a'qa mtā'ya, aqa you cry? When like you do me then come, then

8 atxk!ayā'wulalEma." Xā'pîX, aqa wī't'ax igē'Xk!oa. Iō'ʟxa we will play." In the evening, then again he went home. He went down to the water 9 yā'Xka, igiktē'mEnq ya'Xi iʟā'Xak!emana iā'Xan.

he, he dived that their chief his son.

10 Mâ'kctîX ictō'qxoya, a'qa iqiunā'xʟatck. IgiXatk!oā'mam Twice their sleeps, then he was searched for. He came home

11 iʟā'lōnîX yā'Xi iq!u'lîpX, a'qa iōqu'mtcxōgoa: "Qā'xpa imē'cîke?"
the third time that youth, then he was asked: "Where your friend?"

12 Igē'kîm: "A'qa mō'kctîX iō'qxoya nîct tEnlō'xoîX." Iqiō'naxʟ
He said: "Now twice his sleeps not I know." He was searched for 13 ya'Xi iq!u'lipX. Iqiō'lXam: "Iqē'waq." Ewā' ēXt ē'lXam that youth. He was told: "He is killed." Thus one town 14 aqiōnā'XLam. Nā'2cqē iqiō'cgam. Kawī'X iō'ya ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX.

he was searched for. Not at all he was found. Early he went that youth.

15 Lē'lē ʟxE'leu igē'xôx. Ē'wa igē'xôx, igē'kîket, aqa iutXuē'la Long inland he was. Thus he did, he looked, then he stood

16 ya'Xi iā'cîkc. Itciō'lXam iā'cîkc: "Nect amxkʟē'tcgoa. Ma'nîx that his friend. He said to him his friend: "Not tell. If 17 amxkʟē'tcgoa kopā'2t amEnqElkElā'ya." Xā'pîX igē'Xk!oa ya'Xi you tell, enough you will see me." In the evening he went home that evening the youth went home. Then they said: "Perhaps he has killed him and has kept it secret." Five times the youth went; then they followed his tracks. They came there and saw them shooting at a target. His father's slaves came home and said: "He is well. We found them shooting at targets." In the evening, when it grew dark, the young man came home. The other one went into the water. Then they asked the youth: "Why do you keep it a secret where he is?" He did not tell them. The young man went every day. They went after him again. When they came there, the youth said: "People are looking at us secretly. I think you told them." The other one replied: "I did not tell them. They made me tired and asked me much." The youth said: "Tell them that while I stayed my father and my mother were ashamed of me. What do they talk? They always said that they were ashamed of me." In the evening the one went home, the other went into the water. Then they asked him iq¡u'lîpX. A'qa iqiō'lXam ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX: "ʟXuan itcē'waq, 1 youth. Then he was told that youth: "Perhaps he killed him, tcqē itcioqoā'la." Qoā'nEmîX iō'ya ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX. 2 then he keeps it a secret." Five times he went that youth.

Aqixe'luwakoa. Iqcgō'qoam, iqE'cqElkEl. Wā'q¡pas icxcgE'lēL. 3
He was followed. They were reached, they were seen. Target they played.

IguXoak¡oā'mam tiā'qēxEltgeukc wī'yam. Iguxoagu'lîtck ta-îtci 4
They came home his slaves his father. They told those tqēxE'ltgeukc: "P¡ā'la igē'xôx, wāq¡pas icxcgE'liL. 5 slaves: "Well he is, target they two play.

Intekcgō'qoam." Xā'pîX igō'ponEm. Igē'Xk¡oa ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX. 6
We reached them." In the evening it grew dark. He went home that youth.

Iō'ʟxa ya'Xi ēXā't igiktē'mEnq. Iqiō'lXam ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX: 7
He went to the water that one he dived. He was told that youth:

"Qā'tcqē imiōq¡oā'la qā'xpa pā iō'Xt?" Nēct igîxgu'lîtck. 8
"Why did you keep it secret where there he is?" Not he told.

Ka'nauwē ʟkā'etax qayō'yēma-îtx ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX. A'qa wi 9
All days he went always that youth. Then again isxā'sk¡Enukluwa. Itxā'sk¡Enukluwa tq¡ulîpXEnā'yu. Iqcgō'qoam. 10 they followed them two secretly. They followed them secretly the youths. They were reached.

Igē'kîm ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX: "Tē'lXam itktxō'qumē. Itxā'txk¡Elpsot. 11
He said that youth: "People are looking at us. They look at us secretly.

ʟXuan îmxgu'lîtck." Igē'kîm: "K¡ā'ya, nîcqē' înxgu'lîtck. Aqa 12 Perhaps you told." He said: "No, not at all I told. Then tEll iqE'nux; qanugu'mtcxogoa'la." Igē'kîm iq¡u'lîpX: "Ā'oLEL 13 tired I am made; I am asked much." He said the youth: "NeveritsE'k¡emasamit. Itcî'mama amiulXā'ma, k¡a agE'kXō amulXā'ma: 14

I made them ashamed. My father tell him and my mother tell her tān wit'ax lē'qxitcX, ā'oLEL k¡ā inE'xôx lā'itckapa. ILgEnō'lXam 15 what more they talk, never- noth- I am them from. They said to me itsE'k¡emasamit." Xapī'X igē'Xk¡oa, iō'ʟxa igiktē'mEnq. A'qa 16

I made them ashamed." In the evening he went home, he went down to the water he dived. Then again: "Why do you keep his whereabouts a secret from us?" The youth spoke: "You make my heart tired. He became a monster. You will not see him again. He is ashamed because you scolded him every day." Then some of his relatives cried. They said: "Oh, tell him that we will buy a chief's daughter for him." The next morning he went. "They say that they will buy a chief's daughter for you," said he to his friend. He replied: "Tell them to be quiet; they were ashamed of me." In the evening his friend went home, and they asked him: "What did he say to you?" "Oh, he asked you to be quiet." On the following morning his friend went again and those people made themselves ready. All the young men went. He said to his friend: "They are surrounding us." The people surrounded them. They tried to approach them secretly, but he went right through them. They saw him dive. There in the water he emerged again and lay on a snag. His ears were that long. They

1 wi't'ax aqioqu'mtcxōgoa: "Qāgi imiō'q¡oala qā'xpa igē'x?" A'qa again he was asked: "Why do you keep it secret where he is?" Then

2 igē'kîm ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX: "A'qa tɛll îmcgi'yux ē'tcamxtc. Iqcxē'ɬau he said that youth: "Now tired you made it his heart. A monster

3 igē'xôx. Nîct qa'ntsîx wi't'ax amcqîxqɛlkɛlā'ya. Igixɛmā'sa-it.
he became. Never again you will see him. He is ashamed.

4 Ka'nauwē ɬkā'etax îmcgiō'mela." Igoxoē'nîmtck tiā'cuxtîkc
All days you scolded him." They cried his relatives

5 aqā'watîkc. "Ā tgt¡ō'kti amiulXā'ma, antcgōmɛlā'lɛma ēXt part of them. "Ah, good you tell him, we will buy her one

6 giɬā'lXam iɬā'Xak¡ɛmana ayā'Xan; antcga-ilXē'wakua." Wāx people of a town their chief his daughter; we will buy a wife for him." Next day

7 igē'tcuktîX. Iō'ya. "Ā, aqɛmuxō'la aqumɛlā'lɛma wu'Xi day came. He went. "Ah, you are told she will be bought that

8 iɬā'Xak¡ɛmana ayā'Xan." Itciō'lXam iā'cîkc: "AmɬōlXā'ma, ac their chief his daughter." He said to him his friend: "Tell them, and 9 qān aɬxanxō'xoa. Ā'oɬɛl itsɛ'k¡emasamit." Xā'pîX igē'Xk¡oa silent they shall be. Nevertheless I made them ashamed." In the evening he went home

10 iā'cîkc. Iqioqu'mtcxōgoa: "Qā itcimō'lXam?" "Ō itcimcō'lXam his friend. He was asked: "How did he say to you?" "Oh, he said to you 11 ac qān amcxixō'xoa." Kawī'X iō'ya ya'Xi iā'cîkc. A'qa and silent you shall be." Early he went that his friend. Then 12 igoXuē'tXuîtck ta-îtci tê'lXam. A'qa itgī'ya ta-îtci tê'lXam, they made themselves ready those people. Then they went those people,

13 ka'nauwē itgī'ya tq¡ulîpXɛnā'yu. Itciō'lXam iā'cîkc:
all they went the youths. He said to him his friend:

14 "A'qaktxɛ'ɬak^{u}t." Iqcxɛ'ɬakoa iguXuā'qoam ta-îtci tê'lXam.
"We are surrounded." They were surrounded they met those people.

15 Kē'nuwa isxā'sk¡ɛnukɬuwa. Igē'kta kā'tcɛkpā'tîx· ta-îtci tê'lXam.
Try they approached secretly. He ran middle there those people.

16 Iqiō'qumit igiktē'mɛnq. YaXi' mā'ɬnîX ɬāx igē'xôx wu'Xi
He was seen he dived. Here seaward visible he became that 17 akū'yaxpa. Ē'wemax etā'ɬqtax tiā'utcakc. Iaxak¡ɛ'niakoa wu'Xi snag on. Thus long his ears. He leaned on it that 18 akū'yax. A'qa igō'xoak¡oa. Igoxoē'nîmtck tê'lXam ā'qa. Igē'kîm snag. Then they went home. They cried the people then. He said went home and cried. Then the youth said: "Behold! you said I lied; he became a monster." Then they gathered many people. His friend went; he cried and cried and cried. He cried a long time. He looked and there his friend was standing: "Oh, friend," he said to him, "I am unhappy. I thought you had left me for good." "I shall tell you when they make me tired. Then you may cry. If they will let me alone, we shall do the same all the time; we shall play when you come here." Then he said again to his friend: "They are coming secretly to surround us." The people surrounded them in a double row, trying to catch him, but he ran into the water, dived, and emerged far out at sea. He lay on a snag. Then the people cried. "Go," they said to the youth, "tell him we will buy for him that slave girl whom he liked so much." The following morning his friend went. He cried a long time and saw his friend. He told him what the people had said: "Your father will buy that slave girl for you."

ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX: "Tā'tc¡a amcgEnuxō'la itcî'L¡mēnXut ya'Xi 1 that youth: "Behold you told me I spoke a lie that íqcxē'Lau igē'xôx." A'qa wi iqō'xoaqtek tê'lXam. Lgā'pElatîke 2 a monster he became." Then again they were sent for the people. Many iqō'xoaqtck, a'qa wi iō'ya iā'cîke. IgigE'tcax, igigE'tcax, igigE'tcax 3 they were sent for, then again he went his friend. He cried, he cried, he cried iā'cîke. Lē'lē igigE'tcax. Igē'kîket, a'qa iutXuē'la iā'cîke. "Ō 4 his friend. Long he cried. He looked, then there stood his friend. "Oh cîke," itcīō'lXam, "tgE'giōtkoax. NxLō'Xuan aqa guā'nEsum 5 friend," he said to him, "my unhappiness. I thought then always imEnqE'loqLq." "Manē'x tEll aqiō'x ē'tcEmxtc. aqa ayamolXā'ma, 6 you left me." "When tired is made my heart, then I shall tell you, tcXua qamktcā'xamx. Ma'nîx ac iā'e aqEnō'xoa, a'qa k¡oaLqē' 7 then you may cry. When and let alone I am done, then just as atxō'xoa. Ma'nîx tq¡ēx amtō'xoa atxk¡ayā'wulalEma, a'qa mtä'ya 8 we do. When like you do it we play, then come tē'ka." A'qa wī't'ax itcīō'lXam iā'cîke: "A'qa wi tgatē't tê'lXam. 9 here." Then again he said to him his friend: "Now again they are coming the people.

Itxatxk¡ētkLuwā't." A'qa wi iqcxE'Lakoa. Mâ'ketîX iguXoā'qoam 10
They approach us secretly." Then again they were surrounded. Twice they met tê'lXam. A'qa wi kē'nuwa atgigElgā'ya. Kē'nuwa itgē'gElga 11 the people. Then again try they took him. Try they took him ta-îtci tê'lXam. Ā'nqa yaXī' mā'LnîX igē'kta, igiktē'mEnq. 12 those people. Already there seaward he ran, he dived.

YaXī'2 mā'LnîX Lāx igē'x iaXak¡E'niakoa wu'Xi akū'yaX. A'qa 13
There seaward visible he became he leaned on it that snag. Then wi igoxoē'nîmtek ta-îtci tê'lXam. A'qa wi iqiō'lXam ya'Xi 14 again they cried those people. Then again he was told that iq¡u'lîpX: "Ō, tgt¡ō'kti amiulXā'ma, antcgōmElā'lema wu'Xi 15 youth: "Oh, good you tell him, we will buy her that alā'etîX wu'Xi tq¡ēx qtcōxt." Igē'teuktîX, a'qa wi iō'ya iā'cîke. 16 slave girl that like he did her." Day came, then again he went his friend.

Lē'2lē iō'La-ît. A'qa wi itcē'qElkEl iā'cîke. IgixElgu'Lîtek iā'cîke: 17
Long he stayed. Then again he saw him his friend. He told his friend:

He told his friend: "Tell them to be quiet; they were ashamed of me." Then his father said: "Let us put a net into the water. He will dive and the net will catch him." Day came. His friend went out first. Then the people went. Then they put a net into the water near the land. They tied large stones to it so that the net hung down. They surrounded him. They surrounded him in three rows and drew nearer and nearer. The two youths were playing shooting at targets. Then the quickest jumpers tried to jump at him and the people tried to take him, but he had gone into the water. He dived between the net and the land. The net did not shake, and he came up in the water beyond it. His ears were that long. Then the people went home. They cried. His father said: "Let us kill him. Perhaps he will be put on the land." They mended their arrows. Early his friend went. He stood a long time and said to his friend: "They will shoot me." Now the people came. They put two nets into the water and tied

1 "Ā, qamuxō'la, atcumɛlā'lɛma wē'mam wu'Xi alā'etîX." Itciō'lXam
"Ah, you are told he will buy her your father that slave girl." He said to him

2 iā'cîkc: "Ō, amlōlXā'ma ac qān alxɛnxō'xoa. Ā'olɛl his friend: "Oh, tell them and quiet they shall be. Nevertheless

3 itcɛ'k¡emasamit." Igē'kîm ya'Xi wī'yam: "Nauā'itk aqtō'k!a.
I made them ashamed." He said that his father: "A net will be carried.

4 Wuk¡ aqtō'xoa Ltcu'qoapa. K¡ō'ma aliktē'mɛnqama, a'qa quL Straight it will be made water in. Perhaps he will dive, then hang 5 atxelō'xoa." Igē'tcuktîX. Iā'newa iō'ya iā'cîkc. A'qa wī't'ax they will do him." Day came. First he went his friend. Then again

6 itgī'ya ta-îtci tê'lXam. A'qa wuk¡ iqɛ'tôx taXi nauā'itk they went those people. Then straight it was made that net

7 Ltcu'qoapa q¡oā'p ē'lîX. K¡au'k¡au iqlō'qoax ilā'qa-ilax lqɛ'nakc water in near the land. Tied were done large stones

8 ē'wa gē'gualîX taXi nauā'itk. A'qa wi iqcɛ'Lakoa. lō'nîX there below that net. Then again they two were surrounded. Three times

9 iguXoā'qoam ta-îtci tê'lXam. Q¡oā'p itgî'côx. Wā'q¡pas icxcgē'liL.
they met those people. Near they came. Target they two were playing.

10 Kē'nuwa iqcē'kɛnpɛna, cgā'xēlalagɛmax itkcē'kɛnpɛn. Igē'kta.
Try they were jumped at, the quickest ones they jumped. He ran.

11 Kē'nuwa itgē'gɛlga ta-îtci tê'lXam, ā'nqa ya'Xi mā'lnîX igē'kta.
Try they took him those people, already there seaward he ran.

12 Igiktē'mɛnq atā'mlxɛleu ta'Xi nauā'itk. Nā2st igō'xoala ta'Xi
He dived landward from it that net. Not it shook that 13 nauā'itk. YaXī'2 mā'lnîX lāx igē'xôx. Ē'wemax itā'lktax

net. There seaward visible he became. Thus long

14 tiā'utcakc. Igō'Xoak¡oa ta-îtci tê'lXam. Igoxoē'nîmtck. Igē'kîm his ears. They went home those people. They cried. He said

15 ya'Xi wī'yam: "Tgt¡ō'kti a'qa aqɛwā'qoa. K¡ō'ma lxɛ'leuX that his father: "Good then he is killed. Perhaps landward 16 aqiō'tga." Itgɛ'tôx tgā'qamatcX t¡ayā'. Kawī'X iō'ya iā'cîkc.

he will be put." They made them his arrows good. Early he went his friend.

17 Lē'lē iō'la-it iā'cîkc. A'qa igē'kîm ya'Xi iā'cîkc: "A'qa tgɛ'maq Long he stayed his friend. Then he said that his friend: "Now shoot 18 aqtɛnlō'xoa." A'qa tgatē't tê'lXam. A'qa môket nauā'itgɛmax

I shall be done by them." Then they came the people. Then two nets many stones to them. Then they went up to them secretly and shot him. His body was full of arrows. In four rows the people surrounded him. They tried to take him, but he ran into the water and dived. The nets did not shake. The arrows drifted on the water where he had dived. All the arrows came out and drifted on the water. The people went home. The youth said: "If you do not let him alone, you will never see him again. If you wish, you may always see him. You may go and see us play." Next day his friend went again. He cried and cried and cried a long time and he saw his friend standing there. "Oh, my poor friend, you will not see me again; my heart is tired." Then they shot at targets again. The people came again; part of them came in canoes. They took arrows. Again they surrounded them. He said to his friend: "They are surrounding us." Again they shot him. Five rows of people surrounded

wuk¡	iqɛ'tôx	ʟtcu'qoapa.	K¡au'k¡au	iqʟō'koax	ʟgā'pɛla	ʟqɛ'nake		1 straight	they were made	water in.	Tied	they were done	many	stones
ta'Xi	nauā'itk.	A'qa	isxā'sk¡ɛnukʟuwa.	Tiā'maq	iqtē'lôx;			2
that	net.	Then	they approached them secretly.	Shoot	he was done with them;
ka'nauwē	pāʟ	tqā'matcX	ē'iaʟq.	La'ktîX	igō'Xomaya	tê'lXam.		3
all	full	arrows	his body.	Four times	they met	the people.
Kōpā'	iō'ya,	igē'kta.	Kē'nuwa	itgē'gɛlga.	Ā'nqa	ē'wa	mā'ʟnîX	4
There	he went,	he ran.	Try	they took him.	Already	there	seaward igē'kta.	Igiktē'mɛnq.	Nē2ct	igō'xoala	ta'Xi	nauā'itk.	Kōpā'		5
he ran.	He dived.	Not	they shook	those	nets.	There yaXī'	igiktē'mɛnq	kōpā'	itkXɛ'nitck	ta'Xi	tqā'matcX.	Ka'nauwē		6
then	he dived	there	they drifted	those	arrows.	All
Lāq	itxē'xôx	ta'Xi	tqā'matcX.	YaXī'	mā'ʟnîX	ʟāx	igē'xôx.	7
come out	they did	those	arrows.	Here	seaward	visible	he became.
Igō'Xok¡oa	ta-îtci	tê'lXam.	Igē'kîm	ya'Xi	iq¡u'lîpX:	"Manē'x		8
They went home	those	people.	He said	that	youth:	"When nɛct	iā'c	amcgiō'xa,	a'qa	nîct	qantsî'X	amcgiqɛlkɛlā'ya.	Manē'x	9 not	let alone	you do him,	then	never		you will see him.	When
tq¡ēx	amckto'xoa	amcgiō'qumita	guā'nɛsum,	amcō'yima,	ac			10 like	you do it	you see him	always,	you go,	and aqɛntâ'qumita	yaXī'	wā'q¡pas	qantxcgɛ'lîʟ."	Igē'tcuktîX,	kawī'X			11
you look at us	there	target	we play."	Day came,	early iō'ya	iā'cîkc.	Igigɛ'tcax,	igigɛ'tcax,	igigɛ'tcax.	Lē'lē	igigɛ'tcax.		12
he went	his friend.	He cried,	he cried,	he cried.	Long	he cried.
Igē'kîket.	IutXuē'la	iā'cîkc.	"Ō,	tɛmē'giutkoax,	cîkc.	Ā'2qa		13
He looked.	There stood	his friend.	"Oh,	your unhappiness,	friend.	Then kapɛ't	imɛ'nqɛlkɛl.	A'qa	tɛll	igē'xôx	ē'tcamxtc."	Kōpā'	wā'q¡pas	14
enough	you saw me.	Then	tired	it became	my heart."	There	target
icxɛ'cgam.	A'qa	wi	itgī'ya	tê'lXam.	Aqā'watîkc	tcakɛnīma'		15
they two played.	Then	again	they went	the people.	Several	in a canoe
itgī'ya.	Ka'nauwē	tqā'matcX	itgūguigā't	ta-îtci	tê'lXam.	A'qa		16
they went.	All	arrows	they held them	those	people.	Then wī't'ax	iqcXɛ'ʟakoa.	Itciō'lXam	iā'cîkc:	"A'qa	wi	iqtxɛ'ʟakᵘt."		17
again	they were surrounded.	He said to him	his friend:	"Now	again	we are surrounded."
A'qa	wi	tiā'maq	iqtē'lôx;	quî'nɛmîX	igō'Xomaya	tê'lXam		18
Then	again	shot	he was with them;	five times	coiled around	people them. He was full of arrows; then he ran to the water. The people tried to take hold of him, but he ran into the water. The people tried to harpoon him. All the arrows came out and he emerged far from the shore. Then his friend said: "Now you may cry; you will never see him again. He will always remain a monster." Then the people cried. They cut their hair, and his friend cried all the time. Five days his friend cried. He looked up and there his friend was standing. "Oh, my poor friend. I am not dead. You are always crying for me. I am in a house like yours. My name is Ēmōgoā'lɛkc. A person who sees me will become a chief. Now stop crying." Thus he spoke to his friend.

1 nuXoā'goamx. Pā2ʟ igē'xôx tqā'mateX, a'qa wi igē'kta mā'ʟnîX.
they met. Full he became arrows, then again he ran seaward.

2 Kē'nuwa itgē'gɛlga ta-îtci tê'lXam. YaXī'2 mā'ʟnîX igē'kta.
Try they took him those people. Here seaward he ran.

3 Kē'nuwa itkʟē'loqck ta-îtci ikɛ'nimpā qōgoakē'x tê'lXam.
Try they harpooned him those canoe in being in people.

4 Ka'nauwē ʟāq itxē'x tqā'mateX. YaXī'2 mā'ʟnîX ʟāx igē'xôx.
All come out they did the arrows. Here seaward visible he became.

5 Igē'kîm ya'Xi iā'cîkc: "K¡ō'ma tc¡a amcxē'nîmtck. Nîct qantsî'X
He said that his friend: "Perhaps behold you cry. Never 6 amcgiqɛlkɛlā'ya. A'qa guā'nɛsum iqcxē'ʟau igē'x." Igoxoē'nîmtck you will see him." Then always a monster he is." They cried

7 ta-îtci tê'lXam. Ka'nauwē ʟɛ'gaqcō ʟq¡ōp itgî'lôx. Ka'nauwē those people. All their hair cut they did it. All

8 ʟkā'etax iā'cîkc nikteā'xɛma-itx. Qoā'nɛmîX iō'qxoya igigɛ'tcax days his friend he cried. Five times his sleeps he cried

9 iā'cîkc. Ē'wa igē'xôx, iutXuē'la iā'cîkc. "Ō, tɛmē'giutkoax, cîkc.
his friend. Thus he did, he stood his friend. "Oh, your poverty, friend.

10 Nɛcqē nō'maqt, tatc¡a guā'nɛsum mɛngɛ'mqɛlqt. K¡oaʟqā' ʟ¡a Not at all I die, behold always you cry for me. Just so behold

11 maí'ka tqu'ʟ¡pa nōxt. Ēmōgoā'lɛkc itcî'xaleu. Qiā'x ʟkak¡ɛmā'na your house in I am. Ēmōgoā'lɛkc my name. If a chief 12 ʟxō'laʟɛmx tcXua ʟkɛnqɛlkɛlē'ma-îtx. Kōpē't aqa imgɛ'tcax," he gets then they will always see me. Enough now you cry,"

13 itcīō'lXam iā'cîkc.
he said to him his friend.

The Brothers (told 1894)

The name of a country is Nagiō'na. Five men and one woman lived in a town there. Every year, in October, they went to Nē'tɛl to dry salmon. They never gave their youngest brother any food. They gave him only tail pieces of salmon. They did so every year. They gave him only tail pieces of salmon. For five years they moved from Nagiō'na to Nē'tɛl and back again. Then the youngest brother had become a youth. When they were moving to Nē'tɛl, he said to his elder brothers: "Leave me here at our house." They had a large house fourteen fathoms long. Then they moved to Nē'tɛl and left their youngest brother behind.

They stayed a long time at Nē'tɛl; then the eldest one said: "Go and take food to our youngest brother. Take him tail pieces of salmon." One of them went and took his youngest brother tail

Nagiō'na iā'xaleu ya'Xi ēlX. Kōpā' iLā'lXam Lquî'nEmîkc 1 Nagiō'na its name that country. There their town five Lkā'lukc kɟa aēXā't aqagē'lak. NixEltā'qoamxîX tcā'maLîx 2 men and one woman. Every year October nixō'xoaxîX qaLō'îx Nē'tɛlpa qaLxElukcEmā'mamx. Nēst qantsî'x 3 it got they went Nē'tɛl to they went to dry salmon. Not ever qaLgilqoē'mX ya'Xi iLā'mXîX. Ma'nîx qaLgilqoē'mX, aqa ctā'ema 4 they gave him to eat that their younger brother. When they gave him to eat. then only spɟiā'sX aqcîlqoē'mX. Ka'nauwē Lqetā'qEmax kɟoaLqē'. Ctā'ema 5 salmon tails he was given to eat. All years thus. Only spɟiā'sX aqcilqoē'mEniLx. Â, qoä'nEmîX Lqetā'qEmax iLgE'Layu. 6 salmon tails he was given to eat. Ah, five times years they moved.
A'qa iqɟu'lîpX igē'xôx ya'Xi iLā'mXîX. A'qa wi iLgE'Layu ē'wa 7
Then a youth he became that their younger brother. Then again they moved there Nē'tɛl. ItcLō'lXam Lē'yalXtîkc: "Tā'ka amcînqElō'qLqa gi 8 Nē'tɛl. He said to them his elder brothers: "Here leave me this tɛ'lxaqLpa." Itā'2qa-îL ta'Xi tɛ'LaqL. Itā'tɛlXam LE'ganXa igō'n 9 our house at." Large that house. Ten fathoms more lakt ta'Xi tqu'Lē. A'qa iLaqE'lōqLq iLā'mXîX; iLgE'Layu ē'wa 10 four that house. Then they left him their younger brother; they moved there Nē'tɛlpa. 11
Nē'tɛl to.
Lē'lē Lxē'la-it Nē'tɛlpa. Igē'k'îm ya'Xi ixgE'qunq: 12
Long they stayed Nē'tɛl at. He said that the eldest one:
"Mcgîlqoē'mam ilxā'mXîX. Amcktîlqoē'mamx tpɟiā'sXîkc." 13
"Go and give him to eat our younger brother. Bring him to eat salmon tails."
Iō'ya ēXā't. Itcîlqoē'mam iā'mXîX tpɟiā'sXîkc. Iō'yam ta'Xi 14
He went one. He brought him to eat his younger brother salmon tails. He arrived that pieces of salmon. He came to the house, but his youngest brother was not there. Bird skins were hanging in the house. He waited some time, but his youngest brother did not come home. Then that person went home again. He hung up the tail pieces of salmon and left them. In the evening the youngest brother came home. He entered and the tail pieces were hanging there. He thought: "Oh, they came to see me. What shall I do with those tail pieces? They just give me tail pieces of salmon to eat." He hung them up near the door, and skinned the birds which he had found on the beach. All the year round he searched for birds on the beach; he always caught birds on the beach.

His brothers stayed for a long time at Nē'tɛl. Then the eldest one said again: "Take food to our youngest brother." Tail pieces of salmon were cut again, and another of the brothers went. He arrived at the house and entered. There was nobody there, but one side of the house was full of bird skins. His youngest brother was not there.

1 tɛ'ɬaqɬpa. Kɟā ya'Xi iā'mXîX. Iā'ema tɬ!ɛsp!ɛ'suks cu'XcuX their house at. Nothing that his younger brother. Only birds skinned

2 ōguakē'x. Qu'ɬquɬ tā'wîxt tɛ'ɬaqɬpa. Kē'nuwa itcigî'mɬa-it.
they were. Hang they did their house in. Try he waited for him.

3 Näct igiXatk!oā'mam. Aqa wi igē'Xk!oa yā'Xi igoaɬē'lX.
Not he came home. Then again he went home that person.

4 Quɬ itctā'wîX ta'Xi tɬ!iā'sXîks. Itcō'qo-iqɬq. Tsō'yustîX, Hang he did them those salmon tails. He left them. In the evening,

5 a'qa igîXk!oā'mam ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX. Iō'pqa. A'qa quɬ tā'wîXt then he came home that youth. He entered. Then hang they did

6 tɬ!iā'sXîks. Igî'xlō'Xoa-it: "Ō, iqɛnɛ'tkctam ɬ!. Tān salmon tails. He thought: "Oh, they came to see me, behold! What

7 ɬqa aniuguē'xa gi tɬ!iā'sXîks? Koalē'wa ɬqa tɬ!iā'sXîks maybe shall I do with them these salmon tails? Just maybe salmon tails

8 iqtnɛ'lqoîm." Quɬ itctā'wîX k!awusî'qēpa. A'qa wi cu'XcuX
I am given to eat." Hang he did them near the door. Then again skin

9 itcî'tux tɬ!ɛsp!ɛ'suks. Itctō'mitckē mā'ɬnîX tkamilā'lqpa.
he did them birds. He found them on the beach seaward beach on.

10 Ka'nauwē ɬqā'etaq qayacktā'goatcgoa-itx. Qatctomē'tck!ēnanɛma-îtx
All year he went to search on the beach. He always found them on the beach 11 tɬ!ɛsp!ɛ'suks.

birds.

12 Lē'le ɬxē'la-it lē'ialXtîkc ya'Xi Nē'tɛlpa. A'qa wi itcɬō'lXam Long they stayed his elder brothers that Nē'tɛl at. Then again he told them

13 ē'ɬalXt: "Ō, mcgilqoē'mam ilxā'mXîX." A'qa wi ɬq!u'pɬq!up their elder brother: "Oh, bring him food our younger brother." Then again cut 14 iqɛ'tux tɬ!iā'sXîks. A'qa wi iō'ya igō'n ē'Xat ē'yalXt. Iō'yam they were salmon tails. Then again he went another one his elder brother. He arrived

15 tɛ'ɬaqɬpa. Iā'ckōpq. Kɟamm tē'lXam, tā'ema tɬ!ɛsp!ɛ'suks their house at. He entered. No people, only birds

16 itā'p!ackoal pāɬ tɛ'nat tqu'lē. Kɟā ya'Xi iā'mXîX. Nō'l!îX their skins full one side the house. Nothing that his younger brother. A little

He stayed a short while and then he hung up the tail pieces. He went home. In the evening the youth came home. He saw the tail pieces and thought: "They always give me tail pieces to eat," and hung them up near the door. Now two strings of tail pieces were there. He did not eat them. All the year round he went to search for birds on the beach. He always caught birds there.

The brothers stayed for a long time. Then the eldest brother said again: "Go and take food to our youngest brother." Then another one went and brought him tail pieces of salmon to eat. He arrived, but his youngest brother was not there. The house was full of bird skins. The birds were skinned, and the tail pieces were hanging there. He thought: "What may our youngest brother eat?" Two strings of tail pieces were hanging there. Their youngest brother had not eaten them. Then that person went home again. In the evening the youth came home. "Oh, behold, they brought me that food!" He took the tail pieces and hung them up. Now three strings of tail pieces were

---

iō′ʟa-it.	Quʟ	itctā′wîX	ta′Xi	tp¡iā′sXîks.	Igē′Xk¡oa.	1
he stayed.	Hang	he did them	those	salmon tails.	He went home.
Tsō′yustîX	igîXk¡oā′mam	ya′Xi	iq¡u′lîpX.	Itcō′quikɛl	tp¡iā′sXîks.	2
In the evening	he came home	that	youth.	He saw them	the salmon tails.
Igîxlō′Xoa-it:	"Qulɛ′tc	sp¡iā′sX	iqɛnɛ′lqo-îm."	Quʟ	itctā′wîX	3
He thought:	"Always	salmon tails	I am given to eat."	Hang	he did them
k¡awusî′qē.	A′qa	mô′ketîX	k¡au	nōguakē′x	ta′Xi	tp¡iā′sXîks.	4
near the door.	Then	twice	tied	they were	those	tail pieces.
Nāct	itixɛ′lɛmuX.	Ka′nauwē	lqā′etaq	qayacktā′goatcgoa-itx.	5
Not	he ate them.	All	year	he went to search on the beach.
Qatctōmē′tck¡ɛmanɛma-itx	tp¡ɛsp¡ɛ′suks.	6
He always found them on the beach	birds.
A′qa	wi	lē′lē	ilxē′la-it.	A′qa	wi	igē′k·îm	ē′lalXt:	7
Then	again	long	they stayed.	Then	again	he said	their elder brother:
"Amcgîlqoē′mam	îlXā′mXîX."	A′qa	wi	iō′ya	ēXā′t	itcîlqoē′mam	8
"Bring him food	our younger brother."	Then	again	he went	one	he brought him food tp¡iā′sXîks.	Iō′yam	tɛ′laqlpa.	K¡ā	nîct	iōXt	ilā′mXîX.	Pāʟ	9
salmon tails.	He arrived	their house at.	Nothing	not	he was there	their younger brother.	Full ta′Xi	tqu′lē	tp¡ɛsp¡ɛ′suks	itā′p¡ackoal.	Tc¡u′Xtc¡uX	ōguakē′x.	10
that	house	birds	their skins.	Skinned	they were.
Quʟ	itctā′wîX	ta′Xi	tp¡iā′sXîks.	Igîxlō′Xoa-it:	"Tān	lqa	11
Hang	he did them	those	salmon tails.	He thought:	"What	maybe ixelā′x	intcā′mXîX?"	Quʟ	tā′2wîXt	môkct	tgā′lana.	Nāct	12
he does	our younger brother?"	Hung	were	two	their ropes.	Not itixɛ′lɛmux	iʟā′mXîX.	A′qa	wi	igē′Xk¡oa	ya′Xi	igoaʟē′lX.	13
he ate them	their younger brother.	Then	again	he went home	that	person.
Tsō′yustîX	igîXk¡oā′mam	ya′Xi	iq¡u′lîpX.	"Ō,	iqɛnē′tqoē′mam	14
In the evening	he came home	that	youth.	"Oh,	they brought me food
l¿gi!"	Itcō′guiga	ta′Xi	tp¡iā′sXîks.	Quʟ	itctā′wîX.	A′qa	lōn	15
behold this!"	He took them	those	salmon tails.	Hang	he did them.	Then	three tgā′lana	igō′xoax	ta′Xi	tp¡iā′sXîks.	A′qa	ts¡u′Xts¡uX	itcî′tox	16
their ropes	were	those	salmon tails.	Then	skin	he did them hanging there. Then he skinned his birds. His house was full of bird skins.

The brothers stayed on. Then the eldest brother said: "Take tail pieces of salmon to our youngest brother." Another one of the brothers went and arrived at their house. His youngest brother was not there. He hung up the tail pieces and went home. In the evening the youth came home. He made a fire and saw the tail pieces. "Oh," he thought, "they brought me food. They give me tail pieces to eat. Such refuse is given to dogs only." He took them and hung them up near the door. Then he skinned the birds which he had found on the beach. There were all kinds of sea birds. He stayed for a long time. All the year round he was searching on the beach, where he caught birds. His house was full of bird skins.

His elder brothers stayed there for a long time and the eldest one said again: "Quick! take food to our youngest brother." Again they

---

1 tp¡Esp¡E'suks. LĀ'xLax itciō'xoax itā'p¡ackoal. A'qa pāL ta'Xi the birds. Take off he did them their skins. Then full that

2 tē'yaqL tp¡Esp¡E'suks itā'p¡ackoal.
his house birds their skins.

3 A'qa wi iLxē'2la-it La-îtci LĒ'yalXtîkc. Aqa wi iLE'k·îm:
Then again they stayed those his elder brothers. Then again he said:

4 "Amcgîlqoē'mam îlxā'mXîX tp¡iā'cXîks." A'qa wi iō'ya ē'Xat
"Bring him food our younger brother salmon tails." Then again he went one

5 ē'yalXt. Iō'yam tE'LaqLpa. K¡ayā' igē'xôx iLā'mXîX. QuL his elder brother. He arrived their house at. Nothing became his younger brother. Hang up

6 itctā'wîX ta'Xi tp¡iā'sXîks. A'qa wi igē'Xk¡oa. Tsō'yustîX he did them those salmon tails. Then again he went home. In the evening

7 igîXk¡oa'mam ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX, iga-ixE'lgiLx. A'qa itcō'kuîkEl he came home that youth, he made a fire. Then he saw them

8 tp¡iā'cXîks. "Ō, iqenētqoē'mam," igîxLō'Xoa-it. "Koale'wa Lqa the salmon tails. "Oh, they brought me food," he thought. "Just so maybe

9 tp¡iā'cXîks iqanE'lqo-îm. Lā'ema Lk¡ō'tk¡ōt tcXua iq¡ē'yip salmon tails I am given to eat. Only a dog then refuse

10 aqēLElqoē'muX." Itcō'guiga ta'Xi tp¡iā'sXîks. QuL itctā'wîX he is given to eat." He took them those salmon tails. Hang he did them

11 k¡awusî'qē. A'qa wi cu'XcuX itcî'tôx ta'Xi tp¡Esp¡E'suks ta'Xi near the door. Then again skin he did them those birds those

12 itctō'mitckē mā'LnîX qa tp¡Esp¡E'suks, ka'nauwē qā'dEmax he found them on the beach seaward where birds, all kinds

13 itā'lkuilē tp¡Esp¡E'suks. Lē'lē iō'La-it. Ka'nauwē Lqā'etaq similar to birds. Long he stayed. All year

14 nîcktā'guatcgoa-itx. Qatctōmē'tck¡ēnanEma-itx tp¡Esp¡E'suks. A'qa he searched on the beach. He always found them on the beach birds. Then 15 pā2L ta'Xi tē'yaqL ya'Xi itā'p¡ackoal tp¡Esp¡E'suks.

full that his house that their skins birds.

16 Lē'lē iLxē'la-it LĒ'yalXtkc. A'qa wi igē'kîm ē'LalXt:
Long they stayed his elder brothers. Then again he said their elder brother:

17 "Ayā'q îmcgîlqoē'mam îlxā'mXîX." A'qa wi Lq¡u'pLq¡up
"Quick bring him food our younger brother" Then again cut

18 iqE'tôx ta'Xi tp¡iā'sXîks. A'qa wi iō'ya ya'Xi ēXā't.
they were done those salmon tails. Then again he went that one.

cut tail pieces of salmon and one of them went. He said: "I am going in vain; he will not eat these tail pieces. Those which we gave him before are still there. His house is full of bird skins. Perhaps he will do something with these bird skins." Then the eldest brother said their youngest brother might be feeling lonesome and that for this reason he might play with the bird skins. Now that person went to see their youngest brother. He brought him food. When he reached their house his youngest brother was singing shaman's songs. He thought: "Behold! he is singing." He looked into the house. There he was lying on the bed on his back singing. He sang: "They gave me tail pieces, but I am not discontented." Thus he sang. His face had changed. [The visitor] said to his youngest brother: "Are you singing?" but he did not reply. He spoke to him five times, but he did not reply. Then his brother gave it up and went home. He came home. He felt sorry. His heart was sad. He stayed a long time and did not speak. Then his wife said to him: "What is

Igē'k·îm:	"Qanā'qa	nō'ya.	Nā2cqē(t)	ixɛtɛlā'x	gi	tp¡iā'cXîks.	1
He said:	"In vain	I go.	Not at all	he eats them	these	salmon tails.
Ōguakē'xax	tau	ā'nqa	iqtîlqoē'mam,	a'qa	pāL	tau	tɛ'lxaqL	2
They are there	what	before	he was given to eat,	then	full	that	our house
itā'p¡ackoal	tp¡ɛsp¡ɛ'suks.	Tā'nki	LXuan	atciuguē'xa	ya'Xi	3
their skins	birds.	Something	perhaps	he will do with them	those itā'p¡ackoal	tp¡ɛsp¡ɛ'suks."	Igē'kîm	ya'Xi	ē'LalXt:	"LXuan	4
their skins	birds."	He said	that	their elder brother:	"Perhaps ē'yamXtc	lāx	igē'xôx,	tāntxo	tîxɛnɛmō'tXumx	ta'Xi	5
his heart	lonesome	became,	therefore	he plays with them	those tp¡ɛsp¡ɛ'suks."	Iō'ya	ya'Xi	ēXā't	igoaLē'lX.	Itciō'kctam	ya'Xi	6 birds."	He went	that	one	person.	He went to see him	that iLā'mXîX;	itcîlqoē'mam.	Q¡oā'p	itctō'xoam	tɛ'LaqL,	aqa	7
their younger brother;	he brought him food.	Near	he reached it	their house,	then LēxɛnLā'mit	iā'mXîX.	Igîxlō'xoa-it:	"Ō,	Lqōst,	ē'ktcxam	8
he sang much	his younger brother.	He thought:	"Oh,	behold,	singing shaman's songs
intcā'mXîX."	Itcickxā'napq	tɛ'LaqLpa.	Icîlgā'qōX	iā'lXamēpa	9
our younger brother."	He looked into	their house in.	He lay on his back	his bed on LēxɛnLā'mit.	lxō'la:	"Spîā'sXîks	qnɛ'lɛqoē'2m,	tatc¡a,	nîctā'2	10
he was singing much.	He said:	"Salmon tails	I was given to eat,	behold,	not agɛxɛ'sga."	K¡oaLqē'	igē'xôx	ē'ktcxam.	IxɛLō'ita	a'qa	11
I am discontented."	Thus	he did	he sang.	Different	then sia'xôstpa.	Kē'nuwa	itciō'lXam	ia'mXîX.	"Mɛ'ktcxam	tci?"	12
his face is.	Try	he spoke to him	his younger brother.	"Do you sing	[int. part.]:"
Nē4ctqē	itciō'lXam.	Quā'nɛmîX	kē'nuwa	itciō'lXam.	Nāct	13
Not at all	he spoke to him.	Five times	try	he spoke to him.	Not itcteqa'watck.	Tā'menua	igē'xôx	ya'Xi	ē'yalXt.	A'qa	igē'Xk¡oa.	14
he answered.	Give up	he did	that	his elder brother.	Then	he went home.
Igî'Xk¡oā'mam.	Lē'yaxax.	Nîct	it¡ō'kti	igē'xôx	ē'yamXtc.	15
He came home.	He was sad.	Not	good	became	his heart.
Lē'2lē	iō'La-it,	nîct	igē'xalɛtcō.	Igiō'lXam	ayā'kikala:	"Qa	16
Long	he stayed,	not	he spoke.	She said to him	his wife:	"How the matter? Why are you sad?" He replied: "It does not stand well with your brother-in-law. I do not know what he is doing; he is singing shaman's songs, or it is something else. Our house there is full of bird skins. I spoke to him, but he did not reply at all. Five times I spoke to him, but he did not answer." Then his wife said: "The one who came home is sad. Maybe the one who is left behind is singing shaman's songs. He spoke to him, but he did not reply. His face has changed." Then the eldest brother said: "Make yourselves ready; to-morrow we will go home. We will go to our youngest brother."

On the next morning they made themselves ready. They went home. They put away their dried salmon and carried a few along. They approached their house. They heard the noise of birds eating in the house. They arrived at the house. Then birds flew around it. They flew down to the beach and out to sea. Part were outside the

1	cmE′xôx?	teqi	LE′mexax."	Iteō′lXam:	"Näet	t¡ayā′	ya′Xi
	are you?	just	you are sad."	He said to her:	"Not	good	that
2	imē′pōtexan.	LXuan	ē′ktexam	tci	qā′tgi	tci?	Pā2L	a′qa
	your brother-in-law.	Perhaps	singing shaman's songs	[int. part.]	how	[int. part.]?	Full	then
3	tau	tE′lxaqL	tp¡Esp¡E′suks	itā′p¡ackoal.	Kē′nuwa	wā′wa	inī′yux, that	our house	birds	their skins.	Try	talk	I did to him,
4	'nä′2cqē	wā′wa	itcî′nux.	Qoā′nEmîX	kē′nuwa	wā′wa	inī′yux,
	not at all	talk	he did to me.	Five times	try	talk	I did to him,
5	nä′cqē	itctînxa′watck."	Igaxgu′Lîtck	wu′Xi	ayā′kikala.	Igā′k·îm:
	not at all	he answered me."	She told	that	his wife.	She said:
6	"Näct	it¡ō′kti	ē′yamxtc	gigēXatk¡oā′mam.	LXuan	ē′ktexam
	"Not	good	his heart	the one who came home.	Perhaps	singing shaman's songs
7	tau	ē′lXaq¡awîlXam.	Kē′nuwa	wā′wa	itcī′yux,	nä′ctqē that	the one whom we deserted.	Try	talk	he did to him,	not at all 8	itctexa′watck.	Cxelō′ita	siā′xôst	sgē′xôx."	Igē′k·îm	ē′LalXt:
	he answered.	Different	his face	became."	He said	their elder brother:
9	"Ō′la	aqa	amcxEltXuī′tcga.	AlXk¡oā′ya.	Alxigō′qoama
	"To-morrow	then	make yourselves ready.	We will go home.	We will go to meet him 10	îlXā′mXîX."
	our younger brother."
11	Wāx	igē′teuktîX.	A′qa	iLxE′ltXuûtck.	A′qa	iLE′Xk¡oa.	Kōpā′
	Next day	it grew day.	Then	they made themselves ready.	Then	they went home.	There
12	iLgE′tutk	La′txalEma-emax.	ōXuā′caqt	tE′q¡awan.	Nō′L¡EmaX
	they put away	their food,	dry	salmon.	A little
13	iLgE′tuk·I.	Qjoā′p	iLō′yam	tE′LaqLpa.	A′qa	tc¡ē4k	tp¡Esp¡E′suks
	they carried it.	Near	they arrived	their house at.	Then	(noise of birds eating)	birds
14	ō′xo-itcX	ta′Xi	tE′LaqLpa.	ILaigoā′qoam	ta′Xi	tE′LaqLpa.
	they talked much	that	their house in.	They reached	that	their house at 15	Qoxuā′Lak^{u}t	ta′Xi	tE′LaqL,	toxuā′Lak^{u}t	ta′Xi	tp¡Esp¡E′suks.
	They flew around it	that	their house,	they flew around it	those	birds.
16	A′qa	itgE′lx	itk^{u}kLā′xitt	mā′lnîX	ē′maLpa.	ItgE′px,	itgE′px,
	Then	they went down to the water	they all went together	seaward	the sea to.	They came out,	they came out, house; part were coming out. Then one of the elder brothers of the youth said: "Did not I tell you that tail pieces were given to slaves only? Our youngest brother became ashamed. He has turned into a supernatural being. You see these birds? They have become his people." The birds all went out to sea. Then they entered the house. It was full of feathers. Their youngest brother had disappeared. He had gone out to sea, and had become a supernatural being. Then one of the elder brothers said: "Oh, our youngest brother! When an Indian finds him, he will give him whale meat." Then they burned their house. When the house was burned, one of them said: "When later generations wish to see supernatural beings, they shall sweep our house and they will find our coals." Then they cried and went far away. They left him.[1] itgɛ′px, aqā′wa a′qa lā′xanîX ōguakē′x. A′qa igē′kîm ya′Xi 1 they came out, part then outside were. Then he said that ēXā′t ē′yalXt ya′Xi iq¡u′lîpX: "Ē′XtîX lq inɛ′k·îm, lā′ema 2 one his elder brother that youth: "Once maybe I told you, only lā′etîX tcXua tp¡iā′sXîks aqlɛlqoē′mɛnil. A′qa igēxemā′sa-it 3 a slave then salmon tails they are given to eat. Then he is ashamed ilxā′mXîX. A′qa iō′lɛmax igē′xôx. Amɛktō′qumit ta′Xi 4 our younger brother. Then a supernatural being he became. You see them those tp¡ɛsp¡ɛ′suks, tiā′lXam itixɛ′lôx." Ka′nauwē itgɛ′lxa ta′Xi 5 birds, his people they are." All they went down those tp¡ɛsp¡ɛ′suks, ē′malpa itgī′ya. Ilā′ckupq tɛ′laql. Pā·ɛl wu′Xi 6 birds, the sea to they went. They entered their house at. Full that a′kɛmcō ta′Xi tɛ′laqlpa. K¡a ilā′mXîX. Io′lxa ma′lnîXpa, 7 feathers that their house at. Nothing their younger brother. He went down to the water to the water, ē′malpa. Ewā′ malnā′ niō′lɛmax igē′xôx. Igēkîm ya′Xi 8 the sea to. There seaward place of supernatural being he became. He said that ēXā′t ē′yalXt: "Ō, intcā′mXîX. Qiā′x ma′nîx alxigɛlkelā′ya 9 one his elder brother: "Oh, our younger brother. If when he sees him lgoalē′lX, a′qa ē′koalē atciɛlɛlqoē′mɛnila liā′tetanuē." A′qa 10 a person, then whale he will give them to eat his Indians." Then ilguXuc·gilx tɛ′laql. Ka′nauwē igō′XumalXa tɛ′laql. 11 they burnt it their house. All it was burnt their house.

Ile′kîm: "Manē′x naloxoā′xa tē′lXam alktoqoē′la gi tɛ′ntcaql, 12
They said: "When generations of people will sweep this our house, manē′x iō′lɛmax alēxalgɛlō′xoa, aqa alguegā′ma antcā′xalxatcX." 13 when supernatural beings they want to see supernatural beings, then they shall find them our coals."

Ā′qa ilxē′nîmtck; ilō′ya; kelā′îX ilgɛ′layu. 14
Then they cried; they went; far they moved.

[1] It is said that when a person who desires to find a supernatural helper weeds the place at Nagio'm called "The House of the Brothers," and then sweeps it, he may find coals. This is a sign that the lost brother will become a helper. If he does not find coals, his endeavor to obtain the supernatural helper will be fruitless.

The War of the Ghosts (told 1891)

There were people at Lgu'laq. One night two young men went to hunt seals. They came down the river. It became foggy and calm. While they were paddling they heard war-cries. They thought: "Maybe there is a war party." They escaped toward the shore and hid behind a log. Now canoes came up and they heard the noise of paddles. When the canoes came opposite them they saw one canoe coming up to them. There were five men in the canoe. They spoke to them: "What do you think? We wish to take you along. We are going up the river to make war on the people." One of the young men said: "I have no arrows." "Arrows are in the canoe." One of them said: "I will not go along, I might be killed. My relatives do not know where I have gone. You may go with them." Thus he spoke to his fellow. The one accompanied them.

---

1 Kōpā′ oxoelā′etîX ta-îtci tê′lXam Lgu′laqɬa. QāxLkanā′pōl
There they were those people Lgu′laq at. One night

2 aqesgoā′max ictagE′loya cta′Xi cmôket cqɨu′lîpX. Qā′eqamîX seals they went to hunt those two youths. Down the river

3 icî′tē. A′qa iga-ikxā′Lakoî̂X. ʟō igē′xoXî̂X. Aqa icqLē′wala.
they came. Then it became foggy. Calm it became. Then they paddled.

4 A′qa ickauitcE′maq tê′lXam. Ē′Lutq tgioxō′la. IcxLō′xoa-it: "Ō, Then they heard them people. War-cries they made them. They thought: "Oh,

5 itā′kɨēsaq LqōstI" Icxē′gela-îX LxE′leuX. Icxā′kamEla wu′Xi they go to war behold!" They landed inland. They hid behind that

6 ā′mqō agā′mLxEleu. A′qa igā′suwulX wu′Xi akE′nim log landward from it. Then they went up the river those canoes

7 icgaltcE′mElētEmtck. Xup xup xup ōgoaqLē′wala. IgacElō′yîmXit they heard them. (Noise of paddling) they paddled. They came opposite them

8 wu′Xi akE′nim. Icgē′qElkEl ēXt ikE′nim itē′t ctā′xkapa.
those canoes. They saw it one canoe came them to.

9 Igiegā′tqoam aqa ā′kɨaquinEmîkc. Iqcō′lXam: "Qā imtā′Xaqamit?
It reached them, then five men in the canoe. They were told: "How your mind?

10 IcxamtxA′txam. Alxkɨē′saqoama ē′wa cā′xalî̂X." Igē′kîm ya′Xi
We will take you along. We are going to war there upward." He said that 11 eXā′t: "NE′cqē tgE′qamatcX. Kɨā′ya tgE′qamatcX." "Ta′Xi one: "Not at all my arrows. None my arrows." "Those 12 tqā′matcX tā′kXaxt." Igē′kîm ya′Xi ēXā′t: "Nai′ka nāket arrows are in the canoe." He said that one: "I not

13 anxEltō′ma, iā′okî̂X aqEnuwā′qoax. NEcqē′ tgEnlō′xo-îx
I shall go in company, else I shall be killed. Not at all they know about me

14 tgE′cēuXtî̂kc." "Qā′txō," itciō′lXam, "mā′ema amxEltō′ma";
my relatives." "Must," he said to him, "you alone go in company";

15 itcio′lXam gietā′ggewal. IgixE′ltōm ya′Xi ēXā′t; iagE′La-it he said to him his companion. He went in company that one; he went into the canoe

He went into their canoe and the other went home. At midnight he returned and said: "My relative left me. He went to accompany the warriors who went up the river to make war."

Then the warriors went. The people in the canoe talked together. They came to a place on the other side of Kalama. The people went down to the water and they began to fight. He thought they were really people. When one of his fellows was shot, they carried him into the canoe and put him in there. Then the people continued to fight. Now one of them said: "Quick let us go home; that Indian has been shot." Now he thought: "Oh, they are ghosts." He did not feel sick, and they said he had been hit. Then the people went home. They arrived at Lgu'laq. One canoe landed, and that person went ashore. The people went down the river. He went up to the house and made a fire. He said: "Behold I accompanied the ghosts," and he told everything. "We did such and such a thing; we fought.

itā'XEnīmpa ta-îtci tê'lXam. Iō'ya, igē'Xk¡oa ya'Xi ēXā't. 1 their canoe in those people. He went, he went home that one.

Kā'tcEk wā'pōl igîXk¡oā'mam. "Ā, igînqE'loqL itcî'cuX. 2 Middle night he came home. "Ah, he left me my relative.

IgixE'ltōm; iugumā'tōm gitā'k¡ēsaq." 3
He went in company; he accompanied them warriors."

Ē'wa cā'xalîX itgī'ya gitā'k¡ēsaq, a'qa itgī'ya ta-îtci gitā'k¡ēsaq. 4
There upward they went the warriors, then they went those warriors.

Tā'21Xam ō'XuîtcX, ka'nauwē wu'Xi akE'nim. Itgī'yam ē'wa 5 People were talking, all those canoes. They arrived there k¡anatē'tōL Tk¡alā'ma. Itgā'Lxa ta-îtci tê'lXam, a'qa igoxoā'maqt. 6 on the other side of Kalama. They went toward the water those people, then they fought.

IgîxLō'xoa-ît ā'qanuwē tê'lXam. ILā'maq aqitELō'xoax ta-îtci 7
He thought really people. Shoot they were done those giLā'egewal, nā'wi iqLō'kIX ikE'nimpa. IqLEqXaemā'mamx ka 8 his companions, at once they were carried canoe to. They were put into the canoe and oxoā'maqt ta-îtci tê'lXam. A'qa iLE'kîm LēXā't: "Ai'aq, a'qa 9 they fought those people. Then he said one "Quick, then alXk¡uā'ya, a'qa iā'maq iqē'lôx ya'Xi itē'tanuē." IgîxLō'Xoa-ît: 10 we will go home, then shot he is that Indian." He thought:

"Ō, tmēmELō'ctîkc L¡!" Nāet qā'xpa iā'tcqam. Tatc¡a iqiō'lXam 11
"Oh, ghosts behold!" Not anywhere his sickness. Behold he was told iā'maq iqē'lôx. A'qa igō'Xoak¡oa ta-îtci tê'lXam. Itgā'2yam 12 shot he was. Then they went home those people. They arrived at

Lgu'laq. Txē'gela-îX ēXt itā'Xanīm. A'qa iaqE'lōLx ya'Xi 13 Lgu'laq. They landed one their canoe. Then he went ashore that igoaLē'lX, ac iaqE'lōLx; a'qa itgE'stsō ta-îtci tê'lXam. Iā'ptegam. 14 person, and he went ashore; then they went down the river those people. He came up, iga-iXE'lgILx. Igē'kîm: "TmēmELō'ctîkc L¡ gi inugomā'tōm." 15 he made a fire. He said: "Ghosts behold these I accompanied them."

Igixk'Lē'laLEmtck: "Ā'wa înteî'xōx. YaXi' întexI'maqt. 16
He told much: "Thus we did. There we fought.

Many of our fellows were killed, and many of those who were attacked were killed. They said that I was shot, and I did not feel sick." He told it all, and then he became quiet. It was nearly daylight when he became quiet. When the sun rose, he fell down. Something black came out of his mouth and blood came out of his anus. His face became contorted. He was dead. The people jumped up and cried. He remained dead.

1 Lgaˈpɪ̣latîkc iqtōˈtena gintcāˈcgewal. Lgāˈpɛ̣latîkc îqtōˈtena ta-îtci Many they were killed our companions. Many they were killed those

2 sāq iqɛˈtôx. IqɛnōˈlXam, itcîˈmaq iqēˈnɛlôx. K¡āˈya, nîct qāˈxpa war was made on them. I was told, I shot I was done. Nothing, not anywhere

3 itcîˈtcqam." Igîxkʷlɛ̄ˈlalɛmtck kaˈnauwē, aqa qān igēˈxôx. Q¡oāˈp my sickness." He told much all, then silent he was. Nearly 4 alitcōˈktiya, aqa qān igēˈxôx. IgēˈtcuktîX, igēk¡ēˈlapx·itîX. Ēˈwa daylight came, then silent he was. Day came, he fell over. Thus 5 iāˈkcXata tāˈnki lāx igēˈxôx lɛˈlluX. Ēˈwa iāpōtcāˈt Lqāˈwulqt his mouth something come out did black. Thus his anus blood

6 lāx iLîˈxôx. Icîkpēˈqko-ît. Iōˈmaqt. Iguxoalāˈyutck ta-îtci come out did. His face was contorted. He died. They arose those 7 tōˈlXam. Igoxoēˈnîmtck. Guāˈnɛsum iōˈmaqt.

people. They cried. Always he was dead.

The War of the Ghosts (told 1894)

There were many people at Monticello. They were always afraid. Two friends went down the river to hunt seals. It became foggy. Then one of them said to his friend: "Let us go home; we shall lose our way." Then they came down the river. They heard war-cries. One of them said to his friend: "Quick! let us hide: maybe we are going to be attacked." Then they went ashore and placed their canoe behind a log. Then the people raised their war cry. They were just opposite them on the water. One canoe came to them: "We came to fetch you; we go up the river to make war." The two men said: "We have no arrows." "Oh, there are many arrows in this canoe." One of the men said: "I will go along." The steersman said: "I am lazy; I might be shot." Then one of them

---

LXelā′etîX qaciā′mictîX. Lgā′pElatîke ta-îtci tê′lXam oxoelā′etîX. 1
There were the people of Monticello. Many those people there were.

Goā′nEsum kꞌwae oguakē′xax ta-îtci tê′lXam. A′qa ictō′ya eta′Xi 2 Always afraid were those people. Then they went those two ctā′kꞌamôket cxā′cîke. Alxayō′max ictakE′loya. Qā′2eqamîX icî′tē, 3 two in a canoe two friends. Seals they went to catch. Down the river they came, a′qa iga-ikXa′Laqo-îX. Itcio′lXam ya′Xi ia′cîke: "Atxkꞌoa′ya, 4 then it became foggy. He said to him that his friend: "Let us go home, atxomā′takuita." A′qa icî′tē qa′eqamîX. A′qa ickauitcE′maq 5 we shall lose our way." Then they came down the river. Then they heard them tê′lXam, ē′Lutk tgiuxō′la. Atciō′lXam iā′cîke: "A′yaq atxpcō′ta. 6 people, war-cries they made. He said to him his friend: "Quick we will hide.

Sāq Lxuan aqElxō′xoa." A′qa icxē′gela-îX LxE′leuX. Ē′mqō 7 War perhaps is made on us." Then they landed landward. A log ayā′mLxEleu icgiugā′mitax ictā′Xanim. A′qa ē′Lutk tgioxō′la 8 landward from it they put it their canoe. Then war cries they made ta-îtci tê′lXam. Actā′maLnapa itgatē′mam ta-îtci tê′lXam. A′qa 9 those people. Toward the water from them arrived those people. Then igē′tē ēXt ikE′nim. Igitā′2 igicgā′tqoam. "Â, îcxamtxā′txam; 10 it came one canoe. It came it reached them. "Ah, we came to fetch you;

alxkꞌē′saqoama ē′wa cā′xalîX." "Â," icî′kꞌîm, "kꞌā tEntā′qamateX," 11
we are going to war there upward." "Ah," they said, "none our arrows."

"Ō, tqā′mateX Lgā′pEla gi ikE′nimpa." Igē′kꞌîm ya′Xi eXā′t: 12
"Oh, arrows many this canoe in." He said that one:

"Nai′ka anxEltō′ma." Igē′kꞌîm ya′Xi ē′qiamit: "Nai′ka qꞌam 13
"I I shall go in company." He said that steersman: "I lazy nkē′xax, iā′okîX itcî′maq aqinlō′xoax." A′qa iagî′La-it ya′Xi 14

I am, else I shot I am." Then he went into the canoe that eXā′t. A′qa itgī′ya ta-îtci tê′lXam itgE′suwulXt. A′qa iē′XkꞌoA 15 one. Then they went those people they went up the river. Then he went home went into the canoe and the people went up the river. The other one went home. The people went a long way. On the other side of Kalama they made war upon the people. When one of them was shot, they carried him into the canoe and laid him down there. Just so did those of the other side. The people fought a long time. Then one person said: "Quick! let us go home. That Indian has been hit." The man thought: "Oh, those people I came with are ghosts." They went home. They went to the beach of his town and carried him ashore. He went up. It was nearly daylight when he came to his house. He said: "I went with the ghosts. I was told that I was shot, but I did not feel sick." Then he told them about it. Daylight came in the house. Then he fell down dead. Blood came out of his mouth, and something black came out of his anus. It looked like salal berries. His friend was well. He did not die, because he did not accompany the ghosts.

1 iā'kɟaeXat ya'Xi eXā't. A'qa itgī'ya ta-îtci tê'lXam, kɛlā'-îX one in canoe that one. Then they went those people, far

2 itgī'ya. Itgī'ya, itgī'ya, itgī'ya. Kɟanatē'tuL Kɟalā'mapa kōpā' they went. They went, they went, they went. On the other side of Kalama there

3 xigō igoxoā'maqt ta-îtci tê'lXam. LaxĭL' iLā'maq aqiLɛlō'xoax, when they fought those people. Those shot they were,

4 nā'wi aqLōkɪ ikɛ'nimpa. AqLɛqxaimā'mamx. Kɟoaɪqē' ta-îtci at once they were carried the canoe to. They were placed into the canoe. Thus those

5 ē'wa ē'natîX qa'tōXt. Lē'lē iguXoā'maqt ta-îtci tê'lXam. A'qa there on the other side they did. Long they fought those people. Then

6 iLɛ'k·îm La'Xi LɛXā't LgoaLē'lX: "A'yaq alxɛ'xatkɟoa, a'qa iā'maq he said that one person: "Quick let us go home, then shot

7 iqē'luX ya'Xi Itē'tanuē." A'qa igixLō'Xoa-ît ya'Xi igoaLē'lX:
he is that Indian." Then he thought that person:

8 "Ō, tmēmɛlō'ctîkc iLgenukomā'tōm." A'qa igō'kɟoaxoa ta-îtci
"Oh, ghosts I accompanied them." Then they returned those

9 tê'lXam. Itgā'ɂya aLā'maLnapa, ayā'maLna ya'Xi iLā'lXam. A'qa people. They went toward the water from it, toward the water from it that his town. Then 10 iqiaqa'luketx. Iō'ptcga. A'qa qɟoā'p ē'kuтɛlīL, iō'ptcgam tɛ'LaqLpa.

he was carried ashore. He went up. Then near morning star, he came up the town to.

11 Igē'k·îm: "Lmē'mɛlō'ctîkc iLginukomā'tom. Iqɛnō'lXam itcî'maq
He said: "Ghosts I accompanied them. I was told I shot

12 iqē'nɛlux kɟa nāct qā'xpa itcî'tcqam." A'qa igîxkuLē'lalɛmtck
I was and not anywhere my sickness." Then he told 13 ya'Xi igoaLē'lX. Tuwā'X igō'xax ta'Xi tqu'Lē; igē'tcuktîX.

that person. Light became that house; day came.

14 A'qa igixē'maxit iō'maqt. Iā'keXapa Lqā'wulqt LāX iLɛ'xôx.
Then he fell down he was dead. His mouth at blood come out did.

15 Iā'pōtcpa LāX igē'xôx tā'nki LɛllX Lɟa Lgungu'ntē. Pɟā'la iā'cîkc,
His anus at come out did something black just like salal berries. Well his friend,

16 nîct iō'maqt qē'wa nîct igixɛ'ltōm. Nîct iugomā'tōm ta-îtci not he died because not he went in their company. Not he accompanied them those 17 tmēmɛlō'ctîkc.

ghosts.

The TkulXiyogoā'ikc (told 1894).

There was a chief at Nq!ulā'was. His name was Pō'XpuX. When a woman had a male child, he threw it into the water. When she had a female child, he allowed it to grow. The chief of the people of Nq!ulā'was was bad. When one of his wives made a slight mistake, he hit her and killed her. Now a woman gave birth to a boy. Then the chief said: "What is it that my wife gave birth to?" He was told that it was a girl. "Well, let her grow up!" When the child became large, his mother was killed. He used to wear a coat, but behold! he was a male. Now his mother's mother took care of him. Then the two moved a long distance away. Now the boy whose mother had been killed grew up. He bathed in all the lakes. His grandmother sent him to bathe. One night she sent him again to bathe. A lake was

TkulXiyogoā'îkc ltā'xēxik!alx

The TkulXiyogoā'ikc Their Tale

ĒXā't	iLā'Xak!Emana	giLā'q!ulawas.	Pō'XpuX	iā'xaleu.	1
One	their chief	the people of Nq!ulā'was.	Pō'XpuX	his name.
Manē'x	Le'kala	Liā'xan	qatcLalē'maLxax,	manē'x	Lqagē'lak	a'qa	2
When	a male	his child	he threw it into the water,	when	a female	then qatcLō'mtamitx.	Ia'mEla	ya'Xi	ikak!Emā'na.	iLā'Xak!Emana	3
he raised her.	Bad	that	chief.	their chief giLā'q!ulawas.	Manē'x	Liā'kikal,	ā'nqa	qatcLuwā'qoax;	nōL!	4
the people of Nq!ulā'was.	When	his wife,	already	he killed her;	a little pō'Xuic	niLgElō'xoax,	ā'nqa	qatcLuwā'qoax.	Ā'2qa	igakXô'tōm	5 mistake	she made,	already	he killed her.	Then	she gave birth
wu'Xi	aeXā't	aqagē'lak,	Le'kala	ikLōxô'tōm.	A'qa	igē'k!îm	6
that	one	woman,	a male	she gave birth to it.	Then	he said
ya'Xi	ikak!Emā'na:	"Tā'nki	igioxô'tōm	agE'kikal?"	Aqiō'lXam:	7
that	chief:	"What	she gave birth to it	my wife?"	He was told
"Aqagē'lak."	Q!oā'L	aqLō'mtamita.	A'qa	iLā'qa-iL	La'Xi	8
"A female."	All right	they raised her.	Then	large	that Lk!ā'skas.	A'qa	iqō'waq	wu'Xi	wā'yaq	ya'Xi	ik!ā'skas.	9
child.	Then	she was killed	that	his mother	that	boy.
Goā'nEsum	ayā'q!ēLxap.	tatc!a	ē'kala.	Ā'qa	igiō'mtamit	ayā'ckîX.	10
Always	his coat,	behold!	a male.	Then	she raised him	his grandmother.
A'qa	îcgE'Layu,	kElā'îX	îctō'ya.	A'qa	wi	iqō'waq	wā'yaq	ya'Xi	11
Then	they two moved,	far	they two went.	Then	also	she was killed	his mother	that ik!ā'skas.	Ā2qa	iā'qa-iL	igixE'lôx	ya'Xi	ik!ā'skas.	A'qa	12
boy.	Then	large	became	that	boy.	Then igîXqoā'tōLtek.	ka'nauwē	Lkak!uLō'tXEmax	igîxqoā'tōLtek.	13
he bathed.	all	lakes	he bathed.
Igiotō'koalalEmtek	ayā'ckîX.	Agōn	ā'pōl	igiotō'koatek	igîxqoā'tam.	14
She sent him	his grandmother.	One	night	she sent him	he went to bathe.

near their house. There the boy used to swim. Now he felt something slippery like a young fish. He felt for it again and tried to catch it. He put his arms together, but it was slippery, and escaped. That thing was very slippery. He often tried to catch it, but it slipped away. Then he went ashore. He pulled out some grass and put it on his chest. Then he caught it again in the water and held it tight. He carried it ashore. He thought it was a young fish. He carried it and went home. He intended to show it to his grandmother. Near the house it fell down. He searched for it, but he could not find it. Then he thought: "I will fetch some pitch wood." Then he entered his grandmother's house and said to her: "Grandmother, have you any pitch wood?" She replied: "There is pitch wood near the door." "I caught a young fish in the lake, and it fell down." She said to him: "Oh, maybe you don't speak the truth. That lake is dry in summer. Where should that fish go? There is no creek into which

1 Q¡oā′pîX ikak¡ō′ʟitX tа′Xi tɛ′etaqʟ. Kopā′ iuk¡uō′Xalaʟemtek Near a lake that their house. There he swam

2 ya′Xi ik¡ā′skas. A′qa tā′nki igē′XgEla luXlu′X, ʟ¡a that boy. Then something he felt slippery, behold

3 ʟk¡uyā′sXtē. A′qa itciō′naxʟ kōpā′. Wī′t′ax igē′XgEla.
a young fish. Then he searched for it there. Again he felt.

4 Kē′nuwa itcē′gElga. IgēxEltā′mit. LuXlu′X igē′xoya. Asa-i Try he took it. He closed his arms to take it. Slippery it went out of his hands. Very 5 luXlu′X ya′Xi tā′nki. Ē′xauwitîX itcē′gElga kē′nuwa.

slippery that something. Often he took it try.

6 Nîxō′îx. A′qa iō′ptcga ʟxE′leu. ʟE′xlex itcî′tux tɛ′pcō. A′qa
It went always. Then he went inland inland. Pull out he did it grass. Then

7 itiXɛ′qoaʟk ta′Xi tɛ′pcō ayā′qatcpa. A′qa itcē′gElga wī′t′ax he put it on himself that grass his chest at. Then he took it again

8 ʟteu′qoapa. Ā′qa q¡uʟ itcē′gElga. Itcī′yukɪ ʟxE′leu.
the water to. Then fast he held it. He carried it inland.

9 Igixlō′Xoa-it ʟk¡uyā′sX. Itcî′ʟuk′ɪ. igē′Xk¡oa atcʟaxEnēmā′ya
He thought a young fish. He carried it. he went home he was going to show it

10 ayā′ckîX. Q¡oā′p tɛ′etaqʟpa a′qa igē′xEluktcō. Kē′nuwa his grandmother Near their house at then it fell down. Try 11 itciō′naxʟ. Näcqē itciō′cgam. Igixlō′Xoa-ît: "AnʟEguā′lEmama he searched for it. Not at all he found it. He thought: "I shall go and fetch 12 ʟq¡axō′ckan." Iōpqam tɛ′etaqʟpa ayā′ckîX. Itcō′lXam: "Ā′ckîX pitch wood." He came in their house in his grandmother. He said to her: "Grandmother, 13 teu′Xoa ʟq¡axō′ckan." Igiō′lXam: "Kōpā′ ʟxō′mat ʟq¡axō′ckan well pitch wood." She said to him: "There lies pitch wood 14 k¡awucî′qē." "ʟk¡uyā′sX inE′ʟgElga gi ikak¡ō′ʟîtXpa k¡a near the door." "A young fish I took it this lake in and 15 iʟE′nxaluktcō." Igiō′lXam: "ʟXuan imō′ʟ¡mēnXut. Tcā′koa-îX it fell down from me." She said to him: "Perhaps you lie. Summer

16 epāq nixō′xoax ya′Xi ikak¡ō′ʟîtX k¡a qā′mta aʟtē′mama dry becomes that lake and where goes

17 ʟaXi ʟk¡uyā′sX. K¡ā′ya nEct ē′qxaʟ qā′mta ʟtē′mama ʟa′Xi that young fish. Nothing not creek where goes that that young fish might go." He said to her: "Well, come help me; we will look for it." Then he lighted the pitch wood. They arrived at the place where the fish had fallen down. Oh, there were long dentalia lying there. Two of them were that long. They lay there about that high. Then they went down to the lake and all the way the boy had come there were long dentalia on the ground. Then they took a rush basket and a spruce-root basket, and carried all the long dentalia home. Then they made holes below the bed and put the dentalia into them, the long ones and the short ones. In the evening they were all stored away. After two nights the old woman, the boy's grandmother, thought: "I will go and ask for sinew from those people. We will string up the long dentalia." She arose in the morning and went. She entered a house and said: "I come to ask for a present. Please give me some sinew. My grandson's woodchuck blanket is torn." They gave her some sinew, and the old

ɬk¡uyā′sX."	ɬtcō′lXam:	"Xi′Xua,	amɛ′te,	amɛngɛlgɛ′cgam.	1
young fish."	He said to her:	"Well,	come,	help me, atxɬōnā′xɬa."	A′qa	wāx	iɬgī′côx	ɬa′Xi	ɬq¡axō′ckan.	ɬctō′yam	2
we search for it."	Then	light	they did it	that	pitch wood.	They arrived ya′Xi	iɬē′xaluktcōpa.	Ō,	aqa	wāx	igē′xax	iqawik¡ē′lē,	a′qa	3 that	where it fell down at.	Oh,	then	poured out	were	long dentalia,	then mâket	ä′wimax	itcā′ɬqtax	wu′Xi	aqawik¡ē′lē.	A′qa	wāx	igē′xôx	4
two	thus	long	those	long dentalia.	Then	poured out	they were ɬXuan	gipɛ′t	ā′yaɬqt	ya′Xi	iqawik¡ē′lē.	A′qa	ictō′ɬxa	ē′wa	5
perhaps	thus	their thickness	those	long dentalia.	Then	they went down	there ikak¡ō′ɬîtX.	Kopɛ′t	ya′Xi	igē′tē	ya′Xi	ik¡ā′skas,	kopɛ′t	wā′xwax	6
the lake.	Thus	that	he came	that	boy,	thus	poured out igē′x	ya′Xi	iqawik¡ē′lē.	A′qa	icgē′gɛlga	iqā′gēltk	k¡a	îcwāpcîq.	7
were	those	long dentalia.	Then	they took it	a basket made of rushes and grass	and	a basket made of spruce roots and grass.
A′qa	icgī′yukɪ	tqu′Lepa;	tɛ′ctaqɬpa	ka′nauwē	iqawik¡ē′lē.	A′qa	8
Then	they carried them	the house to;	their house to	all	the long dentalia.	Then
ɬk¡oayā′tgɛmax	icgɛ′ɬux	gē′gualîX	ilXɛ′mē.	A′qa	kōpā′	9
caches	they made them	below	the bed.	Then	there
wā′xwax	icgī′yux	iqawik¡ē′lē	k¡maya	ikupku′p.	Xā′pîX	a′qa	10
pour out	they did them	the long dentalia	and also	the short dentalia.	In the evening	then ka′nauwē	icgī′yutk.	Môket	îctō′qoya,	a′qa	igaxɬō′Xoa-ît	wu′Xi	11
all	they had put them by.	Two	their sleeps,	then	she thought	that aq¡eyō′qt	ayā′ckîX	ya′Xi	ik¡ā′skas:	"Qō′i	nō′ya	aqē′ɬata	12 old woman	his grandmother	that	boy:	"Must	I go	sinew
igɛnxɛlɛmā′q¡ēmɬam	ta-îtci	tē′lXampa.	Antgixk¡ē′ɬia	iqawik¡ē′lē."	13
I ask for a present	those	people at.	I will string them up	the long dentalia."
Kawī′X	a′qa	igaxɛ′latck.	Igō′ya.	Igō′pqam	tqu′Lepa:	"Aqē′ɬata	14
Early	then	she arose.	She went.	She came in	the house in:	"Sinew
ganxētɛmā′q¡ēmɬam.	Sī′aq¡ula	a′qa	lɛ′xlex	sxē′guXt	ē′tctgɛn."	15
I come to ask for a present.	His woodchuck blanket	then	torn	it is	my grandson."
Iqalamā′q¡ēmɬ	wu′Xi	aqē′ɬata.	Igā′Xk¡oa	wu′Xi	aq¡eyō′qt.	16
She was given a present	that	sinew.	She went home	that	old woman.

woman went home. Then she spun the sinew and strung up the long dentalia. Now she had used up all the sinew. The next day she went again, and said to her grandson: "I will go to another house and ask for sinew." The old woman went to another house and said again: "I come to ask for a present. Please give me some sinew. My grandson's woodchuck blanket is torn." Then they gave her much sinew. The old woman went home. When she came home, she spun all day and all night. After she had finished all that sinew, she said again to her grandson: "To-morrow I will go again; I will ask for some sinew at another house." Early in the morning she went again and came to another house. She said: "I come to ask for a present. Please give me some sinew." She received much sinew. Then she went home again. Then one woman said: "How quickly she used all the sinew which she received at that one house. I saw she received much at one house." Thus spoke one woman. The old woman arrived

---

1 A′qa igājktkɛm, igājktkɛm, igājktkɛm wu′Xi aqē′ɬata. A′qa
Then she spun, she spun, she spun that sinew. Then

2 igɛxɛ′k¡ɛɬē ya′Xi iqawik¡ē′ɬē; kanauwē′2 igaxɛ′ɬXōm wu′Xi she strung them up those long dentalia; all it was finished that

3 aqē′ɬata. A′qa wi igō′n ē′goa, aqa wi igō′ya. Igiō′lXam sinew. Then again one more day, then again she went. She said to him

4 ē′tcatgɛn: "Tgō′nax tqu′ɬepa anō′ya, anxElgē′maq¡ɛmɬama."
her grandson: "Another house at I go, I shall ask for a present."

5 Igō′ya wu′Xi aq¡ɛyō′qt tgō′nax tēXt tqu′ɬepa. Wī′t¡ax igā′k·îm:
She went that old woman another one house to. Again she said:

6 "Aqē′ɬata ganxētemā′q¡ɛmɬam. Ē′tcîtgɛn sī′aq¡ula a′qa ɬE′xɬEX
"Sinew I come to ask for a present. My grandson his wood-chuck blanket then torn 7 cxē′guXt." A′qa wi ɬgā′pɛla iqalɛmā′q¡ɛmɬ wu′Xi aq¡ɛyō′qt it is." Then again much she was given as a present that old woman

8 wu′Xi aqē′ɬata. A′qa wi igā′Xk¡oa wu′Xi aq¡ɛyō′qt.
that sinew. Then again she went home that old woman.

9 IgaXk¡oā′mam tɛ′ctaqɬpa. A′qa wi igā′ktkɛm, igā′ktkɛm, she came home their house to. Then again she spun, she spun,

10 igā′ktkɛm ka′nauwē ɬkā′etax, ka′nauwē ɬpō′lɛmax. Kanauwā′2 she spun all days, all nights. All

11 igaxɛ′ɬXōm wu′Xi aqē′ɬata. A′qa wi igiō′lXam ē′tcatgɛn:
it was finished that sinew. Then again she said to him her grandson·

12 "Ō′la, a′qa wi′t′ax anō′ya. AnxElgēmaq¡ɛmɬa′ma aqē′ɬata
"To-morrow, then again I will go. I will ask for a present sinew 13 tgō′nax tqu′ɬepa." Kawī′X aqa wi igō′ya. Igō′pqam tgō′nax another house at." Early then again she went. She came in another 14 tqu′lē. Igā′k·ēm: "Aqē′ɬata mxētgē′maq¡ɛmɬam." Iqalɛmā′q¡ēmɬ house. She said: "Sinew, I come to ask for a present" She was given a present

15 ā′xauwē wu′Xi aqē′ɬata. Aqa wi igā′Xk¡oa. ɬE′k·îm much that sinew Then again she went home. She said

16 lēXā′t ɬqagē′lak: "A′yaq ɬqa igō′ɬXum, tēXt tqu′ɬe one woman: "Quick maybe she finished it, one house

17 iqalɛmā′q¡ēmɬ aqē′ɬata. Ā′xoē iqalɛmā′q¡ēmɬ tēXt tqu′ɬepa she was given a present sinew. Much she was given as a present one house in 18 nō′qumē," iɬE′k·îm lēXā′t ɬqagē′lak. IgaXk¡oā′mam wu′Xi

I saw her," she said one woman She came home that at home and spun again. She spun all day and all night. She had strung up only part of their long dentalia, and the sinew was at an end. Then she said to her grandson: "To-morrow I will go to another house." She arose early and went to another house. She said: "I come to ask for a present. Please give me some sinew. My grandson's woodchuck blanket is torn." Then she received much sinew as a present and went home again. When she came home, she spun all day and all night and strung up the long dentalia. After a little while she had used all the sinew. Then again she said to her grandson: "To-morrow I will go to another house." Early in the morning the old woman arose and went to another house. She entered, and one woman said: "Ha! that old woman is going to ask again for a present of sinew. What is she doing with it? Every day she carries sinew home." Again they gave her sinew, but she was pre-aq¡eyō'qt tɛ'ctaqʟpa. A'qa wi igā'ktkɛm; igā'ktkɛm ka'nauwē 1 old woman their house to. Then again she spun; she spun all ʟkā'ctax, ka'nauwē ʟpō'lɛmax. Ia'ema qā'wa a'qa wi 2 days, all nights. Only part then again igaxɛ'ʟXōm wu'Xi aqē'ʟata ya'Xi ictā'qawik¡ēlē. Igiō'lXam 3 she finished that sinew that their dentalia. She said to him ē'tcatgɛn: "Ō'la wī't'ax anō'ya tgō'nax tqu'ʟepa." Kawī'X 4 her grandson: "To-morrow again I shall go another house to." Early igaxɛ'latck, a'qa wī't'ax igō'ya tgō'nax tqu'ʟepa. Igā'k'îm: 5

she arose, then again she went another house to. She said:

"Aqē'ʟata înxitgē'maq¡ɛmʟam. Sī'aq¡ula a'qa lɛ'xlex cxē'guxt 6
"Sinew I come to ask for a present. His wood-chuck blanket then torn it is ē'tctgɛn." Iqalɛmā'q¡ēmʟ ʟga'pɛla wu'Xi aqē'ʟata wu'Xi aq¡eyō'qt. 7 my grandson." She was given as a present much that sinew that old woman.

A'qa wī't'ax igā'Xk¡oa. IgaXk¡oā'mam tɛ'ctaqʟpa. A'qa wī't'ax 8
Then again she went home. She came home their house to. Then again igā'ktkɛm. Ka'nauwē ʟkā'etax igā'ktkɛm, ka'nauwē ʟpō'lɛmax 9 she spun. All day she spun, all nights igā'ktkɛm. A'qa wi igixɛ'k¡ēlē ictā'Xawik¡ēlē. Nō'ʟ¡îX a'qa 10 she spun. Then again she strung them up their dentalia. A little then wi igaXɛ'ʟXōm wu'Xi aqē'ʟata. A'qa wi igiō'lXam ē'tcatgɛn: 11 again it was finished that sinew. Then again she said to him her grandson:

"Ō'la a'qa wi tgō'nax tqu'ʟepa anō'ya." Kawī'X igaxɛ'latck 12
"To-morrow then again another house to I shall go." Early she arose wu'Xi aq¡eyō'qt. A'qa wi igō'ya tēXt tqu'ʟepa. Igō'pqam 13 that old woman. Then again she went one house to. She came in kōpa' tēXt tqu'ʟepa. Iʟɛ'k'îm lēXā't ʟqagē'lak: "Q¡a, 14 there one house to. She said one woman: "Ha, aqē'ʟata igaxitɛmā'q¡ēmʟam wu'Xi aq¡eyō'qt. Tā'nki 15 sinew she asks for a present that old woman. What igiagē'lXalɛm wu'Xi aqē'ʟata? Ka'nauwē ʟkā'etax igoguē't 16 does she do with it that sinew? All days she always carried it tɛ'ctaqʟpa." Wi iqalɛmā'q¡ēmʟ aqē'ʟata. A'qa nîct ʟgā'pɛla 17 their house to." Again she was given as a present sinew. Then not much sented with a little only. The old woman went home and spun. Again she used all the sinew. There was one hole for the short dentalia and one for the long dentalia. She said to her grandson: "To-morrow I shall go to another house and ask for some sinew." She arose early in the morning and went again to one house. The people saw her coming. "There that old woman is coming again! Indeed, she comes to ask for a present of sinew. What is she doing with them? Maybe she is stringing up long dentalia." The old woman came to the house and entered. She said: "I come to ask for a present. Please give me some sinew." Now they were tired of that old woman, but finally one woman arose and gave her some sinew as a present. She said: "I have no more; if I had much I should give you more." She arose to go out. When she was near the door one woman said: "She has just asked for a present of sinew. What may she be doing with them? Maybe she is stringing up long den-

1 iqalɛmaˊqꞌēmL nōˊLꞌka. Aˊqa wi igāˊXkꞌoa wuˊXi aqꞌeyōˊqt.
she was given as a present a little only. Then again she went home that old woman.

2 Aˊqa wi igāˊktkɛm, igāˊktkɛm, igāˊktkɛm. IgōˊlXum wuˊXi
Then again she spun, she spun, she spun. She finished it that

3 aqēˊLata. Kaˊnauwē wīˊtˊax igaxɛˊLXōm. KɛlāˊîX iāˊkꞌoaya sinew. All again she finished it. Far their hole

4 yaˊXi giāˊskꞌɛtxax ikupkuˊp, kɛlāˊîX iāˊkꞌoaya iqawikꞌēˊLē that short ones short dentalia, far their hole long dentalia

5 iāˊLqtax. IgiōˊlXam ēˊtcatgɛn: "ŌˊIa aˊqa wi anōˊya taˊXi their length. She said to him her grandson: "To-morrow then again I shall go that

6 tēXt tquˊLepa. AqēˊLata anxɛlgēˊmaqꞌɛmLam." KawīˊX one house to. Sinew I go to ask for a present." Early

7 igaxɛˊlatck. Igōˊya wīˊtˊax taˊXi tēXt tquˊLepa. IqāˊqɛlkɛL she arose. She went again that one house to. She was seen

8 wīˊtˊax atēˊt. "Aqāˊ wi atēˊt wuˊXi aqꞌeyōˊqt," iqōˊlXam.
again she came. "Now again she comes that old woman," she was told.

9 "Qꞌa, aqāˊLata axitɛmāˊqꞌēmLamt. Tān Lqa igiagēˊlXalɛm gi
"Ha! sinew she comes to ask for a present. What maybe she does with it this

10 aqēˊLata? LXuan iqawikꞌēˊLē igîxkꞌēˊLēna." IgatāˊmamwuˊXi sinew? Perhaps long dentalia she strings them." She arrived that 11 aqꞌeyōˊqt taˊXi tquˊLepa. IgāˊckupQ. IgāˊkˊîmwuˊXi aqꞌeyōˊqt:

old woman that house to. She entered. She said that old woman:

12 "AqāˊLata nɛxɛtgēˊmaqꞌēmLam." NāʔɛcL, iqiagɛˊnXakuîX wuˊXi
"Sinew I come to ask for a present." Not, the people were tired of her that

13 aqꞌeyōˊqt. Aˊqa iLōˊtXuit LɛXāˊt Lqagēˊlak. IlgalɛmāˊqꞌēmL old woman. Then she stood up one woman. She gave her a present

14 nōˊLꞌka wuˊXi aqēˊLata. IlgōˊlXam: "Aˊqa naqāˊyimax a little only that sinew. She said to her: "Then this only 15 agɛˊxēLata. Qēc LgāˊpɛLa pō LgāˊpɛLa iamɛlɛmāˊqꞌēmL." my sinew. If much then much I should give you a present."

16 IgōˊtXuît, igōˊpa. Qꞌoāˊpicîˊqē igōˊyam. Aˊqa iLɛˊkˊîm lēXāˊt
She stood up, she went out. Near the door she arrived. Then she said one

17 Lqagēˊlak: "KoalēˊwiLqa aqēˊLata axɛlɛmāˊqꞌēmɛniL. Tān woman: "Just maybe sinew she received as a present. What

18 Lqa igiagēˊlXalɛm gi aqēˊLataʔ LXuan igiankꞌēˊLena maybe she does with it this sinew? Perhaps she strings them talia which belong to her and to her grandson. She will come again to-morrow and ask for more sinew. Maybe she has not yet strung up all her long dentalia." The old woman went out. She felt offended. She turned back, opened the door, and said: "Do you scoff me? I do string up my grandson's long dentalia, and still you scoff me? We are stringing them up every day." She went home and arrived at their house. She said to her grandson: "Quick, invite the people of our town." Her grandson went and said to the people: "I come to invite you. My grandmother sent me to call you." Then all the people went. Now they took out of one hole the short dentalia and distributed them among the people. They gave them to part of the people, and then the one hole was empty. Then they took them out of another hole and distributed them. Then they had given to all the people.

Now the boy was grown up. Indeed, he had seen spirits. By

---

iqawik¡ē'ɬē,	ictā'Xawik¡ēɬē	ɬXuan	ē'tcatgɛn.	Â'2la	wī't'ax	1
long dentalia,	their long dentalia	perhaps	her grandson.	To-morrow	again
alatē'mama.	Alaxɛlgẽmaqˌ¡ēmɬa	aqē'ɬata.	ɬXuan	nîct	2
she will come.	she will ask for a present	sinew.	Perhaps	not nixɬXō'mx	gi	ictā'Xawik¡ēɬē	icgianɬɛ'nēɬ	aqē'ɬata."	Igō'pa	3
she finished them	these	their long dentalia	they string them	sinew."	She went out
wu'Xi	aq¡eyō'qt,	icî'qēpa	ɬā'xanîX	a'qa	ē'tcamxtc	mɛlā'	4
that	old woman,	the door at	outside	then	her heart	annoyed
igē'xòx.	IgaXɛ'takoa	wu'Xi	aq¡eyō'qt.	Igixɛ'laqɬ.gîX	ya'Xi	5 became.	She returned	that	old woman.	She opened the door	that iqabō'tē.	"K¡a	ā'qtcēXul	tci?	igā'k·îm.	"Ntgîxk¡ā'ɬēna	6
door flap.	"And	I am ridiculed	[int. part.]?"	she said.	"We string them
ē'tcɛtgɛn	iqawik¡ē'ɬē	ka	ē'qtcēXul	tci?	Ka'nauwē	ɬkā'ɛtax	7
my grandson	long dentalia	and	I am ridiculed	[int. part.]?	All	day
ntgîxk¡ē'ɬena	iqawik¡ē'ɬē."	A'qa	igā'Xk¡oa	wu'Xi	aq¡eyō'qt.	8
we string them	long dentalia."	Then	she went home	that	old woman.
Igō'yam	tɛ'etaqɬpa.	Igiō'lXam	e'tcatgɛn:	"Ai'aq	tga'lɛmam	9
She arrived	their house at.	She said to him	her grandson:	"Quick	fetch them
ta-îtci	tê'lXam	gilxā'lXam."	Iō'ya	ya'Xi	ē'tcatgɛn.	Iɬctō'lXam:	10
those	people	the people of our town."	He went	that	her grandson.	He said to them:
"Â,	iamctgā'lɛmam.	Agɛ'cgîX	igɛntō'koatck."	Itgī'ya	ta-îtci	11
"Ah,	I came to fetch you.	My grandmother	she sent me."	They went	those tê'lXam	ka'nauwē.	ɬāqˀ	icgī'yux	ēXt	iā'k¡oaya	ikupku'p.	12 people	all.	Take out	they did them	one	their hole	short dentalia.
Icgiawē'mak	tê'lXam	ya'Xi	ikupku'p.	Aqa'watîkc	ta-îtci	13
They distributed them	people	those	short dentalia.	Part of	those tê'lXam	a'qa	igixɛ'ɬXōm	ya'Xi	ēXt	ik¡oā'ya.	A'qa	wi	14
people	then	it was at an end	that	one	hole.	Then	again
igō'n	ēXt	ik¡oā'ya.	Icgiawē'mak.	Kanauwā'4	ioxoā'k¡aq	15
another	one	hole.	They distributed them.	All	she gave to all of them
tê'lXam.	16
the people.
A'qa	iā'qa-îɬ	igixɛ'lôx	ya'Xi	ik¡ā'skas.	A'qa	ā'qanuwē	17
Then	large	became	that	boy.	Then	indeed inheritance he became a warrior. He saw the Thunderbird, who became his supernatural helper. The Thunderbird gave him one whale for food. It was given to that Indian. At night the Thunderbird thundered. Then that person was startled. His name was Waq!awiyā's, the son of Pō'XpuX. That person said: "The Thunderbird has thundered, and he has greatly frightened me. Maybe my supernatural helper will send me something. He told me long ago that he was going to give me a whale when I wanted to eat one." Early the next morning it was calm. When the sun arose, a person looked out on the prairie. There was something lying right in the middle of the prairie. It was shining. The person entered the house and said: "Something is lying on the prairie." The people went out to see it, and said: "Behold! it is a monster." They looked at it for a long time. It was just as large as a house. There was a man from the coast among them, who was living in his wife's village for a time.

1 tiō'ʟemax itcō'quikɛl. It!ō'xoyal igē'xôx ayā'xt!ax. Itcā'qɛlkɛl supernatural helpers he had seen them. A warrior became his inheritance. He saw him

2 ikɛnuwakcō'max iā'iuʟɛmax. ĒXt ē'koalē itcē'lqo-îm ya'Xi the thunderbird his supernatural helper. One whale he gave him to eat that

3 ikɛnuwakcō'max. Iqē'lqo-îm ya'Xi itē'tanuc. Igē'xɛltcu Xā'pîX thunderbird. He was given to eat that Indian. He talked in the evening

4 ya'Xi ikɛnuwakcō'ma. A'qa iō'k!oatck ya'Xi igoaʟē'lX.
that thunderbird. Then he was surprised that person.

5 Waq!awiyā's iā'xaleu ya'Xi igoaʟē'lX, Pō'XpuX iā'Xan. Igē'k'îm Waq!awiyā's his name that person, Pō'XpuX his son. He said

6 ya'Xi igoaʟē'lX: "Ya'Xi igē'Xaltcu ikɛnuwakcō'max ʟawā'lqa that person: "That one he talked the thunderbird greatly

7 aqa iqɛnugoā'mitatck. ʟXuan atcnîlgē'tatkca gi itcī'yuʟmax tau then I was frightened. Perhaps he will send it to me this my supernatural helper what

8 ā'nqa k!oaʟqē' itcinō'lXam. Manî'x anēnɛlgwā'tckoa ē'koalē a'qa long ago thus he said to me. When I wish to eat it a whale then 9 atcînɛltā'tkca." Kawī'X igē'tcuktîX, a'qa ꟾō igē'xaxîX. ʟāx igā'xax he will send it to me." Early day came, then calm it was. Come out did 10 wu'Xi aqaʟā'x. Iʟɛ'kîkct ʟēXā't ʟgoaʟē'lX ēwā' ta'Xi tɛmqā'emax.

that sun. He looked one person there that prairie.

11 A'qa tā'nki ixē'mat qēq!aya'q tɛmqā'emaxpa, ā'yawaxwax. Iʟō'pqa
Then something lay there middle prairie on, its glare. He entered 12 ʟa'Xi ʟgoaʟē'lX tɛ'ʟaqʟpa. Iʟɛ'k'îm: "Tān ya'Xi ixē'mat that person their house in. He said: "What that is lying there 13 qēq!aya'q tɛmqā'emaxpa?" A'qa itgɛ'pa ta-îtci tê'lXam, middle prairie on?" Then they went out those people,

14 itgiō'kctam. Igugoā'kîm: "Ō, ʟqōct iqcxē'ʟau." A'qa they went to see. They said: "Oh, behold a monster." Then 15 itgiukumā'nanɛmtck ta-îtci tê'lXam. ʟa tqu'lē iā'qa-iʟ ya'Xi tā'nki.

they went to see those people. Like a house large that something.

16 Tēka a'qa ʟgoaʟē'lX ʟXɛldā't kuapa'; iʟɛ'k'îm: "Ek!oalē' taya'X".
Here then a person a visitor to his wife's village there; he said: "A whale that."

He knew it and said: "It is a whale." Then the people cut it, but part of them were afraid. Then that chief made a potlatch. He made a long ditch. He put planks on top of the ditch and covered them with dirt. He made a door at the entrance of the ditch. It was a long hole. There the people went in to dance. They disappeared in the hole underground. They came out again at the door of the ditch. The people from all around went there. Then he became a chief, and Pō'XpuX became an insignificant man. His town was far away. He was the ancestor of the people of Nqᵢolā'was.[1] His name was Waqᵢawiyā'ṡ.

ILgiugu'laqL. A'qa itgī'uxc ta-îtci tê'lXam, aqā'watîke a'qa kᵢwac 1
He knew it. Then they cut it those people, part of them then afraid itxē'xôx. A'qa ikᵢuanō'm itcī'yux ya'Xi ikakᵢEmā'na. LEX iqī'yux 2 they were. Then a potlatch he made it that chief. Dig it was done ya'Xi ēlX. KELā'îX ya'Xi LEX iqī'yux. A'qa aqē'nXak iqā'ikXatk 3 that ground. Far that dig it was done. Then planks they were put over it ya'Xi naLᵢE'xpa ya'Xi ēlX. A'qa wi iqLagE'tkîq wuXi aqē'nxak. 4 that hole at that ground. Then again they were covered with dirt those planks.

Icî'qēpa Lxoā'p ya'Xi ē'lXpa igē'xôx, kᵢa yaXi' kELā'îX Lxoa'p 5
The door at a hole that ground at was, and there far hole igē'xôx. Ma'nîx a'qa atgiuXtā'mx ta-îtci tê'lXam, kōpā' ya'Xi 6 was. When then they went to dance those people, there that naLxoa'p ēlX a'qa kᵢEm nōxoā'xax. Gipā' icî'qē, qᵢoā'p icî'qē a'qa 7 hole ground then nothing they became. Here the door, near the door then Lāx noxoā'xax ta-îtci tê'lXam. Ka'nauwē qā'xpa tê'lXam igō'xoax 8 come out they did those people. Every where people came to be kōpā'. A'qa yā'xka igē'xôx ikakᵢEmā'na. A'qa Pō'XpuX a'qa 9 there. Then he became a chief. Then Pō'XpuX then tE'ltEl igē'xôx. KELā'îX iā'lXam yā'Xka itā'qᵢeōqt itā'qᵢulawas 10 insignificant he became. Far his town he their ancestor the people of Nqᵢulā'was iā'xEleu Waqᵢawiyā'ṡ. 11

his name Waqᵢawiyā'ṡ.

[1] This is a branch of the Athapascan tribe which formerly inhabited the headwaters of Willapah river.

Pē′lpel (told 1894).

There was a strong man at North river. His name was Pē′lpeL. He made the Willapah poor. When they went to catch sturgeon in their gill nets, and it was near flood tide, then he told his people to go to those people who were catching sturgeon. He took what they had caught. He took also the gill nets of part of them. He did this all the time, and they did not take revenge upon the strong man. When he caught a sturgeon, he just squeezed it and it broke to pieces. When he was seen coming, all the people ran away and went home. When one of them was slow, he overtook him and took away what he had caught. Now a boy was growing up on the South fork of the Willapah among the Lā′qxaLema. They sent him up the mountains to bathe in ponds. He twisted young hemlock trees and vine maples and young spruce trees. Then he became a youth. Now the old

1 ĒXa′t tiā′LxēwulX ayā′qetxōkL. Pē′lpeL iā′xaleu.
One strong man he was a Naqctxō′kL. (of North river) Pē′lpeL his name.

2 ItcuXoagoā′mit Gitā′Xuilapax. Manē′x noXuik¡anXā′tEmamx
He made them poor the Willapah. When they went to catch sturgeon in gill nets

3 q¡oā′p qaLuwē′tckoax, a′qa qatctutō′goatckoax giLā′lXam nearly it was flood tide, then he sent them his people

4 qayugoā′qoamx ta-îtci gō′Xuik¡anXate. Qatctoxoasgā′mx he reached them those who fished sturgeon in gill nets. He took from them

5 itä′k¡etēmax. Aqā′watîke aqa tga′k¡anXatē qatctōxoacgā′mx.
what they had caught. Part of them then their gill nets he took them from them.

6 Ka′nauwē Lqētā′kemax k¡oaLqē′. Nä2et aqē′nk¡ēmEnakoax
All years thus. Not it was taken revenge on him

7 tiā′LxēwulX. Manē′x qatcigElgā′x enā′qōn, kopā′ Lk¡up he was a strong man. When he took it a sturgeon, there squeezed

8 nixō′xoax, Lq¡up qacxElō′xoax. Manē′x aqiqElgE lx itē′t, it was, cut it was. When he was seen he came,

9 ka′nauwē qatguwā′xitx, nuxoak¡oā′x. Manē′x Lawā′ qaLō′îx all they ran away, they went home. When slowly he went

10 LēXā′t, qatcLktā′qoamx qatciLxsgā′mx iLā′k¡ētenax. Ā′2qa one, he reached him he took it from him what he had caught. Then 11 iLō′mit LēXā′t Lk¡ā′skas Lā′qxaLema. A′qa iqLōtō′koalaLemtck he grew up one boy a Lā′qxaLema (of South fork of Willapah). Then he was always sent

12 iqoā′tōL Lpakā′lEmaxpa. XāX iLgE′tuX tqā′-etema, XāX to wash mountains on. Twist he did them hemlock trees, twist

13 iLgī′yuX iq¡ē′ncîq, XāX iLgE′tux tEmā′ktXEmax. Ā′2qa he did them vine maples, twist he did them young spruce trees. Then

14 Lq¡u′lîpX iLE′xôx La′Xi qLā′qxaLemax. Aq¡eyō′qt wu′Xi a youth he became that Lā′qxaLema. An old woman that woman, the mother of Pē'ɬpeɬ, said to her son: "You must go to the Lā'qxaɬema and take their gill nets. I want to make a coat." He went right away and took their nets. He took them away from the Lā'qxaɬema and from the Willapah. His mother made coats. As soon as her coat began to get a little bad, she threw it away and her son went to take away more nets. Then Pē'ɬpeɬ heard that one youth of the Lā'qxaɬema was bathing in order to make himself strong. He said: "Oh, the poor Lā'qxaɬema. I must let them alone. They all run away when they see me." The next summer the old woman said again to her son: "Go and take the nets of the Lā'qxaɬema for me." He went, and when the people saw him, they all ran away. Now the youth said: "I will go to-morrow. Pē'ɬpeɬ is getting to be too hopeful because you are afraid of him." Then that day the people went down the river to catch sturgeon. At low water a canoe was seen. That youth had caught a large sturgeon. They had just wā'yaq ya'Xi Pē'ɬpeɬ. AgiolXā'ɪmx ya'Xi itcā'xan: "Qō'i 1 his mother that Pē'ɬpeɬ. She said to him that her son: "Must qamō'ix Lā'qxaɬemapa qamtugoā'ɬemamx tk!anXa'tē. Aq!ē'ɬxap 2 you go Lā'qxaɬema to fetch them gill nets. A coat anō'Xua." Ā'nqa qayō'îX qatctugoā'ɬemamx tk!anXā'tē. 3

I will make it." Already he went he fetched them gill nets.

QatctōXoacgā'ɪmx Lā'qxaɬema k!a GiLā'XuilapaX. Aq!ē'ɬxap 4
He took them from them the Lā'qxaɬema and Willapah. A coat agō'xoax wā'yaq. Nōl! itcā'mEla qayaxElō'xax agā'q!ēɬxap, 5

she made it his mother. A little its badness was on it her coat, ā'nqa agaxē'max. A'qa wi agō'nax qatcugoā'ɬemamx ya'Xi 6 already she threw it away. Then again another one he fetched it that itcā'xan ak!anXā'tē. Ā'qa igixEltcE'maq LēXā't Lqoā'tōL 7 her son a net. Then he heard one he had bathed Lā'qxaɬemax Lq!u'lîpX. Lxamgelxō'la. "Qō'i iā'c iqE'tôx 8 a Lā'qxaɬema youth. He had made himself strong against him. "Must let alone they are qLā'qxaɬema, tgā'giutgoax, aqa ac itgEnqElkElā'ya tguwā'Xita 9 the Lā'qxaɬema, the poor ones, when they see me they run away ka'nauwē." Ā'2qa wi itcākoa-îX igē'xoxîx. A'qa wi igiō'lXam 10 all." Then again summer it became. Then again she said to him itcā'xan wu'Xi aq!eyō'qt: "Qō'i qamō'îx qamanē'tam ak!anXā'tē, 11 her son that old woman: "Must you go bring me a gill net.

Lā'qxaɬema aLā k!anXatē." Kē'nuwa qayō'îX ac aqiqElkē'lX. 12 the Lā'qxaɬema their gill net." Try he went and he was seen.

Aqa tguwā'Xit kanauwē'. A'qa igē'kîm ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX: "Ō'la 13
Then they ran away all. Then he said that youth: "To-morrow a'qa nai'ka anō'ya. K!wan qē'yuxt Pē'ɬpeɬ. K!wac mcxē'xoxt." 14 then I I shall go. Hopeful he is made Pē'ɬpeɬ. Afraid you are."

Igē'tcuktîX, a'qa wi itgī'ya ta-îtci tē'lXam qā'eqamîX 15
Day came, then again they went those people down the river

ōXuik!anXā'tēnam. Q!ōl, a'qa iqē'qElkEl ikE'nim. EXt 16 they went to fish sturgeon in gill nets. Low water, then it was seen a canoe. One iā'k!ētēnax ya'Xi tiā'qxaɬemax ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX; iā'qa-iL ya'Xi 17 what he had caught that Lā'qxaɬema that youth; large that inā'qōn acō'max wu'Xi actā'k!anXatē. Iqē'qElkEl ya'Xi ikE'nim 18 sturgeon just that their two selves' net. It was seen that canoe caught it in their net. Now Pē'ɮpeɮ was seen coming in his canoe. "Oh, he comes to take our nets." And all the people ran away and went home. The companion of the youth said to him: "Quick, haul in your net. That monster is coming." "Be quiet," said he to his companion. The latter was afraid. He spoke to him twice: "Let us take up our nets and go home." But he said: "Be quiet." Now that canoe arrived. The youth was told: "Put your game into my canoe." He did not move. He was told so twice. Then Pē'ɮpeɮ got angry. "Indeed, I heard that he always bathed, preparing to fight me." Now the youth said to his companion: "Haul in our net." They hauled it in and put it into the canoe. The youth was told again: "Quick, put your game into my canoe." But he replied: "Do you think I will give you my fish?" Pē'ɮpeɮ took that sturgeon and put it into his canoe. Then the youth took it at its mouth. He took the sturgeon and the whole mouth was torn. The

1 itē't, Pē'ɮpeɮ ya'Xi itē't: "Ō, tk!anXā'tē qatetgā'lEmamt."
came, Pē'ɮpeɮ that he came. "Oh, nets he comes to fetch them.'

2 Igō'Xoak!oa ta-îtci tê'lXam. Ka'nauwē iqîXuwā'Xit. Iɮgiŏ'lXam
They went home those people. All he was run away from. He said to him

3 ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX gictā'cgewal: "Ai'aq ɮā'q° axa amē'k!anXatē.
that youth being two companions. "Quick take out do your gill net.

4 Itē't ya'Xi iqcxē'ɮau." "Qān mxē'xôx," itcɮō'lXam gictā'cgēwal.
He is coming that monster." "Silent be," he said to him being two companions.

5 K!wac iɮE'xôx gictā'cgewal. Mâ'ketîX kē'nuwa iɮgiŏ'lXam:
Afraid he was being two companions. Twice try, he said to him:

6 "ɮāq atxō'Xoa atxā'k!anXatē. AtXk!oā'ya." "Â2, qān mE'xôx,"
"Take out we two will do it our gill net. We two will go home." "Ah, silent be,"

7 atcɮō'lXam. Iglîcgā'tqoam ya'Xi ikE'nim. Iqiō'lXam ya'Xi he said to him. It reached them that canoe. He was told that

8 iq!u'lîpX: "Iakatxā'emax yaXi imē'k!ētenax." Nēēt igē'xEla youth: "Put it into the canoe that what you caught." Not he moved

9 ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX. Mâ'ketîX iqiō'lXam. Kalā'lkuilē igē'xôx that youth. Twice he was told. Scold he did

10 Pē'ɮpeɮ: "Ō, ā'qanuwē L! gi inxEltcî'mElē ixEngElqoā'tōɮ."
Pē'ɮpeɮ: "Oh, indeed behold! this one I heard he bathed against me."

11 Itciō'lXam ya'Xi gictā'cgewal ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX: "Ā'xk!a wu'Xi
He said to him that being two companions. that youth: "Haul in that 12 atxā'k!anxatē." Icgā'xk!a wu'Xi actā'k!anXatē. Icgakxā'ema.

our two selves' net." They two hauled in that their two selves' net. They two put it into the canoe.

13 A'qa wi iqiō'lXam ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX: "Ai'aq îkxā'ema ya'Xi
Then again he was told that youth: "Quick put it into the canoe that

14 imē'k!etēnax." Itciō'lXam: "MXɮō'Xuan tci ayamElō'ta ya'Xi what you caught." He said to him: "Do you think [int. part.] I shall give you that 15 itcî'k!ētēnax?" Itcē'gElga Pē'ɮpeɮ ya'Xi imā'qōn. Itciakxā'ema what I caught?" He took it Pē'ɮpeɮ that sturgeon. He put it into his canoe 16 iɮā'xanimpa. Itcē'gElga ya'Xi iq!u'lîpX, ia'k"cXapa itcē'gElga his canoe in. He took it that youth, its mouth at he took it youth said: "Let us go ashore." That youth went ashore. There were six people in Pē'ɬpeɬ's canoe. He took hold of the thwarts and right away the canoe broke. "Behold, indeed, you bathed, preparing against me." "Indeed, I bathed, preparing against you," said that youth. He took Pē'ɬpeɬ at his clavicles. He moved his hands and tore a hole in his chest. He pushed Pē'ɬpeɬ and he fell on his back into the water. "Treat me softly, younger brother," said Pē'ɬpeɬ. But the youth said to him: "Rise! Why do you talk that way?" He took hold of him just a little and broke his bones. Pē'ɬpeɬ said: "Oh, let me alone, I am poor." The two youths put the sturgeon into their canoe and went home. Pē'ɬpeɬ was put into his canoe. He was dead. They went home and carried him to his house. They landed at his town. Pē'ɬpeɬ was lost. His companions went up. They told Pē'ɬpeɬ's mother: "Go down to the beach. Your son brings your gill net. Make a coat." The old woman went inā'qōn.	Nau'i	ka'nauwē	ɬex	igē'xôx	iā'k^{u}cXa	ya'Xi	inā'qōn.		1

the sturgeon.	At once	all	broken	it became	its mouth	that	sturgeon.
Igē'k·îm	ya'Xi	iq¡u'lîpX:	"ɬxe'leuX	txē'gela-îX."	Icxē'gela-îX				2
He said	that	youth:	"Ashore	we will land."	They two landed ɬxɛ'leu.	laqɛ'luɬx	ya'Xi	iq¡u'lîpX.	Lā'k¡atxanîke	ɬa-îtci	Pē'ɬpeɬ.			3 ashore.	He went ashore	that	youth.	Six men in his canoe	those	Pē'ɬpeɬ.
Itcē'gɛlga	ya'Xi	its¡iqLqoā'ma	ya'Xi	iLā'Xanim.	Nau'i	ts¡ex			4
He took them	those	thwarts	that	his canoe.	At once	split
igē'xôx	ya'Xi	ikɛ'nim.	"Ō,	ā'qanuwē,	L¡ gi!	imxangɛ'lqoat."			5
It was	that	canoe.	"Oh,	indeed,	behold this one!	you bathed against me.'
"laxangɛ'lqoat,	ā'qanwe,	laxangɛ'lqoat,"	igē'k·îm	ya'Xi					6
"I bathed against you,	indeed,	I bathed against you,"	he said	that iq¡u'lîpX.	Iqē'gɛlga	Pē'ɬpeɬ	gipā'tîx·.	Ē'wa	itcî'tux	ta'Xi			7 youth.	He was taken	Pē'ɬpeɬ	here.	Thus	he made them	those tē'yakci;	nau'i	lxoa'plxoap	igē'xôx	gipā'tîx·	tcī'yatck¡umpa.				8
his hands;	at once	holes	were	here	his clavicles at.
Iqiō'samit	Pē'ɬpeɬ,	nau'i	iuL¡uwā'ekoXuît	Lteu'qoapa.	"Lawā'				9
He was pushed	Pē'ɬpeɬ,	at once	he fell back so that he sat	the water in.	"Easy
ā'koa	mɛnō'xoa,	ā'wē!"	Iqiō'lXam	Pē'ɬpeɬ:	"Mɛ'tXuît.	Qā'tsqē			10
thus	do me,	younger brother!"	He was told	Pē'ɬpeɬ:	"Stand up.	Why
ā'koa	mxō'la?"	Nō'L¡îX	iqē'gɛlga,	iguXoalā'Xit	tē'yaq¡ōtcō				11
thus	you talk?"	A little	he was taken,	they broke on both sides	his bones
Pē'ɬpeɬ.	Igē'k·îm:	"Iā'c	nɛ'xa,	tgɛ'giutgoax."	Icgiakxā'ema				12
Pē'ɬpeɬ.	He said:	"Let alone	do me,	I am poor."	They two put it into the canoe
ictā'naqōn.	Icî'Xk¡oa	eta'Xi	cq¡u'lîpX.	A'qa	iqiaqxā'ema	Pē'ɬpeɬ.			13
their two selves' sturgeon.	They two went home	those two	two youths.	Then	he was put into the canoe	Pē'ɬpeɬ.
iō'mɛqt.	A'qa	iLɛ'Xk¡oa.	Iqē'yuk·ɪ	tē'yaqLpa.	ILxō'gela-îX				14
he was dead.	Then	they went home.	He was carried	his house to.	They landed gi	iLā'lXampa.	Iqionā'xLatek	Pē'ɬpeɬ.	ILō'ptcka	giLā'cgēwal.				15
this	their town at.	He was lost	Pē'ɬpeɬ.	They went up	being companions.
Iqō'lXam	wā'yaq	Pē'ɬpeɬ:	"A'yaq	mɛ'lxa,"	iqō'lXam.				16
She was told	his mother	Pē'ɬpeɬ:	"Quick	go down to the water,"	she was told.
"Ak¡ɛ'nXatē	itcamē'ɬam	imē'xan;	aq¡ē'lxap	amō'Xoa."	Igō'lxa				17
"A gill net	he brings you	your son;	a coat	you will make it."	She went down to the water down and saw her son. The canoe was full of blood. Pē′ɮpeɮ was lying dead in his canoe. His mother began to cry, but she died right there.

---

1 wu′Xi aq¡eyō′qt. igē′qelkeɪ itcā′xan. Pāɮ ɮqa′wulqt ya′Xi that old woman, she saw him her son. Full blood that

2 ikE′nim. lō′mEqt Pē′ɮpeɮ ikE′nimɬa. Kē′nuwa igagE′tcax wā′yaq.
canoe. He was dead Pē′ɮpeɮ the canoe in. Try she cried his mother

3 Kōpā′ igō′maqt wā′yaq Pē′ɮpeɮ.
There she was dead his mother Pē′ɮpeɮ.

The Nisal (told 1894)

The people had a town on each side of the creek. Nisal was the name of the town on the one side, Sunnyside the name of the town on the other side. The people of Sunnyside were all shamans. Now one man at Nisal sang his conjurer's song. A small figure of a supernatural being was made of cedar wood. When this man, who had a supernatural helper, sang, then the cedar figure moved and danced. A woodchuck blanket was put onto it. It was laid double and fitted it. Then the people of Sunnyside became envious because the others could do more than they.

That man who had a supernatural helper continued to sing for two years. Now there were two mean youths at Sunnyside. They did

---

Gilā'lelam lā'xēxik¡alx

The Nisal Their Tale

Lxēlā'etîX ta-îtci tē'lXam Gilā'lelam le'xak¡anatētōl; Acuwî'ct There were those people Nisal on both sides of it; Acuwî'ct (Nisal)	1
iā'xaleuX ya'Xi ēwa' k¡anatē'tōl; Awā'xamīn iā'xaleuX ya'Xi ēwa' its name that there on one side; Awā'xamīn (Sunnyside) its name that there	2
k¡anatē'tōl. Kanauwē' la'qēwamax la-itci Awā'xamīn gilā'lXam. on the other side. All conjurers there Awā'xamīn their town.	3
Ā'qa igē'ktcxam ēXā't ksī'aacuwî'ct. A'qa iqē'lox iō'lemax. Then he sang a conjurer's song one man of Acuwî'ct. Then it was made a figure of a supernatural being.	4
Ē'ckan qikē'x. Ma'nîx nîktcxL'mix ya'Xi giā'yulemax. a'qa Cedar it was. When he sang that the one having the figure of the supernatural being, then	5
nîxelā'lalemx ya'Xi ē'ckan. Qayuwē'tckoax. Aqcîldē'x cq¡ula'. it moved that cedar. It danced. It was put on to it a woodchuck blanket.	6
Q¡up aqcō'xoax cq¡ula'. A'qa q¡oā'L qasîxk¡ā'qoax. Āqa iā'tcqem Doubled it was the woodchuck blanket. Then well it fitted. Then its sickness	7
igixe'lôx ē'Lamxte gala'awaxemīn. Iqe'lōLq. Itcî'lōLq ya'Xi it was on it their heart the people of Awā'xamīn. They were vanquished. It vanquished them that	8
ō'lemax. supernatural being.	9
Mâket tqetā'qemax igē'ktcxam ya'Xi giā'yulemax. A'qa cmôket Two years he sang his conjurer's song that the one having a supernatural helper. Then two	10
ctā'tsxatemax cq¡u'lîpX Awā'xamīn ictā'lXam, ka'nauwē tā'nki mean ones youths Awā'xamīn their town, all things	11

everything that was bad. They were friends. When it became winter again, the men of Nisal let the figure of the supernatural being dance. It danced whenever that man who had a supernatural helper wanted. When he sang, the cedar figure danced. All the people went to see it. They were surprised. Then those two bad youths, those mean men, spoke together. The one said to his friend: "What do you think? We will strike the figure of the supernatural being." The other one replied: "Let us strike it."

On the following day they went inland and searched for a branch. They took it and made a club. When they had finished the club, they went toward the sea and hid near the house. It grew dark. One night the Nisal cried "Eh—" during the dance. They were glad when the figure of their supernatural being danced. The next night, the two youths went across, and when they got across, they crept up secretly to that house. When they came near the door they stopped, and one of them said to his friend: "You lift the door flap; I will strike that supernatural thing."

---

1 nîcxɛlō'xoax iā'mɛla lxā'cîkc. Wī't'ax tcā'xɛlkLîx· igē'xôx. Wi they did bad the friends. Again winter it became. Again

2 kꞌoaLqē' ya'Xi iō'lɛmax aqiō'xoax, iLā'yuLɛmax lctā'acuwîct.
thus that figure of a supernatural being it was made, their figure of a supernatural being the Acuwî'ct.

3 Yā'xka iā'Xaqamit, a'qa iuwē'lalɛmx. Qatcigɛltcxɛ'mx ya'Xi
He his mind, then it danced. He sang much that

4 gīā'yuLɛmax, qayuwē'tckuax ya'Xi ē'ckan. Ka'nauwē tê'lXam the one having the figure of the supernatural being, it danced much that cedar. All people

5 qatgixēlō'tcxa-itx. Ac qꞌäc nɛxoā'xax tê'lXam. A'qa icî'k·îm they went to see it. And surprised they were the people. Then the two said

6 cta'Xi cqꞌu'lîpX cta'Xi gictā'mɛla cqꞌu'lipX ctā'tcxatɛmax.
those two youths those two bad ones two youths the two mean ones.

7 Itcio'lXam ia'cîke: "Qa e'mēmxtc? Atxgiuqoē'lXɛma tau
He said to him his friend: "How your mind? We two will strike it that

8 iō'lɛmax." Itciō'lXam iā'cîke, igē'k·îm ya'Xi ē'Xat: "Tgtꞌiō'kti figure of the supernatural being." He said to him his friend, he said that one: "Good 9 atxgiuqoe'lXɛma."

we two strike it."

10 Wāx igō'tcuktē. A'qa ictō'ptck lxɛ'leuX. Icgō'naxL ā'Lap.
Early day came. Then they two went up landward. They searched for it a branch.

11 Icgō'egam ā'Lap. A'qa icî'kux atā'mqꞌaL. ILkcā'kōLq atā'mqꞌaL.
They two found it a branch. Then they two made it a club. They finished it the club.

12 A'qa îctō'lxa. Qꞌoā'p tqu'lepa a'qa icgō'pcut. Igō'ponɛm.
Then they went down toward the water. Near the house at then they two hid. It grew dark.

13 Agōn ā'pōl ē'Lutk qatgiō'xoax kLctā'acuwîct. Ma'nîx
One night crying "Eh" they did the Acuwî'ct. When 14 qayuwē'tcgoax ya'Xi iLā'yuLɛmax, kꞌwa'nkꞌwan qaLxigɛlō'xoax.

it danced that their figure of a supernatural being, glad they were.

When the figure of the supernatural being danced, it went to and fro five times in the house. A little while they stayed outside. Then the man who had a supernatural helper began to sing. Then the one said to his friend: "Now they let the figure of the supernatural being dance." After a little while the people in the house began to cry "Eh." The figure of the supernatural being was moving, and then the two youths went to the door. They stayed there. Then they opened the door a little and one of them said to his friend: "There, that supernatural being moves dancing in the house. Look!" Then his friend saw the figure of the supernatural being. Indeed, it was moving. Three times it went to and fro. Then one of them said to his friend: "When it comes again we will strike it. You lift the door

A′qa wi igō′ponem. Aqa îctē′gōsîX eta′Xi cq!u′lîpX. 1
Then again it grew dark. Then they two landed those two two youths.

Ictigō′samîx. A′qa icxō′kuikluwa ta′Xi tqu′lē. Q!oā′p icî′qēpa 2
They arrived on the other side. Then they crept secretly to that house. Near the door at ictō′yam, aqa icxē′la-it. Itciō′lXam iā′cîke: "Mai′ka amiolā′tcgoa 3 they arrived, then they two stayed. He said to him his friend: "You you lift it ya′Xi iqabō′tē. Nai′ka aniuqoē′lXema ya′Xi iō′lemax." Manî′x 4 that door flap. I I will strike it that figure of the supernatural being." When ayuwē′tcka ya′Xi iō′lemax, qoā′ɔnemîX la!q! nîxō′xoax ya′Xi 5 it danced that figure of a supernatural being, five times turn round it did that iō′lemax ta′Xi tqu′lēpa manî′x qayuwē′tckoax. Xō′l!îx· îcxē′la-ît 6 figure of the supernatural being that house in· when it danced. A little while they two stayed la!xanîx· a′qa igē′ktcxam ya′Xi giā′yulemax." Itciō′lXam iā′cîke: 7 outside then he sang his conjurer's song that the one having the figure of the supernatural being." He said to him his friend:

"A′qa aqiwē′mitatcgoa ya′Xi iō′lemax. Nō′l!îX a′qa ā′qanuwē 8
"Now it is caused to dance that figure of the supernatural being. A little while then indeed

ē′lutk iqioxō′kalemtck, ē′lutk tqu′lepa. A′qa igē′xela ya′Xi 9
"Eh" cries were made always, "Eh" cries the house in. Then it moved that iō′lemax. A′qa ictō′ya eta′Xi cq!u′lipX icî′qepa. Icxe′la-it 10 figure of the supernatural being. Then they two went those two youths the door to. They two stayed icî′qēpa. Nōl!· icgixe′laq!îX. Atciō′lXam iā′cîke: "A′qa 11 the door at. A little they two opened it. He said to him his friend: "Now ayalituwī′ya ya′Xi iō′lemax. Nî′Xua, ē′qamîtck!" A′qa itcī′yuket 12 it comes dancing that figure of the supernatural being. Well, look!" Then he saw it iā′cîke ya′Xi iō′lemax. Aqa ā′qanuwē ixelā′t ya′Xi iō′lemax. 13 his friend that figure of the supernatural being. Then indeed it moved that figure of the supernatural being.

lō′nîX lā!q! igē′xôx iō′lemax. A′qa itciō′lXam iā′cike: "Wī′t!ax 14 Three times turn it did the figure of the supernatural being. Then he said to him his friend: "Again aletī′ya a′qa atxiuqoē′lXema. Cā′xalîX amiulā′tcgoa ya′Xi 15 it will come then we will strike it. Up you lift that flap. I will strike it." The other one said: "Yes." Then the figure came dancing. It came to the door. It had two heads. Then it turned back. Now the one lifted the door flap and the other one struck it. The figure of the supernatural being was split. They ran down to the water to their canoe and went across. They said "Heh, we got the better of that Nisal man who had a supernatural helper."

Those people became silent. The two youths came home and they went to bed at once. On the following day the people of Sunnyside heard that the figure of the supernatural being had been struck and killed. "Two men split it. Where may those people have come from?" It got dark and the people of Nisal remained silent. After four days the batons were heard again. Then the people of Nisal said: "Eh." They were told: "Oh, that figure of the supernatural being has been sewed together." One night that shaman who had the door flap.	I	I shall strike it."	He said	that	one:

1	iqabō'tē.	Naï'ka	aniuqoē'lXema."	Igē'k·îm	ya'Xi	ēXā't:
2	"A'qanuwē."	A'qa	igē'tē	ya'Xi	iō'lema	ialētō'wîtck.	Igîcgā'tqoam
	"Indeed."	Then	it came	that	figure of the supernatural being	it danced.	It reached
3	icî'qēpa.	Cmâket	ciā'q¡aqetaq	ya'Xi	iō'lemax.	Igixe'lxēgoa	ya'Xi
	the door at.	Two	its heads	that	figure of the supernatural being.	It returned	that 4	iō'lemax.	A'qa	itciō'latck	ya'Xi	iqabō'tē	ya'Xi	eXā't.	Itciō'quîlX
	figure of the supernatural being.	Then	he lifted it	that	door flap	that	one.	He struck it
5	ya'Xi	ēXā't	iq¡u'lîpX.	Ts¡exts¡e'x	icxē'lôx	ya'Xi	iō'lemax.
	that	one	youth.	Split	it was in two	that	figure of the supernatural being.
6	Icî'xawa	mā'lnîX	ictā'Xanīmpa.	Ictē'gōsîX.	Icî'k·îm:	"Ku'ca!	tau
	They two ran	toward the sea	their canoe to.	They two went across.	They two said:	"Shame!	those
7	giLā'yuLemax	Lctā'acuwîct."
	having the figure of a supernatural being	the Acuwi'ct."
8	TcE	k¡ā	igō'xoax	ta-îtci	tê'lXam.	IcXk¡oā'mam.	Nā'wi
	And	silent	were	those	people.	They two came home.	At once
9	ickLqā'yuXuit	cta'Xi	cq¡u'lîpX.	Wāx	igē'tcuktē.	Ā,	ilxeltcî'maq
	they two lay down	those two	two youths.	Next day	day came.	Ah,	they heard
10	gaLā'awaxemīn:	"Ā,	iqē'waq	ya'Xi	iō'lemax.	Iqiō'quîlX.	Ts¡ex
	the people of Awā'xamin:	"Ah,	it has been killed	that	figure of a supernatural being.	It has been struck.	Split
11	isxē'lôx.	Qāmta	LXuan	qa	tê'lXam	itgiō'quîlX?"	Igō'ponem	tcE
	it is in two.	Whence	maybe	where	people	they struck it?"	It grew dark	and 12	k¡ā	qLctā'acuwîct.	Lā'ktîX	io'qoya·îX,	a'qa	wī't'ax	iqaltcē'maq silent	the Acuwi'ct.	Four times	their sleeps,	then	again	they were heard
13	aqequ'tē.	A'qa	wi	ēLu'tk	iLgioxō'lalemtck	Lctā'acuwîct.
	the batons.	Then	again	"Eh" cries	they always made	the Acuwi'ct.
14	IqLō'lXam	Lctā'asuwîct:	"Ā,	a'qa	iLgī'yuptcx	iLā'yuLemax."
	They were told	the Acuwi'ct:	"Ah,	then	they sewed together	their figure of the supernatural being"
15	Igō'n	igō'pōnem,	a'qa	igē'k·îm	ya'Xi	igē'ktcxem,	ya'Xi
	Another	it grew dark,	then	he said	that	he sang conjurer's songs,	that supernatural helper which was killed said: "What shall we do to these Indians? They will be deceived. We will make a bird to attack them." They made a bird which was to attack those two Indians. Now the people thought: "Oh, two persons killed the figure of that supernatural being."

Now indeed snow began to fall. It fell for three days, then it became cold. It was cold for two nights. Then one man of Sunnyside said: "Keep quiet; do not go about much. It is going to be cold." One of the youths who had killed the figure of the supernatural being went toward the water. He looked up the river. Then ice came drifting down the river and two eagles were sitting on it. He went up to the house and said to his friend: "Quick, friend, let us go down to the water. There are eagles drifting down on the ice. They are eating something." His friend said: "Let us go; maybe they are eating a sturgeon." The two went down to the water and launched their canoe. They went to look at the ice on which the eagles were

giā′yuLEmax iqē′waq: "Qā aqtE′xa Natē′tanuē? Ā, lā′xlax aqtō′xoa 1
the one having the figure of the supernatural being — it was struck: — "How — will be done — the Indians? — Ah, deceive — they will be done

Natē′tanuē. LpɨE′spɨEs aqLuguē′xa." LpɨE′spɨEs aqLcgElō′xoa 2 the Indians. — A bird — it will be made." — A bird — was made against them two cta′Xi ctē′tanuē. IguXuiLō′Xoa-ît tê′lXam: "Ō, amâ′ketîke Lgi 3 those two — two Indians. — They thought — the people: — "Oh, — two men — these itgē′waq iō′LEmax." 4

they killed it — the figure of the supernatural being."

Ā′qanuwē Ltga iLō′La-it. Lō′nîX iō′qoya-îX Ltga iLō′La-it. 5
Indeed — snow — lay. — Three times — he slept — snow — lay.

A′qa itcē′lpo-îx. Mâ′ketîX iō′qoya-îX itcē′lpo-îX. Igē′k·îm 6
Then — it was cold. — Twice — he slept — it was cold. — They said gaLā′awaxEmīn: "Ac pEt amcxō′xoa. Nîct qā′mta 7 the Awā′xamīn: — "And — quiet — be. — Not — anywhere amego′cgewaLEma. Itso′mit igē′naX." Iō′Lxa ya′Xi ē′Xā′t 8 go much. — Cold — it gets." — He went down to the water — that — one iqɨu′lîpX ctā′Xka cta′Xi icgē′waq iō′LEmax. Igē′kîket ē′wa 9 youth — they two — those two — they two killed it — the figure of the supernatural being. — He looked — there cā′xalîX. A′qa ikaba′ ē′tgateX. Mâket cteɨîqteɨî′quke tigELā′itîX. 10 up. — Then — ice — drifted down the river. — Two — eagles — were on it.

Iō′ptega tqu′Lepa. Itcīō′lXam iā′cîke: "A′yaq, cîke, atxō′Lxa. 11
He went up — the house to. — He said to him — his friend: — "Quick, — friend, — let us go down to the water.

Teɨîqteɨî′quke tā′nki LXuan ioxoelā′x ē′tgateX ikabā′pa." Igē′k·îm 12 Eagles — something — perhaps — they eat — it drifts down the river — the ice on." — He said

iā′cîke: "A′yaq tE′xoya; LXuan inā′qōn ya′Xi iqixElā′x." Ictō′Lxa 13 his friend: — "Quick — let us go; — perhaps — a sturgeon — that — it is eaten." — They two went down to the water

mā′LnîX. Icgiō′cgiLx ictā′XEnīm. Icgiō′ketam ya′Xi ikaba′ ya′Xi 14 seaward. — They two launched it — their two selves' canoe. — They two arrived — that — ice — that sitting. They left the shore and came near the ice. Then the two eagles flew away, and they did not see anything on the ice. They turned their canoe. As they had just turned, the ice began to close, and crushed the canoe. The two youths were drowned together. Those two persons who had killed the figure of the supernatural being were dead. It took revenge upon them. Then the people of Nisal said: "Behold! they killed the figure of our supernatural being. Behold! and we thought men from a far away country did it." It is forbidden to make fun of the figures of supernatural beings. When a person makes fun of one, he will die after a short time.

1 tc!îqtc!î'quke tigɛlā'itîX. Ictō'yam mā'lnîX, q!oā'p îcgī'yux ya'Xi eagles they were on it. They two arrived on the water, near they two came it that

2 ikaba'. A'qa ictō'koa cta'Xi ctc!îqtc!î'q. Kjā nîct tān icgē'qɛlkɛl ice. Then they two flew those two two eagles. Nothing not any-thing they two saw it

3 ya'Xi ikabā'pa. Icgîxē'lakoa ictā'Xanim, as nōL!ī îcgixē'lakua that ice on. They two returned their two selves' canoe, and a little they two had returned

4 ictā'Xɛnim. A'qa igîxɛltcē'mXit ya'Xi ikaba'. IgiXɛ'mq!oaLk their two selves' canoe. Then it closed around the canoe that ice. It crushed it

5 ya'Xi ictā'Xanim. Kopā' L!lap ictō'ya cta'Xi cq!u'lîpX that their two selves' canoe. There under water they two went those two two youths

6 ckanacmô'kct. IcXɛ'La-it cta'Xi icgē'waq iō'lɛmax.
both. They two were dead those two they two killed it the figure of the supernatural being.

7 Itcî'nkjēmɛnakoa. Igugoā'k·îm tê'lXam Lctā'acuwîct: "Ō, ctā'Xka
It took revenge. They said the people the Acuwi'ct: "Oh, they two

8 LqōCt icgē'waq iō'lɛmax. Tātc!a ntcLō'Xua-it kɛlā'iX qa behold! they two killed it the figure of the supernatural being. Behold! we thought far where

9 tê'lXam." Tān txo tgā'k!ēLau iō'lɛmax qiXɛnɛmō'tXɛmx. Manē'x people." What maybe it is forbidden the figure of a supernatural being it is made fun of it. When 10 qaLgiXɛnɛmō'tXɛmx Lgoalē'lX, nāct iō'lqtîX a'qa qaLō'mɛqtx.

he makes fun of it a person, not long then he dies.

The Spirit of Hunger (told 1894)

There were those people. All the time they were dying of hunger. Many old people were dying. They tried to gather cockles, but there was only water in the shells. They tried to gather mussels, but they were empty. There was no meat in them. Thus it was with everything. They were starving. When a hunter went to kill elks, he did not kill anything. When a hunter went to hunt seals, he did not kill anything. All the hunters were unsuccessful. Behold! The Hunger kept all kinds of bones; those of the beaver, raccoon, sturgeon, and bear. She kept the bones of all kinds of animals, and the shells of sea food.

Now, there were two young friends. In winter the people were hungry again, and after a short while an old man died of hunger, and poor children died of hunger. Then one of these youths said to his

Oxoēlā′etîX ta-îtci tê′lXam. Ka′nauwē ʟqētā′kᴇmax wā′lō 1
There were those people. All days hunger aktō′xoa-îtx. ʟgā′pᴇlatîkc tq¡eyō′qtîkc nuXoaʟā′îtx. Kē′nuwa 2 they died. Many old people died. Try aqʟgᴇlō′-îX ʟpē′xʟᴇnaʟ, lā′ema ʟtcä′2qoa qaʟilā′eta-îtx 3

they were taken cockles, only water was on them ālaʟtjāqu′lpa. Kä′nuwa aqigᴇlō′-îX itgue′matk, a′ēma ä′2xᴇmax, 4 their shells. Try they were taken mussels, only empty, nîct ē′yatqul. Ka′nauwē tā′nki k¡oaʟqē′ nixō′xoax, tcalō′îX. 5 not their flesh. All things thus were, they were starving.

Kä′nuwa qaʟō′îX lā′xēkʟaq imō′lᴇkᴇmax gilā′k¡ewula, k¡ā nîct 6
Try they went the hunters elks having for their game, and not tān qaʟgewā′qoax. Kē′nuwa qaʟō′îX alXayō′maX gilā′k¡ēwula, 7 anything they killed it. Try they went seals having for their game, k¡ā nîct tān qaʟgewā′qoax. A′qa cu′Xumax gᴇnā′x ka′nauwē 8 and not anything they killed it. Then unsuccessful they were all tgā′xēqʟax. Qōct Wā′lō, agawigē′tgax ka′nauwē tᴇ′gaq¡ōtcō. 9 hunters. Behold the Hunger, she kept them all their bones.

K¡oaʟqē′ iqoa-inē′nē, k¡oaʟqē′ iʟatā′t, k¡oaʟqē′ inā′qōn. Ka′nauwē 10
Thus the beaver, thus the raccoon, thus the sturgeon. All tān tē′yaq¡ōtcō agawigē′tkax Walō′. K¡oaʟqē′ iskē′ntXoa. 11 things their bones she kept them the Hunger. Thus the bear.

Ka′nauwē tmaʟnē′qoxoē′max agawigē′tgax ā′taʟt¡aqul. 12
All sea food she kept them their shells.

Ā′2qa cmôket cxā′cikc cq¡u′lîpX. A′qa wi walō′ igᴇ′tux 13
Then two two mutual friends two youths. Then again hunger acted on them tcā′xᴇlqlîX. Nō′ʟ¡îX qaʟō′mᴇqtx ʟq¡eyō′qt, walō′ akʟuwā′qoax. 14 in winter. A little while he died an old man, hunger killed him.

ʟk¡ā′skas walō′ akʟuwā′qoax, ma′nîx qlā′giutgoax ʟk¡ā′skas. 15
A child hunger killed it, when poor a child.

friend: "The Hunger is my supernatural helper. I see her coming. She is carrying a mat on her back. She came round that point of land. She is coming. Don't you see her?" Thus he spoke to his friend. His friend said: "I do not see her. You alone have her for your supernatural helper, and therefore you see her." In the afternoon the children began to cry. They were hungry. On the following day the friends were in bed. They slept long. Then the one said again to his friend: "There, the Hunger is coming again. Do you see her?" The other one said to his friend: "I do not see anything. You alone have her for your supernatural helper; therefore you can see her." But this one of the friends did see her, because she was really his supernatural helper. She was not a very strong supernatural helper of the other one. He was less powerful. He said to his friend: "To-morrow I will take away her mat." "Oh, indeed," said the other one, "our relatives are poor. The old people and the children are poor." On the following day they had only fern

1	A′qa Then	itciō′lXam he said to him	iā′cîkc his friend	ya′Xi that	iq¡u′lîpX: youth:	"Naí′ka "I	gī′yuLEmax having a supernatural helper
2	Walō′. the Hunger.	Nō′qumit I see her	ya′Xi that	nō′yîX she goes	natē′x. she comes.	IkLō′ctxula She carries it on her back	Lgā′q¡apEnX; her mat;
3	ya′Xi that	iqayō′kt¡itîX point of land	stāX around	naxō′xoax she gets	natē′x. she comes.	TcūX Do	mō′qumit?" you see her?"
4	itciō′lXam he said to him	iā′cîkc. his friend.	Igē′k′îm He said	iā′cîkc: "K¡ā′ya, his friend: "No,	nîct not	nō′qumit, I see her,	tEnōX only
5	maí′ka you	amī′yōLEmaX, your supernatural helper,	tā′ntxo therefore	mō′qumit." you see her."	Lāx Afternoon	naxō′xoax became	aqaLā′x, the sun,
6	a′qa then	noxo-inē′mx they cried	tqā′totenîkc. the children.	Walō′ Hunger	aktō′xoax. acted on them.	Wāx Next day	wi again
7	niktcō′ktxîX, day came,	a′qa then	wi again	qackLqā′yuXuîtx they two lay down	iā′cîkc his friend	îlXE′mēpa. the bed on.	Lā′lē Long
8	qackLqā′yuXuîtx, they two lay down,	a′qa then	wi again	itciō′lXam he said to him	iā′cîkc: his friend:	"A′qa "Now	wi again	alatē′ya she will come
9	wu′Xi that	Walō′. Hunger.	Mō′qumit You see her	tci?" [int. part.]"	Itciō′lXam He said to him	iā′cîkc: his friend:	"K¡ā "No,	nîct not
10	nō′qumit. I see her.	TEnōX Only	maí′ka you	amī′yōLEmaX, your supernatural helper,	tā′ntXo therefore	mō′qumit." you see her."
11	Tatc¡a But	tcō′qumit he saw her	ya′Xi that	iā′cîkc. his friend.	Ya′Xka He	wuk¡ really	ayā′yōLEmaX, his supernatural helper,	ya′Xi that
12	ēXā′t one	nîct not	pāt strong	ayā′yōLEmax his supernatural helper	ac and	nōL¡îX little	ayā′yōLEmaX. his supernatural helper,	Itciō′lXam He said to him
13	iā′cîkc: his friend:	"Ō′la "To-morrow	a′qa then	anLaxcgā′ma I shall take from her	Lgā′q¡apEnx." her mat."	Itciō′lXam He said to him	iā′cîkc: his friend:
14	"Ō, "Oh,	ā′qanuwē, indeed,	tgā′giutgoax poor	txā′cuXtîkc, our relatives,	tgā′giutgoax poor	tq¡eyō′qtîkc, the old people,
15	tgā′giutgoax poor	tqā′totenîkc." the children."	Wāx Next day	igē′tcuktîX, day came,	iā′ema only	ik¡ē′cana pteris roots

roots and potentilla roots to eat. Then the friends slept again. In the afternoon the one said again: "There, the Hunger is coming." The other friend had seen her already. The first one said: "I will take her mat away." The other one replied: "Oh, indeed, our poor relatives." This one of the friends had seen her. First she looked into the last house. She looked into all the houses. Now she came to them. He thought: "When will he jump at her? She is looking in now." When she looked into a house the children began to cry of hunger. Then she turned back again and went home. When she had gone some distance, the other friend said: "There, she is going back again; she did not come to us." But the other friend had seen her looking into the house. He thought that she was not a very strong supernatural helper of his friend.

His friend said again: "To-morrow I will take her mat from her," and the other one replied: "Indeed, our poor children and our poor qayuXuimō'Xumx ta-îtci tê'lXam kɬa iā'ema ikɬenā'tan. A'qa wi 1 they ate those people and only potentilla roots. Then again ickʟqā'yuXuît iā'cîke. Lāx aqaʟā'x a'qa wi igē'k·îm: "A'qa wi 2 they two lay down his friend. After-noon sun then again he said: "Now again alatē'ya wu'Xi Walō'." Ā'nqa tcō'qumit ya'Xi iā'cîke. Igē'k·îm 3 she will come that Hunger." Already he had seen her that his friend. He said ya'Xi iā'cîke: "A'qa anʟaxegā'ma ʟgā'qɬapEnX." "Ō, ā'qanuwē," 4 that his friend: "Then I shall take it from her her mat." "Oh, indeed," itciō'lXam, "a'qa tgā'giutgoax txā'cuXtîke." Tcō'qumit ya'Xi 5 he said to him, "now poor our relatives." He saw her that iā'cîke. Tā'newa taXi kE'mkitîX tqu'ʟē igîckXā'napq. A'qa wi 6 his friend. First that at the end house she looked into it. Then again tgōn tēXt tqu'ʟē. Ka'nauwē ta'Xi tqʟē'maX igîckXā'napq. 7 another one house. All those houses she looked into them.

---

Igaɪgā'tqoam ʟa'îtcgapa. Igîxʟō'xoa-ît ya'Xi iā'cîke: "Qantsî'x ʟqa 8 She reached those at. He thought that his friend: "When may-be gi atsagEnpEnā'ya igîckXā'napq tE'ʟaqʟpa." IgîckXā'napq, a'qa 9 this he will jump at her she looks into their house at." She looked into the house, then iguxoē'nîmtck ta-îtci tqā'tōtenîke. Walō' igE'tux. Wī igaxE'takoa; 10 they cried those children. Hunger acted on them. Again she returned;

igā'Xkɬoa. YaXī' kElā'îX igō'yam, a'qa igē'k·îm iā'cîke: "A'qa 11 she went home. There far she arrived, then he said his friend: "Then wi aXaXE'tak^{u}t. Nāct igalxgā'tqoam." Tateɬa ya'Xi iā'cîke 12 again she returns. Not she reached us." But that his friend tcō'qumit igaɪgō'qoam. IgîckXā'napq tE'ʟaqʟpa. Igîxʟō'Xoa-it 13 he saw her she reached them. She looked into their house in. He thought ya'Xi iā'cîke: "Nîct ʟqōct! pāt ayā'yōʟEmaX." 14 that his friend: "Not behold! strong his supernatural helper."

A'qa wī't'ax igē'k·îm ya'Xi iā'cîke: "Â'la a'qa anʟaxegā'ma 15
Then again he said that his friend: "To-morrow then I shall take it from her ʟgā'qɬapEnX." Itciō'lXam: "Â' kat a'qanuwē. Tgā'giutgoax 16 her mat." She said to him: "Ah, indeed. Poor old people." Day came. In the afternoon they lay in their bed sleeping. The second one of the friends saw the Hunger coming. Then the first one said: "There, the Hunger is coming!" But lo! the other one had seen her already. "Now, I will jump at her when she comes," said the one; "I will take her mat away." Her legs were long and her hair was thus. She had only a little hair, but it was long. Then the Hunger came again. She came to the last house and looked into it. The children began to cry, and an old man died of hunger. She looked into all the houses, and came also to the house of the friends. She looked into it. Then the one of the friends thought: "When will he jump at her?" She stood in the door for a long time and turned back again. When she had gone a long distance, the other one of the friends said: "There, she is turning back again. She did not come to us. Maybe she knows that I am going to take her mat away." Then the other friend thought: "Behold! he did not see her. She stood in the door for a long time, but he says she did not come."

---

1 tqā′totenîkc, tgā′giutgoax tq!eyō′qtîkc." Wāx igē′tcuktîX wī′t'ax.
the children, poor the old people." Next day day came again.

2 Lāx aqaLā′x, a′qa wī′t'ax îcкLqā′yōXuît ictā′lXamēpa. Ā′nqa Afternoon the sun, then again they two lay down their two selves' bed on. Already

3 tcō′qumit iā′cîkc atē′t wu′Xi Walō′. A′qa wi itciō′lXam ya′Xi he saw her his friend she came that Hunger. Then again he said to him that

4 iā′cîkc: "A′qa wi alatē′ya wu′Xi Walō′." Tā′tc!a ya′Xi ēXā′t his friend: "Now again she will come that Hunger." But that one

5 ā′nqa tcō′qumit wu′Xi Walō′. "A′qa antcakEnpEnā′ya ma′nîx already he had seen her that Hunger. "Then I will jump at her when

6 alatē′mam," igē′k!îm ya′Xi ēXā′t. "AnLaxcgā′ma Lgā′q!apEnX."
she will arrive," he said that one. "I will take it from her her mat."

7 Itā′4Lqtax ta′Xi tgā′qo-it. K!oaLqē′ La′Xi LE′gaqsō, k!a nōL!
Long those her legs. Thus that her hair, and little

8 La′Xi LE′gaqsō k!a iLā′Lqtax. A′qa wi igā′tē wu′Xi Walō′.
that her hair and long. Then again she came that Hunger.

9 Igatē′mam ta′Xi kE′mkXitē tqu′LE. IgîckXā′napqîX. Igoxoē′nîmtck
She arrived at that last house. She looked into it. They cried

10 tqā′totenîkc. LŌ′maqt LēXā′t Lq!eyō′qt walō′. Kanauwē′ ta′Xi the children. He died one old man hunger. All those 11 tqLē′max igîckXā′napq. Igatē′mam tE′taqLpa, igîckXā′napq houses she looked into. She arrived their house at, she looked into it

12 tE′taqLpa. IgîxLō′Xoa-ît ya′Xi iā′cîkc: "Qantsî′x atsEgEnpenā′ya?"
their house in. He thought that his friend: "When will he jump at her?"

13 Lē′lē igō′tXuit icî′qēpa. Aqa wi iaXE′takoa. Igō′ya, kElā′îX Long she stood the door in. Then again she returned. She went, far 14 igō′yam. A′qa igē′k!îm ya′Xi iā′cîkc: "A′qa wi aXE′taqt. Nāct she arrived. Then he said that his friend: "Now again she returns. Not 15 igalxgā′tqoam. LXuan talō′XuîX anLaxcgā′ma Lgā′q!apEnX."

she came to us. Perhaps she knows it I shall take it from her her mat."

16 IgîxLō′xoa-ît ya′Xi iā′cîkc: "LqōCt nîct tcō′qumit. Ē′yaLqtîX
He thought that his friend: "Behold! not he saw her. Long 17 igō′tXuit icî′qēpa, tatc!a ixō′la nîct igatē′mam."

she stayed the door in, but he says not she arrived."

For five days she came to their house and the one only saw her. The mat which she carried on her back was small. They were sleeping, and when it was dark the one said to his friend: "Behold! you do not see the Hunger. She stood in the door for a long time, then she turned back." The other one did not reply. Then the first one continued: "To-morrow I will take her mat away. I will help you." The other one replied: "He will take the Hunger's mat, and even I was unable to take it from her." The other one said: "You will see, I shall take her mat away."

On the following day the mother of the one youth said: "What are you whispering all the time?" "We are afraid that the Hunger may kill us." The sun went along and it came to be afternoon. Then that youth tied his hair up on the back of his head. Again they lay down in bed. The one of the friends said: "Now, when she comes again, I shall take her mat." His friend replied: "Well, maybe you

Qoä'nema lkā'etax igatē'mam te'laqlpa. Tcō'qumit ya'Xi eXā't. 1
Five days she arrived their house at. He saw her that one.

Ilō'k¡ua-its la'Xi lq¡ā'penX klō'stXula. Ickłqā'yuXuit Xā'pîX 2 small that mat that she carried. They two lay down in the evening ya'Xi iā'cîkc, a'qa itciō'lXam: "łqōct nîctqē mō'qumit gi Walō'. 3 that his friend, then he said to him: "Behold, not at all you saw her this Hunger.

Lā'lē nō'tXuit ē'lxacîqpa, teXua naXtā'kuax." Näct qa igē'k'îm 4 Long she stood our door in, then she returned." Not anyhow he spoke ya'Xi iā'cîkc. Itciō'lXam: "Ō'la a'qa nai'ka anłaxegā'ma 5 that his friend. He said to him: "To-morrow now I I shall take it from her łgā'q¡apenX." Itciō'lXam iā'cîkc: "Ayamgelgē'cgama." "Lê, 6 her mat." He said to him his friend: "I will help you." "Lê, îqłaxe'cgam ā'qa łgā'q¡apenX Walō'. Ā'la nai'ka ta'tc¡a nîct 7 it will be taken from her now her mat the Hunger. Even I, however, not nłaxe'cgam łgā'q¡apenX." Itciō'lXam iā'cîkc: "Ā'łqi 8

I took it from her her mat." He said to him his friend: "Later on amaqelkelā'ya, anlexcgā'ma łgā'q¡apenX." 9 you will see,' I shall take it from her her mat."

Wāx igē'tcuktîX. Igiō'lXam wā'yaq ya'Xi ēXā't iq¡u'lîpX: 10
Next day came. She said to him his mother that one youth:

"Tān łqa gi cā'ucau qatcîmtō'xoa-îtx?" "Qōi acXemgenā'tîX 11
"What maybe this low voice he always said to you?" "Must they are afraid walō' alxlā'-ita." Igō'ya aqałā'x. Lāx igaxō'qoam aqałā'x. 12 hunger we shall die." He went the sun. Afternoon he arrived the sun.

A'qa ilîXe'melaptek ya'Xi iq¡u'lîpX. A'qa wi îckłqā'yuXuit 13
Then he tied his hair on the back of his head that youth. Then again they two lay down ictā'lXamēpa. Itciō'lXam iā'cîkc: "A'qa nłaxegā'ma łgā'q¡apenX 14 their two selves' bed on. He said to him his friend: "Now I shall take it from her her mat manî'x alatē'mama wī't'ax." "NîXua'," itciō'lXam iā'cîkc, "ō'la łqa 15 when she will arrive again." "Well," he said to him his friend, "to-morrow then will take her mat away to-morrow." After some time the other one spoke again: "Now the Hunger is coming." Thus spoke the one. But the other one had seen her already. She came and arrived at the last house. There she looked in first, and she looked into all the houses. Now she looked into the house near their own. The children were crying. Then she looked into their own house. Now he jumped outside. It was evening. Then the other one went out also and saw her. His friend almost fell down, but he jumped up again. He fought with the Hunger. Now she threw him, and now he threw her. For a long time he did so, and then he finished. He took her mat away. Then she cried. She liked her mat. She was very lean; she was only bones, but she was strong. She had only a little hair, but it was braided. He hid the mat outside. Nobody saw him fighting the Hunger. It got dark and the friends were in bed again. Then he told his friend about it and they laughed at her. He said: "Thus I did to her, and she almost threw me down.

1 mLExcgā'ma LgāʻqꞌapEnX." Lä, aʻqa wi igē'kʻîm iā'newa yaʻXi you will take it from her her mat." Long, then again he said first that

2 ēXāʻt: "Aʻqaꞌ wi atē't wuʻXi Walō'," igē'kʻîm yaʻXi ēXāʻt.
one: "Then again she comes that Hunger," he said that one.

3 Tateꞌa aʻnqa teō'qumit yaʻXi iaʻcîkc. lgatē', igatē'mam taʻXi
But already he had seen her that his friend. She came, she arrived at that

4 kE'mkXitē tquʻLē. Iā'newatîX kōpāʻ igîckāʻnapq. Aʻqaꞌ kaʻnauwē last house. First there she looked into. Then all

5 taʻXi tqLē'max igîckXāʻnapq. Ā'qa igîckXāʻnapq qꞌoāʻp tE'LaqLpa those houses she looked into them. Then she looked into it near their house at 6 tēXt tquʻLē. Igoxoē'nîmtck ta-îtci tqāʻtotenîkc. Ā'qa igîckXāʻnapꞌq one house. They cried those children. Then she looked into

7 tE'LaqLpa. ItcE'sōpEna LāʻxanîX. Tsō'yustîX, āʻqa iō'pa yaʻXi their house at. He jumped outside. Evening, then he went out that 8 iāʻcîkc, aʻqa itcō'qumîtck, āʻkoapō nixē'maxꞌitx, aʻqa wi qayō'tXuitx.

his friend, then he saw her, almost he fell down, then again he stood.

9 IcXE'lgayū kꞌa wuʻXi Walō'. Ā, kopāʻ igikLāʻitx, āʻqa itcagE'La-it.
They two fought and that Hunger. Ah, there she threw him, then he threw her.

10 Lē'lē āʻkoa igē'xôx, aʻqa iLē'XōLq. ItcLaxE'cgam LgāʻqꞌapEnX.
Long thus he did, then they finished. He took it from her her mat.

11 A'qa igagE'tcax. Tqꞌēx igE'lôx LgāʻqꞌapEnX. Ō'LꞌElXt, ō'LꞌElXt,
Then she cried. Like she did it her mat. She was lean, she was lean,

12 ō'LꞌElXt, tāʻema tE'qꞌōtcō, taʻteꞌa tgāʻLxēwulX. NōLꞌ laʻXi she was lean, only bones, but she was strong Little that

13 LE'gaqsō, tateꞌa Lakpꞌō'stEmtîX. Kōpāʻ LāʻxanîX aʻqa itcLō'pcut her hair, but braided. There outside then he hid it

14 laʻXi LqꞌāʻpEnX. Nät Lan Lgiŏʻqumit yaʻXi icXE'lgayu wuʻXi that mat. Not anyone saw him that he fought her that 15 Walō'. Igâ'pōnEm, aʻqā wi ickLqāʻyuXuit iāʻcîkc. A'qa Hunger. It grew dark, then again they two lay down his friend. Then 16 igixElkLē'lalEmtck iāʻcîkc. A'qa hāʻhē icqꞌayāʻwulalEmtck.

he told his friend. Then laughing they two laughed.

17 Itciō'lXam: "Ä'wi nō'xoa, āʻkoapō igînge'La-it, tateꞌa tāʻema
He said to him: "Thus I did to her, almost she threw me, although only Although she is only bones, still she is very strong. I took her mat away. You will see it to-morrow."

The following morning the friends went to bathe in the creek. When they came home they made a fire and opened the roof of the house to admit the light. The mother of that youth said: "Why did you laugh last night?" "Oh, I was just laughing with my friend. Now call the old people." Then she went to call the old people. The old women and the old men were called. All those people were called, and the house of the youth came to be full of people. Then he said to his mother: "Bring me a large mat." His mother brought a good mat. Then he said to his father: "Now look and see what is in this small mat." The youth's father took off his blanket and stood up in the middle of the house. The youth said: "Maybe I deceive you, but maybe it is true. I took the Hunger's mat." Then bones were poured out of the mat upon the large mat in the middle of the tɛ′q¡otsō, tate¡a tgā′ɪxēwulX. Inɪaxɛ′egam ɪgā′q¡apɛnX. Ā′ɪqi 1 bones, but she is strong. I took it from her her mat. Later on ō′la aniqɛlkɛlā′ya." 2

to-morrow you will see it."

Wāx igē′tcuktîX. Kawī′X a′qa icXqoā′tam k¡a iā′cîke 3
Next day day came. Early then they two went to bathe and his friend ē′qaɪpa. Icā′tpqam igacXɛ′lgīɪx, a′qa tuwā′x icktō′xam tqu′lē. 4 the creek in. They came into the house they made a fire, then light they made it the house.

Igiō′lXam wā′yaq ya′Xi iq¡u′lîpX: "Tān ɪqa qamtgitqā′nîmX 5
She said to him his mother that youth: "What maybe you laughed

Xā′pîX?" "Qanā′qa itcî′cîke qaniuqoā′nîmX. Nî′Xua, 6 in the evening?" "To no purpose my friend I laughed at him. Well, tgā′lɛmam tq¡eyō′qtîke." A′qa iqtugoā′lɛmam tq¡eyō′qtîke; 7 fetch them the old people." Then they were fetched the old people;

tā′nɛmckc tq¡eyō′qtîke iqtugoā′lɛmam, tkā′luke tq¡eyō′qtîke 8
the women old ones they were fetched, men the old ones iqtugoā′lɛmam. Kanauwē′ ta-îtci tê′lXam iqtugoā′lɛmam. Pāl 9 they were fetched. All those people they were fetched. Full igō′xoax ta′Xi tɛ′laqɪ ya′Xi iq¡u′lîpX ta-îtci tê′lXam. 10 became that their house that youth those people.

Itcō′lXam wā′yaq: "lɛ′lukɪ ɪq¡ā′pɛnX, gilā′qa-îɪ ɪq¡ā′pɛnX." 11
He said to her his mother: "Bring a mat, a large mat."

Lāq igɛ′lūx wā′yaq ɪt¡ō′kti ɪq¡ā′pɛnX. Itcī′lXam wī′yam: 12
Take out she did it his mother a good mat. He said to him his father:

"Nî′Xua, lk¡emā′nanɛmtck gilō′k¡oa-its ɪq¡ā′pɛnX tā′nki 13
"Well, look at the small mat what ilɛ′lôxt." Itcixē′miak¡ētē wī′yam ya′Xi iq¡u′lîpX. Iō′la-it 14 is in it." He took off his blanket his father that youth. He stayed kā′tcɛk tqu′lē. Igē′k·îm ya′Xi iq¡u′lîpX: "Lā′xlax ayamcō′xoa, 15 middle house. He said that youth: "Deceive I shall do you, lXuan ā′qanuwē," igē′k·îm. "Walō′ lgā′q¡apɛnX înlaxɛ′egam." 16 perhaps it is true," he said. "The Hunger her mat I took it from her."

A′qa wāx iqɛ′tôx ta′Xi tɛ′q¡ōtcō iā′qa-îɪ iq¡ā′pɛnXpa qē′q¡ayaq 17
Then pour out they were done those bones a large mat on middle house. They saw these bones. They were those of the sea-lion, seal, porpoise, sturgeon, beaver, raccoon, otter, elk, bear, and deer—bones of all kinds of animals. And there were shells of clams, cockles, large clams, racer clams, oysters, crabs, mussels, mud clams—shells of all kinds of sea food. Then an old man said: "O grandson! now we shall have food again. Just so it happened long ago, when we also suffered starvation. The Hunger's mat was taken away, and the people were able to procure food again. Everything was attained, when in olden times the people took the Hunger's mat from her." The bones were put into the mat and were poured into the water.

On the following day an elk hunter went inland. After a little while he came down to the water and said: "I have killed three elks." On the following morning a seal hunter went out. After a little while the flood tide came and he landed on the beach of the village. His

1 tqu′ʟē. A′qa iqtuk¡umā′nanɛmtek ta′Xi tɛ′q¡ōtcō. Igē′pîx·ʟ house. Then they were looked at those bones. Sea-lion

2 iā′q¡ōtcō. ā′lxayu ī′tcaq¡ōtcō. akō′tckōtc ī′tcaq¡ōtcō. ina′qōn its bones, seal its bones, porpoise its bones, sturgeon

3 iā′q¡ōtcō, iqoa-inē′nē iā′q¡ōtcō, istak¡uē′n iā′q¡ōtcō, ē′nanaks its bones, beaver its bones, raccoon its bones, otter

4 iā′q¡ōtcō, imō′lak iā′q¡ōtcō, iskē′ntXoa iā′q¡ōtcō, emā′cɛn its bones, elk its bones, bear its bones, deer

5 iā′q!ōtcō. Ka′nauwē tā′nɛmax tɛ′gaq¡ōtcō. Ā′qamuwa its bones. All things their bones. Large clams

6 ā′gaʟt¡aqul. apē′Xʟmaʟ. ā′gaʟt¡aqul. iqoā′qunē ā′yaʟt¡aqul, iqona′ their shells, cockles their shells, cohoes (?) clams their shells, racer clams

7 ā′yaʟt¡aqul. iʟō′xʟōx ā′yaʟt¡aqul. ʟkaʟxē′ʟa a′ʟaʟt¡aqul. itguē′matk their shells, oysters their shells, crabs their shells, mussels

8 ā′yaʟt¡aqul. Ka′nauwē tmaʟnē′qoxoēmax; ai′ē ā′gaʟt¡aqul. A′qa their shells. All sea food; mud clams their shells. Then 9 iʟɛ′k·î′m lēXā′t ʟq¡eyō′qt: "Ē4, ī′tcîqcîn, a′qa îlxʟxɛ′lɛmîtck.

he said one old man: "Eh, my grandson, then we shall eat.

10 K¡oaʟqē′ ā′nqa wī′t·ax aqā′txa Walō′. AqʟaxnA′tckam ʟgā′q¡apɛnX
Just so long ago also she was done the Hunger. It was taken from her her mat

11 Walō′. A′qa nɛXuitXɛ′lɛmîtck tê′lXam. Ka′nauwē tān the Hunger. Then they obtained food the people. All things

12 qaqitp¡ē′yaʟx. Tā′anēwatîkc qatkʟɛxā′tcgam ʟgā′q¡apɛnX Walō′."
were gathered. The people of olden times (the first ones) they took away from her her mat the Hunger."

13 Iqawē′kitkʟ ta′Xi tɛ′q¡ōtcō. Wāx iqtō′xoam mā′lnîX ʟtcu′qoapa.
They were put into the mat those bones. Poured they were seaward the water into.

14 Wāx igē′tcuktîX. Iō′ya ʟxɛ′leu ya′Xi iqtiā′XekʟAx, Next day day came. He went inland that their hunter,

15 imō′lɛkɛmax giā′k¡ēwula; as nō′ʟ¡îX iō′ya, igē′ʟxam. Igē′k·îm:
elks having for his game; and a little he had gone, he came to the water. He said:

16 "ʟōn inio′tēna imō′lɛkɛmax." Wāx igē′tcuktîX. Iō′ya
"Three I killed them elks." Next day day came. He went 17 alxayō′max giā′k¡ēwula. Nō′ʟ¡îX iʟtuwē′tck¡oam, igixē′gela-îX seals having for his game, A little while it came the flood tide, he landed canoe was full of seals. The gill nets were made ready. The people went to fish for sturgeon. After a little while the flood tide came and they went home. Their canoes were full of sturgeons. It got dark. Dogs were taken along and they caught raccoons. Two young men became tired out, so heavy was the load of raccoons. The women gathered cockles, large clams, and mussels. Then the people ate much. They had an abundance of everything they had gathered. They searched for bear dens, and two or three were killed in one day. The name of that town is Iqē'lgap!ē, where the mat of the Hunger was taken.

aLā'maLnapa. PāL iā'Xanim alxayō'max. T!ayā't!a iqE'tôx seaward from them at. Full his canoe seals. Good they were made 1 tk!anXa'tē. IguXuik!anXā'temam tê'lXam. Nō'L!îX the gill nets. They went to catch sturgeon in gill nets the people. A little 2 iɬ.tuwē'tsk!oam, igoXoatk!oā'mam. Pā'LEma atā'xEnim Lnā'qōn.

it came the flood tide, they came home. Full their canoes sturgeon. 3

Igō'pōnEm. IqE'tukI tk!ō'tk!ōtkc, iqō'koya tLatā'tukc. Tä2ll
It grew dark. They were carried the dogs, they were taken raccoons. Tired 4 igō'xoax amô'kctîkc tq!ulîpXunā'yu itgE'tuctx ta'Xi tLatā'tukc.

they became two youths they carried them those raccoons. 5

TE'nEmckc tkLup!ē'yaLx Lpē'xtEnaLx k!a LE'qamuwa k!a
The women they gathered them cockles and large clams and 6 itguē'matk. A'qa igōXuiXE'lEmtck ta-îtci tê'lXam. Ē'pL!i mussels. Then they ate those people. Abundance 7 iaxā'o-îx ka'nauwē tānki qiqiup!ē'yaLx. Iqtō'naxL tiā'qLema became all things what was gathered. They were searched their dens 8 iskîntXuā'max. Mâket aqiutē'nax anā' Lân aqiutē'nax ēXt bears. Two they were killed, sometimes three they were killed one 9 wē'koa. Kōpā' Iqē'lgalp!ē iLā'lXam iā'XaleuX qateLaxā'tegam day. There Iqē'lgalp!ē their town its name he took it away from her 10

Lgā'q!apEnX Walō'.
her mat the Hunger.

Winter All the Year Round (told 1894)

There were the people of a town. They were forbidden to make fun of certain things. When boys grew up, they were always taught: "Don't strike birds with sticks. It is forbidden." When they stepped on excrements, they said: "I stepped on feathers." It was forbidden to say: "I stepped on excrements."

Now, there was a bad boy. His mother tried to teach him all the time what to do and what not to do. One day he went inland and defecated. He did so with difficulty, and blood was on his excrements. Then he rolled them down the hill and said to them: "There goes the redhead." Then he took them up the hill and rolled them down again. Again he said: "There goes the redhead." He played with

---

Itsōmîqatc lgaxē'takuîX

Winter All the Year Round

1	lxēlā'etîX There were	la-îtci those	gilā'lXam. of one town.	Tgā'kɟēlau It was forbidden to them	qioqoā'nēmx they laugh at	tā'nki anything
2	ya'Xi that	ila'lXampa. their town in.	Manē'x When	qalō'mîtx he was growing up	lkɟā'skas, a boy,	aqa then	lxacîlqlē'lalemx, he was always taught,
3	nē2ct not	aqîlkîlcē'mex it is struck with it	ē'meqō a stick	lpɟe'spɟes, a bird,	iā'mkîX else	qalxk^{u}lē'tekwax. it would tell.
4	Manē'x When	aqigō'txuit a person stepped on	iqē'xalē, excrements,	aqalgē'mx: he said:	"Ipqu'lxē "Feathers	inigō'tXuit." I stepped on."
5	Tgā'kɟēlau It was forbidden to them	manîx when	qatgē'mx: they said:	"Iqē'xalē "Excrements	inigō'tXuit." I stepped on."
6	Aqa Then	eXā't one	ikɟā'skas, boy,	tiā'texatema his badness	yaXi that	ikɟā'skas. boy.	Kē'nuwa Try
7	qingē'kiqɟenanema-îtx he is taught always			ka'nauwē all	lkā'etax. days.	Wā'yaq His mother
8	qakingē'kiqɟenanema-îtx. taught him always.			Igō'n One	ē'ka-it, day,	qayō'îx he went	sā'xalîX up	yaXi that
9	ē'lXpa. land on.	Kō'pa There	qatslōtsā'tsax; he defecated;	qana-inqɟē'k^{u}sa-itx. it came with difficulty.		Aqa Then	lqā'wulqt blood
10	alxelō'xoax. was on it.	Nau'i At once	lqā'wulqt blood	qalxelō'xoax. was on it.		Qatsiō'quîXtā'matsōX He rolled them down
11	yaXi those	iā'qēxalē. his excrements.	Aqa Then	itciō'lXam he said to them	yaXi those	iā'qēxalē: his excrements:	"Ayuyayuyā'4 "There goes, goes
12	kulia'pɟatsēu." redhead."		Aqa Then	wi again	qatsiugoā'lemamx. he went to take them.		Aqa Then	wi again	qatsiū'k^{u}l he carried them
13	sā'xalîX. up.		Aqa Then	wi again	qatsiō'quiXtā'matsōX. he rolled them down.		Wī Again	qatciō'lXamx: he said to them:
14	"Ayuyayuyā'4 "There goes, goes		kulia'pɟatsēu." redhead."		Nîx'emō'tXemx He played with them		yaXi those	iā'qēxalē. his excrements.

his excrements. Then one boy came to him and said: "What are you doing?" He replied: "I am playing with my excrements." "Oh, that is forbidden." "Don't tell, else I shall be scolded." Then the other boy said to him: "Oh, snow will fall and we shall die of hunger." "If you tell the people I shall kill you."

The next night snow began to fall. It fell for two days, and the houses were covered. Then it began to freeze. Now the boy told the people. He said: "I found that boy playing with his excrements; maybe he caused the cold." "Behold!" said an old man, "it is forbidden. All this is forbidden in this country." Then his father and mother were told: "Your child caused the cold. Behold! he played with his excrements, although it is forbidden. That boy found him rolling his excrements down the hill." Then the people became hungry. Then they said: "What do you think? Let us buy that boy from his parents. We will place him on the ice." Thus spoke the

Aqa qaʟigō′qoamx ʟeXā′t ʟkɟā′skas. QaʟgiolXā′mx: "Tā′nki 1 Then he met him one boy. He said to him: "What mxē′lxaleɱ?" Qateʟōlxā′mx: "Itcî′qēxalē nxēneɱō′tXeɱx." 2 are you doing?" He said to him: "My excrements I am playing with."

QaʟgiolXā′mx ʟaXi ʟkɟā′skas: "Hē, tgā′kɟēʟau." "Nîet 3
He said to him that boy: "Heh, it is forbidden." "Not amxkʟē′tcgoa. Aqanomē′la." QaʟgiolXā′mx ʟaXi ʟkɟā′skas: "Ā′ʟqi 4 tell. I shall be scolded." He said to him that boy: "Later on ʟtga aʟōlā′ita. Alxʟā′ita walō′." "Manē′x amxkʟē′tcgoa 5 snow will fall. We shall die of hunger." "If you tell them

ayamowā′qoa." 6
I shall kill you."

Agōn ā′pōl aqa ʟtga qaʟōlā′itx. Mâket ʟkā′etax qaʟōlā′itx 7
One night then snow fell. Two days fell ʟtga. Aqa ʟlap qatgē′x tqlē′max; qaʟugoatgē′koxo-îtx. Aqa 8 snow. Then covered went the houses; they were covered up. Then qatcîlbō′xo-îx ayā′xtaxîx. Ō, aqa qaʟxkʟē′tcgoax ʟaXi ʟkɟā′skas. 9 cold came. Oh, then he told that boy.

Qaʟgē′mx kē′ana: "Inigō′qoam iā′qēxalē ix-ʟeɱō′tXeɱx. 10
He said the one referred to: "I found him his excrements he played with.

ʟXuan ia′Xka igitsō′mit itcī′yux." "Ō, ʟqōct, ā′qanauwē," 11 Perhaps he the cold he made it." "Oh, behold, indeed," iʟe′kîm lē′Xat ʟqɟeyō′qt. "Tgā′kɟēʟau. Ka′nauwē tgā′kɟēʟau 12 said one old man. "It is forbidden. All is forbidden ta′yax ēlX." Aqa iqcō′lXam yaXi wī′yam kɟa wā′yaq: 13 this country." Then they two were told that his father and his mother:

"Imtā′xan igitsō′mit itcī′yux. Tgā′kɟēʟau. Tā′tcɟa tgā′kɟēʟau; 14
"Your son the cold he made it. It is forbidden. But it is forbidden; ta′tcɟa inɛmō′tXɛmx iā′qēxalē. Iʟgiŏ′egam ʟaXi ʟeXā′t ʟkɟā′skas. 15 but he played with his excrements. He found him that one boy.

ItsioquiXtā′matsʟ iā′qēxalē." Aqa wa′lō igɛ′tux ta-îtci tê′lXam. 16
He was rolling down his excrements." Then hunger acted on them those people.

Aqa igugoā′kîm: "Wu′ska, alxgiuɱeʟā′lema yaXi ikɟā′skas. 17
Then they said: "Well, let us buy him that boy.

Qa′da mcā′XadakoaX? Alxgiexaɱeʟā′lema yaXi ietā′xan. 18
How your mind? We will buy him from them that their son.

people: "Indeed we shall die of hunger if that snow does not disappear." Then they gathered their property and tried to buy the boy, but his parents did not give him away. It was October when the cold began. It got summer again and they began to die of hunger. Many old people died. Hunger killed them. The snow became as hard as stone. The sun tried to come out, but it did not melt the snow. One day the chief opened the door. The door opened high up near the beam of the house. He saw a bird carrying something red in his beak. He struck it with a stick and it let fall what it carried. Then he said to his wife: "Go and fetch what that bird let drop." His wife arose and went to take it. She looked at it. It was a strawberry. Then she said to her husband: "That is a strawberry. The strawberries must be ripe while it is freezing here." She gave her husband the strawberry. Then her husband felt badly about that boy. He said to his wife: "To-morrow I shall leave you. Perhaps

1	Aqikɬā′itɛmita He shall be placed on	ikapa′."	Igugoā′kîm They said	ta-îtci those	tê′lXam: people:	"Ō, "Oh,
2	ā′qanauwē. indeed.	Walō′ Hunger	alXɬā′ita, we die,	manîx if	nîct not	kɟā nothing	aɬxō′xoa becomes	gi that
3	ɬga." Aqa snow." Then	itgō′xoaqtck they gathered	tgā′ktēmax. their property.	Kē′nuwa Try	iqiō′mɛla he was bought	yaXi that
4	ikɟā′skas. boy.	Nîct Not	iqē′yot. he was given away.	Tcā′maɬîx· October	pɛt really	aqa then	yaXi that	itcɛ′ɬɛlbō. cold was on them.
5	Tatcɟa, Behold,	wi again	tcā′koa-îX summer	igē′xoxoē, it became,	aqa then	walō hunger	iɬxɛ′ɬa-it. they died.
6	ɬgā′pɛlatîkc Many	tqɟeyō′qtîkc old people	qaɬō′mɛqtx. died.	Walō Hunger	akɬuwā′qoax. killed them.	Ā′ka Thus
7	ɬaXi that	ɬtga snow	ɬqā′nakc stones	qɟɛ′lqɟɛl hard	iɬɛ′xôx. it became.	Kē′nuwa Try	aqaɬā′x sun
8	naxō′xoax, it got,	nēct not	qaɬuwī′ntsxax. it melted it.	Qā2xɬqanē′gua, One day,	aqa then	yaXi that
9	ē′tacq its door	taXi that	tqu′ɬē house	cā′xalîX up	yixē′pa, here,	qɟoā′p near	iqē′paqɬ the beam	aqa then
10	a-ixɛlā′qɬqiXix: it opened;	aqa then	itcî′ɬqɛlkɛl he saw it	yaXi that	iɬā′Xakɟɛmana their chief	ɬpɟɛ′spɟɛs, a bird,
11	tā′nki something	ɬgī′yuqst it carried in its beak	ɬpäl. red.	Itcîɬgɛ′ltcēm He hit it with	ē′mɛqō. a stick.	Igē′ɬxɛlukteō It fell
12	yaXi that	iɬgī′yuqct. what it carried in its beak.	Itcō′lXam He said to her	ayā′kikala: his wife:	"Igā′ɬɛmam "Fetch it	tā′nki something
13	yaXi that	igē′ɬxalukteō it let fall	ɬaXi that	ɬpɟɛ′spɟɛs." bird."	Igō′tXuît She arose	ayā′kikala. his wife.
14	Igiugoā′ɬɛmam. She went to fetch it.	Igiukɟomā′nanɛmtck, She looked at it,	aqa then	amō′tē. a strawberry.	Igiō′lXam She said to him
15	itcā′kikal: her husband:	"Ā, "Ah,	amō′tē a strawberry	tawā′X. this.	ɬXuan Perhaps	aqa then	ɬōkst ripe	giɬamō′tē they having strawberries
16	gitcî′lxalbōt." we having cold."	Igā′ilōt She gave it to him	itcā′kikal her husband	wuXi that	amō′tē. strawberry.	Ō, Oh,	aqa then	nîct not
17	itɟō′kti good	igē′x became	ē′yamXtc his heart	itcā′kikal her husband	yaXi that	ikɟā′skɟaspa. boy to.	Itcō′lXam He said to her
18	ayā′kikal: his wife:	"Ō′la "To-morrow	aqa then	ayamtcqɛlō′qɬka. I shall leave you.	Luʼ Xuan Perhaps	lɛ′xaimatîkc we alone it is freezing only here with us." Then in the morning he made himself ready. He put on his leggings. They were that long. Then he went there up [the mountains]. He went a long distance and came to a country. That country became visible and there was only a little snow. He went a little farther and came to another country. It was warm there. Then he thought: "Oh, it is freezing weather only with us." He came down to the river on the other side of Wā'k!anasîsi. There the people were fishing with nets. They hauled the nets ashore and they were full of spring salmon. A person said: "Oh, our net is full of spring salmon." Then they gave a name to that person. "Oh, that Frost," they said to him. Then he was ashamed and went inland. He came to the river at SqE'pōs. There he found ripe strawberries. He took off his leggings and put the strawberries which he picked into them. Then he went home. In the evening he came home and said to his wife: "Oh, it is frost with us only. The Wā'k!anasîsi are catching salmon." He said to his wife: "Thus they spoke to me.

---

gîtcɛlxɛlbō't." Aqa igē'tcuktē. Aqa igiXɛ'ltXuîtck. Itixɛ'lox 1 we having cold." Then it got day. Then he made himself ready. He put them on tiā'sak!aluks gipɛ'tɛmax itā'ʟqtax. Aqa iō'ya ē'wata, ē'wa 2 his leggings that long. Then he went there, there ca'xalata. Kɛlā'îX iō'ya. Kɛlā'îX iō'ya, aqa ēlX itcīō'egam. 3 upward. Far he went. Far he went, then a country he found it.

lā'xlax igē'xôx yaXi ēlX. Nō'l!ɛmax ʟaXi ʟtga. Iō'ya, 4 Visible it became that country. Little that snow. He went, mank kɛlā'îX iō'ya. Aqa itcīō'egam ē'lX, l!ō igē'xaxîx. 5 a little far he went. Then he found it a country, warm it was.

Itcqā'lit igē'xax. Ō, igiXlō'Xoa-it, nɛ'caimatîke l!ī 6
A warm day it was. Oh, he thought, only we behold!

gitcintcîlbō't. Iō'ʟxam k!anatē'tōl Wā'k!anasîsi. Aqa 7 we are freezing. He came down at the other side of Wā'k!anasîsi. Then ōXuinauā'îtgē tô'lXam. Iqō'xoak!a taXi tnauā'îtk, ac pāl 8 they fished with nets people. They hauled ashore that net, and full taXi tgu'nat. Ilɛ'kîm lēXā't Lgoalē'lX: "Ō, pāl igō'xoax 9 that salmon. He said one person: "Oh, full is tɛlxa'naua-îtk." Iqē'yupqɛna yaXi igoalō'lX: "Q!a, kcē'yana 10 our net." He was named that person: "Ah, the one referred to tcɪîlbō't," iqiō'lXam. Ō, aqa igixɛmā'sa-it. Ayō'ptega. Iō'ya 11 freezing," was said to him. Oh, then he was ashamed. He went up. He went lxɛ'lēu ē'wa SqE'pōs. Kō'pa aqa itcLō'cgam ʟaXi L'amō'tē 12 down the river there SqE'pōs (below St Helens). There then he found them those strawberries lōkst. lāq° itē'x Lîā'sak!aluks. Aqa itcauwē'kitk tcLup!ē'yaLx 13 ripe. Off he did them his leggings. Then he put into them what he picked ʟaXi L'amō'tē. Aqa igē'Xk!oa. Xā'piX igîXk!oā'mam. 14 those strawberries. Then he went home. In the evening he came home.

"Ō," itcō'lXam ayā'kikal. "Ō, lɛ'xaimatîke tcîlxɛlbō't. 15
"Oh," he said to her his wife. "Oh, only we we are freezing.

Tgu'nat q!tō'wula Wā'k!anasîsi." Itcō'lXam ayā'kikal: "Ē'wa 16 Salmon they catch much the Wā'k!anasîsi." He said to her his wife: "Thus iqɛnō'lXam. Iqɛ'nōpqɛna. Iqɛnō'lXam: 'Q!a, tcɛlbō't kcē'yana.' 17

I was spoken to. I was named. I was spoken to: 'Ah, freezing the one referred to.'

They gave me a name. They called me Frost. Their nets were full. I brought those strawberries." Early the next morning he said to his wife: "Call all the people." Then that woman called all the people. She took a mat and poured out the strawberries. Her husband said: "It is frost with us only. It is summer. You see those strawberries. The Wā'k!anasîsi are catching salmon and are laughing at us. It is frost with us only. Let us buy that boy." Then they tried again to buy that boy. They gave many dentalia to his father and to his mother. "If you don't sell your boy, you will be killed." Then they gave up that boy. He was carried out to the sea and placed on the ice. Then they heard him cry. At midnight he was dead. Rain began to fall and it rained for a long time. The ice and the snow began to melt. It was good weather. It was midsummer right away. Then the people moved. They went to the bay and caught spring salmon. They caught sturgeon and they ate. Then they dried the salmon and the sturgeon.

1 Pāɬ igō'xoax taXi tnauā'itk. ɬaXi ɬ'amō'tē îmɬî'ɬam." Kawī'X Full got that net. Those strawberries I brought them." Early

2 igē'tcuktîX. Aqa itcō'lXam ayā'kikal: "A'yaq tgā'lEmam day came. Then he said to her his wife: "Quick! fetch them

3 ka'nauwē tê'lXam." Aqa iktugā'lEmam ka'nauwē tê'lXam wuXi all people." Then she fetched them all people that

4 ayā'kikal. Aqa igE'ɬgElga Lq!ā'pEnX. Wax igE'ɬôx ɬaXi woman. Then she took it a mat. Pour out she did them those 5 ɬ'amō'tē. Aqa igē'kîm yaXi itcā'kikal: "Ō, lE'xaimatîkc strawberries. Then he said that her husband: "Oh, only we

6 tcîlxElbō't. Aqa tcā'koa-îX igē'xaxîX. AmcgE'ɬEkct gi are freezing. Then summer it is. You see these

7 ɬ'amō'tē. Tgu'nat qtō'wula Wa'k!anasîsi. QElxoguā'nînix strawberries. Salmon they catch much the Wā'k!anasîsi. We are laughed at 8 lE'xaimatîkc tcîlxElbō't. Tcā'qa wī't'ax alxgiumElā'lEma yaXi we only are freezing. Come! again we will buy that

9 ik!ā'skas." Aqa wit'ax iqiō'mEla yaXi ik!ā'skas. Lgā'2pEla boy." Then again he was bought that boy. Many 10 tktē'max îqtcî'lōt wā'yaq k!a wī'yam. "Ma'nîx nîct amtgiō'ta dentalia were given to them his mother and his father. "If not you give him away

11 imtā'xan, aqa qamtōtē'na." Ā'qa îcgī'yōt ictā'xan. Aqa iqē'yukɬ your son, then you will be killed." Then they gave him away their son. Then he was carried 12 mā'ɬnîX. Iqikɬā'ētamit ikapa'. Aqa iqEltcE'mElit igigE'tcax.

seaward. He was placed on ice. Then he was heard he cried.

13 Qē'q'ayak wā'pōl aqa iō'maqt. Ā2qa îctō'qoîɬtē, îctō'qoîɬtē4;
Middle night then he died. Then it rained, it rained;

14 ē'yaLqtîX ictō'qoîɬtē. Ā'qa iō'sa yaXi ikapa'. Aqa iɬō'sa long it rained. Then it melted that ice. Then it melted

15 ɬaXi ɬtga. Ē't!ōlX igī'xox; LqōCt, nō'e qē'q!ayak itcaguā'yam.
that snow. Fair weather it became; behold, at once middle it became summer.

16 Ā4qa igugwā'ɬayu ta-îtci tê'lXam. Itgī'ya ē'maɬîXpa tgu'nat
Then they moved those people. They went to the bay, salmon

17 itktōp!ē'yaLx; ɬnā'qōn iqLōp!ē'yaLx. Aqa igoLxuiLxE'lEmtck they caught; sturgeon they caught. Then they ate

18 tê'lXam. Ā, aqa igō'Xuik"cEm; iqa'tōkcEm tgu'nat; iqa'ɬōkcEm the people. Ah, then they dried fish; they dried them the salmon; they dried them 19 ɬnā'qōn.

the sturgeon.

The Gilā'unalX Maiden who was Carried Away by the Thunderbird (told 1894)

The GiLā'unaLX used to go inland to hunt elks. In the fall of the year they used to go to Saddle mountain. When elks were seen on the prairie of Saddle mountain, they were all killed. There is a narrow trail leading upward. A man who had a strong supernatural helper was placed near the trail. No menstruating woman was allowed to go on that trail. It was forbidden. There on that prairie they gathered onion roots and rush roots. When elks were driven along that small trail, then that person took only a stick. He moved it as though he were going to hit the elk, and it jumped down the precipice at once. Sometimes sixty were killed in this way. When there were few people, then thirty were killed when they were driven down. They were thrown down upon those rocks and their bones were broken. There

---

QatgE'ptckax GiLā'unaLX imō'lEkumax qaLikElō'îX. Kōpā' a'qa 1
They went inland the GiLā'unaLX, elks they hunted. There then LÎ'taLxîX nixō'xoaxîx Suwalalā'xôstpa. Ma'nîx aqiusgā'mx 2

August it became Saddle mountain on. When they are found imō'lEkumax ya'Xi tEmqā'emaXpa Suwalalā'xôst kopā't Liā'pEla 3 elks that prairie on Saddle mountain just as many kopā't aqiotē'nax. lō'k¡ua-îts ya'Xi ē'Xatk ya'Xi 4 as they are killed. small that road that iqayoqowî'lXtxpa. Qiā'x wuk¡ iLā'yuLEmax, tcXua kōpā' 5 where they go up on. If real his supernatural helper. then there qayō'tXuîtx ya'Xi ē'Xatkpa. Nē2et qaLō'îx LqLā'xît ya'Xi 6 he stands that road on. Not she goes a menstruating woman that ē'Xatkpa. Tgā'k¡iLau. Kōpā' ta'Xi tEmqā'ema cā'xalîX, kōpā' 7 road on. It is forbidden. Then that prairie on top, there aqtup¡iā'Lxa tkē'qcElEma k¡a tqE'pqEp. Manē'x aqiXuwā'x 8 they are gathered roots (sp.?) and rush roots (?). When they are driven imō'lEkumax ya'Xi iō'k¡ua-îts ē'Xatkpa, a'qa iā'ema ē'mqō 9 elks that small road on, then only a stick qaLgigElgā'x La'Xi LgoaLē'lX. QaLgigEntek¡oā'mitx ya'Xi ē'mqō 10 he holds it that person. He stretches it out that stick ya'Xi imō'lak. Nau'i qatsupEnā'x ē'wa gē'gualîX. Ē'XtEmaxîX 11 that elk. At once it jumps thus down. Sometimes tEXEmLāt aqiutē'nax; ma'nîx anō'L¡katîkc tê'lXam, a'qa LōnLāL 12 sixty they are killed; when few only people, then thirty aqiutē'nax. AqiXuwā'x gē'gualîXpa. AqiukuitXuimē'tatcōX 13 they are killed. They are driven down to. They are thrown down ta'Xi tqE'nakcpa. Ac qanā'qa iqēXuwā'x, aqa nuXualā'x'itx 14 those stones on. And only they are driven, then they are broken is a trail which the people went down. Then these elks were dried down below.

Now there was a girl who was just mature. That year the GiLā'unaLX went inland to hunt elks. The elks were driven down and forty were killed. Then that person turned aside, and the elks passed going up. The people went down to where the elks were and dried them. That girl was told not to go along to the prairie, where the roots were being gathered. It was forbidden. No girl who had just reached maturity went there. There are two caves in the rock, which are the town of the Thunderbird. There are bones of all kinds of animals. There are bones of whales, of sea-lions, and of all kinds of sea animals. Indeed, the women came to gather roots. That girl did not accompany them. The GiLā'unaLX stayed there a long time. One day a woman said to the girl: "We are going to dig roots. I went

1 tē'yaq!ōtcō. Akā'x itā'eXatk ta-îtci tê'lXam ya'Xi qatukuitcō'Xpa, their bones. There is their road those people there where they go down on,

2 kōpa' qatgix·cā'mitx gē'gualîx·pa ya'Xi imō'lEkumax.
there they dry them below at those elks.

3 Ā'qa nak!elā'wulXEmx wu'Xi aēXā't ahā't!au. Igō'n ēXt iqē'taq
Then she became mature that one maiden. Another one year

4 wī't'ax qatgE'ptcgax GiLā'unaLX. Imō'lak qaLigElō'îx. A'qa again they went inland the GiLā'unaLX. Elk they hunted. Then 5 wī't'ax aqiXuwā'x ya'Xi imō'lEkumax. AqiukuitXuimē'tatcōX.

again they were driven those elks. They were thrown down.

6 LakLā'L aqiutē'nax, a'qa lāq aLXō'XoaX La'Xi LgoaLē'lX, a'qa
Forty were killed, then turn he did that person, then

7 qayō'ptckax ya'Xi imō'lEkumax. Qatqqctcō'x gē'gualîX ta-îtci they went up those elks. They went down below those

8 tê'lXam ya'Xi nîXLā'etamX ya'Xi imō'lEkumax. Kōpā' people there they lay those elks. There

9 qaqiukcE'mx ya'Xi imō'lEkumax. A'qa aqolXā'mx wu'Xi ahā't!au:
they dried them those elks. Then she was told that virgin:

10 "Nēct amxEltō'ma ya'Xi tEmqā'emaXpa ya'Xi tkē'qcElEma
"Not go in company that prairie to that roots (sp.?)

11 aqtup!iā'ixaētxpa. Tgā'k!iLau. Nîct qantsî'x LQ!ēlā'wulX aLō'îx where they are gathered on. It is forbidden. Not even a girl who menstruates for the first time she goes 12 kōpa'. Ikēnuwakcō'ma iā'lXam." Lxoa'p ōguakē'x ta'Xi tqE'nakc.

there. The Thunderbird his town." Holes there are those rocks.

13 Ka'nauwē tā'nki tē'yaq!ōtcō kōpā'. Ē'k!oalē tē'yaq!ōtcō kōpa'
All things their bones there. Whale its bones there

14 ō'xoaxt. Mâ'kctîX Lxoā'p ta'Xi tqE'nakc. Igē'pîXL tē'yaq!ōtcō are. Twice holes those rocks. Sea-lion its bones

15 kōpa' ō'xoaxt. Kā'nauwē tā'nki mā'LnîX tgatE'q!ōtcō. Ā'qanuwē there are. All things seaward their bones. Indeed

16 qatgē'x ta-îtci tE'nEmckc. Qatktup!iā'Lqamx tkē'qcîLEma. Nāct they went those women. They went to gather them roots (sp.?). Not 17 naxEltō'mx wu'Xi aq!elā'wulX. Lē'lē kōpa' noxoēlā'îtx she went in company that girl menstruating for the first time. Long there they were 18 GiLā'unaLX. QāxLkanē'gua qaLgulxā'mx lēXā't Lhā't!au: "Ō, the GiLā'unaLX. One day they said to her that maiden: "Oh, 19 alxō'ya tkē'qcîLEma. Anq!ā'x·it naī'ka, goā'nEsum qanō'îX.

we will go roots (sp.?). I menstruated I, always I went.

up there, although I was menstruating, and nothing happened to me. Perhaps they deceive you only." Then the girl said: "Next time I will go along when you go."

Then they went again and the girl went along. They gathered roots. The women went and gathered roots. When the women went digging roots, the girl had her head covered with long dentalia. Dentalia were tied to her body. Now they lost her. One woman said: "Where is that girl who accompanied us?" They searched for the girl. "Maybe she went to the town of the Thunderbird." A mist covered the prairie. They went to search for the girl near the rocks. They found her near the rocks. All kinds of sea birds were flying around the rocks. At a little distance the noise of the flying birds was heard. They saw that girl and told her: "Come! we will go home." But she did not look. They tried to take her hands and

Näet	qā	qanxō'xoax.	ʟXuan	qanā'qa	lā'xlax	qᴇ'muxt."	Igā'k'îm		1
Not anyhow		I was.	Perhaps	to no purpose	deceived	you are done."	She said
wu'Xi	aq¡elā'wulX:		"Wī't'ax	amcō'ya,	a'qa	anxᴇltō'ma."			2
that	girl menstruating for the first time:		"Again	you will go,	then	I shall go in company."
A'qa	wī't'ax	itgī'ya.	A'qa	igaxᴇ'ltōm	wu'Xi	ahā't¡au.			3
Then	again	they went.	Then	she went in company	that	maiden.
Tkē'qcîlᴇma	itō'guiga.		A'qa	itgī'ya	ta-îtci	tᴇ'nᴇmcke,	a'qa		4
Roots (sp.?)	they took them.		Then	they went	those	women,	then itktup¡ō'yaʟx	tkē'qcîlᴇma.		Kā	ōxuik¡ē'wula	ta-îtci	tᴇ'nᴇmcke,			5
they gathered them	roots (sp.?).		When	they gathered roots	those	women.
ka'nauwē	tgā'ktēma	wu'Xi	ahā't¡au	ʟgā'q¡aqctaq,	ka'nauwē	iʟînlē't			6
all	her ornaments	that	maiden	her head,	all	they put on her hair iqawik¡ō'ʟē.	Ē'tcaʟq	ka'nauwē	k¡au'k¡au	tā'lôXt	tktē'max.	A'qa			7
long dentalia.	Her body	all	tied	were to it	ornaments.	Then iʟgonā'xʟatck	wu'Xi	ahā't¡au.	ʟʟᴇ'k'îm	lēXā't	ʟqagē'lak:				8
they lost her	that	maiden.	She said	one	woman:
"Qā'xpa	gilxā'ctewal	tau	ahā't¡au?"	A'qa	iʟgō'naxʟ	wu'Xi			9
"Where	our companion	that	maiden?"	Then	they searched for her	that ahā't¡au.	"ʟXuan	igō'ya	ya'Xi	ikᴇnuwakcō'ma	iā'lXampa."				10 maiden.	"Perhaps	she went	that	Thunderbird	his town to."
A'qa	iga-ikxā'ʟaqo-îx	ta'Xi	tᴇmqā'emaXpa.	A'qa	iʟgonā'xʟam				11
Then	it became foggy	that	prairie on.	Then	they went to search for her wu'Xi	ahā't¡au	ta'Xi	tqᴇ'nakcpa.	Q¡oā'pîX	ta'Xi	tqᴇ'nakc,	a'qa		12
that	maiden	those	rocks at.	Near	those	rocks,	then iqō'cgam	ō'Xtgoapa.		TixᴇʼlakʷtX	ya'Xi	iqᴇ'nakc	kanauwē'			13
she was found	where she was at.		They flew around them	those	rocks	all
mā'ʟnîX	qa	tp¡ᴇcp¡ᴇ'cukc.	ʟXuan	qā'xpa	kᴇlā'îX,	iqawitcᴇ'mᴇlit			14
seaward	where	birds.	Perhaps	where	far,	it was heard ā'taXulam:	tᴇmm	wu'Xi	ā'taXulam.	A'qa	iktō'qumit	wu'Xi			15
their noise:	tᴇmm	that	their noise.	Then	they saw her	that
aq¡elā'wulX.	Iqō'lXam:	"Mᴇ'tē	alXk¡oā'ya."	Nēct	igā'kiket.				16 girl menstruating for the first time.	She was told:	"Come,	we will go home."	Not	she looked.
Kē'nuwa	iqō'guiga	tᴇ'gaxō.	Kē'nuwa	iqa'xk¡a,	nēct				17
Try	they were taken	her arms.	Try	she was pulled,	not to pull her, but she did not move. Her face was changed. Then her companions gave it up and left her. They told their companions: "Oh, that girl became crazy. She became a monster. We are all weak of fright." Then one old woman said: "Why did you take that girl along? It is forbidden. No girl who is just mature goes there." Then the people cried. The next morning they went to look for her, but they did not find her. Feathers of sea birds were lying there, that high. When it becomes foggy, she is heard singing shaman's songs in the rocks. Thus she did: When they came to the place where she was, she sang shaman's songs. Then the people gave up the search and went home. The chief of the GiLā'unaLX said: "Let us go home," and the GiLā'unaLX went home. Therefore it is forbidden to take girls who are just mature up Saddle mountain, because that girl was taken away. The Thunderbird took her.

1 igaxɛlā'lalɛmtck, aqa sxɛlō'-ita sgā'xôst sgē'xa. Tē'2menua she moved, then different her face became. Give up

2 igō'xoax gilā'cgewal, a'qa iqagɛ'ltaqL. Igōxoagu'lîtck gilā'ckēwal:
they did her companions, then she was left. They told her companions:

3 "Ā, kɬoalalā'k igā'xôx tau aqɬelā'wulX. Iqcxē'lau ā'koa itcō'xoa.
"Ah, crazy she became that girl menstruating for the first time. A monster thus he made her.

4 Ka'nauwē nɛ'saika tɛ'ltɛl intcî'xôx." Ile'k'îm lēXā't lqɬeyō'qt:
All we weak (of fear) we became." He said one old person:

5 "Qā'tcqī mcî'kuk·ı wu'Xi aqɬelā'wulX? Tgā'kɬiLau. Nîct qantsî'x
"Why you carried her that girl menstruating for the first time? It is forbidden. Never

6 Lqɬelā'wulX qaLō'yîX kōpa'." Ā2, aqa oxoē'nîmtck ta-îtci a girl menstruating for the first time goes there." Ah, then they cried those 7 tê'lXam. Igē'tcuktîX, kē'nuwa iqō'kctam. Kɬem nîcqē' iqō'cgam. people. Day came, try they went to see her. Nothing not at all she was found.

8 Gipē't ā'kaLqt wu'Xi ā'kɛmc tpɬecpɬɛ'cukc ā'taXɛmc gi mā'lnîX
That high those feathers birds their feathers these seaward

9 qa tpɬecpɬɛ'cukc. Aqa manē'x na-ikxaLa'kcaxîX aqaltcî'mɛlitɛmx where birds. Then when it grows foggy she is heard

10 ta'Xi' tqɛ'nakcpa, qaLaxɛnLā'mita-îtx. Kɬoaqē' igā'xôx ya'Xi that rock in, she begins to sing a conjurer's song. Thus she did that 11 iqō'cgam ōXtpa Laxɛnlā'mit. Tē'menua igō'xox ta-îtci tê'lXam she was found where she was at she sang a conjurer's song. Give up they did those people

12 kē'nuwa itgōnā'xLam. A'qa wi igō'Xoakɬoa. Igē'k'îm try they went to search for her. Then again they went home. He said

13 iLā'Xakɬɛmana GiLā'unaLX: "A'yaq, alxkɬuā'ya." A'qa iLɛ'Xkɬoa their chief the GiLā'unaLX: "Quick, let us go home." Then they went home

14 GiLā'unaLX. Tā'ntxo tgā'kɬiLau lqɬelā'wulX aqLō'kIX the GiLā'unaLX. Therefore it is forbidden a girl menstruating for the first time she is carried 15 Suwalalā'xost, qē'wa wu'Xi aqɬēlā'wulXt aqā'gitga kōpa'.

Saddle mountain, because that girl menstruating for the first time she was taken by a spirit there.

16 IkɛnuwakcŌ'ma qatcā'gitga.
The Thunderbird he took her.

The Man who was Transformed into a Snake (told 1894)

The people moved. Now a man and his wife were left behind. He was a canoe builder. He used to build canoes all the year round. Then his wife gathered fern roots. Now his wife went to dig roots, but they were all bad. They stayed there a long time. Then she went digging again. Now she found many good fern roots. She took them and went home. She reached home. In the evening her husband came home. Then she said to him: "I found good fern roots." She roasted them and gave them to her husband to eat. Her husband said: "These fern roots are good. Gather many; we will take them along when we move. We will move after I have finished my canoe. Gather roots every day." He rose early and went to work on his canoe. His wife rose and went to gather roots. She gathered fern roots—some small ones and some large ones. She

Nukuaʟā′yux	ta-îtci	tē′lXam.	Kopa′	aqcgɛlo′kʟqax	aya′kikal	1
They moved	those	people.	There	they two were left	his wife
ya′Xi	ēXā′t	igoaʟē′lX	akɛ′nim	iā′xotck¡ēna.	Ka′nauwē	ʟkā′etax	2
that	one	person	canoes	he knew how to build them.	All	days
nigō′qtcqa-itx.	A′qa	ak¡ē′cana	agop¡iā′ʟxa-îtx	wu′Xi	ayā′kikal.	3
he made canoes.	Then	fern roots	she gathered them	that	his wife.
Ēwā′	kē′nuwa	ʟɛ′kʟɛk	agiō′xoaxîX.	Ā′ema	itcā′mɛla	wu′Xi	4
There	try	dig	she always did.	Only	their badness	those ak¡ē′cana.	Iō′ʟqtîX	qacxēlā′îtx	kōpa′.	A′qa	wi	nō′îx,	aqa	wi	5
fern roots.	Long	they two stayed	there.	Then	again	she went,	then	again
ʟɛ′kʟɛk	agiō′xoaxîX.	A′qa	agucgā′mx	at¡ō′kti	wu′Xi	ak¡ē′cana.	6
dig	she always did.	Then	she found them	good	those	fern roots.
ʟgā′pɛla	agup¡iā′ʟxax,	a′qa	naxk¡oa′x.	Naxk¡oā′mam	tɛ′etaqʟ.	7
Many	she gathered them,	then	she went home.	She came home	their two selves' house.
Tsō′yustîX	nîXk¡oā′mam	ya′Xi	itcā′kikal.	Igiolxā′mx	a′qa:	8
At dark	he came home	that	her husband.	She said to him	then:
"Inō′cgam	ak¡ē′cana,	at¡ō′kti	ak¡ē′cana."	A′qa	aguck¡u′ʟx	wu′Xi	9
"I found them	fern roots,	good	fern roots."	Then	she roasted them	those ak¡ē′cana.	Aga-îlqoē′mx	itcā′kikal.	Nigē′mx	itcā′kikal:	"Ō,	10
fern roots.	She gave him to eat	her husband.	He said	her husband:	"Oh, at¡ō′kti	gi	ak¡ē′cana.	ʟgā′pɛla	amopiā′ʟxa	ā′ʟqē.	Atxgō′k^{u}ɪa	11
good	these	fern roots.	Many	gather them	later on.	We shall carry them
ma′nîx	atxkʟā′yuwa.	Ma′nîx	anʟigō′ʟqa	ya′Xi	itcî′Xanim,	12
when	we shall move.	When	I finish it	that	my canoe,
a′qa	atxkʟā′yuwa.	Ka′nauwē	ʟkā′etax	amop¡iā′ʟxa	gi	ak¡ē′cana."	13
then	we will move.	All	days	gather them	these	fern roots."
Kawī′X	igixɛ′latck.	Igigō′qckam,	ikɛ′nim	itcio′xoam.	Igaxɛ′latck	14
Early	he arose.	He went to work,	the canoe	he made it.	She arose
ayā′kikal.	Igō′ya,	igagɛ′loya	ak¡ē′cana.	Igup¡ē′yaʟx	ak¡ē′cana.	15
his wife.	She went,	she went to gather	fern roots.	She gathered them	fern roots.

gathered two bundles, then she went home. Then she made a roasting frame and dried the fern roots. In the evening her husband came home. Then she roasted the roots and gave them to him to eat. Her husband said: "Oh, those fern roots are good. Gather many of them. We shall give them to the people when we move." Then she gathered fern roots every day, and one side of the house was full of them. They were tied in bundles, and the roasting frames were full of them. Then she gathered large fern roots. She dug large ones out of the ground. In the evening her husband came home. She told him: "Ah, I gathered large fern roots." He said to her: "Go again to-morrow. Soon I shall have finished that canoe. Maybe that I shall have finished that canoe at which I am working in four days' time." The man rose early and went to work on the canoe. The woman went afterward to gather fern roots. Now the house was full

1 Iā'newatîX ksɛ'mmax wu'Xi akɨē'cana. A'qa qawa itcā'qaēLax.
First small those fern roots. Then part large.

2 Mā'ketîX kɨau nakē'x igupɨē'yaLX wu'Xi aqagē'lak. A'qa Twice tied they were what she had gathered that woman. Then

3 igā'Xkɨoa. A'qa sts!ē'lqaL igɛ'cux. Kōpa' igaxcā'mit wu'Xi she went home. Then a roasting frame she made it. There she dried them those

4 agā'kɨēcana. Tsō'yustîX igîXkɨoā'mam itcā'kikala. A'qa wi her fern roots. At dark he came home her husband. Then again

5 igō'ckɨuL wu'Xi akɨē'cana. Igayî'lqo-îm itcā'kikala. Itcō'lXam she roasted them those fern roots. She gave him to eat her husband. He said to her

6 itcā'kikala: "Ō, atɨō'kti akɨē'cana. Lgā'pɛla amōpɨiā'Lxa her husband: "Oh, good fern roots. Many gather them

7 gi akɨē'cana. Ā'Lqē atxgawiqoē'mniLa tê'lXam, ma'nîx these fern roots. Later on we two will give them to eat the people, when

8 atxkLā'yuwama." A'qa ka'nauwē Lkā'etax igōpɨē'yaLx wu'Xi we arrive after moving." Then all days she gathered them those 9 akɨē'cana. PāL igō'xoax ēwa tɛ'nat tɛ'ctaqL. Kɨau, kɨau, kɨau, fern roots. Full became there one side their house. Tied, tied, tied,

10 kɨau nakē'X wu'Xi akɨē'cana. PāL ctā'Xi sts!ē'lqaLpa. Ā4, a'qa tied were those fern roots. Full that roasting frame on. Ah, then 11 itcā'qa-iLax igō'cgam wu'Xi akɨē'cana. Iā'qa-iLîX aqa LE'kLEk large she found them those fern roots. Large then dig

12 igī'yux ya'Xi ēlX. IgaXkɨoā'mam. Xā'pîX igîXkɨoā'mam she did it that ground. She came home. In the evening he came home

13 itcā'kikala. Igaxa-ilgu'Lîtck itcā'kikala: "Â, a'qa itcā'qa-iLax her husband. She told him her husband: "Ah, now large

14 gi akɨē'cana nɛ'wula." "Ō'la wi amō'ya," itcō'lXam. "A'qa these fern roots I worked at them." "To-morrow again go," he said to her. "Then 15 nō'l!katîX a'qa anLigō'Lqa ya'Xi ikɛ'nim. Lxuan lakt Lkā'etax a little while only then I shall finish it that canoe. Perhaps four days

16 a'qa anLigō'Lqa ya'Xi iqiniōxō'l ikɛ'nim." Kawī'X igixɛ'latck then I shall finish it that what I am working at the canoe." Early he arose

17 ya'Xi ē'kala, igigō'qckam. Kē'qɛmtqîX igō'ya aqagē'lak that man, he went to work. Afterward she went the woman

18 akɨē'cana igagɛ'loē, a'qa pā4L ta'Xi tɛ'ctaqL wu'Xi akɨē'cana.
fern roots she went to gather them, then full that their two selves' house those fern roots.

of them. She came home in the evening, and her husband came home when it was dark. She said to her husband: "Oh, the fern roots are large." He said to her: "Go tomorrow and gather many." The man went early; the woman went afterward. She gathered fern roots. Now she found a large root. She took that one. It was that large [putting thumbs and forefingers of the two hands together], and, behold, it had branches under ground. She worked at it. Then she cut it and thought: "I will show this to my husband. I will take it home. Maybe I am working at something supernatural. It is too large for a fern root." Then she went home. She carried this large fern root. She was going to show it to her husband. Now she came home and dried her fern roots. She placed that large one at the side of the house. In the evening her husband came home and said to her: "We will move the day after to-morrow. My canoe is nearly finished." She said: "I am frightened; I found an old fern root. I brought it to show it to you. Maybe it is something supernatural and IgaXk¡oā′mam tsō′yustîX. Igî̇Xk¡oā′mam itcā′kikal Xā′pîX.

She came home at dark. He came home her husband in the evening.

Igiō′lXam itcā′kikala: "Ō, a′qa itcā′qa-ilax gi ak¡ē′cana."
She said to him her husband: "Oh, now large these fern roots."

Itcō′lXam: "Ō′la wi amō′ya. Lgā′pEla amup¡iā′Lxa." Kawī′X
He said to her: "To-morrow again go. Many gather them." Early iō′ya itcā′kikal. Kē′qEmtqîX alā′xtax igō′ya aqagē′lak.

he went her husband. Afterwards last she went the woman.

Igup¡ē′yaLx wu′Xi ak¡ē′cana. Ō, itcā′qa-iLax wu′Xi ak¡ē′cana.
She gathered them those fern roots. Oh, large those fern roots.

A′qa ikcō′egam cta′Xi ctēXt. Ä′wi ctā′qa-iL. Qōct, ā′Xka Then she found it that one. That large. Behold, that cta′Lpuke cta′Xi gicta′qa-it ck¡e′cana wu′Xi gō′Ela wu′Xi its branching roots that large fern root that she worked at them those ak¡ē′cana. A′qa Lq¡up igE′côx cta′Xi gictā′qa-iL ck¡ē′cana.

fern roots. Then cut she did it that large fern root.

IgaxLō′Xoa-it: "Itcî′kikal ancîxēnemā′ya. Ancō′k^{u}Ia, LXuan
She thought: "My husband I shall show it to him. I shall carry it, perhaps iqcxē′Lau ta′yax nē′wula txāl itcā′qa-iLax gi ak¡ē′cana." A′qa a monster that I worked at too large these fern roots." Then igā′Xk¡oa. IgE′cukT cta′Xi gictā′qa-iL ck¡ē′cana. Akcîxnēmā′ya she went home. She carried it that large fern root. She was going to show it to itcā′kikal. IgaXk¡oā′mam. IgaXcā′mit agā′k¡ēcana. Lxē′leuX her husband. She came home. She dried them her fern roots. At side of house ikcxē′ma cta′Xi gicta′qa it. ck¡ē′cana. Xā′pîX igiXk¡oā′mam she threw it that large fern root. In the evening he came home itcā′kikal. Itcō′lXam: "Iawē′k a′qa atxkLā′yuwa. A′qa her husband. He said to her: "The day after to-morrow then we shall move. Then q¡oā′p ânLigō′Lqa ya′Xi ikE′nim." "Iqanoq¡oē′xaēmaLx."

nearly I finished it that canoe." "I am scared."

igiō′lXam. "Incō′egam ck¡ē′cana, cta′q¡eyuqt ck¡ē′cana cta′Xi she said to him. "I found it a fern root, its old age a fern root that camxatnēmā′mam. LXuan tānki iqcxē′Lau nîcqē′ ck¡ē′cana.

I brought it to show it to you. Perhaps something monstrous, not at all a fern root.

not at all a fern root. I never saw any of that size." Then her husband said to her: "You went to gather roots and are afraid of a fern root. How can that food be anything supernatural? Quick! roast it. I will eat it." Then she showed him that fern root and roasted it for her husband. When it was done, it was swollen. Then her husband ate it. He said to her: "Come, I will give you to eat. That fern root is good." But she replied: "No, eat it alone, I am afraid." He laughed at his wife and said: "You are afraid of food. You eat those small fern roots. When you eat those small fern roots, you are not at all afraid of them." Then night came. They lay down to sleep. They slept feet to feet. When it was nearly daylight the woman awoke. Then the house was warm. The woman felt hot. Now there was a noise of something hissing in the house. She tried to push her husband with her feet, but she did not find him at her feet. Then she lighted the fire. It began to burn. Behold, the house was full of snakes, and part of them were knotted together and rolled about. Part

---

1 Nîct qantsî'x qancqɛlkɛ'lx ck!ē'cana kopɛ't ictā'qa-iL." Itcō'lXam Never I saw it a fern root as large." He said to her

2 ayā'kikal: "Iā'mkîX qamxulk!ē'wulalɛmx, k!wac mxā'cxôx his wife: "Else you gather roots, afraid you are

3 ck!ē'cana. Qantcî'x Lqa pō iqcxē'Lau ya'Xi iLxɛ'lem. A'yaq a fern root. When maybe if a monster that food. Quick

4 cî'ck!uL, acînxɛlɛmō'xuma." A'qa ikcixɛ'nēma cta'Xi ck!ē'cana.
roast it, I will eat it." Then she showed it to him that fern root.

5 A'qa ikcōck!uL ikcē'lôx itcā'kikal cta'Xi ck!ē'sana. Ictō'kst, a'qa
Then she roasted it, she did it for him her husband that fern root. It was done, then 6 ictutā'wulX cta'Xi ck!ē'cana. A'qa icixɛ'lɛmux ya'Xi itcā'kikal.

it swelled that fern root. Then he ate it that her husband.

7 Itcō'lXam ayā'kikal: "Tcu'xoa yamɛlqoē'ma. Ō, ct!ō'kti gi
He said to her his wife: "Well I will give you to eat. Oh, good this

8 ck!ē'cana." Igiō'lXam: "Ma'ēma cɛmxɛ'lɛmuX. K!wac fern root." She said to him: "You only eat. Afraid

9 nxā'cxôx." Itcuqoā'nîmtck wu'Xi ayā'kikal, itcō'lXam: "K!wac
I am of it." He laughed at her that his wife, he said to her: "Afraid 10 mxɛ'xôx iLxɛ'lɛm, k!a wu'Xi ksɛ'max ak!ē'cana amxelā'x.

you are of it food, and those small fern roots you eat.

11 Nîcqē' k!wac mxā'xôx." Ā'2qa igō'ponɛm. IckLqā'yuXuit.
Not at all afraid you are of them." Then it grew dark. They two lay down.

12 Cq!ɛnɛmō'qtcqix·it. Q!oā'p ē'k"tɛlīL, a'qa igaXɛ'qo-îtq wu'Xi
They lay feet to feet. Near morning star, then she awoke that 13 aqagē'lak. A'qa L!o4 ta'Xi tɛ'ctaqL, ō'tcqa-it wu'Xi aqagē'lak.

woman. Then warm that their two selves' house, she felt warm that woman.

14 Tc!ɛc4 tā'nki ixelā't ta'Xi tɛ'ctaqLpa. Kē'nuwa igigɛ'Ltq Hissing something moved that their two selves' house in. Try she kicked him

15 itcā'kikal. K!ā nîct igiō'cgam Lɛ'gapcpa. Wax igō'xoa actā'tōL.
her husband. Nothing not she found him her feet at. Light she did it their two selves' fire.

16 Wax igā'xôx wu'Xi ā'tōL. Ō4, LqōCt, tc!iā'ukc pāL ta'Xi Light she did it that fire. Oh, behold, snakes full that 17 tɛ'etaqL. Kā k!au noxoā'xa-îtx qatqxu'ta-îtx; qā'wa a'qa nîct their two selves' house. When tied they were they rolled; part then not were not knotted together. Then she lighted a torch and saw a large snake which had just reached the door. Its face was the size of the moon. When it became daylight the large snake went out and all the small ones followed. Then the woman followed the large snake. It went into the woods to the place where she had dug fern roots. Then the large snake went into the ground and all the small snakes went in also. The woman went down to the water, and she cried going. Her husband had become a snake.

Therefore the Klatsop do not gather large fern roots. They gather only small ones. When a large one is found, they do not take it.

Then the woman went to her relatives. She told them: "My husband became a snake. He ate a large fern root. If you do not believe me, go with me. I will show you the place where he went into the ground." The people said: "Let us go and see." On the following day the people went, following the woman. She showed them where kɬau'kɬau. Wax igE'LUX Lqɬaxŏ'egan. A'qa icî'qēpa iō'yamt 1 tied. Light she did it a torch. Then the door at it arrived ya'Xi giā'qa-iL itcɬī'yau. LXuan La LkLmenā'kc ciā'xôst 2 that large snake. Perhaps like the moon its face ictā'qa-iLax. Nîktcō'ktxîX, a'qa iupā'x ya'Xi giā'qa-iL itcɬī'yau. 3 large. Day came, then it went out that large snake.

---

A'qa kē'qamtqîX qatgiwā'x ta'Xi ksE'max tcɬiā'ukc. A'qa 4
Then afterward they followed those small snakes. Then agiwā'x ya'Xi igiā'qa-iL itcɬī'yau wu'Xi aqagē'lak. Kōpā' 5 she followed it that large snake that woman. There qayō'îx LXE'leu ya'Xi gō'lapa akɬē'cana. Kōpā' qayō'îx ya'Xi 6 it went inland that where she worked at fern roots. There it went that giā'qa-iL itcɬī'yau. Nilo'pqaxîX ēlX, qatilō'pqaxîX ka'nauwc 7 large snake. It entered the ground, they entered all ta'Xi ksE'max tcɬiā'ukc. A'qa nō'LXax wu'Xi aqagē'lak. Ō'qulqt 8 those small snakes. Then she went down to the water that woman. She cried nō'LXax. Itcɬī'yau nîxō'xoax itcā'kikal. 9

she went down to the water. A snake he became her husband.

Tā'ntxo nîct gîctā'qa-iL ckɬē'cana aqcupɬiā'LXax Tiā'kɬēlakē. 10
Therefore not a large fern root is gathered Klatsop.

Ā'ema ksE'max akɬē'cana aqōpɬiā'LXax. Manî'x gîctā'qa-iL 11
Only small fern roots are gathered. When a large one aqcucgā'mx, a'qa nāct aqcupɬiā'LXax ckɬē'cana. 12

it is found, then not it is gathered a fern root.

A'qa nō'îx wu'Xi aqagē'lak tgā'cuXtîkepa. Naxk^{u}LE'tcgoax: 13
Then she went that woman her relatives to. She told them:

"Itcɬī'yau igē'xôx itcî'kikal. Ckɬē'cana icixE'lEmux, ictā'qa-iL 14
"A snake he became my husband. A fern root he ate it, a large ckɬē'cana. Ma'nîx amcgEngē'qɬanēma, a'qa alxō'ya. AyamcxEnemā'ya 15 fern root. When you disbelieve me, then we will go. I shall show you qā'xpa ya'Xi ēlX igc'lōpɬîX." "Alxgiō'kctama," igugoa'k'îm 16 where that ground he entered it." "We will go and see," they said tê'lXam. Igē'tcuktîX. A'qa itgī'ya ta-îtci tê'lXam kā wu'Xi 17 the people. Day came. Then they went those people and that her husband had crawled into the ground. They looked at the ground. There was a hole there. Then the people went home and burned the house.

1 aqagē′lak. A′qa igiuxoā′nema qā′xpa ya′Xi itcā′kikal ya′Xi ēlX woman. Then she showed them where that her husband that ground

2 igē′lopqîX, iqē′qɛlkɛlîX ya′Xi ēlX ʟxoa′p igē′xôx. Ā′qa he entered it, it was seen that ground hole it was. Then

3 igō′Xoak¡oa ta-îtci tê′lXam. IgōXuē′giʟx tɛ′ctaqʟ.
they went home those people. They burned it their two selves' house.

How the Klatsop were Killed by Lightning (told 1894)

A long time ago the Klatsop were burned. Many women went picking huckleberries, and camped for several days. Then one slave girl laughed when she heard a clap of thunder far away. That slave girl laughed at it. The Thunderbird thundered twice. Then that slave girl imitated the thunder. A stroke of lightning came and burned the whole camp. All were dead; only one youth remained alive. He had gone digging when his companions were burned. All were burned and died. Only that one youth remained alive.

After some time the Klatsop were burned again. They went digging parsnip roots. Early in the morning they rose. First they ate. Then the Thunderbird thundered. Two girls had gone already to dig roots near the creek. Then the women laughed at the thunder. They laughed "hahahā'!" Again the Thunderbird thundered and the women

ta'k¡ōlak	ā'nqa	nō'XumaLXa.	Ikanaepe'q	tgē'wula	ita'qola-îm	1
The Klatsop	long ago	they were burned.	Huckleberries	they gathered	they camped
Lgā'pelatîkc	ta-îtci	te'nemckc.	A'qa	hē'hē	nexō'xoax	aeXā't	2
many	those	women.	Then	laugh	she did	one alā'etîX.	Kelā'îX	ikenuwakcō'max	igē'xôx.	A'qa	agiuqoā'nim	3
slave woman.	Far	Thunderbird	was.	Then	she laughed at him
wu'Xi	alā'etîX.	Mâ'ketîX	nixeltcō'x	ikenuwakcō'max.	4
that	slave woman.	Then	he spoke	the Thunderbird.
Agikxo'lalemxîX	wu'Xi	ala'etîX.	Ē'gîlkc	mîxō'xoax,	a'qa	5
She imitated him	that	slave woman.	Lightning	it was,	then nōXumaLXā'X	ta-îtci	gitā'qulayîm.	Kanauwē'	nuXualā'itx.	6
they were burned	those	who camped.	All	they were dead.
ĒXā'tka	iq¡u'lîpX	iā'XanatiX.	YaXi'	kelā'îX	iq¡aLxoē'ma	tcī'wula	7
One only	a youth	his life.	There	far	roots (sp. ?)	he gathered them
qa	nōXumaLXā'x	gilā'egēwal.	Kanauwē'	nōXualē'lx,	kanauwē'	8
where	they were burned	his companions.	All	they were burned,	all nōXualā'îtx.	Iā'ema	ya'Xi	ēXā't	iq¡u'lîpX	iā'XanatîX.	9
they were dead.	Only	that one	youth	his life.
A'qa	mank	k¡oalagē'	wī't'ax,	a'qa	wī't'ax	nō'XumaLXa.	10
Then	a little	some time ago	again,	then	again	they were burnt.
Icanā'taXuē	tgē'wula.	Kawi'X	nuXualā'yutckoax,	a'qa	11
Parsnip(?) roots	they gathered them.	Early	they arose,	then nuXuik¡e'tcînktamîtx.	A'qa	ikenuwakcō'max	nixeltcō'x.	Ā'nqa	12
they took their breakfast.	Then	the Thunderbird	spoke.	Long ago
qaetō'îx	eta'Xi	emôket	shā't¡au.	Q¡oā'p	ē'qaLpa	ekLola'lpL:	13
they went	those	two	two maidens.	Near	the creek at	they two dug with digging sticks;
icanā'taXuē	cgē'wula.	A'qa	nuXoak¡ayā'wulalemx	ta-îtci	14
parsnip(?) roots	they two gathered them.	Then	they laughed at it	those te'nemckc.	Hahahā'	nuxoā'xax.	Wī't'ax	nixeltcō'x	15
women.	Hahahā'	they did.	Again	he spoke laughed again "hahahā'!" They laughed heartily. Then one of the two girls who had gone digging said: "It is forbidden. My mother told me that it is forbidden to laugh at the Thunderbird. He will burn the people." Indeed, a stroke of lightning came and almost burned those girls. The Thunderbird thundered so that the ground shook. Then she said to her relative: "Let us go into the water." They stayed in the water, their heads only emerging. The Thunderbird thundered, and the women became silent. They stayed in the water until the Thunderbird became quiet. They went to the fire and there lay their relatives, all dead. They said: "Behold! our relatives are dead." They went home to their town and told the people: "Our companions have been burned; they are all dead. They laughed at the Thunderbird." Thus they said, telling the people. An old person said: "Oh, it is forbidden to laugh at the Thunderbird. Long ago people who had gone to pick huckleberries, and who were camping

1	ikEnuwakcō'ma.	Wi	kꞌoaLqē'	nugoagē'mx	ta-îtci	tE'nEmckc.
	the Thunderbird.	Again	thus	they said	those	women.
2	Hahahā'	nuxoā'xax.	Qayuxoalā'-itx.	Nagē'mx	wu'Xi	aeXā't
	Hahahā'	they did.	They laughed heartily.	She said	that	one
3	ahā't!au	eta'Xi	ckLōlā'lpL:	"Tgā'k!iLau.	AgE'qō	agEmulXā'mx.
	maiden	those two	they two dug with digging sticks:	"It is forbidden.	My mother	she told me.
4	Tgā'k!iLau.	Aqiuk!oā'nîmx	ikEnuwakcō'maX,	nuXumaLXā'x
	It is forbidden.	He is laughed at	the Thunderbird,	they are burned
5	tê'lXam."	A'qa	ā'qanuwē	ē'gîlkct	nîxō'xoax.	Ā'koapō
	the people."	Then	indeed	lightning	was.	Almost
6	qacXEmLXā'x	eta'Xi	chā't!au.	NîxEltcō'x	ya'Xi	ikEnuwakcō'max.
	they two were burned	those two	two maidens.	He spoke	that	Thunderbird.
7	Nau'i	nixElā'lalEmx	ya'Xi	ēlX.	AgōlXā'mx	wu'Xi	agā'cuX:
	At once	it shook	that	ground.	She said	that	her relative:
8	"Aya'q,	Ltcu'qoapa	atxō'ya."	A'qa	cxēlā'itX	Ltcu'qoapa.	Ta'ēma
	"Quick,	water in	we two will go."	Then	they two stayed	water in.	Only
9	etā'q!aqetaquks	Lā'xLax	oguakē'x	Ltcu'qoapa.	NîxEltcō'x	ya'Xi their two selves' heads	visible	were	the water in.	He spoke	that
10	ikEnuwakcō'max.	Qān	nōxoā'xax	ta-îtci	tE'nEmckc.	Lā'2lē	a'qa
	Thunderbird.	Silent	they were	those	women.	Long	then
11	cxēlā'itx	Ltcu'qoapa.	Qān	nîxō'xoax	ya'Xi	ikEnuwakcō'max.
	they two stayed	the water in.	Silent	he was	that	Thunderbird.
12	Qactō'îx	eta'Xi	cqagē'lak	aLā'tōLpa.	Ka'nauwē	ō'xoaxt	ta'Xi
	They two went	those two	two women	their fire to.	All	they lay there	those 13	tetā'cuXtîkc,	oXoā'La-it.	Qacgē'mx:	"Ō2,	iguXoā'La-it	L!gi their relatives,	they were dead.	They two said:	"Oh,	they are dead	behold!
14	txā'cuXtîkc."	QacXk!oā'x	iLā'lXampa.	QacXk^{u}Lē'tegoax:
	our two selves' relatives."	They two went home	their town to.	They two told:
15	"Igō'XumaLXa	gintcā'cgēwal.	Ka'nauwē	iguXoā'La-it.
	"They are burned	our companions.	All	they are dead.
16	Itgiuqoā'nîmtck	ikEnuwakcō'max,"	qacgē'mx,	qack^{u}Lē'laLEmx.
	They laughed at him	the Thunderbird,"	they two said,	they two told.
17	QaLgē'mx	LēXā't	Lq!eyō'qt:	"Ō,	tgā'k!iLau,	aqiuqoā'nîmx
	He said	one	old man:	"Oh,	it is forbidden,	he is laughed at 18	ikEnuwakcō'max.	Ā'nqa	wi	nō'XumaLXa	tê'lXam	itā'qola-îm
	the Thunderbird.	Long ago	also	they were burned	people	who camped out, were burned." Then the girl's mother said to her: "I always told you that people were burned long ago." And the girls spoke: "If we had not gone into the water we should not be alive now." Then they went to see the dead ones. They were carried away in two large canoes. All the corpses were put into the canoes and were carried into the town.

Not long ago a band of elks were burned in Klatsop. A woman went to dig roots. She went a long distance to the prairie. Then she saw something red. She went to look at it, and approached. She thought: "Perhaps these elks are asleep." She thought: "I will tell the hunters to shoot them." Then again she hesitated. She thought: "I will not tell them." She crept toward them secretly. She was quite near, but the elks did not rise. They did not rise at all. She threw her digging stick. There was one elk quite near the woman, but it did not move. She threw her digging stick again against its ikanacpɛ'q tgē'wula." Igō'lXam wā'qaq wu'Xi ahā't!au: 1 huckleberries they gathered them." She said to her her mother that maiden:

"Qayaxamɛlk^{u}Lē'lalɛmx gwā'nîsum. Nō'XumaLXa tê'lXam ā'nqa." 2
"I told you always. They were burned people long ago."

Icî'k·îm cta'Xi chā't!au: "Qē nēketx ɪ.tcu'qoapa intxē'la-it, tā'ntxo 3
They two said those two two maidens: "If not water in we had been, therefore intā'Xanatē." A'qa iqtōgoā'lɛmam ta-îtci tmēmɛlō'ctîkc, iqō'k^{u}La 4 our life." Then they were fetched those bodies, they were carried môket gitcā'qa-iLax akɛ'nim. Iqtā'kXatq ka'nauwē ta-îtci 5 two large canoes. They were put into the canoes all those tmēmɛlō'ctîkc. Iqɛ'tuk^{u}ɪ iLā'lXampa. 6 bodies. They were carried their town to.

Năct ā'nqa a'qa wi kōpa' Tîā'k!ēlakîX nē'XɛmaLXa imō'lɛkumaX. 7
Not long ago then again there Klatsop they were burned elks.

ĒXt ā'Xtamaka imo'lɛkumax. QaLō'îx Lqagō'lak. Iq!aLxoē'ma 8
One herd elks. She went a woman. Roots (sp.?)

qaLigɛlō'îx. QaLō'îx ē'wa kɛlā'îX ta'Xi tɛmqā'emapa. A'qa tā'nki 9 she went to gather. She went there far that prairie to. Then something ē'xôxt Lpɛ'lɛmax. QaLō'îx qaLgiō'qstamx. A'qa q!oā'p 10 there was red. She went she went to see. Then near qaLgiō'xoamx. QaLXLoXoā'itx Lqagē'lak: "LXuan ikqē'witɛm gi 11 she arrived. She thought the woman: "Perhaps they sleep these imō'lɛkumax." QaLXLoXoā'-itx: "Anxk^{u}Lē'tcguama, tiā'maq 12 elks." She thought: "I will tell them, shoot atktēlō'xoa tgā'xēqLax." A'qa wi môket qaLktō'xoax Lā'xataguax. 13 they will do them the hunters." Then again two became her mind.

QaLXLoXoā'-îtx: "Qā txō nîct anxk^{u}Lē'tcguama." QaLxik!ɛnukLuwā'x 14
She thought: "How perhaps not I tell." She crept near secretly

q!oā'pîX: năct nixɛlā'tckoax ya'Xi imō'lɛkumax. Nî'cqē 15 near; not they rose those elks. Not at all nixɛlā'yutckoax. QaLgigɛltcē'mx ya'Xi ē'LaLqē. Năct nîxɛlā'lalɛmx 16 they rose. She threw at them that digging stick. Not it moved belly, but it did not move. Then the woman thought: "Perhaps the elks are dead." She arrived and struck the head of the elk. It did not move. She looked to see where it was hit, but it was not hit anywhere. She looked at all those elks. They were all dead. They were burned. Then the woman went home to tell the people. She came to the town and said to her husband: "I am afraid. I found a whole band of dead elks. They are lying dead on that prairie. Their hair is burned." Then her husband ran to another house and said: "My wife found dead elks. Their hair is burned." Then one person said: "Oh, last night the Thunderbird thundered. You all heard it; the ground shook. Maybe it burned those elks. The Thunderbird has done it." Then the people went. They skinned the elks, and cut only the fat ones; they did not cut the lean ones. The people dried ya′Xi ēXt qꞌoā′pîX ɪā′Xkapa ʟa′Xi ʟqagē′lak. Wī′t'ax qatgigᴇlgā′x that one near her at that woman. Again she took it ya′Xi ē′ʟaʟqē. Wī′t'ax qaʟgigᴇltcē′mx iā′wanpa. Nā2ct that digging stick. Again she threw at it its belly at. Not nixᴇlā′lalᴇmx. QaʟXʟoXoā′itx ʟa′Xi ʟqagē′lak: "ʟXuan ixᴇ′ʟa-it it moved. She thought that woman: "Perhaps they are dead gi imo′lᴇkumax." Aʟigō′qoamx ʟa′Xi ʟqagē′lak qaʟgiuqoē′lXᴇmx these elks." She reached them that woman she struck it iā′qꞌaqctaqpa ya′Xi imō′lak. Nāct nixᴇlā′lalᴇmx. Qaʟgiukꞌumā′nanᴇmx its head on that elk. Not it moved. She looked at them qā′xpa iā′maq. Kꞌā nîct iā′maq. Ka′nauwē qaʟgiukꞌumā′nanᴇmx where shot. Nothing not shot. All she looked at them ya′Xi imō′lᴇkumax. Ka′nauwē iXᴇ′ʟa-it, ka′nauwē ia′qsō ixʟᴇ′llt.

---

those elks. All they were dead, all their hair it was burned.

QaʟXkꞌuā′x ʟa′Xi ʟqagē′lak, qaʟxkʷʟo′tcgamx. Qa-ilo′yam
She went home that woman, she went to tell. She arrived iɪā′lXampa. Agiōlxā′mx itcā′kikal wu′Xi aqagē′lak:

her town at. She told him her husband that woman:

"Qᴇnuqꞌuē′xaēmaʟx. Iniō′cgam imō′lᴇkumax iXᴇ′ʟa-it. Ē2Xt
"I am scared. I found them elks they are dead. One iā′Xtamala kanauwē′ iXᴇ′ʟa-it ta′Xi tᴇmqā′emapa. Ixʟᴇ′llt herd all they are dead that prairie on. It is burned tē′yaqcō." Nixē′ngux itcā′kikal tēXt tquꞌɪipa: "Igiō′cgam their hair." He ran her husband one house to: "She found them imō′lᴇkumax agᴇ′kikal; iXᴇ′ʟa-it. Ka′nauwē ia′qsō ixʟᴇ′llt."

elks my wife; they are dead. All their hair it is burned."

Qaʟgĕ′mx lᴇxā′t ʟgoaʟē′lX: "Xā′pîX igĕ′xᴇltcō ikᴇnuwakcō′max.
He said one person: "In the evening he spoke the Thunderbird.

Mcgîltcî′mᴇlētᴇmtck ka′nauwē mᴇ′caika. Igîxlā′lalᴇmtck gi ēlX,
You heard it all you. It shook this ground, ʟXuan igē′XᴇmʟXa ya′Xi imō′lᴇkumax. Ikᴇnuwakcō′max ā′kua perhaps they are burned those elks. The Thunderbird thus itcî′yux." A′qa itgī′ya ta-îtci tê′lXam. Iqē′yuxc ya′Xi imō′lᴇkumax.

he did them." Then they went those people. They were skinned those elks.

Iā′ema ya′Xi igayā′pXᴇleu iqī′yuxc. IuLꞌe′lyuxt nāct iqī′yuxc.
Only those those having fat they were skinned. The lean ones not they were skinned.

Kōpā′ a′qa itgîXcā′mit ta-îtci tê′lXam. Ttsîlqā′ʟkc iqᴇ′tôx kōpa′.
There then they dried it those people. Drying frames they were made there.

them and made drying frames. Then the elks were dried. When all the meat was dried, the people went home.

Therefore the Klatsop are afraid of the Thunderbird.

Kōpa′ iqîXcā′mît ya′Xi imō′lɛkumax. Kamauwē′ igîXɛ′caq, teXua 1
Then they were dried those elks. All they were dry, then igō′Xoak¡oa ta-îtei tê′lXam. 2

they went home those people.

Tā′ntxō k¡wae lā′k¡ēlak ikɛnuwakcō′max. 3
Therefore afraid the Klatsop the Thunderbird.

War Against the Klatsop (told 1894)

The T¡uwā′nxa-îkc [a tribe speaking a Shahaptian dialect] came down to fight the Klatsop. There were many people. They came down to Niā′k¡ewanqîX. [That is the middle town of the Klatsop.] They were seen at Skippanon. Then a youth said: "Oh, people are coming. They are going to make war against us. Go and tell at Niā′k¡ewanqîX." Thus spoke one person. They went to tell the people: "You are staying here quietly. People are coming to make war against us." And all the people ran away inland to Liā′menaʟuctē [a large town on a lake]. That town had five blocks. It was a town of the Klatsop. The Klatsop were there. They did not sleep until it became daylight again. They held their arrows in readiness. The T¡uwā′nxa-îkc went down to the beach at Niā′k¡ewanqîX. They came to the town in the evening. Early in the morning they made an attack upon the town, but there were no people. They found

1	A′qa Now	itgā′tēt they came	T¡uwā′nxa-îkc. the Klikitat.		Igugoatk¡ē′saqoamam They came to make war upon them		Tiā′k¡ēlakîX. the Klatsop.
2	ʟgā′pɛlatîkc Many	ta-îtci those	tê′lXam. people.		A′qa Then	iʟgɛ′ʟxam they came down to the water	Niā′k¡ēwanqîXpa Niā′k¡ēwanqîX at
3	iā′xaleuX its name	ya′Xi that	ēlX. country.	Iqō′quikɛl They were seen		Sqēpanā′wunX: Skippanon:	"Ā, "Ah,	tê′lXam people
4	tgatē′t," are coming,"	iʟɛ′k·îm he said	ʟēXā′t one	ʟq¡u′lîpX. youth.		"Sāq° "War	qɛlxɛ′txam." they come to make upon us."	"A′yaq "Quick
5	mɛk"ʟē′tcgam tell them	Niā′k¡ēwanqîX," Niā′k¡ēwanqîX,"		iʟɛ′k·îm he said		ʟēXā′t one	ʟgoaʟē′lX. person.
6	Icxauik"ʟē′tckoam They went to tell them	ta-îtci those	tê′lXam people		Niā′k¡ēwanqîXpa: Niā′k¡ēwanqîX at:		"P¡ā′la "Quietly
7	amcxēlā′etîX, you stay,	tgatē′t they are coming	tê′lXam. people.		Sāq° War	qɛ′lXôxt." is made upon us."	Itguā′Xit They ran away
8	ka′nauwē all	ta-îtci those	tê′lXam. people.	Itgī′ya They went	ʟxɛ′leuX inland	Liā′menaʟuctēpa. Liā′menaʟuctē to.
9	Kopā′ There	qui′nɛma five	iXɛ′mo-itt blocks	ya′Xi that	ē′lXam town	Liā′mɛnaʟuctēpa, Liā′mɛnaʟuctē at	lā′k¡ēlak. the Klatsop
10	iʟā′lXam. their town.	Kōpa′ There	igō′xoax were	ta-îtci those	tê′lXam people	lā′k¡ēlak. the Klatsop.	Nāct Not
11	nuguaqē′witXîtx they slept	ac and	wāx the next day	niktcō′ktxîX. day came.		Itgōguigā′t They held them	tgā′qamatcX their arrows
12	guā′nɛsum always	ta-îtci those	tê′lXam. people.	Itgē′ʟxa They went down to the water	T¡uwā′nxa-îkc the Klikitat	Niā′k¡ēwanqîX. Niā′k¡ēwanqîX.
13	Itxē′k¡ɛnukʟuwā They crept up secretly to		ya′Xi that	ē′lXam. town.	Tsō′yustîX. It was dark.	Kawī′X Early	igē′xoxîx, it became,
14	sāq° war	itgī′yux they made upon it	ya′Xi that	ē′lXam. town.	K¡ā′ya None	tê′lXam, the people,	tā′ema only	tqʟā′2max. houses.

only the houses. They entered and said: "Where may those people have gone to?" Now there was something round and as long as a finger lying near the fire. Then one Clackama spoke (part of them were Clackama): "These are the excrements of these people. They defecate near the fireplace." It is said that the Klatsop defecate near the fireplace. One of the men took it up and said: "You lie. Those are not excrements; it is something else." [It was the refuse of a root which they chew and spit out.] The people went down to the sea and one of them went to the water. He saw an abalone in the water and took it. He put it under his blanket next to his stomach. Then it bit him with both its claws and made a large hole in his stomach. He fell down and died. The people said: "Let us go inland. Perhaps there are monsters in the water." Behold, a crab had bitten that person and he thought it was an abalone.

The people went inland to search for the town. They crossed that creek and went inland. Then they came out of the woods and arrived

---

ItgE'pqa ta-îtci tê'lXam. Igugoā'kim ta-îtci tê'lXam: "Qā'mta 1
They entered those people. They said those people: "Whither aLgētgī'ya tkci tê'lXam?" Kopa' q!oā'p itā'tōLpa tā'nki ixō'Xtax 2 they went those people?" There near their fire something was there lō'ELōmax k!a iā'Lktax. LēXā't iLE'k'îm GiLā'q!ēmas, aqa'watîke 3 round things and long. One he said a Clackama, part of them

Gitā'q!ēmas ta-îtci tê'lXam: "Itā'qēxalē tkci tê'lXam. Q!oā'p gi 4 Clackama those people: "Their excrements these people. Near this ē'tōL ka'nauwē qatkLotsa'tsax." K!oaLqē' aqtōlXā'mx: "La'k!elak 5 fireplace all they defecate." Thus they said: "The Klatsop kōpā' itā'tōLpa itā'qēxalē." QaLgigElgā'x La'Xi LēXā't. QaLgē'mx: 6 there their fireplace at their excrements." He took it that one. He said:

"Ēmē'L!mēnXut. Nîcqē igē'xalē taya'x; ixElō'ita." QatgE'Lxax 7
"You lie. Not at all excrements that; it is different." They went to the water mā'LnîX ta-îtci tê'lXam; qaLō'îx Lteu'qoapa LaXi LēXā't. 8 seaward those people; he went the water to that one.

QaLgigElgE'lx iktc'lowa-îtk Lteu'qoapa. QaLgigElgā'x ya'Xi 9
He saw it an abalone the water in. He took it that iktē'lowa-îtk. NîLXmō'tkax iLā'wanpa. QatcLō'qcx kanā'mtEmax 10 abalone. He put it under his blanket his belly at. It bit him both tē'yaxō iLā'wanpa. Nau'i Lxoa'pLxoap nîxō'xoax iLā'wanpa. Kōpā' 11 its hands his belly at. At once holes became his belly in. There qaLxē'maxitx qaLō'mEqtx. Nōguagē'mx tê'lXam: "A'yaq, 12 he fell down he died. They said the people: "Quick, alxō'ptega, LXuan tqexēLā'ukc Lteu'qoapa ōguakē'x." Qō'ct 13 let us go inland, perhaps monsters the water in are." Behold

LqaLxe'la La'Xi qaLkLō'qcx La'Xi L!goaLe'lX. ILxLō'Xoa-it 14
a crab that it bit him that person. He thought iktē'lowa-itk. 15

an abalone.

QatgE'ptckax ta-îtci tê'lXam qatgionā'xLam ē'lXam. 16
They went inland those people they went to search for it the town.

QatigElguā'kuax ya'Xi ē'qaL. QaLgE'ptegax Lxē'leu, a'qa wī't'ax 17
They went through the water that creek. They went inland inland, then again aqtgE'Lxax. A'qa itigElō'LxamX ikak!ō'LîtîX'. Iā'qa-iL ikak!ō'LîtîX. 18 they went down to the water. Then they reached it a lake. Large the lake.

at the lake. They saw a large lake and a town on the other side. They said: "Behold, there is the town of the Klatsop. When it gets dark, one man shall swim across. He shall go and take a canoe." That lake is large. Its name is LiāʼmenaLuctē. The girls were bathing in front of the town. Their heads were covered with dentalia. They wore hair ornaments and ear ornaments. Then one of these people said: "I wish it would grow dark quickly that we may attack these people." When it grew dark, one of them said: "I will go and fetch a canoe." That person wore a head ornament made of feathers. The faces of all the Tɬuwāʼnxa-îkc were painted black and red. When it began to be dark, they went down to the water and this man said to his companions: "You stay here. I will go and take a canoe." He walked into the water of the lake. It was shallow. At some places it was deep. Sometimes it reached to his armpits, sometimes to his knees, and sometimes it went over his head.

1	Qatgiqɛʼlkɛlx They saw it	yaʼXi that	ēʼlXam town	ēʼwa there	kɬanatēʼtōL. on the other side.	Nōguagēʼmx: They said:	"Qōct! "Behold!
2	giɬaʼtîX here	iLāʼlXam their town	LāʼkɬēLak. the Klatsop.	Maʼnîx When	alupōʼnɛma, it grows dark,	aʼqa then	LēXāʼt one
3	aLukɬuēʼxʻa. he shall swim across.	IkɛʼnimaLgiugoāʼlɛmam." A canoe he shall go to fetch it."			Iāʼqa-iL Large	yaʼXi that	ikakɬōʼLitîX, lake,
4	LiāʼmēnaLuctē LiāʼmēnaLuctē	iāʼxaleuX. its name.	Aʼqa Then	ōxuaqwāʼyōtuL they bathed	ta-îtci those	thāʼtɬaunana maidens
5	yaʼXi that	ēʼlXam town	ayāʼmaLnapa. toward the water from it at.	Pāʟ Full	tgāʼktemax their ornaments	ta-îtci those	thāʼtɬaunāna maidens
6	tgāʼqɬaqstaxukepa. their heads on.	TqoxuāʼlXtax Hair ornaments	tāʼwîxt, were on them,	ickɬɛʼla ear ornaments	iāʼwîXt were on them.	ta-îtci those
7	thatɬaunāʼna. maidens.	Igugoāʼkim They said	ta-îtci those	têʼlXam: people.	"Qōʼi "Oh, if	ayaʼq quick	igōʼponɛm, it grows dark,
8	sāqº war	ilxgɛʼtux we will make upon them	ta-îtci those	têʼlXam." people."	Igōʼponɛm, It grew dark,	iLɛʼkʻîm he said	LēXāʼt: one:
9	"Naiʼka "I	aniogoāʼlɛmam I will fetch it	ikɛʼnim. a canoe.	LāʼkɬēcgEla A head ornament of feathers	LaʼXi that	LgoalēʼlX. person.
10	LɛguēʼmatckuîX Painted	stāʼxōst, their faces,	anāʼ sometimes	LɛlX, black,	anāʼ sometimes	LpɛL red	kaʼnauwē all	stāʼxōstpa their faces on
11	Ltɬuwāʼnxa. the Klikitat.	Gäɬp Late in the afternoon	igōʼponɛm. it grew dark.	Aʼqa Then	iLōʼLxa he went to the water	LaʼXi that	Ltɬuwāʼnxa. Klikitat.
12	IɬktōʼlXam He said to them	giLāʼcgewal: his companions:	"Tēʼka "Here	amexōʼxoa; you stay;	aniugoāʼlɛmam I go to fetch it
13	ikɛʼnim. a canoe.	IɬigɛʼlkoagoîX He went into the water	yaʼXi that	ikakɬōʼLîtX. lake.	Aʼqa Then	cpāq shallow	yaʼXi that
14	ikakɬōʼLitîX, lake,	anāʼ sometimes	Lɬap under water	nîxōʼxoaxîx, he became,	anāʼ sometimes	LāʼxEmalapqîX, his armpits,	qoāʼt thus (far)
15	Lɬap under water	qaLōʼîX, he went,	anāʼ sometimes	LāʼqɬôxLɛmax his knees	saxalaʼ, up,	pāt really	Lɬap under water	qaLōʼîX. he went.

He said to his companions: "Behold, the lake is shallow." Sometimes he found warm water and sometimes cold water. When he came to the middle of the lake, it changed all of a sudden. Noise was heard under water. It began to boil; waves arose on the lake, and that person went down. He came up again crying "Eh," and clapping his mouth. He came up five times. Then his cries ceased. He ceased to clap his mouth. Then he was heard under water in that lake. Noise was heard from below. Then the warriors said: "Let us go home. This land is monstrous; it helps the people. Two of our companions are dead." Now that person remained in the lake. When it gets foggy, he is heard in the lake. Not very long ago he was seen swimming. People were digging up a beaver dam, and there he was seen coming out of it. He is heard when it becomes windy.

QaɬktɬXa'mx ta-îtci gita'egewal: "Mɛ'etē! iXî'caqtîX. Lqoct." 1
He said to them those his companions: "Come! dry, behold."

Anā' L!ō4 La'Xi Ltcu'qoa qaɬkLucgā'mx, anā' tsɛs Ltcu'qoa 2
Sometimes warm that water he found it, sometimes cold water qaɬkLucgā'mx. Qēq!ayaqpa ya'Xi ikak!ō'lîtX qaLō'yamx. A'qa 3 he found it. The middle in that lake he arrived. Then ixɛlo'ita nîxō'xoax ya'Xi ikak!o'lîtX. Ā'yaXulam na-ixɛlo'xoax 4 different it became that lake. Its noise came to be on it gē'gualîX. A'qa ē'LaLɛmLɛm nîxatɛlō'xoax La'Xi Ltcu'qoa. A'qa 5 below. Then its foam it was on it that water. Then ayā'kolal na-ixɛlo'xax ya'Xi ikak!o'lîtX. L!lap qaLo'îX La'Xi 6 its waves they were on it that lake. Under water he went that

Lgoalē'lX. lāx qaLxō'xoamx La'Xi Lgoalē'lX. Ē'nxcaXul 7 person. Visible he became that person. Crying "Eh" qaLgio'xoax La'Xi Lgoalē'lX. Ē'wa qaLgio'xoax itlā'k"cXat. 8

he did that person. Thus he did his mouth.

NiLxɛlqē'lXɛmX itlā'k"cXat. Qoā'nɛmîX lāx qaLxō'xoax. 9
He always clapped it his mouth. Five times visible he became, koqā'tîX c'nxcaXul qaLgio'xoax. koqā'tîX niLxɛlqē'lXcmX 10

as often crying "Eh" he did, as often he always clapped it itlā'k"cXat. A'qa gē'gualîX aqitcî'mɛlitɛmx, ya'Xi ikak!ō'lîtX 11 his mouth. Then below he was heard, that lake ā'yaxolam na-ixɛlō'xoax gē'gualîX. Nōguagē'mx ta-îtci gitā'k!ēsaq: 12 its noise it was on it below. They said those warriors:

"Alxk!oā'ya; qōct iqcxē'Lau gi ēlX. Qateuguigē'cgama-itx tê'lXam. 13
"We will go home; behold monstrous this land. It always helps them the people.

A'qa mâ'ketîke gîlxā'egēwal iguXuā'la-it." A'qa gwā'nɛsum iLɛ'xôx 14 Then two our companions are dead." Then always he was

La'Xi Lgoalē'lX ya'Xi ikak!ō'lîtXpa. Manîx na-ikxaLā'qxoaXîX 15 that person that lake in. When it gets foggy aqLîltcî'mɛlitɛmx kōpa' ya'Xi ikak!ō'LitXpa. Nācqē' ā'nqa pɛt 16 he is heard there that lake in. Not at all long ago really aqLqɛlkɛ'lx Lukuē'Xala. Tqo-inē'ne tɛ'kxaqLqa Lɛ'kLɛk 17

he was seen swimming. Beavers their house at dig aqiō'xoaXîX, kōpā' aqLqɛlkɛ'lx qaLopā'x. Manē'x ikā'qamtq 18 it was done, there he was seen he went out. When wind

He always cries "Eh." Now the T!uwā'nxa-îkc were afraid. They never came again to fight. They all went home. They came home. Then the Clackama said: "We reached Skippanon." Then one person said: "Did you jump much?" He replied: "We came to the place where the sun goes down into the water." Thus spoke the Clackama. They have no sense; they are foolish.

1 nîxō'xoax aqLîltcî'mELitEmx. Ē'nxeaXul qaLgioxō'laLEmx. Kopä't it becomes he is heard. Crying "Eh" he always does. Enough

2 qacuXuigEnā'x T!uwā'nxa-îkc. Nîct qantsî'x nuguak!ēsaqoamx.
they became afraid the Klikitat. Never they went to attack them.

3 NuXuak!uā'x ka'nauwē ta-îtci tê'lXam T!uwā'nxa-îkc. NuXuak!uā'-
They went home all those people the Klikitat. They came

4 mamx. Nuguakē'mx GiLā'q!emas: "Intcō'yam Sqēpanā'wunX." home. They said the Clackama: "We arrived at Skippanon."

5 A'qa iLE'k·îm LēXā't LgoaLē'lX: "K!a tcō'xoa
Then he said one person: "And well

6 imcksopEnā'wunEnXLtck?" ILE'k·îm: "Kōpa' aqaLā'x L!lap nxō'la did you jump much (at the enemies)?" He said: "There the sun under water goes

7 intcō'yam. Ltcu'qoapa L!lap nō'îx aqaLā'x intcō'yam," GiLā'q!emas we arrived. The water in under water goes the sun we arrived," the Clackama

8 iLE'k·îm. Nîcqē' LĀ'Xatakoax GiLā'q!emas. L!alā'wēyîkc.
he said. Not at all their reason the Clackama. They are foolish.

How the Kathlamet Hunt Sea-lions (told 1894)

In February the sea-lions drive the smelts, and the bay gets full of them. Then the hunters say: "Quick, get your hunting canoes ready." Then the hunting canoes are made ready. Their outer sides are burned. The paddles are put in order. When it is calm, they go up the river at half ebb tide. Sometimes twenty canoes go, sometimes ten, and sometimes fifteen. As soon as they see many sea-lions the hunter says: "Let us stay here." The people remain there and after a short time it is low water. Then he asks his companions: "Whose canoe is the fastest?" One person says: "Mine is fastest." "And whose next?" "Mine," says another man. "Then go with your canoes to both ends of our line." They go first, and they all go down toward the sea. Now they find sea-lions toward the sea. The hunter says: "Let us drive them. Many sea-lions are

TcaLxE'na-îX qaLgiuwā'x iLxE'na Lgipē'XLuke, ac pāL In February they drive them the smelts the sea-lions, and full	1
nîxō'xoax ē'maL. QaLgē'mx kLā'xēqLax: "A'yaq, t¡aya't¡aya becomes the bay. He said the hunter: "Quick, good	2
amcî'kax amcā'xēcitîX." A'qa t¡aya't¡aya aqō'xôx aqicē'tîX. make them your hunting canoes." Then good they were made the hunting canoes.	3
AqakamLELā'lEmx aqicē'tîX. T¡ayā't¡aya aqLō'xoax Lcî'kē. They were burned (outside) the hunting canoes. Good they were made the paddles.	4
Ma'nîx Llō nîxō'xoaxîX qatgE'suwîlXEmx. Kā'tcEk pEt When calm it got they went up the river. Middle real	5 qatxEltā'kuax, môketLā'L aqicitī'yuXEmax. Ē'XtEmaXîX ebb tide, twenty hunting canoes. Sometimes	6
itcā'LēlXam, ē'XtEmaXîX itcā'LēlXam agō'n qui'nEm. QaLgē'mx ten, sometimes ten others five. He said	7
kLā'xēqLax: "Tē'ka teXua alxō'xoa," ma'nîx aqLqElkE'lx Lā'pEla the hunter: "Here then we will be," when they were seen many	8
La'Xi Lgipē'XLuke. Kōpa' nîxoā'xax ta-îtci tê'lXam. Mank q¡ōl those sea-lions. There were those people. A little low water	9
nîxō'xoaxîX, qatctuqu'mtcXōqoax giLā'cgewal: "Lān iā'q¡oalaEna it became, he asked them his companions: "Who the quickest	10
iLā'xēcitîX?" QaLgē'mx: "Nai'ka," LēXā't LgoaLē'lX. "K¡a LānI his hunting canoe?" He said: "Mine," one person. "And who	11
wī't'ax?" "Ā, nai'ka," Lgōn LēXā't qaLgē'mx. "ME'taika also?" "Ah, mine," another one he said. "You two	12
kE'mkitē amtgō'xoa amtā'xēcitîX." Ā'newa alaxō'xoa. A'qa at both ends you two be your two selves' hunting canoes." First they will go. Then	13 qatgE'LxaX ē'maLpa. QakLucgā'mx Lgipē'XLuke mā'Lnē. Nigē'mx they went down toward the sea the bay to. They found them sea-lions seaward. He said	14
ya'Xi ktiā'xēqLax: "LaLā'x alxkLXuwā'ya." Lā'pEla LaLā'x that their hunter: "There we will drive them." Many there	15

there." Then they surround them. These two canoes go first, and after them the others. The sea-lions dive. When they come up again, the people make a noise by beating their canoes and crying: Ah, ha, he, he, he, he! The sea-lions dive again. When they emerge again, the hunters make noise by beating their canoes. Sometimes they do so often, sometimes only for a short while. Then the people say: "The water is being stirred up by them farther down the river." Then they drive these sea-lions. They try to drive them toward a sandy island. The hunter says: "Let us drive them to this island." Sometimes the people are deceived and the sea-lions stay in the water. The water is not being stirred up down the river. Then the people wait on the water and drift in their canoes until they emerge. When the water is being stirred up down the river they follow them again. Then they make noise by beating their canoes near the sand island. Now the

1 ʟgipē′Xʟukᴇaqʟxʟā′koax. Ā′newa aqō′xoax wu′Xi mô̂kᴇt sea-lions they surrounded them. First they were made those two

2 aqicē′tî̂X. A′qa kē′xᴇmtqî̂X wu′Xi qa′wa. ʟ¡la′pʟ¡lap qaʟxō′xoax hunting canoes. Then behind those part. Under water they became 3 ʟa′Xi ʟgipē′Xʟuke. Kōpā′ wi ʟā′xʟax qaʟxō′xoax. Qu′lqul those sea-lions. There again visible they became. (Noise of beating canoes)

4 aqiʟgᴇlō′xoaXî̂X. AqʟōlXā′mx: "Ā4, ha, he, he, he, he."
it was made. They said: "Ah, ha, he, he, he, he."

5 Wī′t'ax ʟ¡lap qaʟxō′xoax. Wī kōpa′ qaʟktā′yōtᴇgᴇmx.
Again under water they became. Again there they emerged.

6 Wī′t'ax qu′lqul aʟgiʟgᴇlō′xoaXî̂X. Ē′XtᴇmaXî̂X ē′xauwitî̂X
Again (noise of beating canoes) they did. Sometimes often

7 qu′lqul aqiʟgᴇlō′xoaXî̂X. Ē′XtᴇmaXî̂X nō′ʟ¡katî̂X qu′lqul (noise of beating canoes) it was made. Sometimes a little only (noise of beating canoes)

8 aqiʟgᴇlō′xoaXî̂X. Nugoagē′mx ta-îtci tê′lXam: "A′qa ō′it it was made. They said those people: "There go

9 aʟā′kolal qā′eqamî̂X." A′qa aqʟuwā′x ʟa′Xi ʟgipē′Xʟuke. Qiā′x their waves down the river." Then they were driven those sea-lions. If 10 tgᴇ′tc¡îqʟk tqamilā′lᴇq ʟXoē′max, tcXua kōpa′ aqʟXuwā′q.

across their way a sand island, then there they were driven.

11 Nigē′mx ya′Xi ktiā′xēqʟax: "Tau yaXī′pa tqamilā′lᴇqpa, kōpa′
He said that their hunter: "That that at sand on, there

12 alxkʟXuwā′ya." Kē′nuwa lā′xlax qaʟktō′xoax ta-îtci tê′lXam we will drive them." Try deceive they did them those people

13 qaʟxelā′-itx ʟtcu′qoapa. Nä̈ct nō′îx aʟā′golal qā′eqamî̂X qac kōpā′ they stayed water on. Not they went their waves down the river and there

14 qatkXinē′tckoax ta-îtci tê′lXam. Qaʟktā′yutckᴇmx kōpa′ wu′Xi they stayed on the water those people. They emerged there those 15 akᴇ′nim nuXu′nîtck"t. Ma′nîx aʟā′golal nō′îx qā′eqamî̂X, a′qa canoes they drifted. When their waves they went down the river, then

16 wī′t'ax aqʟuwā′x. Qu′lqul aqiʟgᴇlō′xoaXî̂X. Q¡oā′p ta′Xi again they were driven. (Noise of beating canoes) It was made. Near that sea-lions come to that beach. They go ashore and jump up the land. Then the people follow them and shoot them. When one is hurt and stays ashore, all the sea-lions gather around him and there they are all killed. They are shot. Sometimes twenty are killed, sometimes ten. The meat is all distributed and all the people eat. When there are many people in a town, four are given to them. When there are few people in a town, two are given to them. All through the month of February they hunt sea-lions in this manner.

Some hunters spear the sea-lions when it is dark. Although their canoe is small, they spear large sea-lions. A skillful youth is placed in the stern of the canoe. As soon as the sea-lion is speared, it swims quickly down the river. Then the companion of the harpooner is told: "Shout." The steersman shouts, and is almost crying for fear. He becomes afraid. Xu'ɪɛlɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ goes the harpoon line [which is about tqamilā'lɛqpa, a'qa qaLō'ptcgax, qaLsōpɛnā'yux LXɛ'leuX. 1 sand at, then they went inland, they jumped inland.

AqaqLuwā'X LXɛ'leuX, Lā'maq aqLɛlō'xoax. Ma'nîx ēXt iā'tcqɛm 2
They were driven inland, shoot they were done. When one his sickness nîXɛlō'xoax qayuLā'-itx q¡oā'p LXɛ'leuX qaLXtā'koax kanauwā' 3 came to be on it, they stayed near inland they surround it all

La'Xi Lgipē'XLukc qaLigɛmɛlā'itx ya'Xi iLā'euX. A'qa kōpa' 4 those sea-lions they stand around it that their relative. Then there ka'nauwē aqLōtē'naX. Lā'maq aqLɛlō'xoax. Ē'XtɛmaXîX môkctLāL 5 all they were killed. Shoot they were done. Sometimes twenty aqLōtē'nax, ē'XtɛmaXîX iLā'lēlXam aqLōtē'nax. Kanauwē' 6 they were killed, sometimes ten they were killed. All aqLōmā'kuax, ka'nauwē tê'lXam qaLōXuimō'Xumx. Ma'nîX 7 they were distributed, all the people they ate. When Lga'pɛlatîkc ēXt itā'lXam, lākt aqLawiqoē'muX; na'nîX 8 many one their town, four they were given to them to eat: when anō'l¡katîkc ēXt itā'lXam, mâkct aqLawiqoē'muX. Kanauwē' 9 few only one their town, two they were given to them to eat. All tcaLXɛ'na-îX pɛt aqa ā'koa aXkLō'xoax La'Xi Lgipē'XLukc. 10

February really thus they did those sea-lions.

Aqā'watîkc tgā'xēqLax a'qa Xā'pîX qatkLlō'qcgalalɛmx La'Xi 11 several hunters then in the evening they speared them those Lgipē'XLukc. Iō'k¡oa-its iqisē'tîX, tatc¡a aqilgē'qcqax giā'qa-iL 12 sea-lions. Small a hunting canoe, but it was speared a large igē'pîXL. Qiā'x kLctā'xēlalak, tcXua Lɛ'qēamē aqLō'xoax 13 sea-lion. If skillful, then the steersman he was made

Lq¡u'lîpX. Ma'nîx aqilgē'q"ckax ya'Xi igē'pîXL. nau'i qā'cqamîX 14 a youth. When it was speared that sea-lion, at once down the river nîktā'x qayuXtk¡ē'q. Kē'nuwa qaLkLōlXā'mx gictā'cgewal: 15 it ran it swam. Try he said to him his companion:

"Amgē'loma!" Kē'nuwa qaLgēlō'max Lɛ'qēamē, as 16
"Shout!" Try he shouted the steersman, and qatsîlq¡ɛ'lqtkuatcgoax. K¡wac qaLxō'xoax. Xu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ 17 he was almost crying for fear. Afraid he was. Xu'lɛlɛlɛlɛlɛlɛ two hundred fathoms long]. Many people are fishing sturgeon at this time. The fishermen hear it and see that a sea-lion has been speared. They go to see. When they reach them, two canoes are tied to that sea-lion. Then it goes slowly. When three canoes are made fast to it, then it gets tired. It is speared again and is killed. After a while it is hauled ashore. When a person who has tabus is steersman, then the harpoon line snaps and is lost.

Then the sea-lion is cut. When it comes from Nehelim, green stones are found in its stomach. When it comes from Quinaielt, gray or whetstones are found in its stomach. Then the game is all distributed. Thus did the Kathlamet in olden times.

---

qaLō′îx Lā′Xi LE′pa-ît. Lgā′pElatîkc tê′lXam muXuamō′ktia-itx goes that fine. Many people they fished sturgeon with the hook qatcîltcimā′kuax. Nōguagē′mx gatā′mukt¡ēna: "Igē′pîXL ya′Xi they heard him. They said the fishermen: "A sea-lion that iqē′lqîqck^{u}." A′qa aqcgō′qoamx. Ma′nîx aqctā′qoamx, a′qa mākct is speared." Then they went to see. When they reached them, then two k¡au aqa-igō′xoax wu′Xi akE′nim ya′Xi igē′pîXL. A′qa mank tied they were done those canoes that sea-lion. Then a little

LAwa′ qayō′îx. Manē′x LōN k¡au aqa-igō′xoax akE′nim, a′qa slowly it went. When three tied they were done canoes, then tEll nixō′xoax. A′qa wī′t′ax aqilgē′q^{u}ckax qa-ikXawā′qaquax; tired it became. Then again it was speared it was killed after being harpooned;

qēwā′qoax. A′qa aqiō′k^{u}Ix LxE′leu. Manē′x Lā′k¡iLau LE′qēamē it was killed. Then it was carried inland. When one having tabus the steersman

Lq¡u′lîpX, a′qa Lq¡up qatcLō′xoax LA′Xi LLē′pax, aqa nîcxâ′îx.
a youth, then cut it was that hunting line, then it was lost.

Manē′x aqeyō′xcx igē′pîXL, ma′nîx ē′wa Naqē′lēm qayō′yamx
When it is cut a sea-lion, when there Nehelim it arrived from ya′Xi igē′pîXL, a′qa ptsäx LqE′nakc qaLēlā′eta-îtx ē′yamōguipa.

that sea-lion, then green stones are in it its stomach in.

Manē′x ē′wa Kwinaiū′L nigē′pîXL a′qa epēq iqE′nakc niLā′eta-îtx,
When there Quinaielt a sea-lion from there then gray stones are in it, anā′ ē′qac niLā′eta-îtx. QaLgiumā′koax kLā′xēqLax iLā′k¡ētēnax.

sometimes whetstones are in it. He distributes it the hunter his game.

Ka′nauwē nîxLx·ō′mx qaLgiumā′koax. K¡oaLqē′ ā′nqa nuxoā′xa-îtx
All it is finished he distributes it. Thus formerly they did tê′lXam GaLā′mat, Wā′qa-iqam, QLā′cgEnEmaxîX, GiLā′xaniak, the people Kathlamet, Wā′qa-iqam, QLā′cgEnEmaxîX, Qā′niak, k¡oaLqē′ itā′k¡ēwula Lgipē′XLuke.

thus they hunted them sea-lions.

Cultee's Ancestor Conjures the Sea-lion (told 1894)

My grandfather sang a conjurer's song. He had one hundred conjurer's songs. His town was Lʌxanakcō'ngut. The people assembled in his house when he sang. The people danced for four nights and then the singer spoke: "That old man will come to listen and to see the dance." The people thought: "Where may that old man come from. Perhaps he will come from Nehelim to see the dance. Perhaps he will come from Klatsop to see the dance." It grew dark and then the people danced again. At midnight they became tired. They slept. One old woman slept when it began to be dark. When it was nearly daylight she awoke. Then something was happening. She heard a noise as if a door were being opened. Something was standing in the doorway. The old woman thought: "Maybe we are going to be attacked. I will wake the people."

ĒXā't	nē'qatcXɛm	naï'ka	tgɛ'q!ēyuqtîkc.			Tqēqlʌx	1
One	he sang conjurer's songs	I	my ancestors.			One hundred qatciuxoā'wateguîX.		Lʌxanakcō'ngut		iɪā'lXam.		NoXua'koax	2
he sang conjurer's songs.		Lʌxanakcō'ngut		his town.		They assembled ta-îtci	tê'lXam	ta'Xi	tɛ'lʌqlpa	ya'Xi	iqē'qtcxam.	Lākt	lpō'lɛmax	3
those	people	that	his house at	that	the one who sang conjurer's songs.	Four	nights
noXuiwī'yutckuax		ta-îtci	tê'lXam.	A'qa	nigē'mx	ya'Xi		4
they danced		those	people.	Then	he said	that iqē'qtcxam: "A'qa		lxatō'guala		la'Xi	lq¡ēyō'qt,	alxētɛlō'tcxama."		5
the one who sang conjurer's songs:	"Now	he will come to hear		that	old man,	he will see the dances."
IgoXuiɪō'xoa-it	tê'lXam:	"Qā'mta	lqa	ltē'mama	laX	lq¡eyō'qt?		6
They thought	the people:	"Whence	maybe	he will arrive	that	old man?
lXuan	ē'wa	Naqē'lēm	alte'mama	alxitɛlō'tcxama,	lXuan	ē'wa		7
Perhaps	thus	Nehelim	he will arrive	he will see the dance,	perhaps	there
Tiā'k¡ēlakîX		alte'mama	alxitɛlō'tcxama."		Igō'pōmɛm.	A'qa		8
Klatsop		he will arrive	he will see the dance."		It grew dark.	Then wī't'ax	iguXuiwī'yutck	ta-îtci	tê'lXam.	Qē'q¡ayaq	wā'pōlpa,	a'qa		9
again	they danced	those	people.	Middle	night at,	then tɛll	igō'xoax	ta-îtci	tê'lXam.	Iguqoaqē'witx·it.	lēXā't	lq¡eyō'qt		10
tired	they were	those	people.	They slept.	One	old lqagē'lak	as	nō'l¡îX	igō'ponɛm	a'qa	iloqō'pti.	Q¡oā'p	ē'ktɛlil	11
woman	and	a little	It was dark	then	she slept.	Nearly	morning star
qilXɛ'qo-îtq		la'Xi	lq¡eyō'qt	lqagē'lak.	A'qa	tānki	igē'xax.	12
she awoke		that	old	woman.	Then	something	there was.
Ilgiltcɛ'maq	q¡a'ē,	q¡a'ē,	q¡a'ē.	tā'nki	igē'xax	icî'qēpa.	Ilxlō'Xoa-it	13
She heard it	(noise of an opening | crack),		something	was	the door at.	She thought
la'Xi	lq¡ēyō'qt:	"lXuar	sāq°	iqanteî'txam.		Nî'Xua		14
that	old woman:	"Perhaps	war	they come to make on us.		Well

She waked them. The people remained quiet. They rose and made themselves ready. They took their arrows. One of them was told: "Light the fire." That person lighted the fire, and something became visible in the doorway. Its face was as large as the moon. The people said: "Oh, a monster has come to our house;" but the singer said: "Is it a monster? It is that old man who comes to see the dance. He has come to give you food." Behold, a sea-lion came to see the dance. He was shot, and was dead. Far up from the sea was their town. Nevertheless that sea-lion went up. Then the people who had gone to attend the singing ate it. Thus was my grandfather's supernatural helper at LAXANAKCŌ'NGUT.

1	antutqō'yutcxEma I awake them	tê'lXam." the people."	A'qa Then	iLtuqō'yutc, she awoke them,	ac and	qEnE'mkatîX they remained quiet
2	ta-îtci those	tê'lXam. people.	IguXoā'qo-îtq They arose	ta-îtci those	tê'lXam. people.	Iguxoalā'yutck. They made themselves ready.
3	Itgō'guiga They took them	tgā'qamatcX. their arrows.	IqLō'lXam He was told	LA'Xi that	LēXā't: one:	"WaX "Light	ā'xa do it
4	wu'Xi that	ā'tōL." fire."	WaX Light	iLE'kôx he did it	LA'Xi that	LgoaLē'lX. person.	A'qa Then	tā'nki something
5	LāX visible	igē'xôx became	icî'qepa. the door at.	LXuan Perhaps	ā'wima thus	îctā'qa-iLax large	siā'xôst its face	La like
6	LktemEnā'kstē. the moon.	Igugoā'k·îm They said	ta-îtci those	tê'lXam: people:	"Iqcxē'Lau "A monster	ya'Xi that
7	alîlxgē'tpqa." he will come in."	Igē'k·îm He said	ya'Xi that	iqē'qtcxam: the one who sang conjurer's songs:	"Iqcxē'Lau "A monster	tci? [int. part.]?	Lā'Xka He
8	LA'Xi that	LqEeyō'qt the old man	iLxētELō'tcxam he came to see the dance	iLgEmcîtqoē'mam." he came to give you food."	Qōct Behold	igē'pîXL a sea-lion
9	yaXī'yaX that	igixELō'tcxam. he came to see the dance.	Tiā'maq Shoot	iqtē'lôx, then he was done,	kōpa' there	iō'maqt. he died.
10	KElā'îX Far up	cā'xalîX that	ya'Xi town,	ē'lXam, but	tatcEa he went up	iuquē'wulXt that	ya'Xi
11	igē'pîXL. sea-lion.	Aqa Then	itgixE'lEmuX they ate	ta-îtci those	tê'lXam, people,	ta-îtci those	igē'taxelōtcxē. who had come to see the dance.
12	Oxuē'lutcx They saw the dance	ya'Xi that	ē'tcxampa. song at.	KEoaLqē' Thus	Lā'yuLEmaX their supernatural helper	ā'nqa long ago
13	Laxanakcō'ngut Laxanakcō'ngut[1]	naī'ka I	tgE'qEēyuqtîkc. my ancestors.

[1] A Nehelim village.

Cultee's Grandfather Visits the Ghosts (told 1891)

My grandfather wanted to take a woman from Oak point for his wife. They tried to give him another girl, but he did not like her. He used to make canoes. As soon as he had finished a canoe, he bought a slave with it. He had many slaves. Then an epidemic came. He had a pretty slave girl. She looked just like a chieftainess. Now he heard that the girl whom he wanted to have for his wife had died. The epidemic took the people away. Two days they were sick, then they died. Sometimes they died after three days' sickness. Now his people also were attacked by the epidemic. Several died each day, sometimes three died, sometimes four. Now my grandfather felt sick. After three days he died.

Then he went to the country of the ghosts. He reached that trail. He saw two people carrying a stick. When he came near, he saw that

AēXā′t	q¡āxs	qayaxā′kXatx,	Qā′niak	itcā′lXam	wu′Xi		1
One	wanting to marry	he wanted her,	Oak point	her town	that ahā′t¡au.	Kē′nuwa	aqʟēlō′tx	ʟhā′t¡au	itcî′k¡ak¡ō,	nēct	tq¡ēx	2 maiden.	Try	she is given to him	a maiden	my grandfather,	not	like qatcʟō′xoax.	Guā′nᴇsum	akᴇ′nim	qatcuxō′lalᴇma-îtx.		Acqᴇmō′ʟ		3
he did her.	Always	canoes	he always made them.		Kathlamet canoes
qatcuxō′lalᴇma-îtx.	ĒXt	qatcʟigō′ʟkax	icqamō′ʟ,	lēXā′t	tlā′etîX		4
he always made them.	One	he finished it	a Kathlamet canoe,	one	slave aqixamᴇlā′lᴇmx.	Iā′xotck¡ēna,	ka	ʟgā′pᴇlatîkc	tiā′qeXᴇltgeukc.			5
he was bought.	He worked,	and	many	his slaves.
A′qa	iō′îx	ē′mᴇq¡t.	AeXā′t	ayā′la-etîX	at¡ō′kti,	ʟ¡a	ʟkak¡ᴇmā′nate	6
Then	it went	the epidemic.	One	his slave girl	pretty,	just as	a chief itcā′lkuilē.	Naēxᴇltcîmā′koax		wu′Xi	q¡āxs	qiaxā′kôx,	nō′mᴇqt.		7
she resembled.	He learned		that	wanting to marry	who was wanted,	she was dead.
Akᴇmā′ʟa-it	iktō′ktcan	ta-îtci	tê′lXam.	Mâ′ketîX	qaʟuqō′îX			8
Cholera (?)	took them	those	people.	Twice	they slept
iʟā′tcqᴇm	niʟxᴇlō′xoax.	qaʟō′mᴇqtx.		Ē′XtᴇhaxîX	lō′nîX			9
their sickness	was on them,	they died.		Once	three times
qaʟōqō′îX	qaʟō′mᴇqtx.	Ā′qa	lā′itîkc	iʟā′tcqam	niʟxᴇlō′xoax,			10
they slept	they died.	Then	those	their sickness	was on them, aqā′watîkc	nuXoaʟā′itx	ēXt	ē′koa;	anā′	aʟō′nîkc,	anā′	ala′ktîkc.	11
several	died	one	day;	sometimes	three,	sometimes	four.
A′qa	iā′tcqᴇm	nixᴇlō′xoax.		lō′nîX	qayuqō′îX		iā′tcqᴇm	12
Then	his sickness	was on him.		Three times	he slept		his sickness
nixᴇlō′xoax	qayō′mᴇqtx.							13
was on him	he died.
A′qa	iō′îx	ē′wa	tᴇmēmᴇlō′etîkc.		Qateugoatā′qoamx		tê′lXam	14
Then	he went	there	the ghosts.		He arrived at them		people
wu′Xi	ā′eXatkpa.	Itgiuqoā′nat	ē′mqō.		Tê′lXam	qatctūgolā′qʟqax,		15
those	the road at.	They carried it	a log.		People	he saw them from a distance, they were posts of a house. These people looked just like posts. Then he came to a person who dragged his intestines on the ground. When he came near, he saw that it was a mat made of rushes. The road was full of tracks of people. Now he came down to a large creek. He looked across and saw a large town. He heard people making canoes. Then a person came up to him. He recognized one of his mother's relatives who had been dead long ago. He said: "Did you come at last? They are waiting for you. The news of your arrival has come already. They will buy for you the girl whom you like. She and her mother have come across." Then that person left him. The grass at that place was three fingers wide and was more than man's height. It was moved by the wind and sounded like bells. He heard it ringing all the time. The grass told the people on the other side what was going to happen. Now he saw that woman and he thought: "I do not like her. She looks just like her mother. Her face

1 qayugoatā'qoamx. aqa tɛlapā'tkɛ. K!oaLqā' tɛmqiā'wac tā'lXam he reached them, then house posts. Just so side posts of the house people

2 qatcōquikɛ'lx; qatcugoatā'qoamx, a'qa tɛ'mqō. QatcLktā'qoamx he saw them; he reached them, then sticks. He met him

3 LgoaLē'lX iLktuLā'tat lā'q!amcukc. Q!oā'p qatcLō'xoamx, a'qa a person he hauled them his intestines. Near he reached him, then

4 icō'lɛk. K!oaLqā' iq!ā'pɛnX, k!oaLqā' ilk!uā'tē. Tc!ɛmm a mat. Thus a small rush mat (with ornamented margin), thus a single rush mat. Variegated

5 tgā'Xatk tê'lXam wu'Xi ā'ɛXatk. Qayō'lxamx ē'qxaL; iā'qa-iL their tracks people that road. He came down to the water a creek; a large

6 ē'qxaL. Nigē'kctx ēwa k!anatē'tōL, a'qa ē'lXam, iā'2qa-iL ya'Xi creek. He looked thus the other side, then a town, large that

7 ē'lXam. Qoā'o, qoā'o, qoā'o, akɛ'nim itguxō'lal. QaLigō'qoamx town. (Noise of making canoes) canoes they worked. He reached him

8 LgoaLē'lX. Itciugu'laq!k wā'yaq Lgā'cux ā'nqa qaLɛ'tɛmɛqt.
a person. He recognized him his mother her relative long ago he was dead.

9 ILgio'lXam: "Iqamuta'wina, amtē'mama? Ā'nqa tɛmē'xakɛlaxɛlt
He said to him: "You were awaited, did you come? Already your news

10 itgatē'mam amtē'ia. Ma'nîx amtē'mama a'qa aqumɛlā'lɛma wu'Xi arrived you would come. When you arrive then she will be bought that 11 tq!ēx qɛmō'xt. K!a ctax·ī'yax ctēt, ictō'kastîX k!a agā'kxo."

like whom you do. And these came, they went across and her mother."

12 A'qa wi iLɛqɛ'loqLq La'Xi LgoaLē'lX. Ā'wēmax iLā'xalXtax La'Xi
Then again he left him that person. Thus its width that 13 Lgē'wan. Gipɛ'tɛmax iLā'Lq!tax. ILxɛlā'lalɛmtck La'Xi Lgē'wan.

reed. Thus its height. It was waving that reed.

14 Ya'Xka L!agi tā'ntēn aqiyō'xoaxîX. ItcLɛtcî'mɛlitɛmtck La'Xi
That just as bells it did. He heard it much that 15 Lgē'wan. ILxgu'Lîtck La'Xi Lgē'wan ē'wa k!anatē'tuL. Itcā'qɛlkɛl reed. It told that reed there at the other side. He saw her 16 wu'Xi aqagē'lak. A'qa ē'yamxtcpa: "Nect tq!ēx ntcō'xoa. K!oaLqā' that woman. Then his heart in: "Not like I do her. Just as 17 wu'Xi wā'qaq. Istā'tsqɛm sgā'xôst guā'nɛsum." K!oaLqā' ya'Xi that her mother. Its sickness her face always." Just so that is sore all the time." He saw her in that manner. Then another person came to him. He recognized his uncle. They all came up the river. His uncle spoke: "Let us go to catch seals." His uncle took a line. They gave him something that looked just like soap. "Eat that," he said. He ate it, but he did not like it. Then he turned his head toward the land and spit out what was given to him. His uncle, who was looking toward the water, said: "What does he want to eat? He refuses what I give him." Then he thought: "I just came here and they scold me already. I will return." Then the sun shone on his right side. He did not walk. He just turned round and then he fell in a swoon. Now he recovered. He heard people crying. Early in the morning when he had died the people had gone to fetch his aunt from Klatsop. In the evening she arrived and brought two sea-otters which she intended to tie to his body. They had cut their hair and his slaves had been divided. One of his uncles had taken that pretty itcā′qɛlkɛl. A′qa wi Lgōn Lgoalē′lX iLigā′tqoam. Itciugu′laqLq 1 he saw her. Then again another person reached him. He recognized him gi iā′mōtX. Guā′nɛsum ē′wa caxalata′ qaLō′yamx. Itciō′lXam ya′Xi 2 this his uncle. Always there up the river they came. He said to him that iā′mōtX: "Aqē′sgoax atxagɛlō′ya." lɛ′pa-ît itɛLgɛlga′t ya′Xi 3 his uncle: "Seal we will go to hunt." A rope he took it that iā′mōtX. Iqē′lōt ya′Xi tā′nki L¡agi icō′p iā′lkuile. "ImxE′lɛmux 4 his uncle. It was given to him that some-thing just like soap alike. "Eat iā′Xauē." Itcī′yuqe igixɛ′lɛmux. Nēet anī′yaqtcke. Igixɛ′lxēgua 5 this here." He bit it he ate. Not he liked the taste. He turned ē′wa lxɛ′leu. Itciō′mqo-it ya′Xi tā′nki iqē′lɛqo-îm. Ē′wa 6 there inland. He spit it out that something it was given to him to eat. There mā′lnîX ixɛ′lxîk ya′Xi iā′mōtX. itciō′lXam ya′Xi iā′mōtX: 7 toward the water turned that his uncle, he said to him that his uncle:

"Tāntxa alēxɛlɛmō′xuma teqi igē′tē. Itciq¡ɛ′leyipX ya′Xi 8
"What will he eat just he came. He refuses that ine′lqo-îm." Igîxlo′Xoa-it: "Ē′yaLqîX Lq intē′mam aqa 9

I gave it to him to eat." He thought: "Long maybe I arrived then iqɛnō′mēla. AnXtā′k¡oa," igîxlō′Xoa-it. Nau′i gataevā′t 10 I am scolded. I will return," he thought. At once here then igaēgɛnxā′xit wu′Xi aqaLā′x qēnk¡ē′ama′. Nāzet itcXō′tkakoa. 11 he struck him that sun on his right side. Not he walked, nigē′mx, ac igixā′lxēgua, a′qa k¡ɛ′m igō′xax tiā′Xatakuax. L¡pāq 12 he said, and he turned, then nothing became his reason. Recover igē′xôx. Igoxoē′nim tê′lXam itcauitcɛ′maq. Kawī′2X ya′Xi 13 he did. They cried people he heard them. Early that iō′maqt; iqugoā′lɛmam ayā′Lak Tiā′k¡elakîXpa. Xā′pîX iqō′kɬam. 14 he died; she was sent for his aunt Klatsop at. In the evening she was brought.

igiō′kɬam môket iqalagē′tɛmax, agixɛnā′goa. Lqoā′pLq¡up iqL′tôx 15
She brought them two sea otters, she was going to tie them to him. Cut were done tiā′q¡aketaquke. Pā′qpaq iqɛ′tôx ta′Xi tiā′qēxɛltgeuke. A′qa 16 their heads. Divided they were those his slaves. Then eXā′t iā′mōtX itcā′gɛlga wuXī′ qat¡ō′kti alā′etîX. A′qa igaXɛ′lXak 17 one his uncle he took her that pretty slave girl. Then she became angry slave girl. Now his aunt was angry. She wished to have that slave girl. She went home and took the sea-otters along. In the morning his breath had given out. It became night and became day again. The sun was low when he recovered. The people were crying all the time and said: "To-morrow we will bury him." Then that one woman was quiet and looked at him. It looked just as if the mat were moving. She looked at him again and said: "It is an evil omen for me; I see the mat moving." They lifted it. They felt his heart. He was warm and his heart was beating. His feet and his hands were cold. Then they called the conjurers. They warmed his hands at the fire and blew water on his face. He recovered. They gave him water. They poured some into his mouth. It ran down as far as his throat, but ran out of his mouth again. His throat and his chest were dry. Finally he swallowed the water. He drank much and recovered.

---

1 wu'Xi ayā'ʟak. Tq!ēx igō'xoa wu'Xi alā'etîX. Igā'Xk!oa.
that his aunt. Like she did her that slave girl. She went home.

2 Igē'yukɪ. ya'Xi iqalagē'tɛmax. Kawu'X ya'Xi igaxɛ'ʟXōm
She carried them those sea otters. Early that it was at an end

3 ayā'ʟutk; igō'ponɛm; igē'teuktîX. Gē'gualîX wu'Xi aqaʟā'x, a'qa his breath; it grew dark; day came. Low that sun, then

4 itcîlXā'takoa. Igoxoē'nîmtek ta-îtci tê'lXam. Aqiō'lXam: "Ō'la he recovered. They cried those people. He was told: "To-morrow

5 a'qa aqiō'tga." Qān iʟɛ'xôx ʟa'Xi lēXā't ʟqagē'lak. A'qa then he will be buried." Silent became that one woman. Then

6 iʟgiō'qumîtck. Yā'xka ʟ!agi ixɛlā'la ya'Xi icō'lɛk. Mā'kctîX she looked at him. Then just as though moved that mat. Twice

7 iʟgē'qɛlkɛl ʟa'Xi ʟqagē'lak. A'qa iʟɛ'kîm: "Iqenōq!oē'xaemaʟx she saw it that woman. Then she said: "It is an evil omen for me

8 yā'Xka ʟ!agi ixɛlā'la ya'Xi icō'lɛk." Iqiō'latck ya'Xi icō'lɛk.
that just as though moved that mat." It was lifted that mat.

9 Ē'wa iq!ē'yôx ē'yamxtc, a'qa iō'tcqa-ît ya'Xi ē'yamxtc. A'qa Thus it was done his heart, then warm that his heart. Then 10 ā'qanuwē ixɛlā'la ya'Xi ē'yamxtc. Tsēs tē'yakci; tsēs tiā'qo-it.

indeed it moved that his heart. Cold his hands; cold his feet.

11 Iqtugoā'ɪɛmam tgā'qewamax tēXt tqu'lē. A'qa ʟ!aʟ!a iq!'yux
They were fetched shamans one house. Then warm it was made 12 ē'yamxtc. ʟ!āʟ!a iqā'elux ā'tōʟ. Pō'pō iqlē'lux ʟtcu'qoa sī'axôst.

his heart. Warm it was made by the fire. Blow it was on him water his face.

13 ʟ!pāq igē'xôx. Kē'nuwa iqlē'lōtx ʟtcu'qoa. Kē'nuwa wāx Recover he did. Try it was given to him water. Try pour out 14 aqlēlō'xoax iā'kcXa. Gipā' qaʟō'yamx, a'qa wi qaʟXtā'koax.

it was done on him his mouth. Here it arrived, then again it ran back.

15 Q!ɛ'eq!ɛc igā'x ā'yamōkuē k!a ayā'qatcX, ac tcXoa aqitcʟō'wîlq!
Dry became his throat and his chest, and then he swallowed it

16 ʟa'Xi ʟtcu'qoa. ʟā'2Xoē itcʟō'qumct, a'qa t!ayā' igē'xôx.
that water. Much he drank it, then well he became.

Many people died. Sometimes five died in one day, sometimes four, sometimes three. The epidemic killed them.

Then the seers learned what he had seen when he went to the country of the ghosts and saw everything there. Formerly the seers did not know it, but when he had been dead they learned about it.

Oxoeɪlā′it ta-îtci tê′lXaum; aqoā′nemîkc nuxoaɪlā′itx ēXt 1
They died those people; five died one wē′koa; ē′Xtemaxî′X ala′ktîkc, ē′Xtemaxî′X alō′nîkc. Akemā′ɪa-ît 2 day; sometimes four, sometimes three. The cholera (?)

iktōtē′nax. 3
killed them.

Kō′pa a′qa ā′qanuwē aqugōmaLō′Xoa-it gitā′kikelal ya′Xi 4
There then indeed they knew it the seers that iqatctɛ′tqamîtck, ya′Xi tq̣ō′tsnîX nc′te e′wa tɛmaɪa′t, 5

what he had seen, that first he came there the country of the ghosts, qatctɛ′tqamîtck ka′nauwē tā′nemax. Ā′nqa näc† aqugōmaLoxoā′-itx 6

he saw them all things. Long ago not they knew it gitā′kikelal, qā′neq ya′Xi nē′temqt, tcXua ā′qanuwē 7

the seers, when that he died, then indeed

aqugōmaLō′xa-ît gitā′kikelal. 8
they knew it the seers.

ABSTRACTS OF MYTHS

1. Aq¡asXē′nasXēna—A woman who has a baby boy leaves her husband and builds a small house outside the village. In the evening, when the people dance, she desires to join them, but hesitates to leave her child. Finally she goes, and the child is carried away by Aq¡asXē′nasXēna, who takes him to the house in which she lives with the Crane. The boy grows up, and is informed by the Crane that Aq¡asXē′nasXēna is not his mother. The Crane tells him how to kill her. The boy does as instructed. He asks Aq¡asXē′nasXēna to carry him up the mountain. When they reach a region grown with white pine, he cuts her neck. Her soul comes out, and he breaks it. Then he climbs a white pine and shoots his arrows toward the sky, making a chain. He ties his bow to the lower end and climbs up. He meets the Darkness, who carries darkness in her bag. He meets different kinds of insects, who are descending to the earth. He meets a man in whose body two arrows are sticking. Soon he meets the Evening Star, who asks if he has seen his game, and explains that he is hunting men. He reaches a parting of trails, and, going on to the left, finds the trail strewn with human bones. He reaches a house, takes a basket down, in which he finds a woman. In the evening her five brothers come home, throwing their game—dead people—down in front of the door. Finally the father, the Evening Star, returns. They offer him human eyes to eat. The daughter is the Moon. He leaves them and returns, reaches the parting of the roads, and turns to the right. He finds the trail strewn with mountain-goat bones. The same thing happens as in the house of the Evening Star. The woman in this house is the Sun, the daughter of the Morning Star. The Moon's brothers make war upon them and are defeated. One day the man looks down and sees his village. He becomes homesick, and is let down to the earth with his wife. He finds his little brother blind, and being maltreated by Blue-jay. He restores his eyesight and punishes Blue-jay. His wife has twin children who are united in the middle. Blue-jay cuts them apart, and they die; then the woman returns to the sky. The twins are the sundogs.

2. Nikciamtcā′c—Blue-jay advises a girl to marry the Panther. She goes to the house of the animals, and by mistake marries the Beaver. She notices that the fish that he catches are really willow branches. She leaves the Beaver, who sends all the animals to bring her back. Finally he sends the Panther, who marries the woman. Then the Beaver cries, and produces a deluge. The animals save themselves in their canoes. Finally they dive to bring up some mud. Blue-jay, Mink, Otter, and Muskrat try; the last succeeds. Then the waters begin to disappear, the canoes are left on the dry land, and the animals jump out of them. They all knock off their tails at the gunwale. Those that do not return to get them have short tails.

3. Myth of the Sun—A chief has many pairs of moccasins and leggings made, and walks eastward to visit the Sun. After ten months, he reaches the Sun. He sees war implements hanging on one side of his house, dresses and shell beads on the other side. The sun is hanging near the entrance. He sees a girl, who tells him that all these things are her grandmother's property. The sun is carried by this old woman, who leaves the house every morning and returns late in the evening. He marries the girl, and asks the old woman to give him her blanket. Finally she gives it to him, and it fits his body like a shirt. She gives him a stone ax and sends him home. As soon as he sees people, he loses his senses and is compelled to kill them. After he has killed all his friends, the old woman visits him. She takes away the garment and the ax and leaves him.

4. Myth of the Swan—The Swan marries a chief's daughter, and during a famine gives her pounded salmon bones to eat, while he himself eats dried salmon. Then she goes home. She goes to bed and lies for five days on one side, then she turns over and lies for five days on the other side. All her hair comes off. Then she conjures the smelt which the people catch. Then she makes the river freeze so that the Swans cannot obtain any food. The Swans go to visit her. She orders the people to roast smelt over a fire of pitchwood; then she lets the Swans come in and they dislike the smoky taste of the fish. She curses them, saying: "You shall fly away when the smelts arrive."

5. The Copper is speared—A bright piece of copper is seen at sea. All the people try to spear it, but are unsuccessful. Finally two girls, who disguise themselves as youths, hit it. They instruct their father to invite the people, and produce the copper. They cut it to pieces and give it to the people. It has many different colors, and they put it onto their garments. These people are the birds, and this accounts for their different colors. The Blue-jay was given the best part of the copper. He showed it to the Clam, who took it away from him, and since that time has the mother-of-pearl color, while to Blue-jay was given what little remained of the copper.

6. Myth of the Coyote—Coyote and the Snake go up the river. He is instructed by his excrements in the taboos referring to the catching of salmon on the upper part of the river.

7. Myth of the Salmon—There is a famine. The Skunk-cabbage and other plants see the Salmon coming up the river. They say: "If it had not been for us, the people would have starved before you came." The Salmon gives them presents for having saved the people. The Crow, who is in a canoe with Blue-jay and the Flounder, is met by the Salmon. She says: "We are going up to the Cascades with the flood tide and shall return with the ebb tide." This makes the Salmon angry. He stops them, twists the head of the Flounder, and pulls the Crow and Blue-jay into their present shape, and determines that it shall take five days to go up to the Cascades.

8. Myth of the Elk—The eldest of five brothers meets an old man in his house, and is asked to hunt for him. The old man goes out, transforms himself into an elk, and kills the young man. The next three brothers fare no better. The youngest one transforms stone arrowpoints into a dog. His grandmother assumes the shape of a crow. He is told in a dream what has happened to his elder brothers, and is instructed to scratch the fat from an elk skin that he will see in the house. When he does so, the old man cries for pain. He leaves the house with his dog and makes five lakes, placing one quiver filled with arrows near each. Then he re-enters the house. When the Elk comes, he begins to shoot, and, when he cannot kill it, he jumps into the first lake, which the monster empties. He jumps into the next lake. Finally the monster swallows the youth with the water of the last lake. The Crow advises him to cut the Elk's heart, which he does, thus killing him. The skin is cut up and transformed into prairies.

9. Myth of the Southwest Winds—In the beginning there were five Southwest Winds, who lived in the sky. Blue-jay advises the animals to make war upon them. They sing until the sky tilts so that it approaches the earth, and they go up. Blue-jay advises the Skate to go home, because he is so wide. He has a shooting contest with Blue-jay, in which he escapes by turning sidewise, showing his narrow side, while Blue-jay is wounded. The Beaver steals fire from the house of the Winds, allowing himself to be caught, and then running away with the fire. The Skunk is sent as a scout. Next Robin is sent, who enters one house and remains sitting near the fire, which causes his breast to turn red. The bowstrings and the apron-strings of the Winds are cut by the Rats and Mice. Then the Birds attack the Winds, who are chiefs of the village. Only the youngest one escapes. The people return to the earth, but Blue-jay cuts the rope holding the sky to the earth before they are all down. The animals remaining above form the constellations.

10. Rabbit and Deer—The Deer is the Rabbit's mother. While she gathers roots and berries, he gathers branches, which he ties into a bundle and hides near the house. The next day he puts the branches into his canoe so that they look like people, and goes down the river to a town. He makes the people believe that a war party is coming. They run away, and he steals all their salmon. When his mother returns, she begs him to desist. After five days he goes again to make war upon the people. This is repeated four times. The fifth time an old man does not run away, but hides and sees that it is nobody but the Rabbit. The people catch him and skin him. His body is thrown into the water. His mother finds him. She takes him into her canoe and resuscitates him. He says that he has no blanket and feels cold. He goes back to the village of his enemies and asks for his blanket. They are afraid because he has come back to life, and offer him all sorts of skins, which he refuses. Finally the people give him half of his own skin, the other half having been used for some purpose. He stretches it and puts it on. For that reason the Rabbit's skin is very thin.

11. Coyote and Badger—Coyote and Badger were catching birds all the time. One day they agree to invite various animals in order to kill them. Coyote steps near the water and invites the Sturgeon. When he enters the house, Badger lies down and pretends to be sick. Coyote asks his visitor to help him to carry Badger out of the house. When they do so, the Badger breaks wind, and the stench kills the Sturgeon. In this manner they kill the Seal, the Porpoise, and the Sea-lion. Then the people become suspicious, and nobody ventures near their house. They begin to shoot birds again. Badger is successful, while Coyote is unsuccessful. Badger kills them by means of his wind. Coyote asks for the loan of his anus, and finally induces Badger to give it to him; but he does not know how to use it, and is unsuccessful. Then Badger grows angry and throws Coyote's anus into the river. Coyote pursues it, and sees the children at the various villages trying to hit it with sticks and spears. Finally, when he succeeds in obtaining it, it is all torn. He curses Badger, saying that the stench of his wind shall be feared, but that he shall not be able to kill anything with weapons.

12. Panther and Lynx—The Panther goes out hunting every day, while the Lynx is watching the fire. He plays, and when on his return he finds the fire extinguished, he swims across the river and steals a firebrand from the fires of the Grizzly Bears, which were watched by an old woman. When she feels that one of the firebrands has disappeared, she accuses her vulva of having eaten it. When the Panther returns, he notices by the smell that a new fire has been started in his house. The next morning the Grizzly Bear, who had learned that his fire was stolen, swims across the river to fight with the Panther. The Lynx is covered with a dish. The Grizzly Bear attacks the Panther, and when the latter is almost killed the Lynx jumps out from under the kettle and breaks the Bear's leg with an ax. Thus all the five bears are killed, and then the Panther burns their house. He curses the Lynx for having caused so much trouble, and leaves him.

13. Seal and Crab—The Seal and the Crab are sisters. The Seal catches salmon and asks her sister to carry them up to her house. They break her fingers off. The Seal puts them on again. Then the Crab teases her sister, saying that she will eat the whole salmon. After they have eaten, the Seal closes the door and all the chinks of her house, and forbids her sister to go outside. She, however, disobeys and goes down the river, where she is seen by the people. The Seal goes to catch her and they hide. The people go and find them. They make the Seal vomit the salmon and take it home, where they eat it.

14. Myth of the Mink—Mink is maltreated by the people with whom he has gambled. He is hungry, and Panther, his brother, sends him to a lake, instructing him to stretch out his hands. When he does so, a dish filled with food stands near him. He thinks it is not enough, but is unable to empty the dish, for as soon as he has eaten its contents it becomes full again. His brother tells him to take the dish back to the lake. Then Mink and Panther begin to travel. They meet a person who is sitting on a log overhanging a river. Mink tries to push him into the water, but the man takes hold of him, kills him, and throws him away. His brother resuscitates him. They come to a person who threatens to kill them with his long nails. Mink tries to push him into the water, but is killed. His arm is torn out. Then his brother takes a squirrel's arm, puts it onto him, and resuscitates him. Next they go to a lake on which a two-headed swan is swimming. Mink tries to catch it, but is devoured by a monster that lives in the lake. The brother dries up the lake by throwing red-hot stones into it, cuts up the bodies of the monsters that he finds on the dry bottom, finds his brother, and resuscitates him. In the evening they camp, and Mink is hungry. He is instructed to strike the spruce trees in order to make a deer come out. He mistakes various animals for deer, and is instructed by his brother. Finally the deer comes, and is shot by his brother. He demands the antlers, which look greasy when brought near the fire. When they are going to sleep, he asks the name of the place, but his brother tells him that if the name is mentioned it will begin to rain. Mink learns the name and at once shouts it at the top of his voice. It begins to rain. Mink's brother gathers a large pile of sticks, on top of which he sits down. Mink is too lazy to do so, and is carried away by the floods. He is drowned, after which he is resuscitated by his brother. They reach the house where the brother's wife is living. Mink teases her father, who tries to kill him. They go out intending to fell a tree, and the old man tries to make a tree fall on him. They load the wood into their canoe, and the old man places Mink with the stone hammer in a basket on top of the wood. He makes the basket fall into the water, hoping to drown Mink, who, however, escapes. They try who is able to stay awake longest, and Mink deceives the old man by placing rotten wood on his eyes. Then the old man asks him to fetch his playmates, the wolves. Mink does so, and they bite and scratch the old man, who begs Mink to take them back. In the same way he brings bears, raccoons, and the grizzly bears. In all these contests he shows himself stronger than the old man.

15. Robin and Salmon-berry.—Robin and Salmon-berry are sisters. The latter is very successful in picking berries, while the former is not. Salmon-berry suspects that her sister intends to kill her, and she warns her five children, telling them what to do. She has five boys, while Robin has five girls. Robin kills her sister and tells the children that she has lost her. The next day the Salmon-berry's children propose to the other children to play. They make a hole, cover it, and make a fire over it, pretending that they are being steamed. Soon they say that they are hot, and Robin's children open the hole and let them out. Then they heat the Robin's children in the hole and kill them. They place them in various positions on the house, so that their mother shall not suspect any evil when seeing them from a distance. When she comes home, she finds the children in these various positions, and discovers that they are dead. Salmon-berry's children escape through a hole that they make in the ground. They place their dog at the entrance. When Robin asks the dog where the children have gone, it points in various directions, thus detaining her. Finally she finds their tracks. When they see her coming, they place two kettles on the trail, in one of which they place a rope made of elk skins; in the other they place the antlers; then they command the kettles to boil. When the Robin reaches them, she finds the kettles very hot, waits, and eats the skins and the antlers, which give her serious pain. The children reach a creek, where the Crane is standing, who stretches out his leg and allows them to walk across. When Robin reaches the creek, the Crane stretches out his leg for her, but turns it over and makes her fall into the water. He curses her, and transforms her into a bird. Her body drifts ashore, and the Crow picks at it. Then she recovers and smears the blood that is flowing from her wound over her belly. She visits all the trees, and asks them if they like her looks. She tells those that like her that they will be useful to man, while she tells the others that they will be of no use to man.

16. Panther and Owl.—The Owl was the Panther's slave. Blue-jay induces a chief's daughter to visit the Panther. She crosses five prairies and sees the Owl dancing and catching mice. As soon as he is looked at, a stick hits his nose. He searches and finds the woman, whom he marries. The house is full of fat. On the one side is nice-looking fat, on the side where the Owl is living is bad-looking fat. The Owl takes some of the good-looking fat, telling the woman that it belongs to him. In the evening the Panther comes home and orders the Owl, his slave, to carry in the elk, which the latter does reluctantly. After three days the woman, who is hidden behind a matting, makes a hole and sees the Panther. She discovers that she has made a mistake. The Panther wonders why the Owl obeys him reluctantly, and one day returns at noon. The Panther asks him why he is whispering every evening, and the Owl replies that he is dreaming. One night the Panther hears him talking to the woman, and becomes very suspicious. The woman is tired of her husband. She pulls out two hairs, which she ties round a piece of elk's marrow. The Panther, when eating the marrow, finds the hairs, and thus learns that a woman is hidden in the house. On the following day he returns before the Owl, searches all over the house, and finds the woman. The Owl is very angry and prepares to fight with the Panther. They put on their armor, and in fighting fly upward. They tear each other. Their flesh is falling down. The woman keeps all the red flesh, and burns all the green flesh. She burns all the green bones, and keeps all the white bones. The intestines look just alike, and she cannot distinguish them. She burns part of them. Then she throws the meat and bones that she has preserved into the water, and the Panther arises, but by mistake she has burned his intestines. He sends her to all the animals to ask for half of their intestines. They do not fit, and are returned, until finally those of the Lynx fit. After a while the woman has two children, an Owl and a Panther, who grow up as friends.

17. The Raccoon—Raccoon and his grandmother are hungry. She offers him all kinds of food, but the Raccoon refuses everything except acorns. She tells him to get some from their cache. She has five caches of acorns. Raccoon eats all the contents of the caches. The Crow observes him and tells what he is doing. His grandmother takes a stick to strike him, but he hides among the wood in the fireplace. She finds him, and strikes his face with a firebrand. He climbs a hawthorn tree. His grandmother follows him, searching for him. She asks him to throw down some fruit to her. He tells her to lie on her back and open her mouth. Then he puts thorns into the haws and throws them into her mouth. She cries for water. Wings grow on her, and she is transformed into a bird. Raccoon travels on and reaches the house of the Grizzly Bear. He tells the Bear that somebody painted him and made him look pretty. The Grizzly Bear requests that the same be done to him. Then Raccoon boils some pitch and pours it over his face. Raccoon runs away, pursued by the Bear. He meets Coyote and asks him to let him pass, and promises to gather food for him. Coyote directs him to his house, and orders him to heat ten stones and to cover himself with a kettle. When Bear comes, Coyote spits and makes his saliva look like the Raccoon, thus making the Bear believe that he has eaten the Raccoon.

He invites the Bear to his house, and bets that he cannot swallow hot stones. Coyote puts a reed into his mouth so that it passes right through his body. He swallows five red-hot stones, which fall right through the reed. The Bear tries the same, and dies. Coyote and Raccoon eat the Bear. After this, Raccoon gathers fruits for Coyote, as he has promised. Later on he wishes every morning to find certain food under his pillow, and his wish comes true, because he himself places the food there every evening. Coyote tries the same, but is unsuccessful. Coyote becomes envious and resolves to kill Raccoon. He warns him not to go to a certain place, saying that there are dangerous warriors there who look just like him. Raccoon disobeys. Coyote, disguised as one of the supposed warriors, wounds Raccoon so that the fat comes out of the wound. When Raccoon comes home, Coyote, under the pretense of curing him, pulls out the fat and kills him. Then he is starving because he is not able to procure any food himself.

1. Tiā'pexoacxoac—A girl has a bitch. While she is away, it is killed and the fat is given her to eat. She is deserted by the tribe. Then she gives birth to five male dogs and one female. When she is away, the dogs assume the shape of children. Finally she discovers their transformation and burns their dogskin blankets. The boys become great hunters. Tiā'pexoacxoac hears about her daughter. He is a great chief who eats his wives. He kills all his male children. The brothers kill a sea monster, and give the blood to him to drink. He cannot drink it all, and for that reason makes peace with the brothers. He marries the girl, who gives birth to a boy. She escapes with the baby. The boy grows up in the woods and becomes stronger than his father, whom he resembles in every respect. One day he goes to his father's house, and is mistaken for Tiā'pexoacxoac himself. The latter sends slaves to search for him. The son kills all the people. Then Tiā'pexoacxoac requests him to come back. The boy agrees, and when he returns, his sons shoot their grandfather.

2. Ēmōgoā'lekc—A chief's son falls in love with a slave girl. His father scolds him, and he resolves to leave his people. He jumps into a lake and is transformed into a water monster. He invites his friend to come and see him, but enjoins him not to tell the other people what has become of him. The people track the friend and discover the chief's son. They try to catch him, and when they do not succeed, they try to shoot him with arrows, but they are not able to hurt him.

3. The brothers—A number of brothers maltreat their youngest brother. They give him refuse of their own meals to eat. He goes and catches birds and lies down, singing shaman's songs. His brothers find him in this state and try to reconcile him, but he pays no attention to them and is transformed into a spirit of the sea, the protector of whale hunters.

4. The war of the ghosts—Two men are met by a canoe, the occupants of which invite them to join in a war expedition. One of them refuses, the other one goes, and in combat is wounded, though he does not feel any pain. The people carry him home and he discovers that they are ghosts. The next morning he dies.

5. The TkulXiyogoā'ikc—A chief, Pō'XpoX, kills all his male children. One of his wives saves her male child, who is placed in charge of her mother. He attains supernatural powers by finding dentalia in a pond. The old woman borrows sinew to string them. Then she invites all the people and distributes the dentalia among them. The boy becomes a warrior by seeing the thunderbird. He invites the people to a great feast, and outdoes his father so much that the latter loses his rank.

6. Pē'LpeL—Pē'LpeL is a chief on North river, who robs the people farther south. A young man trains to become a warrior. When Pē'LpeL attacks him, the young man kills him.

7. The Nīsa'L—A man has a wooden figure representing a supernatural being, which he makes dance. Two young men hide near the door, and strike the figure with a club when it is passing. Then snow begins to fall and it gets very cold. Two eagles are seen drifting down the river on an ice floe. The two young men try to catch them and are drowned. Thus is the spirit revenged.

8. The Spirit of Hunger—There is a famine. Two friends are starving. Both have the Famine for their guardian spirit. One of them sees her coming and entering all the houses. Then the people die. The other one is not able to see her, except from a distance. The first goes to meet the Famine and has a struggle with her. He takes away her mat, in which she carries bones and shells. He shows them to the people, and from that time on there is plenty of game.

9. Winter all the year round—A boy plays with his excrements, although it is forbidden to do so. As soon as he has done so, a cold winter sets in. The people propose to expose the boy on the ice, but his parents protect him. A bird is killed which carries a strawberry in its beak, from which the people conclude that it is cold only in their country. Then the parents give the boy up. He is exposed on the ice, where he dies. Then it rains, the snow melts, and it becomes summer.

10. The girl who was carried away by the Thunderbird—The Indians used to hunt elk on Saddle mountain near Astoria. They frightened them and drove them down a certain trail which ended in a precipice. Girls are forbidden to pass over the prairie at the foot of this precipice. A girl disobeys this law and is carried away by the Thunderbird. The people search for her and see many birds flying around the rocks. The girl has become a supernatural being.

11. The man who was transformed into a snake—The wife of a canoe builder finds a very large root. He eats it and is transformed into a large snake. The roots are transformed into small snakes, which follow him when he leaves the house. Hence people do not now eat large roots.

○

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION LIBRARIES
3 9088 01421 7715